ABSTRACT

This study examined a nursing aide recognition program in a nursing home with 50 nurses and 200 nurse aides. Before the program was implemented, baseline data on job satisfaction were gathered with a questionnaire. A one-page description of the program and an evaluation tool were distributed to the nurse aides at their information sessions. Nurse Aides I were told that if they chose to participate they would be evaluated by the nurse and the Nurse Aide II on the unit. Nurses' inservices included instructions on use of the performance appraisal. Approximately 43 percent of the Nurse Aides I elected to participate. Comments by those evaluating the aides and the participant aides themselves were collected. When results were tallied, 34 percent of the participant nurse aides (or 14 percent of the total) achieved the award. A commendation was placed in the personnel record of those who completed the program but did not achieve the award. Staff observations indicated that the program tended to increase bickering between nurses aides instead of engendering team work; participants dropped out due to the perception that their scores were lower than their performance; participants were angered and embarrassed if they did not achieve the award; and the administrative time was possibly prohibitive. (Questionnaires and evaluation forms are included.) (ABL)

Funds for collaborative research in long term care were appropriated in the Department of Public Aid's budget in Fiscal Year 1986 to find new ways to treat long term care patients in Illinois nursing homes. The $1.25 million appropriation enabled the State, academic institutions, and providers of long term care to pool their talents for the first time. In all, there were 17 projects funded in Fiscal Year 1986. The attached document is the final report from one of those projects.

The Department of Public Aid expects the ideas generated by these projects to be put into reality. There are, in fact, training programs already being disseminated as a result of the research.

This report is one of a series of reports that comprise the long term care projects funded during 1986. Copies of the other reports are available from the Department of Public Aid by writing to Jo Ann Day, Ph.D., Long Term Care Research and Demonstration Project Director, Office for Employment and Social Services.

AN INCENTIVE PROGRAM FOR NURSE AIDES IMPLEMENTATION REPORT: DESCRIPTION AND EVALUATION

The statements contained in this report are solely those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the views or policies of the Illinois Department of Public Aid. The authors assume responsibility for the accuracy and completeness of the information contained in this report.

The following report will outline and discuss the steps used by the Director of Nursing to administer the oustanding Nurse Aide I of the Quarter Program. (Attachments are to be found in the appendix.)

The facility used for this study is Winchester House, a 359 bed, skilled nursing home, owned and operated by Lake County. The mix of payment source is 27% Private Pay and 73% Public Aid. The nursing staff consists of 250 employees, comprising 50 Nurses and 200 Nurse Aides. A further breakdown reveals two levels of Nurse Aides, the Nurse Aide I and the Nurse Aide II. The Nurse Aide II position is a promotion with a higher salary. Requirements for this position are one year of employment at Winchester House and demonstrated leadership skills.

1. ADMINISTRATION OF JOB SATISFACTION QUESTIONNAIRE

It was decided that the job satisfaction questionnaire (See attachment 1) would be administered to the Nurse Aides I in November before the entire program was introduced and explained. The rationale was that we did not want the full knowledge of the program to bias the results of the baseline job and satisfaction results.

Several one hour meetings were arranged with both the Nurse Aides I and II on each shift. The Nurse Aides II were included so that from the beginning they were an integral part of the program even though they were not part of the pilot group.

At these scheduled meetings, the Director of Nursing presided. She explained that it was important to Winchester House to elicit from the Nurse Aides I their personal and professional motivation for employment as well as their general work attitude. It was explained that this was part of a larger program to award recognition to the nursing staff that would be described in detail at a later date.

The Nurse Aides I were assured that their responses were confidential and that no one at Winchester House would have the opportunity to view their individual answers but only the aggregate results. Directions on scoring of the questionnaire (See attachment 1) were given with a simple example used since most attendees were unfamiliar with a Likert type scale of response.

