March 26, 1973

The Honorable Carl Albert
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

My dear Mr. Speaker:

In compliance with the Act of June 15, 1916, granting our organization a Federal Charter, it is a pleasure to submit a copy of the 1972 report that reflects the accomplishments of the Boy Scouts of America as it reaches the halfway point of BOYPOWER '76, our 8-year national program.

Much has been achieved, but there is still much to be done if we are to reach our goal of deeply involving in Scouting a representative one-third of all American boys -- to prepare them with the skill, confidence, and leadership necessary to meet the needs of the nation's future.

Contributions from all elements of our society have enabled us to attain satisfactory goal accomplishment in the Scouting program. Among the important contributions are those of the individual and collective members of Congress. I express a sincere appreciation for this significant and continuing support.

Sincerely,

Alden G. Barber
Chief Scout Executive

HIGHLIGHTS IN 1972

In 1972, the Boy Scouts of America reached the halfway point in its BOYPOWER '76 program, an 8-year effort to bring an even better Scouting program to at least one-third of all American boys by our Nation's 200th anniversary. Membership reached a record high. Important revisions were made to bring each of the three age-based programs into line with the needs and desires of today's young people.

In September, sweeping changes were introduced in the Scout program for 11- to 17-year-old young men. These improvements were designed to make Scouting more appealing - and more meaningful-- to youth in this age bracket. Early reports indicate that the improved Scouting program is a great success.

In Cub Scouting, there was renewed emphasis on outdoor activities for 8- to 10-year-old members, and there were relatively minor changes in the program to prepare Cub Scouts for their later experience in Scouting. Exploring, the constantly evolving program for 15- through 20-year-old young men and women again enjoyed explosive growth.

A key facet of BOYPOWER '76 is the aim to insure that the membership is fully representative of all races, creeds, and socioeconomic groups. In pursuit of this goal, the BSA continued special efforts to reach disadvantaged youth in the inner-city and rural poverty pockets. Other items of progress discussed fully in succeeding pages include:

- BOYPOWER Campaign exceeds $25 million mark.
- Paraprofessionals enter full- or part-time positions in local councils.
- Second National Explorer Presidents' Congress and Explorer Olympics highlight Explorer activities.
- Four million Scouts and Girl Scouts take part in Scouting Keep America Beautiful Day.
- Operation Reach, a program against drug abuse, launched.
- Six new regions provide support and service to all local councils.
- Needy Scout and non-Scout programs continue.

In summary, the year of 1972 was a year of considerable progress, encouraging the Boy Scouts of America to go forward with renewed determination in the remaining years of BOYPOWER '76.

BOYPOWER '76 GOALS

BOYPOWER '76 is an 8-year, long-range plan with emphasis on members and units, trained unit leaders, and national standard units. Under this long-range plan, objectives are set forth for each month. Thus, there are only two important benchmarks at any given moment—the current monthend objectives and the final objectives of BOYPOWER '76. The charts on the succeeding two pages provide an analysis tool for studying the progress of the Boy Scouts of America as it relates to BOYPOWER '76:

- Total units—the implementation of the premise that the only way that you can serve more boys is to have more units.
- Top unit leaders trained—the correlation of projected goals for membership growth with a corresponding aim toward program enrichment starting with trained unit leaders.
- National totals—Cub Scouts, Scouts, Explorers—the involvement in Scouting of the representative one-third of all American boys.
- Boys' Life—to provide wholesome reading material in the home of every Cub Scout and Scout.

STRUCTURED TO SERVE

The local council, supported and serviced by six new regional management centers, provides the structure by which the Boy Scouts of America manages its program. In 1972, 11 consolidations and three mergers reduced the number of local councils to a total of 458. Sons of U.S. personnel in Europe and the Far East are served by two of these local councils. With these exceptions all other councils are in the United States or its possessions.

Local councils join in partnership with sponsors in a unique alliance from which the Boy Scouts of America derives its strength. Each Cub Scout pack, Scout troop, and Explorer post is sponsored by an organization which agrees that its unit or units meet the standards of the Boy Scouts of America.

Through districts, geographic divisions of councils, sponsors receive assistance in meeting those standards given priority under the BOY-POWER '76 program. An institutional representative appointed by each sponsoring organization is a member of the local council. This person participates annually in the election of the executive board that manages the work of the council through operating and planning committees. The executive board employs a Scout executive as chief executive officer of the local council. He gives direction to the members of the professional and paraprofessional staff as they work closely with volunteers to serve units in the districts. Each local council supplements the resources of the chartered sponsor with camping facilities and training.

Officers, executive board members, and members at large are elected annually at a meeting of the local councils. Affairs of each local council are then conducted by the executive board, meeting monthly, to give direction to both national and local programs. Direct service is provided to units through council and district commissioner staffs. Through them the objectives of membership, program opportunity, and utilization of community resources are realized.

The program of the Boy Scouts of America is divided into Cub Scouting, Scouting, and Exploring to achieve its charter objective of character development, citizenship training, and mental and physical fitness.

CUB SCOUTING

Cub Scouting, which now serves 51 percent of the total boy enrollment, developed a proof edition of a day camp guide and shared it with all local councils. As a result, a total of 147 day camps were operated in 1972. Changes in badges, insignia, and literature were approved. The major revision and updating of all Cub Scout literature included manuals such as Wolf Cub Scout Book, Bear Cub Scout Book, Webelos Scout Book, Den Leader's Book, Cubmaster's Packbook, and Webelos Den Leader's Book. New Arrow of Light requirements were released in the 1972 Webelos Scout Book. During the year councils experimented with mushball leagues, swim instruction, guides on where to go for den and pack visits, Webelos father-and-son overnights, and the encouragement of family camping.

Plans were begun nationally for a bicycle safe-driving program for Cub Scouting, a physical fitness program based on the President's Physical Fitness Program designed to be used in packs, and a new training plan for Cub Scout leaders.

