Amend the title so as to read: "A bill to provide for improvements in veterans' employment and education programs."

INTRODUCTION

On March 10, 1987, the Honorable Wayne Dowdy, chairman of the Subcommittee on Education, Training and Employment, introduced H.R. 1504, a bill to extend and authorize additional funding for the Veterans' Job Training Act (VJTA).

The Subcommittee on Education, Training and Employment held a hearing on March 18, 1987, to review VJTA and determine if further changes in the program, in addition to those provided under H.R. 1504 as introduced, would be necessary to maximize the effectiveness of the program. Witnesses included: Mr. Mark Moseley, President, Mark Moseley's Travel accompanied by Mr. Paul Lieberman and Mr. John P. Clark; Mr. Jack Radtke, Urban Revitalization, Inc. of America; Mr. Thomas H. Dyson, Executive Director, Mississippi Employment Security commission accompanied by Mr. Robert H. Morgan; Mr. Paul S. Egan, The American Legion, accompanied by Mr. Dennis K. Rhoades; Mr. James Bourie, AMVETS; Mr. Ronald W. Drach, Disabled American Veterans; Mr. Richard W. Johnson, The Non-Commissioned Officers Association of the USA; and Mr. Robert Moran, Paralyzed Veterans of America. Also testifying were: Mr. Gordon Thorson, VFW, accompanied by Mr. Robert Jones; Mr. Richard F. Weidman, Vietnam Veterans of America; Mr. Grady Horton, Veterans Administration, accompanied by Dr. Dennis R. Wyant; and Mr. Donald E. Shasteen, Department of Labor.

The Subcommittee on Education, Training and Employment met on June 3, 1987, and unanimously recommended H.R. 1504, as amended, to the full committee. On June 10, 1987, the full committee approved H.R. 1504, as amended, and ordered the bill reported.

SUMMARY OF H.R.1504 AS AMENDED

The reported bill would:

1. Extend the deadline by which a veteran must apply to participate in the on-the-job training program for Vietnam Era and Korean Conflict veterans established under VJTA from July 2, 1987, to September 30, 1990.
2. Extend the deadline by which a veteran participant in VJTA must be enrolled in a job training program from January 2, 1988, to March 30, 1991.
3. Authorize appropriations of $30 million for fiscal year 1987, and $60 million for fiscal years 1988, 1989, and 1990 for the VJTA program.
4. Establish a program of employability training and counseling for VJTA participants in order to assist these veterans in finding, applying for, and successfully participating in a suitable program of job training.
5. Require the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs and the Secretary of Labor to conduct an in-depth analysis of the VJTA program.
6. Require the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs to conduct a study to determine, among other things, the number of veterans unemployed as a result of permanent closure of a plant or other facility or any substantial portion of such a facility.
7. Revise the funding process for the State approving agencies (SAAs).
8. Expand the Commission on Veterans' Education Policy to include the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Force Management and Personnel as an ex officio member.

BACKGROUND

Public Law 98-77, the Veterans' Job Training Act of 1983, established a program of job training assistance to relieve unemployment among Korean conflict and Vietnam Era veterans. This program, popularly referred to as VJTA, was subsequently extended and improved by Public Laws 98-543, 99-108, and 99-238. H.R. 1504 would improve, extend, and authorize additional funding for this very successful program.

The goal of VJTA is to address the problem of severe and continuing unemployment among certain groups of veterans by providing payments to defray the cost of training to employers who hire and train long-term unemployed veterans. Since the inception of the program, over 478,000 veterans have been certified and recertified to participate in VJTA. Over 48,000 have been placed in jobs, and more than 72,000 employers have been approved for participation.

On September 25, 1986, the Veterans' Administration submitted the supplementary report to an extensive study regarding VJTA, in accordance with Senate Report 98-275, which called for an evaluation of the program. The study was conducted under contract by Centaur Associates, Inc. This final report (House Committee Print 12, Committee on Veterans' Affairs, 99th Congress, December 1, 1986) which evaluated the impact of VJTA, concluded that the program has produced statistically significant positive effects on the employment rates and earning levels of participating veterans. These positive effects experienced by participants are shared by both the completers of the program and those who did not complete their job training programs. Clearly, VJTA is accomplishing its goal of reestablishing long-term unemployed veterans in our nation's work force.

