ABSTRACT

This directory presents over 150 unnotated references and resources with contact information for post-secondary education and training of persons with disabilities. Pertinent laws and regulations are described and Department of Education Regional Technical Assistance Offices listed for availability of additional materials. Resources are divided into materials on: access and awareness (access to careers, education, and programs); architectural access; family support; and across-disability organizations); disability-specific resources; community integration (rehabilitation, independent living, and employment); technology; funding; and legal assistance. A selective listing of toll-free telephone service numbers is also included. (PB)

HEATH RESOURCE CENTER

national clearinghouse on postsecondary education for individuals with handicaps

HEATH is an acronym for Higher Education and Adult Training for people with Handicaps. The HEATH Resource Center operates under legislative mandate to collect and disseminate information nationally about disability issues in postsecondary education. Funding from the United States Department of Education enables the Center to increase the flow of information about postsecondary options, educational support services, policies, and procedures appropriate for those with disabilities who have left high school.

As the national clearinghouse on postsecondary education for individuals with handicaps, the HEATH Resource Center is designed to:

- make known the educational and training opportunities available in whatever setting adults who have handicaps may choose to continue their education after high school;
- promote the types of accommodations which enable full participation by people with disabilities in regular, as well as specialized, postsecondary programs;
- recommend strategies which enable those with handicaps to pursue education after high school in the least restrictive and most productive environment possible.

To accomplish these goals, HEATH has an extensive publication program, a toll-free telephone service, and a professional staff which participates in a strong network of colleagues across the country.

Information from HEATH, a newsletter published twice a year and distributed nationally, is free of charge to subscribers. The newsletter highlights campus programs, provides information about new or pending legislation, and offers reviews of new publications and other media products. HEATH resource papers, monographs, guides, and directories focus on disability-related issues as they emerge on college campuses, vocational-technical training schools, adult education programs, independent living centers, and in other community-based training programs. Single copies of HEATH publications are free and may be reproduced. Most are available by request on audiocassette tape or computer disk.

The toll-free telephone line enables postsecondary administrators and service providers, teachers and instructors, high school and vocational rehabilitation counselors, governmental officials librarians, health professionals, journalists, as well as those with disabilities and their families to make inquiries directly to HEATH staff.

Participation by HEATH staff in national, regional, and statewide conferences and training workshops has led to the development of a national network of professionals across the nation. This network enables staff to suggest speakers, access options, audiovisual materials, and other resources to enhance such meetings.

HEATH staff can be reached Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Eastern Time at (800) 544-3284; or, in the Washington, DC metropolitan area, at (202) 939-9320; both lines are Voice/TDD.

Inquiries may also be mailed to HEATH at One Dupont Circle, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20036. Inquiries will receive prompt attention.

Higher Education and Adult Training for people with Handicaps (HEATH) is a program of the American Council on Education.

July, 1989

Dear Colleague,

We are pleased to send you the new 1989 HEATH Resource Directory, a compendium of over 150 annotated references and resources for education and training after high school.

This sixth edition of the Directory includes organizations and directories which can provide information on access and awareness, disability specific resources, community integration, technology, funding, and legal assistance. Pertinent laws and regulations are described and Department of Education Regional Technical Assistance Offices are listed so that additional materials can be requested. A selected Toll Free Telephone Service listing concludes the HEATH Resource Directory.

The HEATH Resource Directory is designed for anyone who is involved with the postsecondary education or transitional needs of persons with disabilities. Persons with disabilities, their families, as well as instructors, counselors, administrators, librarians, journalists, governmental officials, health care professionals, and others have used previous editions for training workshops and staff development programs.

Please inform your colleagues about the availability of the new 1989 HEATH Resource Directory. A single copy of the HEATH Resource Directory is available free by request. Additional copies in bulk are available by prepaying with a check to HEATH. The cost recovery price for multiple copies is $.75 each, which includes postage. For example: 10 copies for $7.50; 25 copies for $18.75; 50 copies for $37.50; 100 copies for $75.00.

Thank you for sending your orders to the address at bottom of this letter.

Sincerely,

THE RESOURCE DIRECTORY

The HEATH Resource Directory is compiled biannually and is intended to provide a selection of resources in the major areas of interest in the field of postsecondary education and disability, rather than a comprehensive listing of such resources. Many of the organizations included can respond to questions about an individual's own situation, and most can provide published materials. In addition, they may be asked about sources of assistance close to the caller's location.

The Table of Contents of the Directory provides an outline of its organization. At the end of many sections there are a few Additional Resources, which include books or directories, magazines, and/or other organizations which HEATH staff find helpful. Because many of the listed organizations have multiple purposes and can provide more than one type of service, readers of a particular section are referred to other organizations in other sections of the Directory ("See Also."). The Index lists names of organizations described in the body of each section but not those listed in "Additional Resources." HEATH has resource papers on many of the topics which are listed under Additional Resources without annotation. They provide descriptive text, suggested procedures, and sometimes options for a person with a particular disability to consider. These publications may be ordered, free of charge, by writing or calling the Center.

The Directory is an excellent resource for conferences and meetings and may be obtained in bulk at a cost recovery price.

ACCESS and AWARENESS

ACCESS TO CAREERS, EDUCATION, AND PROGRAMS

ACT Test Administration
P.O. Box 168
Iowa City, IA 52243
(319) 337-1332

ACT (American College Testing) can respond to some needs for special arrangements at its regular testing centers, although large-type or braille editions or audiocassette tapes are not available there. With proper documentation of the disability, individual administrations of the assessment can be arranged for those students with physical or perceptual disabilities who cannot attend established test centers, take the tests within the allotted time using regular-type test booklets, or who are confined to hospitals on all scheduled test dates. Call or write for a Request Form for Special Testing.