SCOUTING

The improved Scouting program, launched on September 1, reflects a study of every aspect of the Scout program. The revisions which meet the needs of boys in a changing society fall into three categories: Knowledge, individual and group skills, and attitudes. These were further refined to cover outcomes related to character, citizenship, and personal fitness. The Scout program revisions deal with these major areas of concern:

1. Greater boy involvement in decisionmaking.
2. A program for older boys in the troop (leadership corps).
3. Optional routes to Eagle.
4. Involvement of a boy in his own growth development.

Additionally, traditional strengths were identified and ways were devised to make them more effective. Among these are the following:

1. The patrol method.
2. The boy-man relationship, with the Scoutmaster acting as a leader of boy leaders.
3. The adventure provided by introducing boys to the world around them and helping them to find their place in it, both through outdoor and indoor experiences.
4. The use of Scouting ideals as a personal challenge to boys.

The Scout program improvements include skill awards, flexibility in the program and procedures, the personal growth agreement, leadership corps, and the Scoutmaster's new role in the program.

To support the improved Scouting program a major new literature package had to be developed. Key to this package is the Scoutmaster's Handbook which has already gone into its second printing. One and a half million copies of the new Scout Handbook have been printed and a new release is being prepared for April 1973.

In addition, sectional meetings were held to train virtually all professionals. Council training chairmen received orientation in the improved program and plans for adult leader development at the professional seminars, at conferences at Philmont, and at regional training seminars. Commissioners, council advancement chairmen, and other key council Scouters were oriented at Philmont conferences and regional seminars. Local councils conducted orientation meetings on the improved Scouting program in September and October and by the end of October had begun the implementation of the adult leader development program, including the recruiting and training of coach/counselors.

The supply division developed a new uniform package. The choice of headgear, including a red beret, and other uniform options were well received.

A key element in the improved Scouting program is the flexibility which has been introduced in both the program and procedures to make Scouting more adaptable to all geographic and low-economic areas of the country. Options in the advancement program through the selection of skill awards and the merit badges Scouts will work on introduced a flexibility to the program that will make it more attractive to boys. The personal growth agreement conference, consisting of boys setting goals for themselves based on their individual strength, should develop boy involvement and help to increase a sense of personal responsibility in all Scouts.

EXPLORING

The launching of Exploring Phase II was the highlight of 1972 in Exploring. The Phase II program, designed to continue reaching more young adults, showed the following results:

- One hundred and sixty-five councils now have an Exploring division and an Exploring executive, and a total of 254 men are full-time Exploring directors or Exploring executives.
- Seven Exploring administration courses were held with 328 participants. One compendium had an attendance of 81.
- Approximately 60 percent of all councils are doing career-interest surveys annually.
- Seventy-five percent of councils now have Exploring committees recruited and trained.
- Training for volunteers was held at all regional meetings.
- Cultivation meetings for corporation leaders were held in 12 cities with many corporations agreeing to sponsor special-interest Exploring nationally.
- Approximately 35 percent of councils conducted impact luncheons for the purpose of securing new post sponsors.

Highlight Explorer activities in 1972 include:

- Explorers Club—Union Carbide Exploration Awards program.
- PepsiCo—NASA space seminar with 51 State winners attending.
- National Explorer Presidents' Congress, held in Washington, D.C., drew 2,700 Explorer post presidents or boatswains to the April meeting.
- A total of 2,086 Explorers from 185 posts participated in the national Explorer Olympics. The three winning posts with a total of 75 Explorers attended the World Youth Camp, a part of the Olympic Games, in Munich, Germany, in late August.
- 3,279 Sea Explorers participated in seven rendezvous and sailing championships.

NATIONAL COUNCIL

Membership of the National Council totals 4,029 individuals and includes 1,883 local council representatives, 1,951 members at large, and 195 honorary members. This annually elected body of volunteers administers the program and provides the necessary support to local councils. Officers, Executive Board members, and members at large are elected at the National Council Annual Meeting. Norton Clapp, Medina, Wash., was reelected President at the May 1972 annual meeting held in Los Angeles. The Executive Board conducts the affairs of the movement between meetings of the National Council. It usually meets three times annually.

LOCAL COUNCIL SUPPORT

In support of the BOYPOWER '76 program in local councils, the national staff develops literature, researches and develops programs and methods, maintains a liaison between national partners and local council partners, registers members, recruits and trains professional Scouters, provides training and methods of operation for volunteers, develops long-range property and conservation plans, distributes uniforms and supplies, and assists in many other areas of need.

On request of the local council, and with the approval of the regional management center, members of the national staff give direct service in the areas of finance, membership, camp development, capital campaigns, foundation requests, and many others where expertise is needed.

The national office of the Boy Scouts of America is located in North Brunswick, N.J. In addition, six regional management center offices are maintained to provide closer liaison between the national office and local councils. The Boy Scouts of America maintains four national camping areas designed to provide high-adventure programs for older Scouts and Explorers: Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico; two wilderness canoe bases located at Ely, Minn., and Boulder Junction, Wis.; and the new Maine National High Adventure Area near Patten, Maine.

In order to distribute literature and equipment to local councils, either directly or through local Scout distributors, the Boy Scouts of America operates three supply centers. The largest is located at the site of the national office in North Brunswick, N.J., and two other centers are located in Chicago, Ill., and Sunnyside, Calif.

The Boy Scouts of America maintains and coordinates liaison with the Federal Government and national organizations based in Washington, D.C., through a Washington bureau established in 1969.

National events such as jamborees, Order of the Arrow conferences, Explorer Olympics, and national Explorer presidents' congresses are conducted by the Boy Scouts of America under the direction of volunteers and professionals.

DISTINGUISHED EAGLE SCOUT AWARD

Presentations of the Distinguished Eagle Scout Award were made to 49 men during 1972. This award is made to Eagle Scouts who have distinguished themselves in service to their community, state, or nation and achieved top levels in their business or profession.

NATIONAL EAGLE SCOUT ASSOCIATION

The National Eagle Scout Association was launched in 1972 and in its first 3 months of operation over 2,600 Eagle Scouts applied for membership.

