ABSTRACT

The purpose of this first annual report is to provide the sponsoring bureau of this Supervised Independent Study Program and secondary school staffs with a comprehensive description of program activities for the fiscal year 1972 together with the intended program developments for the fiscal year 1973. Statistical data and case studies are presented to support the conclusion that this program in vocational education has made significant strides in combating Bucks County's dropout problems at the secondary level. A staff of two full-time and four part-time personnel have counseled, tested, and tutored students by preparing them for the GED test and by offering competently written home vocational correspondence courses. By participating in this program, dropouts have raised their employment chances. Related programs include vocational training courses for prisoners, juvenile delinquents, the handicapped, and for drug addicts. Over 300 young people have been aided by the Supervised Independent Study Program. Sample program materials, counseling guidelines, and a map of Bucks County showing the dropout distribution are provided. (Author/AG)

PREFACE

The purpose of this Annual Report is to provide the sponsoring Bureau of the Supervised Independent Study Program and secondary school staffs with a comprehensive description of program activities for FY 72 together with anticipated actions for FY 73.

INTRODUCTION

The Supervised Independent Study Program has completed its first year. During this period, the Program has made significant progress in combating Bucks County's dropout problem, and even greater strides are anticipated for FY 73. The statistics and case studies contained herein support that conclusion.

In close cooperation with secondary school staffs and Business/ Industry Committee members, Program counselors have worked to prevent young people from dropping out of school. Committee members have given generously of their time and experience in taking potential dropouts to their places of business for the purpose of showing the value of a high school diploma in the marketplace. Additionally, strong vocational training has also been stressed, and the experience of seeing direct applications in the presence of successful businessmen has proven very effective.

The staff of two full time and four part time personnel have counseled, tested and tutored young men and women toward a promising future by preparing them for the GED test and by offering competently written I.C.S. vocational correspondence courses. Dropouts have found that by actively participating in the Supervised Independent Study Program, their chances for employment are immeasurably better.

