THIS TEXT, ONE OF TWO REVISED FROM AN "EXPERIMENTAL COURSE IN SWAHILI" (FSI 1965), WAS PREPARED FOR THE PEACE CORPS. IT MAY BE USED BEFORE, AFTER, OR CONCURRENTLY WITH THE OTHER REVISED PORTION, "SWAHILI, AN ACTIVE INTRODUCTION, GENERAL CONVERSATION." THE SAME DISTINCTIVE FORMAT IS FOLLOWED--THAT OF A "MICROWAVE" STYLE OF LESSON ORGANIZATION, WHICH EMPHASIZES COMMUNICATIVE USE OF EACH CULTURAL ELEMENT AS IT APPEARS. EACH OF THE 38 UNITS OR "CYCLES" BEGINS WITH THE INTRODUCTION OF NEW MATERIAL AND ENDS WHEN THAT MATERIAL HAS BEEN PRACTICED AS ACTIVE COMMUNICATION. A CYCLE CONTAINS AT LEAST TWO PHASES--AN "M PHASE" (WHICH ENTAILS MIMICRY OF PRONUNCIATION, MANIPULATION OF GRAMMATICAL ELEMENTS, LEARNING THE MEANING OF WORDS, AND SOME MEMORIZING) AND A "C PHASE" (CONNECTED CONVERSATION, AND COMMUNICATION.) SUGGESTED PROCEDURES FOR PRESENTING THESE PHASES ARE INCLUDED IN THE INTRODUCTION. SPECIAL TEXT SECTIONS DEAL WITH PLACE NAMES, GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATIONS, AND FOLLOWING DIRECTIONS ON MAPS. AN EPILOGUE TO THE STUDENTS WHICH PROVIDES SUGGESTIONS FOR EXPANDING VOCABULARY AND GRAMMAR, AND AN INDEXED SWAHILI-ENGLISH GLOSSARY ARE INCLUDED. THIS DOCUMENT IS ALSO AVAILABLE FOR $0.65 FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS, UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D.C., 20402. (AM)

PREFACE

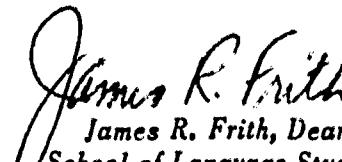

In the summer of 1965, the Foreign Service Institute produced for Peace Corps use an Experimental Course in Swahili. The distinctive feature of that course was its 'microwave' style of lesson organization, which emphasizes communicative use of each structural element as soon as it appears. Subsequent experience in a number of Peace Corps training programs as well as at the Foreign Service Institute has led to extensive revision and supplementation, and to division of the one course into two.

The subject matter of this booklet is taken from geography. A person who begins with no knowledge either of East African geography or of Swahili grammar will end the course knowing the rudiments of both.

The companion booklet, An Active Introduction to Swahili: General Conversation, may be used before this one, or after it, or concurrently with it. Both have been produced with financial support from the Peace Corps.

The supervising linguist for the project was Earl W. Stevick, assisted by Marianne Lehr and Paul Imhoff. Swahili materials were supplied and checked by John Indakwa and Daudi Ballali. Mr. Indakwa also supervised instruction in one of the principal training programs in which the Experimental Course was first used.

The Institute wishes to thank the many persons who, through their criticisms and corrections of the Experimental Course, have contributed to the improvement of the present version.

INTRODUCTION

The principal component of this course is a series of "cycles". Each "cycle" begins with the introduction of new material, and ends when that same new material has been used for purposes of communication. 'Communication' should be real, not just simulated.

Each cycle contains at least an 'M phase' and a 'C phase'. 'M' stands for mimicry of pronunciation, manipulation of grammatical elements, learning the meanings of the words and sentences, and a certain degree of memorizing. C stands for connected conversation, and of course for communication. Suggested procedures for use in presenting the M and C phases are given below.

Ways of conducting the M phase in each cycle.

1. Mimicry of the teacher's pronunciation.

- a. Say aloud each of the complete sentences. Have the students repeat them after you. Try to talk at a slow normal rate of speed.
- b. When you hear a wrong pronunciation, correct it by giving the right pronunciation again. For example, if a student says /Masumbiji/ in Cycle 1, simply say /Msumbiji/, and have him say it again after you. Or say 'Si /masumbiji/, ni /Msumbiji/ and have him repeat the correct pronunciation.

When all the students can pronounce all the words and sentences well, teach them the meanings:

2. Meanings of the sentences.

- a. Have the students repeat a whole sentence after you. Then give the English, and have them give the Swahili.

For example: T: Ni nchi ya Kenya.
S: Ni nchi ya Kenya.
T: It's the country of Kenya.
S: Ni nchi ya Kenya.

- b. Give sentences at random in either English or Swahili. Have the students translate into the other language. Do this only long enough so that you are sure the students know the meanings of the Swahili sentences. It should not be necessary to spend more than 3 minutes on this.

When the students know the meanings, go on to manipulation of the grammatical structures of the sentences:

3. Manipulation of the structures.

Give the students a key word from the left-hand column. The students reply with the corresponding complete sentence.

In some cycles, the manipulation involved is only nominal:

T: Ni nchi ya Kenya.
S: Ni nchi ya Kenya.
T: Tanzania.
S: Ni nchi ya Tanzania.
T: Uhabeshi.
S: Ni nchi ya Uhabeshi.

In this example, from Cycle 1, the student has only to remember and reproduce the constant part of the sentence over and over.

SWAHILI: GEOGRAPHY

Manipulation may also require the student to make grammatical choices. So, in Cycle 6:

- T: Mji wa Voi upo hapa.
S: Mji wa Voi upo hapa.

T: Mtwara.
S: Mji wa Mtwara upo hapa.

T: Uganda.
S: Nchi ya Uganda ipo hapa.

The student must choose here between /wa/ and /ya/, and between /uko/ and /iko/.

When the students are able to perform well all of the activities outlined above, they are ready for the C phase. Experience has shown that instructors working with classes of 5-10 students can complete the average M phase in 10-20 minutes.

Ways of conducting the C phase of each cycle.

The C phase consists of one or more short conversations. For each conversation:

- a. Take the part of the first speaker in the conversation, and have students take turns as the second speaker.
- b. Let students take both parts in the conversation.

It is important in the C phase to talk about people, places, and things that are of interest to the students. Substitute other words for the ones that are in ( ).

For example, C-2 in Cycle 7 is:

- A: {Voi} iko wapi?
B: {Voi} iko (mashariki) ya (Moshi).

This stands of course, for the conversation:

- A: Voi iko wapi?
B: Voi iko mashariki ya Moshi.

but it also stands for many other conversations, among which are:

- A: Voi iko wapi?
B: Voi iko kaskazini ya Tanga.

A: Moshi iko wapi?
B: Moshi iko mashariki ya Arusha.

A: Lindi iko wapi?
B: Lindi iko kaskazini ya Mtewara.

It does not, however, stand for:

- A: Voi iko mashariki ya Moshi?
B: Ndiyo...

or for: A: Voi iko upande gani wa Moshi?
B: Uko mashariki ya Moshi.

In many cycles, the teacher or the students may feel it worthwhile to introduce extra vocabulary. They are encouraged to do so, being sure that:

- a. the new words are of special relevance to the interests of the students, and
- b. the new words fit into the C phase at one of the points enclosed in ( ).

SWAHILI: GEOGRAPHY

As soon as the students are able to converse easily, correctly, and informatively using the material in the C phase, the cycle has ended. Go on to the next cycle, or review an earlier cycle. Experience has shown that the average amount of time spent on each of the first 50 cycles is about one hour. This includes the first presentation of the cycle, and one or two reviews of it on later days. The first time through a new cycle therefore takes no more than 20-30 minutes.

As much as possible, have the students act as well as talk: pointing to a map, standing up to talk, and other simple activities add meaning to the words. Activities also help to keep the students from getting tired and restless.

Because of the extreme shortness of the 'cycles', the principal component of this course has been given the name 'microwave.'

The 'microwave' part of the course is supplemented at regular intervals by a second component. The second component is based on a series of short connected texts, which have two important properties: (1) the information which they contain, like most of the information in the cycles themselves, is factually accurate, and (2) they are based on a set of spontaneous monologs recorded with no special restrictions on grammar or vocabulary.

The materials in the textual component of this course differ among themselves, so that separate instructions are given for each group. In general, however, they require the student to take responsibility for responding to each text in more than one way, so that he focuses his attention on it from two or more points of view.

The textual component is suited for presentation either in a language laboratory or in a conventional classroom. Either way, it provides the student with a change of pace.

CYCLE 1

[Use a large map of Africa.]

M-1

Kenya	Ni nchi ya Kenya.	Kenya	It's the country of Kenya.
Tanzania	Ni nchi ya Tanzania.	Tanzania	It's the country of Tanzania.
Zambia	Ni nchi ya Zambia.	Zambia	It's the country of Zambia.
Uganda	Ni nchi ya Uganda.	Uganda	It's the country of Uganda.
Uhabeshi	Ni nchi ya Uhabeshi.	Ethiopia	It's the country of Ethiopia.

M-2

gani	Hii ni nchi gani?	what?	What country is this?
nchi (9, 10)	Hii ni nchi gani?	country	What country is this?

C-1

A:	Hii ni nchi gani?	A:	What country is this? (pointing to map)
B:	Ni nchi ya (Kenya).	B:	It's the country of (Kenya).

TO THE STUDENT:

The little word /ni/ is used in sentences which equate some person or thing to some other person or thing. In these sentences, it is translated into English by '(it) is' or '(they) are'.

The word for 'which, what?' is /gani/. Notice that it follows the word for 'country', which is /nchi/.

SWAHILI: GEOGRAPHY

In pronouncing /nchi/, be careful not to add an extra vowel: */inchi/ or /anchi/. The first sound of /nchi/ is formed by holding on to the plain /n/ sound such as the one that begins /ni/, and then going directly to /chi/.

