ABSTRACT

This study of the effort and failures to maintain world peace in this century is intended as an elective, quinmester course for grades 7 through 9. It encompasses the concept of nationalism and the role it plays in the decisions that lead to war, and organizations that have tried and are trying to preserve or bring about peace. Among other goals for the course are for the student to: 1) assess his own attitudes and beliefs concerning peace and generalize about the nature of war; 2) examine the social, political, and economic reasons for war; 3) analyze breakdowns in world peace in this century and the resultant human problems; 4) investigate and suggest alternatives to war as a means of settling conflict; and, 5) describe ways and means an individual can work for peace. The guide itself is divided into a broad goals section, a content outline, objectives and learning activities, and teacher/student materials. Learning activities are highly varied and are closely tied with course objectives. Materials include basic texts, pamphlets, records, and filmstrips. Related documents are: SO 002 708 through SO 002 718, SO 002 768 through SO 002 792, and SO 002 947 through SO 002 970.

INTRODUCTION

This course of study was written as a part of a total effort to revise curriculum to fit the quinmester administrative organization of schools. The materials and information in this guide are meant to be neither all-inclusive nor prescriptive; but rather, an aide to teachers as they plan instructional programs, taking into account student needs and characteristics, available resources, and other factors.

The major intent of this publication is to provide a broad framework of goals and objectives, content, teaching strategies, class activities, and materials all related to a described course of study. Teachers may then accept the model framework in total or draw ideas from it to incorporate into their lessons.

The guide is divided into 1) a broad goals section, 2) a content outline, 3) objectives and learning activities, and 4) materials. The first section provides descriptive and goal-oriented information for the teacher; "indicators of success" refers to suggested prerequisite or corequisite experiences. The content outline illustrates, in general terms, the scope and major subdivisions of the course. The objectives and learning activities section, hopefully, provides a total picture of the concept or main idea and specific behavioral objectives for a set of given learning activities. The materials section of the guide lists resources in four categories: essential textual or other material; alternate classroom materials to use in place of or in addition to the aforementioned; supplementary teacher resources; and supplementary student resources. The appendix may include other material appropriate for a specific course: e.g., pretests, readings, vocabulary, etc.

Anyone having recommendations relating to this publication is urged to write them down and send to : Social Studies Office, Room 306, Lindsey Hopkins, A-1.

COURSE DESCRIPTION: [A STUDY OF THE EFFORTS AND FAILURES TO MAINTAIN WORLD PEACE IN THIS CENTURY. ENCOMPASSES THE CONCEPT OF NATIONALISM AND THE ROLE IT PLAYS IN THE DECISIONS THAT LEAD TO WAR, AND ORGANIZATIONS THAT HAVE TRIED AND ARE TRYING TO PRESERVE OR BRING ABOUT PEACE.]

CLUSTER: WORLD STUDIES

GRADE LEVEL: [7-9]

COURSE STATUS: [ELECTIVE]

INDICATORS OF SUCCESS: NONE

COURSE RATIONALE: "We ain't gonna study war no more..." is part of a song sung by many people around the world. Nations are tired of war and want to get to the business of living, not of dying.
Norman Cousins tells us..."people are not educated to wage peace, that we are not prepared educationally, emotionally and spiritually for the important job that faces us, which is how to create a lasting design for peace." He further states..."war is an invention of the human mind" and "the human mind can and must invent peace with justice."
It behooves educators to get on with the job of educating "emotionally and spiritually" the young people for the greatest challenge facing them: the business of PEACE.

