ABSTRACT

The Sioux City Community Schools Office of Indian Education provides American Indian students with tutoring services through funds from Title V, Part C of the Indian Education Act of 1998 and the Johnson-O'Malley programs. The goal is to reduce the high dropout rate among Indian youth. This tutor handbook contains introductory information for the part-time tutor. Tutorial suggestions emphasize sensitivity to the Indian culture. The tutoring process is outlined, and a job description for the tutor is provided. The following forms used in the program are reproduced in the handbook: (1) working agreement between Sioux City Community Schools and the tutor; (2) progress letter to parents; (3) federal Indian student certification form; (4) Johnson-O'Malley program form; (5) request for tutoring; (6) daily/weekly log of student contacts; (7) tutor self-evaluation; and (8) student attendance record. Lists of Sioux City Community Schools, principals, addresses, and phone numbers are also included. (KS)

Title V, Part C

Title V, Part C of the Indian Education Act of 1988 provides Federal dollars to local school districts for meeting the special educational and culturally related academic needs of Indian children. These funds supplement existing educational programs.

Supplemental education services are those services designed to meet the specialized education needs of eligible Indian students which may have resulted from the socio-economic conditions of the family, from cultural or language differences or other factors. The services provided through the Title V-C program shall supplement, not supplant, federal, state and local funds.

The Title V programs define "Indian" as:

Any individual living on or off reservation who:

- a. Is a member of a tribe, band, or other organized group of Indians, including those tribes, bands or groups terminated since 1940 and those recognized now or in the future by the state in which they reside, or who is a descendent in the first or second degree, or any such member; or
- b. is considered by the Secretary of the Interior to be an Indian for any purpose; or
- c. is an Eskimo or Aluet or other Alaska Native.

Funds are generated based on the state average per pupil expenditure and the number of Indian students enrolled in the school district.

Your work agreement as a Title V-C tutor is with the Sioux City Community Schools. Your program supervisor will be Marilyn Charging.

Introduction

There are many factors which contribute to the high dropout rate of our Indian youth here in Sioux City. Research indicates that our American Indian students in the Sioux City Schools are three times as likely to leave school prior to their graduation date. Retention, attendance problems, and repeated academic failure are only a few of the reasons, why our children do not always have a successful school experience.

In an effort to increase the number of students who graduate from high school or complete their General Educational Development (G.E.D.), the Sioux City Schools' Office of Indian Education has utilized the financial resources available through the Title V and Johnson O'Malley Programs to address this serious problem.

The Title V Tutorial Component offers you, the tutor, a unique opportunity to work individually with our students, and to serve on a professional team whose work can truly make a difference in the lives of our Indian students. You play a key role in helping reduce the dropout rate, improving school attendance, and creating positive self-esteem within our students. The Office of Indian Education staff and parent committee would like to take this opportunity to share the following information about the tutorial program and suggestions that will guarantee you success as a Title V tutor.

Tutorial Suggestions

The following suggestions are based upon Research on Effective Practices in Indian Education.

- 1. As a tutor, you will need to develop a working relationship with your student that is based upon warmth, understanding and demandingness. In this situation your role can be described as the "warm demander".
- 2. Successful tutors give encouragement and psychological understanding to their students. Be continually on the watch for good work and behavior. Praise your students, but do not praise them in a way that separates them from the group or holds them up as better than others. Cooperative learning and group competitiveness are very effective and complimentary to Indian cultural values.
- 3. Provide positive feedback to your students. Recognize their accomplishments through praise, happy notes, stickers, etc. Encourage students to participate in the attendance incentive and academic incentive programs.

