ABSTRACT

Curriculum frameworks for North Dakota elementary-secondary education are presented in this document. These frameworks are voluntary and serve to promote interdisciplinary learning, active learning, and student diversity. They are part of a larger systemic approach to improve instruction in the state's schools and to identify content outcomes and student performance standards. Each section contains: a list of North Dakota educators involved in the framework development; a mission statement for that particular subject area; the graduation outcomes for the state; a list of content outcomes; content outcomes and performance standards for each outcome at grades 4, 8, and graduation; a glossary of terms; and a bibliography. In this volume, curriculum frameworks are provided for the following areas: arts education; business education; foreign language; health; and physical education. (LMI)

FOREWORD

The most significant feature about the North Dakota Curriculum Frameworks is that it is a work by North Dakota educators and administrators for all North Dakotans.

The State Curriculum Framework philosophy includes a rationale for offering instructional programs in various content areas, general statements about what the instructional program will do, and how the instructional program will accomplish what it intends to do.

The Curriculum Frameworks are important because they create new, higher standards for what students should know and be able to do. They are developed around a balanced and challenging core of common learning. Further, the Curriculum Frameworks should promote interdisciplinary learning, encourage active learning, and recognize and respect student diversity.

The Curriculum Frameworks are voluntary. It is my hope that these Frameworks will have a positive influence on the policies and practices of local school boards, administrators, and most significantly the classroom teacher.

While these Frameworks are aimed at improving the content areas, these Frameworks are but a part of a larger systemic approach to improving instruction in our schools. As we progress through the 1990s we all will need to be aware of the national movement toward establishing voluntary standards and assessments. In this, I believe our North Dakota Curriculum Frameworks have the dynamics and flexibility to incorporate those new standards and assessments as they are developed and as they meet the needs of our students.

Last, again I commend and compliment the North Dakota teachers and administrators who developed and wrote the Frameworks, for they indeed will be of historic importance as we mutually seek to improve education in North Dakota.

NORTH DAKOTA CONTENT AREA FRAMEWORKS

In response to the public's concern and legislature's request, the state of North Dakota has produced a series of content area frameworks identifying content outcomes and student performance standards. Each document contains: a list of North Dakota educators involved in the development of the framework; a mission statement for that particular subject area; the graduation outcomes for the state of North Dakota; a list of content outcomes; a listing for content outcomes with the performance standards for each outcome at grades 4, 8 and exit; a glossary of terms; and a bibliography. These documents represent the current ideals, based on research of the subject area, knowledge of the student as a learner, knowledge of the process of instruction and an understanding of the current organization of schools.

The content outcomes and performance standards are intended to serve as benchmarks (transition points) for state and local decision making and local curriculum development. They should not be considered to be statements of minimum competencies. The documents are designed with the belief that local curriculum developers will find direction and guidance as they plan for continued improvement in the various subject areas for all students. They also provide a framework for curriculum across the K-12 continuum of learning.

The content outcomes and student performance standards section of the documents should be particularly useful to school districts as they develop local curriculum materials, determine instructional activities and tasks, and design assessment strategies for accountability purposes for their local communities. The content outcomes provide a broad framework for the total program, while the performance standards offer a more specific description of what students must know at grade 4, grade 8, and upon graduation. Districts can use these outcomes and standards to make decisions concerning: 1) what must be taught in each grade or course (curriculum); 2) the delivery of instruction; and 3) student learning (assessment).

It was the intention of the developers to produce a series of documents that were a forward looking expression of the learning opportunities needed by students who will be citizens of the twenty-first century.

A need for restructuring the educational system is evidenced by a great deal of commentary about the current state of education at both the national and local levels. If we are to be responsive to the needs of our students now and in the future we must increase our efforts to create an educational environment that will allow every student to develop to the highest achievement level. High standards and high achievement levels lead to world class standards and world class citizens.

THE MISSION STATEMENT OF ARTS EDUCATION IN NORTH DAKOTA

The arts, essential to the lifelong development of the whole person, are disciplines with aesthetic, perceptual, and intellectual dimensions. Through the processes of creating, performing, analyzing, synthesizing, and evaluating, students gain the knowledge, skills, and attitudes which exalt the human spirit and enhance the quality of life. As a unique mode of expression, the arts provide a record of our civilization and assure succeeding generations access to their cultural heritage.

