CREDIT AND FINANCING REPORT

Financing Indian Development

1970

Progress was made during 1970 in financing the development and utilization of Indian-owned resources. Total estimated financing received increased from $382.9 million in 1969 to $437.7 million in 1970. The increase, however, failed to meet even the most urgent needs of the Indians. Their economic development is handicapped by lack of adequate and dependable sources of financing. High interest rates also impeded the financing of some Indian developmental projects.

Estimates of Indian financing needs total more than $1 billion. Most of these needs cannot be met by private lenders unless they are provided some incentive to furnish the financing such as loan guaranty, loan insurance, interest subsidies, etc. The Bureau's revolving fund, which supplies only a minor part of total Indian financing, and from which loans are made only if no other source of financing is available, is currently being operated with repayments on loans previously made and interest accruals. Available funds are grossly inadequate. Commitments and authorizations for submittal of applications issued to the close of the fiscal year, all of which were made subject to the availability of funds, totaled $25.3 million. Cash available was $3.3 million.

Legislation to help remedy the situation was recommended to the 88th, 89th, 90th and 91st Congresses, but failed of enactment. The main features of the pending bills, H. R. 18571, H. R. 18790, and S. 4116 are:

1. Authorization for appropriations of an additional $50 million in the revolving loan fund.
2. Inauguration and establishment of a $200 million loan guaranty and insurance fund.
3. Authorization for interest subsidies of interest payments on guaranteed and insured loans.
4. Authorizations to sell loans made from the Bureau's revolving fund, and to deposit receipts in the revolving fund. The receipts would thus become available for additional loans.

Financing Sources

Indians receive financing from three main sources. (1) Primary emphasis is placed upon financing by the same institutions, both private and governmental, that supply financing to other citizens and their organizations. (2) Tribes and other Indian organizations with funds of their own available are encouraged to use their own funds for financing purposes. (3) A revolving fund for loans authorized by the Congress from which loans are made to Indians and Indian organizations.

The growth in Indian financing over the past five years follows:

The largest increase is in financing by Federal credit agencies, particularly the Economic Development Administration, Farmers Home Administration, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Small Business Administration, and the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Tribal Funds

The amount of tribal funds being used for financing economic development of tribes and their members has doubled during the past five years--from $57.6 million to $117.7 million. Credit and financing operations of some tribes are conducted entirely with tribal funds, i.e., they use their own moneys to make loans to members and associations of members, and to finance tribal industrial, commercial, and agricultural enterprises. Other tribes with limited funds available use their funds to supplement revolving funds borrowed from the United States.

Revolving Fund for Loans

The revolving fund for loans was authorized by four main Acts: (1) The Indian Reorganization Act of June 18, 1934 (48 Stat. 986; 25 U.S.C. 470), as amended and supplemented; (2) the Oklahoma Welfare Act of June 26, 1936 (49 Stat. 1968; 25 U.S.C. 503); (3) the Navajo-Hopi Rehabilitation Act of April 19, 1950 (64 Stat. 44; 25 U.S.C. 631); and the Act of November 4, 1963 (77 Stat. 301; 25 U.S.C. 70n-1), as amended, authorizing loans for expert assistance in connection with the preparation and trial of claims pending before the Indian Claims Commission. The Act of May 24, 1950 (64 Stat. 190; 25 U.S.C. 443), authorized the deposit in the revolving fund of moneys received in settlement of debts of livestock and from the sale of livestock. The livestock involved originated in drouth relief purchases by the Department of Agriculture in 1934 and which were turned over to the Bureau to establish foundation herds for Indians. The livestock were loaned to Indians on a "repayment in kind" basis. A total of $2.8 million was deposited in the revolving fund from livestock settlements.

Funds authorized by the Indian Reorganization Act, supplemented by livestock settlements, are the only moneys in the revolving fund available for loans to Indians and Indian organizations generally. Funds authorized by the Oklahoma Welfare Act are available for loans only in the State of Oklahoma, exclusive of Osage County. Funds authorized by the Navajo-Hopi Rehabilitation Act are available only for loans to the Navajo and Hopi Tribes and their members. Funds authorized for loans for expert assistance may not be used for loans for other purposes.

The authorizations and appropriations made are summarized as follows:

	Authorized	Appropriation	Expended for Adminis- tration 1936- 1961	Appropriation Available for Loans	Authorizations Unappropriated
Indian Reorgani- zation Act	$20,000,000	$19,999,600	$3,093,902	$16,905,698	$400
Oklahoma Welfare Act	2,000,000	2,000,000	612,774	1,387,226	-
Navajo-Hopi Rehabil- itation Act	5,000,000	1,800,000	367,264	1,432,736	3,200,000
Expert Assistance	1,800,000	1,800,000	-	1,800,000	-

Funds made available for loans through the Bureau have never been adequate.

It is estimated that an additional $1 billion will be needed during the next few years. The Administration's proposal to obtain additional loan authorization was submitted to Congress by the Secretary on July 21, 1970.

If enacted the legislation will authorize an increase of $50 million in the revolving loan fund and will establish a revolving loan guaranty and insurance fund of $200 million. In addition to providing a fund for guaranty and insurance the latter will also provide funds for the purchase of such loans.