FINANCING THE LOCAL COUNCIL

There is a direct correlation between the ability of a local council to raise a necessary budget and its ability to reach boys with an improved program. New methods of increasing sustaining membership enrollment, project selling, earning council moneys through Scout shows, and increased endowment funding have been of major emphasis in 1972.

The United Way continues to provide a little over 50 percent of all local council income. The total dollars reported has steadily increased, although there has been a decrease in total percentage of income from this source.

Capital campaigns were conducted in 17 councils in which a total of over $18,035,000 was raised for council camping facilities and service centers.

BOYPOWER CAMPAIGN

The year ended with a new grand total of $25,326,261 in contributions. This figure represents 38.9 percent of the $65 million goal and reflects the generosity of 802 contributors who have made it possible to employ 388 new men in 188 local councils. Records continued to show that BOYPOWER-funded staff members are in a large degree responsible for the continued national membership growth.

In addition, gifts from donors have made possible the Maine National High Adventure Area, new facilities at the Mortimer L. Schiff Scout Reservation, a new dining hall at Philmont Ranch, a national leadership development program, a training program for inner-city executives, a paraprofessional training program, the national conservation program (SOAR), and a drug-abuse education program (Reach).

BSA PERIODICALS

The Boy Scouts of America publishes three periodicals in support of the objectives of the BOYPOWER '76 plan.

SCOUTING MAGAZINE Issued six times a year, this magazine brings program aids and stories on Scouting progress to more than 1.6 million adult volunteers. Newly designed during 1972, Scouting Magazine has a broader coverage of unit, council, and national events and serves as a vital communication link with adult Scouters.

BOYS' LIFE This magazine helped introduce the improved Scouting program in 1972. In recognition of the increasing proportion of Cub Scout subscribers, the number of pages devoted to Cub Scout themes was increased. Seven new Boys' Life reprint booklets appeared, five of them featuring Webelos activity badges, one Scoutcraft skills, and the other aids for the handicapped.

EXPLORING Two issues of Exploring magazine were mailed to every registered Explorer in 1972. The magazine's circulation was expanded by action of the national Executive Board to six issues per year beginning in 1973. To finance the publishing of a bimonthly magazine and to send it to every registered Explorer, the annual Explorer registration fee was increased from $1 to $2.50. The magazine is a forum for exchange of information and ideas among young adults and a vehicle for displaying the writing and photographic talents of young people.

ACTIVITIES IN SCOUTING

Activities assisted districts and councils to achieve their BOY-POWER objectives of increased membership by helping to create a desirable climate for boys to join new and existing Scouting units.

CIVIC SERVICE Projects were conducted in keeping with the national program of emphasis "Youth's Responsible Involvement." Councils gave leadership to SOAR, the National Conservation Good Turns, to Operation Reach (drug-abuse prevention program), and to other civic service projects which materially aid the less fortunate in their communities.

SCOUT SHOWS Scouting shows were held in many councils and provided the incentive for boys to "try harder" because they performed before an audience. As income-producing events, Scout shows provide additional income to councils for the expansion of their programs. Units also benefited by the ticket sales commission which enabled them to earn money for Scouting activities.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION Nationally prepared materials aided councils and districts to carry on successful anniversary celebration programs during February 1972. Local anniversary celebration events included troop parents' nights, uniformed church attendance, window displays, shopping center demonstrations, pack blue and gold banquets, rededication ceremonies, report to community programs, and Scouter and Eagle recognition dinners.

In Washington, D.C., 15 outstanding boy representatives from all sections of the Nation made the annual report to the Nation to President Nixon and Members of Congress during this anniversary celebration.

NATION... PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTEST The second national public speaking contest conducted by the Boy Scouts of America was held during the anniversary celebration period with boys representing all 12 of the former regions competing for final scholarships and honors. The 1972 contest, sponsored jointly by the Reader's Digest Association and the BSA and assisted by Toastmasters International, was conducted in 191 local councils throughout the country.

Subject of the speeches was "Youth's Responsible Involvement." Scholarships amounting to $9,000 were awarded to the top 12 winners.

CAMPOREES The most popular activity in councils throughout the country was district and council camporees. More than any other activity, camporees helped troops prepare for the summer camping season and, in some areas, served as a program launching pad for fall activities. Camporees stimulated advancement, encouraged more camp-outs, and gave boys a reason to register and bring their buddies along to join their troops.

OPERATION REACH Operation Reach was launched early in the year. Youth and adult representatives participated in regional training sessions and then returned home to train Scoutmasters and senior patrol leaders and Advisors and presidents. Training was then carried out for Scouts, Explorers, and parents. Operation Reach, its goals and methods, has received widespread praise from the Nation's drug-abuse prevention authorities. The President of the United States awarded the BSA a certificate of appreciation in special recognition of exceptional initiative in establishing Operation Reach, a program that encourages young Americans to find within themselves the resources to decide voluntarily against the taking of drugs.

PROJECT SOAR This national conservation program was continued through 1972. Special emphasis was placed on collections of paper, aluminum, and glass for recycling and on water-oriented learning experiences and action projects.

SCOUTING KEEP AMERICA BEAUTIFUL DAY—APRIL 29 This program, a litter prevention education campaign, was co-sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America, the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., and Keep America Beautiful, Inc. In this massive, 1-day effort, 4 million participants cleaned up 470,000 miles of highways and waterways, 1.33 million acres of park and other public land, and, in the process, collected 1.5 million tons of trash.

Project SOAR was recognized nationally by inclusion in the President's Environmental Awards Program. In addition, awards were presented to the Boy Scouts of America by the Soil Conservation Society of America, the American Forestry Association, the Heddon Hall of Fame, Keep America Beautiful, Inc., and the New York State Association of Sanitary Engineers.