CONTENT OUTCOMES

ARTS EDUCATION

- 1. The student gains an understanding of the multicultural, historical, and social context of the arts.
- 2. The student learns to create and perform in the arts.
- 3. The student understands the nature and value of the arts as an integral part of life.
- 4. The student learns to make critical evaluations in the arts.

CONTENT OUTCOMES AND STUDENT PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

Outcome Statement:

1. THE STUDENT GAINS AN UNDERSTANDING OF THE MULTICULTURAL, HISTORICAL, AND SOCIAL CONTEXT OF THE ARTS.

The arts are influenced by a culture's values as well as by social, political and economic factors. An important learning outcome from this study should be a deeper appreciation of the student's own values and those of other people and cultures.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 4 (dance)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. show an awareness of self, others and the world in which one lives as it contributes to various dance movements.
- b. respect persons from different backgrounds and the cultural significance they attribute to various movements.

By the end of grade 4 (music)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. summarize the role of music in the context of everyday life.
- b. distinguish musical styles of historical periods and world cultures.
- c. participate in music within the context of world culture and events.

1. THE STUDENT GAINS AN UNDERSTANDING OF THE MULTICULTURAL, HISTORICAL, AND SOCIAL CONTEXT OF THE ARTS.

By the end of grade 4 (theatre)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. explore, as artist and audience, one's own and other cultures through dramatization and multi-media presentations.
- b. discuss, as artist and audience, the effect of time and place in theatre.
- c. recognize, as artist and audience, similarities between theatre and one's own life.

By the end of grade 4 (visual art)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. examine significant art works, styles, movements, and themes.
- b. recognize differences and commonalities in the work of individual artists as well as cultures.
- c. use community and cultural resources in the study of visual art.

By the end of grade 8 (dance)

- a. show knowledge of dance from a variety of cultures and historical periods (i.e., performs folk dances, western and non-western, and a broad spectrum of 20th Century America).
- b. use community and cultural resources in the study of dance.

1. THE STUDENT GAINS AN UNDERSTANDING OF THE MULTICULTURAL, HISTORICAL, AND SOCIAL CONTEXT OF THE ARTS.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 8 (music)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. describe the role of music and musicians in contemporary society.
- b. experience and describe musical styles of historical periods and world cultures.
- c. place music in the context of world cultures and events.

By the end of grade 8 (theatre)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. study, as artist and audience, theatre in different genres and from a variety of cultures.
- b. recognize, as artist and audience, historical, social and cultural factors that influence theatre.
- c. recognize, as artist and audience, universal forms of theatre from a variety of cultures.

By the end of grade 8 (visual art)

- a. cite examples of art created through the influence of historical and cultural events.
- b. describe influences on art styles, forms, movements and media.
- c. explain diversity of art within and between cultures and individuals.
- d. use community and cultural resources in the study of art.

1. THE STUDENT GAINS AN UNDERSTANDING OF THE MULTICULTURAL, HISTORICAL, AND SOCIAL CONTEXT OF THE ARTS.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (dance)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. understand that dance reflects, records and shapes history and plays a role in every culture as a universal language.
- b. recognize that dance is one index to the artistic and social values of a civilization.
- c. show knowledge of dance from a variety of cultures and historical periods.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (music)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. experience, describe, and identify the musical styles of historical periods and world cultures.
- b. discuss the role of music in world events and cultures.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (theatre)

- be familiar, as artist and audience, with various genres, styles, historical periods and cultures.
- b. analyze, as artist and audience, content, form and theme from several historical periods, culture, genres and styles.
- c. describe and analyze, as artist and audience, the cause and effect of culture and history on the content, form and production of theatre.

1. THE STUDENT GAINS AN UNDERSTANDING OF THE MULTICULTURAL, HISTORICAL, AND SOCIAL CONTEXT OF THE ARTS.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (theatre) (continued)

- d. compare, as artist and audience, commonalities and differences among content, performance styles and production techniques from a variety of cultures and historical periods.
- e. analyze and discuss, as artist and audience, causes for commonalities and differences among content, performance styles and production techniques from a variety of cultures and historical periods.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (visual art)

- a. experience art styles from past to present.
- b. describe and understand influences on art styles, forms, movements, media and technology.
- c. explain diversity of art within and between cultures and individuals.
- d. support and use visual arts functions within community.

