ABSTRACT

Presented in this guide are the philosophy, evolution, structure, and implementation of a nongraded reading program which is organized on 23 sequential learning levels. The program concentrates on requirements in word analysis skills, comprehension skills, and study skills; and provides listings of suggested texts, supplementary materials, and evaluation tests. Readiness checklists (physical, social, emotional, and psychological), informal reading inventories, sample report cards, a letter for transfer students, and a brief discussion of parent-teacher conferences are included. PREFACE

This guide has been developed to acquaint teachers with Avon's Nongraded Program and to make available to them a comprehensive set of guidelines relative to the concept of nongradedness and its subsequent implementation.

Obviously, this document is not intended to be a blueprint for teacher performance; rather, it establishes the parameters within which the operation of a highly individualized process of instruction is to take place. It is a program that recognizes not only the individuality of the child but also of the teacher. No longer harnessed by the chains of tradition, the teacher is able to bring to bear the full capacity of her knowledge, imagination and professional posture.

All inquiries regarding Avon's Nongraded Program are to be directed to:

PHILOSOPHY

The Avon Nongraded Program is designed to recognize the individual differences of children. Our plan provides a learning situation to meet these individual differences. In the nongraded program rigid grade lines are eliminated, enabling the child to acquire academic and social skills at his own rate of speed. This philosophy of the nongraded program is based on the following principles:

1. Each child is an individual with his own rate and pattern of growth and should be evaluated as such.
2. Children should be taught at the level at which they are, regardless of age or length of time that has been spent in school.
3. A feeling of success is essential for normal growth.
4. The child progresses from level to level with a feeling of achievement because levels are paced to him.
5. A pupil whose achievement approximates his ability has made satisfactory progress.
6. A child should not be forced to "mark time" until some of his peers reach his level of academic achievement or maturity; nor be required to learn material beyond his range of ability.
7. No child should be forced to repeat material that serves no useful learning purpose.

THE NATIONAL SEQUENCE OF CHANGE IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL ORGANIZATION

- 1651 - First recorded, Dame School, New Haven, Connecticut.
- 1800's - Lancasterian or Monitorial System in use.
- 1836 - First graded reading texts - McGuffey Readers.
- 1843 - Graded system in elementary schools started in Quincy, Mass.
- 1868 - St. Louis Schools initiated frequent promotions and reclassifications.
- 1870 - First attacks on the graded system.
- 1888 - Pueblo Plan - encouraged individual progress - each pupil following a differentiated channel of a "multiple-track" system.
- 1890 - The Batavia Plan - special assistance to slow learners.
- 1893 - Six-six Plan for school organization proposed.
- 1896 - John Dewey established experimental school in Chicago.
- 1900's - Winnetka and Dalton Plans - used an individual task approach.
- Platoon or Gary Plan - a highly organized departmental program.
- 1942 - Ungraded or Continuous Pupil Progress started in Milwaukee.
- 1950's - *Dual Progress Plan, Ossining, New York - Specialists teach math, science, music and art and one teacher for a long block of time for language arts and social studies.
- *Team teaching, Lexington Mass., and Norwalk, Connecticut.
*Multi-grade, Multi-age Plan - Grades 1,2,3 and grades 4,5,6 are placed together for instruction (Torrance, California).
- 1960's - Greater movement away from the self-contained classroom.
- 1963 - Nongraded Primary - Avon, Connecticut.
- 1966 - Nongraded Intermediate I - Avon, Connecticut.
- 1967 - Nongraded Intermediate II and III and Equivalent grades 7 and 8. Avon, Connecticut.
- 1968 - Committee formed to work on plans to nongrade Avon Senior High School - Avon, Connecticut.

THE LOCAL PROCESS OF CHANGE IN AN
ELEMENTARY SCHOOL ORGANIZATION

Fully aware of the educator's problem to provide a school situation geared to the individual needs and abilities of the child, the administration in the Fall of 1960 presented to the full staff the idea of the Nongraded Primary Plan. It was felt that through careful study by teachers and administration, a plan suitable for Avon could be developed. The Nongraded Primary Program was adopted in September, 1963, the scheduled date for occupancy of a new elementary school.

The Superintendent of Schools communicated with one of the outstanding authorities on Nongraded Primary structure.

Late in 1960, the principal was appointed for the new school which would use the Nongraded Primary Plan. Several interested teachers applied for positions in this program. Three staff members were chosen to begin research on the project under the direction of the building principal.

Investigations of existing plans in the state were made. Additional information was gathered from over fifty school systems from twenty-three states. Other material was compiled from schools visited and from numerous texts, articles and professional journals. The principal contacted several educators working with this type of program while attending the National Elementary School Principals' Convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey, in February, 1961.

The Board of Education in February, 1961, authorized a three-week summer research study on the Nongraded Primary Plan involving the staff already appointed. A Reading Supervisor was added to the Avon Elementary faculty for the first time. The Reading Supervisor worked in conjunction with the staff members to develop reading levels. The Superintendent of Schools continued his dialogue with the consultants regarding the development of Avon's Nongraded Program.

Upon the completion of this research study, a tentative plan for a nongraded primary unit in the new school building was formulated. The administrative staff received the research study and recommended that it be submitted to the Board of Education for consideration. The Avon Board of Education devoted its October 24, 1961, meeting to the presentation of the research study. At this time the research staff explained in detail the structure of the nongraded primary unit. Copies of the Avon Nongraded Primary Program were given to the members of the Board for their careful study and consideration.

At its March 20, 1962, meeting the Board of Education unanimously approved the Avon Nongraded Primary Program for implementation in the Roaring Brook School in September, 1963.

The Board of Education again authorized a four week research study to be held in the summer of 1962 under the direction of the building principal. One new member was appointed to the nongraded staff. Two staff members from the research study of the summer of 1961 completed the study group. Six main items were considered during this session: minor revisions and corrections of study; more formalized structure of arithmetic and reading levels, as well as other curriculum areas; a program for grades 4-8; specific directions for initial placement of children from a graded to a nongraded school; the preparation of a news release for publication in September 1962 outlining the nongraded program in detail; and the formulation of a program to evaluate the nongraded unit.

With the opening of the Roaring Brook School in September, 1963, the primary nongraded program was implemented. Throughout the year there was continuous study, evaluation and revision of the program by the members of the study group and the teachers involved in the classroom. Revisions were made in accordance with these studies. It was then recommended to the Board of Education by the administrative staff that this primary, nongraded program be implemented in all Avon elementary schools in September, 1964. This was likewise approved by the Board of Education and in September, 1964, all Avon elementary schools were using the primary nongraded curriculum.