ECOLOGY-CONSERVATION The Boy Scouts of America continued its efforts in ecology. Six pilot ecology workshops were held for teenagers at the Schiff Scout Reservation and at the national headquarters. The Conservation Center in North Brunswick was greatly improved in 1972 and will be a major attraction to tours of school children as it supplements the attraction of the Johnston Museum. Attendance during 1972 on the conservation trail numbered 33,232 youths.

WILLIAM T. HORNADAY AWARD: Hornaday Awards continued to provide an incentive for individual conservation action as well as unit activity. Awards earned during 1972 numbered 77.

CONSERVATION AWARD WINNERS The Santa Clara Council, San Jose, Calif., has been selected as the 1972 Gold Seal Award winner in the U.S. Department of Agriculture Council Conservation Award Program.

Area winners of the Green Seal Award are: Housatonic Council, Derby, Conn.; Susquenango Council, Binghamton, N.Y.; Greater New York Councils, New York, N.Y.; Bucks County Council, Doylestown, Pa.; Old Kentucky Home Council, Louisville, Ky.; Blue Ridge Council, Greenville, S.C.; Choctawhatchee Council, Anniston, Ala.; Blackhawk Area Council, Rockford, Ill.; Three Rivers Council, Logansport, Ind.; Central Ohio Council, Columbus, Ohio; Gamohaven Council, Rochester, Minn.; Ouachita Valley Council, Monroe, La.; Sam Houston Area Council, Houston, Tex.; Columbia Pacific Council, Portland, Oreg.; Los Angeles Area Council, Los Angeles, Calif.; Santa Clara County Council, San Jose, Calif.

THE OUTDOOR PROGRAM

Major changes in Scouting that have developed because of the improved Scouting program are reflected in the outdoor program. For example, boy-led troops and the operation through the troop leaders' council affects a camp-wide program. Advancement opportunities need to be added to fill the needs of Scouts wanting to earn skill awards, and more merit badges will be earned in camp because of new Tenderfoot requirements.

50-MILER AWARDS A growing interest in backpacking is indicated as 62,858 50-Miler Awards were earned and 28,105 Scouts and Explorers received the Historic Trails Award.

SUMMER CAMP ATTENDANCE For the third straight year the percentage of troops attending summer camp increased though the actual number of troops and individual boys camping decreased. More than 60 percent of all troops attended long-term camp with almost 45 percent of all registered Scouts.

Long-Term Camp Attendance and Troops Camping Under Their Own Leadership in 1972

[Figures as of September 1972]

1970 total . . . . .	736,305	45.5		43,005	63.6

NATIONAL STANDARD CAMP RATING A total of 288 council camps were rated as "National Standard Camps." A total of 574 camps were visited. This effort, as well as the inspection plan which was refined in 1971, resulted in better facilities and a more effective camp operation.

NEEDY AND NON-SCOUT CAMPING The number of needy and non-Scouts attending summer camps continues to hold up. In 1972 nearly 48,000 boys attended camp, near the all-time-high figure.

ORDER OF THE ARROW There are more than 300,000 active Order of the Arrow members in the Boy Scouts of America. The Order of the Arrow will assume the full responsibility for the service corps at both locations of the 1973 National Scout Jamboree. In order to bring the Order of the Arrow operation in line with the new management plan, new section boundaries were determined. Plans were begun in 1972 for a west coast conference to be held at the University of California in Santa Barbara in 1973. The conference theme will be "New Horizons of Service."

CAMP PROPERTY REQUIREMENT The trend toward council consolidation and mergers has required the evaluation and integration of the use of some council-owned properties. In addition, the inauguration of the day camping program for Cub Scouting has placed an increased emphasis on adequate close-in property to meet the total year-round outdoor program requirement of local councils.

Local council properties now total 488,000 acres, not including 52,600 acres leased primarily from State and Federal agencies. This property represents an estimated value of over $233 million in camp property plus nearly $38 million in council office headquarters.

HIGH-ADVENTURE PROGRAMS Attendance at all national high-adventure bases was exceptionally good and most operated to capacity. Coed groups attended all bases and the experience with this experimental program was very successful.

In addition to Philmont Scout Ranch, the Maine National High Adventure Area, and the two wilderness canoe bases, two exciting developmental programs were conducted in 1972, one in Florida and the Bahamas where 89 young men and women and their leaders experienced underwater exploring, and the other took place on Mount Rainier with 35 young men and leaders enjoying the thrills of ice and snow mountaineering. Two more opportunities are anticipated for 1974, one for backpacking in the Big Sky Country of Montana and the other for fishing and motorboating in the Land Between the Lakes of Kentucky-Tennessee.

VOLUNTEER TRAINING

The new Scouting training foundation, known as Scoutmaster Cornerstone training, was introduced in 1972. The training includes an acquaintance with the basic Scouting manuals and some fundamentals of basic leadership; a practical 1-day outdoor experience in camping, conservation, cooking, and hiking; and then a weekend session for adults and troop leaders (skills) in an outdoor setting.

Emphasis in volunteer training continued on gearing existing training materials and programs to fit the needs of men and women in low-income areas.

PHILMONT VOLUNTEER TRAINING CONFERENCES A total of 1,600 adult volunteers received training at the Philmont Training Center while nearly 4,000 family members enjoyed the recreational programs provided. The 28 conferences were designed to train men and women in leading other Scouters in a related training experience in their home councils.

SCHIFF VOLUNTEER CONFERENCES Conference rooms at Schiff were overflowing as 660 participants enjoyed the informal atmosphere of the Scout reservation during 16 weekend training conferences.

WOOD BADGE A new syllabus, concentrating on leadership development in all leaders, is the basis of the new Wood Badge training for Scoutmasters. This training is designed to be given to a man early in his Scouting tenure. In 1972 some 3,121 men took part in 81 Wood Badge courses. A rapid expansion in the number of Wood Badge courses is planned in anticipation of making this vital experience available to all Scoutmasters.

NATIONAL CAMPING SCHOOLS Training for key summer camp leaders was provided through 20 national camping schools. Some 2,032 men attended these schools and returned to the more than 600 camps throughout the 50 States to direct the operation of local council camps or to give leadership to camp commissioner service, chaplain, conservation, field sports, aquatics, or camp program.