American Alliance for Health, Phys Ed, Recreation and Dance
1900 Association Drive
Reston, VA 22091
(703) 476-3400

The Alliance is a membership organization of professionals in the fields of physical education, recreation, health and safety, and dance. Their Adapted Physical Activity Council has a nationwide network to provide information about adapting curricula and activities to the needs of people with disabilities. Back copies of the journal, Able Bodies, and other publications are available.

American Association for Counseling and Development (AACD)
5999 Stevenson Avenue
Alexandria, VA 22304
(703) 823-9800
(703) 370-1943 (TDD)

AACD is the parent organization for counselors, from educational and social service settings across the country, who have joined one or more of 15 subdivisions of AACD. Included are postsecondary, secondary, and elementary school counselors; vocational counselors, mental health, employment, and diagnostic/evaluation rehabilitation counselors; and other interested professionals. Each group has its own newsletter, publications, and conferences. AACD can furnish a publications list.

American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS)
Project on Science, Technology, and Disability
1333 H Street, NW
Washington, DC 20005
(202) 326-6667 (Voice/TDD)

The Project addresses the concerns of scientists and engineers with disabilities, and offers suggestions about improving accessibility of science programs for students with disabilities. The Directory of Scientists and Engineers with Disabilities (2nd Edition, 1987) lists people in various parts of the country who are available for consultation ($10, plus $3 postage). Science for Handicapped Students in Higher Education is out of print but available in many college libraries. Scientific and Engineering Societies: Resources for Career Planning, edited by Martha Redden and Virginia Stern, offers counselors and students an overview of the wide range of career possibilities and level of education required in science and engineering ($6, prepaid to AAAS Sales Dept). Access to the Science and Engineering Laboratory and Classroom (1986) is available free from AAAS or from HEATH.

American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO)
One Dupont Circle, Suite 330
Washington, DC 20036
(202) 293-9161

AACRAO and HEATH have jointly published Recruitment, Admissions, and Handicapped Students. This guide provides practical suggestions for implementation of the law. It is available free from either organization.

American Chemical Society
1155 Sixteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20036
(202) 872-4431

The Society's Committee on the Handicapped has published a manual entitled Teaching Chemistry to Physically Handicapped Students. For more information or copies of the manual, contact Terrence Russell.

American Society of Allied Health Professions (ASAHP)
1101 Connecticut Avenue, NW, Suite 700
Washington, DC 20036
(202) 857-1150

ASAHP publishes a monthly newsletter for allied health professionals which includes information about integrating people with handicaps into the field (Trends, $40). They also publish Alliances in Health and Education: Serving Youngsters with Special Needs, which includes an instructors' guide of strategies for teaching and ways to incorporate relevant topics into both curricula and workshops/conferences ($19.95). Their Journal ($65) and Trends are included in membership (individuals $125; organizations $3000). Contact ASAHP for details.

American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA)

10801 Rockville Pike
Rockville, MD 20852
(301) 897-5700 (Voice/TDD)
(800) 638-8255 (Consumers)

ASHA is an organization of professionals which serves people with communication disorders. Brochures, information packets, and a referral list are available; and it offers technical assistance to professionals and consumers in the area of augmentative communication. It has developed exemplary administrative and intervention strategies, as well as procedures for providing services to severely communication-impaired children and youth. ASHA follows legislation relevant to those with communication disorders. For further information, professionals are requested to call (301) 897-5700, consumers may use the toll-free number.

American Vocational Association (AVA)

1410 King Street
Alexandria, VA 22314
(703) 683-3111

AVA's Vice President, Special Needs Division, can offer assistance in adapting vocational programs for handicapped students. The AVA journal is Voc Ed. The April, 1981 issue (Vol. 56, No. 3) was devoted to students with disabilities and, although that issue is no longer available from AVA, it can be found in many libraries.

Association on Handicapped Student Service Programs in Postsecondary Education (AHSSPPE)

P.O. Box 21192
Columbus, OH 43221
(614) 488-4972 (Voice/TDD)

AHSSPPE is a national nonprofit organization of members from over 600 institutions of higher education. It promotes full participation of individuals with disabilities in college life. Information sharing is a key element of the goal to upgrade the quality of services available to disabled students. Membership benefits include annual conferences, the bimonthly newsletter, ALERT, and a membership directory. AHSSPPE also sponsors special interest groups, including: Blindness/Visual Impairment, Career Counseling, Community Colleges, Deafness/Hearing Impairment, Head Injury, Learning Disabilities, TRIO programs, Women and Disability, Canadian Programs, Computers, Disability Studies, and Independent Colleges. It also has task forces on AIDS and Psychiatric Disability.

College Board
ATP Services For Handicapped Students

Princeton, NJ 08541-6226
(609) 771-7137
(609) 771-7150 (Voice/TDD)

The College Board provides a special arrangements through its Admissions Testing Program (ATP) for students with disabilities, to minimize the effects of disabilities on test performance. Two plans are available. Plan A (Special Accommodations) is for students with documented hearing, learning, physical, and/or visual disabilities. It permits special test editions, special answer sheets, extended testing time, aids, and flexible test dates. Plan B, which offers extended time only, is only for those with documented learning disabilities. Plan B permits additional testing time for the SAT and TSWE (Test of Standard Written English). Call or write for Information for Students with Special Needs, or Information for Counselors and Admissions Officers.

Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC)

ERIC is an information system providing access to literature dealing with education in 16 specialized areas including: higher education; adult, career and vocational education; tests, measurement and evaluation; rural education and small schools; reading and communications skills; science, mathematics and environmental education; handicapped and gifted children; and teacher education. Entries are all annotated, and many can be obtained on microfiche or paper copy reproduction through ERIC. A computer search of the ERIC database can be made by subject. To access the system, go to one of the 800 subscribing libraries found throughout the country, or seek further information at the nearest college or university library. If unable to find information there, contact ERIC Clearinghouse on Higher Education, George Washington University, One Dupont Circle, NW, Suite 630, Washington, DC 20036, (202) 296-2597; or ERIC Clearinghouse on Handicapped And Gifted Children, 1920 Association Drive, Reston, VA 22091, (703) 620-3660.

Foundation for Science and the Handicapped (FSH)

1141 Iroquois Drive #114
Naperville, IL 60540

FSH is an organization of scientists and professionals in various fields, many of whom have disabilities, who offer their skills to help solve problems related to handicapped people. Members can respond to requests for guidance, problem clarification, or career suggestions. They assist educational institutions and industry to create favorable conditions for people with disabilities. They also publish a book by S.P. Stearner, Able Scientists—Disabled Persons ($12.95). Some grants are available to disabled students who are: college seniors or beyond, already accepted or enrolled in graduate or professional school; and are in science, mathematics or engineering. (Send requests for information on grants to: Herbert W. Hoffman, 3817 W. Granville Ave., Chicago, IL 60659.)

Mobility International, USA (MIUSA)

P.O. Box 3551
Eugene, OR 97403
(503) 343-1284 (Voice/TDD)

MIUSA is the American office of the London-based organization founded in 1973 to integrate persons with disabilities into international educational exchange programs and travel. It offers members information and referral services. It sponsors programs to Costa Rica, Germany, England, China, and the Soviet Union. Publications include: A Guide to International Educational Exchange, Community Services, and Travel for Persons with Disabilities ($12 members; $14 non-members); A Manual for Integrating Persons with Disabilities into International Education Exchange Programs ($14 members, $16 non-members); and Over the Rainbow, a quarterly newsletter available to persons/organizations for $10/yr. MIUSA also sells two videos which demonstrate the important role that people with disabilities have in international educational exchange and travel ($40 each). These are available in English or Spanish, and with captions for deaf and hearing-impaired persons.

National Association of Vocational Education
Special Needs Personnel (NAVESNP)

c/o Athens Technical Institute
U.S. Highway 29 North
Athens, GA 30610
(404) 549-2362

NAVESNP is a membership organization of secondary and postvocational education professionals concerned with the education of disadvantaged students and students with disabilities or other special needs. The NAVESNP Journal is available quarterly to members ($12/yr), and there are five regional subgroups which meet in addition to the annual meeting. Consumers, advisers, and parents can obtain local referrals to people qualified to do vocational evaluations.

National Committee for Citizens in Education

10840 Little Patuxent Parkway, Suite 301
Columbia, MD 21044-3199
(301) 997-9300
(800) 638-9675

NCCE is an organization devoted to improving the quality of public schools through increased public involvement. It provides information resources to parents and citizens for decision-making at the local level. Their newsletter, Network, appears 6 times per year; and the Summer, 1988 issue featured disability-related technology resources. They have an "Access Printout" called College Opportunities for Learning Disabled Students. A catalogue and price list are available.

Technical Assistance for Special Populations Program (TASPP)

University of Illinois
345 Education Building
1310 S. 6th Street
Champaign, IL 61820

TASPP, a service function of the National Center for Research in Vocational Education at University of California, Berkeley, is housed at the University of Illinois. TASPP is designed to assist professionals to improve vocational education programs for special needs youth and adults. The program also conducts workshops on related critical issues. A Guide on Transition Resources is available at cost recovery prices. Practitioners, researchers, and policy makers may call to request a newsletter and list of publications.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

Community Colleges and Students with Disabilities, A Directory of Services and Programs (1988).

Published jointly by the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges and the American Council on Education, sponsored by HEATH Resource Center. It may be obtained by sending $5, plus $2.50 postage/handling, to AACJC, One Dupont Circle, Suite 410, Washington, DC 20036.

Directory of College Facilities and Services for the Disabled (1986) includes information about over 2300 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada. Approximate numbers of students with disabilities, specific services available in each disability category, and other comments are given. While a directory is no substitute for actual visits to schools, this is an excellent resource with which to begin one's own investigation. It is available in many libraries or from the publisher at $99. Oryx also publishes other related titles of interest. Available from Oryx Press, 2214 North Central at Encanto, Phoenix, AZ 85004. (602) 254-6156.

Handbook of Trade and Technical Careers and Training is a listing of accredited postsecondary career schools throughout the U.S. The schools are arranged according to states, and annotations tell what programs are offered at each school. (Free) Available from National Association of Trade and Technical Schools, 2251 Wisconsin Ave., NW, Washington, DC 20007. (202) 333-1021.

HEATH Resource Center offers the following relevant resources papers (one copy free of charge):

- Access to the Science and Engineering Laboratory and Classroom
- Career Planning and Placement Strategies for Postsecondary Students with Disabilities
- Cost Effective Ideas for Serving Disabled Students on Campus
- Education Beyond High School—the Choice is Yours

ARCHITECTURAL ACCESS

American Institute of Architects (AIA)
c/o Information Center
1735 New York Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20006
(202) 626-7493

The Institute has published two annotated bibliographies of material on barrier-free design. One bibliography lists 60 books, and the other offers 13 pages of references to periodical articles. Both are free to AIA members ($10 each for nonmembers) upon request.

Architectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance Board
1111 18th Street, NW, Suite 501
Washington, DC 20036-3894
(202) 653-7834 (Voice/TDD)
(202) 653-7848 (Voice/TDD) (Technical Services)

The Board is an independent Federal regulatory agency charged with ensuring the accessibility of certain facilities designed, constructed, altered, or leased with Federal funds. It processes complaints about inaccessibility of Federal facilities and publishes information about accessibility. Its Office of Technical Services provides technical assistance on the removal of barriers in areas of architecture, transportation, communication and attitudes. Different Federal regulations apply to different buildings depending on when each was built or altered and the type of funding. To find which standard applies to a particular building, contact the Board's Office of Technical Services. To file a complaint about an inaccessible Federally funded facility, call the main number above.

Association of Physical Plant Administrators (APPA)
1446 Duke Street
Alexandria, VA 22314
(703) 684-1446

APPA is an association, international in scope, whose purpose is to promote excellence in the administration, care, operation, planning, and development of physical plants used by colleges and universities. Regional directors throughout the country can provide referrals to speakers on the topic of accessibility in educational facilities. Two books about accessibility are: Modifying the Existing Campus Building for Accessibility: Construction Guidelines and Specifications, by Stephen R. Cotler ($15/members; $21.00/nonmembers), and Adapting Historic Campus Structures for Accessibility ($7.50/members; $10.50/non-members).

FAMILY SUPPORT

Estate Planning for the Disabled
P.O. Box 808
Manteca, CA 96336-0808
(209) 239-7558
(916) 928-1400

EPD is a nonprofit corporation, the purpose of which is to counsel and assist parents of special needs children to develop (at the lowest possible cost) viable estate plans, letters of intent, and wills and special needs trusts. Estate teams consisting of a planner, attorney, and a CPA have been organized in several California locations and elsewhere in the country. Special payment plans and discounts are available to low-income families. Seminars, workshops, and resource lists are among the services offered. Callers from other states will be assisted or referred to appropriately trained and experienced attorneys and financial specialists.

National Information Center for Children and Youth with Handicaps (NICHCY)
7926 Jones Branch Drive
Park Place Building, Suite 1100
McLean, VA 22102
(703) 893-6061 (Voice/TDD)
(800) 999-5599

NICHCY is an information service to help parents of children/youth through secondary school age, educators, care-givers, and advocates improve the lives of children and youth with handicaps. Funded by the U.S. Department of Education, the Center staff answers questions, develops and shares new information through factsheets and newsletters, and puts people in touch with others who are solving similar problems.

National Network of Parent Centers, Inc.
1522 K Street NW, Suite 1112
Washington, DC 20005
(206) 565-2266 (Voice/TDD)

The National Network was established with Federal funds to provide a national voice for parents of persons with disabilities. It promotes and supports the power of parents to influence policies concerning people with disabilities and their families. The Network includes organizations of parents of children, youth, and adults with various disabilities. It offers mutual support, assistance, credibility, and a power base through a peer support advocacy network. A directory, newsletter, and monographs are available. The Network will refer callers to the nearest group.

Parent Educational Advocacy Training Center (PEATC)
228 S. Pitt Street
Alexandria, VA 22314
(703) 836-2953

PEATC provides educational consultation services and conducts parent training courses in the Washington, DC metropolitan area which are open to anyone able to attend from across the country. It uses the trainer-of-trainers model, in that participants in the weekend or five-day courses come in mixed pairs (i.e. parent/teacher or parent/VR counselor) and agree to return to their setting and teach the curriculum just learned. Among their courses are "Next Steps: Planning for Employment," and "Supported Employment Opportunities." PEATC publishes the quarterly newsletter, Parent Center News, which is available free of charge.

Self-Help Clearinghouse

St. Clares-Riverside Medical Center
Pocono Road
Denville, NJ 07834
(201) 625-7101
(201) 625-9053 (TDD)

Callers to the Clearinghouse are usually family supporters or consumers, who have one of a wide variety of disabilities, illnesses, or stressful life situations. The staff refers to an appropriate regional clearinghouse or to a self-help support group. The Self-Help Sourcebook (1988) contains group listings in 42 health related disability categories; sections on mental health groups; and parenting/family groups (including some specifically for families with disabled members); and lists of other regional self-help clearinghouses ($9). Other services include consultation on starting a group, consultation with regional and international clearinghouses, and periodic conferences.

Sibling Information Network

991 Main Street, Suite 3A
East Hartford, CT 06108
(203) 282-7050

The Network was established to assist individuals interested in the needs of families of persons with disabilities. They offer a state-by-state list of sibling support groups. A newsletter, Sibling Information Network News, is published four times a year, to describe projects, literature, research findings, and ideas useful to siblings. Membership in the Network is $7/yr for individuals and $15/yr for organizations.

Specialized Training of Military Parents (STOMP)

12208 Pacific Highway, SW
Tacoma, WA 98499
(206) 588-1741

1851 Ram Runway, Suite 102
College Park, GA 30337
(404) 767-2258

STOMP provides military families with information about their rights and responsibilities to obtain appropriate educational services for their children wherever they may be located in the U.S or overseas.