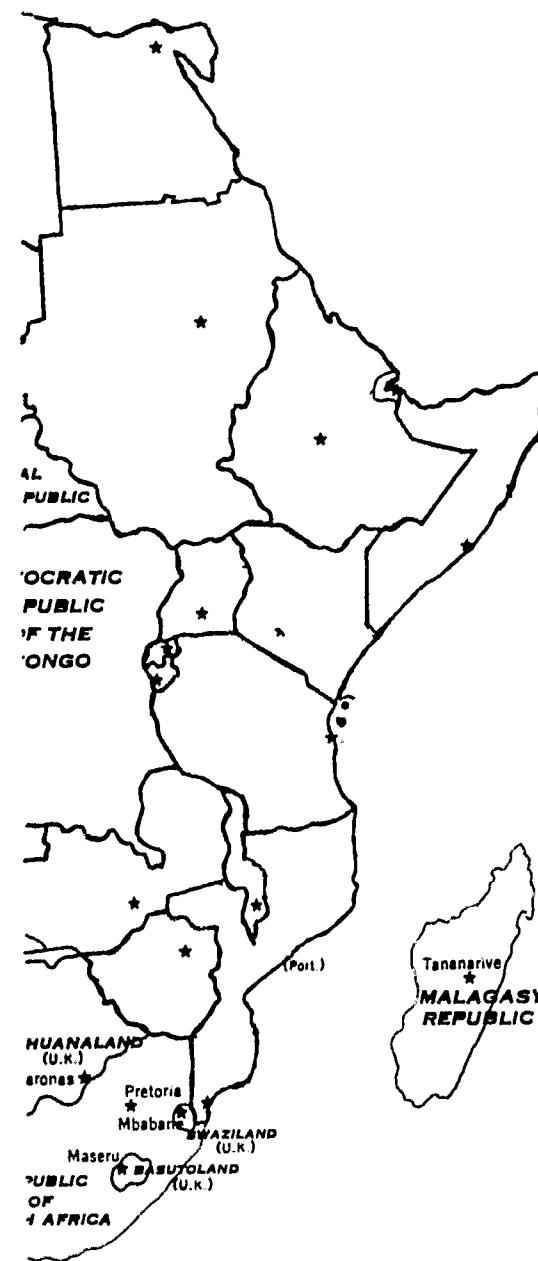

If you have occasion to pause in the middle of a Swahili word, or to hyphenate one in writing, always make the break immediately after a vowel:

Ta-nza-ni-a and not: *Tan-zan-ia

Use the pair of maps on p. 4. Learn the names and locations of the countries by looking at the first map, and then test yourself by looking at the second. Do not write on the second map, since writing would spoil it for future self-testing.

CYCLE 2

[Some teachers will prefer to use /ile/; others may prefer /hiyo/].

M-1

C-1

- A: Hii ni nchi gani?
 B: Ile/Hiyo ni nchi ya (Kenya).
- A: What country is this?
 B: That is the country of (Kenya).

TO THE STUDENT:

The word /hii/ is a 'demonstrative', which corresponds fairly closely to English 'this'. The words /ile/ and /hiyo/ are also demonstratives, and both are usually translated into English by the word 'that'. Many speakers use /hiyo/ to mean 'that one that we were talking about, or 'that we both know about', and /ile/ to mean 'that one over there, that I'm pointing at or could point at'. For those speakers, the word that should be used in the sentences of this cycle is /ile/.

The demonstratives for both 'this' and 'that' are included in this cycle so that questions may be asked by a person at the front of the room, pointing to a large map, and answers may be given by other members of the class.

CYCLE 3

M-1

Nairobi (9)	Ni mji wa Nairobi.	Nairobi	It's the city of Nairobi.
Mombasa (9)	Ni mji wa Mombasa.	Mombasa	It's the city of Mombasa.

gani?	Huu ni mji gani?	what?	What city is this?

---

C-1

- A: Huu ni mji gani?
B: Ni mji wa (Nairobi).

- A: What city is this?
B: It's the city of (Nairobi).

Use the pairs of maps on pp. 7-11. Learn the principal cities of the country to which you are going.

TO THE STUDENT:

An extremely important feature of Swahili sentences is the principle of 'concord.' It is illustrated by the differences between the sentences

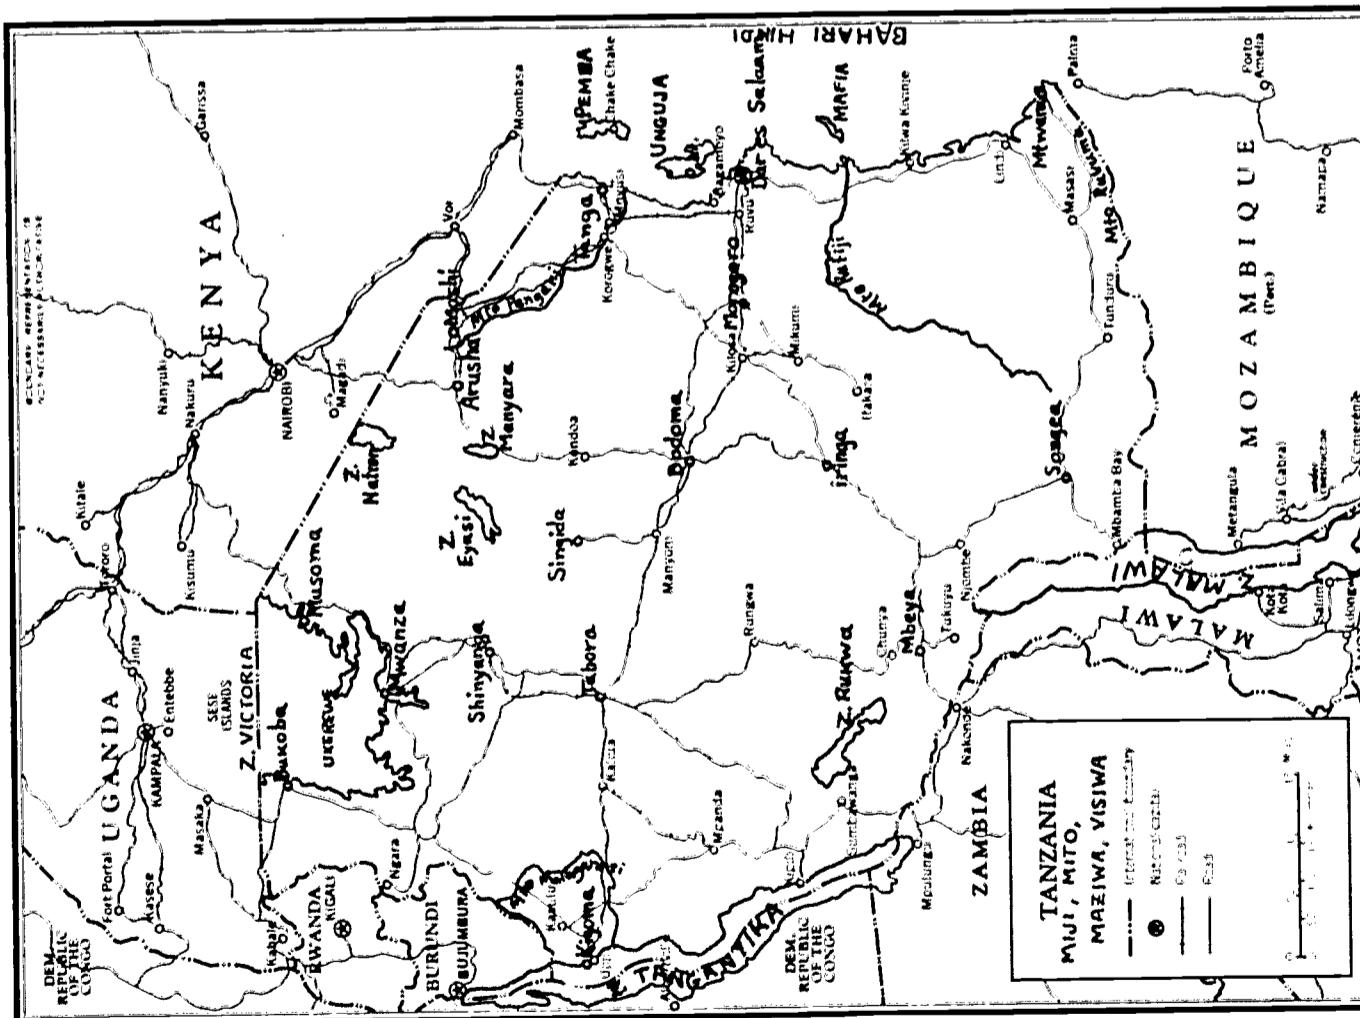

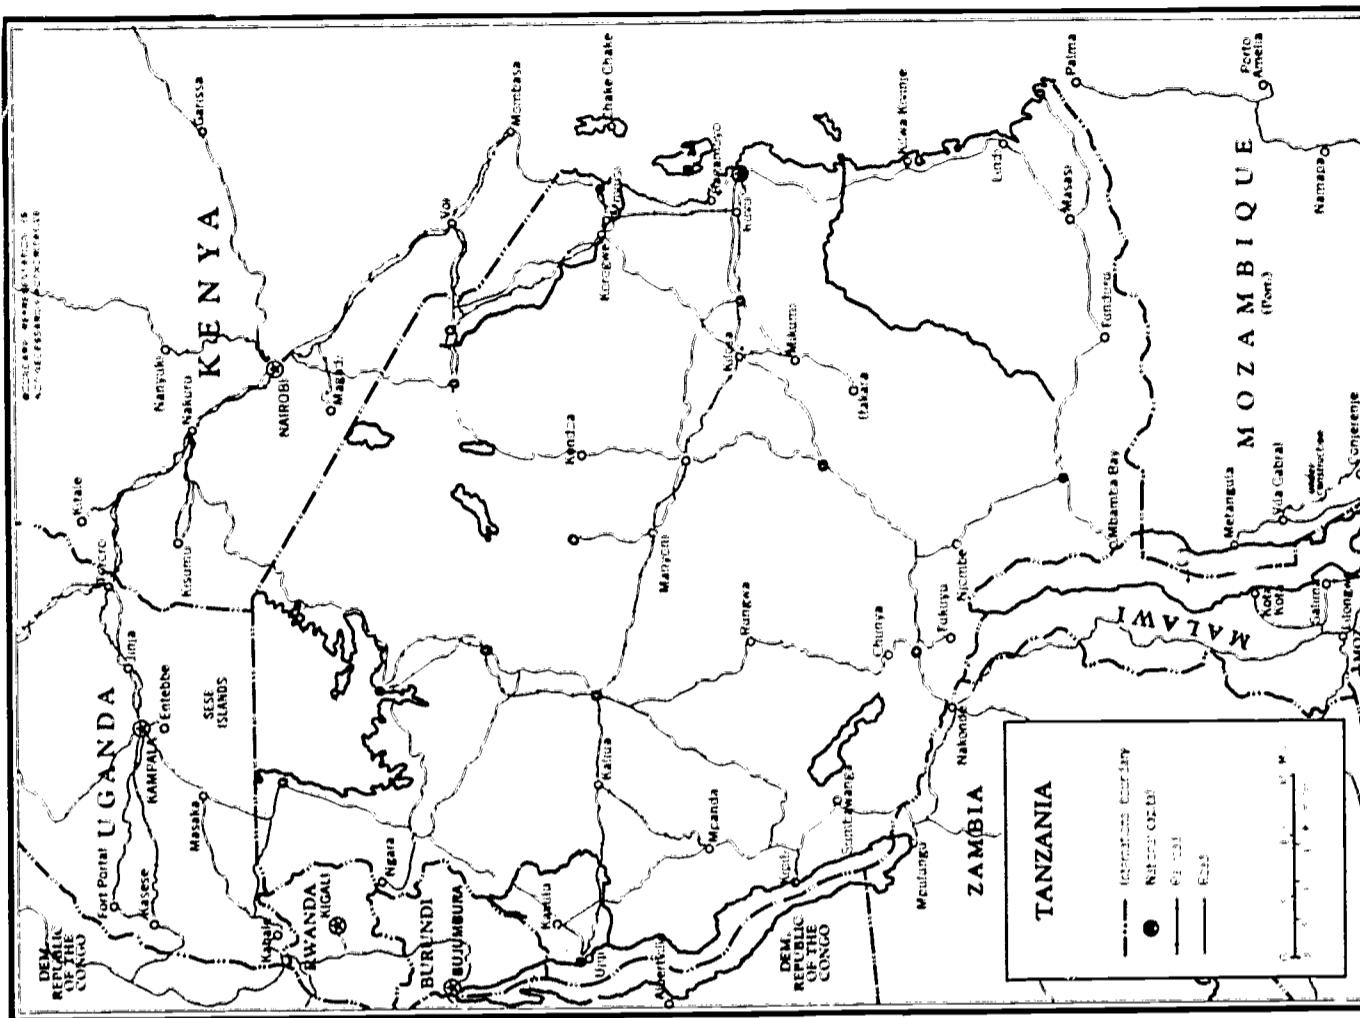

Ni mji wa Nairobi.
Ni nchi ya Kenya.