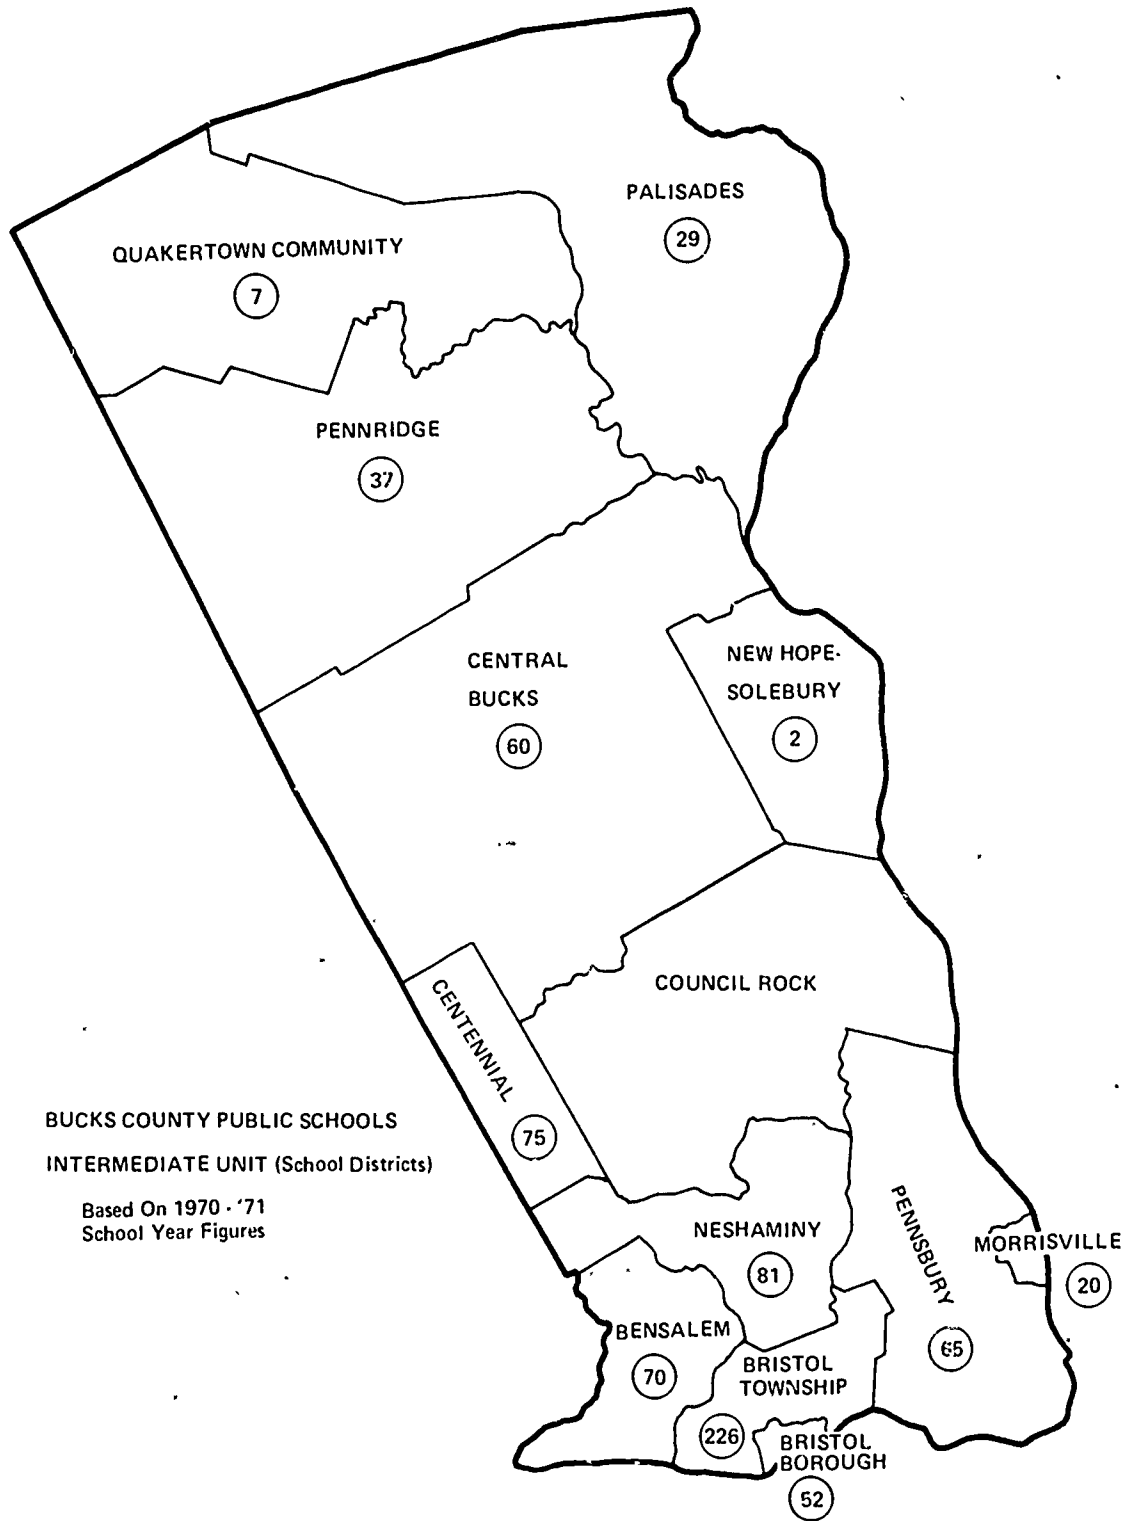

An increasing number of schools have accepted ICS courses for home-bound instructions, and there are numerous examples of students either making up courses for credit or keeping up with their classes even though incapacitated.

Because over 78% of the inmates of Bucks County Prison are dropouts and, generally speaking, have no vocational skills, the Program has worked with Prison officials in offering vocational correspondence courses. These courses are also offered at the Rehabilitation Center and the Juvenile Detention Home and the results have been gratifying.

A similar situation exists in Bucks County's "TODAY" program. The young people participating in the "Treatment of Drugs Among Youth" are taking advantage of vocational courses in order to re-enter society as contributing citizens.

There are many other examples of individuals and groups having been helped by the Program, and many appear within this report. It can be fairly said that over three hundred young men and women who ordinarily would fall outside the established "system" of education have been helped to become productive and contributing citizens.

STAFF

PROJECT DIRECTOR

Mr. Daniel H. Evans is a recently retired Commander, USN. As a Naval Aviator he has seen duty throughout the world. His academic credits include Bucknell University, the United States Naval Academy (graduated in 1951), George Washington University, (MA), and the Armed Forces Staff College. Teaching duties have included the United States Naval Academy, George Washington and Penn State Universities and service schools. He will begin his Doctoral program at Lehigh in the winter semester.

