ABSTRACT

Devoted to data (January 1, 1968-June 30, 1969) on Office of Economic Opportunity and other Federal contracts and grants in the overall training and technical assistance field, this directory alphabetically lists recipient institutions and other organizations. Each item contains the address, length of contract, funding agency, amount granted, and other available information on a given project. Demonstrations and special research, education, health, housing, manpower, urban planning and renewal, youth, communications, community organization and development, economic development, rural development, rehabilitation, and 13 other functional categories are represented. Three indexes are also provided: a listing of items by category and page number; an index of firms and grants according to the granting Federal agency in each case; and a state by state index of recipient organizations. Projects listed are only those which are likely to have significance outside the community in which they operate. (LY)

FORWARD

NACD undertook this Directory through the direct expression of its membership. Time and again the organization was queried for information about who was doing what for various programs. Frequently it was asked to identify various consultant firms or technical assistance groups, or to identify pilot projects or research on a given question. It became all too clear that one of the dilemmas of "people out there" was the problem of identifying the myriad of specialists and consultant firms which were carrying out Federally supported work on the local scene. So in the first instance, this Directory is dedicated to the men and women who work in the variety of human resource and community development programs. NACD not only sympathizes with their difficulties in putting the pieces together but hopes that this Directory will help in some small measure.

As NACD pursued this project it became aware that to unearth what was and is essentially public information was an amazingly difficult task. The Federal agencies ranged from those who were sure there must be a list somewhere to those that said it was an impossible task. NACD, with dozens of Federal officials, the information it needed and the energy for the project qualified. This Directory therefore is also a list of agencies and people who would have liked to have been included but didn't. Without their cooperation in tracking data this Directory would not be possible.

Finally, it is the hope of NACD in presenting the basic data, without prejudice, or comment, that it will be a basis of research for other functional fields are being developed and what organizations are receiving Federal money. By identifying projects already undertaken, it will help avoid unnecessary duplication and development work.

This project was a major undertaking of NACD. I hope the readers of this Directory will agree that it was a worthwhile undertaking.

This Directory therefore is also dedicated to those agencies and people who work in them who should and would have liked to have had this information but didn't. Without their cooperation and interest in tracking data this Directory would, of course, not be possible.

Finally, it is the hope of NACD that by presenting the basic data without qualification, prejudice, or comment, that there will be some basis of research for others. It will show what functional fields are being ignored or overemphasized and what organizations get large amounts of Federal money. By identifying research projects already undertaken, the Directory may also help avoid unnecessary duplication of research and development work.

This project was a major undertaking for NACD. I hope the readers and users of this Directory will agree that it was a worthwhile undertaking.

INTRODUCTION

The National Association for Community Development is a private, non-profit professional organization whose purpose is to stimulate and assist community program development and citizen participation. NACD supports the Nation's effort to conduct programs designed to eliminate poverty. It believes in the total commitment of society's resources to build progressive communities which serve their citizens. NACD supports the Office of Economic Opportunity and other Federal, state, and local governmental programs, private institutional and business community projects, and local community activities, concerned with human, economic and physical development.

The National Association for Community Development has recognized the substantial need for a Directory listing those consulting firms, agencies, and institutions engaged in technical assistance, training, research, and demonstration activities in support of Federal anti-poverty and human resource programs. NACD believes it is important that a comprehensive Directory of such contracts and grants awarded be published.

The Directory should be a valuable resource to the Federal Government, public and private agencies and institutions, and other various users throughout the country. Numerous sources have requested this basic contract information - where our Federal dollars are being allocated for social service assistance.

The Directory contains information about each training and technical assistance, research, demonstration, contract or grant given by the Office of Economic Opportunity and the

(1) It will be a source for local program administrators to know the kinds of innovative projects and programs which have been tested so that they might seek to use the results of those programs in strengthening and improving their own operations.

(2) As indication of the areas of interest and expertise of a wide variety of organizations, institutions and firms which have been engaged in carrying out such activities.

(3) It will be an indication of the amount of resources made available by various Federal departments and agencies in support of anti-poverty and human resource projects of this type, and an identification of the firms which have been receiving these funds.

It should be clear that NACD is not in a position to comment on the quality or capability of any of the organizations listed. The intent of the Directory is simply to provide information on grants, projects, and activities which have been carried out during the time period indicated, and the listings in this Directory should not in any way be taken as an endorsement of any of the organizations listed by NACD.

Questions concerning the Directory including corrections should be addressed to the National Association for Community Development, 1200 Connecticut Avenue, Northwest, S.W., Washington, D. C. 20036.

The National Association for Community Development extends its appreciation to the various officials in the various departments and agencies for their cooperation and information made available.

The original research for the Directory were carried out by Gaffney, Director of the National Association for Community Development. The field work for the Directory were carried out by Fraser, acting as a consultant.

available by various agencies in support of source projects of this kind of the firms which receive funds.

That NACD is not in a position to judge the quality or capability of the firms as listed. The intent of the Directory is to provide information on the organizations and activities which are being carried out during the time periods listed in this Directory. No endorsement is taken as an endorsement of the organizations listed by NACD.

Questions concerning the content of the Directory including corrections or additions should be addressed to the National Association for Community Development, 1424 Sixteenth Street, Northwest, Suite 401, Washington, D. C. 20036.

The National Association for Community Development extends its appreciation to the officials in the various Federal departments and agencies for their assistance in providing the information made available in this Directory.

The original research and design of the Directory were carried out by Mrs. Joan Gaffney, Director of Membership Services, for NACD. The field work and data collection for the Directory were performed by Miss Edie Fraser, acting as a consultant to NACD.

ORGANIZATION OF THE DIRECTORY

The body of the Directory is an alphabetical listing of the institutions, firms and organizations which received grants that are included in this Directory. For each firm the address, length of the contract, the funding agency, the amount of the grant, and other available information about the project is given along with an identification of the nature of the grant within 25 functional categories. At the front of the Directory, there are 3 indices to make it easier to use the contents of the Directory.

The first index lists the firms included in the Directory by functional category and indicates the page number on which the firm will be found. The index will be helpful to users seeking to identify projects or organizations that have done work in a particular functional field, regardless of funding source or location.

The second index contains a listing of the firms and the grants by the Federal agency making the grant. This index will be helpful to the user seeking to identify the way in which a particular agency has utilized its resources or the kinds of projects it has supported.

The third index is a listing of the firms by state in the event the user wishes to identify the firms or organizations having performed work in this field which are located in a specific state. NACD welcomes suggestions or comments on the organization, presentation, and information in this Directory which would improve its usefulness.

ORGANIZATION OF THE DIRECTORY

The Directory is an alphabetical listing of the institutions, firms,
and organizations which received grants included in this Directory. For each entry, the address, length of the contract,
contract number, the amount of the grant,
and other available information about the grant along with an identification number of the grant within 25 functional categories. At the front of the Directory are 3 indices to make it easy to find the contents of the Directory.

The Index lists the firms included in the Directory by functional category and contract number on which the firm is included. The index will be helpful to identify projects or organizations which have done work in a particular category, regardless of funding source.

The Index contains a listing of the grants by the Federal Government. This index will be helpful to the user seeking to identify a particular agency has funded or the kinds of projects supported.

The Index is a listing of the names of the institutions, firms or organizations which have done work in this field which is specific to a state. NACD welcomes comments on the organization,
and information in this Directory
is most useful.
