ABSTRACT

Forms filed annually by private foundations with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), namely the Return of Private Foundation Exempt from Income Tax, 990-PF, and the Annual Report of Private Foundation, 990-AR, contain valuable information which may reveal the scope and purpose of a foundation's past grants. This is the only reliable way to ascertain the foundation's areas of interest. This information is available directly through the IRS, the Foundation Directory, the Foundation Grants Index, and the Foundation Center Source Book Profiles. Included in this paper is a list pinpointing information of importance to grant seekers available on the 990-PF and AR forms, and exactly where on the forms this information can be found. Sample forms are included. (MBR)

All organisations which the Internal Revenue Service has designated "Private Foundations" are required to file I.R.S. forms 990-AR and 990-PF. annually. Copies of these forms are available for the public's inspection at the national and regional collections of The Foundation Center and copies may also be purchased directly from the Internal Revenue Service. These forms contain a great deal of information which is invaluable to the grant-seeker, and a careful examination of these forms can reveal the scope and purpose of a foundation's past grants.

Unlike several governmental agencies, private foundations do not usually invite grant applications for specifically announced programs; the only reliable way to ascertain which fields are of interest to a particular foundation is to examine the grants which it has awarded in the past.

There are several sources of information on private foundations which can be consulted as a preliminary to an examination of the 990s. Since not many private foundations publish annual reports, a grant-seeker must rely on information which organisations such as The Foundation Center has gathered and made available for dissemination. Among the published sources that a grant-seeker might wish to consult are the following publications of The Foundation Center:

The Foundation Directory: gives brief information on approximately the largest three thousand foundations. The criteria for inclusion in the directory are assets of over one million dollars and/or grants paid of over one hundred thousand dollars. Grant applications information, which is not available in many other sources, is given for many of the foundations included.

The Foundation Grants Index: records on a bimonthly basis

(in Foundation News) and cumulates annually, grants of at least five thousand dollars by Cooperating foundations.

Unfortunately, only a small number of foundations cooperate with The Foundation Center, and thus only a small number are included in this work. (The 1977 cumulative issue included grants from only approximately 340 foundations).

Foundation Center Source Book Profiles: gives in-depth information on the largest private foundations, including an analysis of the grants of each foundation. Grant.
application information is provided for most foundations included in this work. The criteria for inclusion in the Foundation Center Source Book Profiles is grants paid of at least two hundred thousand dollars.

Each of these works has a subject index which will aid a grant-seeker in the identification of foundations which need to be further researched prior to the submission of a proposal.

The following tables along with the blank Internal Revenue Service forms will pinpoint the information of importance to grant-seekers available on the forms and exactly where on the forms this information can be found.

Instructions

Da:

A. Annual Report.—An annual report is required from the foundation managers (as defined in section 4946(b)) of every organization which is a private foundation, including a nonexempt trust described in section 4947(a)(1) which is treated as-a private foundation, having at least $5,000 of assets at any time during a-taxable year. A private foundation may use this form for its annual reporting requirements.

If you prefer not to use this form, you may prepage the report in printed, typewritten or any other form you choose, provided it readily and legibly discloses the information required by section 6056 and the regulations thereunder.

The annual report is in addition to and not in lieu of submitting the information required on Form 990–PF under section 6033.

B. Where and When to File.-

 Tax-exempt private foundation.—File the report at the time and place specified for filing Form 990-PF. Return of Private Foundation Exempt from Income Tax.

(2) Nonexempt trust described in section 4947 (a)(1) and treated as a private foundation.— File the report at the time and place specified for filing Form 5227, Return of Nonexempt Charitable or Split-Interest Trust Treated as a Private Foundation under section 4947(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

C. Public Inspection of Private Foundation's Annual Reports.—As a foundation manager, you must make the annual report required by section 6056 available at the principal office of the foundation for inspection during regular business hours by any citizen who so requests within 180 days after publication of notice of its availability; or, if you choose, you may furnish a copy free of charge to such persons requesting inspection, provided these persons do so at the time and manner prescribed in section 6104(d) and, the regulations thereunder.

The notice must be published not later than the day prescribed for filing the annual report (determined with regard to any extensions of time for filing), in a newspaper having general circulation in the county in which the principal office of the private foundation is located. The notice must state that the annual report of the private foundation is available at its principal office during regular business hours for inspection by any citizen who so requests within 180 days after the date of the publication. It must also show the address of the private foundation's principal office and the name of its principal manager. A private foundation may designate in addition to its principal office, or (if the foundation has no principal office or none other than the residence of a substantial contributor or foundation manager) instead of such office, any other location where its annual report is available.

Signature of individual or firm preparing the report

The term "newspaper having general circulation" shall include any newspaper or journal which is permitted to publish statements in satisfaction of State statutory requirements relating to transfer of title to real estate or other similar legal notices.

A copy of the notice must be attached to the annual report filed with the Internal-Revenue Service. Because IRS also makes the annual report available for public inspection under section 6104(d), the report and any attachments should be of such quality that they can be reproduced photographically.

A private foundation which has terminated its status as such under section 507(b)(1)(A), by distributing all its net assets to one or more public charities without retaining any right, title or interest in such assets, does not have to publish notice of availability of its annual report or furnish such report to the public for the taxable year in which it so terminates (Reg. 1.507—2(a)(6)). Be sure to check box on page 2.

D. Signature and Verification.—The report must be signed by the foundation manager.

E. List of States.—A private foundation is required to attach to its Form 990-PF a list of all States:

(1) to which the organization reports in any fashion concerning its organization, assets, or activities, and

(2) with which the organization has registered, (or which it has otherwise notified in any manner) that it intends to be, or is a charitable organization or that it is or intends to be, a holder of property devoted to a charitable purpose.

F. Furnishing of Copies to State Officers; Listing of States.—If the organization has at least $5,000 in assets at any time during the year the foundation managers must furnish a copy of this annual report to the Attorney General (or his/her designate) of (1) each State listed for Form 990-PF above, (2) the State in which the principal office of the foundation is located, and (3) the State in which the foundation was incorporated or organized. Such report must be furnished at the same time it is sent to the Internal Revenue Service. In addition, the foundation managers shall provide upon request a copy of the annual report to the Attorney General or other appropriate State officer of any other State. The foundation manager shall also attach to the report a copy of the Form 990-PF (or Form 5227 for a 4947(a)(1) trust) and a copy of the Form 4720 (if any) filed by the foundation with the Internal Revenue Service for the year.