During the academic year 1964-65 more studies were made of the curriculum in action.

In 1965 the administration recommended to the Board of Education that the nongraded concept be extended throughout the elementary and junior high school. The Board approved this recommendation and authorized a four-week research study for the summer of 1966 charged with extending the nongraded curriculum through the junior high school. This committee was composed of reading and mathematics teachers from the upper elementary and junior high school grades. In effect, this committee repeated the process of its predecessor, that of determining content, order of instruction, writing of curriculum and reference material.

In September, 1966, those elementary students who had been studying the nongraded primary curriculum continued on the new material. The rest of the students, those through the junior high school, studied material which would make placement on the levels of the curriculum possible in September, 1967. This was done in some cases by the teachers going through the new curriculum and working with concepts which the students had missed due to changes in placement of material. Therefore in September 1967, all students in the Avon schools, from kindergarten through junior high school were studying the curriculum contained herein.

In May, 1967, the Board of Education approved the continuation of the nongraded concept through the senior year of high school. Later a curriculum study committee was approved for the summer of 1968 to work on the mathematics curriculum for the senior high school following the level format. This was done and was implemented in September, 1968, for the freshman year at Avon High School. Further implementation in the high school will follow in succeeding years. Total implementation is planned by the 1970-71 school year.

A COMPARISON OF GRADED AND NONGRADED STRUCTURES

GRADED STRUCTURE

1. A year of progress in subject matter seen as roughly comparable with a child's year in school.
2. Each successive year of progress seen as comparable to each part year or each year to come.
3. A child's progress seen as unified: advancing consistently in all areas of development; probably working close to grade level in most subject areas.
4. Specific bodies of content as appropriate for successive grade levels and so labeled: subject matter packaged grade-by-grade.
5. Adequacy of progress determined by comparing child's attainment to coverage deemed appropriate to the grade.
6. Inadequate progress made up by repeating the work of a given grade: grade failure the ultimate penalty for slow progress.
7. Rapid progress provided for through enrichment: encouragement of horizontal expansion rather than vertical advancement in work: attempt to avoid moving to domain of next teacher.
8. Rather inflexible grade-to-grade movement of pupils, usually at end of year.

NONGRADED STRUCTURE

1. A year of school life may mean much more or much less than a year of progress in subject matter.
2. Progress seen as irregular; a child may progress much more rapidly in one year and quite slowly in another.
3. A child's progress seen as not unified: he spurts ahead in one area of progress and lags behind in others; may be working at three or four levels in as many subjects.
4. Bodies of content seen as appropriate over a wide span of years; learnings viewed vertically or longitudinally rather than horizontally.
5. Adequacy of progress determined by comparing child's attainment to his ability and both to long-term view of ultimate accomplishment desired.
6. Slow progress provided for by permitting longer time to do given blocks of work: no repetition, but recognition of basic differences in learning rate.

7. Rapid progress provided for, both vertically and horizontally: bright children encouraged to move ahead regardless of the grade level of the work; no fear of encroaching on work of the next teacher.
8. Flexible pupil movement: pupil may shift to another level at almost any time: some trend toward controlling shifts on a quarter or semester basis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON
AVON'S NONGRADED PROGRAM

1. WHAT IS A NONGRADED PROGRAM?

It is an administrative plan which removes rigid grade lines and divides the curriculum into learning levels.

2. WHY HAVE A NONGRADED PROGRAM?

The program is designed with children's growth and learning characteristics in mind. Because each child grows and learns at an individual rate, he can progress from level to level at his own speed. It is a method of gearing the instruction to the individual child according to his special needs and abilities. Children who learn at a more rapid rate will be able to progress faster through the curriculum. Children who need a longer period of time to complete the curriculum will be able to accomplish this without repeating any block of material.

3. WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

The word "grade" is no longer used, but rather level is used to designate the child's place in school.

4. WHAT IS LEVEL?

A level is a block of learning. Each level contains a group of related skills and knowledge.

5. ARE OTHER SUBJECT MATTER AREAS TAUGHT?

Yes, all areas of the curriculum are taught.

6. WHEN DOES A CHILD MOVE FROM ONE LEVEL TO ANOTHER?

When the skills and material of a level have been mastered, the child can move to the next level. His work will be evaluated by the teacher through the use of tests, both standardized and teacher-made, as well as her observations of the child. It is to be expected that a child will have periods of slow and rapid physical and mental growth. A child may be above or below the level of some other children who started school at the same time.

7. WHAT MEASURE OF ACHIEVEMENT WILL BE USED?

The testing program for the town of Avon will be used, as well as other standardized tests selected by the guidance director. Teacher prepared tests will also be given.

8. DOES THE AVON NONGRADED PROGRAM INVOLVE CHANGES IN TEACHING METHODS AND TECHNIQUES?

No, the Avon Nongraded Program is basically an administrative plan which allows greater flexibility and opportunity for the individual child.

9. WHAT ARE THE FEATURES OF THE AVON NONGRADED PROGRAM?

- a. Each child is an individual with his own rate and pattern of growth and should be evaluated as such.
- b. Children should be taught at the level at which they are, regardless of age or length of time that has been spent in school.
- c. A feeling of success is essential for normal growth.
- d. The child progresses from level to level with a feeling of achievement because the levels are paced to him.
- e. A pupil whose achievement approximates his ability has made satisfactory progress.
- f. A child should not be forced to mark time until some of his peers reach his level of academic achievement or maturity; nor be required to learn material beyond his range of ability.
- g. No child should be forced to repeat material that serves no useful learning purpose.
- h. No failures; no promotions. Each child begins in September at his level of achievement in June.
- i. Closer and more frequent contact and cooperation between parents and teacher.
- j. The program requires greater inter-communication between teachers in order to share materials and accurately evaluate each child.

10. HOW DOES A NONGRADED PROGRAM AFFECT THE TRANSITION TO ANOTHER SCHOOL IN THE SYSTEM?

The nongraded program will make the transition easier for the student. He will start work in the new school at the level he left off the previous June. Teachers will have a complete record of his progress.

11. WOULD THE NONGRADED PROGRAM CHANGE THE PRESENT DEPARTMENTALIZATION PROGRAM IN THE UPPER LEVELS?

No! The two programs would complement each other. This combination would result in better organization and make it possible for teachers to become more effective.