And also by the differences between:

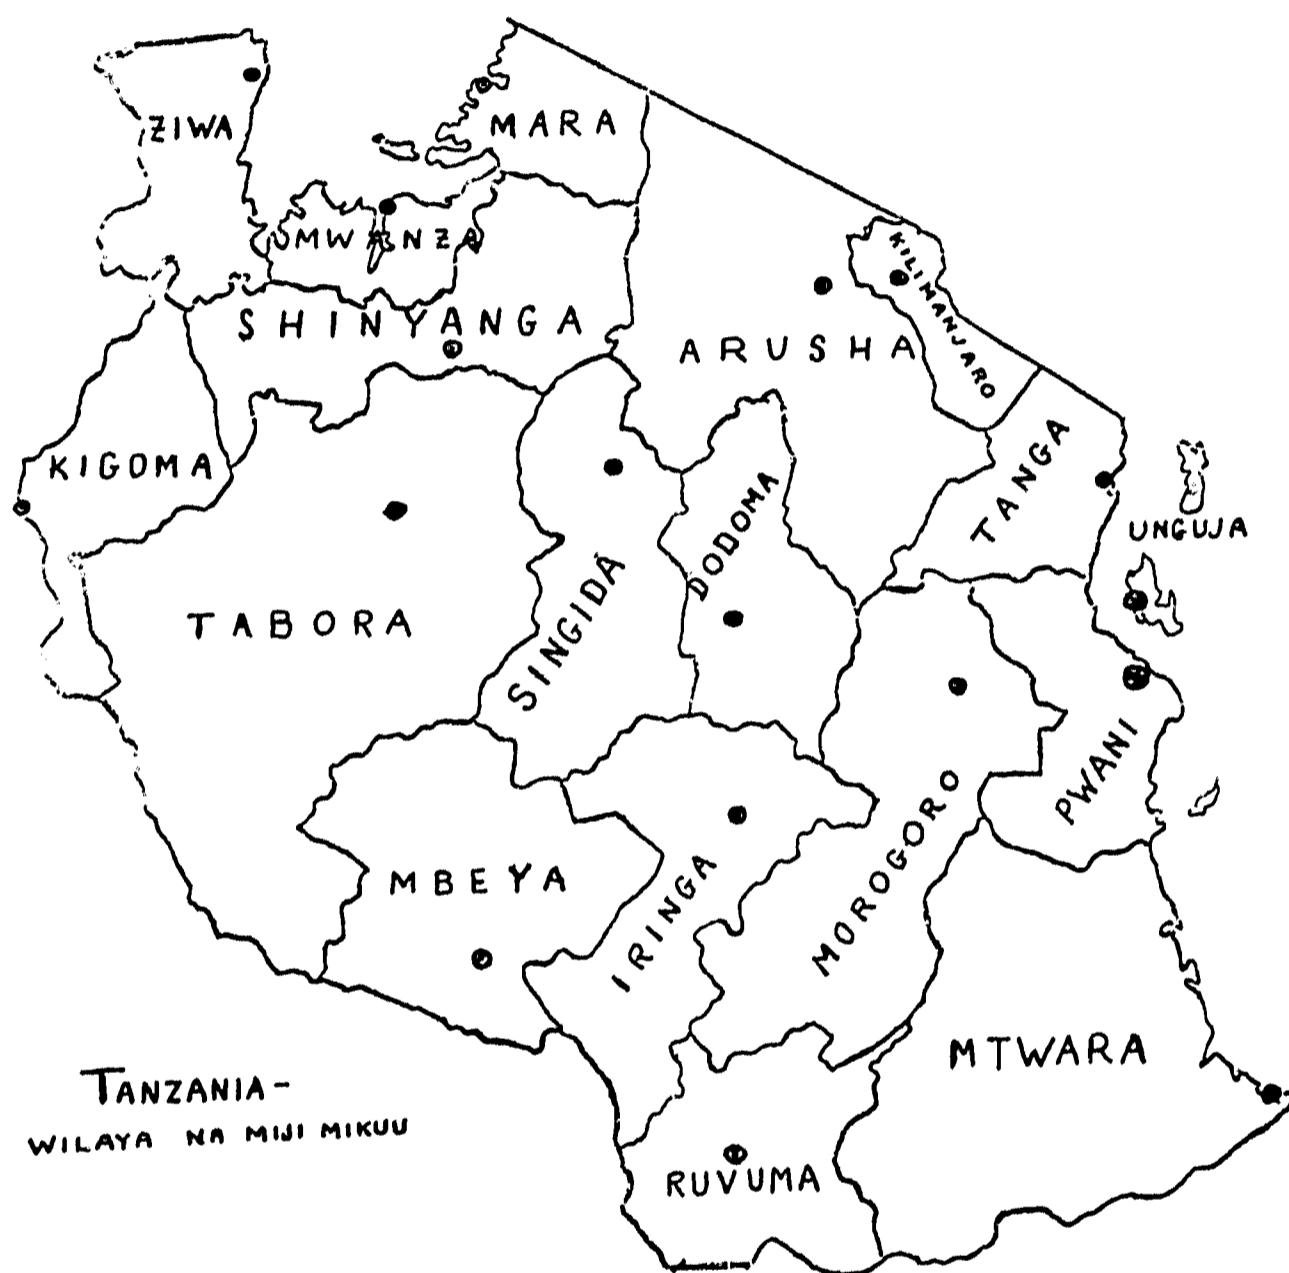

Huu ni mji gani?
Hii ni nchi gani?

Sentences that contain certain nouns (including /mji/) will have /wa/ and /huu/, where similar sentences containing other nouns (such as /nchi/) will have /ya/ and /hi/. This kind of agreement between certain words and the nouns that they refer to is called 'concord'. Further details of the concord system will be met in later cycles.

For added practice, spend a few minutes with maps of Europe and the United States.

TO THE STUDENT:

Up to this point, you have met four kinds of words that agree with nouns. They are the three demonstratives, and the linking word /-a/.

Words that agree with /mji/ have /u/ or /w/:

mji ule	that city
mji huo	that city
mji wa...	the city of...

where words that agree with /nchi/ have /i/ or /y/:

SWAHILI: GEOGRAPHY

TO THE STUDENT:

The word /si/ is the negative that corresponds to the affirmative /ni/.

The demonstratives may be used following the noun:

Mji ule ni Arusha.

That city is Arusha.

or they may be used alone:

Ule ni mji wa Arusha.

That is the city of Arusha.

This cycle introduces the words for 'yes' and 'no', and also the word /je/, which calls attention to the fact that a question is about to be asked.

Be especially careful to copy your teachers' intonation at the end of question sentences. Otherwise, people in East Africa may sometimes fail to recognize your questions as questions.

TEXTS, SERIES A

Ways of using the texts of Series A in a language laboratory.

Each text in this series is to be used in two of these three ways.

Mode LP ('Listen and Point').

Listen to each sentence, pointing to the appropriate place on the map. Begin with the map that contains the names of the places, but go on as soon as possible to the map on which they have been blanked out. Listen to the tape as many times as necessary and stop the tape when you need to. The goal is to be able to point to the places without stopping the tape, using the blank map.

Mode RC ('Read and Complete').

Stop the tape. Look at the first line of the text. Read it aloud, completing it as you do so. Then play the first sentence on the tape, which will give the correct answer. Then look at the second line, and proceed in the same way.

Mode AA ('Anticipate and Answer').

Use a card or a sheet of paper to cover all of the text except the very top line, which is usually a question. Look at the first line and try to anticipate the second, which is usually the answer to the question in the first. Then slide the card downward on the page just far enough to expose the correct answer.

Alternatively, go through the entire section using the tape without reference to the printed text.

Ways of using the texts of Series A in class.

Mode LP.

Read aloud the sentences of the text. Have students point to the appropriate places on their maps. As you read aloud, walk around the classroom so that you can see whether the students are responding actively and accurately.

Mode RC.

Have individual students read aloud. This activity should proceed rapidly, with at least six correct responses per minute.

Mode AA.

Ask the questions, and have individual students give the answers. Then let the students take turns asking and answering each other.

SWAHILI: GEOGRAPHY

The 'concordial classes' of Swahili are labelled in two different ways. Some people prefer to use the prefix as a label: 'the KI class', 'the N class', and so forth. This system has the initial advantage of being obvious. Other people, however, prefer a system of numbers: 'Class 7', 'Classes 9 and 10', etc.

This is not the place to discuss the problems inherent in the prefix labels. We need only say that this book will make use of numbers, primarily because they are unambiguous.

The classes met so far are:

CLASS NUMBER	EXAMPLES:
3	mji, mkoa
5	jimbo
7	kisiwa
9	nchi, wilaya

TO THE STUDENT:

This text introduces still another kind of noun: /kisiwa/ 'island' has /hiki/ and /cha/ where /nchi/ has /hii/ and /ya/, and where /mji/ has /huu/ and /wa/. As we saw earlier, this kind of agreement between a noun and the words that are related to it is called 'concord'. All the nouns of Swahili are divided into concordial 'classes'. A noun is placed in a given 'class' on the basis of (1) its own prefix, and (2) the concordial elements that are required in the words that go with it.

TO THE STUDENT:

In sentences that have to do with location, one of the locative stems /-ko/ or /-po/ is used, and not /ni/. The stem /-ko/ is always used in questions about location. In statements /-po/ may be used, especially if the same sentence contains /apa/ 'here' or /apo/ 'there'. This is another instance of alliterative concord.

The prefix that stands before the locative stem /-ko/ or /-po/ is in concordial agreement with the subject: /u/ with /mji/ and /i/ with /nchi/.

