ABSTRACT

This report on the programs and activities of the South Carolina State Library for the fiscal year 1987-88 begins by providing lists of State Library Board members and State Library Staff, an organizational chart, and the library's mission statement. The statutory authority for the state library is described in a brief introduction, which is followed by a review of the history of library programs in the state and an overview of the highlights of 1987-88. Programs of the Division of Library Development and Library Services are then described, including Administrative Services, Field Services, and Library Services to the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Reports on the activities of the Division of Library Service: are presented for both Reader Services and Technical Services. The report also provides information on individuals. organizations, and libraries honored with State Library awards during the year; a brief report on volunteer services; statistics on the State Library collections, circulation, and expenditures; a directory of Public Library Board members; directories of South Carolina public, college and university, and state institution libraries; and statistics on public libraries and libraries in state-supported institutions and colleges and universities. BETTY E. CALLAHAM DIRECTOR

TO: The Honorable Carroll A. Campbell, Ji., Governor of South Carolina, and to The Honorable Members of The General Assembly of South Carolina

On behalf of the members of the State Library Board and the Director Betty E. Callaham, it is with great pleasure and pride that I present for your review the Nineteenth Annual Report of The South Carolina State Library for the fiscal year 1987-1988.

We are very proud that the past year has been another of great accomplishment for the State Library. The State Library has maintained and expanded the library network, a system which has been noted as a model for libraries throughout the nation. In addition, The Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped has received national recognition for excellence and continues to provide the best possible services for its statewide readership. Use of the library is increasing steadily, along with public and private awareness of the many programs and services which are available from the State Library.

The State Library has a history of providing exceptional, professional services to state government and the general public - all within a constrained financial framework. This same efficient management and commitment has been maintained in 1987-1988 and will continue into our state's future.

Respectfully submitted.

Timothy G. Driggers

SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY

Mission Statement. The mission of the South Carolina State Library is to serve the educational, informational, cultural and recreational needs of the people of South Carolina. It strives to improve library services throughout the state and to ensure that all citizens have access to library and information resources adequate to meet their individual needs.

To carry out its mission, the State Library studies the information needs of the people of the state; establishes policies and standards for library services; develops plans for the continued improvement of services; assists libraries in implementing services and programs to meet user needs; and provides specialized library services and materials not generally appropriate, economical, or available in other libraries. The State Library is an advocate for all types of libraries, working for state and federal legislation favorable to library development and for local, state, and federal funding for libraries.

The State Library is charged with administering and implementing the library programs authorized in the South Carolina Code of Laws (Title 60, 84-597 as amended). To meet the needs of the people of the state and to carry out its responsibilities under state and federal law, the State Library has established the ten basic, continuing goals stated below. The goals are supplemented by specific objectives developed annually by each department of the library.

Goals

- 1. To improve the quality and effectiveness of library services in South Carolina.
- To provide technical assistance and support services to the public and state institutional libraries of the state in order that they may better serve all of the residents of South Carolina.
- 3. To supplement the resources of other libraries in the state by maintaining appropriate collections of library materials and information sources and by providing research, interlibrary loan, and bibliographic services.
- 4. To provide research, loan, and reference services to meet the information needs of the General Assembly, state officers and agencies, and state government employees.
- 5. To stimulate cooperation and resource sharing among all types of libraries in order to provide the widest possible access to the library and information resources of the state.

- 6. To provide library services to visually and physically handicapped readers in the state and to assist libraries in developing outreach programs to serve other groups with special needs: the handicapped, the educationally deprived, the limited English-speaking, the culturally disadvantaged, and the elderly.
- 7. To strengthen the performance of library staff and trustees by means of continuing education, certification of public librarians, and support for professional library organizations.
- 8. To promote awareness of library services available to the public; to encourage the use of libraries by individuals, groups, and agencies; to represent library interests and needs to local, stat², and national officials.
- To work with libraries, educational agencies, and service organizations to promote reading and lifelong education for all South Carolinians and to cooperate in developing and carrying out programs to combat illiteracy in the state.
- 10. To support the right to read and freedom of information for all and to protect each library user's right to privacy.

I. INTRODUCTION

Statutory authority for the South Carolina State Library is provided by Title 60, Chapter 1 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina. Originally authorized in 1929 and known as the State Library Board, the public library extension ency was first funded in 1943. It was redesignated the South Carolina State Library with a broad range of responsibilities by Act 464 of 1969. The legislation was recodified and new functions were authorized by Act 178 of 1985. Certain functions are also authorized and funded by the federal Library Services and Jonstruction Act (P.L. 84-597 as amended).

The South Carolina State Library is an independent state agency governed by a library board of seven members named by the Governor, with one member from each Congressional District and one from the state at large. Members serve five-year terms and may be reapp. The Director, who is responsible for the operation of the agency, is applied by and is responsible to the State Library Board. The agency is organized under two divisions. The Deputy Director for Library Development is responsible for Administrative Services, Field Services, and Services for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. The Deputy Director for Library Services is responsible for Reader Services, including the South Carolina Library Network, and Technical Services.

II. HISTORY

At the '.rging of citizens interested in quality county-wi! library service, the General Assembly, in 1929, passed legislation establishing the State Public Library Association and a State Library Board composed of five citizens. In the depths of the Great Depression, no funds were appropriated for the library extension agency, but grants from the South Carolina Library Association and the Rosenwald Foundation enabled the State Library Board to employ a field agent from 1929 to 1932 to assist communities interested in the development of public library service.

The first statewide library program was carried out under the Works Project Administration from 1935 to 1943. The WPA's major objective was to provide each county of the state lome measure of area-wide public library service. The WPA library program helped establish library service in some areas and in other: it enhanced existing libraries' operations. The WPA program made possible the establishment of bookmobile service in twenty-three counties formerly without rural library service. At its demise in 1943, the WPA had been successful in creating public library service in some form in all counties.

The State Library Board received its first appropriation of $3,000 in 1943 and inherited the assets of the WPA. Under the leadership of Nancy C. Blair (1943-1946) and Estellene P. Walker (1946-1979), the State Library Board initiated its program with emphasis on State Aid to public libraries and a goal of statewide public library service. County or regional libraries were established in all forty-six counties. The pattern of unified library systems, each legally established and governed y a single library board, made possible a good level of service by eliminating expensive duplication and overhead and by sharing resources and personnel.

When the federal Library Services Act was passed in 1956, the State Library Board, by executive order of the Governor, was charged with administering and implementing within the state the library programs authorized in the Act. Through this Act, the agency's functions were expanded to include service to the blind and physically handicapped, development of library service in state institutions, and interlibrary cooperation.

In 1969, as the result of action by the General Assembly, the State Library Board was redesignated as the South Carolina State Library and assumed responsibility for puricalibrary development, library service for state institutions, service for the brind and physically handicapped, and library service to state government and state government agencies. The library occupied its new building at 1500 Senate Street in November 1969. In 1985, an act was passed providing for the recodification of the State Library's legislation. The new legislation reauthorized all functions of the State Library and consolidated a variety of authorizations found in state and federal laws and regulations, executive orders and budget provisos.