In testimony before the Subcommittee on Education, Training and Employment, Administration witnesses stated that because national unemployment is down, there is no need to extend the Veterans' Job Training Act. The Committee is pleased that many veterans have reentered the labor force. The fact that others have found work is small comfort, however, to those 380,000 veterans of the Vietnam Era who were still looking for work in May of this year. Their crisis continues and the nation has a responsibility to assist those who have served our country with distinction during times of conflict. Additionally, Department of Labor statistics indicate that fully 26 percent of dislocated workers are veterans and many studies show that one-third to one-half of homeless men have served in the Armed Forces. The Congress is now focusing on ways to assist those in both of these groups as they struggle to reenter the work force. VJTA has proven its effectiveness and should be extended and adequately funded so that this valuable program can continue to assist unemployed veterans in their efforts to find meaningful employment.

DISCUSSION OF THE BILL

Short Title

Section 1 of H.R. 1504, as reported by the Committee, provides that this Act may be cited as the "Veterans' Employment and Education Amendments of 1987."

Extension of Time Periods for Application and Initiation of Training

Under current law, VJTA terminates for new enrollments on July 2, 1987, and participants must be in a program of job training by January 2, 1988. Section 2 of H.R. 1504, as reported, would extend the date by which a veteran must apply for participation to September 30, 1990 and extend the deadline by which a VJTA participant must be on the job to March 30, 1991.

Witnesses testifying before the Subcommittee on Education, Training and Employment, both in Washington and at two field hearings, were unanimous, with the exception of Administration witnesses, in their support for an extension of the Veterans' Job Training Act. As pointed out by the witness for the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, "VJTA is the only veterans employment and training program remaining on the books and, most importantly, VJTA is a proven success at providing a much needed service."

The effectiveness of VJTA is confirmed in the September 1986 evaluation of the program conducted by Centaur Associates which, in the following paragraph, summarizes the merits of VJTA:

VJTA has produced statistically significant positive impacts upon the employment rates and the earnings levels of participating veterans in the short-run and in the long-run. These positive impacts experienced by participants are shared, in different ways, by both the completer and drop out subgroups.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics indicates that in April of this year, 381,000 Vietnam Era veterans were unemployed and looking for work. This is an increase of 11,000 veterans unemployed as compared to April 1986. For those veterans in the age group 30-34, the April 1987 unemployment rate was 9.8 percent. Those in the same age group who did not serve in the Armed Forces were unemployed at the much lower rate of 5.0 percent. This disparity in the unemployment rate between veterans and non-veterans is particularly alarming, as is the overall increase in the number of unemployed veterans since last year. Additionally, the Veterans' Administration's storefront counseling centers, the Vet Centers, report that over 40 percent of the veterans seeking help from that program are experiencing employment difficulties. Clearly, veterans' need for employment assistance continues, and the program established under the Veterans' Job Training Act has proven to be an effective means of meeting veterans' employment needs.

Witnesses testifying before the Subcommittee agreed that a major difficulty with VJTA has been its on-again, off-again status. The witness for the Vietnam Veterans of America stated, "This perpetual uncertainty of program life is seen by VVA as one of the primary weaknesses of the VJTA program. As each funding cycle termination and expiration of authorization has approached, or been reached, employer/job developer relationships have slipped, veteran clients have become discouraged, employers have lost faith, and employment program managers have redirected their attention and resources elsewhere." It was also pointed out by The American Legion witness that, "Yearly extensions and underfunding have lengthened the time it has taken to develop the confidence of employers and to refine program operations."

VJTA is an effective employment program which has put over 48,000 long-term unemployed veterans back to work. The need for the program continues and the Committee feels that a three year extension will enhance VJTA by providing program continuity and credibility.

Authorization of Appropriations

Section 3 of the reported bill would authorize the appropriation of $30 million for fiscal year 1987 and $60 million for each of fiscal years 1988, 1989, and 1990. All funds would be available through September 30, 1992.