The Nurse Aides I were given 45-50 minutes in the meeting to score the questionnaire. The Nurse Aides II were instructed to read the questionnaire so that they would be aware of its content but not to complete it. The purpose of having the Nurse Aides I complete the questionnaire in the meeting was threefold:

- To ensure the completion and return of the information.
- 2) To have the Director of Nursing available for questions or clarification.
- 3) To ensure the respondents did not have the opportunity to discuss the questionnaire with each other before completing it.

During one of these meetings, the question arose if additional comments could be added. The staff was encouraged to write in comments anywhere that there was a blank space. Many questions arose as to how to do the "rank-ordering" section. This seemed to give many people difficulty.

- * Additional Employee Concerns and Director of Nursing Observations:
- Nurse Aides questioned confidentiality of their responses and some expressed concern that their honest answers may be used against them.
- responses were not requested at this time. They expressed that they had more experience and longevity at Winchester House and that their answers were invaluable to this project.

  The need to limit the number of people in this pilot study was reinforced. The Director of Nursing listened to the Nurse Aides II verbal comments and recommendations. She tried to make them feel important and ar integral part of this study.
- House are mandatory and mandated according to IDPH guidelines. Example are resident's rights, dental care, restorative nursing, etc. During the month of November, Winchester House had continuous round-the-clock mandatory inservices on a new door alarm system to protect the resident in addition to the regularly scheduled inservices and meetings. It became difficult for the staff to complete their resident workload plus attend all of the meetings, inservices, and care planning conferences.
- It was hard for the staff to understand that this program was not a requirement by the state for licensure or reimbursement. It is not certain that all staff understood that this program was created simply to recognize outstanding workers although satisfied workers often display more productivity and longevity.

2. PROGRAM ORIENTATION

Inservice of the details of the program was planned by the University of Illinois Evaluator, the Administrator, and the Director of Nursing. Nineteen inservices were held by the Director of Nursing to include all nursing staff from each shift. The number of meetings per shift were as follows:

7-3 Shift - 10 meetings

3-11 Shift - 5 meetings

11-7 Shift - 4 meetings

The meetings were conducted separately for the Nurses and Nurse Aides. (See attachment 2)

Once again, not all nursing staff were able to attend these meetings since some staff had long stretches of days off and were not available to attend any of the inservice sessions.

EVALUATION TOOL

A one-page description of the program and an "Evaluation Tool" were distributed to the Nurse Aides at their information sessions. (See attachments 3 & 4) The one-page description was intended to answer questions the staff may have had at a later date since the entire program was presented to them in one hour. The Evaluation Tool was described item-by-item so that the staff would be aware of the intent of each task. was explained that if the Nurse Aide I chose to participate, she would be evaluated utilizing the "Evaluation Tool" by both the Nurse and the Nurse Aide II on the unit. The response to this joint evaluation idea was immediately both positive and negative. Some staff felt that if they had a personality clash with a fellow Nurse Aide II, that one persons subjective opinion would not weigh too heavily. On the other hand, there was fear that a personality clash with the Head Nurse would ensure that the award would not be achieved because her opinion would tip the scales. It was assured to the groups that wide diversities in rating would be evaluated by the Director of Nursing to ensure objectivity.

Other comments by Nurse Aides included:

- "Why should we have to sign up for recognition, it should come automatically from administration for a job well done."
- "Recognition is not important as a reward, give us more money."
- "Before I was promoted to Nurse Aide II, I was a Nurse Aide I here for five years and there was no recognition. I think this is a great idea."
- "Formal recognition is not important as long as I know I am doing a good job."
- "Will the individual results of this program really be confidential?"

Concerning the "Evaluation Tool".

"I didn't know that I was supposed to be doing those things."

- "Why don't you use this for our Winchester House evaluation instead of the current one? It is much more detailed and objective."
- "Use this task list during orientation of new Nurse Aides. They never seem to know their job."
- "Should take setting hair out of task list. Residents go to the beauty shop."
- "Should take polishing nails out of the task list, the Activity Department does this job."
- "Should include range of motion and ambulation of the resident in this task list."

The most common response from Nurse Aide nonparticipants was "I do these tasks everyday anyway, I don't need recognition. This program won't make me work harder. I already work to my maximum."