The 1985 legislation also provided the legal basis for the South Carolina Library Network, a statewide computer-based network developed by the State Library to serve all South Carolinians. Between 1985 and 1987, the State Library's bibliographic functions (cataloging, circulation, and interlibrary loan) were automated. A telecommunications network was then developed to give public, academic, and TEC libraries as well as agencies of state government on-line access to the State Library's catalog. The Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped was automated in 1986. Automation has increased the productivity and efficiency of the State Library, while the network has enabled citizens throughout the state to have better access to library resources.

The State Library now has a threefold responsibility. As a library extension agency, it provides a staff of consultants to assist public and state institutional libraries in strengthening services, administers state and federal aid to libraries, and encourages cooperation and resource sharing among all types of libraries. As a reference and research library, it maintains comprehensive collections of books, documents, periodicals, films and other materials to supplement local library resources and provide information not available at the local level and to supply legislators, officials and state agency personnel with the information requested for planning and decision-making. It answers questions, lends books and materials, researches issues, prepares bibliographies, collects state and federal documents, and provides information about legislation and programs of other states and the U.S. government. regional library for the blind and physically handicapped, the State Library serves all handicapped readers in the state. Established in 1973, the Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped now serves more than 8,000 registered borrowers, providing them with recorded books on disk or cassette tape and equipment to rea these materials and with large print materials for the partially sighted.

Public library development, the original mandate of the State Library, continues to be an essential function. Because county libraries were originally established by individual enabling acts passed by the General Assembly, the effects of the 1975 Home Rule Act upon local legislation necessitated passage of a statewide library act. In 1978 the Legislature amended the Home Rule Act to require coun es to provide library systems. Act 564 (S.C. Code, 1979 Supp., Sec. 4-9-35 et seq.) stated:

"The General Assembly finds that county public libraries make a substantial contribution to the education and recreation of the residents of the state and merit the continued interest and support of state and local government."

Through the years the state's financial support for public libraries has grown significantly. Beginning in 1943 with only $200 per county system, State Aid increased to $1,500 per county by 1952. Years of effort, climaxed by the 1965 Governor's Conference on Public Libraries, resulted in the change to a per capita basis for State Aid. From twenty cents per capita ($69,650) in 1966-67, State Aid increased in gradual steps to $1.00 per capita in 1984-85. Mid-year budget cuts reduced that amount in succeeding years until it was restored for 1988-89. With local, state, and federal support, South Carolina now has countywide library service for all forty-six counties.

III. HIGHLIGHTS OF 1987-88

1987-88 was a year of steady progress for the State Library. Without the distinction of mid-year budget cuts and financial crises experienced in recent years, the staff focused on erhancing and promoting services. The Library Interpretation Project was expanded with the objective of making both library users and funding authorities more aware of services available from South Carolina libraries.

Promotional activities ranged from a press conference on Freedom of Information Day, featuring the Attorney General and the past president of the South Carolina Press Association, to a Christmas celebration during which First Lady Iris Campbell helped wreathe the State Library lions. New publicity materials were developed, including brochures, posters, bibliographies, banners, and new designs for all of the State Library newsletters. During National Library Week, the General Assembly commended South Carolina libraries by a joint resolution, and Governor Carroll Campbell issued a proclamation encouraging participation in the "Best Gift You'll Ever Give Your Child - A Library Card" campaign.

Development of the South Carolina Library Network continued as planned. Network access was extended to additional braries and state agencies. A number of special (for-profit) libraries requested access and agreed to their own telecommunications charges. Additional computer memory and storage were added during the year, reaching capacity for the present computer system. Two School Library Demonstration Projects were funded through the Library Services and Construction Act Title III to test the feasibility and cost of extending network services to school library media centers. New emphasis was given also to promoting services to State Government. Near the end of the year, the resignation of the Coordinator of Automation Services brought about a staff reorganization, involving a number of promotions and reassignments, to be effective July 1.

Growth of the State Library's collections continued, in spite of a limited materials budget. With the help of the South Carolina Small Business Development Center, the library acquired a significant collection of federal military specifications and standards which will aid South Carolina businesses in preparing bids for U.S. Defense contracts. The library also expanded its access to databases by subscribing to VU/TEXT which provides computerized access to the full text of many national newspapers and news magazines. InfoTrac's Magazine Index Plus was the library's first reference source purchased on compact disc. A significant event during the year was the completion of retrospective conversion of the state documents collection making the bibliographic records of all state document holdings accessible on-line through the network. The State Library is possibly the first, certainly one of the first in the nation, to achieve this goal.

The year ended on a very positive note when the General Assembly passed the 1988-89 Appropriation Act, increasing State Aid for public libraries, providing a supplemental appropriation for the State Library's book budget, and providing architectural and engineering funds for planning the expansion of the State Library building.

IV. DIVISION OF LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT

A. ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

The General Administration of the State Library is carried out by a cabinet-style management team headed by the Library Director and consisting of the Deputy Directors and Department Heads. Within the policies and guidelines established by the State Library Board, this team plans development and extension of library service, prepares and administers the annual budget, administers state and federal aid for libraries, promotes the extension and improvement of library service, and recommends library legislation.

Support services for General Administration and for the entire agency are provided by the Administrative Services staff composed of nine individuals under the direction of the Business Manager. Support services are: (1) Information/Clerical Support, (2) Finance/Accounting/Payroll, (3) Personnel, (4) Procurement, and (5) Facilities Management.

The Information/Clerical Support staff provides services to all departments through word processing, mail service, telephone service, reprographics, records management, and motor vehicle management. Specialized training was provided to staff in order to broaden their knowledge of microcomputers and to strengthen their productivity and efficiency. Upgraded sersions of software programs were purchased to facilitate the operation of softmated tasks.

Finance/Accounting/Payroll handles a 1 financial transactions and maintains records of state appropriations and feder. funds under the Library Services and Construction Act. During 1987-88, the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) were fully implemented in compliance with directives from the Comptroller General's Office. Enhancements to the Basic Agency Reporting System (BARS) accounting program were made in accordance with recommendations of University of South Carolina Computer Services Division support staff. Software changes were also made to the accounting program to provide additional information to the state auditors when performing the annual agency audit. A BARS User Group was formed for all state agencies, using BARS as a means of communication between agencies and support staff. The new electronic funds deposit (Fedwire Funds Request) was implemented in compliance with directives from the federal government. Funds are now requested by telephone in lieu of a Letter of Credit.

The State Library is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer, and operates under an Affirmative Action Plan approved by the South Carolina Commission on Human Affairs. The agency administers its personnel program in compliance with State personnel regulations and requirements.

The State Library's Procurement Manual was revised as a result of the agency's first procurement audit. Minor changes or revisions were implemented in purchasing, recordkeeping and reporting. The State Library's Motor Vehicle Management Policy Manual was revised as a result of an audit by the Division of Motor Vehicle Management.