After completing Cycle 7, each student should demonstrate his ability to use Swahili by going to the front of the room and speaking smoothly, correctly, and informatively about the geography of East Africa (or of some other part of the world), for two minutes. He should use a map, but no written notes. After the two-minute lecture, he should answer questions put to him by other students.

TO THE STUDENT:

TO THE STUDENT:

The words /kati/ 'between' and /karibu/ 'near' also take the same concordial agreements as /nchi/ and the points of the compass. But the word /karibu/ is sometimes followed by /na/, instead of /ya/. This is purely optional, and depends largely on the speaker.

TO THE STUDENT:

TO THE STUDENT:

The purpose of this lesson is to introduce three verbs ('tell', 'show', 'ask') which will make it easier to do realistic practice in class. The person and number of the objects of a verb is represented as a prefix:

	Singular	Plural
1st person	ni	tu/tw
2nd person	ku/kw	ku- -ni
3rd person	m/mw	wa

The second person prefixes do not fit into this cycle, but are given here for completeness. The prefixes with /w/ (/tw, mw, kw/) are used before vowels, while their alternate forms (/tu, ku, m/) are used before consonants. Where the word /mji/ is present in the sentence, the concord of the linking word is /w/, and the locative has /u/.

Mji wa Voi uko wapi?      Where is the city of Voi?

But where the name of the city is used by itself, the concord may be /i/:

Voi iko wapi?      Where is Voi?

There is some variation in use of the feminine titles /Bi/ and /Bibi/. According to some authorities, both may be used either for a married or for an unmarried woman, with /Bi/ more common in speech and /Bibi/ in writing. Nevertheless, many East Africans, possibly because of their knowledge of English, now use /Bi/ for 'Miss' and /Bibi/ for 'Mrs.'

The nouns /jibu/ 'answer' and /swali/ 'question' take the concord /l/ (Class 5), comparable to the /y/ that goes with /nchi/ and the /w/ that goes with /mji/.

TO THE STUDENT:

This cycle introduces the first fully inflected verbs. They are /anatoka/ and /anakaa/. The stems are respectively /toka/ 'to be from, go from' and /kaa/ 'to live, reside, sit'. The syllable /na/ is a prefix used with the present tense. The very first syllable /a/ is a prefix which indicates that the subject is third person singular personal -- i.e. 'he' or 'she'. The overall structure of these two words is therefore:

Subject Prefix	Tense Prefix	Stem
a	na	toka
		kaa

C-1

Ask questions which can be answered with the negatives that have already been learned. At first, the teacher asks and the students answer. Then, the students ask and answer.

TO THE STUDENT:

The 'normal' way of making negative present verbs is represented by the first person plural:

Negative Prefix	Subject Prefix	STEM with Final /i/ toki
ha	tu

When the personal subject prefix consists of a vowel only (i.e. second and third person singular), the vowel of the negative prefix is lost. What are basically */ha-u-toki/ and */ha-a-toki/ are pronounced /hutoki/ and /hatoki/.

SWAHILI: GEOGRAPHY

---

With the first person singular, the negative /ha/ plus the subject prefix /ni/ has the special representation /si/: /sitoki/ instead of */hanitoki/.

Verbs whose stems normally end in either /u/ or /i/ do not show vowel change in the negative present:

AFFIRMATIVE	NEGATIVE
tunatoka 'we come from'	hatutoki 'we don't come from'
tunakaa 'we live'	hatukai 'we don't live'
tunaishi 'we live'	hatuishi 'we don't live'
tunajibu 'we answer'	hatujibu 'we don't answer'

(The stem /ishi/ is a partial synonym for /kaa/.)