The question arose as to whether achievement of the award would result in a higher merit raise at annual evaluation time. It was told to the staff that achievement of the award would certainly result in a good Winchester House performance appraisal and in that manner certainly affect their raise. (The current system of merit raises is a range of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  to  $7\frac{1}{2}$  percent depending on evaluation score.)

ELIGIBILITY

All Nurse Aides I were eligible, no matter what length of time they had been employed. Some Aides felt that this should be changed to a waiting period of 2 to 6 months after hire since it took that long to become adept as an aide at Winchester House.

Nurse Aides were given the opportunity to sign up for the program at the inservice or to contact the Director of Nursing with their intent by January 1. Very few staff signed up at the inservices. They either wanted to think about it or were reluctant to let others know their desire to participate in these group settings.

NURSE'S INSERVICE

The Nurse's inservices additionally included instructions on use of the "Performance Appraisal" (See attachment 5) since these baseline data needed to be collected by January 1. The Nurses' responses to the introduction of the program were very strong. Those who thought it was positive viewed it as a much deserved recognition for their staff and were going to encourage their staff to join. Those who held a negative view, expressed their concern over (1) the extra time they would need to spend on paperwork and (2) possible fighting among staff over the results.

Initially it was decided to evaluate the participants monthly during the first quarter program to review each evaluation with the participant to give them a chance to improve, if necessary, to achieve the award.

It was stressed to each level of nursing staff their importance in this program. The Nurse Aides were potential participants and thus essential to this program. The Nurse Aides II were depicted as having invaluable input into the rating of the Nurse Aides I since they worked most closely with the Aides I in guiding and monitoring their performance. The Nurses' role of coordinator of the input to the results were highlighted. It was the intent of the Director of Nursing to engender a cooperative team effort and sense of "This is a very important project that may have State-wide impact."

DEPARTMENT MANAGER OVERVIEW

A brief overview of the program was given to the Department Managers by the Director of Nursing and the Evaluator. It was important for other departments to be aware of what the Nursing Department was doing to encourage them to think of doing similar things in their own departments.

BACKGROUND DATA COLLECTION

During December, the performance appraisals were distributed to the Charge/Head Nurse on each unit so that she could evaluate the performance of each of her Nurse Aides I for the past 3 months. The Head/Charge Nurse did this evaluation independently of her Nurse Aides II and did not share the results with the Nurse Aides I.

Throughout the month of December, confidentiality in all aspects of the program and data collection was stressed. The nursing staff was informed that the only document to be included in their personnel file was the "Certificate of Achievement" if they successfully completed the program. Some Nurse Aides accepted this, others were disappointed if they felt they were already doing an outstanding job and wanted all of these documents to be included in their file.

ENROLLMENT

At the end of the month, approximately 35 Nurse Aides I signed up as participants. The Director of Nursing encouraged the Nurse Aides on the 7-3 and 3-11 shifts to participate, stressing that there was no penalty for nonachievement of the award. The 11-7 supervisor was encouraged to do the same on her shift. The staff was allowed to enroll in the program as late as January 15, 1986. As of that date, 50 members out of a possible 116 were enrolled. Twenty-seven on the 7-3 shift, 19 on the 3-11 shift and 4 on the 11-7 shift.

Shift Breakdown of Participants

3. PROGRAM IMPLEMENTATION

The tasks for the Director of Nursing during January were twofold:

- To reinforce directions of the program, answer questions, and solicit input and,
- 2) To distribute the first evaluation tool to the Head/Charge nurses.

Both of these tasks were accomplished. It was found however that it became necessary to caution Nurse Aides II not to discourage applicants. Two participants asked to drop out of the program because their Nurse Aide II told them "don't bother participating, you won't make it anyway". These two average participants were encouraged by the Director of Nursing to stay in the program. One did but one withdrew.

As part of the process, if an aide was reprimanded during the quarter, she was deemed ineligible to participate further. As this occurred, she was either informed personally or a note was sent thanking her for her participation thus far and encouraging her to join again next quarter.