The Library Interpretation Program, supervised by the Deputy Director for Library Development, is a special project under Administrative Services. The goal of this project is to interpret the objectives and functions of the statewide library program. It plans and carries out a statewide program of publicity and public relations designed to publicize South Carolina libraries and to make the general public aware of library services available within the state. Through this project, the State Library publishes a number of newsletters and reports. During the year a consulting team reviewed the Library Interpretation Program and recommended plans for promoting library services available through the South Carolina Library Network and increasing awareness of the State Library services to state government agencies. A number of State Library publications were revised usir a new State Library logo. Special events, such as Freedom of Information Day and "The Best Gift You'll Ever Give Your Child ... A Library Card" campaign, were held.

B. FIELD SERVICES

The Field Services staff is charged with the development and improvement of public library service throughout the state and of library service in state institutions. Consultants provide assistance to library directors, boards of trustees, library staffs, library organizations, and state agencies and institutions.

Two special consultants work with all public and state institutional libraries in the areas of children's and audiovisual services. Four general consultants (including the Field Services Director) serve as liaison between the State Library and the thirty-nine county and regional library systems which provide service to all of the state's forty-six counties. Each consultant works with specific county and regional libraries. The nature of the consultant's work depends upon the level of library service in the system and on the training, expertise, and experience of individual librarians. The state institutional consultant performs a similar function in the thirty-nine institutional libraries maintained by seven state departments and agencies.

In 1988 the Field Staff - via regular on-site visits, telephone, and correspondence - assisted librarians, trustees, citizens, and administrators of state institutions in determining the library needs of their communities and ways to meet those needs. They provided workshops and training programs for library employees and public library trustees; explored solutions for local problems with library directors and boards; and supplied information on topics ranging from policies and standards of service to budget preparation to construction. The Field Staff is also responsible for administering State Aid to public libraries and for supervising grants-in-aid to public and state institutional libraries under the Library Services and Construction Act.

During fiscal 1987-1988, the Field Services librarians:

- -- worked with the 39 public library systems serving the 46 counties of the state and with the 39 institutional libraries maintained by 7 departments and agencies;
- -- made 509 field trips to public and institutional libraries;
- -- attended 52 local library board meetings;
- -- monitored library budgets including approximately $20.1 million in local funds;
- -- administered $2,969,475 in State Aid grants to public libraries;
- -- supervised LSCA projects providing approximately $590,339 in grants-in-aid to public libraries and $35,967.44 in grants to state institutional libraries;
- -- collected statistics and prepared and distributed statewide the Annual Statistical Summary:
- -- represented the State Library at local, state, and national conferences, conventions, workshops, professional associations, building dedications, civic organizations, and other state and local meetings;
- -- certified 32 professional and pre-professional public librarians;
- -- provided recruiting, placement, and training services for public librarians and for librarians in the state institutions;
- -- carried out additional duties either directly or through liaison activities.

State Aid to Public Libraries. The program of State Aid to public libraries has been funded continuously since 1943. For FY 88, the General Assembly appropriated $2,969,475.17 to the State Library for distribution to the public libraries at the rate of $.9512 per capita. The regulations under which the funds are administered require that participating libraries be legally established, provide county-wide service, maintain levels of county funding, and meet certain standards of service. Qualifying libraries may use State Aid funds to supplement staff salaries, to purchase books and audiovisual materials, to purchase or lease equipment and computer hardware and software, and to operate and maintain bookmobiles. These regulations ensure that State funds will not replace local funds and that the funds will be used to achieve a higher level of service. In 1988, all forty-six counties qualified for State Aid funds. Historically, State Aid requirements provided the incentive for establishment of library systems providing countywide service. In recent years, matching and maintenance . effort requirements have encouraged county governments to increase local support for libraries.

Federal Aid to South Carolina Libraries. The Library Services and Construction Act, the source of federal aid for library services, includes six titles: Title I, Public Library Services; Title II, Public Library Construction; Title III, Interlibrary Cooperation and Resource Sharing; Title IV, Library Service to Indian Tribes; Title V, Foreign Language Materials Acquisition; and Title VI, Library Literacy Programs.

General purposes of the Library Services and Construction Act are to provide for improved public library services, for construction of public library buildings, for strengthening of state library agencies, and for promotion of interlibrary cooperation among all types of libraries. Emphasis is also placed on reaching the unserved and the inadequately served.

Title I - Public Library Services: This title supports improved services to public libraries, instituti hal libraries and special segments of the population. Grants-in-aid have been used to develop new programs of service, to improve the level of service in existing programs, and to strengthen book and periodical collections. Continuing education grants have contributed to the upgrading of library personnel. Outreach programs enable libraries to help the culturally disadvantaged, the functionally illiterate, the handicapped, and other groups which need special services. Grants are made for the automation of library services and the conversion of bibliographic records. Title I also provides grants to improve library services in state-supported institutions. In FY 88 the State Library was awarded $1,132,157 for Title I.

Title II - Public Library Construction: During FY 88 this title provided funds for construction projects which contributed to improved services in the participating county library systems. (See Public Library Construction.) In FY 88 the State Library was awarded $330,289 for Title II.

Title III - Interlibrary Cooperation and Resource Sharing: Programs funded under this title have resulted in improved communications, bibliographic access, incerlibrary loan, consultant service, and study and planning. During FY 88, Title III projects were designed to contribute to the long-range goals of enhancing the state bibliographic network. The expanding statewide data base helps eliminate expensive duplication of materials and makes the state's library resources available to all South Carolinians. (See Network Development). In FY 88 the State Library was awarded $253,241 for Title III.

Title IV - Library Service to Indian Tribes: South Carolina is not eligible to participate in this title since it has no recognized Indian tribes.

Title V - Foreign Language Materials Acquisition: This title was not funded in FY 88.

Title VI - Library Literacy Programs: This title is administered as a direct grant through the U.S. Department of Education. In FY 88 the State Library did not receive a grant.

Continuing Education. Recognizing the need for well-trained personnel, the State Library has consistently supported a program of continuing education for public and institutional library personnel at all levels and for public library trustees. Grants are awarded to attend conferences, seminars, and academic courses in librarianship. The State Library also plans and provides workshops in specific subject areas when it deems them necessary.

In 1987-88, three pre-professional librarians were awarded grants to attend academic courses in librarianship in the areas of acquisitions and cataloging and in children's literature. One public library staff member also attended the fourth annual bookmobile conference as did a representative from the State Library. This proved to be a very worthwhile conference during which guidelines for standards for bookmobile service were developed. Eighteen non-professional public library personnel representing 12 county and regional library systems attended the two week course, Introduction to Children's Services, offered by the University of South Carolina College of Library and Information Science and funded by the State Library. The course covered all aspects of service to children and elicited an enthusiastic response from participants.

Eight professional librarians attended conferences or seminars on statistics, collection development, the planning process, bookmobile service (referred to above) and the Advanced Management for Executive Development course.

Members of the State Library staff attended workshops or seminars on personnel management including performance appraisals, statistical data gathering, and preservation of library materials and participated in training sessions related to the state's on-line library network and the use of computer software.

