Dear Reader:

During the last year the El Dorado County Office of Education cooperated with the State of California Advisory Commission on School District Budgeting and Accounting and the consultant firm of Peat, Marwick, and Mitchell in the development of a planning, programming, budgeting system describing the operation of five school districts and the county program. You will find the county PPBS and a representative district PPBS in this publication. But before you examine these documents, reflect upon a few factors affecting the PPBS movement in education.

"Accountability" is the coming cliché among schoolmen. And as with most clichés, the message is clear. It is that men and women working in schools are responsible for children and youth learning skills, gaining knowledges, and cultivating commitments and feelings which will help those young people possess the fullest possible measure of their human potential. Yes, teaching a child to read is difficult enough; encouraging him to understand and accept a high and a humane purpose in life is far more difficult. But teachers, administrators and board members must shoulder those RESPONSIBILITIES and many others. And they must also be ACCOUNTABLE to a child, his parents, and society in guiding learners to personally and socially rewarding growth.

Yet like most social institutions, the school is told it must use the human and financial resources given it more efficiently in reaching established goals and objectives. It must allocate those resources prudently. It must choose educational settings which are more effective in answering learner needs and exploiting opportunities for learning. It must demonstrate that children are more skillful, have increased knowledge, or have become more humane as a result of their school experience. It must start failing programs and stop failing children as it changes and improves. A heavy charge indeed.

I believe that managing instruction by objectives within a planning, programming, budgeting system to promote greater accountability is a way for the school to better gain its intended ends. The El Dorado County PPBS arrangement is based on eight major processes and outcomes sequenced below, and when the system is fully operational, schools and the county office will examine themselves regularly and frequently through these eight elements. But in the first year only four of the eight were completed -- the goals statement, the program structure, the program description (goals and objectives), and program budget and financial plans. You will find those elements in this publication. I hope they give you some new insight into our ways of working.

During the project life many people contributed to its success. I give you their names and give them my appreciation for their good job.

PHILOSOPHICAL STATEMENT

As the staff of the El Dorado County Office of Education, we believe that through dedication, leadership, and coordination we assist local school districts in providing quality educational programs for children and youth.

Through cooperative efforts we educate youth while practicing the principles of democracy.

We believe that schools must help the individual grow in responsibility and self-fulfillment and ultimately become a contributing member of a peaceful, productive, and creative society concerned with the improvement of living for all people.

So as to continue to positively affect the education of youth, we believe that all policies and procedures relating to the educational process must be under continuous review and evaluation be it at the local, state, or federal level.

The County Board of Education will sponsor instructional settings for children and youth where the law requires or where school districts request. It will make these arrangements only after a specific learning need exists and is clearly demonstrated and where school districts cannot meet that need.

The Board will support district and county office instructional programs in every feasible way. The County Superintendent will encourage the effective and efficient evaluation and improvement and maintenance of instructional programs through program research, program development, and inservice training.

TITLE: Educable Mentally Retarded Program COMPONENT OF: Special Education Program

LEVEL: IV NUMBER: 111 DATE: 5-1-70

DEVELOPED BY: Marie Foley

PROGRAM STATEMENT:

The educable mentally retarded program will help a child to learn efficiently and profitably through special classroom instruction. Within one month after placement into the program the special class teacher will appraise a child's present development in social, academic, and vocational skills, knowledges, and attitudes. Assessment is based on the behavior he is currently displaying. Each child's assessment is placed against the developmental levels described in the social, academic, and vocational goal areas. The teacher, calling on other professionals as he determines, will develop a program based on performance objectives.

GOALS: EACH CHILD WILL

DEMONSTRATE THE SKILLS AND ATTITUDES OF GOOD SELF-UNDERSTANDING, RESPONSIBLE COMPETENCE, AND FAVORABLE SOCIAL INTERACTION

(Example) Given a special responsibility by the teacher, Charles will perform that responsibility on three occasions without teacher supervision by April 1.