FULL TIME COUNSELOR (LOWER BUCKS)

Mr. Joseph Finn, a recently retired Air Force sergeant, has had considerable experience in counseling and training young men. Especially valuable is his most recent tour in Viet Nam where his duties acquainted him with such problems as drugs, race relations and varying behavioral standards. Mr. Finn has attended Kentucky State College, numerous service schools, and will enroll in Bucks County Community College in the winter semester.

PART TIME COUNSELOR (LOWER BUCKS)

Mr. James Carrington has had both the background and experience to contribute heavily toward reaching the goals of this program. He is now an Assistant to the Principal at Delhaas Junior High School in Bristol

Township. His academic background includes University of Maryland, (BA), and graduate courses at Penn State, Trenton State, culminating in a Psychology Masters from Millersville State. His seven years as a Special Education teacher adds an important facet to the overall ability of the Staff.

PART TIME COUNSELOR (MIDDLE AND UPPER BUCKS)

Mr. Thomas Baldwin is now teaching English at Council Rock Intermediate School. With a vital interest in young people, Mr. Baldwin has been very active in such activities as the Big Brother Program, the Recreation Center Programs and church groups. His academic background has been centered at Kent State University where he received his BS and has done graduate work toward a degree in School Psychology. His summer work with students who have failed English and his experimental classes for non-graded students have helped prepare him for this Program.

PART TIME COUNSELOR

Mr. Neil C. Stover, a recent graduate of Lehigh University, is at present in a Social Restoration intern program at that school. His undergraduate training in International Relations and various social work and teaching assignments have given him a solid foundation on which to grow in the Supervised Independent Study Program.

PART TIME COUNSELOR

Mr. James J. Haffey, a graduate of King's College, is another intern in the Lehigh University Social Restoration Program. His active interest in vocational training and his personal background in various jobs have given him an excellent insight into the needs of vocational training for students and those held in institutions.

The following guidelines are the distillation of the Program's first year of experience and were developed in concert with full-time and part-time counselors.

COUNSELING GUIDELINES

1. Develop close, harmonious relationships with school staffs, especially the assistant principals and counselors. Their cooperation is vital to the success of the Program.
2. Develop skill in counseling so as to be able to balance compassion and a sincere desire to help with a pragmatic realization of our time and resource limitation.
3. Balance the counseling approach between the ICS GED preparation and ICS vocational courses, and then counsel as appropriate to the student's needs.
4. Ensure a third-person presence when counseling outside the office. This would apply both to male and female students, but especially, of course, to females. Clearly identify yourself as a member of Bucks County Public Schools.
5. Whenever possible, obtain participation by parents or legal guardians.
6. Improve your counseling techniques by study of the accepted texts and related articles. These will be provided by the Project Director.
7. Periodically encourage those enrolled either by personal contact, telephone, or simple note. Recognize that many have been branded "losers" by the system and may have low personal esteem. Another factor is that correspondence work is inherently lonely work and requires a high degree of self discipline.

8. Avoid the tendency to underestimate the rigors of correspondence work. In the desire to help a young person, it is easy to inadvertently imply that our Program gives a cheap, easy shot at success.

9. Maintain accurate records. They are valuable not only for justifying our existence, but will be invaluable at the end of the year for evaluating the past and thereby improving future efforts.

10. While our tuition fund is fairly generous, we should, where appropriate, ask for either full or partial payment of course costs. This has a two-fold effect. First, we can make the money go further; and, secondly, we can attain a greater likelihood of completion by the student.

11. Always keep in mind that what we have to offer is a wonderful opportunity for those students who are turned off by the "system," those who unfortunately must leave school, and the "push-outs."

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Staffing has been completed.
- All Bucks County public and parochial high schools and numerous junior high schools have been visited. Briefings have been given to staffs at the principal, assistant principal, and counselor levels.
- The Upper, Middle, and Lower Bucks County Business/ Industry Committees have been formed, and active participation has been effected.
- Active use is made of the Wide Range Achievement Test (WRAT) as a useful tool for gauging overall readiness for the GED test and for identifying specific areas where concentrated study is required.
- Special Supervised Independent Study classes have been instituted in Lower Bucks County. These classes are primarily aimed at the motivated, needy youngsters of that area, many of whom have comprehensive problems. Special counseling and tutoring are available to help them obtain a GED diploma and to prepare them vocationally for entry into the job market.
- Special Supervised Independent Study classes, vocationally oriented, have been instituted in the County Prison system. Counseling is used to establish areas of interest, and the Wide Range Achievement Test is used to gauge academic ability. Two staff members are available for counseling and help with the International Correspondence School's vocational courses.

