ABSTRACT

The publication brings job titles in the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, Third Edition, into conformance with equal employment legislation and with recent administration policy statements and instructions which prohibit the use of sex- and/or age-referent language by the public employment service. Job titles that have sex and/or age identification are, wherever possible, revised in favor of titles that do not connote age or sex. Nearly 3,500 job titles have been revised and are listed in the publication, including approximately 2,200 base job titles, 130 defined related job titles, 1,100 undefined related job titles, three master definition titles, and 60 term titles. Five different job title data arrangements are provided: (1) an alphabetical listing by current Dictionary of Occupational Titles, Third Edition, job titles which are affected by this revision; (2) a numerical listing by the nine-digit codes of the Dictionary job titles affected by this listing; (3) an alphabetical listing by revised job titles; (4) an alphabetical listing by current Dictionary of Occupational Titles, Third Edition, master definitions and term titles which are affected by this listing; and (5) an alphabetical listing by revised master definition and term titles. PREFACE

This publication brings job titles listed in the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, Third Edition, into conformance with equal employment legislation such as the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, and with recent administration policy statements and instructions on the same subject. Included in the legislation, policy statements, and instructions is language which prohibits the use of sex-and/or age-referent language by the public employment service. As a result of these prohibitions, it is necessary to provide the employment service and other public and private users of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles with revised job titles to replace existing Dictionary job titles now considered to be potentially sex and/or age discriminatory. This will be accomplished by the publication of this document, in which Dictionary job titles that have sex and/or age identification are, wherever possible, revised in favor of titles that do not connote age or sex.

Nearly 3,500 Dictionary of Occupational Titles, Third Edition, job titles have been revised and are listed in this publication, including approximately 2,200 base job titles, 130 defined related job titles, 1,100 undefined related job titles, 3 master definition titles, and 60 term titles.

These job title revisions were developed by the staff of the North Carolina Occupational Analysis Field Center and reviewed and modified by Susan Martinez, under the supervision and direction of Arden Nelsen of the Division of Occupational Analysis of the U.S. Employment Service, Manpower Administration. Helpful review, advice, and job title suggestions were provided by the Office of the Solicitor; the Women's Bureau and the Wage and Hour Division of the Employment Standards Administration; and the Division of Equal Employment Opportunity of the Manpower Administration.

INTRODUCTION

The job title revisions in this publication supersede those job titles in the third edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles to which they correspond. These revised titles should be used in all instances where third edition Dictionary job titles are used or cited.

With the publication of this release, sex and/or age connotive language in third edition Dictionary job titles should no longer be used. All publications issued hereafter which contain third edition Dictionary job titles and codes will reflect the revised job titles listed in this publication rather than the sex and/or age linked titles they replace.

This publication should be used in conjunction with Volumes I and II of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, Third Edition, to identify revised job titles which replace Dictionary titles having sex and/or age connotations. Depending on the extent of local office needs, it may be used to make direct corrections in the Dictionary volumes, or as a ready desk reference. To facilitate easy and flexible use, five different job title data arrangements are provided:

1. An alphabetical listing by current Dictionary of Occupational Titles, Third Edition, job titles which are affected by this revision,
2. A numerical listing by the 9-digit codes of the Dictionary job titles affected by this listing,
3. An alphabetical listing by revised job titles,
4. An alphabetical listing by current Dictionary of Occupational Titles, Third Edition master definitions and term titles which are affected by this listing, and
5. An alphabetical listing by revised master definition and term titles.

Base, defined related, and undefined related job titles, master definitions, and term titles were revised. Alternate job titles, which number in the several thousands, and job title references within job definitions were not revised at this time, due to the prohibitive printing costs and amount of staff time that would have been required. However, alternate job titles and title references within job definitions which require revision will be changed in the fourth edition of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, planned for publication in 1976. Similarly, no changes to the 9-digit Dictionary codes were attempted at this time. Code revisions will also be made in the fourth edition of the Dictionary.

PRINCIPAL JOB TITLE REVISIONS

Generally, the primary job title revisions include the following type of changes:

1. Age identifying language: language such as "boy," "girl," "junior," or "senior" has been eliminated from Dictionary titles; e.g., BUS BOY (hotel & rest.) 311.878-010 was changed to DINING ROOM ATTENDANT (hotel & rest.) and JUNIOR EXECUTIVE (any ind.) 189.168-014 was changed to EXECUTIVE TRAINEE (any ind.) 189.168-014.