DEMONSTRATE COMPETENCY IN THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE THROUGH EFFECTIVE LISTENING, SPEAKING, READING, AND WRITING SKILLS

USE MATHEMATIC SKILLS TO SOLVE FUNCTIONAL PROBLEMS IN HIS ENVIRONMENT BY DEMONSTRATING KNOWLEDGE IN NUMERATION AND PLACE VALUE, FUNDAMENTAL PROCESSES, PROBLEM SOLVING, AND SYSTEMS OF MEASUREMENT.

(Example) Given five one-dollar bills in play money and the price of an item which costs between $3 and $4 (uneven dollars and cents), John will determine the total cost of the item including tax, the number of dollar bills he should give the clerk, and the exact amount of change he should receive.

HAVE KNOWLEDGE OF HIS RELATIONSHIP TO HIS COMMUNITY, STATE, NATION, AND HERITAGE

(Example) Given a hypothetical problem of a fire at home, Susan will call the fire department on a telephone, give her name, and the address of the fire.

ACQUIRE THE SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGES WHICH ENABLE HIM TO APPRECIATE ART AND MUSIC

GAIN CROSS, SENSORY, AND PERCEPTUAL MOTOR SKILLS FOR ACADEMIC AND RECREATIONAL PURPOSES AND POSSESS A FUNCTIONAL KNOWLEDGE OF HEALTHFUL LIVING PRACTICES AND OF INDIVIDUAL AND COMMUNITY SAFETY

DEMONSTRATE THE SKILLS AND ABILITIES NECESSARY FOR SUCCESSFUL PARTICIPATION AS A PRODUCTIVE CITIZEN IN HIS HOME AND COMMUNITY

(Example) When given a job application to fill out, Zach will complete the form giving pertinent information about himself including his first and last name, middle initial, address, age, birth date, height, weight, education, mother and father's name and occupation, and his own work experience. The information on the application must be correct, legible, and contain no spelling errors.

TITLE: Educationally Handicapped Program COMPONENT OF: Special Education Program

LEVEL: IV NUMBER: 113 DATE: 5-1-70

DEVELOPED BY: Dean Orr

PROGRAM STATEMENT:

The program for the educationally handicapped child will remediate deficiencies in reading and math so that he may return to the regular classroom as soon as possible. Emotional handicaps which interfere with the learning process will be overcome or reduced.

A psychologist, the sending teacher, and other professionals will determine the areas of a child's academic deficiencies, diagnose the reasons for his learning difficulty and describe his learning style at the time of placement. Not later than three weeks after placement, the EH teacher, calling on other professionals, will prescribe a program for the child in performance objectives similar to the samples given below. At specified times mentioned in the objectives, the psychologist and teacher will assess the child's progress. If necessary they may revise his prescription at that time.

GOALS:

EACH CHILD WILL ACQUIRE THE NECESSARY READINESS, DECODING, AND COMPREHENSION SKILLS IN READING

OBJECTIVES:

(Example) Given the list of the Dolch 220 words, Bob Smith will pronounce each word correctly at sight with 95% accuracy by April 10.

EACH CHILD WILL ACQUIRE THE NECESSARY MATH SKILLS OF NUMERATION, FUNDAMENTAL OPERATIONS AND PROPERTIES, MEASUREMENT, PROBLEM SOLVING, GEOMETRY, MONEY, AND TIME

(Example) Given the 100 addition facts, George Jones will answer them correctly with 90% accuracy by May 1.

EACH CHILD WILL OVERCOME OR REDUCE HIS EMOTIONAL PROBLEMS ALLOWING HIM TO ACHIEVE IN SOCIAL AND ACADEMIC AREAS

(Example) Given a situation where he is working with his peers in an academic setting, John Johnson will adopt acceptable behavior as judged by the classroom teacher by May 1.