TROOP LEADER DEVELOPMENT AND CONSERVATION INSTRUCTOR TRAINING Troop leader development was tested for the first time at Schiff and for the second time at Philmont. A total of 809 young men participated in courses at Philmont, with 501 participating at Schiff. Ecology-conservation workshops drew 177 young men to Schiff and 106 to Philmont. These young men have served as instructors in local council courses upon their return to the local council.

BSA-CHARTERED PARTNER RELATIONS

The Boy Scouts of America charters schools, churches and synagogues, service clubs, PTA's, civic organizations, labor unions, military and government agencies, and others as partners of 168,403 Cub Scout packs, Scout troops, and Explorer units.

New unit organizations and funding for inner-city expansion has increased. A program has been organized to help elderly citizens receive service from Cub Scouts, Scouts, and Explorers, and another program provides an opportunity for retired and senior citizens and their organizations to sponsor units. Scouting continues to extend its outreach to the American Indian.

A renewed interest on the part of educators has resulted in numerous school systems across the country adopting Scouting programs for use during a schoolday. Scouting for the handicapped continues to spread with several councils now employing full-time executives to guide and promote this special phase of Scouting.

Spectacular gains were posted once again in law-enforcement Exploring, and support for Scouting units on military bases continued to expand. The number of boys in units related to religious partners continues to increase.

The Boy Scouts of America initiated two new services to better reach and support chartered partners. Plans for these two services and implementation of them are still developing, but Unit Organization Services and Unit Service are expected to prove extremely valuable in the coming years.

MEMBERSHIP STATISTICS

The registration system of the Boy Scouts of America requires that names of each individual boy and adult be on file at the national office. These names provide complete membership records for units, districts, and councils. Through the use of electronic data-processing equipment, monthly, quarterly, and annual reports are prepared. A monthly membership report, showing all membership changes for the month and totals to date for the year, is prepared for each district and council. A copy of this report is mailed to each local council. Regional and national reports are also prepared monthly and distributed to members of regional and national office staffs.

A BOY POWER report, drawn from local council reports submitted to regional management centers, is prepared and published each month by Field Operations. It covers such items as youth members, units, on-time reregistration, top leaders trained, and Boys' Life.

REGIONAL OPERATION

The Charter and Bylaws of the Boy Scouts of America provides that the region is responsible for the achievement of approved goals and for the effective operation of each of its councils. The region is responsible for the proper alignment of councils, for assuring adequate volunteer and professional leadership in each council, and for an effective program for financing each council.

Volunteer task forces, with representatives from all 12 regions, carefully explored all aspects of a more effective execution of this Bylaw provision. As a result of these studies, a new management plan went into effect at the National Council Annual Meeting in Los Angeles in May. The concept, approved by action of the national Executive Board in January 1972, provided for a fundamental change to improve the support and service to all local councils and transferred considerable decisionmaking and action to six new regions.

At the National Council Annual Meeting, officers representing the new regions were elected and installed. Key professional appointees assumed full responsibility at this same time. By December, practically all regional and area committees had been appointed and their members oriented and trained.

MANAGEMENT CENTERS The new regions function as management centers with key volunteer and professional Scouters participating in planning and decisionmaking. The six regions have a clear-cut accountability to the national organization for the achievement of the goals of the Boy Scouts of America and manage a new "area" plan that will more efficiently provide guidance, support, and assistance to local councils.

The names of the six regions and management center locations are as follows: East Central Region, Oak Brook, Ill.; North Central Region, Kansas City, Mo.; Northeast Region, Madison, N.J.; South Central Region, Dallas Tex.; Southeast Region, Atlanta, Ga.; and Western Region, Sunnyvale, Calif.

AREAS Each of the six new regions are divided into areas, natural groupings of councils within the region, largely on the basis of a State, portion of State, combination of States, present and future council boundaries, major market areas, and population.

A total of 28 areas were established, ranging from 3 to 6 per region. Boundary lines and territory included in the 28 areas are shown on the map. The majority of the volunteer positions are at the area level to provide more concentrated volunteer assistance to local councils.

REGIONAL VOLUNTEER STRUCTURE The Regional President is the ranking volunteer in each region and serves on the national Executive Board. Regional Presidents are supported by Area Presidents and by chairmen of regional standing committees. Regional Presidents and Area Presidents for the six regions were elected during the National Council Annual Meeting in Los Angeles in May. Six regional standing committee chairmen with broad responsibilities in council administration, program, manpower resources, communications, finance, and activities were appointed by each Regional President.

A regional committee consisting of all local council representatives (elected by local councils), council presidents, and council commissioners meets annually to elect Regional and Area Presidents. In each region there is a regional board which meets semiannually. It is the regional governing body. A regional cabinet, made up of the regional officers and standing committee chairmen in each region, meets at least quarterly and acts on behalf of the regional board between meetings. Service and support to councils are carried out on an area level by a volunteer organization headed by the Area President.

OBJECTIVE The Management Plan has as its total objective to strengthen the support of the movement to councils and, in turn, to districts and units where the end program product as it is delivered to youth is the truly important thing.

CONSOLIDATIONS AND MERGERS In 1972 there were 11 consolidations and three mergers involving a total of 38 councils. There were 458 councils at the end of the year.

REGIONAL BOUNDARIES

NORTHEAST REGION

The leadership of the new Northeast Region, elected and installed at the National Council Annual Meeting in Los Angeles in May, moved quickly to appoint standing committees. Capable personnel was the key objective in adapting to the new management structure.

Elected as Regional President was John D. Harper, chairman and chief executive officer, Aluminum Company of America, Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. Harper was a Cubmaster in 1948 and served as council vice president and regional executive committee member. The five Area Presidents represent an impressive background in community service, business administration, and Scouting. Youth leaders residing in the region include David J. McKay, Dorchester, Mass., national Explorer vice president; and Kenneth J. Beale, Jarrettsville, Pa., youth member of the national Executive Board.