TEACHER INVOLVEMENT IN THE AVON NONGRADED PROGRAM

To become an integral part of the teaching staff of the Avon Nongraded Program one must fully subscribe to the philosophy on which the program is based.

1. After due consultation with the teachers involved, any pupil may be changed from one classroom to another during the school year upon the discretion of the administration.
2. If the physical size of the classroom would adequately accommodate more children, the teacher must willingly accept the children who have progressed to the level taught in that classroom.
3. An inter-change of texts, teaching aids, and supplies between teachers is essential if the best advantage is to be made of instructional materials.
4. Each teacher must become thoroughly familiar with all phases of the testing, evaluation, and record keeping of each child and must constantly refer to this material when considering level placement.
5. Frequent staff consultation at any and all levels must be engaged in for the exchange of ideas and the discussion of mutual problems.
6. Each teacher must undertake a thorough and meticulous recording of information pertinent to the child's progress.
7. Teachers must possess a thorough understanding of the aims of the program and her role as an educator in Avon.
8. Teacher involvement in all areas of the school program, e.g., P.T.A., Study Groups, etc., is essential to the success of the program.
9. Cooperation between teachers as to duty and extra-curricular activities is imperative.
10. It is the responsibility of the staff members to keep abreast of research and development of the nongraded concept nationally. Professional materials will be provided.
11. Teachers must be willing to adapt to the somewhat less formal structure.
12. There must be a willingness on the part of the teacher to communicate to the parent any aspect of the program.
13. The success of the program is, as always, directly proportional to the quality of the teaching accomplished by the classroom teacher.

GENERAL STRUCTURE AND IMPLEMENTATION

READING

The Avon Continuous Reading Program is a developmental program. The primary source used in the identification of reading skills is the Ginn Basal Reading Series.

The reading curriculum has been divided into sequential levels of learning. Within each level the skills are grouped in relation to word analysis, comprehension skills and word study skills. The skills within each level are taught as required by the children. These skills are extended and added to skills from previous levels.

The Avon Reading Program begins in the kindergarten. The pre-reading experiences of each child will contribute greatly to his success as he progresses through the reading levels. Included in our reading program is a Reading Readiness Checklist. Throughout the school year the kindergarten teacher will evaluate each child in relation to the readiness factors. When a child has demonstrated the acquisition of the required skills, according to the judgment of the teacher, activities and experiences will be planned for him.

The pre-reading skills are incorporated into Level One of our reading program. When a child has demonstrated competence in the skills of this level, he will progress to Level Two. Reading teachers will be available on request from the kindergarten teachers to assist in the evaluation of pupil performance.

When the skills and material of Level 1 have been mastered, the child may move to Level 2. The teacher will carefully evaluate the child, his social, physical and emotional growth and his academic accomplishments. If the child has made above average progress and is ready to move on, the kindergarten teacher will confer with the Level 2 teachers to insure proper placement of the child. The teacher will be made aware of the child's strengths and weaknesses. The kindergarten and designated Level 2 teacher will confer with the parent. It will be necessary for the parent to transport the child for the remainder of the year to and from school. The emphasis in Level 2 through 12 is on introducing and developing the basic reading tools which will be needed in all levels. Levels 13 through 23 are primarily an extension, refinement and application of all the reading skills.

The emphasis in this program is on the development of those skills which will enable the pupil to use reading as a tool for learning in all curriculum areas and functional situations in and out of the classroom.

BASIC ASPECTS OF THE NONGRADED PROGRAM

The Avon Nongraded Plan has divided the first nine years of schooling into learning reading levels through equivalent grade 8.

Rigid grade lines have been removed to enable the child to progress at his individual rate.

The child will move from level to level according to his social, emotional and academic achievement.

There is no specific time allotment for any level.

A teacher may teach three or four levels during a year, and therefore, the child may have the same teacher for the school year. However, it is possible that when a child changes levels, he may change teachers.

In most instances, kindergarten through grade 8 required nine years. Under this plan it would also be nine years for the average child. However, the child who is able to proceed at a faster rate of learning might complete the prescribed curriculum in less time. The slower child might take more time for the same curriculum.

No child is ever considered a "failure". If he does not meet the standards of social, emotional, and academic achievement for a given level in a reasonable length of time, then we study the cause, and adjust his program to fit his needs and problems.

Although there is emphasis on reading and mathematics, all areas of the curriculum are covered.

All elementary schools in Avon participate in the Non-graded Program. There is no difference in the curricula of any school.

The Nongraded Program does not involve different teaching techniques, but through administrative groupings, offers sequential growth and learning.

USING THE LEVELS

Teachers must realize that pupils possess a wide range of ability and reading achievement. In order to ensure continuous progress for each and every child, they must be appropriately grouped and taught at a level that is consistent with their needs. Some pupils move rapidly through the sequence of skills, while other pupils may take considerably longer. Each teacher must therefore accept the responsibility of helping each student in an orderly way to sequentially develop the reading skills as he progresses from one level to the next.

EVALUATION

Frequent evaluation of pupil performances is essential to ensure proper placement and continuous reading progress.

Performance of unit tests, informal reading tests and Ginn Readiness and Achievement tests will provide teachers with data that will enable them to move effectively, assess and diagnose the needs and achievement of each pupil. The teacher thus, becomes a "diagnostic teacher" grouping and regrouping, teaching and reteaching according to the strengths and weaknesses in skill development.

This reading program includes suggestions for evaluation of pupil performance. Before a pupil progresses from one level to the next, the teacher should be certain that he has acquired the necessary skills as indicated by his performance on the suggested tests.

The Informal Reading Tests which follow each level in the program were developed from the stories in the Ginn Basal Readers. They are easily administered and scored.

In the primary section tests should be administered individually by the teacher as oral reading tests. In the intermediate section, they can be administered individually as oral reading tests or in groups as silent reading tests. The classroom teachers are encouraged to use them as needed.

MATERIALS FOR ENRICHMENT OR REINFORCEMENT

Included in the Avon Reading Program are suggested materials for enrichment and reinforcement. These materials are "suggested" and this should be strongly realized, and not used exclusively. A wide variety and range of supplementary materials are available and classroom teachers are encouraged to select those appropriate for her group.

Independent reading in a wide variety of materials will enhance the reading program for each child and therefore the use of enrichment materials in conjunction with the basal reading program is encouraged.

When a level has been completed materials for reinforcement will be selected by teachers evaluation and performance on the test used in evaluation.

