ABSTRACT

This resource guide lists sources for elementary and secondary social studies teachers in the areas of history and economics. Intended primarily as a selection tool for teachers, it will also be helpful to supervisors, librarians, and other educators. Annotations are provided for the majority of works, published mostly during the 1950's and 1960's. Emphasis is upon offering sources of multi-media materials on United States history and economics. Arrangement is by form for eight types of materials. Included are listings of: 1) and 2) American history and economic tapes --- furnishing information on ordering, suggestions for use, and giving intended grade levels, descriptions, and objectives of the tapes; 3) pamphlets published by the Service Center for Teachers of History; 4) a series of records, produced by the U.S. Navy, entitled "Portraits in Patriotism": 5) Seventy-five paperback books in a series for in-depth study of U.S. history-economics; 6) Federal Reserve pamphlets; 7) Professional organizations for social studies; and 8) twenty-three research projects relating specifically or indirectly to U.S. history and/or economics. UNITED STATES HISTORY AND ECONOMICS

A Resource Guide

This resource guide has been prepared to provide social studies teachers with a listing of sources in the areas of United States history and Economics. It is hoped that this guide will be useful to teachers, supervisors, librarians, and all educators interested in U. S. history and Economics.

It should be pointed out that this guide is not a complete listing of commercial materials, nor is it an endorsement. For the latest and more complete information, educators are urged to write the producers of the materials. Schools desiring to use the items listed should examine them closely in order to determine which will best meet their needs.

SOME TAPES IN AMERICAN HISTORY AVAILABLE FROM THE TEXAS EDUCATION AGENCY

In ordering any of the following titles, please follow procedures as directed below:

Include the following information:

- 1. Code number of program
- 2. Title of program
- 3. Tape speed chosen (Tape speeds available are 7 1/2, 3 3/4, 1 7/8 inches per second)
- 4. Trackage arrangement planned
- 5. User's name and name of school unit or of related organization and mailing address.

Enclose the following items:

- 1. Sufficient tape for recording at chosen speed and trackage
- 2. Self-addressed shipping label
- 3. Return postage stamps.

Address communications and tape shipments to:

Texas School of the Air and Tapes Texas Education Agency Capitol Station Austin, Texas 78711 Phone: GR5-4341 Area Code: 512

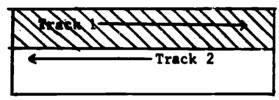

SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR ORDERING TAPES

The amount of standard tape required for a particular program is determined by the playing time and the speed at which one wishes the tape to be dubbed. For example, it will be noted that the running time for most of the tapes listed is 15 minutes. Running time is indicated by the number to the right of the dash in the code number. If dubbed at 3 3/4 inches per second, 300 feet will be required. The following information may be helpful in planning tape orders for standard tape.

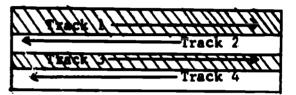

Reel Size	Tape Length	Tape Speed 7 1/2 ips	Tape Speed 3 3/4 ips	Tape Speed 1 7/8 ips
Inches	Feet	Minutes	Minutes	Minutes
7	1 20 0	30 .	60	120
5	600	15	30	60
4 .	300	7 1/2	15	30
3	150	3 3/4	7 1/2	15

Teacher's choice of trackage depends entirely upon the type of tape recorder on which the tape will be used. For example, a tape must be recorded single or twin half-track to play on a half-track recorder, and a tape recorded quarter-track can be used only on a quarter-track recorder. Twin half-track is the term used to describe two half-tracks on one tape. One track is recorded along the upper half of the tape. The tape is turned over, and another track is recorded along the remaining portion of the tape. See diagrams below for visual description of half-track and quarter-track recordings.

Half-Track

Quarter-Track

Some suggestions that might prove helpful in the effective use of taperecordings:

- 1. Preaudition the tape before classroom use
- 2. Use tapes as aids and not as substitutes for teaching
- 3. Select the tape(s) that promise to be most helpful
- 4. Plan the use of the tape in such a way as to have it available at the most opportune stage
- 5. Prepare the class by telling them what to listen for
- 6. Introduce the tape be recalling the problem or situation which seemed to make its use of value
- 7. Discuss and explain the tape so as to assure its effectiveness
- 8. Review the results of the presentation
- 9. Evaluate the results
- 10. Keep a commentary record of tapes used.

- THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO ROUND TABLE--These programs are serious and scholarly discussions of selected topics designed for senior high school level. The discussants are chosen as experts in closely-related fields presenting differing viewpoints, rather than divergent opinions on a controversial subject. The teacher should preaudition these programs to determine their suitability for limited group uses. The fact that some of these programs originated several years ago makes them all the more interesting to a serious student because of the documentation of the shifts in opinions with the fast changes of the current scenes in the world order--or disorder.
 - 63-30 Korea--What are the people and countryside like?
 - 64-30 Views of a United World--Is it possible?