The first meeting of the Northeast Region was held in San Juan, P.R., October 4-6. More than 1,000 persons attended the sessions which were highlighted by area meetings and workshops.

With the full cooperation and understanding of the councils concerned, several mergers and consolidations were completed in order to serve boys more effectively.

The first major training event was a session for all council Scout executives, held in Boston on June 30.

During the last 7 months of the year, 156 men were approved for career service, and 80 of these men were employed by local councils. Fifty-six paraprofessional positions were filled. During this time span six councils created positions for Exploring executives.

SOUTHEAST REGION

The Southeast Region held its first meeting incident to the National Council Annual Meeting in Los Angeles. During this meeting E. K. Jamison of Atlanta was elected as the first president of the new region.

A major objective of the region during 1972 was the development of a trained volunteer structure within the region. The regional meeting held in November in Atlanta with one thousand persons in attendance placed a primary focus on the development of a trained volunteer organization, both at regional and area levels.

The councils composing the Southeast Region grew from a total membership of 817,697 on January 1 to 858,377 on December 31, a growth of 5 percent. All goals of the region were exceeded except for Scout membership, where 99.11 percent of the goal was attained.

The improved Scouting program was launched in the region with a series of training meetings for professional Scouters and key volunteer trainers conducted during the early fall months.

The region has continued for the second year its coed SCUBA program for Explorers and older Scouts. It will be continued into 1973 as the Florida-Bahama Treasure Hunt.

As a part of its emphasis of making the Scouting program available to all boys, the region conducted HUD-BSA workshops in all six of its areas. With an emphasis on the financial needs of local councils, the region gave leadership to a series of 1-day finance seminars in four of the six areas.

SILVER ANTELOPE AWARDS Award presentations for distinguished service to boyhood were made to the following Scouters: Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, Anniston, Ala.; Charles T. Clayton, Birmingham, Ala.; Harry L. Dethero, Cleveland, Tenn.; Eugene E. Ellis, Mobile, Ala.; O. B. Gorman, Atlanta, Ga.; Clayton R. Hitch, Arlington, Va.; William N. Morris, Jr., Memphis, Tenn.; Alvan F. Tate, Jr., Memphis, Tenn.; and Edward Foss Wilson, Washington, D.C.

NORTH CENTRAL REGION

The North Central Region became operational following the National Council Annual Meeting in Los Angeles and physically moved into new and refurbished facilities in Kansas City in October.

John M. Budd, St. Paul, became Regional President and immediately pulled together a group of men to form the regional cabinet.

There are 52 councils in the new region. The first meeting of Scout executives was held in June, and the regional meeting with over 600 in attendance was held in Omaha in October. Both meetings were designed to train professionals and volunteers in new management techniques to support council operations. During late summer, Scouting improvement seminars were held throughout the region. All members of the professional team, as well as many council leadership training chairmen, were involved.

Plans for 1973 include quarterly meetings of the regional cabinet followed by similar meetings on an area basis involving volunteers at all levels, a camp management session at the Air Force Academy, and three National Camping Schools. The region will hold its first professional training conference in August.

Burlington-Northern, Inc., St. Paul, in cooperation with the Exploring Division, is organizing 100 specialty units in the region. Sixteen paraprofessionals were employed on the Indian Reservations in the region through the cooperation of U.S. Department of Labor grants.

SILVER ANTELOPE AWARDS Henry G. Blanchard, Shawnee Mission, Kans.; Carlos F. Cortes, Mission Hills, Kans.; Roy W. Hawkinson, Minneapolis, Minn.; Vernard E. Lundin, Mankato, Minn.; Russell O. Melland, Jamestown, N. Dak.; Harvey J. Ray, Mountain View, Mo.; and Garland Wilson, Jr., St. Joseph, Mo., were recipients of the region's highest award.

SOUTH CENTRAL REGION

The newly created South Central Region earned the Spencer Award for its BOYPOWER effort in 1972, as did 21 of the 45 councils in the region. The region's 8-percent gain in total boy membership creates a real challenge for the new region in the years ahead.

William P. Clements, Jr., was elected Regional President at a special regional meeting held in conjunction with the National Council Annual Meeting in Los Angeles in May. One hundred and eighty-six persons attended this South Central Regional Meeting. Area Presidents were also elected.

On July 1, the South Central Region established a new, modern management center in Carillon Tower East, Dallas, Tex.

John W. Dupree, regional director, held a very successful regional management training meeting for all management personnel in June in Dallas.

Two hundred and fifty-nine Explorers attended the Explorer presidents' congress in Washington, D.C., in April. Tommy R. Vigil was elected national Explorer vice president.

Seven Wood Badge training courses were held with 288 Scouters attending, and three National Camping Schools were attended by 130 students.

Eighty-three scholarships covering the cost of NEI for new professionals were granted through the A. D. Cochran Memorial Trust Fund. This included all new men from the new region. The South Central Regional Annual Meeting was held at the Astroworld Hotel in Houston in October with 804 Scouters and their wives present.

SILVER ANTELOPE AWARDS The following men were presented Silver Antelope Awards for distinguished service to boyhood: T. Louis Austin, Jr., Dallas, Tex.; Joe R. Coker, Oklahoma City, Okla.; J. Charles Dickson, M. D., Houston, Tex.; Denton Kerr, M.D., Houston, Tex.; Robert J. LaFortune, Tulsa, Okla.; Paul Leonard, Fort Worth, Tex.; Floyd W. Lewis, New Orleans, La.; Warren A. ## WESTERN REGION

The Western Region was organized and staffed following the National Council Annual Meeting in Los Angeles in May 1972. John K. Sloan, Los Angeles, Calif., was elected Regional President.

Some 55.2 percent of all Scouts in the Western Region participated in a long-term camping experience. Camp inspections, conducted by volunteers, showed improved facilities, leadership, program, and safety features. Under the auspices of the Western Region, a six-council study and coordinating committee in the San Francisco Bay area continued its work on United Way relationships and a mutual administrative cooperation plan. The seven Los Angeles Basin councils participated in a joint development committee and in a major market area public relations program.