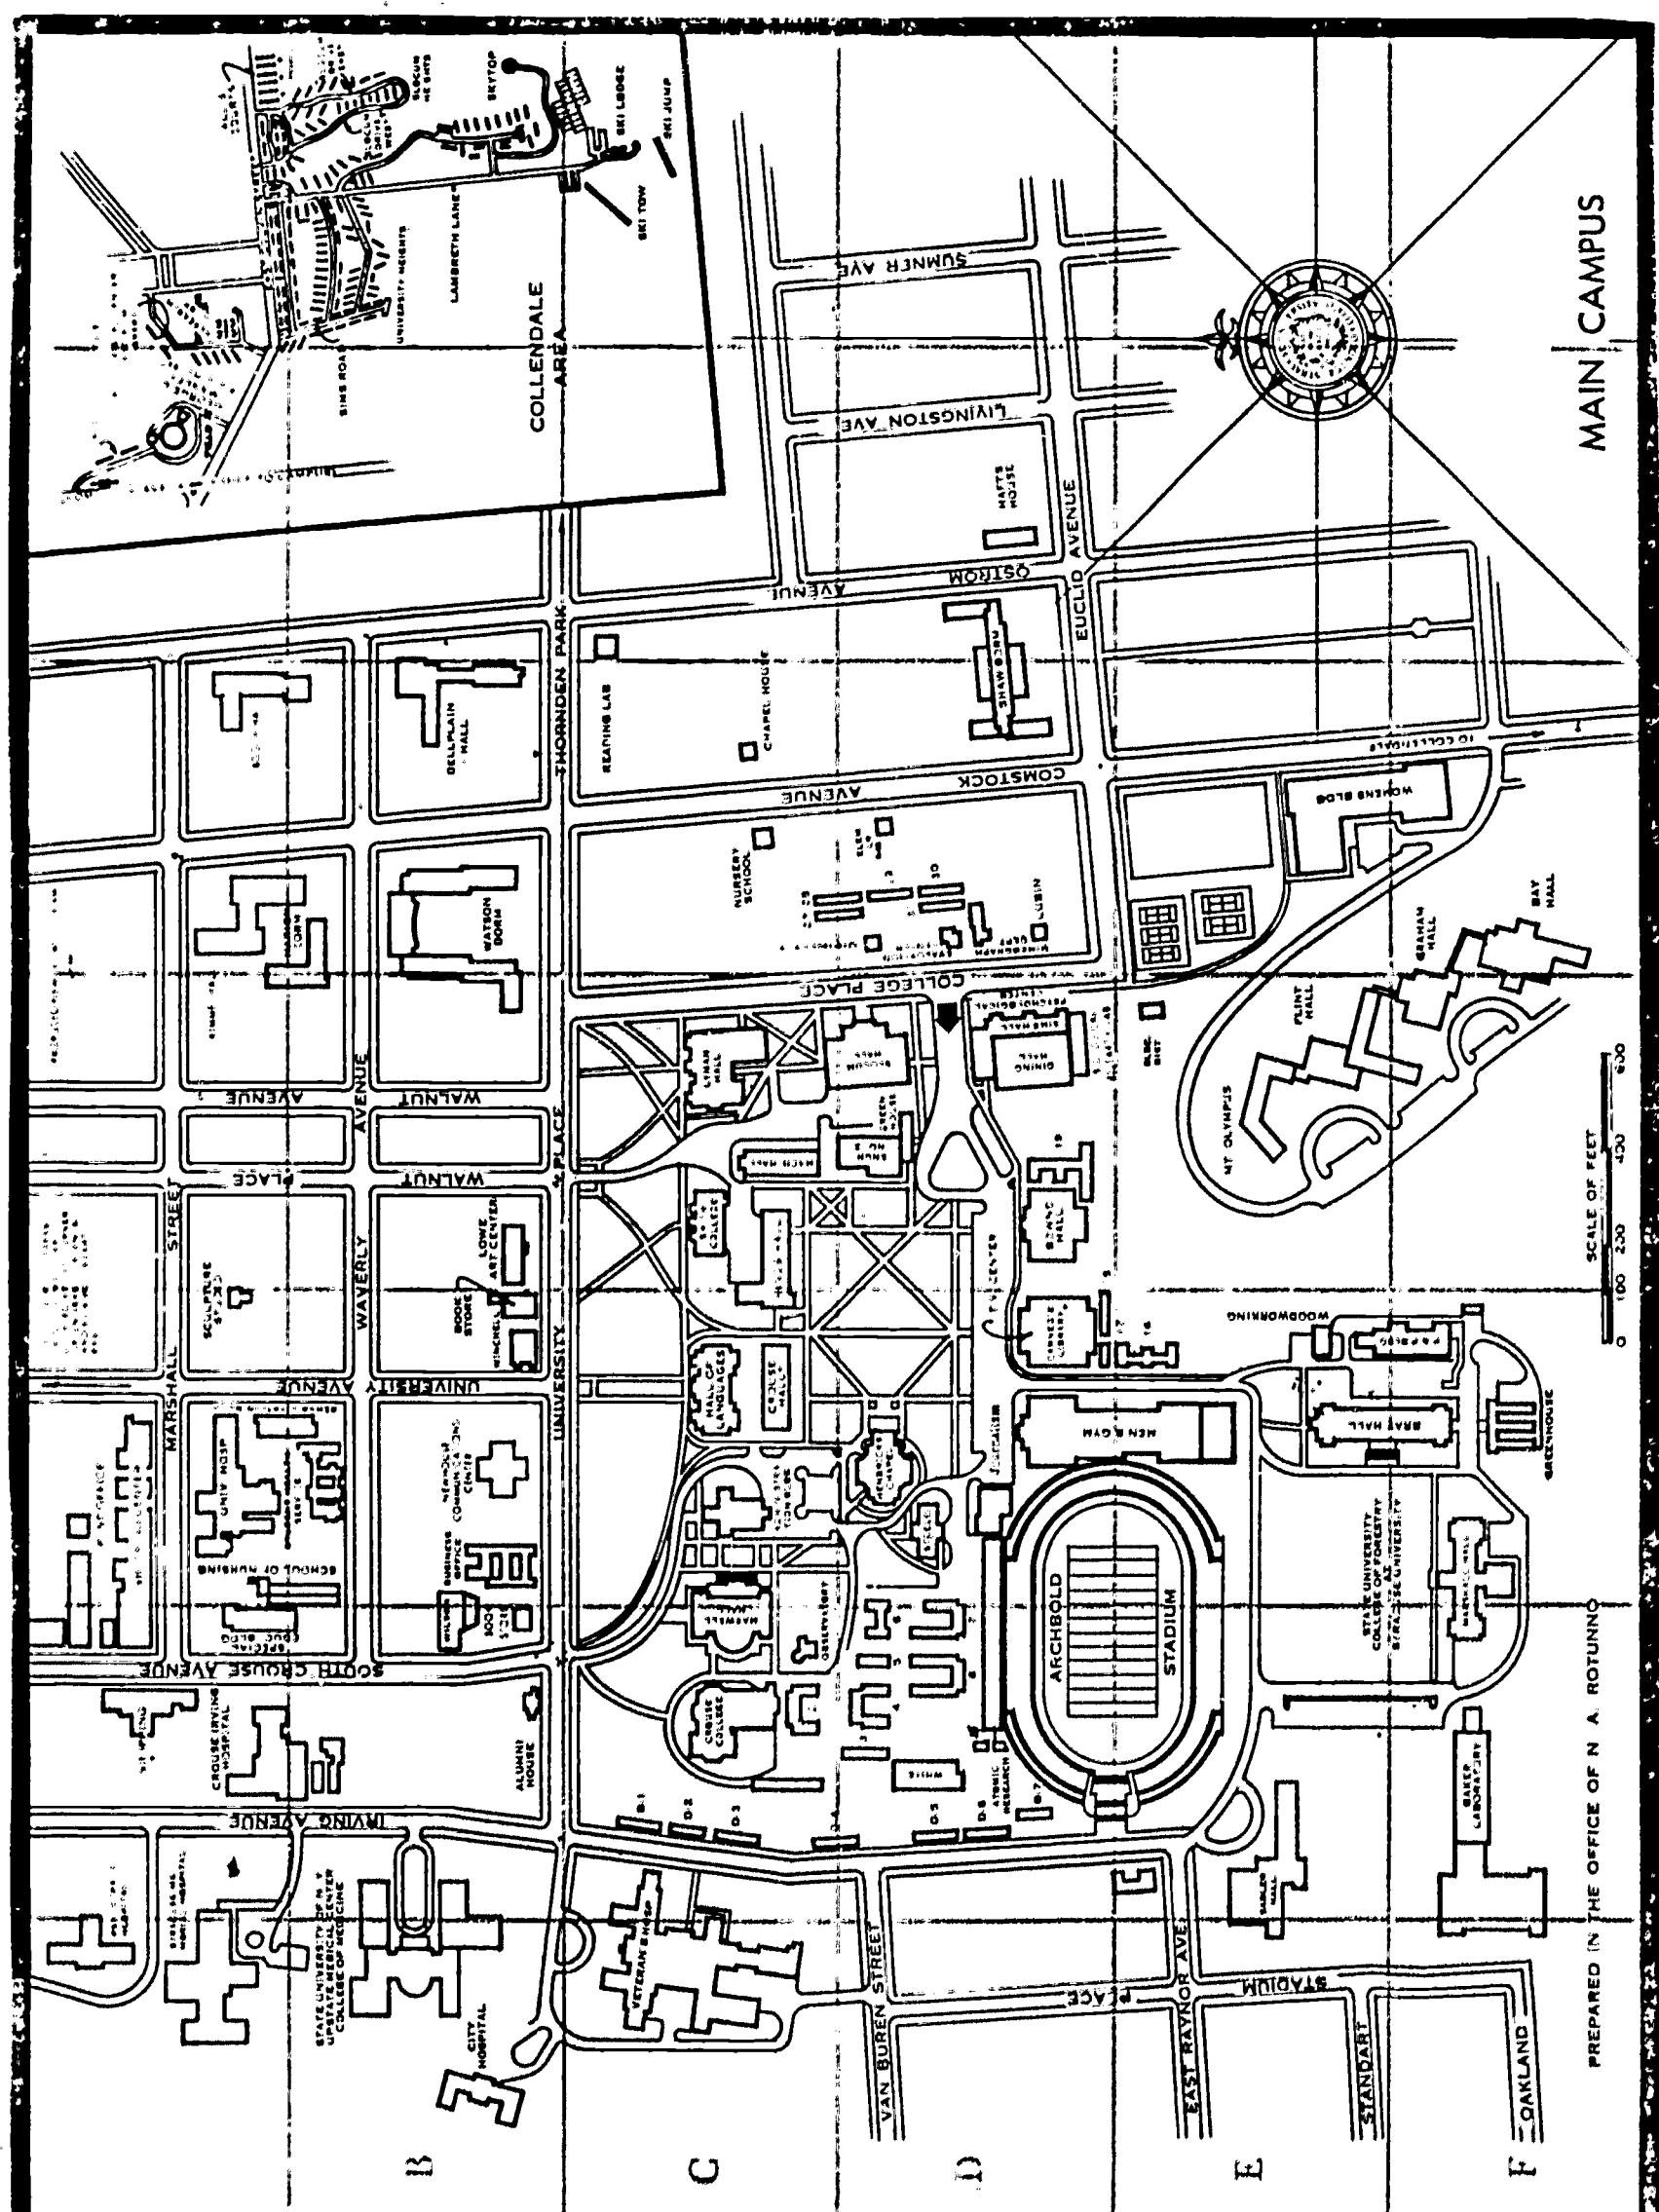

This change of the final vowel of most verb stems to /i/ takes place only in the negative of the present tense.

The teacher should give directions on the map, using only those expressions which are in M-1 and M-2. Students follow on the map. The object of the game is to be able to answer the question at the end of the series.

C-2

Each student should make up his own set of directions, and have the other members of the class follow them. Use only those expressions which are included in M-1 and M-2, or in previous lessons.

Secure or make a map of the place where you are now studying. Practice giving and following simple directions on that map. Do not use expressions which have not already occurred in the preceding lessons.

Secure a map showing the streets of Nairobi, Dar es Salaam, or some other city in the Swahili-speaking part of Africa. Practice giving and following simple directions on that map.

mkono (3, 4) 'hand, arm'

TO THE STUDENT:

Swahili has three kinds of affirmative verb forms, all of which may in some respect be called 'present tense'. The /na/ tense was introduced in Cycles 12 - 13.

The /a/ tense is virtually identical with the /na/ tense in meaning, and the two can usually be interchanged. In fact, your tutor may already have had you use the /a/ tense where the book has verbs in the /na/ tense. Preference for /a/ or /na/ is partly a regional matter.

The /a/ tense with the personal subject prefixes is:

	SINGULAR	PLURAL
1st pers.	natoka	twatoka
2nd pers.	watoka	mwatoka
3rd pers.	atoka	watoka

Whatever difference exists between the /na/ and /a/ tenses is confined to the affirmative; the negative forms that correspond to both are identical:

tunafuata 'we follow'	}	hatufuati 'we don't follow'
twafuata ''we follow'

The /kw/ in /tunakwenda/ 'we go' is not found with most verbs, and also is absent from the corresponding form of the /a/ tense, which is /twaenda/.

C-1

Ask and give directions to and from various points. Use a map of the place where you are now located.

TO THE STUDENT:

The verb forms in M-1 and M-2 that begin with /ku/ or (before some vowel stems) with /kw/ are 'infinitives':

kuelekea

'to head toward, go in the direction of'

kwenda

'to go'

An infinitive has no subject prefix, and no tense prefix. Swahili infinitives may follow /-taka/ 'want, desire':

Ninataka { kwuliza | kuuliza } swalii. 'I want to ask a question.'

'Don't you want to answer?'

Hutaki kujibu?

In this respect, Swahili infinitives correspond to English 'to' plus the simple form of the verb. The infinitives of certain Swahili verbs are also used very much like certain English prepositions: /kuelekea/ is often translated by 'toward', and /kutoka/ by 'from':

Afuate Comstock Ave. kutoka Euclid mpaka Kimmel Hall.

He should follow Comstock Avenue from Euclid to Kimmel Hall.

SWAHILI: GEOGRAPHY

---

The verb forms in M-1 and M-2 that end with /e/ are 'subjunctive'. The subjunctive in Swahili has the usual subject prefixes (see Cycle 13). The final vowel is changed to /e/ for those stems that usually end in /a/; verbs that end in /i/ or /u/ are unaffected:

Anageuka.	'He turns.'	Ageuke.	'He should turn.'
Anajibu.	'He answers.'	Ajibu.	'Let him answer.'

The negative of the subjunctive has the prefix /si/, which comes after the subject prefix:

Asigeuke.	'He should not turn.'
-----------	-----------------------

The little element /je/ 'how?' is added to the preceding word and pronounced as a part of it. Elements of which this is true are called 'enclitics'.

C-1

(Ask and answer questions about the sizes of various places in East Africa. This time, the answers should contain a comparison with the size of some other place.)

C-2

(Ask and answer the same questions about places in other parts of the world.)

TO THE STUDENT:

This cycle, which is devoted to comparisons of inequality (M-1) and equality (M-2), does not introduce any major new points of Swahili grammar. Three minor points need comment, however.

The word /kuliko/ is translated 'than', but a more literal translation would be 'alongside', or 'where there is'.

SWAHILI: GEOGRAPHY

The word /zaidi/, translated here as 'more', is not necessary: one may say simply /Tanzania ni kubwa kuliko Kenya./ 'Tanzania is larger than Kenya.'