COURSE GOALS:

1. THE STUDENT WILL CRITICALLY ASSESS HIS OWN ATTITUDES AND BELIEFS CONCERNING PEACE AND GENERALIZE ABOUT THE NATURE OF WAR.
2. THE STUDENT WILL INVESTIGATE AND ASSESS THE COMMUNICATIONS MEDIA AND ITS ROLE IN EDUCATING FOR PEACE.
3. THE STUDENT WILL EXAMINE THE SOCIAL, POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC REASONS FOR WAR.
4. BASED ON RESEARCH, THE STUDENT WILL ANALYZE BREAKDOWNS IN WORLD PEACE IN THIS CENTURY AND THE RESULTANT HUMAN PROBLEMS.
5. THE STUDENT WILL INVESTIGATE INTERNATIONAL AND NATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS WHICH ARE ENGAGED IN PEACE-KEEPING OR PEACE EDUCATION ENDEAVORS AND ASSESS THEIR EFFECTIVENESS.
6. THE STUDENT WILL INVESTIGATE AND SUGGEST ALTERNATIVES TO WAR AS A MEANS OF SETTLING CONFLICT.
7. THE STUDENT WILL DESCRIBE WAYS AND MEANS AN INDIVIDUAL CAN WORK FOR PEACE.

 - C. Others

GOAL: THE STUDENT WILL CRITICALLY ASSESS HIS OWN ATTITUDES AND BELIEFS CONCERNING PEACE AND GENERALIZE ABOUT THE NATURE OF WAR.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
INTRODUCTION		1. The student will know the following words and terms: (ask each student to keep an on-going glossary to be part of his PEACE NOTEBOOK) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. war b. peace c. pacifist d. aggression e. conscientious objector f. conflict g. dispute h. instinctive behavior
STUDENT'S ATTITUDES RE: INTER-PERSONAL RELATIONS.	A. The student will critically assess his own attitudes and beliefs concerning peace and generalize about the nature of war.	2. The teacher will give the following on-going assignments that will be utilized during the nine weeks: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. The student will collect cartoons dealing with war and peace. b. The student will collect newspaper and magazine articles dealing with areas of conflict in the world today. c. The student will be collecting bibliographical sketches of individuals and organizations working for peace. d. The student will compile a list of movies and songs and literature dealing with peace. e. Any other items or materials the teacher believes will add to the quality of the Quin. 1. The student will be asked to react to the following questions (orally or by essay): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. How are disputes settled in your family? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (1) between children (2) between parents b. How are disputes settled between friends-in and out of school? c. How are conflicts resolved between you and an adult in authority? d. Were you ever angry enough to use violence as a means of settling a dispute? Can you recall the incident? e. Do you condone the use of force as a means of settling a dispute? f. Did you ever act as peacemaker?

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
	A. (cont.)	1. (cont.) The students should be encouraged to exchange their feelings and ideas in an informal manner. 2. General class discussion: "What could be some of the consequences if families could not resolve their conflict peacefully?" "What are the means available to families and people in general to help solve conflict?" 3. Ask the student: "How do you react when you see violence being used as a means of settling disputes in a T.V. show, in a novel, in a movie, in the news, and between nations of the world?" "Did you enjoy playing with guns or weapons when you were a child? Do you enjoy war movies today?" 4. The teacher will read the following: "Peace, it's wonderful. And rare. So rare, in fact, that since the beginning of recorded history, the world has only been at peace about 8% of the time. That would be 286 out of the last 3,525 years." (from Minutes, Feb. 1969) Class discussion where students will be encouraged to react to quotation and exchange their ideas openly about the history of man and his failure to live in peace with his fellow man.
THE NATURE OF AGGRESSION.	B. The student will formulate a hypothesis as to why nations go to war.	1. The student will formulate a hypothesis on the topic: "Why Nations Go to War." The student will present his findings based on research to substantiate or negate his hypothesis near the end of the Quin. 2. General discussion: "Why war? Is conflict built into man's very nature? Is aggression an in-born quality or is aggression learned? Men say they yearn for peace, but still the killing goes on. Why?"

