ABSTRACT

This course of study was written as part of a total effort to revise curriculum to fit the quinmester (five 9-week periods) administrative organization of the Dade County Schools. The major intent of this publication is to provide a broad framework of goals and objectives, content, teaching strategies, class activities, and materials all related to the described course of study: music and art history. The course is described as one which makes use of audio visual materials in a study of art and music through the ages. It is designed for students interested in the arts but are not necessarily art students. Emphasis is on the ways art and music reflect the society of the artist through his perceptions; students explore attitudes and values of different periods in the western world. The guide is divided into a broad goals section, a content outline, objectives and learning activities, and materials. Some of the goals are the enabling of students to distinguish selected periods of art and to analyze art as an expression of social existence. The eight units, one for each broad goal, are outlined in column which indicate specific topics, behavioral objectives, learning activities, and references to materials, e.g., texts, films, slides. Recommended materials, supplemental public resources, and alternative student and class materials are listed in a final resource section. Related documents are: SO 002 708 through SO 002 718, and SO 002 768 through SO 002 792. (Author/DJB)

INTRODUCTION

This course of study was written as a part of a total effort to revise curriculum to fit the quinmester administrative organization of schools. The materials and information in this guide are meant to be neither all-inclusive nor prescriptive; but rather, an aide to teachers as they plan instructional programs, taking into account student needs and characteristics, available resources, and other factors.

The major intent of this publication is to provide a broad framework of goals and objectives, content, teaching strategies, class activities, and materials all related to a described course of study. Teachers may then accept the model framework in total or draw ideas from it to incorporate into their lessons.

The guide is divided into 1) a broad goals section, 2) a content outline, 3) objectives and learning activities, and 4) materials. The first section provides descriptive and goal-oriented information for the teacher; "indicators of success" refers to suggested prerequisite or corequisite experiences. The content outline illustrates, in general terms, the scope and major subdivisions of the course. The objectives and learning activities section, hopefully, provides a total picture of the concept or main idea and specific behavioral objectives for a set of given learning activities. The materials section of the guide lists resources in four categories: essential textual or other material; alternate classroom materials to use in place of or in addition to the aforementioned; supplementary teacher resources; and supplementary student resources. The appendix may include other material appropriate for a specific course: e.g., pretests, readings, vocabulary, etc.

Anyone having recommendations relating to this publication is urged to write them down and send to : Social Studies Office, Room 306, Lindsey Hopkins, A-1.

GOAL 1: THE STUDENT WILL DESCRIBE THE DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS OF SELECTED PERIODS OF ART.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
MAN'S ARTISTIC PAST CAN BE CATEGORIZED INTO PERIODS WITH COMMON CHARACTERISTICS.	The student will describe the distinguishing characteristics of selected periods of art.	1. Through research, have each student describe the basic characteristics of: Classical Greek Art, Medieval Art, Renaissance Art, Baroque and Rococo Art, Romantic and Realistic Music & Art, Impressionistic, Surrealism, Jazz, Blues, Rock Music. (Class discussions can be used to clarify the distinguishing traits of each type.) Then have them follow-up their findings by indentifying other examples of their period in the following slides, films, or music: slides: Art Reproductions 5-20035 The Bathaus 5-20200 films: The Art Institute of Chicago 1-05428 The Louvre 1-40123 music: "Scheherzade" - Rimsky-Korsakov "Afternoon of a Faun" - Debussy "Don Quixote" - Straus "Appalachian Spring" - Copland "The Rite of Spring" - Stravinsky
		3. Using only the book sources, have the student groups select what they think would be typical examples of art or music from each period. Have a second panel contrast and distinguish the changes from one period of art to another (changes in style, what was represented, themes...)