- Active liaison has been established with existing social service organizations both to avoid duplication of effort and to take advantage of their case contacts.
- A significant number of High School Counselors and Home/School Visitors have visited the International Correspondence School facility. Additional trips are scheduled for the remainder of the counselors.
- Statistical analyses of dropouts have been initiated.
- Vocational counseling, testing and tutoring have been made available to dropouts who are participants in the Bucks County "TODAY" Program. The "Treatment of Drugs Among Youth Program" contains many dropouts vitally in need of vocational training.

FY 72 STATISTICAL ANALYSIS

Number of full time counselors:	2
Number of part time counselors:	4
Anticipated number of Bucks County dropouts, School Year 1971-1972:	950
Total number of individuals contacted:	1114
Total number of contacts made:	2415
Total number enrolled in ICS courses:	151
Total number tested (WRAT):	341
Total number remaining in school through Program efforts, (i.e., counseling by Business/Industry Committee members):	53
Total number who have taken GED Test:	54

FUTURE PLANS

The aims of the Program for the following year are:

- Selectively augment the number of Business/Industry Committee members.
- Consistently encourage greater participation and closer liaison by schools. This will be accomplished by distribution of the annual report, more visits, and effective word-of-mouth endorsement.
- Attend more high school adult education registrations so that the prospective students may be made aware of the Supervised Independent Study Program's offerings.
- Increase the efforts at the Junior High School level in order to strengthen the "preventive" aspect of the Program. Through vocationally oriented counseling, the Program has already prevented some incipient dropouts from leaving school.
- Increase the counseling and tutoring services to disadvantaged students, especially in the southern part of the County.

This section contains short biographies and student comments on selected individuals. They are included to offer insight into the scope of the Program and to illustrate how effective it has been.

In accordance with local prison regulations, certain enrollees are identified alphabetically in lieu of given names.

CHARLES M. GUTHRIE, JR.
WOODROW WILSON HIGH SCHOOL

Did not have enough credits to graduate....frustrated with system....did very well on WRAT test....will take GED test....enrolled in Plumbing and Heating course....working toward Master Plumber.

"The Program interested me in my education and future. It has given me something to look forward to. Now I will have something. Before I felt I had nothing."

GLENN DAWSON
PALISADES HIGH SCHOOL

In eleventh grade at Tech school....immobilized by automobile accident.... needed geometry course to remain with his class....working on correspondence geometry course....exam will be given under Palisade's supervision.... will enter twelfth grade in September.

"The Program is helping me because I'm going to pass 11th Grade, or else I'd be behind. Now I can stay with my friends and be a senior. And I'll be able to graduate on time."

WESLEY HENDRICKSON
PENNRIDGE SOUTH JUNIOR HIGH

Wanted to drop out of school....poor grades....no motivation....likes auto mechanics....wanted Tech school but not eligible....Program counselor worked with school counselor and offered vocation correspondence on condition boy would cooperate....doing well in course....grades up and accepted at Tech school.

"I am staying in school because the automotive course helped me get into Tech school. Before, because of not trying and bad grades, I couldn't get into Tech school."

WALTER WERKHEISER
LENAPE JUNIOR HIGH

Had reading problems which led to poor grades....left school....spent 19 months in Marines....employed as cement finisher and carpenter....working toward master carpenter....preparing for GED....working closely with Program counselors on his weak areas....is doing very well.

"I have completed approximately half of the GED preparatory courses and the counselors have tutored me in tough areas. I tried night courses, but they would have taken three years. This course can be done after work. After the GED test, I would like to take the carpentry course."

LINDA LENOR
QUAKERTOWN HIGH

Left school to get married....decided to return and complete eleventh grade....worked closely with Program counselor....now being tutored to make up work lost over the summer....an excellent student.

"I am so happy that the Program worked with Mr. Williams, my counselor, and got me back to school. I will do anything to be up with my class. Thank you."

MRS. E. LEE ASHER
BLOOMFIELD, INDIANA

Family moved constantly....caused her to fall behind and become discouraged....doing general nurse's aid work in hospital....working towards GED diploma....wants to then further her nurse's training.