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
IN SOME CULTURES . PEOPLE HAVE NOT LEARNED AGGRESSIVE BEHAVIOR PATTERNS.	C. The student will assess the impact different cultural traits have on the nature of man's behavior.	1. The students may want to research such people as the Zuni who are and have always been a peaceful people. There are no wars in their folklore and myths. They have avoided war - why? The student will consider some of the social practices of the Zuni in order to determine if they have an effect on their behavior and contribute to their peaceful nature: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. sharing is part of their everyday life b. children are never whipped or physically punished c. children are taught at an early age not to strike or bully one another d. Zuni leaders make it a point not to control others e. competition is not their way of life 2. The student may observe that the Zuni's are a unique people. According to Dr. David P. McAllester, professor of Anthropology at Wesleyan University, they are not so unique. According to him, the Eskimos have long been peaceful. In fact their language has no word for "war." Pygmies and Bushmen also live in peace among themselves and with their neighbors. To continue the trend of thinking, the teacher will ask: "If some men live in peace, why can't all? What accounts for man's long history of warfare?" The teacher may suggest examples of people living in peace but becoming war-like because of conditions. (Great Plains Indians) and suggest that man can be greatly influenced by outside conditions. The students may want to give examples of people surrounded with one set of circumstances living in peace, but who, when surrounded by another set of negative circumstances, become aggressive.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
STUDENT'S ATTITUDES RE: PROBLEMS OF PEACE.	D. The student will record personal reactions at this time in order to use as basis for evaluation of his attitudes at end of quin.	3. Panel Discussion or Debate: "Because man is not instinctively aggressive - he will find new approaches in his behavior and work for permanent peace on earth." To be used with this portion of the quin: Read magazine (AEP) Dec. 15, 1968 Peace and War by Tom Galt (for reference) NOTE: It is highly recommended that the teacher have To End War by Robert Pickus and Robert Waite Third Ed. (A bibliography of ideas, books, and organizations dedicated to ending war; contains an extensive set of resources for practical action. World Without War Pub. from Social Studies Service, Culver City, California) The student will write his personal reactions to the following quotes and retain them to the end of the quin in order to determine if his feelings and understandings have changed: "I prefer the most unfair peace to the most righteous war." Marcus Tullius Cicero 104-43 B.C. Roman orator and statesman "Wars occur because people prepare for conflict, rather than for peace." Trygve Lie, Norwegian, First Sec. General to United Nations, 1947 "Since wars begin in the minds of men, it is in the minds of men that the defenses of peace must be contracted." Constitution of UNESCO of United Nations

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
NOTE TO TEACHER: . Several of the organizations listed in this activity (E.I.) may not agree with the philosophy of the school and/or the community.	E. The student will en- gage in activities that will enrich his understanding of peace efforts and the problems of peace.	1. The students will write to one or more of the follow- ing organizations in order to receive materials and information that will help them in this quin. (On- going assignment) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. American Friends Service Committee b. Catholic Peace Fellowship c. Central Comm. for Conscientious Objectors d. Committee for Non-Violent Action e. Comm. of Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam f. Common Cause g. Fellowship of Reconciliation h. Jewish Peace Fellowship i. Mennonite Central Comm. j. War Resisters League k. Women's Strike for Peace l. Another Mother for Peace m. World Federalist, U.S. n. World Law Fund o. League of Women Voters p. S.A.W.E. q. Internationasl Conciliation (Carnegie Endowment for Int. Peace) r. Promoting Enduring Peace, Inc. s. Canadian Peace Research Institute NOTE: Addresses will be in appendix of the quin. 2. The teacher will assign an on-going research project dealing with conditions in the world today that are detrimental to world order and world peace. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. The world problem of population...too rapid an increase in numbers in a world, parts of which are already crowded and unprepared in skills and resources. If population increase outruns production increase, mankind is in for for more poverty and suffering...eventually leading to conflict.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

E. (cont.)

2. (cont.)

- b. Militarism and military build-ups. The arms race can be a road to war. Military spending takes from other areas of human needs.
- c. Lack of understanding of different economic and political systems. Clash of ideologies.
- d. Unfair trade practices. Restrictive trade barriers which could lead to animosity between nations.
- e. Scramble for world resources.
- f. Imperialism
- g. Nationalism
- h. others

The students will give specific examples in their reports illustrating that circumstances surrounding people can lead to either peaceful or aggressive behavior (war).