In November, the State Library sponsored the two-day workshop, Space Planning for Public Library Buildings. Topics included site requirements, written building programs, library equipment and furniture, remodeling, and additions. Approximately seventy-five library directors and trustees attended.

An organizational workshop to begin the "Let's Talk Lout It" program, a reading and discussion program for South Carolina libraries, was held in June. In attendance were 35 scholars, 23 librarians (directors and staff members), and 18 discussion leaders (volunteers drawn from among public library patrons). The workshop was funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities and was sponsored by the South Carolina State Library, the Association of Public Library Administrators, and the South Carolina Committee for the Humanities.

Children's services workshops included Selection with Direction: the Children's Collection, which was held in September, and four regional follow-up sessions on the same topic. The spring workshop was Bridging the Gap: Library Programs for the Pre-Adolescent.

Library Services to Children. Early and continued exposure to books and libraries is important in helping children learn to read and study. The South Carolina State Library is committed to helping public libraries provide the best possible service to children. The children's consultant helps public and institutional libraries with planning and evaluation, collection development, program planning, staff training and public relations.

Service to children extends to encouraging parents and adults who work with children to use library resources for their own enrichment and to make libraries and reading a regular part of family and group life. The State Library is participating with the USC College of Library and Information Science in planning a promotional effort directed to parents and caregivers. The "Read to Someone You Love" campaign will be implemented during 1988-89.

A new brochure to promote use of the materials listed in the Early Childhood Media Clearinghouse Catalog was prepared and distributed. This catalog lists the non-print resources about early childhood development and education that are available on loan from state agencies, institutions, and organizations for use in staff and parent education. Users include child development centers, social service agencies, churches, schools, and other state agencies.

During 1987-1988, the children's consultant made fifty-eight field visits to public and institutional libraries. Two statewide workshops and four regional workshops were held with a total attendance of 187. The McRead Summer Reading Program, sponsored cooperatively by the State Library and public libraries, was used by thirty-six county library systems, one institution library and two military base libraries. The Program registered 35,757 children and attracted an attendance of 50,412 children at group programs during the summer of 1987. A successful summer tour by the Chopstick Theater of Charleston was coordinated by the State Library with local funding supplemented by a grant from the South Carolina Arts Commission.

In cooperation with the Richland County Public Library and the USC College of Library and Information Science, the State Library was a co-sponsor of the second "A(ugusta) Baker's Dozen: A Celebration of Stories" which attracted large audiences to hear storytelling by nationally known figures and to participate in lectures and workshops on storytelling.

Library Services for the Disadvantaged. Grants totalling $129,791 were awarded to twelve county library systems to establish and extend library services to the disadvantaged during FY 88, and $62,601 was reserved for five county and regional library systems pending qualification for county up-grade grants and one county planning process.

Providing access to library services to the disadvantaged in rural and other isolated areas continues to be a serious problem in South Carolina. Grants were made to three county library systems to establish and improve bookmobile programs.

Special Services for the Disadvantaged county up-grade grants are available to assist qualifying library systems to develop minimum levels of service and financial support prerequisites for outreach services. Library systems qualify for matching funds by identifying basic service and funding needs and providing a commitment to increased local funding from local governmental sources. In FY 88 three regional library systems were identified as eligible.

Grants were awarded to four county library systems to provide library services designed to meet the needs of disadvantaged children. All four library systems worked with local child care programs to establish programs to bring preschool children and books together, some for the first time.

Two county library systems received grants to extend and improve library services to the elderly. These programs include placing collections of materials in areas readily accessible to the elderly as well as providing for delivery of library materials to the elderly through the use of bookmobiles and volunteers.

Audiovisual Services. The Field Services Librarian for Audiovisual Programs is responsible for planning and administering a statewide film program for public libraries, institutional libraries, and community organizations. He trains staff in the use of films as a means of extending the informational resources of the local library. In addition, he selects materials in the AV collection and recommends new AV equipment as needed. During FY 88, he made forty-eight field trips to provide in-service training, technical assistance, and help in programming and promoting the use of AV materials in public and institutional libraries. Four regional preview sessions were held this year featuring children's films.

The State Library's audiovisual collection is comprised of the following materials:

16mm motion picture films 35mm filmstrips 3/4" U-Matic video tapes 35mm slides 1/2" VHS video tapes Audio cassettes 1/2" Betamax video tapes Puppets l6mm films make up the bulk of the audiovisual collection. Such a collection at the state level prevents costly duplication of expensive resources and makes available to the public a much larger selection of materials than any local library could provide alone. A total of 3,385 audiovisual materials were booked by the department in FY 88 for 4,759 programs viewed by a grand total of 108,292 persons. In addition to serving public and institutional libraries directly, the State Library lends audiovisual materials through local public libraries to civic groups, churches, nursing homes, day care centers for children, hospitals, museums, and zoos. In FY 88, thirty-five public libraries participated in lending audiovisual materials to community groups and organizations.

In addition to the materials mentioned above, the State Library also circulates and maintains audiovisual materials which have been put on permanent loan by the South Carolina Literacy Association. The Field Services Librarian for Audiovisual Programs supervises the circulation and maintenance of the audiovisual materials in the Early Childhood Media Clearinghouse collection.

During FY 88, the publication of the quarterly newsletter "News About the AV Scene" was continued. This newsletter, which deals solely with information in non-print format, is mailed to every public library (including branches) and to every state institutional library in South Carolina.

A new edition of Audiovisual Materials for Organizations was compiled, printed, and distributed during this fiscal year.

Institutional Library Services. The Institutional Library Services Program of the South Carolina State Library assists in the development and improvement of libraries in state-supported institutions. The State Library provides monetary and professional assistance to these libraries. This program includes the services of consultants, workshops for administrators and librarians, scholarships and workshops for library personnel, reference and interlibrary loan, and grants-in-aid for the purchase of materials. This year's workshops covered life skills, life education, image building, communication skills, and public relations.

In FY 88 thirty-nine institutions, maintained by seven state departments and agencies, provided library service to residents and participated in the LSCA grant project. Twenty-six of these offer full service under the direction of qualified library personnel. Included in this number are ten adult correctional institutions. In addition, seven other adult correctional institutions are served from a central library division maintained by the Department of Corrections via bookmobile and book van. Three youth center libraries in the Department of Corrections are served. Two schools in the Department of Youth Services, a special school for children from troubled or disadvantaged homes, and a special school for the deaf and blind all have libraries which receive institutional library services. In addition, five mental health facility libraries are served, as are the libraries in four residential centers for the mentally retarded.

Four institutions too small to provide full-service library programs are served by a special project of the State Library. Two addictions centers, a vocational rehabilitation center for physically disabled persons, and a long-term care mental health facility annually receive collections of paper bound books especially selected for the use of their residents in recreation or therapy.

In FY 88 the State Library's Institutional Library Consultant maintained liaison with the South Carolina Bibliotherapy Association and made 106 field trips to work with state institutional librarians and administrators.