2. THE STUDENT LEARNS TO CREATE AND PERFORM IN THE ARTS.

The arts are a unique and essential form of exploration and personal expression. Through creating and performing, students gain an understanding and knowledge of the creative process and, through increasing abilities, expand the potential for effective communication.

By the end of grade 4 (dance)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. respect and appreciate the human body as an instrument for expression and communication.
- b. identify movement elements and skills (eight basic locomotor skills).
- c. develop patterns and combination of movements into repeatable sequences.

By the end of grade 4 (music)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- sing songs accurately, independently, and in tune, reflecting an understanding of tonal and rhythmic concepts.
- b. play simple melodies, chords, and rhythm patterns on at least one instrument, such as piano, recorder, autoharp, etc.
- c. respond to music with appropriate movements, e.g., clapping, walking, running, skipping, and conducting, responding appropriately to changes in basic elements, e.g., tempo, dynamics, pitch, timbre.
- d. improvise short melodies and rhythms, using the elements of music (pitch, rhythm, harmony, tempo, dynamics, timbre, form).
- e. interpret and express music through traditional and nontraditional notation.

q

2. THE STUDENT LEARNS TO CREATE AND PERFORM IN THE ARTS.

By the end of grade 4 (theatre)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. create and portray roles in classroom situations.
- b. imagine, describe, select and organize available materials to create environments for classroom dramatizations.
- c. find and share information to enhance dramatizations of stories and events.
- d. experience enjoyment and develop confidence in expressing ideas, feelings and observations (attitudes).
- e. use basic theatre vocabulary.

By the end of grade 4 (visual art)

- a. experience basic media and techniques in creating art.
- b. use basic visual art vocabulary.
- c. experience enjoyment in creating art.
- d. exhibit confidence in the innovative expression of ideas, feelings and observations (attitudes).
- e. select art works for display from one's own collected work.

2. THE STUDENT LEARNS TO CREATE AND PERFORM IN THE ARTS.

By the end of grade 8 (dance)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. perform a variety of dances (i.e., simple folk, country, line, creative).
- b. show a sense of rhythm, flow of beat, meter and pattern (moves to 2/4, 3/4, 4/4, and 6/8).
- c. collaborate using positive group interaction skills.

By the end of grade 8 (music)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. sing accurately, independently, and in tune, reflecting a broader understanding of tonal and rhythmic concepts. In addition, deal successfully with changing voice (male and female) and knowledge of the techniques that enable continued singing during this time of change.
- b. sing songs demonstrative of the various musical style periods.
- c. play simple accompaniments alone or with others on instruments such as piano, guitar, autoharp.
- d. understand and describe string, wind, and percussion instruments and the techniques required to play them. A student may choose to learn more advanced skills on one or more of those instruments.
- e. improvise with greater emphasis on melodic and rhythmic complexity in various styles.
- f. use increasingly complex levels of traditional and nontraditional notation.

2. THE STUDENT LEARNS TO CREATE AND PERFORM IN THE ARTS.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 8 (theatre)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. use dialogue and dramatic conventions to communicate text.
- b. interpret and portray characters from dramatic texts.
- c. use visual arts and sound in constructing dramatic environments.
- d. experience enjoyment and develop confidence in expressing ideas, feelings and observations (attitudes).
- e. use an expanded theatre vocabulary.

By the end of grade 8 (visual art)

- d. recognize that people from all cultures create drama.
- e. recognize the role of the theatre in one's own life.

By the end of grade 4 (visual art)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. observe, synthesize, and verbalize one's own art experiences.
- b. recognize that humans learn through engagement in the visual process.

By the end of grade 8 (dance)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. value the freedom to make choices in artistic expression.
- b. recognize the benefits of movement in relationship to lifetime wellness.
- c. develop self-awareness and confidence.