EVALUATION #1

Nurses were not consistently reviewing the results of the first performance appraisal with the participants. The participant, at times, was unaware of her first score. It was necessary for a participant to receive feedback on performance in order to effect behavioral changes. These evaluations were sent back to the nurses with instructions to review the results with the aide.

A couple of times, a group of evaluators did not agree on the rating of a task. These were reviewed by the Director of Nursing and the scores were averaged. Thus, for example a few participants received a score of "2.5" instead of "2" or "3" due to averaging.

A few Nurse Aides I felt that their scores were unjustly low. They did perform these tasks all of the time, why didn't the Nurse and Nurse Aide II see this?

One serious problem was that a Head Nurse on the day shift rated a Nurse Aide with a score of 68.5

for the first evaluation. Seemingly, this was not a very high score. The Head Nurse had previously rated the Nurse Aide with a score of 4 (out of a possible 5) on her Winchester House evaluation and recommended her for a promotion to Nurse Aide II. When questioned about this discrepancy, the Head Nurse stated that compared to other nurse aides, this employee does rate a 4 (excellent) on her Winchester House evaluation but according to the scoring for the recognition program, she does not always perform most of the tasks. This reasoning was not interfered with at the time. The Nurse Aide involved was a very energetic, vocal person. She stated that she felt the scoring was not fair. She appeared to be humiliated by the fact that coworkers knew she was in the program but she did not achieve the award. She decided to resign her position and notified the Director of Nursing of this during the 1st quarter recognition luncheon.

The staff was encouraged to feel that any score at all on the "Evaluation Tool" meant that they were doing a good job. It was explained that Nurse Aides had created the tasks on the "Evaluation Tool" and that a passing score meant that they were doing a good job. Also, the cores for each month of the quarter would be averaged together so hard work in the next 2 months could still meet the criteria for an award.

Nurse Aides would discuss their scores among each other. The Director of Nursing received comments such as "She doesn't really deserve the score, she doesn't always do those tasks". It was especially apparent between shifts. The usual rivalry among each shift thinking they work the hardest was reinforced.

As a result of staff input, 4 tasks were changed on the "Evaluation Tool".

"Sets Resident's hair when needed" and "Polishes Resident's nails when requested" were eliminated from the 7-3 and 3-11 shifts.

"Updates care plans as new problems occur or as goals are met" was changed to be more descriptive. The revision reads "Aware of residents' goals, carries goal cards on linen cart or in pocket. Works towards accomplishing these."

Another change was the task "Performs simple charting duties on time." The new statement reads "Performs simple charting duties on time. These duties include charting in E & B book, rehab Kardex, and charting CUD output."

Reactions from the Head/Charge Nurses afer the first evaluation were varied. These included:

7-3 shift Head Nurse - This nurse did not feel that her aides were outstanding. Only I passed the January evaluation. When she reviewed Evaluation #I with her nurse aides they were upset and disagreed with the rating. One Nurse Aide I stopped talking to the Nurse Aide II on the unit because of their involvement in her scoring. She also asked for a transfer off of that unit, it was granted. She did not end up achieving the award because of a safety reprimand. This Head Nurse also stated that she felt her nurse aides did have the time to always complete these tasks but her nurse aides disagreed.

- 7-3 shift Head Nurse - This nurse had several nurse aide participants, none of them passed Evaluation #1. This Head Nurse questioned whether there was really time to always complete these tasks.

It was reinforced that this program is based on 80% competency level, not 100%.

- 7-3 shift Charge Nurse During the course of general discussions about the program, it was determined that this nurse was misinterpreting the intent of several of the tasks and consequently misscoring the evaluation. The tasks and scoring were reviewed with her, then the January evaluation results were corrected.
- 7-3 shift Head Nurse This nurse observed very positive results after Evaluation #1. Her nurse aides were observed passing water and juice between meals to residents. Their general work performance improved overnight.
- during the month of January, there was much rivalry among her 3 participants because they erroneously thought that only one nurse aide per unit could achieve the award. It was determined that this impression was also held by others. During our February meetings, this misconception was corrected as well as others about the program. Regularly scheduled monthly staff meetings have been used to disseminate information about the program and gather input.