 - 76-30 Political Apathy in America
 - 82-30 Is There a Blackout of History in World War II?
 - 84-30 The State of American Foreign Policy--What our leaders think.
- THE AMERICAN FORUM -- The opinions of outstanding thinkers and leaders of our time on questions about which there is room for honest and important difference of opinion. These presentations can bring to high school level students challenging points of view which may lead to critical evaluation of expressions of opinions and a broader understanding of some of the popular and/or vital issues of our time. These programs simuld be pre-auditioned by teachers, because they are frankly controversial. Using some of the programs that originated a few years ago makes it possible for the teacher to portray vividly how opinions on specific subjects change sharply within just a very few years.

- 90-30 Where is Our Economy Headed? -- Are we in a dangerous boom trend?
- 93-30 Social Security--How far should government go and what responsibility should industry take?

PAPERBOUND BOOKS IN SERIES FOR DEPTH STUDY IN U. S. HISTORY-ECONOMICS

There is a growing trend in Social Studies to develop depth studies that will be meaningful to students. But depth studies call for reading materials not always available to teachers and students. To alleviate this problem, many schools and teachers are making use of the increasing number of titles available in attractive, relatively low-cost, soft-cover editions appropriate for school students.

The preparation of this listing is designed as an aid to educators in selecting paperbound materials that comprise a set of books appropriate to the teaching of United States history and/or Economics.

- AMERICANS ALL SERIES (Webster Division, McGraw-Hill Book Company, 411 Elm, Dallas, Texas 75202). A series of publications dealing with various minority groups in the United States. Designed to provide information on each group's (1) cultural heritage, (2) problems in attaining it's place in American society, (3) contributions to American culture, (4) present status in the United States.
- AMERICAN ASSEMBLY SERIES (Prentice-Hall, Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey 07632).

 Each volume is a series of essays for those seeking background on particular topics in Social Studies.
- AMERICAN HERITAGE ILLUSTRATED PAPERBACKS, PERENNIAL LIBRARY (Harper & Row, Publishers, 49 East 33rd Street, New York, New York 10016). Each book focuses on an outstanding chapter from history—an age made memorable by a great nation, an extraordinary man or woman, a conquest or a discovery. The American history titles are recommended for reading in grades five through high school.
- AMERICAN HISTORICAL SOURCES SERIES: RESEARCH AND INTERPRETATION (Prentice-Hall, Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey 07632). A series of books that contains both an analytical essay and a selection of some of the documents used in writing the essay.
 - AMERICAN HISTORY IN FOCUS SERIES (Addison-Wesley Publishing Company, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas 75202). Each volume concentrates on a major period in U. S. history from colonial times to the present. Each is structured around focal, interpretive articles by modern historians with varying viewpoints. The ariticles are supplemented by historical documents of the era with which a volume is concerned.
- AMERICA IN CRISIS SERIES (John Wiley & Sons, Inc., 605 Third Avenue, New York, New York 10016). A series of eight books dealing with major episodes in the history of American foreign policy. Each book covers a war and the resulting settlement that marks a high point in United States foreign policy.
- AMERICAN PERSPECTIVES (Harper and Row, Publishers, 49 East 33rd Street, New York, New York 10016). Twenty reprinted essays written by a number of outstanding Americans about a variety of topics in U. S. history. Authors range from Louis Brandeis to Helen Hunt Jackson. Topics range from Women and Economics to the Crusade for Indian Reform.