The Subcommittee held hearings on VJTA in Galesburg, Illinois, and Schererville, Indiana on June 15, 1987. Employers who testified at the hearings had high praise for VJTA and for the veterans they had hired under the program. They encouraged the continuation of VJTA and indicated they would hire another veteran under the program, but they strongly suggested that adequate funding be provided for VJTA. It was pointed out that employers want to fill openings, when they occur, as quickly as possible. They can not and will not wait months to fill a position with a VJTA participant. As with most job programs, VJTA has gone through a period of development since its implementation in 1983, as the employer community has become aware of the program and gained confidence in it. In order to maintain that confidence, the Committee feels that a three year authorization of funds will enable the appropriation process to keep up with the funding needs of VJTA.

VJTA is a cost effective program that deserves adequate funding. In testimony before the Subcommittee, the witness for the Disabled American Veterans pointed out, "Using 1985 as a base year, the report [Centaur] shows that participants averaged $11,800 per annum in wages for 1985 and this resulted in $41,595,000 paid into the Social Security Trust Fund. Using the same base, these individuals will have paid approximately $77,779,000 in federal income taxes. Between public assistance savings, Social Security and income taxes, the Treasury gains almost $132 million." These statistics demonstrate that VJTA is not a drain on the budget. It is a way to increase revenues and put veterans back into the work force. A VJTA employee told the Subcommittee during the field hearing in Galesburg, Illinois, "I feel that I am no longer a tax burden, but a tax payer now. By paying Federal and State taxes I feel that I can maybe contribute to help train another veteran through this program with my tax dollars."

Training and Employment Studies and Reports

Section 4 of H.R. 1504, as reported, would require the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs and the Secretary of Labor to conduct a study of the implementation of the Veterans' Job Training Act to be transmitted to the Congress within 90 days after the date of enactment of this legislation. Although the Centaur report was very valuable, it is the view of the Committee that it did not provide sufficient detailed information with regard to regional statistics and other data. The Committee is not satisfied with the placement rate of veterans under VJTA and is concerned about the comparatively high percentage of veterans who did not complete their programs of job training. In order to effectively address these issues, additional program information is necessary.

The reported bill would also require the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs to conduct a study of dislocated veteran workers and to report to the Congress the findings and conclusions of such study within 180 days. The object of the study is to provide the Committee with information about dislocated veteran workers sufficient for a thorough examination of VJTA eligibility requirements relative to this group of veterans.

The study would attempt to determine as precisely as possible the number of veterans who are dislocated workers. The Committee intends that the study differentiate between World War II, Korean Conflict, and Vietnam Era veterans. For the purposes of the study, a dislocated worker is defined as one who is unemployed because of a permanent closure of all or a substantial part of a plant or facility. The Committee is particularly interested in information regarding dislocated workers who are disabled veterans.

Other important factual information the study will provide is the geographical distribution of dislocated workers who are veterans and the types of work they did. In order to evaluate the appropriateness of the current eligibility requirement that the veteran be unemployed 10 of the preceding 15 weeks, the study is expected to also examine the average period of time a dislocated worker has been unemployed. To the extent possible, the Administrator is encouraged to utilize already existing sources of data for the study so that it will be timely and efficiently completed.

Employability Training and Counseling

Although VJTA has proven to be an extremely effective, successful program, the Committee is dissatisfied with the number of veterans who do not complete their job training programs, estimated to be nearly 60 percent of those who initiate training under the program. According to the Centaur report, 25 percent of these drop out to accept other jobs while another 25 percent leave the program because of dissatisfaction with their training. Between 30 and 40 percent of the terminations are involuntary and the remainder are voluntary terminations for personal reasons, such as health problems.

Witnesses suggested that a contributing factor to the dropout rate is a lack of counseling or training which addresses the job readiness and skill-matching needs of long-term unemployed veterans. Accordingly, Section 5 of H.R. 1504, as reported, would require the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, in consultation with the Secretary of Labor, to establish a program of employability training and counseling services for veterans. The goal of this training is to assist veterans in finding, applying for, and successfully participating in a suitable program of job training under VJTA.