3. THE STUDENT UNDERSTANDS THE NATURE AND VALUE OF THE ARTS AS AN INTEGRAL PART OF LIFE.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 8 (music)

The student demonstrates the ability to

- a. develop and use greater skills in the use of music for personal expression, particularly through increased skills in performance on instruments such as piano and guitar.
- b. understand the various roles within the music profession (e.g., performer, composer, conductor) through opportunities for discussion and interaction with music professionals.
- c. identify the musical activities in the school and community and take advantage of those opportunities to further skills as an intelligent listener.
- d. demonstrate continued and increased respect for the musical efforts of others.

By the end of grade 8 (theatre)

- a. recognize the conventions of the theatre in everyday life.
- b. value theatre as a means of self-expression.
- c. develop an awareness of vocational and leisure opportunities in theatre.
- d. understand the impact of theatre on individuals and their cultures.
- e. develop a discipline between the mind and the body.

3. THE STUDENT UNDERSTANDS THE NATURE AND VALUE OF THE ARTS AS AN INTEGRAL PART OF LIFE.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 8 (visual art)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. observe, synthesize and describe art experiences and their importance.
- b. develop an expanded level of visual awareness by applying the elements of art and principles of design.
- c. understand and apply basic art techniques to facilitate problem solving in further life applications.
- d. identify people in the community with art related careers/jobs.
- e. identify presence of the arts in the community, school, and home.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (dance)

- a. identify participation opportunities that contribute to enjoyment and self-expression.
- b. identify artistic form for a joyful experience involving the intellect, the emotions, and the body.
- c. develop and discipline the body through dance to maintain lifetime wellness.
- d. extend the significance of dance experiences into other dimensions of one's life.

3. THE STUDENT UNDERSTANDS THE NATURE AND VALUE OF THE ARTS AS AN INTEGRAL PART OF LIFE.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (music)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. regularly include music among the options available for self-expression.
- b. identify musical activities in the school and community and participate to the extent possible.
- c. show respect for the musical efforts of others.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (theatre)

- a. understand the evolving nature of theatre.
- b. understand the relationship of theatre to other literary forms.
- c. recognize theatre as a realistic or symbolic reflection of values and accomplishments.
- d. recognize the impact of theatre on social and political situations.
- e. transfer knowledge and skills from study of theatre to life situations.
- f. recognize skills, preparation and discipline needed for careers in theatre.

3. THE STUDENT UNDERSTANDS THE NATURE AND VALUE OF THE ARTS AS AN INTEGRAL PART OF LIFE.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (visual art)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. observe, synthesize, and communicate in a variety of ways, art experiences and their importance.
- b. exhibit an advanced level of visual awareness.
- c. understand and apply advanced art techniques to facilitate problem solving in further life applications.
- d. identify people with art related careers/jobs and identify how the arts are used in each.
- e. identify the use of the arts in the community, school, and home.

4. THE STUDENT LEARNS TO MAKE CRITICAL EVALUATIONS IN THE ARTS.

Students observe and analyze the visual and performing arts. Students respect the relationship among the disciplines of dance, music, theatre and visual art and are able to make thoughtful, discriminating judgements on creative expressions, using knowledge of artistic forms and aesthetic values.

By the end of grade 4 (dance)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. discuss ethical and unethical behavior during movement.
- b. perceive and describe dance using appropriate oral vocabulary.
- c. move safely without interfering with the personal space of others.

By the end of grade 4 (music)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. use developing powers of perception to discriminate obvious differences and changes in melody, rhythm, pitch, dynamics, and tempo.
- b. make thoughtful and discriminating judgments about explorations in the elements of music, learning to separate these judgements from statements of "like" or "dislike".
- c. make thoughtful and discriminating judgments about musical compositions and performances, initially pertaining to such obvious elements as tone quality, intonation, tempo, etc.

4. THE STUDENT LEARNS TO MAKE CRITICAL EVALUATIONS IN THE ARTS.

By the end of grade 4 (theatre)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. describe, as artist, the dramatic possibilities of stories and situations.
- b. perceive, as artist, one's role in the group process.
- c. describe, as audience, the emotional reaction to dramatic presentations.
- d. describe and discuss, as audience, what is interesting and truthful in dramatization.

By the end of grade 4 (visual art)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. identify a variety of culturally diverse art forms.
- b. identify the vocabulary and strategies used to examine the visual characteristics of art.
- c. interpret the meaning of works of art.
- d. recognize originality in artistic expression.

