FOREWORD

Each year interest runs high on what the states have done through the legislative process to bring about educational improvement. Important in this regard are the legislative programs and activities of the state education associations in the state capitals, for they are a potent force in securing passage of laws designed to effect salutary changes in the educational systems in their states.

This report on 1968 state school legislation contains information on the legislative goals of the state education associations and the extent to which their aims were accomplished as well as a brief description of the significant laws enacted in the first eight months of 1968.

The NEA Research Division wishes to thank the state education associations for providing the information for this report. The 1968 compilation, the 33rd in an annual series, was prepared by Frieda S. Shapiro, Assistant Director.

GLEN ROBINSON
Director, Research Division

INTRODUCTION

In the eight-month period, January 1, 1968-August 31, 1968, the legislatures of 24 states met in regular scheduled sessions, 21 in annual assembly and three in biennial sessions. These 24 states are:

Alaska	Michigan
Arizona	Mississippi
California	(biennial)
Colorado	New Jersey
Delaware	New Mexico
Georgia	New York
Hawaii	Oklahoma
Kansas	Pennsylvania
Kentucky (biennial)	Rhode Island
Louisiana	South Carolina
Maryland	South Dakota
Massachusetts	Virginia (biennial)
	West Virginia

In addition, the governing bodies of Illinois, Ohio, Tennessee, and Vermont, which ordinarily sit only in odd-numbered years, carried their 1967 sessions over into the 1968 calendar year. Law-making activities were also conducted in special legislative sessions called in 12 states in 1968, including four states which met in regularly scheduled sessions as well. In all, some 36 state legislatures were convened in the first eight months of 1968.

Many of the states whose patterns of legislative meetings are on an annual basis do not hold plenary sessions in even-numbered years. Usually the even-year sessions are short, with the agenda concerned mainly with budgetary matters. While measures other than state appropriations are placed on the calendar in these even-year sessions, generally the bulk of the legislative work is faced in the odd-year sessions. Special sessions, where held, are also typically short ones. Sometimes, as was the case in Florida this year, their main purpose is to act on education matters; but more often, other urgent state matters, among them legislative reapportionment and revision of state constitutions, lead to these special sessions. These factors help explain why fewer school bills were passed in 1968 compared with the previous year. A better picture of education legislation is obtained by looking at the two-year period.

This report summarizes for 31 states and the District of Columbia the 1968 legislative goals of the state education associations, what success was had on these goals, and the significant education laws passed in the regular and special sessions during the first eight months of the 1968 calendar year. Included is information on all states with regular 1968 sessions except Georgia. Covered also in this compilation are laws relating to schools enacted in the Illinois and Ohio sessions held over from 1967 and in the 1968 special sessions of Arkansas, Florida, Idaho, Maine, Missouri, and Nevada. The legislative business for 1968 was completed in most states reported on here by August 31, 1968, the cut-off date of this issue. Exceptions are Michigan and Mississippi, whose legislative sessions were not concluded, and California, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Rhode Island, whose legislatures were in recess. Also incomplete is the report on the District of Columbia, for the Congress was still in session. Appropriate note has been made in the states where bills were still pending or awaiting the governor's action at the close of August 1968.

The information presented in this annual compilation comes for the most part from the state education associations in answer to a questionnaire sent out by the NEA Research Division. The information received was supplemented by such sources as state education association journals, legislative bulletins and digests of 1968 legislative enactments. The variation from state to state in the volume, scope, and extensiveness of treatment is due to the form and content of the available materials.

The first section of this report lists the major legislative achievements and defeats as identified by the state education associations. This is followed by a state-by-state listing of the association goals, the extent to which they were realized, and the significant school laws passed, grouped under 18 subject-matter areas.

SCHOOL FINANCE

	Association Goals	Enactments
Alaska	Increased state income through additional taxation on crude oil	Achieved (Ch. 110). Increases oil severance tax from 1 percent to 3 percent.
	Increased state financial support to local school districts	Achieved (Ch. 125). Increases state support per child by a minimum of $30 to a maximum of $70 depending on the district's need for additional assistance; this represents increases of 19 percent to 50 percent.
	Remove the chief administrator from the pupil-teacher ratio in the small districts	Achieved (Ch. 48). School districts with an enrollment of 600 or less are now enabled to employ a superintendent without taking from the pupil-teacher ratio.
	See School Buildings and Sites
Arizona	Retention in the state of all underground oil-gas-mineral rights in the future sale of state school lands in order to build up the Permanent School Fund	Achieved.
	...	A 6-percent budget limitation on school increases at the local level with a vote of the district property owners required to exceed this limitation (SB 2).
Arkansas	Repeal of Act 113 of 1967 which granted certain industrial exemptions from state sales and use taxes and caused a significant loss in revenues with estimates of loss ranging from $2.5 million to $8 million	Achieved partially (Act 5, 1st Ex. Sess.). Tightens up exemptions; will increase general revenue collections by an estimated $2 million per year.
	Increases in tobacco products and alcoholic beverage taxes to produce an estimated $8 million	Goal unrealized. All tax increase bills failed to pass.
California	To apply a $155 million property tax relief fund through the public schools to reduce local school tax rates, carry State School Fund surplus over to succeeding year and increase foundations accordingly See Miscellaneous Legislation Affecting Teachers	Goals unrealized. The state education association is pressing for inclusion of school finance in the call for a special session that is likely to begin September 9, 1968.
Colorado	Additional funds for public education	Goal unrealized, but because of the Association's insistence and pressure for additional state funds, the governor appointed a special committee to study needs of education and to present a plan during the 1969 session.

To force the governor to appoint a special study commission on education, step up submission of its report by one year, and use the report as a vehicle to obtain more funds for education.

