ABSTRACT

The guide is arranged in vertical columns relating curriculum concepts in Latin American studies to curriculum performance objectives, career concepts and career performance objectives, suggested teaching methods, and audio-visual and resource materials. The one-quarter course guide includes career information on 26 related occupations. Space is provided for teachers notes which will be useful when the guide is revised. The appendix includes background Latin-American information; suggested readings; selected references, periodicals, and organizations for career information; and audio-visual source information. (EA)

Preface

Meaningful existence is the goal of life in today's world. Living takes on meaning when it produces a sense of self-satisfaction. The primary task of education must be to provide each individual with skills necessary to reach his goal.

When children enter school, they bring with them natural inquisitiveness concerning the world around them. Normal curiosity can be the nucleus which links reality to formal training if it is properly developed. A sense of continuity must be established which places education in the correct perspective. Communities must become classrooms and teachers resource persons. Skills such as listening, problem solving, following directions, independent thinking and rational judgement then can merge into daily living procedures.

In classrooms especially designed to form a bridge between school and the world of work, experiences must be developed. On campus performance in job tasks and skills, following a planned sequence of onsite visitation, will fuse information into reality. Practical relationships developed with those outside the formal school setting will provide an invaluable carry-over of learned skills.

Search for a rewarding life vocation is never easy. Without preparation it becomes a game of chance. With a deliberate, sequential, and planned program of development, decisions can be made based upon informed and educated judgments.

A full range career education program, K-12, will offer opportunities for participants to enter employment immediately upon completion of training, post secondary vocational-technical education, and/or a four-year college career preparatory program.

C. N. Boggess, Superintendent
Harlandale Independent School District

The Career Education Project has been conducted in compliance with the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and is funded by a grant from the U. S. Office of Education and the Texas Education Agency.

PHILOSOPHY

The philosophy of the Harlandale Independent School District is that the student's mental and moral values are of supreme importance.

The philosophy of Career Education is to restore dignity to the word work. Social studies in the Harlandale district is the means by which these two are achieved. The student realizes that service to others, self-respect, and pride in finishing a job is the path-way to happiness.

As the student explores the society of which he is a part, he is led to develop and test orderly explanations of human behavior and his relationships to the physical and cultural environment.

In social studies, the student develops a reverence and appreciation for the heritage left him by the people who made the great American dream possible.

In the social studies, if nowhere else, the consideration of the student's development and mental health, within the purview of the meanings of civilization, is paramount. The student is of supreme moral worth.

Harjy D. Cannon
Social Studies Department Chairman

WHAT IS HISTORY?

"History is past politics, and politics present history." --Sir John Robert Seeley

"Man has no nature, what he has is ... history." --Jose Ortega y Gasset

"The worst possible enemy to society is the man who ... is cut loose in his standards of judgment from the past; and universities which train men to use their minds without carefully establishing the connection of their thought with that of the past, are instruments of social destruction." --

Woodrow Wilson

"Fellow-citizens, we cannot escape history." --Abraham Lincoln

"The history of the world is but the biography of great men." --Thomas Carlyle

"No man is fit to be entrusted with the control of the present, who is ignorant of the past, and no People who are indifferent to their past need hope to make their future great."--Anon.

"Human history is in essence a history of ideas." -- H. G. Wells

"History is the memory of things said and done." -- Carl L. Becker

"I shall be content if those shall pronounce my history useful who wish to be given a view of events as they really happened, and as they are very likely to repeat themselves." --Thucydides

"The use of history is to give value to the present hour and its duty." --Ralph Waldo Emerson

"To enable man to understand the society of the past and to increase his mastery over the society of the present is the dual function of history." --Edward H. Carr

"When experience is not retained, as among savages, infancy is perpetual. Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it." --George Santayana

"We may gather out of history a policy no less wise than eternal; by the comparison and application of other men's forepassed miseries with our own like errors and ill deservings." --Sir Walter Raleigh

"To be ignorant of what happened before you were born is to be ever a child. For what is man's lifetime unless the memory of past events is woven with those of earlier times?" --Cicero

"History by apprising them (men) of the past, will enable them to judge the future ... it will qualify them as judges of the actions and designs of men." --Thomas Jefferson

Dear Teacher,

This guide is intended to be a "tool" for you to use, draw from, and then add to as you wish throughout the year. The column entitled "teacher's comments" is for you to write comments or make additions to the guide. Additional pages may be inserted if necessary. At the end of this school year, this guide will be returned to the Career Education Center. After reading your comments and suggestions for additions, a new guide will be written. We want this guide to be useful to you and will need your suggestions for revision.