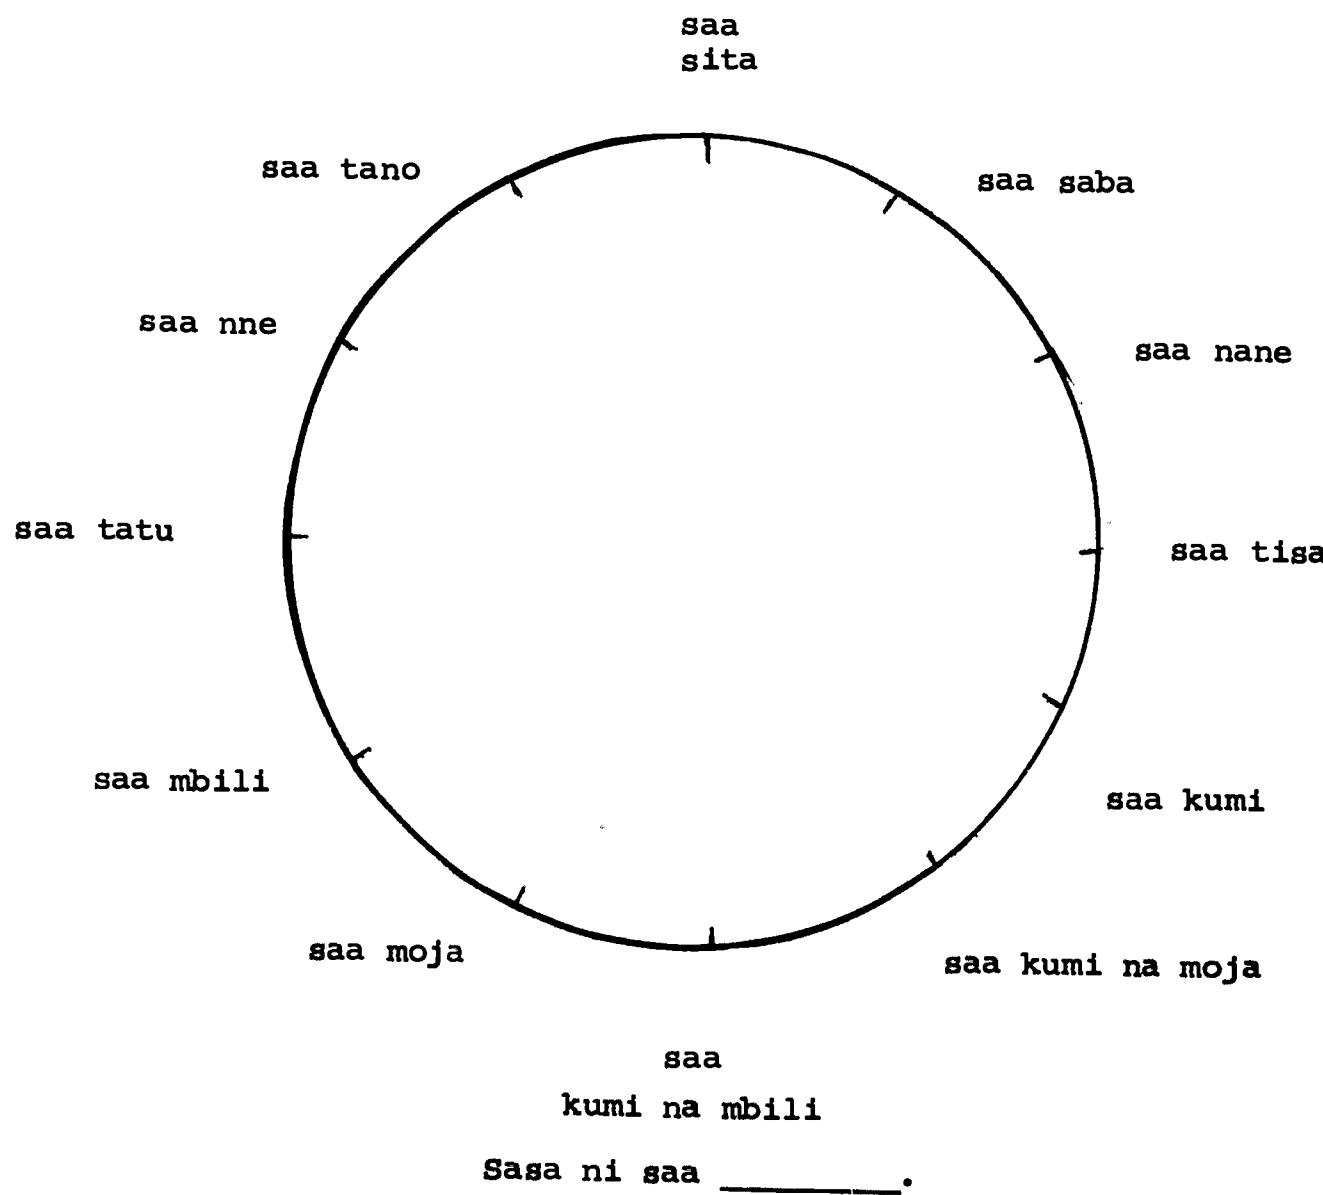

The noun /ukubwa/ 'largeness, size' is an abstract noun formed with the class prefix /u/ plus the stem /kubwa/. Many abstract nouns, and some other nouns, belong to this class (Class 14). Another abstract noun is /usawa/ 'evenness, likeness, equality'.

(Classes 11-13, found in some other Bantu languages, are absent from Swahili.)

CYCLE 20

[NB Experience has shown that students learn to tell time with much less confusion if they do not know the literal meanings of /tano, moja, nne/ etc., until they have used them for two or three days in telling time.

(NB The students should not know the literal meanings of tano, moja, nne, mbili, tatu, etc. at this time.)

C-2

(When reviewing this cycle on subsequent days, use the schedules of other flights, including those that the students have taken recently or expect to take. Each student should be primarily responsible for the flights in which he has been or will be involved.)

TO THE STUDENT:

This cycle introduces the third 'present' tense, the /hu/ tense. This tense has /hu/ in place of any and all subject prefixes. It is particularly likely to be used in talking about very regular or characteristic activity.

As illustrated in the schedule for Flight 329, the negative of the /hu/ tense is identical with the negative of the /na/ and /a/ tenses.

TEXTS, SERIES D

Each part of Series D is based on a short impromptu monolog about some city in East Africa. The monolog is followed by notes, practice materials that illustrate systematic relationships, and a set of sample quizzes. The following procedures will be useful:

1. Go through the monolog without reference to the English. See how much of it you can understand without help.
2. Check the English translation and read the notes, if any.
3. Using as cues the Swahili words in the left-hand column, or the English sentences in the right-hand column, give the Swahili sentences ahead of the tape and without looking at them in the book.
4. Go on to the systematic exercises. The goal is to give the Swahili words or phrases quickly and correctly, in any order. Use as cues both the blanked-out Swahili version and the English translations.
5. Practice questions and answers on the text.
6. Prepare for written or oral quizzes of the kinds illustrated. You should have at least one of these per day, lasting from 90 seconds to three minutes. In this way, you and your instructor will have a tangible record of your progress.

- B: Uliondoka Nairobi saa (1:45). (after consulting Timetable 4250)
You left Nairobi at (7:45).
- A: Safari yangu ilichukua muda gani? How long did my trip take?
- B: Safari yako ilichukua muda wa (saa mbili). Your trip took (two hours).

(Continue playing this little game, trying for high speed as well as high accuracy.)

C-3

(Repeat C-2, using first and second person plurals, instead of singulars: /tulifika/, /mliondoka/, etc.)

TO THE STUDENT:

This cycle introduces two new grammatical features. One is the /li/ tense, the meaning of which is 'past time'. The prefix /li/ is found within the word at exactly the same place as the present tense prefix /na/. The subject prefixes for these two tenses are of course identical.

The other grammatical feature is the set of possessive stems:

	SINGULAR	PLURAL
1st Person	-angu 'my, mine'	-etu 'our, ours'
2nd Person	-ako 'your, yours'	-enu 'your, yours'
3rd Person	-ake 'his, her, hers, its; their, theirs, (inanimate)'	-ao 'their, theirs (animate only)'

---

The concordial prefixes used with these stems do not include /m/ in the prefixes for Classes 1, 3, 4, and 6. The possessives will therefore be called 'weak adjectives'. The weak adjective concords as they are used with a stem that begins with a vowel are illustrated with /-angu/ 'my':

1	wangu	2	wangu
3	wangu	4	yangu
5	langu	6	yangu
7	changu	8	vyangu
9	yangu	10	zangu
14	wangu

CYCLE 25

M-1

Mombasa	Nilikuwa Mombasa.	Mombasa	I was in Mombasa.
Nairobi	Nilitaka kwenda Nairobi kwa ndege.	Nairobi	I wanted to go to Nairobi by plane.
pesa/fedha	Nilikuwa na fedha za kutosha.	money	I had enough money. ('... money of to suffice') ndege	Kulikuwa na ndege saa 2 asubuhi.	plane	There was a plane at 8 a.m.
siku	Kuna ndege nne siku.	day	There are four planes a day.

C-1 (Each student should tell about a trip that he has made recently by public transportation. In the third line, he should give the actual amount of the fare.)

TO THE STUDENT:

The verb in the first sentence is /nilikuwa/. The infinitive of this verb is /kuwa/, and its stem is /wa/ 'to be, become'. The /ku/ in /nilikuwa/ 'I was' is comparable to the /kw/ in /ninakwenda/ 'I went' (see Cycle 15):

kutoka	kuwa	kwenda
nilitoka	nilikuwa	nilikwenda

In these examples, the stem of each verb has been underlined twice. The meaningful prefixes have been underlined once. The meaningless /ku/ (before consonants) or /kw/ (before vowels) is used with certain forms of all verbs that have only one syllable in the stem (such as /wa/), and in the same forms of two or three other verbs, one of which is /enda/.

In the fourth line of M-1, the words /kulikuwa na/ are the past tense counter-part of /kuna/ 'there is' (see Cycle 22). The first person singular /nilikuwa na/ 'I had' is similarly the past of /nina/ 'I have'. A literal translation of /nilikuwa na/ is 'I was with'.

TO THE STUDENT:

This cycle introduces the object prefixes that go with inanimate nouns. (Animate object prefixes were introduced in Cycle 10.) There is nothing particularly surprising about them, except that they have the same form before vowels that they have before consonants: 'I saw it (Cl.7)' is /nilikiona/, and not */nilichona/.

Mr. Kanyati traveled from (Mbeya) to (Shinyanga).
Did he pass through (Tabora)?

(Yes, he did pass through (Tabora).
(No, he didn't.)

(The person who asks the question (second line of C-1) should sometimes give the name of a town through which Mr. Kanyati did not pass.)

(The person who answers may look at the map at first. Later, he should answer without having to look at the map.)

TO THE STUDENT:

The negative that corresponds to the /li/ tense, like the present negative (Cycle 14), begins with the prefix /ha/:

tulifika      'we arrived'                          hatukufika      'we didn't arrive'

In the past negative, all verbs have the prefix /ku/ after the subject prefix. Unlike the present negative, the past negative has no charge of the final vowel:

hatufiki    'we don't arrive'        hatukufika    'we didn't arrive'

The past negative corresponding to /kuna/ 'there is' is of course /hakukuwa na/. 'I didn't have' is /sikuwa na/, and 'you didn't have' is /hukuwa na/.

TO THE STUDENT:

This cycle gives further practice with infinitives (Cycle 16). It includes examples of infinitives with object prefixes (e.g. /kuitembelea/).

The verb /weza/ 'can, be able' is usually followed by an infinitive. The noun /nafasi/ 'chance, opportunity' is often followed by the linking word /ya/ plus an infinitive. It is in classes 9, 10.

SWAHILI: GEOGRAPHY

TEXTS, SERIES E.

Series E consists of directions to go from one place to another on a map. It may be used in the ways described for Series D.