7-3 shift Head Nurse - She felt that all of her nurse aides were outstanding. In some areas, the aide's scores had to be lowered because they did not always have time to perform the tasks. In particular were areas that required reminiscing and offering residents emotional support. Two of the three participants on this unit did eventually achieve the award.

EVALUATION #2

Evaluation #2 of the quarter was distributed to the Head/Charge nurses on February 20, 1986. This was to give them ample time to meet with the other evaluators and participants to complete this task before the 5th of March. A cover page with instructions (See attachment 6) was attached to clarify some continued inquiries. A copy of the results of Evaluation #1 was distributed at the same time to refresh the memories of the evaluators.

The month of March brought a major occurrence which took place on a 7-3 shift unit that had 5 participants. There had been some prior management problems on this unit. There seemed to be more complaints on this unit than on other units concerning incomplete resident care from family members. Yet at the end of Quarter I, all five participants had achieved scores high enough to merit the award.

The main concern in addressing this problem was not to have the entire program be viewed as having an unfair scoring system. Three of these 5 participants had only received "average"

Winchester House annual evaluations. The Director of Nursing viewed their performances as only average, basing her opinion on the outcome of resident care on that unit. When the Head Nurse was questioned on the discrepancy between the "Evaluation Tool" results and those of the Winchester House evaluation, she had no valid answer.

It was not felt that these 5 participants should all qualify for the award so the problem was taken to the Administrator. After much discussion, we agreed to invalidate the scores of all 5 participants. There was no fair way to select just 1 or 2 winners. We did not want the other Winchester House staff to acknowledge these 5 people as winners because the rest of the house was partially aware of the performance problems on this particular unit. It was decided that the Director of Nursing would inform this unit of the decision.

The staff was very angry that their scores had been invalidated. With the exception of 1 aide, the staff blamed the Director of Nursing for their ineligibility and said that they would never participate again in this program. However, four of the five Quarter I participants did rejoin for Quarter II.

EVALUATION #3

The third and final "Evaluation Tool" was distributed around the 15th of the month. Once again, a cover instruction page was distributed. (See attachment 7)

RESULTS

The results of the Quarter I were tallied. Twenty-eight of the 50 participants completed the program. Seventeen dropped out for a variety of reasons, 5 scores were declared invalid. Seventeen Nurse Aides I achieved the award. (See attachment 8) In percentages, 14% of the total Nurse Aides I achieved the award while 34% of the participants achieved the award.

A memo was sent to all of the nursing units announcing the winners. (See attachment 9) A commendation was placed in the personnel record of these ll participants who completed the program but did not achieve the award. A personal invitation was sent to each winner inviting her to the awards luncheon. (See attachment 10)

A photograph of each awardee was then taken and placed in the hallway of the main lobby. One nurse aide declined to have her picture taken. The other winners were proud of their photos and asked to be given to them to keep when the display was taken down.

The award luncheon was conducted 4-9-86 from 2:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Eleven of the 17 winners attended. Those who did not attend gave various reasons. (See attachment 11) The Administrator opened the luncheon congratulating the staff for their fine performances. A chicken luncheon was served buffet style which had been prepared at Winchester House. The Certificate of Achievement (See attachment 12) was presented as well as a free chicken dinner certificate to Brown's Fried Chicken. The chicken certificate was well received as a tangible benefit for working so hard to win this award. Copies of the Achievement Certificate were placed in each employee's personnel file.

The cost breakdown of the awards luncheon is as follows:

Chicken luncheon and decorated cake -- $3.00/person Certificate of Achievement ---- $5.25/person Total ----- $3.25/person The Brown's Fried Chicken Certificates were solicited from the vendor at no cost.

A list of the winners was placed in two publications. One is the biweekly newsletter at Winchester House titled "House Calls", (See attachment 13) the other is Lake County's monthly newsletter called the "Communicator".