Pending enactment of the proposed legislation the Bureau's credit program will continue to be directed towards increasing Indian financing from conventional sources including other Federal agencies such as SBA, EDA, HUD, and FHA.

At the time of enactment of the IRA, few Indians were able to obtain financing from conventional sources, either governmental or private. Indians were practically unknown to customary lenders, and the lenders were largely unknown to the Indians. Many started in productive enterprises with revolving fund loans, gradually progressed to the point where conventional lenders could be interested in financing them. Information on conventional financing was obtained for the first time in 1951, and showed a total volume at that time of slightly over $20 million. The growth to an estimated $294.2 million in 1970 would not have been possible if the revolving fund had not been available to get them started. Loans from the revolving fund involve high risk-- more than the ordinary lender could tolerate. With appropriations of $21.5 million available for loans, the revolving feature has permitted total loans of $68.9 million to be made. Loans receivable at June 30, 1970, were $25.7 million.

The average interest rate on outstanding loans was 3.8 percent. Many of the outstanding loans were made years ago when interest rates were lower than they are at the present time. Changes may not be made unilaterally in the outstanding loan agreement contracts.

Cash Balance. The cash balance at the close of the fiscal year was $3,259,960.67 compared with $3,126,960.67 in 1969. The increase is broken down as follows:

Oklahoma Fund	(97,612.76)
Navajo-Hopi Fund	(122,900.00)
Expert Assistance Fund	(49,522.10)
	133,186.12

Loans Receivable. Loans receivable at the close of the fiscal year totaled $25,737,231.05 compared with $25,227,574.70 in 1969.

Allowance for Losses. The allowance for losses was increased from $2,305,665 in 1969 to $2,554,802 in 1970. A comparative statement by Areas follows:

The increase in the Juneau Area was mainly on loans to four village associations for the operation of salmon canneries and allied activities.

Use Made of Tribal and Revolving Funds

Loans are made by the United States to tribes and bands to enable them to make loans to their members and associations of members, and to finance tribal enterprises. Tribal funds may be used for the same purposes. Cooperative credit associations may receive loans of revolving funds from the United States if their members are not eligible for loans from tribes and bands. The funds may be reloaned to other members. Both revolving funds and tribal funds in the hands of organizations revolve, i.e., repayments on loans and interest earnings may be used for additional loans. Cooperative associations may receive loans from the United States if members of the associations are ineligible for loans from tribes and bands. Individual Indians of at least one-quarter degree of Indian blood are eligible for loans of revolving credit funds direct from the United States, if they are not eligible for loans from a credit association, or if the tribe or band in which they are members is not conducting credit operations.

Extensions of repayment terms were approved on 5.30 percent of due payments compared with 5.38 percent in 1969; cancellations were 2.42 percent, and delinquencies were 3.64 percent compared with 4.23 percent in 1969.

The purposes for which loans were made improved during 1970. At the close of 1969, 19.27 percent of the amount of all loans to individuals was used for purchases of non-recoverable items. At the close of 1970, the percentage was 18.94. Refinancing decreased from 15.68 percent in 1969 to 15.32 percent in 1970. Far too many small loans continue to be made. Re-emphasis is necessary on the desirability of concentrating on productive type rehabilitation loans. Nearly 51 percent of the total number were for $500 or less. Most loans to individuals continue to be for agricultural purposes, and re-emphasis is necessary on small business loans. Full-blood Indians have received nearly 60 percent of the loans made, and over 50 percent of the total amount loaned.

Educational Loans. An additional 119 loans totaling $78,132.92 were made for educational purposes in 1970 compared with 78 totaling $94,579.85 in 1969. There were 480 loans of $419,904.75 outstanding compared with 440 of $366,569.71 in 1969. A total of 212 of the outstanding loans were delinquent in payments totaling $105,823.59 or 25.20 percent. This is an improvement over 1969 when 221 loans were delinquent in payments totaling $133,640.13 or 36.45 percent.

Cooperative Loans. Loans totaling $3,199,834.86 have been made to cooperative associations. The record follows:

Total loans		$3,199,834.86
Not advanced	$23,000.00
Repaid	1,990,629.65
Cancelled	34,013.80	2,047,643.45
		1,152,191.41

Most Indian-owned cattle are individually owned but are operated cooperatively. Arts and crafts products in Alaska are marketed cooperatively. Some of the Native village stores in Alaska are organized on a cooperative basis, others on a tribal basis. Purchases for all Native stores are handled through a central cooperative purchasing association.

Tribal Enterprises. Loans and investments of tribal funds in enterprises totaled $137,323,135.04 at the close of the year. The record follows:

Total loans and investments		$137,323,135.04
Repaid	$25,337,424.14
Cancelled	2,491,463.83	27,828,887.97
Balance		109,494,247.07

The balance is composed of the following:

Balance on unpaid loans		$23,143,485.65
Tribal funds invested		51,540,189.24
Net worth	$37,120,296.00
Deficits	2,309,723.82	34,810,572.18
		109,494,247.07

Cash Available for Continuance of Operations. Tribes, bands, and credit associations had $4,330,625.82 cash on hand to enable them to continue to make loans to their members at the close of the fiscal year. Cooperatives were carrying $2,002,493.77 cash and tribal enterprises were carrying $10,907,853.82.