In cooperation with Georgia PEP and Washington PAVE of the TAPP Network (see below), STOMP provides a referral service, materials describing relevant education regulations, and supportive assistance on the telephone or by mail. The staff are experienced parents of special needs children/youth in military communities. Families may call either STOMP Center, collect, to receive assistance.

Technical Assistance for Parent Programs (TAPP) Federation for Children with Special Needs

312 Stuart Street
Boston, MA 02116
(617) 482-2915

The TAPP Network is Federally funded (in a cooperative agreement between the Federation for Children with Special Needs and the U.S. Department of Education) to provide training to parent groups through four regional centers. It is a project of the National Network of Parent Centers described above. TAPP publishes Coalition Quarterly; it has a list of monographs, and it conducts national and regional conferences. The Regional Centers will refer callers to the closest parent group. They can provide information about parenting youth in transition, either from school to work or from school to further education and training.

ORGANIZATIONS: ACROSS-DISABILITY

American Association of Disability Communicators (AADC)
c/o National Easter Seal Society
70 E. Lake Street
Chicago, IL 60601
(312) 726-6200
(312) 726-4258 (TDD)

AADC is an information network among communicators (such as writers, reporters, and television/radio news broadcasters) who address issues relevant to people with disabilities. Examples of these issues are media coverage, media access, transportation access, and the language used to describe people with disabilities.

American Council on Rural Special Education (ACRES)
National Rural Development Institute
Miller Hall 359
Western Washington University
Bellingham, WA 98225
(206) 676-3576

Dedicated to the interests of individuals with disabilities living in rural areas, ACRES publishes the ACRES Ruralink, a quarterly newsletter. Also available is a 1987 publication, Rural Transition Strategies That Work ($5). The $45 membership fee provides access to a job referral service, conferences, monographs, and other resources.

Clearinghouse on Disability Information
Office of Special Education and
Rehabilitative Services (OSERS)
U.S. Department of Education
Room 3132, Switzer Building
Washington, DC 20202-2524
(202) 732-1723

The Clearinghouse responds to inquiries about disability issues, especially those relating to Federal funding for programs serving people with disabilities, relevant Federal legislation, and Federal programs benefitting people with disabling conditions. Free publications summarizing legislation and Federal funding are available.

Coalition on Disability and Chemical Dependency (CDCD)
2165 Bunker Hill Drive
San Mateo, CA 94402
(415) 578-8047

CDCD addresses the fact that people with disabilities frequently are chemically dependent, or they are at-risk of becoming dependent. The organization advocates to increase the accessibility of substance abuse prevention and treatment programs that do exist and to increase the number available. It is conducting the California Alcohol, Drug and Disability Study (CALADDS), which will generate data and recommendations for improving accessibility to the California alcohol and drug service system. Quarterly, the Coalition publishes The Seed to inform professionals and consumers about the connection between alcohol, drugs, and disability. They are seeking information about the recovery needs of people with impairment in vision, mobility, hearing, development, and mental health.

Disabled Veterans of America
807 Maine Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20024
(202) 554-3501

DAV is a national membership organization of service-connected disabled veterans, their families, and survivors. Its National Service Program (NSO) counsels, advises members and non-members across the country; without charge, DAV NSOs act as advocates for individuals to obtain the benefits to which they are entitled. DAV works to lower the rate of unemployment among disabled veterans and the level of discrimination against them. The Voluntary Service program (VAVS) operates nationwide, as does the Transportation Network.

National Council on Disability
800 Independence Avenue, SW, Suite 814
Washington, DC 20591
(202) 267-3846
(202) 267-3232 (TDD)

The Council is an independent Federal agency comprised of 15 members appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. It is mandated to address, analyze, and make recommendations on issues of public policy which affect people with disabilities regardless of age, disability type, perceived employment potential, perceived economic need, specific functional ability, status as a veteran, or other individual circumstances. It will distribute periodically a free newsletter, FOCUS, and welcomes requests for copies of policy papers. Publications include On the Threshold of Independence (1988), An Assessment of Federal Laws and Programs Affecting Persons with Disabilities—Legislative Recommendations (no cost).

National Easter Seal Society

1350 New York Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20005
(202) 347-3066

The National Easter Seal Society is a nonprofit, community-based health agency dedicated to increasing the independence of people with disabilities. The Society has 190 affiliates nationwide which are available to disabled adults, children, and their families for direct services, screening, advocacy, public education, and research. A publications list is available. Easter Seal centers offer employment opportunities for physical, occupational, speech, and other rehabilitation professionals. The Washington office monitors Federal legislation and regulations, and it publishes a quarterly newsletter Washington Watch Line.

National Organization on Disability (NOD)
910 16th Street, NW, Suite 600
Washington, DC 20006
(202) 293-5960
(202) 293-5968 (TDD)

NOD promotes the fuller participation of Americans with disabilities in all aspects of community life. Its primary program is the Community Partnership Program, a network of 2000 towns, cities, and counties nationwide. NOD's Community Partnerships undertake many different kinds of activities to improve attitudes toward disabled people, expand educational and employment opportunities, eliminate physical barriers, and expand participation in religious, cultural, and recreational activities. NOD's quarterly newsletter, Report, is available upon request.

World Institute on Disability
1720 Oregon Street, Suite 4
Berkeley, CA 94703
(415) 486-8314

WID is a public policy center which promotes independence, equity of opportunity, and full participation of people with disabilities. It has an Attendant Services Network and can inform people about sources of personal assistants in their States. WID has a growing library on international access, best practices, and interesting innovations that are available worldwide. Staff members are particularly knowledgeable about government funded services for all disabilities and about access to health insurance

AIDS Action Council
2033 M Street, NW, Suite 801
Washington, DC 20036
(202) 293-2437

The Council is an advocacy group which monitors legislation and public policy affecting people with AIDS. It provides a voice for community-based service organization rather than direct service referral for individuals. (See National AIDS Network, below, for such service.) A legislative newsletter is available.

