ABSTRACT

This guide is intended to help Kentucky families of children with disabilities or other special needs to find services in their communities. Introductory information offers guidance in selecting services, applying for services, obtaining services, and organizing to obtain unavailable services. A question-and-answer format is used, with space provided for families to record information relevant to their situation. The questions address the following topics: emergency financial assistance, short-term or long-term financial assistance, financial help for medical bills, financial help for medicine or medical equipment, financial help for food, sources of furniture assistance, emergency assistance for utility bills, services provided by the local health department, services provided by the Commission for Handicapped Children, mental health services available for children, types of physicians, and dentistry. A number of addresses of Kentucky agencies and resources are provided. (DB)

Purpose

This guide has been developed to help families of young children locate services in their home community. This guide was written to help families of preschool and school-age children, most of the information may also be helpful to find services for adults. While this guide makes many references to services in the state of Kentucky, it can easily be adapted to other states. Terminology may differ from state to state but programs are essentially the same.

How To Use This Guide

This guide has been set up on a question and answer format. An effort has been made to list the question families usually ask when they need help. Various agencies and organizations which can usually be found in local communities are listed along with information about the services that they usually provide. Space is provided so that the name of the local agency or organization in the community can be written in under each question. Names, addresses, and phone numbers of local agencies and organizations may be found in your phone book. However, if you should need extra help, the following agencies may be able to help you:

Your local Comprehensive Care Center (in some areas, this agency is referred to as the local Mental Health/Mental Retardation Board or MH/MR Board for short. Check to see which is right for you local area.) Throughout this guide, the term Comprehensive Care Center is used. If it has a different name in your community, you should list that name in this guide.

Your local offices of the Cabinet for Human Resources or Department of Human Services.

The person in charge of Special Education in your local public school.

The person in charge of Preschool Programs in your local public school.

Your local Health Department.

The following suggestions may help in selecting, applying for, and obtaining services:

- 1) Selecting Services - The process of selecting the service or services you and/or your family may qualify for can be rather complicated since all the requirements (eligibility, marital status, sex, age, household size, residency, geographical location, and/or special condition) must be met. If you cannot qualify for assistance from a particular organization, request information on alternate sources of help.
- 2) Applying for Services - Now that you have established what services you may qualify for, the next step is application. Remember that there are various methods of applying for services. If you telephone, be aware that the person who answers the phone at any agency or organization will most likely be a receptionist who does not handle service delivery or application but who can and will connect you with the appropriate person. Also, application for some services requires that you have certain documents with you (i.e. birth certificates, social security numbers, rent receipts, physician's report, bank statements, etc.). If you ask in advance what documents are necessary and have these available, the application process will be greatly simplified.
- 3) Obtaining Services - Once you have applied and met all the requirements, the waiting period in which you receive the service can vary. Patience and cooperation should bring quicker, more satisfactory results.

When Services Are Not Available

If you are not able to find a needed service for your child or family, the responsibility for bringing attention to this need more than likely will be yours. There are perhaps other families in the county or neighboring counties who have the same problem. The fact is that few people will have the same urgent need as you unless they are experiencing the same daily frustrations that you are. Since numbers increase the chances that an agency, community group, county council, school board, or other organization will act on your need, you must locate other families who could benefit from this service. Of course, this support in numbers will vary depending on how special the problem or need may be. If you are looking for support for day care, recreational facilities, or transportation, you will very likely find quite a few families interested. On the other hand, if you are looking for physical or occupational therapy for your child, it may be more difficult to find others with the same need. Here are a few general suggestions to help you get started.

- Bring attention to your need by calling agencies and talking to neighbors and others.
- Once you identify other parents and they show interest, make time to meet with them personally.
- Get together as a group and talk about ways to increase your numbers.
- Keep the group's attention on creating or starting a service, not attacking an agency or organization.
- Identify people in your community (i.e., a teacher, nurse, neighbor, social worker, or friend) who can help you or possibly address the group.

HAS AN EMERGENCY TAKEN SO MUCH MONEY THAT YOU CANNOT PAY ALL OF YOUR BILLS?

The Department for Social Insurance has an emergency assistance program that may be able to help you.

To apply for emergency assistance call the office nearest your home.

My local phone number is: _____

• • • • •

The agencies listed below may also help you pay bills in an emergency.