The first Western Regional Meeting was held in San Francisco in November with over 500 men attending. Workshops, geared especially to train in the new management concept, were received with great enthusiasm.

Three consolidations were brought about to more effectively serve boys in the Western Region. The following councils were affected: San Fernando Valley Council and the Crescent Bay Area Council were consolidated to form the Great Western Council, Van Nuys, Calif. The North Orange Council and the Orange Empire Council were consolidated to form the Orange County Council, Santa Ana, Calif. Arrowhead Area Council and the Riverside Council were consolidated to form the California Inland Empire Council, Riverside, Calif.

SIXTY-FOURTH CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION

[H. Rept. No. 130, 64th Cong., 2d sess.]

FEBRUARY 17, 1916—Referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Gard, from the Committee on the Judiciary, submitting the following report (to accompany H.R. 755).

The Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the bill (H.R. 755) to incorporate the Boy Scouts of America and to protect its insignia, having carefully considered the same, beg leave to submit the following report with the recommendation that the bill do pass.

The Boy Scout movement is not one seeking to promote a juvenile military system, but is intended to supplement and enlarge established modern educational facilities in activities in the great and healthful out of doors where may be the better developed physical strength and endurance, self-reliance, and the powers of initiative and resourcefulness, all for the purpose of establishing through the boys of today the very highest type of American citizenship.

It tends to conserve the moral, intellectual, and physical life of the coming generation and in its immediate results does much to reduce the problem of juvenile delinquency in the cities. The movement has grown rapidly during the past few years until it is now organized in practically every community of 4,000 inhabitants and over and in many small communities of the United States. During the past 2 years Boy Scouts have demonstrated the value of the education and training they received as an auxiliary force in the maintenance of public order and in the administration of first-aid and practical assistance in times of great public emergencies. Their services on the occasion of the Ohio floods, at the Gettysburg reunion, in the inaugural ceremonies of President Wilson and at the recent memorable reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic in Washington attracted nationwide attention and received general commendation particularly from the American National Red Cross and the officials of the Federal and State Governments. The importance and magnitude of its work is such as entitle it to recognition and its work and insignia to protection by Federal incorporation.

The Scout scheme is based upon the methods involved in educating the boy. It is a scheme of placing the boy on honor. In addition to requiring him to live up to a standard or code of laws which insure development of character along proper lines, it requires him to study in order to pass certain tests of qualification. The passing of these various tests is recognized by the award of appropriate badges or medals and insignia.

If any boy can secure these badges without meeting the required tests the badges will soon be meaningless and one of the leading features of the Scout program will be lost. Likewise with the uniform which designates the Scout. At the present time this is protected by the use of insignia: a seal woven or stamped into the cloth. All of these various badges and insignia are at present protected by the patent laws but under the patent laws such protection is available for a limited period only. The passing by Congress of this bill will, it is believed, provide the organization with proper protection for its distinctive insignia, the integrity of which is essential to the maintenance of the movement, and protect it from those who are seeking to profit by the good repute and high standing and popularity of the Scout movement by imitating it in name alone.

The identical language of this bill was incorporated in the bill with amendments thereto, known as H.R. 19907, which was reported from the Committee on the Judiciary on February 3, 1915, with a recommendation that it, as so amended, do pass.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER

For the Year Ended December 31, 1972

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
NORTH BRUNSWICK, NEW JERSEY

GENTLEMEN :

The financial statements of the Boy Scouts of America for the year ended December 31, 1972 are presented herewith. The statements have been examined by Price Waterhouse & Co., and their opinion appears on page 15.

Comments follow with respect to the financial results of operations for the year 1972, and on changes in net assets in the combined Balance Sheets.

FINANCIAL RESULTS FOR THE YEAR 1972

Income (Exhibit II)

Income for 1972 amounted to $13,240,000, an increase of $93,000 over 1971 income of $13,147,000.

Registration and local council fees of $7,228,000 were $18,000 less than the fees received during 1971. Although total membership at December 31, 1972 of 6,525,000 boys and adults was 98,000 greater than the prior year-end, the lower fee receipts reflect a relatively higher number of short-term registrations.

Supply Operations net income totaled $4,548,000, a decrease from 1971 net income of $113,000, despite 1972 net sales of $41,206,000 being greater than 1971 net sales by $1,571,000, or 4.0 percent. Restrictions imposed by the price control regulations were primarily responsible for the lower net income.

Magazine publications resulted in a net loss for 1972 of $322,000, which was $46,000 greater than the 1971 loss of $276,000. Increased postage, paper, and printing costs were the primary factors causing the greater loss, although the loss was reduced by increases in advertising revenue and subscription income amounting to $516,000 over the previous year.

As approved by the Executive Board, increased fees and subscription rates were made effective September 1, 1972:

The Boys' Life subscription rate for members was increased from $2.00 to $2.50 per year (12 issues).

Exploring Magazine was included with the Explorer registration fee, which was increased from $1.00 to $2.50, to cover a year's subscription (6 issues)

Adult registration fees were increased from $2.00 to $2.50, which includes a subscription to Scouting Magazine

Operations of Waite Phillips Properties resulted in $158,000 being made available for Phillips Properties working capital and capital improvement appropriations as compared with $88,000 in 1971.

Expenses (Exhibit II)

Total 1972 expenses of the national and regional offices amounted to $13,227,000, an increase of $749,000, or 6.0 percent, over 1971. The reorganization of the regions during 1972, with the movement of some regional offices and a major movement of personnel, resulted in one-time additional costs amounting to $477,000, which were deferred from 1972 expenses with the anticipation they will be offset by realized savings during 1973.

Appropriations (Exhibit II)

Special purpose appropriations totaled $13,600 for 1972 as compared with $669,000 for 1971. Waite Phillips Properties appropriations amounted to $158,000, which is reserved for working capital, Philmont Camp Development, and other Phillips Properties operations. The remaining operations for the year resulted in a net charge to working capital amounting to $145,000.