Literacy Program. The library literacy program was designated as a separate program in FY 87. Prior to FY 87, awards for literacy projects were made as part of the Library Services to the Disadvantaged program. During FY 88 grants totalling $70,582 were awarded to fifteen county and regional library systems. These grants were used to extend and improve library service to the illiterate and the functionally illiterate segments of the population. Grants were awarded for programs designed to prevent adult illiteracy as well as for traditional adult literacy programs.

With one of every four adults twenty-five years of age and over identified as functionally illiterate, continued emphasis was placed on planning, development, and implementation of cooperative programs to combat the problems of illiteracy in South Carolina. In all projects, cooperation and coordination with local agencies and organizations such as the local office of adult education, literacy councils, recreation departments, health agencies, social service agencies, etc., were stressed.

The majority of grants was made to plan, develop, and provide collections of materials to assist tutors with the teaching of reading and to meet the reading level and interest of adult students. Several grants were made to explore the use of new technology with literacy programs.

Public Library Construction. The State Library provides consultant services in the planning of public and institutional library buildings; advises library boards, library administrators, and architects on state and federal regulations and procedures; administers the federal LSCA Title II grant program and supervises public library construction projects receiving grant funds. State Library staff work with public library staffs, boards, and local officials in the writing of building programs, drawing of initial floor plans, critiquing of architectural drawings and furniture layout, fund raising, and justifying need to funding authorities.

During FY 88, construction of the Darlington County Library headquarters building was completed and an elevator for handicapped accessibility was installed at the Sumter County Library. A $150,000 grant was awarded to help with the Darlington project and a $19,312 grant was made to Sumter. Under construction at the end of the year were the Laurens County Library headquarters building and a small addition to the Great Falls Branch in Chester County. FY 86 LSCA Title II funds will be used to cover these two projects. There have been further delays with the Beaufort County project, but construction should begin in the Fall of 1988 with FY 85 funding.

The State Library has $316,482 in FY 86 funding, $330,289 in FY 87 money, and $331,726 in FY 88 funding available from LSCA Title II. The end of the fiscal year found a number of libraries in the process of developing written building programs, raising funds, and working with architects prior to completing applications for LSCA Title II funds. Among these were Aiken County (new county and regional library headquarters as well as new branch in North Augusta), Georgetown County (new headquarters library), Kershaw County (headquarters expansion), Spartanburg County (Inman Branch), Marion County (headquarters expansion), Greenville County (Eastside Branch), Orangeburg County (headquarters expansion), York County (Lake Wylie Branch), and Marlboro County (handicapped accessibility).

Other building projects with which the State Library was involved include: Beaufort County (Bluffton Branch expansion), Barnwell County (Blackville Branch), Berkeley County (Goose Creek Branch), Pickens County (headquarters), Georgetown County (new branches in Andrews and Waccamaw Neck), and Horry County (Chapin Memorial in Myrtle Beach).

The State Library surveyed public libraries in May 1988 to determine current space needs. Nearly every library expressed a need for additional space. Ten (10) libraries expressed a need for a new headquarters building, while another twelve (12) libraries need to enlarge existing headquarters libraries. The biggest need is in the area of branches. There is a need for thirty-eight new branches and twelve (12) enlarged branches. The total square footage needs exceed one million square feet.

C. LIBRARY SERVICES TO THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

Being the first full year of operation using the automated circulation system in the new fully handicapped accessible facility made FY 88 a landmark year. Operations, policies, and procedures for old and new staff members were reviewed and adjusted as a result of major changes during FY 87. Greater efficiency and improvement of patron services were the major objectives of the reorganization in which a vacant Reader Advisor position was reclassified to a clerical support position.

The State Library provides services for the blind and physically handicapped in cooperation with the Library of Congress, National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped (NLS). Any South Carolinian who is unable to read conventional print due to a visual or physical handicap is eligible for these services. Qualifying conditions include, but are not limited to, blindness, double vision, cataracts, glaucoma, stroke, paralysis, palsy, multiple sclerosis, and learning disabilities. The Library of Congress provides books and magazines in recorded disc and cassette formats, the required playback equipment, and books in braille. The State Library provides staff, facilities, operating costs, and a supplemental collection of books in large print. It also contracts with the North Carolina Stace Library for braille service. Reading materials are available in all subject areas and for all age groups. No postage is required to either mail materials to readers or to return them to the library.

Statistics were adjusted during the year when a problem was discovered in the automated statistical reports. Consequently, a lower number of total readers served is now reflected in reports even though a substantial increase in new readers registered was documented. Service was provided to 8,129 readers in FY 88. A total of 1,566 new readers was registered this year, about 200 less than the total number served when the library began service in 1973. An estimated 43,705 South Carolinians are potentially eligible. In response to requests a total of 263,710 books and magazines were circulated this year, an increase of more than 20,000 over FY 87. The automated system continues to enable the small staff to increase book circulation by more than 100,000 per year over the manual system. An increase of only 6,000 more books in FY 89 will double the manual system figures of FY 86. Not reflected in these totals are 70,000 magazines sent to readers directly by producers upon notification by the

The collection of materials numbered 174,119. With the space now available, a collection of master tapes is being kept. This, in addition to volunteer time devoted to repairing damaged books, should help in maintaining a full collection of old and new titles. The custom designed recording booth and professional recording equipment will be used in conjunction with volunteer recording teams to add South Carolina titles to the collection. This recording project will strive to meet NLS quality standards.

A personal computer with modem and printer was received from NLS for use with NLSNET and NLS reports. This additional equipment also permitted an upgrade of the department's word processing capability.

Because services are primarily via mail from Columbia, South Carolina, a newsletter in large print and on cassette tape and an In-WATS telephone line with an after hours recording device serve as principal means of communication. The In-WATS line recorded 9,786 calls using 603.2 hours of staff time. Outgoing long distance calls to patrons totaled more than 1,000 and used over 50 hours of staff time. Local calls to and from patrons cannot be reliably documented.

Participation in the NLS Public Relations Program by distribution of public service announcements, exhibits at conferences, presentations before appropriate consumer groups, and appearances on media talk shows aided in the registration of 1,566 new readers in FY 88. Public libraries are also encouraged to promote this service by identifying potential patrons and generally assisting with publicity efforts. Handicapped people are also encouraged to utilize appropriate services of their public libraries. Five county libraries - Anderson, Charleston, Florence, Greenville, and Spartanburg - have small browsing collections of materials for use by local residents.

Even with automation and adequate space the library is hampered in its growth by the lack of adequate staff. NLS recommendations in FY 87 called attention to immediate needs, one of which was a Volunteer Coordinator. Funds to fill this position were received in FY 89 budget appropriations. Two additional support staff are also needed even with the prospect of additional volunteers or in the establishment of a formal volunteer program.

Results of a survey sent to all patrons show that the staff is service oriented and that these efforts are appreciated. Letters of appreciation from users and their families quite often contain donations or memorial contributions.