During the school year, please contact me at the Career Education Center if I can help you in any way.

The student should be able to perform the following activities:

1. In a one page paper, discuss the importance of the rule of Cuba by the United States under the Platt Amendment.

2. Write a biographical sketch of Fulgencio Batista.

3. In a two page report, discuss the invasion and eventual take-over by Fidel Castro of the island of Cuba.

4. Briefly discuss the rule of Francois Duvalier.

CONCEPT:

One of the chief products of Haiti is wood.

OBJECTIVE:

The student should be able to name at least three necessary attributes for today's lumberman.

Examples: strength, courage, skill, mechanical ability, etc.

LUMBERMAN:

1. There are a variety of jobs for men in the lumber industry. The fallers begin the harvest by cutting the trees. The buckers trim off the limbs and cut the trunk into lengths suitable for lumber. A log scaler measures the logs. At the sawmill, the boom men walk on the logs in the pond and separate them. The deck scaler measures the logs to determine the number of feet of lumber it contains. There are eight to ten other workers down the line before the finished product goes to market.
2. There are usually no educational requirements for this job.
3. Wages vary greatly according to the area of employment. The average worker earns $1.75 to $4.00 an hour.

STORIES BEHIND THE NAMES OF LATIN-AMERICAN COUNTRIES

1. MEXICO was named by the Aztecs for their tribal war-god, Mexitli. Hence, the name means "Temple of Mexitli, the war-god."
2. GUATEMALA comes from the Indian word "Quauhtemallan," meaning "Rotten Tree." When the Indians explored Guatemala they found it heavily forested, but a blight had killed many trees. So they named it "the land of rotten trees."
3. EL SALVADOR means "Holy Saviour," under whose protection the colony was placed by the Spanish explorers.
4. HONDURAS is a Spanish word meaning "depths." The country was so named because when the Spanish ships first sailed into the harbors they found waters so deep that they could not anchor. Hence, it has been known as "The Land of Deep Waters."
5. NICARAGUA derives its name from "Nicarao," the name of a great Indian chief who once ruled the land.
6. COSTA RICA is Spanish for "rich coast." When the Spanish explorers landed there they found that the natives had quantities of gold and that the coastal plains were very fertile, so they named it "The Rich Coast Land."
7. PANAMA is an Indian word meaning "abounding in fish." The Indians gave this name to their country because they found many different species of fish in the warm waters surrounding the country.
8. COLOMBIA was named for Columbus, who first landed there on his voyage of exploration.
9. PARAGUAY was named by the Indians for its great river which they called "Paraguacu" or "the great water."
10. ARGENTINA means "Land of Silver" and was so named by the Spanish because they believed that they would find rich silver deposits there.
11. VENEZUELA is Spanish for "little Venice." Venice is a city in Italy which was famous for being built on posts in a swamp. When the Spanish, who knew about old Venice, came to the coast of Venezuela, they found there an Indian village built on posts over water along the coast. So, of course, they exclaimed at once, "Here is a new Venezuela...little Venice!"

12. BRAZIL derives its name from the Portuguese word "brazá" meaning "live-coal." Not long after the country was discovered, it was found to contain a wood which gave a bright red dye. This was called "brazá" or "live-coal" wood and soon the country was called Brazil, or land of the brazá wood.
13. URUGUAY is a word which means, in an Indian dialect, "bird's tail." The Indians named the country after a great waterfall which resembles the outspread tail of a bird.
14. CHILE was named for a thrush, native to that country, which has a call that sounds like "tschili."
15. PERU gets its name from "Píru," an Indian chieftain whom the Spanish conquered.
16. BOLIVIA was named for Simon Bolívar, a native of Venezuela and one of the great liberators of the South American republics.
17. ECUADOR means "Land of the Equator" because the equator crosses it almost in the middle.
18. CUBA is an Indian word meaning "district or place." The Indians gave the island this name because it is the largest island of the group.
19. HAITI is the Indian name for the island of Santo Domingo, and means "rough or craggy," for much of the island answers this description. When the Spanish came and divided the island, they named the other half Santo Domingo, or "Holy Sunday" because they first landed on the island on Sunday.
20. JAMAICA is also an Indian word and means "abounding in springs." This island had more fresh-water springs than any of the others.
21. PUERTO RICO is Spanish for "rich port." This island was named by the Spanish for its chief harbor, "the rich port of St. John," that is, San Juan.