Achieved. Study commission appointed on September 5, 1967. Report of commission was filed on December 22, 1967.

Association Goals

Calling of a special legislative session for education

Goal for 1967-1969 biennium: To provide approximately $498,337,000 in new state and county revenue for reduced teacher-pupil ratio, increased salaries in grades K-12 and in junior colleges, released time for lunch and program planning, textbooks and materials, growth under existing law, and increased retirement benefits

Enactments

Achieved. 1968 special session of the legislature called at the insistence of the state education association.

Achieved as follows:

Total biennial increase in appropriations for 1967-1969 over 1965-1967 was $426,911,513, of which $233,248,494 was provided by the 1968 special session of the legislature (Ch. 68-18). The additional 1968 appropriation to counties for 1968-69 was $227,769,944. Includes the following for the K-12 Minimum Foundation Program:

$58,154,764 for teacher salary increases

$10,140,875 for current expense increase

$5,713,920 for 661 additional kindergarten units which counties are ready to implement in 1968-69

$4,323,840 for 550 new units for exceptional children in 1968-69

$3,056,640 restored to meet requirements of present law for reducing teacher-pupil ratios in first grade

$3,452,700 for additional units for supervisors

$103,629,251 in new money for educational improvement; creates a new allocation of $1,720 for each instructional unit as part of Minimum Foundation Program with funds to be used for educational improvement. Before using these funds, the counties must evaluate their total education program and develop specific programs in areas of greatest need and which offer greatest promise for constructive change. Specific areas of high priority must include professional staff development, year-round utilization of staff and facilities, long-range planning, flexible staff organization and greater individualized educational program for pupils. County plans require approval of state superintendent before implementation.

Other 1968 additional state appropriations for counties include:

$26,486,900 for capital outlay (Ch. 68-18).

$12,800,000 for the Junior College Minimum Foundation Program. Formula

Association GoalsEnactments

changes enacted increase instruction unit value for salaries, increase unit value for current expense from $850 to $1,550, provided for professional staff development, place formula on current average daily attendance basis and revise formula for vocational-technical units (Chs. 68-18 and 68-14, Spec. Sess. 1968).

Ch. 68-18 also makes two changes in the allocation of state funds to counties:

(a) Places a 10-mill statutory ceiling on local millage (not including millages levied for voted district building and bus fund, required debt service, or for required junior college minimum effort) for participation in MFP. State funds are provided to offset the county fund loss resulting from this limitation. Effect of this roll-back provision in the 28 counties which in 1967-68 exceeded the 10 mills (estimated to be about $77 million) is a smaller share of the additional K-12 funds appropriated by the 1968 legislature, since part of this money will need to be used to offset the reduction of local funds.

(b) Makes a basic change in the 75-25 ratio of state-county effort for participation in MFP, K-12. Effective in the 1969-70 school fiscal year, the index of county-paying ability is repealed and each county must provide toward the cost of MFP 3 mills of the tax on 95 percent of the nonexempt assessed valuation of the county for the preceding calendar year.

Appropriations for revision of the school aid formula amount to $60 million in new money with a new Section 3 providing $6.3 million for ghetto education problems on a pilot project basis (PA 21). All other major revisions in state aid act were held in abeyance by the legislature pending outcome of a study being conducted by an interim committee composed of representatives of the House taxation and education committees.

Grants all certificated professional school employees the right to or not to form, join, and participate in the activities of employee organizations of their own choosing for representation as to all matters relating to salaries, wages, and other working conditions.

Allows employee organizations to establish membership restrictions and to make reasonable provisions for dismissal of individuals as members.

Provides that neither the school board nor an employee organization shall interfere with, intimidate, restrain, or coerce or discriminate against any employee for exercising rights of organization and representation.

Provides for designation of employee group as exclusive representative in a specified unit through election or certification by June 15, 1968, for all systems except Baltimore, and for Baltimore by no later than June 15, 1969. Determination of composition of unit shall be by school board in negotiation with employee groups which request that this be negotiated. No school system may have more than two units.

Provides that certification by an employee group that it has a membership enrollment of at least 30 percent of total employees in the specified unit as of June of year that certification is made, constitutes request for recognition of exclusive representation. If any other group certifies that it enrolls at least 10 percent of total employees of the unit as members, a representation election shall be held. Where there is no competing group, the group enrolling 30 percent may request an election as to exclusive representation or no representation. If no election request is made, the group enrolling more than 50 percent of the total employees in the unit shall be granted exclusive representation.

Requires state board of education to adopt rules for verification of number of employees who are members in good standing of employee organization on date of certification or who have signed a petition for election, and for the conduct of elections by secret ballot to be held between June 1 and June 15.

Representation period for employee group designated as exclusive representative by certification or election is for a minimum of two years. A subsequent election requires a petition signed by more than 20 percent of the employees in the unit within 90 days prior to June 1 in the election year.

Requires the school board to meet and negotiate with representatives of the employee group designated as exclusive representative on request on all matters relating to salaries, wages, hours, and other working conditions. The term negotiate is defined to include the duty to confer in good faith at all reasonable times and reduce to writing all matters agreed upon.

Provides machinery for impasse. Either party may request the state school superintendent to determine from the facts that an impasse exists. If an impasse is found, the state board of education may mediate the dispute if both parties agree. Or at the request of either party, mediation is by a three-member panel, with both parties sharing the cost of mediation.

Requires school board to render the final determination on all matters that have been subject to negotiation, but this final determination remains subject to other statutory provisions relating to fiscal relationships between school board and other units of local government.

Prohibits all employee organizations from directing or calling a strike. Penalties for violation of this provision are revocation of designation of exclusive representative, ineligibility of any employee group in violation from being designated as an exclusive representative for two years, and loss of payroll dues deduction for one year.