Performance appraisal #2 was distributed for all Nurse Aides I. There was no problem with completion of these by May 1.

There was, however, difficulty in obtaining the results of Job Satisfaction Questionnaire #2. These questionnaires were distributed to the staff by the Director of Nursing on the 7-3 shift and by the Supervisors on the other shifts. The majority of Questionnaire #1 had been completed in a classroom with the Director of Nursing in attendance. Questionnaire #2 was simply distributed with a cover page of instructions. By mid-May, 13 questionnaires had not been returned and 2 were returned with corner code numbers torn off. New questionnaires were re-distributed to the non-respondents with directions given to send the results directly to the Evaluator if confidentiality was in question.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

- There seemed to be an increase in bickering between Nurse Aides on the same unit with the advent of this program. Instead of engendering team work, the opposite occurred.
- Voluntary dropouts became more frequent as the program progressed due to the participant's perception that the score on the "Evaluation Tool" was much lower than the actual work performance of the participant.
- 3) The high visibility of the entire facility knowing who the participants were caused feelings of anger and embarrassment by the participant if the award was not achieved.
- 4) The administration time of the program can be prohibitive in a large facility when monthly "Evaluation Tools" are completed for individual participants.

These general observations raised the question "would a group or unit recognition program be more beneficial to the needs of a nursing home where team work is the key to quality resident care? Would recognition of an "outstanding team" be a motivator for increased productivity and ultimately job satisfaction?"

These questions, as well as the results of this study, were posed to the Nurse Aides at Winchester

House. The staff was not in favor of a "group" recognition for two reasons:

- 1) There are numerous outside agencies that survey Winchester House already. If we internally devised another method of auditing resident care outcomes with an award attached, the staff felt that this would just lead to added pressure and stress for them.
- 2) There are 2 nursing units per floor at Winchester House. The staff felt that a "group" award (with only 1 winner per shift) may lead to fighting among the two units on the same floor in their achievement efforts as opposed to the comraderie that currently exists. Also, it may heighten the existing conflict between the shifts on the unit.

It was rather felt by this group that an award for monthly perfect attendance would be more appropriate than an award for job performance. This proposal as well as others will be reviewed with administration in the continued search for answers to increased productivity and job satisfaction.

APPENDIX

JOB SATISFACTION QUESTIONNAIRE

The purpose of this survey is to gather some information about your feelings concerning your job, working with other staff and residents, recognition and rewards for your work, and some of the reasons why you chose your current job. There are no right or wrong answers. Your responses will be anonymous and strictly CONFIDENTIAL. Your name does not appear anywhere on this questionnaire, nor should you sign it or identify yourself in anyway. The information collected will be used to form an overall picture, so no one's individual response can be identified or name used for any purpose. Your opinions are very important, so please answer all questions frankly.

The following are sets of statements about job satisfaction, commitment and motivation. Indicate the response closest to your view by circling the degree to which you agree or disagree with the statement you are considering. The following are the responses available to you.

SA = If you strongly agree with the statement

A = If you agree with the statement

N = If you neither agree or disagree with the statement

D = If you disagree with the statement

SD = If you strongly disagree with the statement

Please tear off the top page with your name and return the completed questionnaire to Mary Sinke or to your supervisor.

NOTE:

- 1- This evaluation does NOT become a part of the employee's permanent record, but rather is used for research purposes only.
- 2- This evaluation does NOT replace the Winchester House probationary and/or annual evaluation.
- 3- When you have completed this questionnaire, remove this cover sheet, and return the rest of the materials to Mary Sinke.

For the first set of position tasks, the options available to you for evaluation are as follows:

- 1= MARGINAL: Does not meet minimum position standards. Performance is clearly below the acceptable level.
- 2= ADEQUATE: With few exceptions, meets position standards. However, some improvement is desirable.
- 3= PROFICIENT: Meets position standards. Performance which is expected from experienced and qualified individuals.
- 4= EXCELLENT: Exceeds position standards. Performance which exceeds that of most others in similar position levels.
- 5= DISTINGUISHED: Exceptional, clearly unique performance. Significantly exceeds position standards. Achievement which clearly exceeds performance of others in similar position levels.

