ABSTRACT

This sixth follow-up study assesses Central Missouri State University's (CMSU) teacher education programs, involving input from professional education faculty, preservice teacher education candidates, teacher education graduates, and employers. The 1994 data revealed that 33 percent of the student in the 1993-94 Foundations of Education courses were male and 11 recent were nonwhite. Students rated their weakest academic areas as non-western philosophies and cultures, followed by legal and ethical responsibilities and mathematics. Data relating to student teachers indicated that 78 percent were females, 92 percent were white, and 45 percent were placed in elementary classrooms. A survey of graduates found that 82 percent were full-time classroom teachers, 43 percent within Missouri, with average salaries of $18,849. Seventy-nine percent of graduate respondents plan to work on graduate degrees in education, and 84 percent planned to be teaching 5 years later. Teachers were most dissatisfied with level of support from parents and community, salary/fringe benefits of teaching, and opportunities for professional advancement. Seventy-three percent of the principals hiring CMSU graduates felt that the teachers were strongly prepared for their positions. Principals felt that salary/fringe benefits was the top area of dissatisfaction for teachers. Copies of the survey instruments and data are appended. (JDD)

Introduction

This report represents the sixth Follow-Up Study by the Teacher Education Assessment Committee (TEAC) at Central Missouri State University (Central), Warrensburg, Missouri. TEAC was established in April of 1988 by the joint efforts of Dr. Joe Huber, Dean of the College of Education and Human Services and the Professional Education Faculty of the University. TEAC's current committee members are as follows: John R. Zelazek, Wayne Williams, Carol Mihalevich, Larry Jones, Charles McAdams, and Kyle Palmer.

TEAC is a centralized system of data collection and assessment that conducts and publishes results of periodic assessments and evaluations of Central's Teacher Education Programs by soliciting input from: A) Central's Professional Education Faculty; B) Pre-service teacher education candidates at Central; C) Graduates of Central's teacher education programs; and D) Employers (principals) of educators who were prepared by Central. The results of all assessments and evaluations are shared with all Departments involved in teacher education programs as well as school districts in Missouri that employ Central graduates. TEAC provides specific information to individual departments for use in the advisement and counseling of students as well as program revision and course development.

Demographic trends of teacher education classes, at both elementary and secondary levels, have been tallied, analyzed and distributed in order to help in load assessment, needs assessment, future planning for program adjustment, and personnel management. The use of TEAC survey data has been helpful to the University, so that it can look at the whole picture rather than fragmented pieces.

TEAC and the Office of Institutional Research and Testing Services have jointly developed a data-base of 11,000 past and present Central students and coordinates that data with the Office of Clinical Services and the Teacher Education Council. TEAC designed four major surveys based or Framans (1988) research. The response time for this data is very quick.

TEAC provided information for the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education and NCATE accreditations and the North Central Association assessment. The results of the DESE and NCATE studies have been shared with the appropriate writing committees for the accreditation reports.

Conclusions

The 1994 data revealed that 43 % of the previous years graduating class (48% Elementary Education 46% Secondary Education, and 17% Speech Pathology) secured full-time teaching positions within the State of Missouri. (Note: Most Speech Pathology majors tend not to seek employment in the public schools)

Central teacher education graduates (first and second year teachers only) are employed in 163 of the 535 districts across the State of Missouri.

Of those Central graduates employed over the past four years as full-time teachers in the Missouri public school systems, 75% were employed in school districts that reside within a 60 mile radius of CMSU.

TEAC does not have access to employment statistics of Central graduates in states other than Missouri, nor in Missouri private school settings, substitute teacher listings, Day Care Schools, state asylums, and other teaching situations not listed by the State of Missouri (DESE) Statistical Office.

Students in the Foundations classes were predominantly white females. Thirty-Three percent of the student population in the 1993-94 Foundations of Education courses were male. Eleven percent listed their cultural backgrounds as other than white. Ninety-one percent were full-time students. When asked to rate their weakest academic areas, Non-Western philosophies and cuitures was ranked first, legal and ethical responsibilities of teachers second, and mathematics third.

Seventy-eight percent of the student teachers were females, and forty-five percent were placed in elementary classrooms. Ninety two percent were white. The students rated their student teaching experience very high as did past student teachers.