The Committee expects that, included in the services provided by the program of employability training, will be those delivered through what are popularly known as Job Clubs. Job Clubs are organized with a group leader/facilitator who provides information on application/resume preparation, interviewing skills, job seeking strategies, and job leads. The group participants support one another with critiques and confidence building.

Employability training should include the following essentials of employability:

- Work, personal and social adjustment;
- Determining realistic employment objectives;
- Gathering information on growth industries;

- Learning how to complete application forms in a thorough and concise manner;
- Developing an effective resume;
- Learning how to write cover letters;
- Conducting a self-directed job search;
- Learning how to follow through on job leads;
- Addressing special concerns related to specific disabilities;
- Marketing strengths and abilities in the job interview;
- Learning how to address adverse issues such as terminations and long breaks of unemployment;
- Career transition techniques;
- Learning how to follow up after job interviews;
- Negotiating salaries;
- Negotiating accommodations;
- Integrated employer participation and critique whenever possible.

It is the intention of the Committee that the Administrator and the Secretary have a great deal of flexibility in implementing this provision of the reported bill. It is expected, however, that, to the degree possible, employability training services will be coordinated with the readjustment counseling program (Vet Centers) described in section 612A of title 38, United States Code. Vet Centers report that at least 40 percent of the veterans who come to them for services indicate they are experiencing employment difficulties. Accordingly, local Vet Center staff should be informed when a Job Club or other employability training program is established in an area. It may be that in some locations a Vet Center would be an appropriate location for a Job Club to meet and Vet Center staff may serve as Job Club counselors. Employment is an important component of the readjustment process and services provided to facilitate employment should, when appropriate, be linked with the Vet Center program. Disabled Veterans Outreach Program specialists (DVOPs) may also be effective Job Club counselors. The Committee stresses that these recommendations are not meant to restrict the ability of the responsible agencies to implement employability training programs which meet the needs of individual communities. When necessary, funds provided for this program of employability training may be used to contract for employment assistance services.

H.R. 1504, amended, requires that not less than 5 percent of any amount appropriated for VJTA, including those funds appropriated for fiscal year 1987, be made available for the employability training and counseling program established by the reported bill.

Funding for State Approving Agencies

Section 6 of the reported bill would provide for a revised funding process for the State approving agencies (SAAs). The SAAs approve courses of education for veterans' educational assistance benefits provided under title 38, USC. The Governor of each State may create or designate a State department or agency as the "State approving agency." If a State declines to create or designate an SAA, the Veterans' Administration will assume the responsibility for approval.

The concept of State approving agencies originated with the World War II GI Bill when the authors recognized the responsibility of the State for the education and training of its citizens. This concept and the intent of Congress to support the concept has occurred in every GI Bill since that time. The Committee believes that the system of approval of educational institutions and training establishments by State approving agencies has proved its worth.

Unfortunately, funding for the SAAs has been reduced dramatically by the Veterans' Administration over the last 5 years. Since fiscal year 1982, the SAA budget has dropped from $13.3 to $9.3 in fiscal year 1987, a reduction of 26 percent. This reduced level of funding seriously threatens the ability of the SAAs to adequately perform their approval function. Accordingly, the Committee believes that legislative action to revise the SAA budget process is necessary.

Section 6 of H.R. 1504, as reported, would revise the SAA funding process by transferring the SAA funding from the Veterans' Administration General Operating Expenses account to the Readjustment Benefits account. Additionally, the VA would be required to fund the reasonable and necessary expenses of State approving agencies up to a cap of $12 million annually.

The Committee believes that this restructuring of the SAA funding process will enable the SAAs to achieve a level of adequate funding, based on reasonable and necessary expenses. The Committee expects that the reports submitted by the SAAs to the Administrator certifying their expenses will fully document their funding needs. It is further expected that, unless the Administrator finds that expenses submitted by the SAAs are not reasonable and necessary, certified expenses will be fully reimbursed by the Administrator.

