ABSTRACT

Student enrollment in institutions of higher education in the Boston Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA) for the fall of 1972 are reported. Emphasis is placed on total enrollment, control of institution, level of students, first time students, and residence of undergraduates. Tables include statistical data concerning student enrollment and components of the SMSA.

HIGHLIGHTS

* Degree granting institutions of higher education in the Boston Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA) enrolled 184,106 students in Fall 1972, a 3.37% increase over the 178,107 enrolled in Fall 1971. Enrollment in the public institutions in the Boston SMSA increased 14.27% while that in the private increased 0.69%.

* Institutions in the Boston SMSA accounted for 57.4% of all students enrolled in the Commonwealth (320,952), and for 30.8% of all students enrolled in New England (597,208).

* Private institutions in the Boston SMSA accounted for 77.1% (143,897) of the total enrollment (186,564) in the Massachusetts private sector, and for 48.7% of the total (295,201) for the region. For the public sector these percentages were 29.9% and 13.3% respectively.

* More than three out of four (78.2%) students in the Boston SMSA are enrolled in private institutions. For the city of Boston only, this figure is 83.6%. Outside the Boston SMSA, 68.8% of the students are enrolled in the Commonwealth's public institutions.

* A total of 30,029 of the degree students enrolled within the Boston SMSA entered an institution of higher education for the first-time in Fall 1972, 17,522 at public institutions and 6,522 at private institutions.

* Among undergraduates attending an institution in the Boston SMSA, 97.4% are residents of Massachusetts. In the public sector, the figure was 45.9%. Within the city, the percent undergraduates who are residents of the state were 97.4% and 63.3% for the public and private sectors respectively.

HIGHLIGHTS

degree granting institutions of higher education in the Boston Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA) enrolled 179,107 students in Fall 1972, a 3.37% increase over the 173,107 enrolled in Fall 1971. Enrollment in the public institutions in the Boston SMSA increased 14.27% while the private increased 0.69%.

Institutions in the Boston SMSA enrolled for 57.4% of all students enrolled in the Commonwealth (320,952), 30.8% of all students enrolled in England (597,208).

Private institutions in the Boston SMSA counted for 77.1% (143,897) of the enrollment (186,564) in the Massachusetts private sector, and for 48.7% of the total (295,201) for the region. For the public sector these percentages were 13.3% respectively.

* Among undergraduates attending a public institution in the Boston SMSA, 98.4% were residents of Massachusetts. In the private sector, the figure was 45.9%. Within Boston city, the percent undergraduates from in-state were 97.4% and 63.3% for the public and private sectors respectively.

INTRODUCTION

The New England Board of Higher Education annually compiles information on college and university enrollments in the region based upon data supplied to the U.S. Office of Education as part of the Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS). That information is published by NEBHE in the annual report series, Student Enrollment in New England Institutions of Higher Education.

Because of the number of requests for information concerning enrollment in the Boston-area, NEBHE is, with the present report, instituting another annual report series, Student Enrollment in Institutions of Higher Education in the Boston Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA).

Included herein are enrollment data for all institutions located in those cities and towns comprising the Boston SMSA as defined by the U. S. Bureau of the Census (see Table 2). These data were taken directly from Student Enrollment in New England Institutions of Higher Education, Fall 1972; that report should be consulted regarding the USOE definitions employed here.

Data on total Massachusetts enrollment outside the Boston area is also presented as appropriate for comparative purposes. However, for information regarding Massachusetts enrollment in Fall 1971 and 1972, that report should be consulted.

The New England Board of Higher Education extends its thanks to the Office of Higher Education and the institutions of higher education for their assistance in providing the data for this report.

Due to the number of requests for information concerning enrollment in the area, NEBHE is, with the present report, instituting another annual report, Student Enrollment in Institutions of Higher Education in the Boston Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA).

The data herein are enrollment data for institutions located in those towns comprising the Boston SMSA as defined by the U. S. Bureau of Census (see Table 2). These data were obtained directly from Student Enrollment in New England Institutions of Higher Education, Fall 1972; that report was consulted regarding the USOE personnel employed here.