EACH CHILD WILL EXPERIENCE AN INTEGRATED PROGRAM, IF AT ALL POSSIBLE, DEPENDING ON HIS AREAS OF DEFICIENCY AND THE SEVERITY OF HIS EMOTIONAL HANDICAP. THE EH TEACHER COOPERATES WITH OTHER TEACHERS IN HELPING CHILDREN GAIN THIS GOAL

(Example) Given the results of the diagnosis in math, Zoe Zenoshia will receive her instruction in the regular classroom.

EACH CHILD WILL ACQUIRE A POSITIVE ATTITUDE REGARDING HIS SELF-IMAGE, SELF-CONFIDENCE, AND THE LEARNING PROCESS

(Example) Administered a survey instrument, Clarence Harris will demonstrate a positive attitude towards reading by May 1.

EACH CHILD WILL CONTINUE TO ACQUIRE KNOWLEDGE IN THE AREAS OF SOCIAL STUDIES, SCIENCE, MUSIC, ART, AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION IN THE REGULAR CLASS OR IN THE EDUCATIONALLY HANDICAPPED CLASS IF A SEGREGATED PROGRAM IS BELIEVED NECESSARY

(Example) Given the results of the diagnosis, Harold Henderson will receive instruction in social studies in the regular classroom.

TITLE: Speech Therapy Program COMPONENT OF: Special Education Program
 LEVEL: IV NUMBER: 114 DATE: 5-1-70
 DEVELOPED BY: Joseph Chapman

PROGRAM STATEMENT:

The program for the physically handicapped child bears the responsibility of offering the specialized services necessary to aid him in overcoming his handicap or in holding the undesirable effects of his handicap to a minimum as he progresses.

After a period of screening and evaluation, the speech therapist selects his caseload. It is made up of those students previously in therapy and those identified through screening. Selection is made on the basis of problem severity and a good prognosis. Therapy is conducted on an individual or small group basis, each session lasting approximately thirty minutes.

Records are kept on each student. Parents and teachers are informed of students' progress. Students are evaluated periodically against performance objectives especially prepared for him at the time of entry into the program. They are dismissed when they have corrected their problem or have reached optimum improvement.

The program will help the speech handicapped child correct his handicap or adjust to it so he may more successfully meet demands for oral communication. Therapists will establish effective communication habits with speech handicapped children through an effective system of identification and evaluation, adequate individual and group therapy, periodic parent conferences, inter-disciplinary contact with other county personnel and/or appropriate professional agencies when indicated, and adequate records.

GOALS:

EACH STUDENT ENROLLED IN SPEECH THERAPY WILL CORRECT OR MODIFY HIS ORAL COMMUNICATION CONCENTRATING ON ONE OR MORE OF THE FOLLOWING AREAS OF DIFFICULTY: PHYSICALLY INVOLVED, PSYCHOLOGICALLY INVOLVED, LANGUAGE, AND ARTICULATION

A STUDENT WITH A PHYSICALLY INVOLVED SPEECH DIFFICULTY WILL CORRECT OR MODIFY DEVIANT SYMPTOMS

OBJECTIVES:

(Example)

As evaluated by the therapist, a comparison of periodically recorded speech will show that George (repaired cleft palate) speaks with less nasality at the end of the year

A STUDENT WITH A PSYCHOLOGICALLY INVOLVED SPEECH DIFFICULTY WILL ACCEPT AND ADJUST TO HIS PROBLEM AND MAKE ADJUSTMENTS IN HIS SPEECH PATTERN

(Example)

As a result of their understanding of the problem from conferences with the therapist, parents and teacher will hear less repetitions in Sarah's (primary stutterer) speech within six months

A STUDENT WITH LANGUAGE DIFFICULTIES WILL INCREASE HIS ABILITY TO UNDERSTAND AND USE THE LANGUAGE

(Example)

Charles who uses no subjective pronouns will at the end of two months use them correctly 90% of the time as evaluated by the therapist and teacher

A STUDENT WITH AN ARTICULATION DIFFICULTY WILL LEARN TO USE THE CORRECT ARTICULATORY SOUNDS IN HIS SPEECH

(Example)

Susan who misarticulates the s sound will use the sound correctly at all times in a five-minute taped conversation at the end of six months. The therapist and student will evaluate.