2. Sex stereotyped language: with certain exceptions, language such as "man," "woman," or "lady" and suffixes that denote sex, such as "-ess" have been removed from Dictionary job titles and the titles changed to neuter titles; e.g., PUBLIC RELATIONS MAN (profess. & kin.) I 165.068-018 changed to PUBLIC RELATIONS PRACTITIONER (profess. & kin.) I 165.068-018, or SHOE REPAIRMAN (per. ser.) 365.381-014 changed to SHOE REPAIRER (per. ser.) 365.381-014. Excepted titles include those:
 - a. For which sex is a bonafide occupational requirement; e.g. the jobs of LEADING LADY (amuse. & rec.) 150.048-010, LEADING MAN (amuse. & rec.) 150.048-010, and JUVENILE (amuse. & rec.) 150.048-010, and
 - b. Whose titles are fixed by legislation, international treaties, or other binding legal agreements, such as in the cases of MASTER, SHIP (water trans.) 197.168-026, ABLE SEAMAN (water trans.) 911.884-010 and other marine occupational titles which are identified both by United States Codes and international treaties, or MASSEUR (per. ser.) and MASSEUSE (per. ser.) 344.878-010 whose sexual duality has been established by an administrative ruling.
3. Elimination of "MASTER": with the exception of those job titles covered by legislation or other binding legal agreements, as discussed above in 2. b, job titles including the word "MASTER" have been changed to eliminate this discriminatory word. For example, YARDMASTER (r.r. trans.) 184.168-298 has been changed to YARD MANAGER (r.r. trans.) 184.168-298 and JOBMAS-TER (clock & watch) 609.130-018 has been changed to WATCH MANUFACTURING SUPERVISOR (clock & watch) 609.130-018.
4. Dual male/female job titles for certain jobs: for certain jobs, no meaningful neuter titles could be developed. In these cases, dual male/female job titles are provided and both must be used or cited. The revised titles HOST/HO-STE-SS and WAITER/WAITRESS fall into this category.
5. Revision of Dictionary job titles FOREMAN and DRAFTSMAN: these two titles have been changed to SUPERVISOR and DRAFTER respectively, in all job titles in which they appear.
6. Revision of Dictionary job title SALESMAN: this title has been changed to SALES AGENT; SALES ASSOCIATE; or SALES REPRESENTATIVE in all job titles in which it has appeared. The specific job title revision chosen is based on the nature of the individual job and/or possible alternate titles already applied to the job.

IDENTIFYING CHARACTERISTICS USED IN THIS PUBLICATION

Certain standardized codes are used in this publication to identify job titles for various purposes. These include numerical suffix codes and the letter codes used to identify various types of job titles.

The suffix code is a 3-digit number appended to the third edition Dictionary of Occupational Titles 6-digit code. The suffix code is intended to provide a numerical differentiation between several individual Dictionary job titles which have the same 6-digit code. Each base and defined related job title has its own 3-digit Suffix Code.

In the column labeled "Type of Title," each job title is identified by one of five single or double letter codes. These letter codes translate as:

- B - Base Job Title
- DR - Defined Related Job Title
- UR - Undefined Related Job Title
- M - Master Definition Title
- T - Term Title

An explanation of the various types of titles is contained in the introduction to the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, Third Edition, Volume I, pages xx-xxii.

EFFECTS OF HYPHENS ON ALPHABETIZATION IN THIS PUBLICATION

In the Dictionary of Occupational Titles job titles are letter alphabetized, i.e., the entire job title is considered as a single word for purposes of alphabetization. However, the listings in this publication were arranged and printed using a computer that is programmed to recognize hyphens as letters. The computer assigns hyphens to precede all other letters in the alphabet. As a result, job titles are listed in this publication in a slightly different alphabetical arrangement than in the Dictionary. For example, in this document in the alphabetical listing by current Dictionary titles, DE-ICER REPAIRMAN, PNEUMATIC (rubber goods) 759.884-042, which appears on page 192 of Volume I of the Dictionary precedes DEALER-CONTACT MAN (profess. & kin.) 165.068-010, which is found on page 189 of Volume I. However, only a small percent of the job titles listed are affected by this difference, and most instances are readily observable and easily recognized.