Visits to the library will continue to be an important part of our reading program. Pupils should be assisted by teachers and librarians to select books that are compatible with their reading level.

RECORD KEEPING

It becomes apparent to teachers that accurate and thorough records on the performance of each child are a vital aspect in the successful implementation of the Avon Reading Program. All the information and data obtained through the administration of tests are to be recorded on the Reading Skill Cards. Pupil profile sheets and informal tests records should all be recorded in a cumulative folder.

1, 2, & 3

The teacher of Level 1 students must use observation to determine what children have reached a point of maturation favorable to reading. Important criteria to follow are: does the child

Work well alone and/or with a group?

Have an attention span of 15 minutes or more?

Write first name?

Use left to right eye progression?

Use hand to eye coordination?

Have firm control of small muscle coordination?

Repeat rhymes and songs in sequence?

Speak in complete sentences?

It is expected that only a few children will be ready for the more formal situation of beginning reading. The teacher must watch social, physical and emotional development closely to assure the students success in the Readiness Program. The child who is pushed ahead is not usually as successful as the motivated child who progresses at his own rate of speed.

- Read simple poetry

Study Skills

Following Directions:

- Develop the ability to observe a specific pattern in following directions: read entire problem for general idea; reread to note specific steps to be taken; carry out steps; read problem again to insure all steps were fully carried out

Locating and Organizing Information:

- Organize materials in simple chart or story form
- Classify words and phrases that tell when and where
- Use table of contents independently
- Master alphabetical order by second letter
- Use a simplified dictionary
- Use a glossary
- Use the library as a source of information
- Find specific information and record it
- Become aware of the globe as a representation of the world
- Become aware of directions
- Understand that small things on a map stand for large things in reality
- Use simple legends to understand symbols

Selecting, Evaluating and Recalling Information

- Evaluate several responses and select the most suitable
- Develop ability to gather relevant facts from short talks or from an informative selection read by the teacher
- Show ability to retain and recall what has been read

Mastering Mechanics of Silent and Oral Reading:

- Read silently with comprehension
- Learn to skim to gain general idea
- Scan under teacher direction
- Read aloud with proper emphasis and pronunciation

INFORMAL READING INVENTORY

(LEVEL 7 - 135 words) Pupil _____

Motivation: Have you ever been out in the country? What were the sounds you heard? This is a story of a woman who didn't hear enough noises on her farm.

10 The little woman was sad. So she went to a 20 neighbor's house and said, "What can I do to get 25 some noise on my farm?"
 32 "Buy some animals," said the neighbor. "Buy
 42 some animals that make noises. Buy a cow or a
 51 rooster. Who ever heard of a farm without animals?"
 59 "Thank you," said the little woman. So she 65 went away and bought a cow.
 73 "Moo, moo" said the cow. The little woman
 83 thought that was a fine noise. But it was not 93 enough. "I need some more noises on my farm," she 94 said.
 102 So the little woman bought a dog. "Bow-wow," 111 barked the dog. The little woman thought that was 114 a fine noise.
 123 Now all day long the little woman could hear 129 "Bow-wow .. Moo-moo .. bow-wow." She liked the 135 noise, but it was not enough.

COMPREHENSION CHECK

- | | |
|------|---|
| Fact | 1. How could you tell the little woman was not in a city? (lived on a farm, had farm animals, was very quiet) |
| Fact | 2. From whom did the little woman seek advice? (her neighbor) |
| Inf. | 3. Did the woman think her neighbor had given her good advise? (yes, because she quickly followed it) |
| Fact | 4. What animal did the little woman buy first? (cow) |
| Voc. | 5. What tells us that the woman was not yet satisfied? ("it was not enough") |

LEVEL REQUIREMENTS

Word Analysis Skills

Sight Vocabulary:

- Master vocabulary in Roads to Everywhere

Phonetic Analysis:

- Gain facility in associating correct sounds with all vowel variants in conjunction with dictionary skills
- Recognize that initial or final sounds may be a combination of consonants one of which is silent, e.g., gn, mb, ph
- Extend the study of digraphs

Structural Analysis:

- Recognize compound word formed with a known word and an unknown word when the new word may not be in the oral vocabulary, e.g., downcast
- Master root form when in different positions, e.g., selfless, and unselfish, himself
- Master change in root form: f changed to v before es is added (wolf-wolves)
- Learn prefix - dis
- Learn suffixes - able, esse, ful, ish, ment, ness, ward, th, teen, ly
- Understand that each syllable has a vowel sound and that a word has as many syllables as it has vowel sounds
- Learn that ed is a separate syllable when it is added to words ending in d or t; e.g. suggested, folded
- Recognize that "an" when added to a noun makes a descriptive adjective (golden, wooden) and when added to a verb, denotes completed action (fallen, written)
- Apply rules of syllabication in attacking words:
 1. When one vowel letter is in a word the vowel usually has the short sound unless it is at the end of a word.
 2. When two vowels appear together, the first is usually long and the second silent (feel, wait, oak)

Context Clues:

- Use context clues to determine meaning and pronunciation

Comprehension SkillsMain Idea:

- Summarize main ideas of a story
- Read to recall specific details to support main idea and to verify answers and opinions
- Select and outline main and subordinate ideas
- Find summarizing sentence

Details:

- Associate events with titles and sub-titles
- Read to prove or refute answers to questions
- Develop the ability to use details in preparing material for oral or written presentation

Sequence:

- Read and arrange events in sequential order independently
- Draw conclusions based on a series of related incidents
- Use sequential order to make interpretations and predictions

Inferential and Critical Reading:

- Recognize cause and effect relationship
- Read for clues that reveal character traits
- Make comparisons and contrasts
- Draw conclusions; make generalizations
- Make judgments, inferences and form opinions
- Detect mood and setting of a situation
- Recognize the difference between opinion and fact
- Distinguish fact from fancy
- Distinguish true from untrue
- Distinguish probable from improbable
- Distinguish relevant from irrelevant
- Discriminate between serious and humorous
- Recognize slant, bias and propaganda
- Recognize author's purpose, mood and use of imagery, similes and metaphors

- Recognize different forms and styles of writing—prose, poetry, short story, essay, science fiction, journalism, etc.
- Read and interpret poetry

Study Skills

Following Directions:

- Extend the ability to follow written directions independently

Locating and Organizing Information:

- Locate information in dictionary, encyclopedia, glossary and card catalog, newspapers, and magazines
- Recognize diacritical marks
- Identify schwa, guide words, entry word, respelling and select correct definition
- Extend outline technique using major and minor headings
- Summarize information
- Organize information from one source
- Develop content vocabulary
- Develop the ability to read and follow diagrams, charts, schedules
- Extend knowledge of map symbols

Selecting, Evaluating and Recalling Information:

INFORMAL READING INVENTORY

(LEVEL 13 - 190 words) Pupil _____

Motivation: Can you imagine what fun it would be to wash an elephant? Read to see how Totarem feels about washing one.