2: THE STUDENT WILL DESCRIBE HOW SELECTED SOCIAL FORCES ARE REFLECTED IN THE ART OF GIVEN PERIODS.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
SOCIAL, INTELLECTUAL, POLITICAL AND RELIGIOUS FORCES OF EACH PERIOD ARE REFLECTED IN ITS ART.	The student will describe how selected social forces are reflected in the art of given periods.	1. Teacher will discuss with students the general nature of ancient Greek society, law, and philosophy. Then have the students view film(s) and cite art examples which illustrate the particular aspects of Greek society discussed. Students justify choices. 3. Invite an art historian to discuss: The paradox of how an artist must to some extent reflect the society in which he lives in his work, but possibly not have his work accepted by that society.
Sources: Teachers in the art and music department at Miami Dade Junior College, Barry College, Biscayne College, University of Miami, Directors of Bass, Lowe or Miami Art Center.
4. Visit the Lowe, Miami Art Center, Bass Museum, or Galleries in the Grove. Discuss what contemporary art says about our times. What are the inspirations or ideas behind current movements in art?
5. Have the class collect or create art forms which in some way depict the events of this past year. These can be made for a "tine" capsule that will be opened by a school art class in the future (coming year?).
6. Discuss: What will the artist of 2001 paint? or what kind of music will be made? Why? How? Why is your answer only partially correct?

4: THE STUDENT WILL DESCRIBE HOW SOCIETAL FORCES AFFECT THE WORKS OF SELECTED ARTISTS.

FOCUS

THE TIMES IN WHICH AN ARTIST WORKS MODIFY BOTH THE MAN AND HIS WORKS.

OBJECTIVE

The student will describe how societal forces affect the work of selected artists.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

1. For the following artists and musicians have the students do research in order to describe: What were their personalities like? What were their values, beliefs? What did they paint or compose about? What distinguished their personalities and work from others? What were the major events in their lives? How did they become artists? Did they marry? What else could they do? (NOTE: It might be practical to divide these questions among the students while viewing films)
2. Compare artists and musicians of same period. What were differences in the "ideas" expressed? What might have attributed to these differences?
3. Compare artists of two different periods. How did they express similar things differently? Select works which best show their personality.

View The Vatican, part 1 #1-31737 and The Vatican, part 2 #1-31738 Write a brief essay on the different art forms which expressed religious purposes, how these religious purposes changed, how religious expression through painting changed. List as many religious "symbols" as possible and their purpose.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
MAGIC IS A BASIC AND HISTORICALLY COMMON PURPOSE FOR ARTISTIC ENDEAVORS.		4. After research have students create an object (with some authenticity) for magical purposes. Use natural materials mostly (coconuts, feathers, shells...) Examples: African or Chinese mark to ward of evil spirits Totem poles Idols Cave drawings Students should be able to offer some explanation as to the causes of the beliefs in magic.
SOCIAL CRITICISM AND COMMENTARY IS BASIC AND HISTORICALLY COMMON PURPOSE FOR ARTISTIC ENDEAVORS.		5. Using an opaque projector view the social criticisms in Hogarth to Cruikshank: Social Change in Graphic Satire. Select those which would be applicable today. NOTE: This book should be previewed by teacher first for a clear understanding of satires involved.
		6. Discuss some of the absurdities found in today's world. Collect cartoons, pictures or music examples which illustrate these absurdities. Variation: Draw cartoons or caption pictures which illustrate or satirize today's times.
		7. Have the class take a current issue and make a propaganda collage. For example: Collect magazine pictures that would criticize for or against a current issue (such as the Vietnam war). Have the class Glue these to masonite board.
		8. Have the class collect and listen to the lyrics of current folk and rock tunes. Discuss: What is it about the music as well as the lyrics that reflects today's times.

L 7: THE STUDENT WILL PROPOSE HYPOTHESES ABOUT THE RELATIONSHIPS BETWEEN ART AND MAN.

STUDENT ANALYSIS OF RELATIONSHIPS.

OBJECTIVE

The student will propose hypotheses about the relationships between art and man.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

1. Listen to recordings of Glenn Miller, Tommy Dorsey or any band music of the 1940's or earlier (and/or view any early paintings - e.g. Italian, Renaissance). Discuss: Why is this art no longer popular? What makes art popular? Could different things at different times make art popular?
2. View art slides (e.g. Art Reproductions #1-05428) and for each slide ask these questions of the class: In what way did the artist want to involve the viewer? As a participant? An observer? Empathetically? Intellectually? Emotionally?...
3. View the movie The Louvre and/or listen to selections of Bach, Wagner, Mozart or Brahms. Discuss: Why do you think these art forms have lasted through history? Is there a common element in art forms which makes them lasting? What are things that could be the same/different in our society to the society in which these art forms were created? Would this bear an influence as to the appreciation of these art forms?
Alternate Source: Art Institute of Chicago #1-05428
4. Invite an artist, college art student, art critic, art historian to lecture and discuss: What are the pressures upon the artist? (social, personal, governmental)
NOTE: Artists from Miami Dade Junior College, University of Miami, Barry College, or any of the local art societies might volunteer. (Opera Guild of Greater Miami 377-8481, Greater Miami Cultural Arts Center 374-6838)
5. Invite school personnel (e.g. Assistant Principal of Curriculum, art teacher, an art student) to discuss:

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

5. (cont.) Does artistic creativity improve the individual/society? How?
Additional source: Cultural Role of Art in Education: The Children #5-20201
6. Invite a person who is interested in art and who has traveled to discuss: Does art exist in all societies? Does it exist in different societies? Why? Could a society have more artistic creativity at one time than in another? Why? Possible source of lecturers: universities, art and historical societies, parents, travel agency personnel.
7. Have class volunteers whistle or sing any current song. Would your parents/grandparents know this song? If not, why not? Why don't they listen to these songs? Do you/they understand and appreciate what the song is about? Why or why not?
8. Ask the students to bring in something that is, quote "beautiful" - painting, object or record. Discussion: What is beauty? Why do you think so? Will your art piece be beautiful 50 years from now? Why or why not? What are some factors which influence our idea of beauty?
Variation: Have newspaper art critic or museum art director discuss same topic. (Bass Museum, Lowe, Miami Modern Art Museum)
9. Have students select any two pictures they like. Then have them tell class what the picture is trying to express. (This could be essay, poems or song). Ask them to suggest ways in which their selection is evidence of relationships between man and art.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
(cont.)		10. Through individual research have the students select pictures which involve the viewer in some manner. The students will explain how and why they thought the viewer was "involved." Sources: Dutch, English, Flemish, French, Russian Schools #5-0003 German, Italian, Mexican, Spanish Schools #5-40001 The Bathaus #5-20200
STUDENT EXPRESSION OF RELATIONSHIPS.		11. Using any art materials which would be practical for one or two sittings, have the students "create" something, anything whatsoever they desire. Possible materials: paper mache, string or water-color painting, wire sculpture, ind/crayon/pencil, and/or charcoal drawing, collage, colored paper paste-up. Have students decide on materials needed the day before exercise. Follow up exercise: Have the student write, then discuss: "Why did you create this? Does your art work show anything about your personality? Does it have anything to do with anyone else? Did you create in some particular way because of the people who were to see it? Is the idea totally yours? Does it express any common thoughts or ideas of today? If a class 50 or 100 years ago were given the same exercise and questions would the result be the same? Why or why not?"
NECESSITY OF ART.		12. Imaginative students could describe what the world would be without art and music.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
ART IS A REFLECTION OF THE CULTURE THAT CREATES IT. SOME ART IS AN EXPRESSION OF THE CONCEPT OF LOVE.	The student will analyze art as an expression of social existence.	1. Read and view selections of Love and Marriage. Answer: In what ways have love and marriage been different? What were possible reasons for the various concepts of love and marriage? What were possible causes of change in these concepts? Source: Love and Marriage (Man through his Art series)
		2. Divide the class into two groups. Have one group draw or paint what they think love and marriage means and is like today. Have the other group illustrate what they think love and marriage should be. Collect results and discuss similarities and differences.
SOME ART IS A RESULT OF WAR AND PEACE.		3. Invite one of the school's musical groups (band, chorus, combo) to perform a medley of love songs. Request performance of at least one song for every ten years since 1900. Discuss: What were similarities and differences in the lyrical ideas of love? In what ways did the music change? What could be possible causes for the changes in both lyrics and music? Would the music of 1900-20 be a reflection of today? Why not? Variation: A group of students could collect and record such a medley on tape. Research on the changing ideas of love and marriage through parents, grandparents... could be made prior to playing the tape to class. The group could discuss how certain songs illustrated what was found in their research. 4. After research "recreate," by play acting and making paper mache figures, the nature of knighthood, fighting, soldiers and war in medieval times. This could also be done by a mural.
