INTRODUCTION

This course of study was written as a part of a total effort to revise curriculum to fit the quinmester administrative organization of schools. The materials and information in this guide are meant to be neither all-inclusive nor prescriptive; but rather, an aide to teachers as they plan instructional programs, taking into account student needs and characteristics, available resources, and other factors.

The major intent of this publication is to provide a broad framework of goals and objectives, content, teaching strategies, class activities, and materials all related to a described course of study. Teachers may then accept the model framework in total or draw ideas from it to incorporate into their lessons.

The guide is divided into 1) a broad goals section, 2) a content outline, 3) objectives and learning activities, and 4) materials. The first section provides descriptive and goal-oriented information for the teacher; "indicators of success" refers to suggested prerequisite or corequisite experiences. The content outline illustrates, in general terms, the scope and major subdivisions of the course. The objectives and learning activities section, hopefully, provides a total picture of the concept or main idea and specific behavioral objectives for a set of given learning activities. The materials section of the guide lists resources in four categories: essential textual or other material; alternate classroom materials to use in place of or in addition to the aforementioned; supplementary teacher resources; and supplementary student resources. The appendix may include other material appropriate for a specific course: e.g., pretests, readings, vocabulary, etc.

Anyone having recommendations relating to this publication is urged to write them down and send to : Social Studies Office, Room 306, Lindsey Hopkins, A-1.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

THIS COURSE IS DESIGNED TO PROVIDE STUDENTS WITH AN UNDERSTANDING OF HOW THE STOCK MARKET WORKS; AN EXAMINATION OF THE CORPORATE FORM OF BUSINESS ORGANIZATION; PRINCIPLES OF INVESTMENT; ANALYSIS OF MARKET ACTION AND PATTERNS; TYPES OF SECURITIES; SOURCES OF FINANCIAL INFORMATION; AND THE RATIONALE OF INVESTMENT CHOICES.

CLUSTER:

Political and Economic Studies

GRADE LEVEL:

10 - 12

COURSE STATUS:

Elective

INDICATORS OF SUCCESS:

None

COURSE RATIONALE:

Many people in our contemporary society have become sufficiently affluent to have surplus funds for investment. And since an increasing number of individuals have considered securities as an "investment" media, the aim of this course is to acquaint the students with how the securities market operates, and to learn some of the fundamental principles involved in the selection of securities.

COURSE GOALS:

1. STUDENTS WILL MAKE A COMPARATIVE ANALYSIS OF THE THREE MAJOR FORMS OF BUSINESS ORGANIZATION.
2. STUDENTS WILL EXAMINE THE FUNCTION AND ORGANIZATION OF SECURITY MARKETS.
3. STUDENTS WILL DEMONSTRATE THEIR ABILITY TO MAKE PREDICTIONS BY ASSESSING FINANCIAL INFORMATION AND RELATED NEWS EVENTS.
4. STUDENTS WILL SPECIFY THE DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS BETWEEN COMMON AND PREFERRED STOCKS, AND BETWEEN EQUITIES AND BONDS.
5. IN INTERPRETING THE TECHNICAL FEATURES OF THE MARKET, STUDENTS WILL DEMONSTRATE THEIR ABILITY TO PREDICT BULL OR BEAR TRENDS.
6. GIVEN THE CONDITIONS OF A BEAR MARKET, THE STUDENT WILL OFFER APPROPRIATE INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND EVALUATE EACH.
7. STUDENTS WILL EVALUATE A SECURITY BASED ON THE CRITERIA OF FUNDAMENTAL ANALYSIS.
8. STUDENTS WILL EVALUATE INVESTMENT COMPANIES AS A POSSIBLE INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY.
9. STUDENTS WILL EVALUATE SPECIAL INVESTMENT TECHNIQUES SUCH AS "DOLLAR COST AVERAGING."