Dear Evaluator,

It is once again time to complete an evaluation on the participants of the Outstanding Nurse Aide I of the Quarter Program. This is Evaluation #2 for the work performance during February. Please return to me by Friday, 2-28-86.

A few general guidelines:

- 1) I have given you a copy of the January evaluations so that you may recall the previous score of each individual.
- 2) Complete the evaluation with the assistance of your Nurse Aide II and relief nurse.
- 3) I have eliminated questions #6 and #7 on the 7-3 and 3-11 evaluation. This was due to an overwhelming consensus that these tasks were not generally appropriate.

The new scoring for passing is:

7-3 shift - 96 points

3-11 shift - 95 points

11-7 shift - 74 points

The above scores reflects an 80% competency level.

- 4) If your Nurse Aides I do not receive a passing score, please remind them that any score at all is good since it reflects a performance above the minimum standards.
- 5) Review the results of Evaluation #2 with the participant.
- 6) If you have any questions about the intended meaning of a particular task, do not hesitate to ask me.
- 7) One last reminder is that the award is based on the average of the 3 evaluations during this first quarter. There is no limit to the number of Nurse Aides I that may achieve the award.
- 8) Tear off this top page and return both January and February evaluation to me.

Thanks to all who have spent their time on this project. I hope that it will enable us to recognize those who are deserving.

Dear Evaluator,

This is the third and final evaluation for this first quarter. Please complete as usual, referring to evaluation #2 to refresh your memory. Review it with your Nurse Aide I.

Return to me as soon as possible so that I may tally the results and announce the winners!

Thanks so far, for your attention to this paperwork during the first quarter.

Scoring - 3 evaluations averaged:

7-3 shift- 96 points 3-11 shift- 95 points

11-7 shift- 74 points

Please congratulate your Nurse Aides I for their participation in the program, regardless of their results.

M. Sinke, R.N., D.O.N.

AND YOU THOUGHT YOU WORKED HARD . . . .

"Modern-day nurses think they have a heavy burden. Following are some excerpts from "Duties of Nurses", established at a hospital in 1889. You can thank your lucky stars you aren't there today!

In addition to caring for your fifty patients, each nurse will follow these regulations:

- 1. Daily sweep and mop the floors of your ward, dust the patient's furniture and window sills.
- 2. Maintain an even temperature in your ward by bringing in a scuttle of coal for the day's business.
- 3. Light is important to observe the patient's condition. Therefore, each day fill kerosene lamps, clean chimneys and trim wicks. Wash the windows once a week.
- 4. The nurse's notes are important in aiding the physician's work. Make your pens carefully; you may whittle nibs to your individual taste.
- 5. Each nurse on day duty will report every day at 1 a.m. and leave at 8 p.m., except on the Sabbath on which day you will be off from 12 noon to 2 p.m.
- 6. Graduate nurses in good standing with the D.O.N., will be given an evening off each week for courting purposes or

- 2 evenings a week if you go to church regularly.
- 1. Each nurse should set aside from each pay day a goodly sum of her earnings for her benefits during her declining years so that she will not become a burden. For example, if you earn $30 a month, set aside $15.
- 8. Any nurse who smokes, uses liquor in any form, gets her hair done at a beauty shop, or frequents dance halls, will give the D.O.N. good reason to suspect her worth, intentions, and integrity.
- 9. The nurse who performs her labors and serves her patients and doctors faithfully and without fault for a period of five years will be given on increase by the hospital administration of 5¢ a day, provided there are no hospital debts that are outstanding."

CONSTRUCTION DAY...

The Staff really appreciated Construction Day,
March 28th. Donuts, coffee and Candy Bars were enjoyed by all. And didn't "DAPPER DAN" (alias, GUY TURNER), look great in his tuxedo?
Talk about class!