Data on total Massachusetts enrollment and enrollment outside the Boston SMSA are also presented as appropriate for comparative purposes. However, for more detailed information regarding Massachusetts enrollment in Fall 1971 and 1972, the above New England report should be consulted.

The New England Board of Higher Education extends its thanks to the Massachusetts Board of Higher Education and the Massachusetts institutions of higher education for their assistance in providing the data necessary for this report.

ENROLLMENT IN THE BOSTON SMSA

There were a total of 63 degree-granting institutions located in the Boston SMSA in Fall 1972, 29 in Boston and 34 in the surrounding cities and towns comprising the SMSA. Of those located in the city of Boston, 3 were public four-year colleges and universities, 11 were private two-year colleges and 15 were private four-year colleges and universities. Of those outside the central city, 5 were public two-year, 2 public four-year, 6 private two-year and 21 private four-year.

TOTAL ENROLLMENT

The 61 institutions in the Boston SMSA providing Fall 1972 data enrolled a total of 184,106 students, a 3.37% increase over the 178,107 enrolled in Fall 1971. Institutions in the Boston SMSA enrolled 57.4% of all students enrolled in the Commonwealth (320,952) in Fall 1972, and showed a slightly greater rate of growth (3.37%) than those outside the Boston SMSA (2.84%).

Public institutions in the Boston SMSA accounted for 29.9% (40,209) of the total enrollment (134,388) in the Massachusetts public sector in Fall 1972. Their enrollment increased by 14.27% between 1971 and 1972 compared to 4.20% for those outside the area and 7.02% for all public institutions in the state.

Institutions in the Boston SMSA under private control accounted for 77.1% (143,897) of the total enrollment (186,564) in the Massachusetts private sector in Fall 1972. They showed a 0.69% increase over 1971 compared to a slight decrease of 0.04% for those outside the area and to an increase of 0.52% state-wide for private institutions.

This is because of the presence of a large number of private institutions where more than three out of four students are enrolled in private institutions. n SMSA	125,573	134,388	+ 7.02	Massachusetts is the only state in the nation where enrollment in the private sector still exceeds that in the public sector, although the margin continues to decrease. (The private sector enrolled 58.1% of all students in 1972 compared to 59.6% in 1971.) This is because of the heavy concentration of private institutions in the Boston SMSA where more than three out of every four (78.2%) students are enrolled in a private institution. (In Boston city, the percent is 83.6%.) In fact, outside the Boston SMSA, 68.8% of the students are enrolled in public institutions.

LEVEL OF STUDENTS

Of the 184,106 students enrolled in the Boston SMSA in Fall 1972, 118,039 were undergraduates, 9,789 were first-professional students, 28,307 were graduate students, 12,148 were extension students, 8,105 were non-degree students and the remaining 7,718 were unclassified degree-credit students. Thus 95.2% of the first-professional students enrolled in the Boston SMSA were graduate students.

Again, however, if the control of the Boston SMSA were with for example, attending public institutions, the Boston SMSA could

STUDENTS

Of the 184,106 students enrolled in the Boston SMSA in Fall 1972, 118,039 were undergraduates, 9,789 were first-year students, 28,307 were graduate students, 12,148 were extension students, 4,206 were non-degree students and the 4,267 were unclassified degree-seeking students. Thus 95.2% of the first-professional students in Massachusetts were enrolled in the Boston SMSA as were 68.0% of the graduate students in the state.

Again, however, there are marked differences if the control of the institution is considered. For example, 29.7% of the undergraduates attending public institutions enrolled within the Boston SMSA compared to 75.0% for the private sector's undergraduate enrollment. At the graduate level, the figures are 6.3% and 87.6% respectively.

FIRST-TIME STUDENTS

A total of 30,029 first-time degree-credit students were reported by institutions located within the Boston SMSA; this was slightly over one half (52.7%) of the first-time degree-credit enrollment reported in the state.

Private institutions accounted for 23,507 of the Boston SMSA's first-time degree-credit enrollment with the remaining 6,522 matriculating at public institutions. These 23,507 students represented 72.2% of the total first-time degree-credit enrollment in the Commonwealth's private institutions. For the public sector, the 6,522 represented 26.7% of the total in the state.
