ABSTRACT

Developed to accompany the publication entitled "Teacher Training Bibliography: An Annotated Listing of Materials for Bilingual Bicultural Education," this guide contains an alphabetical listing by state of institutions of higher learning providing courses, programs, degrees or certification plans for teachers in bilingual bicultural education. Information gathered from the various state departments of education and many individual institutions relates to the academic year 1974-1975 and may be used as a guide for probable offerings during 1975-1976. An address and a contact name are given for each institution, in addition to a capsule description of course offerings at the institution. This information will also serve as a guide to the direction of the various institutions' programs in the future and as an overall indicator of trends in programs training teachers for the bilingual bicultural classroom. At present they range from many courses in ESL to one doctorate in Bilingual Multicultural Education. (Author/AM)

FOREWORD

This Guide to Teacher Education Programs for Bilingual Bicultural Education in U.S. Colleges and Universities was developed by the research staff of the Dissemination Center for Bilingual Bicultural Education to accompany the publication entitled Teacher Training Bibliography: An Annotated Listing of Materials for Bilingual Bicultural Education.

It is the hope of DCBBE staff that the combined use of these publications will assist educators in the conceptualization and effective implementation of sound bilingual bicultural teacher education programs in the United States. The Center will welcome further information from the field. Please forward such information to Joanna F. Chambers, Research Librarian, Dissemination Center for Bilingual Bicultural Education.

INTRODUCTION

The information to be found in this listing is the result of inquiries to all state departments of education and many institutions of higher learning.

Information is arranged alphabetically by state. The name of each institution known to have a related program is followed by the address of the institution and, in most cases, a name and address to contact for further information. A capsule description of the courses and programs offered during the academic year 1974-1975 is included. This information will also serve as a guide to the direction of the various institutions' programs in the future and as an overall indicator of trends in programs training teachers for the bilingual, bicultural classroom. At present they range from many courses in the teaching of English as a second language to one full doctorate in Bilingual, Multicultural Education. It is hoped that by the time this list is published, many new or expanded programs will be available and that a new listing with the increased information will be necessary.

Special thanks to Dana Law and Peter Moore, local students, for the work they did in the preparation of this listing.