The average salary for Central graduates (First and Second year teachers) was $18,849. Ninety-one percent of the 1993-94 graduate survey respondents were white. Seventy-six percent were full-time students while completing their undergraduate degree. Seventy-nine percent of the graduate survey respondents plan to work on graduate degrees in education with fifty-four percent planning to complete their graduate work at Central.

A little over eighty-two percent of the respondents were full-time classroom teachers. The teaching level appeared to be equally stratified from early elementary to senior high school. Seventy-eight percent hold positions at their preferred teaching level.

Eighty-four percent of the graduate survey respondents planned on teaching five years or more from now. Fifty-four percent found it necessary to obtain employment outside the school system during the school year. Eighty-two percent stated they would enroll in a teacher preparation program again.

The teacher's top three areas of dissatisfaction in their current positions were, level of support from parents and community, salary/fringe benefits of teaching, and opportunities for professional advancement.

Seventy-three percent of the principals hiring Central's graduates who responded to the survey felt that the teachers were strongly prepared for their current positions. Principals feel salary and fringe benefits is the top area of dissatisfaction for teachers.

(TEAC--Foundations of Education--1994)

Of the 535 Foundations of Education students enrolled during the 1993-1994 school year, 503 (94% return) completed the survey.

Survey results are listed in whole numbers unless acknowledged as an average.

Dear Educator,

On behalf of the Teacher Education Assessment Committee (TEAC) at Central Missouri State University, I ask your assistance in the assessment process we are currently undertaking. Please return the survey to me in the prepaid envelope by February 15, 1994.

This task is in compliance with The State of Missouri law (Excellence in Education Act of 1985), our national accreditation agency for teacher education, NCATE, and our regional accreditation agency, North Central. We need to conduct a follow-up of students who completed certification or graduated from our programs. These data will be used in conjunction with last year's survey and surveys that are currently being distributed by individual departments on our campus for the purpose of improvement.

I will also be contacting your principal to make him/her aware of our surveys, and ask him/her to participate in an employers' survey. All responses will be confidential. If you wish a copy of our results, please enclose a self-àddressed stamped envelope, and I will send you a copy as soon as they are compiled.

Sincerely,

Dr. John R. Zelazek, Chair Teacher Education Assessment Committee

Dear Principal,

On behalf of the Teacher Education Assessment Committee (TEAC) at Central Missouri State University, I ask your assistance in the assessment instrument that I would like you to complete. Please return the survey to me in the prepaid envelope by February 15, 1994.

This task is in compliance with The State of Missouri law (Excellence in Education Act of 1985), our national accreditation agency for teacher education, NCATE, and our regional accreditation agency, North Central. We need to conduct a follow-up of employers of our graduates and students who went through our certification program. These data will be used in conjunction with last year's survey and surveys that are currently being distributed by individual departments on our campus for the purpose of improvement.

I will also be contacting your teachers to make them aware of our surveys and ask them to participate. All responses will be confidential. If you wish a copy of our results, please enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope, and I will send you a copy as soon as they are compiled.

Sincerely,

4/88---1/25/94

Students who wish to complete a teacher education degree in Missouri need to successfully complete the College Basic Academic Subjects Examination, CBASE, as part of the admission process for acceptance into the teacher education program at Central. This requirement became effective on September 1, 1988 as part of the 1985 "Excellence in Education Act." CBASE is a criterion-referenced achievement examination focusing on the knowledge and skills requisite to successful college course work. It contains five examination areas: Writing, English, Math, Science and Social Studies. Since the first offering of CBASE in April of 1988, 2515 students have submitted test scores to the university as part of their teacher education admission process. The following page shows a matrix per test, by number of successful attempts, unsuccessful attempts with frequencies, and percentages. The left hand column of the matrix requires the following explanation in order to interpret the data:

1	=	Firs	t at	temp	t, sı	ucces	stul

2 = Second attempt, successful

3 = Third attempt, successful

4 = Fourth attempt, successful

5 = Fifth attempt, successful

6 = Sixth attempt, successful

7 = Seventh attempt, successful

8 = Eighth attempt, successful

A = First attempt, unsuccessful

B = Second attempt, unsuccessful

C = Third attempt, unsuccessful

D = Fourth attempt, unsuccessful

E = Fifth attempt, unsuccessful

F = Sixth attempt, unsuccessful