GOAL 1. STUDENTS WILL MAKE A COMPARATIVE ANALYSIS OF THE THREE MAJOR FORMS OF BUSINESS ORGANIZATION.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
FORMS OF BUSINESS ORGANIZATION	A. Compare the advantages and disadvantages of the three major forms of business organization.	1. Show the movie, What is a Corporation, (# 1-05597). a. Before showing the film, alert the class to observe as many different advantages and disadvantages as they can by providing a blank outline for this purpose. b. After showing the film, ask students to share as many of their observations as they can. c. The teacher may then summarize, emphasize, and augment the material and answer questions that may arise.
NOTE: Because some school centers might lack materials, the writer has included information in the activities which may be of assistance to the teacher.	B. Students will explain why the corporate form of business enterprise has attracted the largest amount of investment capital, and has contributed to the economic growth of our country.	2. There are about 9,200,000 proprietorships in the United States, approximately 950,000 partnerships, and some 1,400,000 corporations. Even though corporations constitute only about 12 percent of the businesses in operation, the annual income is nearly 4 times that of all proprietorships and partnerships combined. For the proprietorship and partnership, the income and liabilities of the firm are also the personal incomes and liabilities of the owner(s). The liabilities of the owners (stockholders) of the corporation are limited to the value of the stock owned; also, the income of the corporation is legally distinct and separately taxed. Though not large in terms of numbers, corporations own the bulk of assets in the economy and account for the major share of output; the biggest of the corporations loom very large in the economy. a. 500 corporations produce more than 50 percent of the value of our G.N.P. b. Corporations own 80 percent of all business wealth. c. Corporations employ 66 2/3 percent of our private labor force. d. The top 100 corporations own 50 percent of all manufacturing assets.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
		e. 91 percent of all business failures: small business f. The top 2 percent of all American families own between 66 2/3 percent and 75 percent of all corporate stock. 3. SUMMARY: a. Limited liability enables a corporation to attract large amounts of capital. b. With its vast funding, a corporation can attract the expertise of labor and management, and the resources necessary for growth. 4. QUESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION AND STUDY: a. Compare the individual proprietorship, partnership, and corporation with regard to the following points: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How is the business started? (legal requirements) 2. Who owns the business? 3. Who manages the business? 4. Who shares the profits? 5. Who is liable for debts? 6. How well is the business organized to last? 7. How well is the business adapted to obtain capital? b. Summarize the advantages and disadvantages of each form. c. What is the legal status of a corporation? d. Distinguish between a closed (private) corporation and a public corporation. (Florida Statute of 1970 allows one person to own a corporation.)

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
		e. Are partnerships more likely to be found in manufacturing and mining or in the retail trade and service industries? WHY? f. Would the profit generated by a firm have a bearing on the organization it adopts? WHY? g. What has been the social and economic impact of corporations on our society? h. Give three ways by which a corporation can increase its capital funds and the advantages and disadvantages of each. (stocks -- bonds -- loans, short and long) i. What is meant by "double taxation" of a corporation's profits? TEXTBOOK SOURCE: Smith, Augustus H., Economics for Our Times. 3d ed. New York: McGraw-Hill Book Co., 1963. (Chapter 10) PAPER PAMPHLET: Bartlett, H. et. al., You and the Investment World. New York: Stock Exchange, 1967. (Chapter 1)

GOAL 2: STUDENTS WILL EXAMINE THE FUNCTION AND ORGANIZATION OF SECURITY MARKETS.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES:
SECURITY MARKET	A. Students will offer distinguishing characteristics between an organized Securities Exchange and the Over-the-Counter Market as to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Kinds of securities traded. 2. Listing requirements. 3. How sales are made. 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Have students read chapters 3 and 4 from You and the Investment World, and N.Y.S.E. publication. 2. Have students view the film, Work of the Stock Exchange, (# 1-10194). 3. Invite a guest speaker from a brokerage firm, giving him your topical needs in advance. 4. Through discussion and lecture, summarize some of the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. Function of security markets; to provide a convenient place for investment capital to reach industry. b. Provides for easy capital mobility among alternate investment opportunities. c. Explain that the exchange or its personnel do not directly sell, buy, or set prices of securities -- explain the "auction principle." d. Offer some distinguishing features between regular security exchanges and the over-the-counter market. e. Listing requirements for N.Y.S.E.: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. 1,000 round-lot shareholders 2. 300,000 publicly held shares with a market value of at least $14 million 3. Annual pre-tax earning requirement - $2.5 million (normally, a history of 3 years performance at these levels is expected.) f. Membership seats have ranged in price from a low of $17,000 in 1942 to $515,000 in 1950. (trading privileges are reserved for members only.)