3.

The teacher will read the following excerpt from a Vietnamese Children's song:

The enemy's name is cruelty
 The enemy's name is no conscience
 Its name is hatred; its name is bitterness
 It's a group of phantoms....
 Clergy and Laymen Concerned about Vietnam

The students should share their thoughts and feelings after listening to the poem. The following question should be asked:

- a. What does the word "enemy" mean to the Vietnamese children?
- b. How does a child make a judgment about the "right" or "wrong" of wars?

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
F. The student will make a judgment about his personal feelings about "agitators" for peace.	1. The student will assess his personal attitudes on the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. draft resisters who leave the country b. conscientious objectors who refuse to fight c. Veterans who throw their medals away d. the burning of draft cards by young men e. pacifists who believe that no human being has the right to take another's life f. individuals who burn draft records g. individuals who counsel young men to resist the draft h. individuals who refuse to pay taxes for war i. individuals who agitate against war After completing his personal inventory, the student will conduct the same attitude poll on friends and neighbors and compare his views with others. 2. The student will answer the following: "Which of the above actions would I personally commit myself to?"

GOAL: THE STUDENT WILL INVESTIGATE AND ASSESS THE COMMUNICATIONS MEDIA AND ITS ROLE IN EDUCATING FOR PEACE.

FOCUS

THE MEDIA HAS A TREMENDOUS IMPACT ON THE SHAPING OF PUBLIC OPINION.

OBJECTIVE

A. The student will assess what influence the media has on his thinking.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

1. The student should know the following words and terms:
 - propaganda communication media
 - bias objective subjective
 - emotive connotative

2. General discussion: What part of our culture has influenced you most in your thinking about war and peace? How has this been done? Which medium has the greater impact on your thinking? Why?

3. The teacher will ask: What is your understanding of - pacifist, conscientious objector, peace agitator?

In what way has the media contributed to your understanding of these terms? Has the media helped the peace movement (or those engaged in the movement) or has it hindered them? Are any of the media biased?

4. After research, the student will assess the role of (and influence of) T.V., newspapers and other media in shaping public opinion concerning:
 - a. war in Vietnam
 - b. conflict in Middle East
 - c. civil war in Nigeria (Biafra)
 - d. war in Korea
 - e. World War I and II
 - f. others

The student will be encouraged to cite specific articles or reports (or radio and T.V. programs)

5. The student will watch T.V. news (evening) for one week. (as many channels as possible)

The student will evaluate and judge each program in light of the following:

A. (cont.)

B. The student will analyze war reporting.

TYPES OF PROPAGANDA
RE: WAR AND PEACE
ARE PART OF OUR CULTURE.

5. (cont.)

- a. Manner of presentation
- b. use of emotive words
- c. impact on audience

1. The students will make a judgment as to the reporting of the war in Vietnam (Laos and Cambodia). Do the scenes depicted underscore the pointlessness and brutality of war or the glory of war?

2. The student will keep a record of the number of propaganda methods during one week that he is exposed to, overtly, or subliminally:

FOR MILITARISM

- a. Posters in Post Office for Armed Services
- b. Spot announcements on T.V. for R.O.T.C. or volunteer army
- c. Songs, slogans, books, etc.

For Peace

- a. Songs
- b. Posters
- c. Spot announcements
- d. Statements by politicians
- f. etc.

The student will make a judgment as to whether he was more exposed to peace or war propaganda.

C. The student will become acquainted with literature and songs dealing with war and peace. Would they both appeal to the same audience?

- 1. The students will bring to class and share: Songs and poems of Peace, examples: Where Have All the Flowers Gone?, All I Am Saying is Give Peace a Chance, Aquarius, and others.
- 2. The teacher will play the record: Poets for Peace (Galaxy of 18 poets and writers) by Fellowship of Reconciliation.

C. (cont.)

2. (cont.)
The students will discuss and analyze the poems.
Pertinent questions:
 - a. What are some of the common beliefs shared by these poets?
 - b. In what ways are the poems different (similar) to the songs?