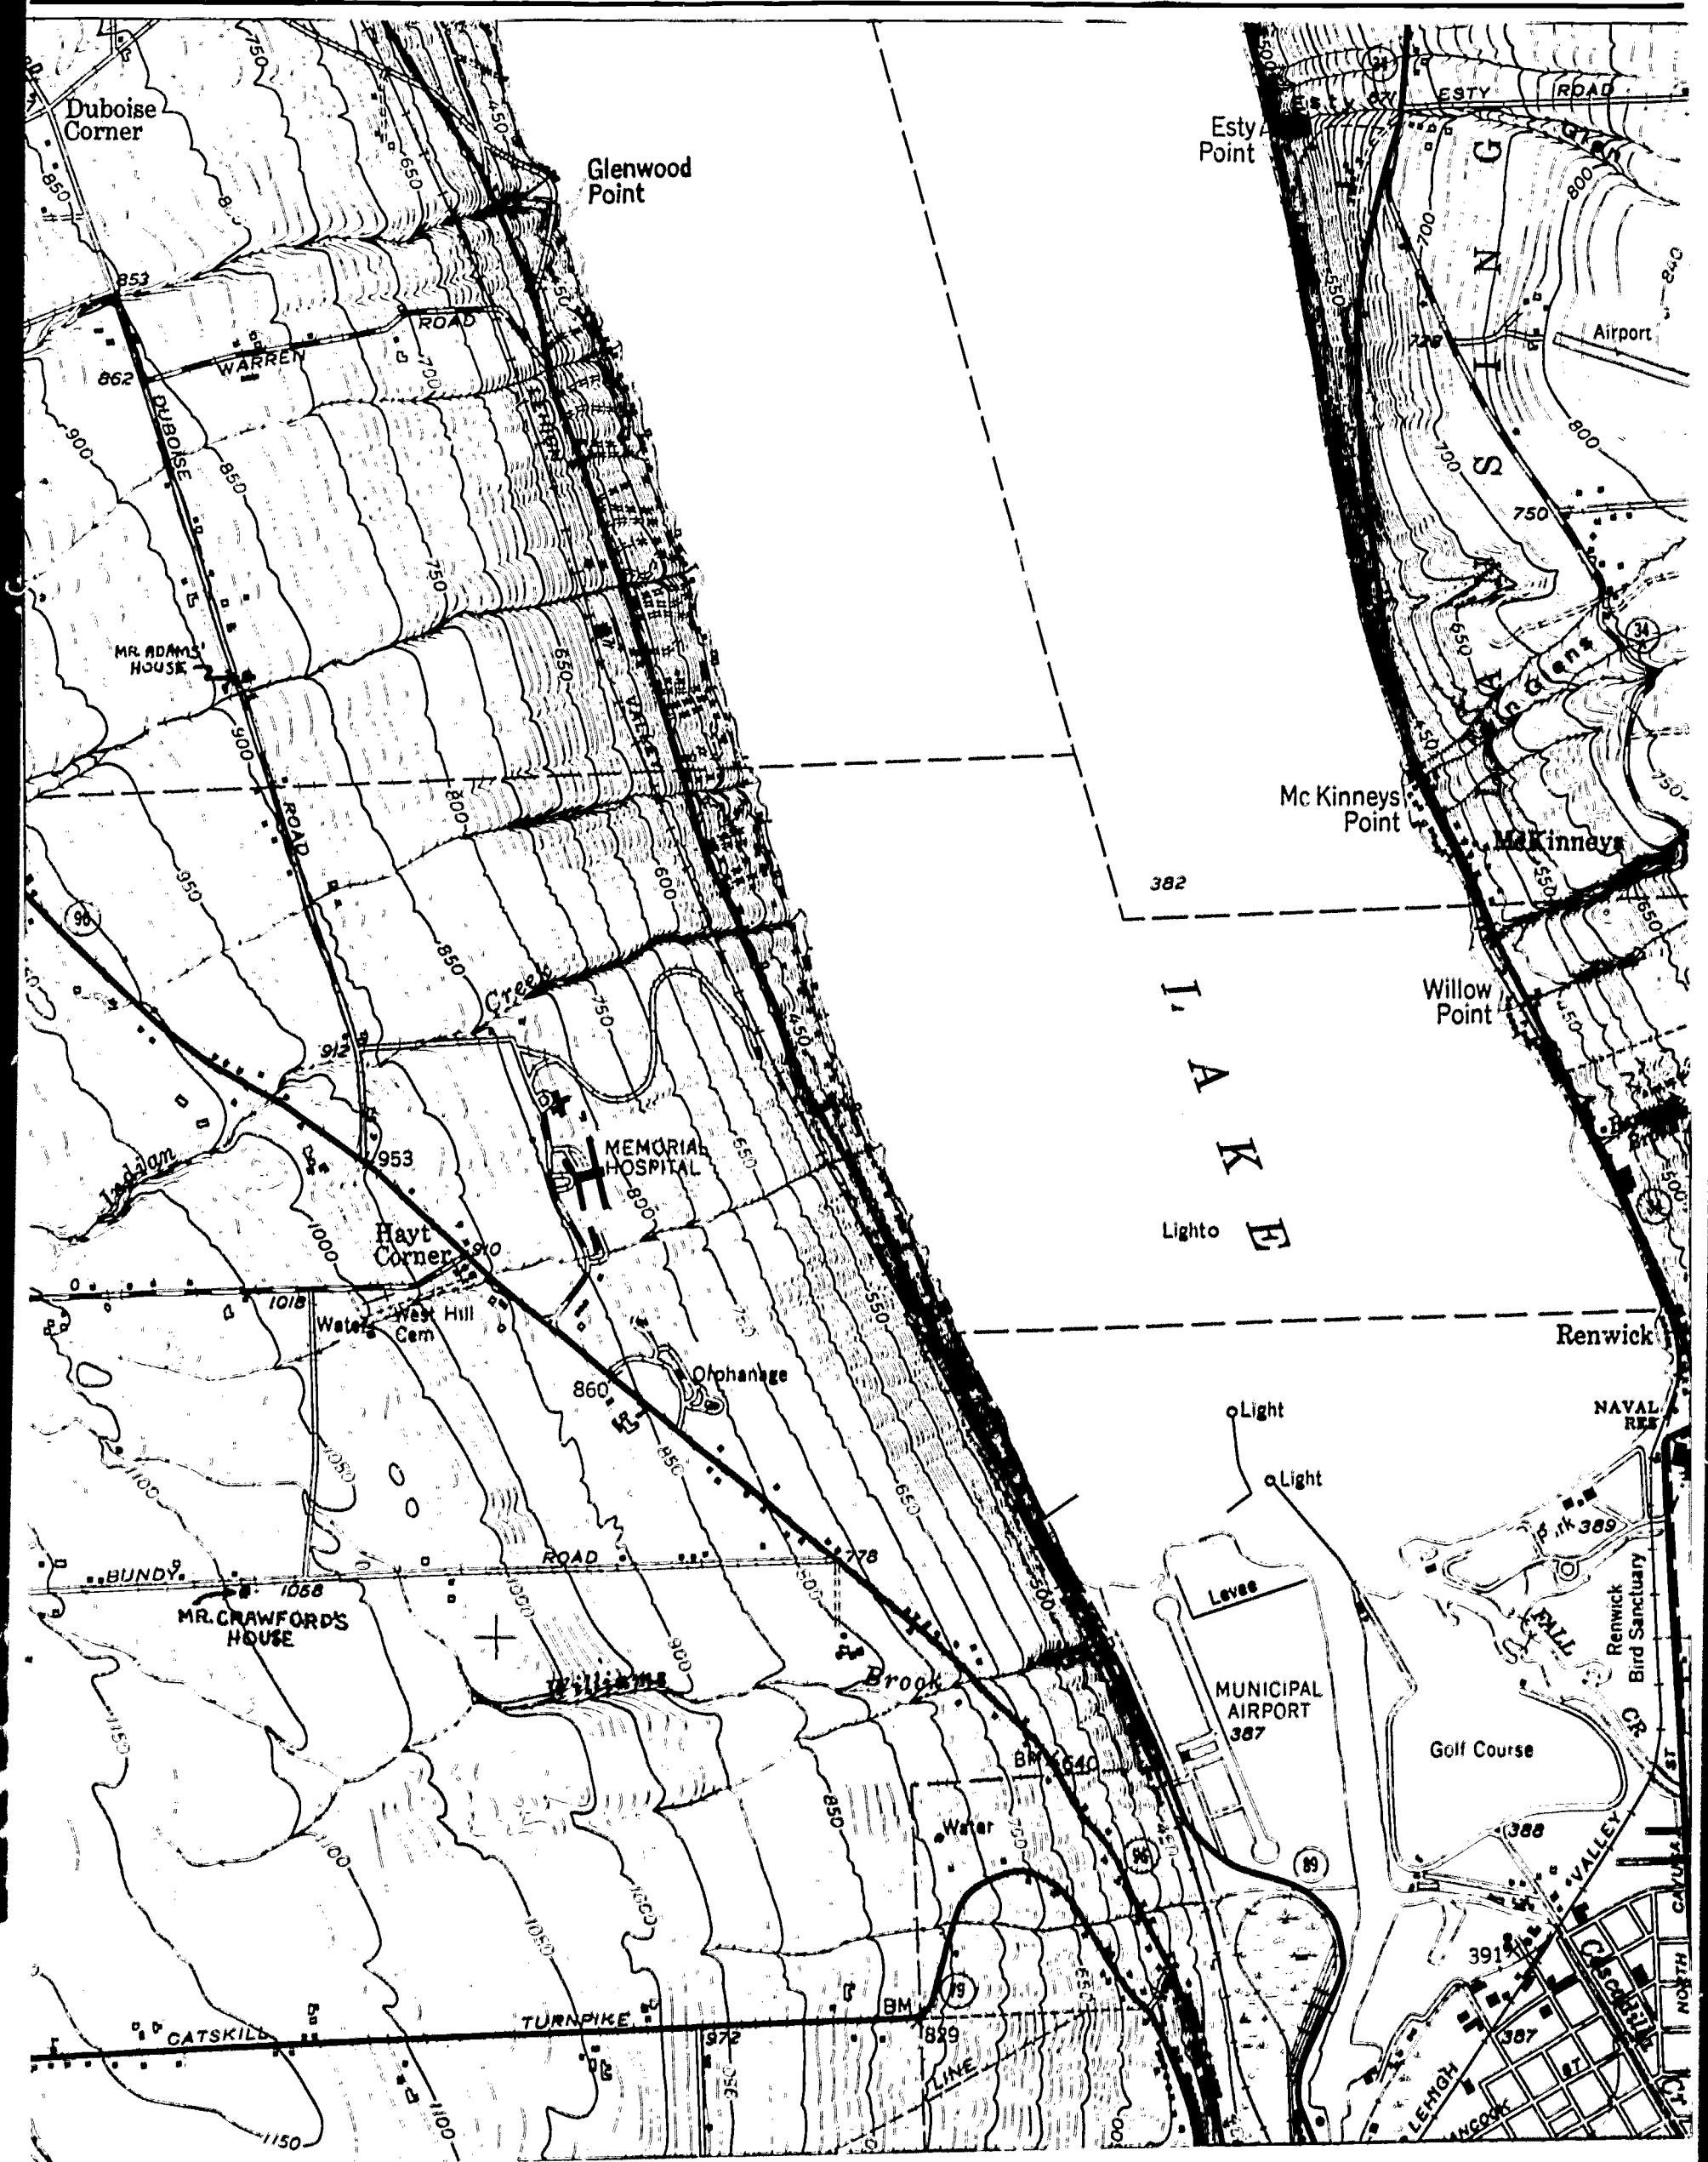

The map on which these monologs are based is not from East Africa. It was chosen because it shows many details that are not found on other maps. Among these details are elevations and individual buildings.

The meaning of each word is given in the left-hand column the first time it occurs. The numbers after the nouns refer to the concordial classes of their singulars and plurals (see Cycle 18).

ndiyo 'that is it'	Hapo ndiyo Glenwood Point.	There is Glenwood Point. ('There, that is it, Glenwood Point.')

TO THE STUDENT:

The most important new grammatical feature introduced in this text is the /ta/ tense. The prefix /ta/ is found in the same slot within the verb in which we have already found the present tense marker /na/ and the past /li/.