TITLE: Hearing Impaired Program COMPONENT OF: Special Education Program

LEVEL: IV NUMBER: 115 DATE: 5-1-70

DEVELOPED BY: Joseph Chapman

PROGRAM STATEMENT:

The program for the physically handicapped child bears the responsibility of offering the specialized services necessary to aid him in overcoming his handicap or in holding the undesirable effects of his handicap to a minimum as he progresses.

After a medical and audiological evaluation and diagnosis which determines need for placement in the class, the admissions committee places the child in the class. The teacher, following diagnostic recommendations, determines areas of deficiency and the best method of approach for each child. A prescriptive program will be drawn up for each child which will include written performance objectives based on established goals for children. The teacher will find sample objectives and the established goals below. At specified times, defined in the program, an evaluation will be made. Revisions will be made in the program as necessary.

The program will stress the development of effective communication skills in the hearing impaired child that will support his social, emotional and educational growth.

Through frequent conferences, group meetings, and weekly information letters, parents will actively participate in the program.

Children will enter the regular school program on a limited or full-time basis. Each student enrolled in the program will develop his ability to communicate so he may become competent in subject matter areas and in human relationships.

GOALS:

THROUGH USE OF ALL SENSORY MODES, EACH HEARING IMPAIRED CHILD WILL DEVELOP HIS COMMUNICATION SKILLS. THE CHILD WILL ACQUIRE EFFECTIVE LANGUAGE

OBJECTIVES:

(Example)

On a two-minute tape-recorded picture story test evaluated by the teacher, Johnny will show an increase of five utterances as compared to a month previously.

THE CHILD WILL DEVELOP HIS RESIDUAL HEARING THROUGH AUDITORY TRAINING

(Example)

Jim will correctly discriminate three low tones out of five (three low, two high) played on the melodica by the teacher before April 15.

THE CHILD WILL LEARN TO SPEECH READ

(Example)

Before May 1, Kris will correctly identify three of five objects on a table when asked by the teacher to "Find the _____."

THE CHILD WILL ORALLY USE LANGUAGE HE HAS ACQUIRED

(Example)

Of several objects made available for play at recess time, Matt will tell the teacher orally that he wants the _____ by January 30.

WITH EMPHASIS ON LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT EACH CHILD WILL FORMULATE ELEMENTARY CONCEPTS IN SUBJECT MATTER AREAS

(Example)

At the end of a seed planting experience, Kim will be able to place pictures of experience in order showing planting, watering, and sprouting of the seeds.

EACH CHILD WILL DEMONSTRATE GROWTH IN SELF CONFIDENCE AND IN HIS RELATIONSHIPS WITH OTHERS

(Example)

Dick will enter the kindergarten class for a special art project after arrangement with kindergarten teacher. His success will be determined by his finished project and by the teacher's observance of his behavior.

TITLE: Program Coordination COMPONENT OF: Instructional Program Development
 LEVEL: IV NUMBER: 212 DATE: 5-1-70
 DEVELOPED BY: Roy Mangini

GOALS:

THE COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION WILL ASSIGN RESOURCES TO COORDINATE IDENTIFIED INSTRUCTIONAL IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS WHICH INVOLVE MORE THAN ONE DISTRICT. THOSE RESOURCES WILL WORK WITH IDENTIFIED EDUCATOR GROUPS (ADMINISTRATORS COUNCIL, CURRICULUM COUNCIL, AND OTHER GROUPS).

OBJECTIVES:

Given the existing instructional areas (reading, math, science, social studies, English, music, art, physical education, and practical arts), the County Board of Education, working in cooperation with school districts, will formulate performance objectives, identify possible methods and materials, and recommend instructional methods and materials in at least two instructional areas each year. Seventy-five per cent of the districts will accept the performance objectives as a basic program.

The County Superintendent will identify appropriate consultant services for all locally, federally, and state funded district curriculum development proposals. The County Office of Education will provide services for all approved projects.