V. DIVISION OF LIBRARY SERVICES

A. READER SERVICES

Reference and Information Services to State Government. The State Library serves as a major source of information for state government agencies. Reference librarians research the library's collections of materials and specialized information sources to answer state employees' information requests. These requests vary in complexity depending on the type of information needed by state government personnel to carry out their job assignments. Questions answered by librarians range from brief, direct inquiries such as the address of a U.S. Congressman or the latest population estimate for South Carolina to multiple-concept information requests such as the link between the level of education and employment.

Reference librarians also provide assistance and guidance to state government personnel in using the library's facilities and collections. Much of this assistance is provided on a one-to-one basis, but also during the year thirteen group orientation sessions were provided to different state agency units to familiarize personnel with the library's collections and services.

To improve its ability to meet t e information demands of state government, the reference staff continually attem, ts to identify and purchase new publications of interest to state government. Materials specifically recommended by individuals in state government are frequently ordered for the collection as well. By acquiring, housing, and offering these informational materials at one central location, the library attempts to eliminate the need for individual state agencies to purchase and maintain extensive and often very expensive collections of research materials.

In order to focus attention on new materials being added to the State Library's collections, New Resources, a selective listing of new books, journal articles, and government publications of interest to government officials, is majred on a monthly basis to state employees, to all state legislators during the legislative session, and to public and academic libraries in South Carolina. State agency personnel, legislators, and libraries may then borrow or obtain photocopy of any items listed in New Resources.

In its endeavor to meet the daily information needs of state government agencies, the State Library has developed particularly strong collections in the areas of political science, the social sciences, human resources management, education. In the field of education, the State Library maintains the complete collection of the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC). This collection represents the most extensive set of research materials relating to various aspects of education in the nation. The ERIC document collection, published in microfiche format, currently numbers over 290,000 separate publications. The collection is used extensively by the South Carolina Department of Education, teachers, school administrators, students, and other researchers.

The library is frequently called upon for information relating to or produced by federal and South Carolina governmental agencies. Laws, regulations, statistical figures, etc., are often sought by state agency personnel in documenting their research and planning projects. The library attempts to support these information needs by subscribing to such publications as the Code of Federal Regulations, Federal Register Index, and American Statistics Index. Government documents issued by such agencies as the U.S. Department of Commerce, U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, and the South Carolina Division of Research and Statistical Services receive frequent use. In addition, the library serves as an affiliate of the State Data Center to provide South Carolina citizers with access to census data.

During the year the library acquired a significant collection of federal military specifications and standards in a cooperative arrangement with the South Carolina Small Busines. Development Center. The collection, which was purchased by the Center, is located at the State Library which provides user assistance and photocopying services for businesses and individuals requesting this type of information. This microfilm collection contains vital descriptions of products and services needed by South Carolina business firms in preparing their bids for U.S. Defense contracts. By providing South Carolina citizens with a centrally-located collection from which photocopy can be rapidly delivered, the State Library and the Small Business Development Center are cooperating to foster business development in-state.

The Grants Research Collection represents another specialized group of materials which is designed to inform fund-raisers and grant seekers about the funding patterns, policies, and key personnel of major philanthropic foundations and corporate philanthropic programs across the country. The collection is frequently used by individuals in raising funds to support non-profit organizations in the state. In its role as a regional collection of the Foundation Center for South Carolina, the State Library receives tax returns filed with the Internal Revenue Service by South Carolina philanthropic foundations. These returns contain often difficult-to-locate information on trustees, grants, and geographic focus of the foundations. To provide information on South Carolina foundations, the State Library compiles and publishes the South Carolina Foundation Directory and produces an in-house database containing updated information on South Carolina foundations.

To enhance its research capabilities, the State Library provides Data Search, a service to locate information contained in computerized data bases. The library currently has access to over 500 informational data bases offered by various data base vendors. During the year, the library expanded its access to new data bases offered by the database vendor, VU/TEXT. The VU/TEXT service provides computerized access to the full text of most of the nation's major newspapers and news magazines. This includes newspapers of regional interest, such as The State, the Charlotte Observer, and the Atlanta Journal and Constitution. In addition to VU/TEXT, the library presently subscribes to the following computerized information services: DIALOG Information Services, BRS Information Technologies, ISIS (Integrated States Information System) produced by the Council of State Governments, SCOIS (South Carolina Occupational Information System) produced by the South Carolina Employment Security Commission, CUFAN (Clemson University Forestry and Agricultural Network), LUIS (Library User Information Service, the automated catalog of the Clemson University Library), and the automated catalog of the Richland County Public Library. These data bases vary in content and format, including bibliographic citation listings, full-text articles and reports, directory data, and numeric tabulations. Increasingly, information is being produced solely as a computerized product with no equivalent paper form. As this trend continues, a thorough knowledge of existing data bases and the ability to efficiently search them takes on a growing importance in the provision of current accurate information to state government. A total of 250 Data Search requests were processed by the end of the year. Since the State Library does not receive a specific appropriation to support the service, all actual search costs, including data base and telecommunication charges, must be paid by the requestor.

The development of compact disk technology is having a profound impact on the provision of information. Many research sources which were previously only available in printed or computerized format are now being published on CD-ROM (compact disc read-only memory). Thousands of pieces of information can now be stored on a small disc and retrieved by using a microcomputer and compact disc player. Many publishers, including the U.S. government, are beginning co produce their information products in this format. During the year the State Library purchased its first reference source in this form - InfoTrac's Magazine Index Plus. This index, produced by Information Access Company, provides rapid and easy access to information published in hundreds of popular magazines and the New York Times. The index is an excellent resource for individuals seeking current information on public affairs, consumer interests, and business.

State agency use of library facilities grew during the year. In 1987-88, 17,771 individuals visited the library. State employees officially registered as library borrowers totalled 2,532. Circulation figures and research requests both increased over the previous year. Members of state government borrowed 36,014 library items and received assistance with 10,639 reference questions.

During 1987-88, the State Library continued to target state agencies in order to promote dial-up access to the library's automated catalog, LION (Library Information On-line). Reference staff trained employees in eight different divisions within state government agencies to use computer equipment in their offices to search the library's catalog. In addition, licrary staff offered individualized instruction and assistance to numerous state employees who used the computerized catalog at the library itself.

In order to increase awareness and inform state employees of library services available to them, the State Library initiated several new promotional efforts. "When You Really Need To Know...," a brochure which describes the library's services and collections, was published. A telephone sticker depicting the library's new logo and telephone number was produced and distributed to state employees as a handy reminder of the library's telephone reference service. Letters were mailed on a regular basis to newly-appointed or promoted state employees, supplying them with information about the library and a library card registration form. During the year, a reference librarian began making a regular presentation on library services at the monthly employee orientation programs conducted by the Department of Highways and Public Transportation. Reference librarians served as speakers at an annual conference for state agency planners and researchers, sponsored by the Division of Human Resource Management. News articles on the library's services to state government appeared in The State newspaper and the Highway Department's staff newspaper, The Connector.