3. Students will write their own poetry and song lyrics on Peace, share with the class and keep in their Peace Notebooks, or compile an anthology to be placed in the school library.

4. Using Poetry, USA (Scholastic Book Services) Teacher's edition, the teacher will refer to pages 15-17 entitled "War Poems, Group Four" and read several poems. Follow-up discussion: Are these poems educating for peace?

5. The teacher may assign two books for reading:
The Red Badge of Courage by Stephen Crane
Johnny Got His Gun by Dalton Trumbo
 - a. The students will compare and contrast the attitudes of the main characters regarding war and peace.
 - b. They will compare and contrast the weapons and brutality of war in the two books.
 - c. Compare and contrast the techniques used by the author to communicate his message about war.

General Discussion (after books have been read):
How did the books influence your thinking about war and peace?

6. Many American authors have written about peace. The student will comment on the following quotes:

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
	C. (cont.)	6. (cont.) a. "I am not one of those who believes that devotion to international aims interferes with love of country any more than devotion to family detracts from good citizenship, rather...the duties of family, nation and humanity are but concentric circles." Jane Addams b. "We cannot long survive spiritually separate in a world that is geographically together." Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. c. "War is an invention of the human mind. The human mind can invent peace with justice." Norman Cousins 1953 "Who Speaks for Man?" The above quotes could be contrasted both in content and author.
D. The student will generalize about the peace consciousness of those around him.	1.	Students can collect symbols which have been used throughout history to stand for peace. They should research the history of the symbols and share their findings with class. Perhaps a bulletin board could be utilized for exhibition and write-up of the peace symbols. For example: the present peace sign is traced to the English philosopher Bertrand Russell who actively sought nuclear disarmament. He used the symbol in antiwar marches in England. According to the Chicago Tribune, research suggests that the symbol is made up of semaphore letters used by ships at sea. The semaphore letters "N" and "D" or upside-down "U" and "D" are said to stand for nuclear disarmament or unilateral disarmament. Other peace symbols could be researched such as the white dove of peace, the "V" sign, the flower with the words: "war is not healthy for

2. The students can take a count of the number of persons they meet in a week's time who wear one of the symbols for peace.
3. They may want to examine the attitudes of those wearing the peace symbols.
4. The student will design his own peace symbols or draw anti-war cartoons.
5. The student will make a survey of the books on the subject of peace in his school and local public libraries. (Same on number of books glorifying wars)
How does the student feel about the materials available? Should the class make recommendations to the librarian?
6. The student will write his reaction to the following statement: "There is no question that if the owners and editors and reporters of the press of the world decided to use their powers to establish peace, they could do it."
F.J. Libby
American Pacifist
The class could share their reactions.
7. The student will identify the author and source of the following:

GOAL: THE STUDENT WILL EXAMINE THE SOCIAL, POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC REASONS FOR WAR.

FOCUS

MULTIPLE CAUSATION OF WAR.

OBJECTIVE

A. The student will examine the economic, political and social reasons for war.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

1. The student will know the meaning of the following:
 nationalism imperialism
 trade barriers poverty have-not nation developing nation revolution rising expectations
 illiteracy have-nation

The student will continue to add words to his glossary for his Peace Notebook.

2. The teacher will divide the class into three groups. One group will research the social reasons for war; another group the political; and the third, the economic.

For example:

Social

fear distrust prejudice anger confusion differences in customs religious greed

Political

ideologies
 power boundaries nationalism spheres of influence
 balance of power

Economic

trade (rivals)
 ideologies
 search for raw materials or markets profits

The groups should be encouraged to apply the reasons to specific conflicts.

PEOPLE NEED TO BE EDUCATED TO MAKE PEACE.

3. The teacher will read the following quote: "The American people are not educated to wage peace. We are prepared educationally emotionally, spiritually - for the important job that faces us, which is how to create a lasting design for peace. We haven't been taught the basic principles by which peace can be created; we really haven't been educated to the most important job in the history of the world."
 Norman Cousins

The student will be encouraged to give his opinions of the quote. Does he agree or disagree with Mr. Cousins? Why or why not?

