ABSTRACT

In 1971, ECS conducted a survey of the basic legal structures and responsibilities of state coordinating or governing agencies and public institutional governing boards. This is a November-December 1974 update and expansion of that survey. It includes the 50 states and the District of Columbia. Part A covers the structure of the central or statewide coordinating/governing boards. Part B shows the basic responsibilities of these agencies. Part C concerns the structure of the central coordinating/governing boards, the public institutional, and the multicampus governing boards. (Author/KE)

In This Issue:

In 1971, ECS did a survey of the basic legal structures and responsibilities of state coordinating or governing agencies and public institutional governing boards. In response to requests from a number of states and individuals, the survey was updated and expanded in November-December 1974, and includes all 50 states and the District of Columbia. The areas covered in the survey, with page references, are summarized.

SURVEY OF THE STRUCTURE OF STATE COORDINATING OR GOVERNING BOARDS AND PUBLIC INSTITUTIONAL AND MULTICAMPUS GOVERNING BOARDS OF POSTSECONDARY EDUCATION - AS OF JANUARY 1, 1975.

Nancy M. Berve
Associate Director
ECS Higher Education Services

Part A: Page 298

Part A covers the structure of the statewide, or central, coordinating/governing boards. This section includes: (1) whether there is an office of secretary of education, (2) the type of agency - coordinating, governing or single board, (3) when the agency was established and amended, (4) whether the agency is statutorily or constitutionally based, (5) if the agency is a cabinet department, (6) whether the agency is the "1202 state commission" and if so if it was designated by statute or by the governor and (7) the manner of appointment and term of office of the executive officer.

...ary institutions; (2) if the agency has statutory responsibility for budget review and recommendation for public institutions, or only as a matter of policy; and (3) whether the agency has such responsibilities for program review and approval for public institutions.

Part C: Page 318

Part C concerns the structure of both the central (statewide) coordinating and/or governing boards and the public institutional and multicampus governing boards and is divided into three sections: Section C(1), page 318, includes the legal bases, number of institutions and number of full- and part-time staff; Section C(2), page 334, shows the number of board members, whether elected or appointed, for those appointed the representation and term of office; and Section C(3), page 349, indicates the number of student and faculty members on these boards, their manner of appointment, whether statutory, voting or nonvoting and term of office.

Part B: Page 308

Part B shows the basic responsibilities of these agencies: (1) whether the agency has statutory responsibility for planning/coordination, or conducts these activities as a matter of policy, for public senior, junior, vocational, private or proprie-

<sup>5</sup> The Regents have statutory responsibility to annually approve, jointly with the State Board of Public Instruction, the area schools and community colleges in order for them to receive state aid; the board also plays a small role in the review and recommendation of their budgets.

<sup>6</sup> A memorandum is being developed whereby vocational-technical programs in higher education institutions and area vocational schools will be coordinated as a system rather than planned individually. Also cooperative arrangements are being developed among public and private institutions.

<sup>20</sup> Under the statute creating the Board of Governors, a board of trustees was provided for each of the 16 institutions, composed of 12 members and the president of the student body ex officio; duties and responsibilities are largely delegated by the Board of Governors.

<sup>21</sup> Approximately half are engaged in services which are often not supplied by central administration, such as educational television, student loans, computer services.

<sup>22</sup> 118 persons responsible for administering the community colleges; remainder are engaged in supplying services customarily supplied at the institutional level.

<sup>23</sup> In addition, there is one state-affiliated university (University of Cincinnati), 5 community colleges governed by individual county boards, 17 technical institutes governed by boards representing local school taxing districts, and 3 state general and technical colleges with appointed boards of trustees.

<sup>24</sup> There are 14 public junior colleges — 8 state supported and 6 local and state supported — each with its own governing board.

<sup>2,5</sup> Each of 13 community colleges has its own locally elected governing board; the staff shown here for the state board is the community college division staff.

<sup>2,7</sup> State Board of Education, which functions within the Department of Education, and its Council of Higher Education serves as the state higher education supervisory, regulatory and coordinating agency. The Board of State College and University Directors was created in 1969 to plan and coordinate the development of the system of state-owned institutions, subject to the regulation of the state board; staff shown here is for the Office of Higher Education only.

<sup>2*</sup>The non-ex officio members of the boards of the state colleges, University of South Carolina, the Medical University, and South Carolina State College are elected by the legislature; Of the 13 board members of Clemson, 6 are elected by the legislature and 7 are life members; of the board members of Winthrop and The Citadel, 7 are elected by the legislature and the remainder are alumni.

<sup>29</sup>Legislation provides that the president of the student bodies of these institutions may serve as a nonvoting, ex officio member of the board, which is discretionary with the board. Winthrop is the only institution with such a student representative and also has a faculty member serving nonvoting and elected by the faculty. These student and faculty representatives are not included in the total number of members above for Winthrop.

<sup>10</sup>The immediate past commissioner of education serves as a regent; one member of the university board is appointed by the governor but not subject to confirmation.