Legislative Reference Service. The State Library provides a special information service for members of the South Carolina General Assembly, legislative committee researchers, and legislative interns. Research requests vary from information needed for speech preparation to extensive background information on legislative issues. To assist in researching these needs, the State Library subscribes to two major services which report on significant governmental actions occurring in other states - From the State Capitols and State Policy Reports. The research staff also draw upon all the library's collections as well as resources available through interlibrary loan in order to answer legislative requests. During January 1988 an orientation program was held for graduate student interns assigned to various legislative committees to acquaint them with the resources and services of the State Library. During the year, the library answered 300 research requests from the legislature and provided 2,613 pages of photocopy free of charge in response to legislative requests.

Interlibrary Loan Service. The State Library provides reference and interlibrary loan service to supplement the local resources of South Carolina libraries and acts as the central component of a statewide network designed to coordinate library services within the state. Since no single library can meet all of the diverse research needs of its patrons, the collections of the State Library have been developed as a source upon which local libraries can draw to make information and materials available to South Carolinians in their own communities. Requests submitted to the State Library by public, state institutional, academic, and special libraries reflect the effort, of the libraries to supplement their own holdings for those citizens interested in improving the quality of daily life; educating themselves and their children; understanding state, national, and international affairs; and coping with the challenges of the workplace. Libraries request a wide variety of materials on topics ranging from gardening to the identification and location of military specifications. The State Library draws on its own collections for research purposes and to supply materials. The computerized search capabilities of the library's Data Search service are utilized to supplement standard sources in providing information to public and state institutional librarians.

During 1987-1988, the Interlibrary Loan Service processed a total of 26,096 requests, which included 5,010 information requests and 21,086 title requests. In response to these requests, 31,026 books and 20,378 pages of photocopy were mailed to all types of libraries. These figures represent a 17% increase in requests and an 18% increase in the number of books sent over 1986-1987 totals. The majority of requests were placed by South Carolina public libraries, but academic and special libraries submitted 4,698 requests, borrowed 3,503 books and obtained 5,665 pages of photocopy. The library also received interlibrary loan requests from outside of the state. During 1987-1988, 718 books and 773 pages of photocopy were supplied to libraries in 42 states, Canada, the United Kingdom, and Australia.

Most of the interlibrary loan requests received by the State Library were submitted through the South Carolina Library Network, a computer-based statewide library network and communication system designed to give all types of libraries improved access to the collections and services of the State Library. The majority of participating libraries had been brought on-line by the end of 1986-1987, but an additional eight academic, special, and state institutional libraries were trained and brought into the system during 1987-1988.

Use of the Network continues to have an impact upon the number and types of requests placed with the Interlibrary Loan Service. As a result of title, author, or subject searches, participating libraries can immediately identify specific holdings of the State Library and determine their availability for loan. Titles requested on-line were processed and mailed by the staff within 24 hours in most instances. Through the electronic mail component of the Network, libraries placed requests which could not be made through the on-line catalog itself, including requests for information, photocopy, books, government documents, and the location of materials in other libraries. Additional requests were received through the mail, through the interlibrary loan subsystem of OCLC, or by telephone.

Both libraries and state agency employees may request research materials which are not part of the collections of the State Library. To assist in locating such materials in other libraries, the library has acquired a number of holdings lists of both books and periodicals. The State Library, as a member of the Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET), also has access to the OCLC bibliographic database of more than 12,000,000 items held by more than 6,000 libraries in the United States and abroad. More than 40 South Carolina Libraries are members of SOLINET. The SOLINET/OCLC System is used to identify locations and, through the Interlibrary Loan Subsystem, to both borrow and lend materials. This system supports interlibrary loan service and service to state government, since the library frequently uses OCLC to obtain sources requested by state employees. In 1987-1988 location information was provided for 1,001 books and periodicals from all types of libraries in South Carolina.

The Interlibrary Loan Service of the State Library is most effective when local library personnel have received instruction in basic reference and interlibrary loan techniques. As part of its continuing efforts to enhance library service throughout the state, the State Library conducted two types of reference workshops in 1987-1988. On September 3, 1987, a workshop on Reference Service Techniques was held at the Charleston County Library for twenty public service librarians. On May 11-12, 18-19, and 25-26, Reference Basics Workshops were held at the State Library for 48 public service librarians from five public library systems in the midlands area of Sooth Carolina. These three sessions were the first of what will be a series of regional workshops to be continued in 1988-1989. The Interlibrary Loan Librarian also conducted orientation sessions for 10 public, 3 institutional, 2 academic, and 3 special librarians during the year.

South Carolina Library Network. The South Carolina Library Network, operated by the State Library, continued to make progress toward its long-range goal of providing local library users with convenient access to the state's total library resources. The Network promotes interlibrary cooperation and encourages resource sharing through the use of automation and telecommunications technology.

The focal point of the Network is the automation system known as LION (Library Information On-line) which manages the State Library's database and other internal functions such as circulation, cataloging and inventory maintenance, public access catalog, interlibrary loan and audiovisual booking.

A total of 108 libraries and state agencies use the Network's dial-access capabilities to search LION remotely and place requests for needed information. Network participants include:

Public Libraries	46
Academic Libraries	23
Technical College Libraries	16
Institutional Libraries	3
Special Libraries	4
State Agencies	15

31,026 items were borrowed on-line and through electronic mail during 1987 1988, representing an 18% increase over the previous year.

A major new applications software release enabling users to search the database more effectively was installed on the system in 1988. An electronic bulletin board service containing information of interest to South Carolina libraries was added as a feature to the Network during the year. Additional disk storage and memory were added to the Network's computer which is housed and maintained by the Computer Services Division of the University of South Carolina under a contractual arrangement. At the end of the year, there were 50 dedicated terminals in the State Library and five dial-access telephone lines available for computer access.

The Public School Library Media Center Demonstration Project to determine the feasibility of school library media center participation in the Network successfully completed the first year of a two year project. The School District of Oconee County and the Lexington County School District V are the participants in this pilot project. In the first year efforts were directed toward the selection of local automation systems and the creation of bibliographic databases. In the second year the participants will develop local cooperative programs to encourage resource sharing and will conduct a study of network access.

The long-range plan for the South Carolina Library Network proposes a statewide union list of serials containing the periodicals held by South Carolina libraries. Such a union list will enable libraries to quickly identify locations of needed journal articles and eliminate duplicate purchases of expensive serials. A special committee appointed to study the feasibility of the statewide union list of serials issued its report in 1987. The report concluded that while a statewide list was highly desirable, it was not presently economically practical. The committee recommended the strengthening of several local union lists which could eventually be linked through the Network's telecommunications component. Subsequently the State Library awarded an LSCA Title III grant to the USC School of Medicine Library to input serials information from major libraries in the Charleston area into their existing serials database.

During future phases, the South Carolina Library Network will have an expanded database including statewide locations of special collections deemed most significant for resource sharing. In addition to the union list of serials, the possible components include state and federal documents, newspapers, local history and South Caroliniana materials.