American Amputee Foundation
P.O. Box 55218, Hillcrest Station
Little Rock, AR 72225
(501) 666-2523
(800) 553-4483

AAF is a non-profit organization which provides special services for amputees and their families. The primary service provided is peer counseling before and after surgery. Callers may be referred to amputees across the nation who are also available to local hospitals and rehabilitation centers. Resource information is extensive, including a National Resource Directory (1988-90) and a magazine, Ability.

Family Survival Project (FSP)
425 Bush Street, Suite 500
San Francisco, CA 94108
(415) 434-3388

FSP provides resources and encouragement to families caring for a member with any type of brain-impairment. The focus includes those impaired by injury, stroke, Alzheimer's Disease, or other diseases. There are many groups in California. Nationwide inquirers can receive their newsletter, Update, a publications list, a packet of information, and suggestions for forming new groups.

Gazette International Networking Institute (GINI)
4502 Maryland Avenue
St. Louis, MO 63108
(314) 361-0475

GINI seeks to inform and to dignify people with disabilities throughout the world. The Polio Network began in 1958 to provide information and psychological support to polio survivors. The Rehabilitation Gazette, published annually, is read in 87 countries and in five languages. The Ventilator Users Network, the original nucleus of GINI, has an information service specializing in independent living, polio, spinal cord injury, ventilators, and do-it-yourself equipment. Polio Network News is the quarterly newsletter for polio survivors experiencing the late effects of polio ($8). With a subscription to the News comes the Post Polio Directory, a national and international listing of clinics, health professionals, and support groups.

Immune Deficiency Foundation (IDF)
P.O. Box 586
Columbia, MD 21045
(301) 461-3127

The goal of the IDF is to promote increased research, medical training, and public education on and for the primary immune deficiency disorders. Through a national office and several regional chapters, the Foundation has developed programs for patients and parents, professional education, research support, and legislative interaction. Its focus is on the genetic, primary immunodeficiency diseases (rather than on others such as AIDS and Multiple Sclerosis). Affiliate groups can be found in California, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio/Indiana, Oklahoma, and Texas.

National AIDS Network
2033 M Street, NW, Suite 800
Washington, DC 20036
(202) 293-2437

The Network is the national resource center for community-based service and education organizations supporting those with AIDS. Telephone referral to a local group is a major function. It has a program of workshops and seminars to provide technical assistance; a minority affairs program; and two newsletters, Network News and Multicultural Notes.

National Center For Youth with Disabilities (NCYD)
Adolescent Health Program
University of Minnesota

Washington, DC 20013-1133
(301) 565-4167
(800) 336-4797

The Information Center welcomes inquiries from consumers and professionals interested in health-related disability issues. Referrals are provided to appropriate organizations. It is a service of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

National Organization for Rare Disorders, Inc. (NORD)
P.O. Box 8923
New Fairfield, CT 06812
(203) 746-6518

NORD is a nonprofit voluntary agency composed of national health organizations, scientific researchers, physicians, and individuals dedicated to the interests of people who suffer from rare debilitating disorders. NORD has an information and referral service and a networking program to put individuals in touch with others suffering the same or similar illnesses. It monitors the Orphan Drug Act to promote the availability of orphan drugs to persons with rare diseases. Orphan Disease Update is their quarterly publication, and they maintain the Rare Disease Database on CompuServe.

National Spinal Cord Injury Association
600 W. Cummings Park, Suite 2000
Woburn, MA 01801
(617) 935-2722
(800) 962-9629

This membership organization disseminates information, funds research, sponsors client services related to spinal cord injury, and has chapters in many states across the country. Their support system for families, In Touch with Kids, offers a network of telephone and written communication about coping with spinal cord injury. The publications list includes a National Resource Directory, factsheets, and a guide for developing new chapters. A quarterly newsletter, Spinal Cord Injury Life, and a discount pharmaceutical program are benefits of membership.

Paralyzed Veterans of America (PVA)
801 18th Street, NW
Washington, DC 20006
(202) 872-1300

PVA is a nationwide veterans' service organization dedicated to serving the needs of America's paralyzed veterans and to representing the concerns of all veterans and members of the disability community. The national organization and its chapters throughout the United States and Puerto Rico are actively involved in spinal cord research, health care, wheelchair sports/recreation programs, and general accessibility to society for physically-challenged individuals.

Spinal Cord Injury Hotline
American Paralysis Association (APA)
c/o Montebello Rehabilitation Hospital
2201 Argonne Drive
Baltimore, MD 21218
(800) 526-3456

The Spinal Cord Injury Hotline is a toll-free information and referral service of the American Paralysis Association. It is available to individuals who have sustained a spinal cord injury and to their families. It facilitates the search for support and resources by referring callers to individuals having personal experience with spinal cord injury (peer contacts), or to professionals or organizations with expertise in these areas. The Hotline works with individuals to solve a wide range of problems and to direct them to the most current and helpful resources.

Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation
Psychiatric Rehabilitation Services Center
Boston University
730 Commonwealth Avenue
Boston, MA 02215
(617) 353-3549

The Psychiatric Rehabilitation Services Center both initiates programs and consults with existing ones, nationwide, to increase the likelihood that people who have a history of psychiatric disability can live independently, hold a job, participate in learning and training opportunities. The Services Center Program provides treatment, skills learning, and support in a normal and age-appropriate setting at Boston University's Sargent College of Allied Health Professions. The Center welcomes inquiries about training for professionals, consultation in psychiatric program development, and its materials for distribution. It offers articles, books, videotapes, trainer packages, and two publications: Community Support Network News, and Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal.

National Alliance for the Mentally Ill (NAMI)
2101 Wilson Boulevard, Suite 302
Arlington, VA 22201
(703) 524-7600

NAMI is a self-help organization of mentally ill persons, their families, and their friends. Composed of nearly 1000 affiliate groups, nationwide, its goals are mutual support, education, and advocacy for the victims of severe mental illness. Their philosophy is that brain disease causes schizophrenia, manic depressions, and other disabling conditions; their support groups provide coping strategies to families and the person having mental illness. Call to get the closest affiliated group. NAMI offers a newsletter, the NAMI Advocate, and other publications.

National Mental Health Association (NMHA)
1021 Prince Street
Alexandria, VA 22314-7722
(703) 684-7722

NMHA has an active information center which can refer callers to one of 600 affiliate centers across the country. It also has fact sheets about various types of mental illness and mental health, such as schizophrenia, depression, adolescent suicide prevention, stress and tension. Its new Office of Prevention has curricular materials for elementary, secondary, and college use. Founded in 1909, NMHA develops and urges policy position on key issues, and trains volunteers in client support services and advocacy. The quarterly newsletter FOCUS is $15/yr, and there is an extensive list of publications.

FUNDING

Federal Student Aid Information Center
Office of Student Financial Assistance
Postsecondary Education
U.S. Department of Education
Washington, DC 20202
(800) 333-4636

The Information Center staffs a toll-free number available in all 50 States and Puerto Rico. It can answer questions about Federal student aid from students, parents, and Members of Congress, as well as financial aid administrators. The Center has available several publications, including the Student Guide: Five Federal Financial Aid Programs, the Application for Federal Student Aid (in print and on cassette), and Correction AFSA (in English and Spanish).

Foundation Center
79 Fifth Avenue
New York, NY 10003
(212) 620-4230

The Center operates four libraries (in New York, Washington, DC, Cleveland, and San Francisco). In these, and various other libraries across the country, are found four reference books which index foundations and grants made to organizations serving those with disabilities. In a few cases, grants to individuals are listed. To find the address of the nearest of the 150 collections, call the New York number above.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

Financial Aid for Students With Disabilities. HEATH Resource Center. (Discusses the process of applying for aid and a very few sources of aid. HEATH does not manage funds for scholarship assistance.)

Grants for Graduate Students—1988, edited by Andrea Leskes, could be useful for currently enrolled graduate students, undergraduates planning to enter graduate school, graduate school deans, career counselors, and faculty seeking support for their graduate students. It contains very few sources of funding specifically for students with disabilities. However, with 650 entries, it is a major resource for those seeking graduate school funding. Available in libraries, or for $29.95 from Peterson's Guides, 166 Bunn Drive, P.O.Box 2133, Princeton, NJ 08450-0008.

Federal Funding to Two-Year Colleges for 1988 is the thirteenth edition of a comprehensive publication produced by the National Council for Resource Development. Despite its title, this book is useful to four-year colleges, as well as two-year colleges, since it describes over 20 Federal programs which actually fund college programs. Contact information is included. Available for $4.95, plus $1.50 for postage and handling, from the National Council for Resource Development (NCRD), One Dupont Circle, Suite 410, Washington, DC 20036 (202) 293-7050.

LEGAL ASSISTANCE

ORGANIZATIONS

Disability Rights Education and Defense Fund (DREDF)

2212 6th Street
Berkeley, CA 94710
(415) 644-2555

Governmental Affairs:
1616 P Street, NW, Suite 100
Washington, DC 20036
(202) 328-5185

DREDF is a national disability rights law and policy center dedicated to equal opportunities for persons with disabilities. It offers education and training programs on disability civil rights issues, legal support and advocacy, and analysis of policy questions. It has publications for distribution, and callers can be referred to local sources of help.

Fund for Equal Access to Society
7945 MacArthur Boulevard, #204
Cabin John, MD 20818
(301) 320-6185

The Fund is a nonprofit corporation formed in 1980 to advocate for full and equal access for individuals precluded from effective participation in various aspects of society, including college campuses or training sites. A caller could also be referred to a more appropriate source of legal assistance.

Mental Health Law Project

2021 L Street, NW
Washington, DC 20036
(202) 467-5730

MHLP is a nonprofit advocacy law group which can provide technical assistance to attorneys and service providers. Their main function is not direct service or referral to specific attorneys. They select cases for those which would have national impact on advocacy for people with disabilities, especially in the areas of developmental and psychiatric disabilities.

National Center for Law and the Deaf
800 Florida Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
(202) 651-5373 (Voice/TDD)

NCLD provides legal education on issues affecting hearing-impaired and deaf people through conferences, workshops, classes; it also presents educational programs to the hearing community on compliance with state and federal legislation requirements. The Center is an advocate to many law schools on behalf of deaf students; it works with prospective deaf law students on career possibilities, and it advises students about the Law School Aptitude Test and other realities of law school life.

Public Interest Law Center of Philadelphia (PILCOP)
125 South 9th Street, Suite 700
Philadelphia, PA 19107
(215) 627-7100

PILCOP is a non-profit, public interest law firm with a Disabilities Project specializing in class action suits brought by individuals and organizations. The Center's primary interests are in promoting family-scale local services for people with developmental disabilities and in promoting state-of-the-art education for people with handicaps in the public schools. Lack of accessible transportation is another focus. (PILCOP does not deal with mental health issues.)