By the end of grade 8 (dance)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. evaluate and select ways to improve performance.
- b. apply skills learned through dance to other aspects of life.
- c. focus and concentrate while viewing dance.
- d. perceive and describe dance using appropriate oral and written vocabulary.

North Dakota Arts Education Framework

4. THE STUDENT LEARNS TO MAKE CRITICAL EVALUATIONS IN THE ARTS.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 8 (music)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. discriminate musical elements, expanding into the more complex areas of harmony and form.
- b. compare and contrast obviously different performances of the same musical works, discriminating the differences in terms of the elements of music.
- c. make increasingly thoughtful and discriminating judgments about musical compositions and performances now including more complex elements of harmony, form, style, etc.

By the end of grade 8 (theatre)

- a. analyze, as artist, dramatic texts to determine characters, objectives and physical and social traits.
- b. perceive, as artist, one's role in the rehearsal and performance process.
- c. describe, as audience, the emotional and intellectual responses to dramatic presentations.
- d. make informed judgements, as artist and audience, about one's own work and the work of others.

4. THE STUDENT LEARNS TO MAKE CRITICAL EVALUATIONS IN THE ARTS.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 8 (visual art)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. develop a respect and value for a variety of culturally diverse art forms.
- b. observe, describe, and analyze works of art using increasingly richer language.
- c. recognize and value originality in artistic expression.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (dance)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. evaluate and select ways to improve performance.
- b. demonstrate effective dance teaching skills.
- c. understand similarities and differences between dance and other disciplines, including the other arts.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (music)

- a. make thoughtful, intelligent judgments about compositions and performances heard in and out of class.
- b. make critical judgments of compositions and performances within a particular genre rather than across genres.

4. THE STUDENT LEARNS TO MAKE CRITICAL EVALUATIONS IN THE ARTS.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (theatre)

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. compare, as artist, dramatic texts for historical and cultural clues to character.
- b. recognize, as artist, the effectiveness of participation in the collaborative production process.
- c. analyze and defend, as audience, emotional and intellectual responses to dramatic presentations.

THE MISSION STATEMENT OF BUSINESS EDUCATION IN NORTH DAKOTA

We believe business education should focus on the outcomes that reflect the knowledge, attitudes, and skills that students need to be productive consumers, workers, and citizens in our ever-changing world. To do this, business education provides leadership, expertise, and training in the technology and practices used in business.

Business education provides meaningful and necessary applied learning experiences to meet the needs of all populations--students of all ages, ability levels, and learning styles. The business education curriculum should be articulated from level to level to ensure continuous achievement of defined outcomes. In addition, these outcomes should be integrated throughout the school curriculum to complement the total development of the students.

To this end, this framework is to be seen as a guide--a series of benchmarks which can provide the impetus for positive change. We believe curriculum and methods of delivery should be determined in response to student and community needs. As the needs of society change, our business education programs should evolve to meet those needs.

THE MISSION STATEMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGE EDUCATION IN NORTH DAKOTA

Language is the primary tool for communication in an increasingly global society, in which multicultural awareness and sensitivity are required. Foreign language study not only prepares students to cooperate and to compete in the world community, but it also fosters lifelong learning and increases self-esteem.

Foreign language is a primary tool for communication.

Language is the most important means of contacting other human beings; therefore, optimum proficiency is essential. Students attain an effective proficiency only when language study is initiated early and continued over an extended period of time.

Foreign languages prepare students to cooperate and compete in a world community.

The study and use of foreign languages foster mutual understanding and prepare tomorrow's business, political and social leaders to compete when language is not exclusively English. Proficiency in foreign languages gives direct access to arenas in which international cooperation and competition take place.

Foreign language study promotes multicultural awareness and sensitivity.

The study of foreign languages exposes the student to the cultures germane to new languages. This exposure creates a sensitivity to different values and ideas, and, by comparison, awareness of one's own language.

Foreign language study fosters lifelong learning skills and increases self-esteem through intellectual growth.

The study of foreign language augments critical skills--reasoning, analyzing, problem solving, divergent thinking--which students can apply across the curriculum and use throughout life.

All of these factors enhance self-esteem and help to develop maximum individual potential in a global society.