Expansion of the Commission on Veterans' Education Policy

Section 7 of the reported bill would include the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Force Management and Personnel as an ex officio member of the Veterans' Education Policy established under Public Law 99-576. Because of the recent enactment of legislation making the Montgomery GI Bill a permanent program, Public Law 100-48, the Committee feels that the Department of Defense should be represented on this Commission.

OVERSIGHT FINDINGS

On June 15, 1987, the Subcommittee on Education, Training and Employment conducted oversight hearings in Galesburg, Illinois, and Schererville, Indiana, to evaluate the implementation and effectiveness of the Veterans' Job Training Act at the "grass roots" level. Witnesses included representatives of the Veterans' Administration, the U.S. Department of Labor, employees of the State of Illinois who have responsibility for veterans' training and employment programs, veterans organizations, VJTA employers and employees, and private industry. Witnesses expressed strong support for the continuation of VJTA and urged that adequate funding for the program be provided.

No oversight findings have been submitted to the Committee by the Committee on Government Operations.

INFLATIONARY IMPACT STATEMENT

The reported bill will have no inflationary impact.

* less than $500,000.

The costs of this bill would fall within budget function 700.

Basis of Estimate

The bill would authorize appropriations of $30 million for fiscal 1987 and $60 million for each of fiscal years 1988, 1989 and 1990. Outlays are estimated using historical spendout rates for the account and are adjusted for the timing of the 1987 authorization of appropriations.

The bill would also extend the date for which a veteran must initially apply for training to October 1, 1990. In addition, an eligible veteran would have to begin training before April 1, 1991. Neither of these changes, by themselves, would effect estimated costs.

Currently, state and local agencies are reimbursed out of the general operating expenses account for travel and salary expenses incurred in carrying out contracts to supervise and determine the appropriateness of education programs for veterans. Beginning in fiscal 1988, these expenses would be reimbursed out the amounts available for payment of readjustment benefits and would be capped at $12 million per year. CBO estimates that under current law the reimbursement for expenses would increase with inflation and would hit the cap beginning in 1990.

The bill also provides for at least a 5 percent set aside for counseling to assist veterans in participating in the job training program. There is no federal cost to this provision.

Estimates for the two studies on training and employment and dislocated workers were done based on information from the Veterans' Administration on the cost of previous studies done on the Veterans' Job Training Act.

6. ESTIMATED COST TO STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT:

The budgets of state and local governments would be affected by enactment of this bill to the extent that the $12 million dollar cap on reimbursement for travel and salary expenses reduces the amount of money available to state and local agencies. CBO estimates that this amount, for all state and local governments together, would be less than $500,000 in 1990 and approximately $1 million in 1991 and 1992.

AGENCY REPORTS

On May 13, 1987, the Committee received the following letter from the VA on H.R. 1504.

Office of the Administrator
of Veterans Affairs

Washington DC 20420

Veterans Administration

MAY 13 1987

Honorable G. V. (Sonny) Montgomery
Chairman, Committee on Veterans' Affairs
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Mr. Chairman:

I am pleased to respond to your request for the views of the Veterans Administration and our estimate of costs concerning H.R. 1504, a bill "To amend the Veteran's Job Training Act."

Mr. R. J. Vogel, Chief Benefits Director, presented a statement of our opposition to the subject bill when he testified before your Committee's Subcommittee on Education, Training and Employment on March 18, 1987. For your convenience, we are enclosing a copy of Mr. Vogel's prepared statement.

We estimate the enactment of H.R. 1504 would result in additional obligations for benefits of $15 million for Fiscal Year 1987, $45 million for Fiscal Year 1988, and $45 million for Fiscal Year 1989. This assumes an average obligation of $5,000 for each additional veteran entering an approved Veterans' Job Training Act program, and continuation of current utilization rates of the program.

The Office of Management and Budget advises that there is no objection from the standpoint of the Administration's program to the submission of this report on H.R. 1504 to the Congress.