FEDERAL LAWS and REGULATIONS

Increasing numbers of students with disabilities are attending American colleges, universities, vocational-technical programs, proprietary schools, independent living centers, adult education programs, and other places where people continue to learn after high school. Over the past decade and a half, there has been a dramatic growth of opportunities and a crumbling of barriers on campuses and in workplaces.

Students have been assisted in their education and adult training by a range of accommodations that make full participation possible for many. Examples of these accommodations are: relocation of classes and untimed testing; support services including interpreters, notetakers, taped tests, and job coaches; and technological equipment such as talking calculators, Braille typewriters, and voice or light beam-operated computer terminals. With such assistance, people with disabilities have been able to make great strides toward managing their lives; and they have been increasingly successful in a variety of postsecondary programs alongside their non-handicapped peers. This kind of success has been achieved gradually, following passage of laws reflecting society's growing awareness of and appreciation for citizens who have disabilities.

Rehabilitation Act and Regulations

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-112), together with the implementing Regulations of 1977 which were reissued by the U.S. Department of Education in 1980, prohibits discrimination in those postsecondary education, training and employment programs that receive Federal funds. Section 504 provides that "no otherwise qualified handicapped individual . . . shall, solely by reason of a handicap, be excluded from the participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance." According to the Regulations, a "qualified" individual with handicaps, with respect to postsecondary and vocational education, is defined as one "who meets the academic and technical standards requisite to admission or participation in the recipient's education program or activity."

Section 504 prohibits discrimination against persons with disabilities by institutions who are recipients of Federal funds. This applies to recruitment, testing, admissions, and treatment after admission. Therefore, colleges, universities, and other postsecondary institutions are required to make reasonable adjustments and change discriminatory policies so that qualified students with disabilities can fulfill academic requirements. Students are not to be excluded from programs because of physical barriers or the absence of auxiliary aids.

In some cases, accommodation for persons with disabilities may require no architectural changes in the site; rather, prejudicial attitudes and discriminatory policies must be changed to open the doors of opportunity. Full acceptance into the regular setting constitutes compliance with the regulations for many of these students. For institutions that receive Federal assistance, architectural barriers must not be present in buildings constructed after June 3, 1977. In facilities that existed before that date, barriers must be removed unless the program can be made accessible by other means. That is to say, postsecondary institutions are not required to make all older facilities accessible, but may instead undertake some alterations, reschedule classes to accessible facilities, or take other steps to open programs in older facilities to students with handicaps.

Auxiliary aids and devices frequently make the difference in educational program accessibility. Provision of such aids may sometimes be accomplished by assisting students to pursue financial aid as a client of Vocational Rehabilitation, or to apply to charitable organizations for assistance.

Education of the Handicapped Act and Amendments

In 1975, the Education of All Handicapped Children Act (P.L. 94-142) substantially amended the 1969 Education of the Handicapped Act (91-230, Title VI) and established the right of all children to a "free appropriate public education." It requires that education be provided with related services in the least restrictive environment appropriate to each individual child as specified in that child's formal Individualized Education Plan (IEP), which must be written with the involvement and consent of parents and professionals. The legislation also incorporated due process guidelines to safeguard the rights of children with disabilities and their parents. The Education of the Handicapped Act also established a number of discretionary programs for the purpose of improving the education of individuals with disabilities at all levels of schooling.

The Education of the Handicapped Act Amendments of 1983 (P.L. 98-199) mandated the establishment of a national clearinghouse on postsecondary education for individuals with handicaps. Since 1984, HEATH Resource Center has operated this clearinghouse as a program of the American Council on Education.

Carl D. Perkins Vocational Education Act

The Carl D. Perkins Vocational Education Act (P.L. 98-524, 1984) provides financial aid to States for vocational education programs. Under the Act, more than one-half of allocated Federal monies must support targeted groups, those with handicaps, the disadvantaged, and the limited English-proficient. Ten percent (10%) of the set-aside money must be used only to support the excess costs associated with serving disabled students in mainstreamed programs. Grants may be used in secondary, postsecondary, and adult programs. Monies are distributed by the Federal government to States, which in turn make subgrants for the operation of programs. The State Board of Vocational Education is the place to begin the process of grants and funding.

Civil Rights Restoration Act

The Civil Rights Restoration Act of 1987 (P.L. 100-259) provides agencies with broader authority to investigate allegations of discrimination than they had under the Supreme Court's decision in 1984 in Grove City College v. Bell. Under Grove City, an agency had jurisdiction to investigate discrimination only when the specific program or activity within the institution in which the discrimination allegedly existed was receiving Federal financial assistance. The Civil Rights Restoration Act expands the definition of a program or activity so that agencies may investigate allegations of discrimination anywhere in an educational institution, so long as that institution receives Federal financial assistance.

HEATH PUBLICATIONS LIST

The HEATH Resource Center operates the national clearinghouse on postsecondary education for individuals with handicaps. HEATH is an acronym for Higher Education and Adult Training for people with Handicaps. Support from the United States Department of Education enables the Center, a program of the American Council on Education, to serve as an information exchange about educational support services, policies, procedures, adaptations, and opportunities on American campuses, vocational-technical schools, adult education programs, independent living centers, and other training entities after high school. The Center gathers and disseminates this information so that people with disabilities can develop their full potential through postsecondary education and training if they choose.