- AMERICAN PROBLEMS SERIES (Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., 4640 Harry Hines Boulevard, Dallas, Texas 75235). A series of seventeen books of approximately 80 pages each; designed primarily for high school courses in problems of democracy. Each of the paperbacks investigates a specific problem in the areas of Economics, Government, Sociology, and Guidance.
- AMERICAN PROBLEMS STUDIES (Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., 4640 Harry Hines Boulevard, Dallas, Texas 75235). Nine studies that probe, question, and examine major aspects of the American heritage. Topics covered range from the American Revolution through the New Deal.
- AMERICAN READER SERIES (Social Studies School Service, 4455 Lennox Boulevard, Inglewood, California 90304). Five paperbacks portraying, through individual accounts, the story of the emergence of America. Based on the one volume work by Paul Angle. Each covers a time period in U. S. history from Discovery through 1961.
- ANVIL SERIES (D. Van Nostrand Company, Inc., 120 Alexander, Princeton, New Jersey 08540). A series of 92 books covering a wide range of social studies many of which are applicable to U. S. history. It is planned that five titles will be added yearly; various titles are revised periodically. Discount prices available according to number of books ordered.
- BASIC CONCEPTS IN HISTORY AND THE SOCIAL SCIENCES (D. C. Heath & Company, 5111 Lakawana Street, Dallas, Texas 75247). The basic purpose of the nine books in this series is to ". . . present materials of American history in a way that will help students grasp the key ideas or concepts that historians use to analyze and interpret historical facts." Each book consists of an introductory essay followed by a set of selected readings. The student is then expected to write a paper giving his own interpretation of the fundamental problem.
- BASIC ECONOMICS SERIES (Channing L. Bete Company, Inc., Greenfield, Massachusetts 03101). A set of four basic economics study units based on concepts, outlines, and source material of the JCEE. Designed to provide students with an understanding of some of the fundamental ideas and principles in economics. Quantity discount prices available. Also available are twenty-five fact-booklets related to various aspects of economics.
- BERKELEY SERIES IN AMERICAN HISTORY (Rand, McNally and Company, Education Division, Box 7600, Chicago, Illinois 60680). The series consists of the Synopsis of American History and nineteen supplementary readings. Each of the booklets deals with a major historical event or problem. The subjects are distributed over the chronology of U. S. history. 64
- C.A.S.E. ECONOMIC LITERACY SERIES (Webster Division, McGraw-Hill Book Company, 411 Elm, Dallas, Texas 75202). Developed by the Council for Advancement of Secondary Education. Each book, accompanied by a teacher manual, deals with a major economic problem as an economist would.
 - CASE STUDIES IN BUSINESS HISTORY AND ECONOMIC CONCEPTS (D. C. Heath and Company, 511 Lakawana Street, Dallas, Texas 75247). The goal of this series is to develop an awareness of the role of economic institutions in the history and life of our country and to illustrate the influence of the individual decision-maker in the evolving patterns of the American economic system.

- CHICAGO HISTORY OF AMERICAN CIVILIZATION (The University of Chicago Press, 5750 Ellis Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60637). A dual series composed of a set of chronological books from 1763 to post-W. W. II, and a series of topical books on American history from colonial times to the present.
- CLASSIC AMERICAN HISTORIANS SERIES (University of Chicago Press, 5750 Ellis Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60637). A series designed to bring to the student the works of famous American historiographers. Each volume contains representative selections of substantial length, chosen and introduced by distinguished historians of the present.
- CLASSICS IN HISTORY SERIES (Prentice-Hall, Inc., Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey 07632). Reprinted copies of classic but difficult-to-obtain historical works, essays, and letters that have had particular influence in United States history.
- CLASSROOM LIBRARY (Rand McNally and Company, School Department, P. O. Box 7600, Chicago, Illinois 60680). Topics covered are: American Technology, Organizations, Achievements, Cultural Relations, Geography.
- CRITICAL PERIODS OF HISTORY (J. B. Lippincott Company, 4640 Harry Hines Boulevard, Dallas, Texas 75235). "Each book in this series deals with an important time when men or institutions or nations met, or failed to meet, portentous challenges to the old order."
- CROWELL AMERICAN HISTORY SERIES (Thomas Y. Crowell Company, 201 Park Avenue, South, New York, New York 10003). A series in which each of the books focuses upon a central theme or issue that has presented American historians with problems of interpretation. They are designed for use in both survey and period courses. Volumes covering the entire span of U. S. history from the Colonial Period to present are planned. At present, three volumes are available, nineteen are planned.
- CROWELL SOURCE READERS IN AMERICAN HISTORY (Thomas Y. Crowell Company, 201 Park Avenue South, New York, New York 10003). The purpose of this series is to acquaint students with an important task of the historian-the evaluation of historical evidence. The editors of the volumes have selected documents that focus on central issues but are lengthy enough to provide a thorough study of the issues.
- DOCUMENTARY HISTORY OF AMERICAN LIFE SERIES (Webster Division, McGraw-Hill Book Company, 411 Elm, Dallas, Texas 75202). A comprehensive collection of source material beginning with the first expedition of Walter Raleigh through Lyndon Johnson's "Great Society" message. The significant portions of documents are included along with an introduction and bibliographical notes.
 - DOCUMENTS IN AMERICAN CIVILIZATION (Doubleday Anchor Books, Garden City, New York 11530). A series of books that provides primary material for the study of United States history. Some volumes deal with specific periods, others with specific themes. The purpose of the series is to show the pervasiveness of those themes which are central to particular moments in history and to underline the significance of cultural documents in their total historical context.