"Really didn't think I would ever be able to do work for my diploma. I felt embarrassed because the children seemed to know more than me. I really want to learn so I can go on and become a registered nurse."

BILL DILLER
COUNCIL ROCK HIGH

Unhappy in high school....poor grades....left school but couldn't find a job....had been warned by authorities....referred to Program by school....counseled and tested....Program counselor spoke with Navy Recruiter....arranged for GED and entrance into Navy....has completed boot camp....doing very well.

"Mr. Evans wrote a letter confirming I passed the GED, and he helped me get into the Navy. My family and I are very happy that I was able to get into the Navy and in the vocational school of my choice."

STEPHEN KINDT
WOODROW WILSON HIGH

Left school to enlist in Marine Corps Reserve....presently working on swimming pools....enrolled in Architecture Drawing....working towards GED....would like to go into pool construction....doing very well.

"I really like what I'm doing. The Supervised Independent Study Program made it possible for me to complete high school and go into a vocational training course."

CENTRAL BUCKS WEST HIGH

Left school when she needed only one credit to graduate....Program counselor worked closely with school counselor....school would accept credit for correspondence course....completed a "Physiology and Health" course....will receive Central Bucks West High School Diploma in June.

"I learned a lot doing the lessons about the body. Now I'm getting a regular diploma from CB West, without having to go to night school or summer school."

HELENA RASE
BISHOP CONWELL HIGH

Lost interest in school....did very well on WRAT test....received GED diploma....will enter Bucks County Community College in the fall....pleased with her own accomplishments.

"The program helped me a lot by helping me get my diploma and getting me into college. It helped me decide what I wanted to do, too."

NESHAMINY HIGH

Lack of interest in school coupled with other problems caused her to leave school....did very well on WRAT test....received GED diploma.... will enter Bucks County Community College....is very happy and doing very well.

"The program has been very helpful for me in gaining self confidence and completing high school."

WOODROW WILSON HIGH

Found school boring....had a bad attitude....presently working as a knitter and apprentice mechanic....enrolled in machine shop course.... going to Philadelphia Textile College.

"It's giving me a very good chance to do something for myself, so living can be made easier."

PETER WEAVER
PALISADES HIGH

Wanted to leave school....Program counselor contacted Mr. Edward Miller of Eastern Rotocraft and arranged a meeting....Mr. Miller took Peter out of school and showed him through his plant....Peter remained in school....teachers and counselors working with him to overcome his difficulties with math.

"Mr. Miller talked to me about high school and he got across the importance of a high school education. He showed me around his plant and he talked to me about all kinds of things. He took his time off and really cared about whether I stayed in or not."

BUCKS COUNTY PRISON

Left school to join the Marines....given WRAT test....enrolled in carpentry course....doing very well....wants to work with carpenters and start his own carpentry business.

"The Program is giving me training that will help me in my trade. I'm glad something is being done to try to help me learn while I'm in prison."

Left school because he was not able to keep up with the work or cope with the system....enrolled in masonry course....progress is average.... wants to get a job and stay out of jail.

"Program is giving me a trade and some hope for the future. The counselors have been helping me to get oriented to society and are giving me help to go on and finish the course."

STUDENT C

High School graduate....given WRAT test....enrolled in Production Management courses....just began, but showing progress....hopes to work as a manager of trucking company.

"The Program is helping me in getting training and I'm learning things that will be important to me in my future business. I'm pleased with the course because it's also helping in building my math skills."

Left school early....enrolling in air conditioning course....progressing well....interested in improving himself and getting a good job.... eventually wants to go to school and become a drug counselor.

"Through these courses I am learning a trade that will support me while I'm on my way through school. I want to train to become a drug counselor. The Program also helped get me out of jail with the promise that the course would be completed."

Marine Corps veteran....left school early....could not keep up with classmates....reading problem....given WRAT test....enrolled in Carpenter-Builder course....earning A's and B's.

"I would really like to be a good carpenter and with this course I can be one even though I'm in prison. Then maybe I can find a good job."

The following section, entitled "Follow-up Report" is arranged alphabetically by school district. It contains the names of the referred students, who referred them, whether or not they have been given the Wide Range Achievement Test (WRAT), an indication of the ICS course being taken, and, finally, a remarks section.

Note: The term "N.A." used herein refers to Not Applicable.