10 Totarem had long since forgotten to be afraid, and he 21 even dared to scrub in the elephant's big ears and around
 24 her little eyes.
 35 That evening when he went home, he had money in his 47 pocket, and he was so proud that he called all his friends
 58 together to tell them what a wonderful boy he was. And 65 he pulled the gray kitten's tail again.
 74 When Saturday came, Jai and two village boys followed
 85 Totarem into the city and to the pool. The keeper lay 96 down and went to sleep under the wild fig tree. And 104 Totarem began scrubbing behind the elephant's ears as 114 though he had been cleaning elephant's ears all his life.
 123 "Oh my grandfathers!" said one of the boys, "Her
 133 right ear is as large as my father's dinner plate."
 143 "Her left ear is the size of my uncle's umbrella,"
 151 said the other boy. "Aren't you afraid, Totarem?"
 160 "Oh my, no," said Totarem, "The elephant may be 170 enormous with ears like umbrellas, but she is as stupid
 173 as a mountain."
 186 He began to jump up and down on her back to show them
 190 how brave he was.

COMPREHENSION CHECK

- Fact 1. What part of the elephant did Totarem scrub?
 (ears, eyes)
- Fact 2. On what day of the week did Totarem go to the pool? (Saturday)

- Inf. 3. How do you think Totarem could reach the elephant's ears? (have elephant lie down)
- Inf. 4. What was 'brave' about Totarem jumping on the elephant's back? (elephant might have attacked)
- Voc. 5. What does "scrubbing" mean? (washing hard)
- Fact 6. What kind of tree did the keeper sleep under? (fig)
- Fact 7. To what did the boys compare the elephant's ear? (Father's dinner plate; uncle's umbrella)
- Fact 8. Did Totarem think the elephant wise or stupid?(stupid)
- Voc. 9. "To dare" means _____ (to ignore the danger and try anyway)
- Fact 10. What did Totarem have in his pocket? (money)

Word Analysis Skills

Sight Vocabulary:

- Master vocabulary in Down Story Roads

Phonetic Analysis:

- Master skill of associating correct sounds with all vowel variants in conjunction with dictionary skills
- Master sounds of all digraphs
- Continue to recognize that initial or final sounds may be a combination of consonants, one of which is silent

Structural Analysis:

- Recognize compound word formed with a known word and an unknown word when the new word may not be in the oral vocabulary, e.g. downcast
- Recognize that "en" added to a noun makes a descriptive adjective and when added to a verb, it denotes completed action
- Master prefix - dis
- Master suffixes -able, ese, ful, ish, ment, ness, ward, th, teen, ly
- Master the pronunciation of ed after t or d as a separate syllable
- Learn points of division: when two consonants come between two sounded vowels, the word is usually divided between the consonants (vc/cv) e.g. but ter - der by; and when one consonant comes between two sounded vowels, the word is usually divided just before the consonant (v/cv) e.g., ho tel

Context Clues:

- Use context clues for meaning and pronunciation

Comprehension Skills

Main Idea:

- Extend skill of selecting main idea to printed material in which the main thought is not clearly stated, or is stated over several paragraphs
- Summarize main ideas of a story

Details:

- Relate details to each other according to purpose; e.g. time sequence, categories, etc.
- Recognize related ideas in several sentences and combine these into one sentence
- Develop ability to use details in preparing material for oral or written presentation
- Read to prove or refute answers or questions

Sequence:

- Develop understanding of time, place and thought in more complex material
- Draw conclusions based upon a series of related episodes
- Use sequential order to make interpretations and predictions

Inferential and Critical Reading:

- Recognize cause and effect relationship
- Read for clues that reveal character traits
- Make comparisons and contrasts
- Draw conclusions; make generalizations
- Make judgments, inference, and form opinions
- Detect mood and setting of a situation
- Recognize slant, bias, propaganda
- Recognize the difference between opinion and fact
- Distinguish fact from fancy
- Distinguish true from untrue
- Distinguish between probable and improbable
- Distinguish between relevant and irrelevant
- Distinguish between serious or humorous
- Recognize different forms and styles of writing—prose, short-story, essay, science fiction, journalism, etc.
- Recognize author's purpose, mood and use of imagery, similes and metaphors
- Read and interpret poetry

Study SkillsFollowing Directions:

- Extend the ability to follow written directions independently

Locating and Organizing Information:

- Locate relevant information using dictionary, glossary, encyclopedia, card catalog, newspaper and magazines
- Understand diacritical marks, schwa, guide word, entry words, respelling, and select the correct definition
- Locate and organize information from more than one source
- Summarize information
- Extend outline technique using major and minor headings
- Develop content vocabulary
- Continue to develop ability to read and follow diagrams, charts, schedules, maps, etc.

Selecting, Evaluating and Recalling Information:

- Select suitable reading materials for different purposes
- Extend recognition of literary forms

INFORMAL READING INVENTORY

(LEVEL 15 - 110 words) Pupil _____

Motivation: This story is about two young boys, hunting in Minnesota. Read to learn how this part of the country looks.

10 Waino and Ivar had been hunting all day, but they 21 had not found any deer - not even a bear. Ivar was 31 pretty certain that he had shot a rabbit with his 39 thousand-shooting air gun, but the rabbit was pretty
49 sure that he hadn't. They slid down the rolling hills
57 above Birora, Minnesota, on their hickory skis and 59 started home.

71 All the hills of the Iron Range are made of red or 79 purple iron ore and covered thickly with evergreens -
90 fir, spruce and cedar. The roads are red with iron ore
101 in the summer and green with trees. In the long winter
110 of that northern country they are white and green.