FOCUS

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

6. The Over-the-Counter market is made up of thousands of dealers linked by a communications network.

1. The largest number of security offerings are found here in excess of 60,000. (known as the "unlisted" or the "off-board" market)
2. Prices are stated as bid and ask and trades are negotiated instead of the "auction principle" of the exchanges.
3. Kinds of securities traded O.T.C.
 - a. local companies or those not meeting big board listing requirements
 - b. bank stocks, insurance companies, investment trusts, or mutual funds
 - c. U.S. Government securities and municipal bonds
 - d. Corporate bonds
 - e. many Canadian and foreign securities

5. The teacher might arrange a field trip to an Over-the-Counter broker (i.e., H.S. Wien Co., Ingraham Building, Miami, Fla.).

EXERCISES FOR PROGRESS CHECK:

Understand the Modern Securities Market, Chapter 2
1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9. 10.

Understanding the New York Stock Exchange, Hirsch & Co.
How Over-the-Counter Securities are Traded, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, & Smith, Inc.

1. Have students research and make individual oral reports on the objective topics.
2. Invite guest speakers to speak on objective topics.
3. Have students read chapters 8 - 13 and 15 - 19 in How to Buy Stocks, by Louis Engel. (This book is distributed free by Merrill Lynch or can be purchased in paperback from Bantam books)
4. Display chart provided by N.Y.S.E. Educational Service and trace the route of a buy and a sell order.
5. From the N.Y.S.E. packet, pass a sample of the stock certificate and bond around the class.
6. At this point, you might explain some of the major differences between an equity (i.e., preferred or common stock), a bond, and a debenture.
7. Have students read Chapter 6 in How to Buy Stocks, Louis Engel.

TOPICS FOR DISCUSSION AND STUDY:

- a. What is the function of a brokerage firm?

B. Students should explain the function of:

1. Security Market
2. Brokerage Firm
3. Registered Representative
4. Floor Broker
5. Specialist
6. Odd-Lot Broker
7. Investment Banker (underwriter)

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
	C. Students should define: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Bid and Ask prices 2. Odd-Lot premiums 3. Market Orders 4. Limit Orders 5. Good Till Cancelled Orders 6. Stop (loss) Orders 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> b. Why do brokers need "seats" on the exchange? c. What does the Registered Representative (customer's man) do? (He is trained to help his clients plan investment strategies -- of course, the final decision is the responsibility of the investor) d. Floor brokers execute orders on the floor of the Exchange. e. Specialists of the N.Y.S.E. has two functions: a) to maintain an orderly market in the stocks for which he is registered by injecting buy and sell orders to minimize sharp price fluctuations and, b) to execute "limit orders" for a commission broker. f. Odd-lot dealer executes trades of 1 to 9 shares in the case of stocks traded in 10-share units and 1 to 99 shares for 100 share units. g. Investment Banker (Underwriter) buys new securities from an issuer at a specific price and sells them to the public. The compensation is the "spread" between the buy price and the public offering price. Sometimes, underwriters form Syndicates when there is a large block of securities involved. They offer their expertise to the capital raising firm as to the type of security to offer, timing, and money market conditions. TOPICS FOR DISCUSSION AND STUDY: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. How are prices determined in the Over-the-Counter Market? (see pamphlet, How Over-the-Counter Securities are Traded, offered by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc. 70 Pine Street, New York, New York, 10005) b. Odd-Lot premiums are additional charges to compensate the services of the odd-lot dealer. (secure from the N.Y.S.E.)

the financial pages and to record and collect the figures.
 (Note: Not all indicators are published on the same day, but over a period of weeks they will gather a comprehensive picture of the economy.)