Eventually the Network will permit the linking of local automated systems in order for libraries to communicate easily and share resources fully. To that end, the State Library continues to encourage the planning of local automated systems and the creation of local databases. During the year the State Library awarded Library Services and Construction Act Title III grants for automation studies for the Fairfield County Library, the Georgetown County Library, the Lancaster County Library, the Oconee County Library and the Orangeburg County Library. Grants for the conversion of older catalog records to machine readable format were awarded to South Carolina State College and the Horry County Memorial Library.

Government Documents. The South Carolina State Library, which has been a selective depository for federal publications since 1970, currently receives over 50% of the titles available through the Superintendent of Documents Depository Library Program. The State Library's federal documents collection is strong in the fields of education, census, labor, laws, economics, and government administration. All federal publications in the depository system are available to South Carolinians through the University of South Carolina and the Clemson University libraries serving as cooperative regional federal depository libraries.

On March 9-11, 1988, the Depository Library Council held its spring meeting in Charleston. The Council, an advisory group to the Superintendent of Documents, always meets outside the Washington area in the spring. This marked the first time the meeting has been held in South Carolina.

The State Documents Depository Program began in July 1982 after passage of the State Documents Depository Act. The Act requires all agencies, branches and institutions of state government to send fifteen copies of their publications to the State Library which is responsible for the program. The State Library catalogs and retains three copies of all publications and sends the other twelve copies plus associated cataloging information to ten in-state and two out-of-state affiliate depository libraries.

On November 10, 1987 representatives from the in-state depository libraries met with State Library staff to discuss retention guidelines for state publications distributed on depository. The libraries may choose to discard publications received five years previously unless the information is irreplaceable. The South Caroline Legislative Manual is representative of a publication which should be retained indefinitely.

In February 1988, a survey was sent to state documents liaisons in state agencies requesting information on and copies of publications that had been omitted from the depository system. This type of survey is regularly sent to agencies to catch what has been missed.

On March 17, the State Documents Librarian presented a program on state publications to the government documents class at the University of South Carolina. The Government Documents Roundtable of the South Carolina Library Association sponsored a workshop on March 23 covering specific aspects of state and federal publications. The State Documents Librarian made a presentation on publications which document the budgetary and appropriations processes in South Carolina state government.

By the end of FY 88, the restrospective conversion of the state documents collection had been completed, making the bibliographic records of all documents holdings available on-line. A momentous decision was made in May 1988 to discontinue issuance of the printed Checklist of South Carolina State Publications. All in-state libraries can locate state documents on-line through the South Carolina Library Network. Out-of-state libraries can locate documents through the OCLC network or by submitting an interlibrary loan request for a title or a subject.

During 1987-1988, 1,208 state publications were distributed to affiliate depository libraries. Of these, 326 were new titles and 814 were additions to existing titles. Sixty-eight titles distributed were considered too general or ephemeral to be cataloged.

Affiliate state publications depository libraries in South Carolina are Clemson University, College of Charleston, Francis Marion College, Greenville County Library, Lander College, South Carolina State College, Spartanburg County Library, USC-Beaufort. USC-Coastal, and Winthrop College. The Library of Congress and the Center for Research Libraries in Chicago also receive one copy of South Carolina state publications.

B. TECHNICAL SERVICES

The Technical Services Department coordinates the selection, ordering and processing of all materials for the State Library collections, including audio-visual materials and state and federal documents. The book stock is a one-copy, non-fiction collection, except for South Carolina titles. It includes periodicals and newspapers in both paper and microfilm, and services such as ERIC in microfiche. There are separate collections of both federal and state documents. Principal additions during the year are as follows:

Item	Additions	Total
Books	8,664	196,804

Being a member of Southeastern Library Network, a computerized network of libraries affiliated with the national network, OCLC, Inc., has made it possible to catalog new acquisitions quickly and efficiently and to continue input of retrospective holdings into the data base. The total number of retrospective titles added this year was 1,104, bringing the total to 103,019 titles. The greater part of this project has required no extra personnel and no extra time. This completes the retrospective conversion of state document titles into the database. Adding the library's holdings to the national network data base has resulted in greater use through interlibrary loan. Having a machine-readable data base has made it possible for us to automate this library to better serve both state agencies and the county libraries.

Since many state publications are annual in nature, the new title count is remaining fairly stable for the first time since depository legislation was enacted. This year 548 new titles were added for a total of 2,419 since depository legislation. However, new issues of previously published titles are being added each year making the total volume of pieces handled on the increase each year. An additional 2,418 pieces were processed in this fiscal year. Cataloging information is still supplied with each new title sent at the depository libraries, and the Checklist of South Carolina State Documents was issued quarterly with an annual cumulative index.

Records for the audiovisual collection were added to the data base in FY 87, enabling that department to automate its bookings to the county libraries. An additional 192 records were entered during FY 88.

The State Library cooperates with the Library of Congress in the National Coordinated Cataloging Operations (NACO), an on-line authority file of personal, corporate, or geographic names, of uniform titles, and of meetings. NACO ensures uniformity in cataloging so that on-line access will be possible across the country. Names established by the State Library are entered by the Library of Congress into its on-line name authority used by the libraries of North America through the major national bibliographic utilities. The South Carolina State Library was the eighth state to join in this cooperative effort.

VI. STATE LIBRARY AWARDS

Each year the South Carolina State Library honors individuals, organizations, or libraries which have made outstanding contributions to library service in South Carolina. Two awards were presented during the 1987 annual conference of the South Carolina Library Association. Catherine Lewis, who served as director of the Horry County Library for twenty-seven years, received the Distinguished Service Award. Under her direction library service was extended throughout the county, including the geographically isolated and the educationally and culturally disadvantaged. She helped develop standards for public library service, win approval for statewide public library legislation, and increase state aid for public libraries.

The Sparta burg County Library was awarded the Meritorious Service Award in recognition of the dramatic improvement in services over the past decade and the library's continuing efforts to achieve quality county-wide services through the improvement of branch libraries, bookmobile service, and outreach services.

VII. VOLUNTEER SERVICES

Volunteers contributing time and services benefit the State Library and particularly the Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Members of boards and advisory councils represent user groups and aid in the development of policies and services. Individuals and groups perform tasks such as narration of recorded material, repairing Talking Book machines and headphones, preparation of newsletters and other mass mailings, and other tasks for which there is not sufficient staff time.

Since the Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped has moved into larger quarters with space for volunteers to work with new equipment, such as a sound booth and recorder, and has received funds to hire a Volunteer Coordinator, the volunteer program should expand in FY 89.

During 1987-1988 some fifty-eight individuals contributed 1,766 hours of service as shown below:

State Library

Library Board	7 members	81 hours
LSCA Advisory Council	10 members	44 hours

Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped

Advisory Council	11 members	24 hours
Telephone Pioneers	11 members	988 hours
Other Volunteers	19 members	629 hours

Based on formulas from the Governor's Office, the service value of these volunteers to the State Library is more than $12,532. Cash donations bring the total volunteer investment in the agency to more than $14,530 in the past year. Staff time devoted to this program was approximately 156 hours.