After a formal group of educators has announced a desire to meet regularly, the Board will assign resources to complete agenda and minutes, make meeting arrangements, and coordinate those meetings.

TITLE: Counseling Program COMPONENT OF: Psychological Services Program
LEVEL: IV NUMBER: 221 DATE: 5-1-70
DEVELOPED BY: David Hawley

PROGRAM STATEMENT:

Through referral and active participation in a school, a psychologist can assist children and those involved with them in modifying the child's behavior, his learning environment, or both. Ordinarily, a psychologist will help a child through working with people in his environment.

GOALS:

THROUGH AN AGGRESSIVE YET SENSITIVE EFFORT THIS PROGRAM WILL MOTIVATE SCHOOL PERSONNEL AND OTHER INTERESTED ADULTS TO WORK WITH THE PSYCHOLOGIST IN PROMOTING PRODUCTIVE INDIVIDUAL AND GROUP BEHAVIOR IN CHILDREN.

OBJECTIVES:

Within two weeks of referral, the psychologist will schedule a meeting with those professionals involved with a child, discuss the learner, and assist in the development of a more promising goal and performance objective sequence for him.

THE MENTAL HEALTH ENVIRONMENT OF A SCHOOL IS IMPORTANT TO LEARNERS. THEREFORE THE COUNSELING PROGRAM WILL PROMOTE ADULTS IN GAINING SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE SO THEY CAN UNDERSTAND AND MODIFY INDIVIDUAL AND GROUP BEHAVIOR.

During the first semester after request from a district, the County Superintendent will conduct a course in early child training.

THE EFFECTIVE COUNSELING PROGRAM WILL HELP A CHILD UNDERSTAND AND ACCEPT HIMSELF.

Upon referral by a teacher and after observation of a child, the psychologist will, in a single or series of sessions, assist the child in understanding problems or situations and arriving at alternative solutions.

KNOWLEDGE OF THE TEACHING LEARNING ENVIRONMENT AND PUPIL BEHAVIOR WILL ALERT EDUCATORS TO NEEDED CHANGES IN THE SCHOOL AND CURRICULUM.

Upon request of the district superintendent, the psychologist assigned to the school will develop and complete a survey of the mental health conditions in that school, and thirty days after completion of the survey the report will be delivered to and accepted by the district.

TITLE: Group Testing Program COMPONENT OF: Psychological Services Program

LEVEL: IV NUMBER: 222 DATE: 5-1-70

DEVELOPED BY: David Hawley

GOALS:

THE GROUP TESTING PROGRAM WILL GENERATE DATA ON CHILDREN'S INTELLECTUAL ABILITY, LEARNING PROGRESS, PERSONAL INTERESTS, AND VOCATIONAL APTITUDES WHICH WILL HELP TEACHERS, PARENTS, AND PUPILS PLAN, ENCOURAGE, AND ENHANCE CHILDREN'S EMOTIONAL, SOCIAL, INTELLECTUAL, AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT.

OBJECTIVES:

Given the names of instructional, aptitude, and interest instruments by the psychologist and at district request, the district superintendent and representative district teachers will name those instruments by developmental level which they wish included in the district's group testing program.

- * Supplied with the district group testing requests, the psychologist will prepare a materials order for processing by the district's business department. These supplies are separate from those needed in the state-mandated testing program.

Informed by the State Department of Education, the psychometrist will order and distribute materials for the state testing program. All materials shall reach each district three weeks prior to actual test dates.

Five days after the last testing date in a group testing sequence and after receiving answer sheets from each district, the psychometrist will score all tests. Scores are available to districts no more than three school weeks after testing ends.

After the return of test results, the district testing coordinators and the psychologist will interpret these findings to a staff where they are understood by at least 90% of the teachers in a district.

With the interpreted test results, the district staff and the psychologist will identify both weak instructional programs, curriculum, and ineffective teaching methodology.

In a conference the parent will identify his child's learning needs and assist the teacher in immediately developing new goal sequences.