In general, the /ta/ tense has future meaning. But it is also used in places where an English speaker would be unlikely to use a future. Text E-1 provides a recurring example of this, for English speakers in giving directions would probably say 'You leave Mr. Adams house,' 'You go downhill', etc., instead of 'You will....'.

The adjective stem /ingine/ is sometimes translated 'some', and sometimes 'other', depending on the context.

In the very last sentence, the word /ndiyo/ is a kind of 'emphatic' counterpart of the copula /ni/ (see Cycle 1). It is used in sentences where the corresponding English would have extra stress either on the word that precedes 'is' or on the word that follows it:

Hapo ndiyo Glenwood Point.      'There is Glenwood Point.'

Here is another set of directions between the same two points. It differs from the first set only in details, and in the presence of four new words. Read it aloud, being sure that you know the meaning of every sentence.

Utatoka nyumba ya Bw. Adams, kuelekea upande wa mashariki. Utatemka mtemko. Utaendelea tu mpaka utafika karibu na mto. Utazidi kuendelea kutelemka mpaka utavuka reli. Hapo, utaona nyumba moja, karibu na barabara. Hapo utageuka upande wa kushoto kulifuata barabara hilo upande wa kaskazini. Utakwenda kandokando ya barabara tu mpaka utafika nyumba nytingine na utazidi kuendelea mpaka utavuka mto. Hapo utaona njiapanda. Utalivuka barabara dogo na kuelekea upande wa kulia, na utazidi kwenda kandokando ya barabara mpaka utafika njiapanda nytingine. Hapo tena utavuka barabara kubwa na kuifuata barabara dogo mkono wa kulia. Utaifuata barabara hiyo mpaka utafika karibu ya ziwa, na hapo ndiyo Glenwood Point.

TO THE STUDENT:

Swahili has two 'dependent' verb tenses. They are called 'dependent' because a verb in a dependent tense cannot be the only verb in a sentence. One of them is the /ki/ tense. English translations of the /ki/ tense often contain 'if, when, while', or the ending '-ing':

nikisafiri

{ if I travel
when I travel
while I travel
(I) travelling

Nilimwona akisafiri.....

I saw him (he) travelling ....

TO THE STUDENT:

There are no special comparative (e.g. 'bigger, older, longer') or superlative (e.g. 'biggest, oldest, longest') forms for Swahili adjectives. This fact has already become apparent (Cycle 19), but is illustrated again here. The Swahili context ordinarily makes the meaning as clear as it would be in an English sentence.

The interrogative with stem /pi/ 'which?' '(See Series C) is used here with no preceding noun. It has the /li/ concord of Class 5, in agreement with /kabila/ 'tribe'.

The same stems /Sukuma, Haya/ etc. are used with the prefix /m(w)-/ to stand for one person, /wa-/ to stand for more than one person, /ki-/ to stand for the language, and /u-/ to stand for the territory traditionally occupied by a tribe or nation.

TO THE STUDENT

This text provides two illustrations of the dependent /ki/ tense. The first is /ukilifuata/ 'you following it', which is completely in accord with what was said in Cycle 31. The second is a little special, but is well worth learning because it exemplifies a rather frequent construction.

The second example includes the verbs /isha/ 'to end' and /vuka/ 'to cross'. One would expect */ukiisha kuvuka/, pronounced as two words, with /vuka/ in its infinitive form. What actually occurs, however, is written /ukiisha vuka/ and is pronounced /ukishavuka/. The general translation of this construction is 'when you have...'

The word /pana/ 'there is' is comparable to /kuna/ 'there is' (Cycle 22) except that it has the prefix /pa/ (Class 16) in concord with /hapa/, /hapo/, etc. The /ku/ of /kuna/ is the concord of Class 17.

The word /mahali/ 'place' always requires the words in concord with it to have the /pa/ concord (Class 16).

The relative form of /pana/ 'there is' is /palipo na/ 'where there is'
Compare also:

kuna	'there is'	kuliko na
ana	'he, she has'	aliye na
palikuwa na	'there was'	palipokuwa na
walikuwa na	'they had'	waliokuwa na

Text F-2

Read aloud, and be sure you know the meaning of each sentence:

Ukitoka nyumba ya Bw. Adams, elekea upande wa kusini kulifuata barabara. Utakwenda kandokando ya barabara mpaka utavuka mto. Utazidi kuendelea mpaka utafika njiapanda. Hapo pana nyumba mbili. Utaiacha ile njiapanda inayokwenda upande wa mashariki. Utazidi kuelekea na lile barabara linalokwenda kusini mpaka utafika njiapanda nyingine. Hapo utaelekea upande wa mashariki ya kusini mpaka utafika njiapanda nyingine. Hapo utageuka upande wa kulia na kulifuata barabara linalokwenda magharibi. Utazidi kwenda tu mpaka utaikuta njiapanda nyingine. Utageuka na kulifuata barabara linalokwenda kusini, mpaka utafika penye mto. Hapo utageuka upande wa kushoto, na kuelekea upande wa mashariki, na ng'ambo kidogo utakiona kisima cha maji.

penye	'where there is' (lit. 'where has') ng'ambo (9)	'the far side, beyond'
kisima (7, 8)	'well, water hole'
maji (6)	'water'

TO THE STUDENT:

The word /penye/ is the Class 16 form of a very useful word. Its stem is /enye/, translatable in various contexts as ''having, with, which has'':

watu wenyе baiskeli	'people who have bicycles'
mtu mwenye pesa	'a person who has money'
kisima chenye maji	'a well with water (in it)'

SWAHILI : GEOGRAPHY

Use each of the following in a complete sentence. [Where the stem or the infinitive of a verb is given, use any form of it. Where an inflected form is given, use that form only.]

inayokwenda	penye
kandokando	kisima
kuacha	linalokwenda
ukitoka	ukiisha fika
njiapanda	kushoto

Give, in your own words, directions from:

- a. Mr. Adams house to some place in the vicinity of Hayt Corner.
  - b. The school at Hayt Corner to Mr. Adams' house.
  - c. Hayt Corner to Glenwood Point.

Text F-3

Ukitoka nyumba ya Bw. Crawford, elekeka upande wa mashariki kulifuata barabara. Uende kandokando ya barabara tu mpaka utakapofika penye mto. Hapo uliache barabara na kugeuka upande wa kulia kuufuata mto. Utazidi kuufuata mto mpaka utakapokuta mito miwili inakutana. Hapo tena, utazidi kwenda upande wa mashariki kufuata mto. Uzidi kwenda huko tu mpaka utakapokuta tena mto mwingine unaingia mto mkubwa. Hapo utageuka upande wa kusini, ukielekea kulia. Utazidi kwenda huko tu, mpaka utakikuta kisima cha maji.

inqia 'to enter'

TO THE STUDENT:

This text makes more use of subjunctive forms than F-1 and F-2 do. Examples are /uende, uliache, uzidi/. The subjunctive is first discussed in Cycle 16.

The relative of the /ta/ tense has /taka/ plus the relative prefix.

The relative prefix /po/ (Class 16) is often used without any special Class 16 word before it. When it is so used, it usually corresponds to English 'when':

Utakapofika penye mto... When you arrive at a stream...

The element /an/ in /kutana/ 'to meet one another' has reciprocal meaning:

kuona	'to see'
kuonana	'to see one another '
kufuata	'to follow'
kufuatana	'to go along with one another'

TO THE STUDENT

The specification of time relationships is made much more flexible and precise by a construction which is illustrated in the sentence:

Hapo zamani, ulikuwa ndio mji mkuu.

In former times, it was the capital.

The construction consists of a form of /wa/ 'be, become' plus another form of the copular /ni/, or the emphatic copula (e.g. /ndio/, see Series E), or a full verb:

Ulikuwa ni mji mkuu.

It was the capital.

Ulikuwa ndio mji mkuu.

It was the capital.

Walikuwa { wanafanya } kazi.
wakifanya }

They were working.

Walifanya kazi.

They worked.

Watakuwa { wanafanya } kazi.
wakifanya }

They will be working.

Watafanya kazi.

They will work.

In this construction, the principal specification of time is in the first word. The time of the second verb is relative to the time of the first.

Reading Comprehension

Mbeya ni mji, pia ni jimbo.

Makabila ya Mbeya ni Wasafa na Wanyakyusa.

Uko nyanda za juu.

Walio wengi ni wakulima.

Hapo zamani, kulikuwa na Jimbo lililoitwa Jimbo la Nyanda za Juu.

Lakini, katika mji kuna wafanyi
biashara wengi.

Lakini sasa, ni majimbo mawili:
yaani Jimbo la Mbeya na Jimbo la Iringa.

Na bidhaa nyingi zinazotoka jimbo huja kuuzwa katika mji.

Mji wa Iringa ni mkubwa kuliko mji wa Mbeya.

Questions:

1. Mji wa Mbeya uko wapi?

The relative form corresponding to the /a/ tense is illustrated in itokayo which leaves

compare:

yatoka	it leaves
inayotoka	which leaves
inatoka	it leaves

The stem /pitia/ 'to pass by, near' is related to /pita/ 'to pass'. The stem /pitia/ contains the 'applicative' extension, represented here by /i/. The meaning and use of the applicative extension are difficult to summarize. In general, however, it is found when the action of the verb is done with special reference to some person or thing.

EPILOG

The 'cycles' and the 'texts of this course have given you an active introduction to almost all of the main points of Swahili structure. This fact is of more than academic value to you. It means that in any new text, either spoken or written, you will find that most of the grammar is familiar. Your main deficiencies at this point are in the realm of vocabulary.

One procedure for expanding your vocabulary, and at the same time increasing your fluency in the use of Swahili grammatical structures, is the following:

1. Choose a topic with which you are partly familiar. Ask a speaker of Swahili to talk to you on this topic for 30 seconds. (You should of course explain in advance that you are going to stop him.)
2. At the end of 30 seconds, ask him to start again. Ask him to "say the same thing, without leaving anything out or putting in anything new." (He will of course make some small changes.)
3. Ask to hear the same thing a third and a fourth time.
4. Ask the speaker to dictate the text to you, one sentence at a time.
5. Prepare the text for study, in one or more of the ways that were used with the texts of Series D-H (blank-filling, questions and answers, etc.).
6. Get at least two or three more texts on topics that overlap the first. In this way you will secure further practice with many of the vocabulary items that were new to you in the first text.

Most students who have completed only this course in Swahili would benefit from systematically organized drill materials emphasizing individual points of Swahili grammar. These, along with short dialogs for memorization, may be found in the Foreign Service Institute's Swahili Basic Course. A very readable and reliable survey of Swahili grammar, aimed at the beginning student, is James L. Brain's Basic Structure of Swahili, obtainable from the Eastern African Studies Program of Syracuse University. The reader is referred to these, as well as to the well known standard works by Ashton, Perrott, and Steere.