Sincerely,

THOMAS L. TURNAGE
Administrator

STATEMENT OF
R. J. VOGEL
CHIEF BENEFITS DIRECTOR
VETERANS ADMINISTRATION
BEFORE THE
SUBCOMMITTEE ON EDUCATION, TRAINING
AND EMPLOYMENT
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
MARCH 18, 1987

Mr. Chairman and members of the Subcommittee:

I am pleased to be here today to share with you the views of the Veterans Administration on a draft bill that would extend the Veterans' Job Training Act (VJTA) and authorize additional funding for this program. Specifically, the bill would extend the date before which an individual must initially apply for a program of job training to October 1, 1989. Also, under the terms of this proposal, the veteran would have to begin a program of job training before April 1, 1990. This measure would authorize additional funding of $30 million for Fiscal Year 1987 and $60 million for each of Fiscal Years 1988 and 1989, to remain available until September 30, 1991. Under the current legislation, veterans must apply by July 2, 1987, and must begin a program of job training by January 2, 1988.

In your letter of invitation, Mr. Chairman, you made reference to the congressionally-mandated study of the VJTA. This was the study conducted by Centaur Associates, Inc. In September 1986, Centaur issued its final report. Some of the highlights from the report are as follows:

- * 20 percent of trainees completed their training and were still employed by the training organization 16 months following completion of the training.
- * of the 20 percent still with their training organizations, about one-third have received promotions.
- * only 40 percent of the trainees complete their training program
- * those who participated, both completers and noncompleters, earned about $2,200 more during the year following their training than it is estimated they would have earned absent program participation
- * completers trained an average of 8 1/2 months, while dropouts are in training for only 3 1/2 months on the average

- * completers receive an average hourly wage of $6.60 during training
- * the average cost per participant is $3,000;
the average cost per completer is $5,000;
the average cost per dropout is $2,000

Mr. Chairman, since the enactment of the program in August 1983, through February 1987, 47,279 veterans have been placed in training positions under the VJTA. Just about $170 million have been obligated through the same date. Also, through the same date, the number of employer applications that were approved stood at 70,839.

Mr. Chairman, we understand that the Treasury Department recently wrote you of its position that Public Law 98-543 extended the availability of those funds appropriated for the VJTA during Fiscal Year 1984 until September 30, 1987. We estimate that this determination will release to the VA some $6 to $8 million which should eliminate the current waiting list of persons eligible to commence a training program.

Has this program been successful? I believe that the evidence is mixed. Although the Centaur report shows a short-term effect on earnings and employment for those who complete training, the dropout rate remains very high. Programs administered by the Department of Labor under the Job Training Partnership Act (Titles IIA and III) have completion rates of approximately 70 percent. A GAO survey showed that the Title III program for dislocated workers results in new employment for 69 percent of the participants, with an average starting wage of $6.93 per hour for veterans served.

Let me just note here that some of the positive features in the VJTA program have been due in part to cooperation and coordination in the Federal Government. With this program, we have been fortunate in having a solid working relationship with the Department of Labor.

Mr. Chairman, the question remains as to the current and future utility of the VJTA. There are several bills under consideration that extend and expand the provisions of the VJTA. We do not recommend that an extension be enacted. First, as discussed above, the program has had very mixed results, particularly compared to other job training programs. Second, the Administration has proposed a $1 billion job training program for dislocated workers that will certainly serve a large number of veterans. Finally, Labor Department statistics on unemployment rates show that there is no longer a need for a separate job training program for veterans.

Please note that the figures that follow are "not seasonally adjusted" figures. In February of 1987, the unemployment rate for all veterans stood at 5.5 percent and 8.4 percent for non-veterans. Looking more specifically at age categories, we find that for Vietnam era veterans in the age category 35 to 39, the unemployment rate is 5.3 percent. In the 40 to 44 year range, it stands at 4.4 percent. For nonveterans in the 35 to 39 category, the rate is 5.7 percent.

As indicated by these statistics, while there are unemployment problems among veterans, the worst problems now are not being experienced by those Korean and Vietnam era veterans whom this bill was designed to help, and has helped. In fact, the unemployment problem for the VJTA's target category has substantially diminished. Since this is the case, we do not favor an extension of the VJTA.

Mr. Chairman, that concludes my formal statement. I would be pleased to respond to any questions you or members of the Subcommittee may have.