COMPREHENSION CHECK

- Fact 1. What did Waino and Ivar like to do? (hunt)
Fact 2. What animal did Ivar think he had shot? (rabbit)
Fact 3. Where is Birora? (Minnesota)
Fact 4. What are the hills of Iron Range made of? (red or purple ore)
Voc. 5. Name some evergreens. (fir, spruce, cedar)
Voc. 6. What word describes the hills? (rolling)
Inf. 7. Why are the trees green in the winter? (they are evergreens)
Inf. 8. How do you know Waino and Ivar were unsuccessful hunters? (they "had not found any deer-not..a bear")
Fact 9. How did the boys get down the hills? (they skied)
Fact 10. Of what were the skis made? (hickory)

INFORMAL READING INVENTORY

(LEVEL 16 - 191 words) Pupil _____

Motivation: Dogs called "huskies" provide much of the transportation in the cold, frozen North. See how important they become when they carry medicine to the sick.

9 "Things are worse in Nome," Olson told Seppala. "Another 19 death." His fingers were busy tying his package to the 25 sled. "You made good time, Seppala."
34 Then Olson and his seven dogs were off. Twenty-five 44 miles later, with his dogs almost frozen, Olson handed the 54 antitoxin to Gunnar Kasson. It was eight o'clock Sunday night
65 Gunnar Kasson, who lived in Nome, had been waiting in an 76 empty cabin for two days and nights. With him were thirteen
81 of the North's best huskies.
93 As he took the package from Olson he said, "I am going
104 to take the antitoxin into the cabin for a few minutes.
112 It may have frozen in the terrible wind."
123 The men waited inside the cabin for two hours, but the 132 weather kept getting colder. It was now thirty below
142 zero. Snow was beginning to fall. Kasson knew a snowstorm
153 made dangerous going, but he said, "There is no use waiting 155 any longer."
164 Stepping outside, he called his lead dog, "Hey, Balto!"
174 The words seemed to be lost in the falling snow.
184 Thirteen balls of fur scrambled out of their warm snow
191 nests at the sound of Kasson's voice.

COMPREHENSION CHECK

Fact 1. How many dogs did Olson use to pull his sled?
(seven)

- Fact 2. Who lived in Nome? (Kasson)
 Fact 3. How far did the dogs pull the sled before reaching Kasson? (twenty-five miles)
 Voc. 4. Give a synonym and antonym for "worse" (not good, bad; better)
 Inf. 5. List two ways in which driving a sled in the snow might be dangerous? (icebreak or snowbound)
 Inf. 6. What was meant by "thirteen balls of fur"? (the dogs)
 Inf. 7. How do you know the dogs were well trained? (they came when they were called)
 Fact 8. Name the lead dog. (Balto)
 Inf. 9. Why did Kasson take the antitoxin into the cabin? (fear of it being frozen)
 Fact 10. How cold did it get? (thirty below zero)

INFORMAL READING INVENTORY

(LEVEL 18 - 137 words) Pupil _____

Motivation: This is a story about a very brave mongoose.
A mongoose is an animal that lives in India.
Read to find out what he looks like and what he does.

10 This is the story of the great war that Rikki-tikki-tay
18 fought single-handed, through the bathroom of the big 25 bungalow, in Segowlee cantonment. Darzee, the tailorbird,
34 helped him and Chuchundra, the muskrat, who never comes 45 out in the middle of the floor, but always creeps around 55 by the wall, gave him advice; but Rikki-tikki did the 57 real fighting.

69 He was a mongoose, rather like a little cat in his fur
82 and his tail, but quite like a weasel in his head and his 93 habits. His eyes and the end of his restless nose were 102 pink; he could scratch himself anywhere he pleased, with 114 any leg, front or back, that he chose to use; he could 125 fluff up his tail till it looked like a bottle-brush, and 136 his war cry as he scuttled through the long grass was:
137 "Rikk-tikk-tikki-tikki-tchk."

COMPREHENSION CHECK

- Fact 1. What kind of animal is Rikki-tikki? (a mongoose)
Fact 2. Was Rikki-tikki brave or cowardly? (brave)
Fact 3. Who was Darzee? (the tailorbird)
Fact 4. Who was Chuchundra? (the muskrat)
Inf. 5. How do you know the muskrat wasn't a fighter?
(he gave advice)
Inf. 6. What weapons did Rikki-tikki probably use? (paws, teeth)
Voc. 7. What animal resembles a mongoose? (cat, weasel)
Voc. 8. When the mongoose scuttled how did he move? (quickly)
Fact 9. Name the object which Rikki-tikki's tail resembled.
(bottle-brush)
Fact 10. What did Rikki-tikki do as he hurried through the grass? (cried out his war cry)

(LEVEL 19 - 253 words) Pupil _____

Motivation: Read to find the unusual way one hero went into battle against a strong and fearless enemy.

11 Saul said to David, "Thou art not able to go against 22 this Philistine to fight with him; for thou art but a
32 youth, and he a man of war from his youth."

42 And David said unto Saul, "Thy servant kept his father's 55 sheep. And when there came a lion or a bear and took a
68 lamb out of the flock, I went out after him and struck him
79 and delivered it out of his mouth. And when he arose
91 against me I caught him by his beard and struck him and 103 killed him. The Lord, who delivered me out of the paw of 116 the lion and the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out
122 of the hand of this Philistine."

133 And Saul said unto David, "Go, and the Lord be with 144 thee." Saul armed David with his armor, and he put a
155 helmet of brass upon his head and gave him his sword.

165 And David said unto Saul, "I cannot go with thee," 178 and he put them off him. And David took his staff in his 189 hand, and chose five smooth stones out of the brook, and 201 put them in the shepherd's bag which he had. And his sling
212 was in his hand, and he drew near to the Philistine.

222 When the Philistine saw David, he sneered at him, for 235 David was but a youth. And he said to David, "Come to me, 248 and I will give thee flesh unto the birds of the air and 253 the beasts of the field."

COMPREHENSION CHECK

- Fact 1. Whom was David fighting? (the Philistine)
 Inf. 2. How do you know David was young? (Saul's words, first sentence)
 Inf. 3. How do you know David's enemy was an experienced soldier? (Saul's words, first sentence)
 Fact 4. What animals attacked the lambs? (lions, bears)
 Fact 5. Who was the protector of David? (the Lord)
 Fact 6. What did Saul put on David's head? (a helmet)
 Voc. 7. What was used to throw stones? (a sling)
 Voc. 8. List a synonym for "sneered". (looked unpleasantly)
 Fact 9. What did David choose for weapons? (stones)
 Fact 10. Did the Philistine believe he could beat David? (yes)

(LEVEL 21 - 182 words) Pupil _____

Motivation: Can you imagine what it would be like to be a magician? Read to see how valuable a magician was to a king in make-believe stories.

10 It befell in the days when Uther Pendragon was king
19 over all of England, that the magician Merlin appeared
24 before the king one day.