If the student agrees with Mr. Cousins, then ask: Where does the blame lie? With the family? the school? the Church or synagogue? Mass media?

What can be done to educate for peace? Whose responsibility is it?

4. The students, as a class or in groups, should give specific examples of how children can be educated for peace.

The students will suggest specific ways children around the world can be educated for peace. (should this responsibility be left to individual governments or is an international organization needed to promote this educational endeavor for peace?)

B. The student will generalize about the economic conditions of the different nations of the world.

1. The teacher will write the following quote on the board:

"I have said and would like to repeat that the present division of the world into rich countries and poor countries is, in my opinion, much more real and much more serious and ultimately much more explosive than the division of the world on ideological grounds." U Thant, Sec. Gen. of the United Nations

(Students will copy and put in Peace Notebook)

Questions: What is U Thant saying?

How can the gap between the rich and poor nations be narrowed?

2. The students will show visually by the use of a world map the (a) distribution of population (b) the have-nations (c) the have-not nations (d) natural

THE GAP BETWEEN

The student can refer to The Challenge of a Decade (United Nations booklet) for background information or use information the class has received from the organizations they have written to for materials.

D. The student will analyze the effects of nationalism.

1. The teacher will introduce the terms nation and nationalism to the class. Class discussion: "What is a nation?" "What makes people feel they belong together as a nation?"

2. The teacher will show filmstrip: Nationalism, parts 1 and 2 (Guidance Associates).

Based on the filmstrip and discussion the student will draw up a chart listing the pros and cons of nationalism. (colonies obtaining freedom, imperialistic ventures, etc.)

(If possible the Sept. 14, 1970 issue of World Week

(Scholastic) should be utilized for its article entitled: "Nationalism, Wave a Flag or Shake a Fist?")

3. The teacher will read the following quotes:

a. "Nationalism is an infantile disease. It is the measles of mankind."

Albert Einstein

b. "I believe nationalism is individualism, nationalism is self-interest, born of pride, nationalism is the higher aspiration of nations toward the attainment of their greater goals."

- c. Do you feel that the United Nations can be made an effective organization for peace?
- d. All things considered, do you think the United Nations is worthwhile or not worthwhile?
(Others could be added)

Share findings with class. Students could research Gallup and Harris Polls to see if polls on the subject of the United Nations are available for analysis.

2. Invite local representatives of the United Nations to speak to class about the work of the United Nations and its related agencies.

3. Write to the following for materials to exhibit in the classroom or for sources for reports:

United Nations U.S. Comm. for UNICEF
 U.N. Plaza 331 East 38th St.
 New York, N.Y. 10016 U.S. Comm. for the United Nations

 - b. politically oriented
 - c. socially or educationally oriented
 - d. one world oriented

3. "Thou Shalt Not Kill" is a concept accepted by all religions. The World Council of Churches in 1948 stated: "War is contrary to the will of God." Other religious groups have stated that the universal Church must pronounce a condemnation of war unqualified and unrestricted. Pope Paul XXIII stated in his Pacem in Terris ideas for peace on earth.

In view of their understanding of war and peace, the student will assess the effectiveness of organized religious institutions in educating for peace.

"How does one get to know about and understand other cultures?"

2. Based on the discussion, the teacher will ask the students to form committees which will be responsible for researching the cultures of different peoples living in Africa, Asia, South America, etc.

The students may want to divide their research into the following areas:

A student committee will make an analysis of the items on the questionnaire and report to the class the activities that received the most support.

1. At the conclusion of the quin, class discussion should be focused upon student reaction to the following questions:
 "What is your personal reaction to this quin?"
 "Did this study alter or re-inforce your previously held attitudes on peace?"
2. The teacher will play the record, Let There Be Peace On Earth And Let It Begin With Me, and the students will discuss its meaning for them.