- 4. Maintain high expectations for your students. Remind them they are capable of accomplishing the goals they have set within the tutoring session, as well as the classroom. Explain to your students you will not do the work for them, but assist them to learn how to help themselves.
- 5. As behavior problems arise, you will need to use demandingness and personal concern in helping your student improve his or her behavior. Remember to practice reflective listening with your student. Many times your student may need to have someone listen to his concerns, before you can begin the tutoring session.
- 6. Do not directly criticize your student. Use instruction to help the student improve his work or behavior. The use of humor is an excellent way of developing trust between you and your student. Once you have gained his trust, you will be in a better position to offer positive criticism and sincere advice.
- 7. Relate to your Indian students in a culturally acceptable manner. Understanding your student's cultural value system will enable you to work more effectively with your student. The Sioux City Schools and Office of Indian Education will conduct inservice training programs and workshops to assist staff in becoming more culturally sensitive to the needs of our students. As a Title V tutor you will be required to participate in these programs. Monthly meetings of the tutorial staff will also enable you to learn more about Indian culture and tribal differences.
- 8. If possible, establish an atmosphere within your work area that is representative of Indian culture. We will be able to assist you with posters, pictures and ideas.

Please feel free to contact the office staff, if you have any concerns or questions.

The Tutoring Process

- 1. Meet your principals and acquaint them with the tutoring program.

 Discuss the role you will play, as part of their building team. Should questions arise, have the building principal contact the project director.
- 2. Obtain a list of Indian students from the secretary. If list is not available, ask teachers individually or contact the Office of Indian Education secretary for assistance.
- 3. Ask teachers to refer Indian students who are academically at risk, and who would profit from tutoring.
- 4. Send home Request for Tutoring Forms with student to be signed by their parent and returned to you before tutoring can begin.
- 5. Check with the Office of Indian Education to see if a student has a completed 506 and Johnson O'Malley application. If not, they will contact the parents to verify the student is Indian. Students cannot be tutored until the student is enrolled with the Office of Indian Education.
- 6. Set up your schedule by allowing teachers to sign up for times that fit into their schedule. Do not tutor during special classes or recess.
- 7. Give copies of your completed schedules to teachers, principals and the Office of Indian Education.
- 8. Meet with students, inform them of your role as a tutor and support person; establish goals for the current year.
- 9. Record all student contacts on Daily and Weekly log sheets and send to the Office of Indian Education each Friday.
- 10. Record working hours on an Hourly Payroll Report and place in the Office of Indian Education on the last working day of each month.
- 11. If you have any concerns of questions contact the Project Director.

Of Special Note

- 1. The location of a place to tutor may be a problem because of the limited space in our schools. Tutoring often takes place in small cubicles, behind curtains on stages in gymnasiums, at a table in the hall or at the back of a classroom.
- 2. Materials are limited. Some materials may be obtained at the Office Of Indian Education. Your school may be willing to supply you with some of the basic needs. Also, teachers are often willing to let you borrow and use many of their materials.

- 3. Scheduling is very difficult. Be patient and try to let teachers choose times that are convenient for them and the student to be out of the classroom.
- 4. Teachers do rely on us to assist Indian children. They are usually very supportive and eager to work with the tutors who work with their students.
- 5. The Title V tutoring program in Sioux City is well known and accepted by staff. Consistency and competent staff are mainstays of the program.

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 15 minutes per response for parents and 30 minutes per local educational agency (LEA), including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to the U. S. Department of Education, information Management and Compliance Division. Washington, D. C. 20202-4651; and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D. C. 20503.

In order to apply for a formula grant under the Indian Education Act, your school district must determine the number of Indian children enrolled in its schools. Any child who meets the following definition from the Act may be counted for this purpose.

"Indian" means "any individual who (1) is a member of a tribe, band, or other organized group of Indians (as defined by the Indian tribe band, or other organized group), including those imbes, bands, or groups terminated since 1940, and those recognized by the State in which they reside, or who is a descendant, in the first or second degree, of such member, or (2) is considered by the Secretary of the Interior to be an Indian for any purpose, or (3) is an Eskimo or Aleut or other Alaskan Native".

You are not required to submit this form to the school district. If you choose not to submit a completed form, however, your child cannot be counted for funding.