35 "Sire," said Merlin, "I fear you have not a great while 45 to live. With your death great trouble will come upon 56 the land. Each noble will seek to become king in your 69 place. I pray you will give heed to the words I am about 71 to speak!"

81 "You are the wisest magician in all this land, Merlin," 90 replied Uther Pendragon. "Therefore I will listen to what 94 you have to say."

104 "The child your queen is expecting will be born soon.
115 Since you have not long to live, you must make provision
121 for the child's safety," said Merlin.

132 "And what do you advise me to do?" asked the king.

142 "When the child is born," said Merlin, "have it brought 155 to me at once. I shall be waiting to receive it at the 167 postern gate of this castle. I will take it at once to 179 Sir Ector, a good knight and true, who will rear it as 182 his own child."

INITIAL PROCEDURE

With a dozen lively children in the family, the Gilbreth household was seldom without excitement or crisis. Mrs. Gilbreth, a consulting engineer and efficiency expert, had known the Hoovers well for many years in California where her husband and Mr. Hoover were engineers. Later, as a widow, she visited them frequently in Washington after Mr. Hoover had become President and had appointed her to his national advisory committee on employment. Read aloud from the following selection to find out as much as you can about the preparations of the six children when they are invited to visit the White House.

Mother told Frank she had business in Washington and wouldn't be able to return to Montclair to supervise the boys' preparations. They were to wear their best suits and, of course, white shirts and black shoes. If they took an early morning train from Newark, they'd get to Washington about lunchtime. Mother would be waiting for them at her hotel, and they could come to her room and clean up before the reception.

Bill, who was now a senior in high school and currently in charge of the checking account, withdrew enough cash to cover three full and three half tickets to Washington and return. It seemed a lot of money, and both Bill and Frank thought it would be cheaper to make the trip by car. They felt sure that, once they arrived in Washington and explained to Mother about the saving, she would approve too.

READING SELECTION

The two oldest boys were the possessors of a Model T touring car. An antique when they had acquired it the year before for $20, it had aged perceptibly under its new ownership.

The car had neither top nor fenders. The body was painted airplane silver. A six-inch red stripe, none too expertly applied, ran around the hull waterline-fashion at a point equidistant from the running boards and the top of the doors.

Starting the motor was a two-man proposition, with one person turning the crank and jiggling a wire-loop choke which protruded from the front of the radiator, and the other sitting in the driver's seat to retard the spark as soon as the engine coughed. But the three owners had done a good deal of work on the motor; it was reliable and purred like a kitten, only louder.

INITIAL PROCEDURE

In the Swiss Alps there is a very high mountain called the Citadel but most people of the nearby valley call it the Rudisberg-Rudi's Mountain, because of a boy named Rudi Matt. This is part of his story of the exploration of that great mountain.

"A typical mountain boy," one would have said, seeing him at a distance. But then, coming closer, one would have seen that he was not typical at all. Partly, this was because of his slinness, his lightness of muscle and bone; but even more it was in his small, almost delicate features and his fair, pink-and-white complexion. Rudi Matt hated his complexion. In summer he exposed his face for hours to the burning sun, in winter he scrubbed it violently with snow, trying to make it brown and tough and weather-stained, as a mountain man's should be. But no stain appeared. No whisker sprouted. "Angel-face," the other boys called him. Or, rather, had called him, until they learned that his fists, though small, were useful. Most of the men of Kurtal had black hair. Rudi's was blonde. Most of them had dark eyes. Rudi's were light-though exactly what color no one was quite sure. His mother called them hazel, but she saw them only when he was at home or around the village. When he left the village, when he climbed above it, they seemed to change, as the light changed. Looking up at the great peaks above the valley, they seemed to hold within themselves the gray of mountain rock, the blue of mountain sky.

Rudi had ascended both glaciers. No less than five times, indeed, he had completely circled the base of the Citadel, crossing the lower ridges, climbing up one glacier and down another. He had stared upward until his neck ached and his eyes swam. He had studied every ridge and cliff and ice-wall and ledge and chimney that could be seen from below. He knew more about the approaches to the Citadel than any guide in Kurtal. And yet he still did not know enough. Still he kept coming up to the glaciers to stare again, to study, to measure. To do this, he had played truant from school - even from church. Now he was running out on his job. Always it meant tears and pleas from his mother, often harsh words from Uncle Franz. But he did not care. He kept coming back again and again. Nothing in heaven or earth could have held him from coming back.

CONFERENCES

Kindergarten

Parent conferences are held in January and June for Level 1. At this time the teacher and parents evaluate the child's progress. The readiness check list which pertains to the physical, emotional and psychological readiness is discussed. Individual conferences may be held at any time.

Primary

Primary Level II conferences are held in December and May. The first conference is to promote a better parent and teacher. The individual needs and differences of the child are discussed. By mutual agreement, the parent and teacher can work together toward a goal for the child's growth and understanding.

Intermediate

Conferences for the intermediate levels are held following the first reporting period. At these times the teacher and the parents will evaluate the student's progress, his abilities and other matters pertaining to his scholastic work. (See below for a recommended conference guide) Proper records on conference report form will be completed following each conference. These forms will be kept on file with the student's records.

It should be stressed that there is nothing sacred about these dates concerning parent conferences and that teachers (and parents) should request conferences be scheduled at any time during the school year, should the need arise.

To make the conference a worthwhile experience, the following items may be discussed:

PARENT CONTRIBUTIONS

Reaction to school
 Relationship with family
 Physical condition
 Responsibilities
 Cooperation
 Friendships
 Activities, hobbies, special interests
 Weaknesses and strengths as viewed by parent
 Physical, mental, social and emotional growth

TEACHER CONTRIBUTIONS

Special abilities as noted by teacher
 Adjustment to school
 Relationship with other children
 Work habits
 Areas of weakness
 Attitude toward responsibilities
 Citizenship
 Effort
 Attitude toward group

REPORTING TO PARENTS

Evaluation of pupil educational progress requires communication between a minimum of three persons; teacher, student and parent. Research indicates that four factors play a major part in the process. These are: achievement, ability, effort and attitude. To insure clear cut communication it is important to have adequate definition of terms. Such a set of definitions are as follows:

I. Achievement

- a. The amount of learning that has occurred or knowledge that has been acquired during a certain period of time.
- b. Measured by performance on tests, papers, discussions, and teacher observations of these tasks.