COMBINED BALANCE SHEETS

Total combined net assets at December 31, 1972 were $39,326,000 compared with $38,465,000 at December 31, 1971.

Working Funds (Exhibits I and IV)

Total net assets in the Working Funds at December 31, 1972 were $29,291,000, a decrease of $1,845,000 from the prior year-end balance.

The Properties Fund decreased $242,000, primarily the result of the sale of the former Regions Eleven and Twelve office buildings. The only other owned regional office building was that for Region Seven, which was retained in the regional reorganization and is now the headquarters of the East Central Region.

Special appropriations fund balances decreased $572,000 as a result of net disbursements made during the year. There were no additional appropriations during 1972.

The net decrease in Operating Funds during the year of $857,000 resulted primarily from a loan of $700,000 made to BOYPOWER '76 Campaign during the year, plus the charge of $145,000 from net operating results for the year.

Endowment, Regional and Other Funds (Exhibits I and III)

General endowments amounted to $5,008,000 at December 31, 1972, an increase of $496,000 for the year.

Restricted endowments totaled $1,316,000, a net increase of $49,000 for the year.

Regional and Other Funds showed a balance of $3,711,000 at December 31, 1972, an increase of $2,161,000 over December 31, 1971. This increase is principally the result of a net amount of $2,004,000 in advance fees received for the 1973 National Jamboree.

Exhibit III shows the details of additions and deductions for these funds.

The BOYPOWER '76 Campaign had its most productive year in 1972 since its beginning in 1969 with the primary objective of securing funds for adding professional staff in local councils, on a decreasing matching dollar basis, in order to serve more boys and provide an enriched program. At December 31, 1972, pledges received were in excess of $24,000,000. Cash received through December 31, 1972 both at the national office and directly by local councils amounted to $12,407,000 and disbursements totaled $13,572,000. Through Operating Funds, a bank loan of $700,000 was obtained in behalf of the BOYPOWER '76 Campaign, and was added to the $560,000 previously advanced from general funds for payments to local councils in anticipation of payments on pledges.

Total loans payable to banks at December 31, 1972 amounted to $1,700,000, with the funds used for the BOYPOWER '76 Campaign and for financing increased inventories of the Supply Operations on a short-term basis.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1--Accounting Policies:

Following is a summary of the significant accounting policies of the Boy Scouts of America:

The accompanying financial statements combine the accounts and the results of operations and activities of the National Headquarters, the Philtower Building, the Philmont Ranch, Camp and Training Center, and the Tulsa Parking Garage.

Assets and liabilities and revenues and expenses are recognized on the accrual basis of accounting.

Short-term investments and marketable securities are carried at cost. Gains and losses are recognized when securities are sold.

Supply Division inventories are carried at the lower of first-in, first-out cost or market.

Land, buildings and equipment are stated at cost or, if acquired by gift, at donor's value at date of gift. Depreciation on revenue producing assets purchased by the Boy Scouts of America is provided by charges to operations over the estimated useful life of the related assets.

Registration and council fees are recorded as income in the applicable membership period; subscription and advertising revenues are reflected in income when publications are issued.

The Boy Scouts of America has a qualified contributory Retirement Plan covering its employees and employees of local councils. Payments to the Trustee of the Plan are sufficient to provide for the current service cost and a portion of the unfunded prior service cost. Pension costs are funded as they accrue.

Report of Independent Accountants

To the Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America

In our opinion, the accompanying combined balance sheets, the related summaries of combined income, expenses and appropriations and the statements of changes in funds (exhibits III and IV) present fairly the financial position of Boy Scouts of America at December 31, 1972 and 1971, the results of operations and changes in fund balances for the years then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied. Our examinations were made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

THE EXPLORER CODE

As an Explorer—

I believe that America's strength lies in her trust in God and in the courage and strength of her people.

I will, therefore, be faithful in my religious duties and will maintain a personal sense of honor in my own life.

I will treasure my American heritage and will do all I can to preserve and enrich it.

I will recognize the dignity and worth of my fellowmen and will use fair play and goodwill in dealing with them.

I will acquire the Exploring attitude that seeks the truth in all things and adventure on the frontiers of our changing world.

THE SCOUT OATH OR PROMISE

On my honor I will do my best
To do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law;
To help other people at all times;
To keep myself physically strong,
mentally awake, and morally straight.

THE SCOUT LAW

A Scout is

TRUSTWORTHY

A Scout's honor is to be trusted. If he were to violate his honor by telling a lie or by cheating or by not doing exactly a given task, when trusted on his honor, he may be directed to hand over his Scout badge.

LOYAL

He is loyal to all to whom loyalty is due, his Scout leader, his home and parents and country.

HELPFUL

He must be prepared at any time to save life, help injured persons, and share the home duties. He must do at least one Good Turn to somebody every day.

FRIENDLY

He is a friend to all and a brother to every other Scout.

COURTEOUS

He is polite to all, especially to women, children, old people, and the weak and helpless. He must not take pay for being helpful or courteous.

KIND

He is a friend to animals. He will not kill nor hurt any living creature needlessly, but will strive to save and protect all harmless life.

OBEDIENT

He obeys his parents, Scoutmaster, patrol leader and all other duly constituted authorities.

CHEERFUL

He smiles whenever he can. His obedience to orders is prompt and cheery. He never shirks nor grumbles at hardship.

THRIFTY

He does not wantonly destroy property. He works faithfully, wastes nothing, and makes the best use of his opportunities. He saves his money so that he may pay his own way, be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects. He may work for pay, but must not receive tips for courtesies or Good Turns.

BRAVE

He has the courage to face danger in spite of fear and to stand up for the right against the coaxings of friends or the jeers or threats of enemies, and defeat does not down him.

CLEAN

He keeps clean in body and thought; stands for clean speech, clean sport, clean habits; and travels with a clean crowd.

REVERENT

He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.