7. Classroom questions:

- a. After checking the figures of Business Indicators for a few weeks, you see most of them dropping. What effect do you think this would have on the stock market?
- b. If the news indicates that Congress has increased personal or corporate taxes, what effect might this have on the stock market?
- c. Evaluate the effects of peace or war news on the stock market.
- d. If order backlogs of heavy industry show a consistent increase, how might this effect the stock market?
- e. What effect does the Federal Reserve System have on the market when margin requirements are raised or lowered? Interest rates raised or lowered?
- f. What is the role of SEC as a regulatory agency?

GOAL 4: STUDENTS WILL SPECIFY THE DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS BETWEEN COMMON AND PREFERRED STOCKS, AND BETWEEN EQUITIES AND BONDS.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
COMMON STOCK	A. Students will offer the distinguishing characteristics between equities and bonds. B. Students will acquaint themselves with the fundamental terms related to common stock.	1. Suggested student readings: a. Preferred stock has a priority over common stock upon the assets of a company in the event the company is dissolved (liquidates).

d. Dividends

1. Declared at the option of the Board of Directors.
2. Directors may decide to pass or omit the dividend for one quarter or longer.
3. Most outstanding preferred stocks are cumulative; if dividends are omitted, they build up in arrears and must be paid before dividends can be paid on common stock.
4. Preferred dividends are at a set or fixed rate.

- a. The percentage rate is usually based on $100 par
- b. The yield is generally higher than that of common

e. Callable Feature

1. Most preferred stocks are callable at the option of the corporation, e.g., they may be redeemed by the issuing corporation at a specified price, usually at a premium to par (or issuing price).
2. This feature will limit the market appreciation because investors will not want to pay a price above call.

- f. It is an equity with indefinite longevity in contrast to a bond which has a maturity date.

g. Voting Rights

1. Usually do not have the right to vote for directors
2. Charter may allow preferred to vote on new senior issues or corporate structural changes, i.e., mergers, etc.

h. Convertible Preferred

1. Shareowner may exchange at a specified rate his preferred shares for common shares.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES

GOAL 5: IN INTERPRETING THE TECHNICAL FEATURES OF THE MARKET, THE STUDENT WILL DEMONSTRATE THEIR ABILITY TO PREDICT BULL OR BEAR TRENDS.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
TECHNICAL MARKET ANALYSIS	A. Students will analyze various market theories and be able to interpret their significance as to bull or bear trends.	1. The "technical" approach is a term applied to the various internal factors affecting the market, i.e., size of the short interest, volume of trading, amount of credit in use, odd lot theory, advance and decline theory, short interest theory, Dow theory, and other averages and the "new issues" market. The technical analyst will relate this information to the price/volume action of a particular company and then try to determine when a stock is in a favorable buy or sell position. a. INVESTMENT COMPANIES

A. Students will offer the distinguishing characteristics of various types of investment companies.

1. Make assignments from the source readings.
2. Invite a fund salesman to speak to your class.
 - a. Suggest that he bring some literature
 - b. Aside from the advantages ask if he could cite some of the cautions one should have toward fund investment.
3. Students could offer reports on a particular fund or type of fund.
4. Teacher could hold class discussion on advantages and disadvantages of fund investments.

Questions for Discussion and Study:

1. Distinguish between a closed-end investment company and an open-end or mutual fund.
2. Compare the advantages and disadvantages of fund investments.

If approved, an alternate method of earning credit for this quin may be for the student to serve a 45-hour internship with a reputable brokerage firm (member of the N.Y.S.E.) This may be done before, during, or after school. The student would receive no pay, but would be given a variety of experiences at the end of which time he would be given a formal test at school to evaluate his progress and understanding of the subject matter. If he passes, he would receive credit for his work experience.