My local phone is:

American Red Cross _____

Salvation Army _____

Volunteers of America _____

My local church/synagogue _____

When you go to one of these agencies, you may need to take:

- Identification
- Employment record
- Check stub
- Gas/light/water bills
- Social Security card
- Rent receipt
- Medical bills

DO YOU NEED FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE ON A SHORT OR LONG TERM BASIS?

You may be able to receive AFDC (Aid to Families with Dependent Children). AFDC provides low income families with a monthly check if one or both parents are dead, missing, or disabled. Your children must be under 18, unless they are in school. If they are in school they must be 21 or younger.

To apply for AFDC call the Department for Social Insurance at the office nearest your home.

My local Social Insurance phone number is: _____

If you can get AFDC, you will also be able to get a Medical Card. You can use this card to pay for most of your family's medical bills. These bills include doctor's visits, dentist's visits, x-rays, prescription medicines, mental health care, and more.

Most people who get AFDC are also able to get Food Stamps. You can use Food Stamps to buy food. You will need your gas, light, and water bills, your rent receipts and medical bills. Ask about Food Stamps when you are applying for AFDC.

When you go to apply for AFDC, take:

- Proof of income
- Birth certificate
- Social Security card
- Proof of home ownership or rent
- Proof of savings

• • • • •

The Social Security District Office has programs that may be able to help you. They are:

Social Security Survivor Benefits: This program provides a regular monthly check to minor children (handicapped or nonhandicapped) who have lost a parent.

And
SSI (Supplemental Security Income): This program provides a monthly check to low-income elderly or handicapped people. If you can get SSI, you will also receive a Medical Card. You can use this card to pay for most of your medical bills.

To apply for one of these programs and to make an appointment to talk about the best one for you, call the main Social Security District Office for an appointment at the office which serves your zip code.

If you are not able to go to the office, an interview can take place over the phone. There can be up to a two-week waiting period for this interview.

My local Social Security Office phone number is: _____

When you go to apply for Social Security benefits, take:

HOW CAN I GET HELP TO PAY MEDICAL BILLS?

You may be able to get a Medicaid Card. The Medicaid Card is for persons with low-income who need help in meeting medical expenses. You can use the card to pay for:

- Doctor visits
- Dentist visits
- Clinic visits
- Medicine
- Hospital stays
- Medical tests
- X-rays
- Home Health services
- Therapy services
- Transportation to Medical Visits - This also includes stretchers and ambulances. You have to request this service a week before you need it.

To apply for a Medicaid Card, call the Department for Social Insurance.

My local phone number is: _____

Not all doctors will take the Medicaid Card; so, when you apply ask for a list of doctors who will take the card.

If you are receiving SSI (Supplemental Security Income), you will also get a Medicaid Card. It will be sent from the Department of Social Insurance at the beginning of each month.

When yo go to apply for a Medicaid Card, you may need to take:

- Income stubs
- Unemployment insurance stubs
- Doctor's statement of your physical condition
- Medical or life insurance information

You will still be able to apply for this service even if you do not have all this information for you first visit.

Insurance - many insurance policies will cover speech therapy, physical therapy, or occupational therapy as well as dental problems. Be sure to check with your employer representative or your local agent to determine your particular insurance coverage.

My insurance agent's phone number is: _____

Many times your local medical society can refer you to doctors or clinics that provide services to children. Costs for these services are figured on a sliding scale based on family income.

My local medical society phone number is: _____

Should you live in an area that has a medical school as part of a university, services may be available through their hospital. These services are usually provided at scaled down cost. This service may also apply to a school of dentistry as well.

The local public health department also provides a number of services at very low cost. These services usually include:

WHAT CAN YOU TELL ME ABOUT HOME HEALTH SERVICES FOR MY CHILD?

While Home Health services are generally thought of as primarily serving the elderly population, in some cases services are available to children with certain disabling conditions or health problems.

Home Health services are defined as those health and health related services provided:

- on an intermittent basis
- under a physician's plan of treatment
- to homebound patients

While all agencies provide skilled nursing services, some provide:

- nursing services
- home health aide services
- medical supplies/equipment
- occupational therapy
- physical therapy
- social services
- respite care

You may be eligible to receive these services through Medicaid or Medicare (for the elderly). In other cases, insurance or other third party payment sources may help defray the cost.

To find the names of your local Home Health organizations, consult the Yellow Pages of your phone book or call your local Health Department.