II. Ability

- a. Evidence of what the child can do if he tries.
- b. Teacher judgment as to the amount of ability the student has is generally based on tests, previous records, and observational experience.
- c. Related to growth and emotional factors which can cause it to change with time.
- d. Should always be expressed in relation to a normal group or a stated population.

III. Effort

- a. The amount of time, work and energy put forth by a youngster in attempting to learn.
- b. How hard or to what degree a student tries to learn, measured by teacher observation.

IV. Attitude

- a. The reaction of the student toward an area of study.
- b. The amount of interest the pupil shows based on the teacher's estimate.

V. Discipline

- Research finding, in the area of discipline, is not as clear or exact as in the area of educational growth. Rights, privileges, and obligations are involved in discipline which are based upon and require a certain measure of character and maturity. Many authorities agree that maturity is a practical wisdom based on steady and socially acceptable emotional behavior. Character training may be defined as the development of habits, attitudes, values, and ideals through instruction, guidance and example.

A major aspect of discipline is the understanding by a child of the meaning and significance of education. This understanding is demonstrated by an appreciation for school. Adequate discipline requires a youngster to interact with others in a meaningful and harmonious fashion. These interactions, hopefully, serve as a way for a student to gain maturity, understanding of others and increased self-discipline.

A child's marks in self-discipline will be based on teacher observation.

- a. Behavior in the classroom, the school itself and the playground.
- b. Principles of good sportsmanship.
- c. Appreciation for school property and authority.
- d. Respect and demonstration of proper manners.

Progress reports will be issued periodically during the year. Parent conferences will be scheduled to correspond with the first reporting period. Additional conferences will be held as needed throughout the school year.

KINDERGARTEN REPORTING

Progress reports for Level I are issued in January and June.

The progress report is designed to be child oriented. Through the use of illustrations the child is marked in his Social Development, Creative Expression, Health and Safety and Signs of Readiness.

The code is:

W - your child is doing well

S - some of the time

N - not yet

Signs of Readiness

I have a keen interest in all readiness activities.

I can work independently for 20 min.

PRIMARY REPORTING

Progress reports for Levels II - XII are issued at the end of the 60th, 120th and 180th days of the school year. At the end of the school year a level assignment for September is issued to each child. The parents are informed of a level change whenever it occurs during the school year.

The reports are not the traditional multiple letter grades. They are numerals which indicate the child's growth in personal and social development, in learning basic skills and knowledge. The following key is presently being employed in the nongraded program of the Avon Schools:

1. Has made excellent progress
2. Has made better than average progress
3. Has made average progress
4. Has progressed slowly
5. Has made little or no progress

The early years of a child's educational development are of crucial importance for his future academic success. This issue of high scholastic achievement is of acute significance for our Avon youth as an extremely high percentage aspire to a college education. Thus, it becomes imperative that the home and school cooperate as closely together as is humanly possible to aid the enhancement of the child's educational attainment.

This progress report should be considered as only one source of information for the parent. Regular school visits are encouraged so as to keep the parent well informed as to their youngster's school progress.

A sincere invitation is extended to each of you to visit your school to discuss your child's educational program.

INTERMEDIATE REPORTING

The basic concept of the intermediate report card is that each child shall be judged as an individual, not as part of a group. His scholastic attainment will be cited in relationship to what he is able to accomplish and the progress he has achieved.

Key for academic progress:

Commendable: The student is progressing to the best of his ability.

Satisfactory: The student is progressing at a reasonable rate based on his ability.

Minimal: The student is making very little progress based on his ability.

TRANSFER OF STUDENTS TO OTHER SCHOOLS

The following letter has been designed and is sent with each child when the child transfers from the Avon school system to another school system.

The reading levels are shown with an equivalent grade level to assist any school system with the proper placement of the children that have attended our schools.

AVON PUBLIC SCHOOLS AVON, CONNECTICUT

Date _____

Dear Sir:

In connection with the transfer of _____.

In the Avon School system there is presently in operation a Nongraded Program. Throughout the years of school, a pupil is placed on a level according to his reading and mathematics ability and achievement. We have levels in our program representing grades Kindergarten through 8.

READING GINN BASIC READER	EQUIVALENT GRADE	MATHEMATICS MULTI-TEXT
Level 1	K	Level 1
Levels 2-5	1	Levels 2-5
Levels 6-8	2	Levels 6-8

Levels 19-21	6	Levels 22-26
Levels 22a-22b	7	Levels 27-31
Levels 23a-23b	8	Levels 32-36

When transferred, this pupil was reading on level _____, and in mathematics was working on level _____. We hope that the above information will help you to place accurately this pupil in your school.

If we may be of any further assistance to you in proper placement, please let us know.

Sincerely yours,

Principal

SUMMARY

Reading

This organizational pattern, with its many innovations, is a sincere attempt to improve upon a structure which many educators have deemed inadequate in fulfilling some aspects of a well-rounded reading education.

This is not to say that the traditional self-contained classroom, based on a graded structure, is completely inadequate. Definite improvement, however, can be made by means of an organizational regrouping to better suit the individual needs of each child. Continuous progress for every child, sound development of social and emotional patterns of child growth, and enrichment of the curriculum are an integral part of this reorganization.

It is hoped that, in this curriculum, reading will be taught to all students, at the pace that they can learn, and that a continuing advancement to new material will enable all students to achieve in reading to the best of their abilities.

GLOSSARY

Reading

affix - suffix and/or prefix consonant digraph - a combination of two letters which when pronounced results in one speech sound. This sound is neither a blend of the two letters nor the characteristic sound of either.

diagnostic teaching - grouping and regrouping, teaching and reteaching on the basis of continuous evaluation.

diphthongs - two adjacent vowels, each of which is sounded.

inflectional endings - endings to root words (s, ed, ing).

levels - a block of related skills taught concomitantly.

metaphor - the application of a word or phrase to an object or concept which it does not literally denote, in order to suggest comparison with another object or concept.

phonogram - word families such as "ill", "am", "ick".

pitch contour - changing accents in the identification of nouns and verbs, i.e. con' tract - con tract', ob' ject - ob ject'.

readiness - the point at which learning can take place with success at any given level.

reliability - the dependability, accurateness, and honesty of a source.

simile - a figure of speech in which two unlike things are explicitly compared.

scanning - rapid reading when looking for specific details.

skimming - rapid reading for main ideas and general impression.

validity - the acceptability of a material to reason or judgment because it is grounded on fact or sound principles, or in accordance with recognized criteria.

vowel digraph - two adjacent vowels which stand for a single sound.