THE MISSION STATEMENT OF HEALTH EDUCATION IN NORTH DAKOTA

The mission of K-12 health education in North Dakota is to assist students in acquiring knowledge, attitudes, skills and behaviors necessary to assume greater responsibility for their own health and the health of their communities. Health education is a continuous process which builds a foundation for emotional, physical, social and mental wellness. It promotes a positive healthy lifestyle in order to achieve the highest potential for a lifelong well-being. Students will value and appreciate that health is the right of each individual and the community. Quality health education will make a difference with our young people and will influence the quality of life for this and future generations.

North Dakota Health Framework

HEALTH

- 1. The student possesses the ability to evaluate health information, services, and appropriate community resources.
- The student demonstrates problem solving, decision making, communication, and interpersonal skills necessary to develop healthy lifestyles and become a positive role model.
- 3. The student possesses an ability to evaluate appropriate behaviors which maintain mental, emotional, social and physical well-being.
- 4. The student defines the structure and function of the human body and patterns of healthy growth and development.
- 5. The student analyzes principles of safer living and disease prevention to avoid health problems.
- 6. The student values and uses the skills and attitudes related to supportive family life and the life cycle.
- 7. The student demonstrates a knowledge of nutrition and how it relates to health.
- 8. The student applies health principles in maintaining or restoring healthy environments.

HEALTH

CONTENT OUTCOMES AND STUDENT PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

Outcome Statement:

1. THE STUDENT POSSESSES THE ABILITY TO EVALUATE HEALTH INFORMATION, SERVICES, AND APPROPRIATE COMMUNITY RESOURCES.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. identify roles of various health workers.
- b. define and describe community health services.
- c. recognize that disease prevention is a major role of community health agencies.

By the end of grade 8

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. identify local resources available to meet specific community needs or various health issues for people of different age groups.
- b. identify volunteer health agencies, treatment centers and organizations promoting specific health services in the community.
- c. analyze health-related information and advertising found in the media.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. explore the health services available within the community.
- b. seek health services outside the community and assess what they provide.
- c. develop a method to critique health services.

North Dakota Health Framework

2. THE STUDENT DEMONSTRATES PROBLEM SOLVING, DECISION MAKING, COMMUNICATION, AND INTERPERSONAL SKILLS NECESSARY TO DEVELOP HEALTHY LIFESTYLES AND BECOME A POSITIVE ROLE MODEL.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. recognize differences in others.
- b. develop criteria for making responsible decisions.
- c. identify resources to consult when making personal decisions.
- d. recognize that positive self-esteem helps one make good decisions.
- e. say no to outside pressures and identify positive alternatives.

By the end of grade 8

- a. identify the communication skills needed to develop and maintain relationships with peers, family and other groups.
- b. describe positive social skills needed for friendships.
- c. practice refusal skills to use in social pressure situations.
- d. think critically and act upon concerns regarding different life-choices.
- e. discuss the importance of goal setting and how positive and negative health choices can interfere with reaching one's goals.

2. THE STUDENT DEMONSTRATES PROBLEM SOLVING, DECISION MAKING, COMMUNICATION, AND INTERPERSONAL SKILLS NECESSARY TO DEVELOP HEALTHY LIFESTYLES AND BECOME A POSITIVE ROLE MODEL.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. apply a problem-solving process as it relates to life's decisions.
- b. use a process in decision-making as it relates to a healthy lifestyle.
- c. integrate communication and interpersonal skills within everyday living.
- d. set personal health goals and design a specific plan to meet each goal.

North Dakota Health Framework

3. THE STUDENT POSSESSES AN ABILITY TO EVALUATE APPROPRIATE BEHAVIORS WHICH MAINTAIN MENTAL, EMOTIONAL, SOCIAL AND PHYSICAL WELL-BEING.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. accept oneself as a unique human being.
- b. develop healthy friendships.
- c. recognize that physical fitness, nutrition and rest are important to healthy lifestyles.

By the end of grade 8

- a. describe hygiene practices that accompany changes in adolescence.
- b. describe the benefits of physical fitness in relationship to total wellness.
- c. identify techniques that improve self-esteem.
- d. identify and evaluate the types and causes of personal stress and demonstrate positive coping skills.
- e. identify ways to resolve conflicts and formulate new friendships.
- f. recognize symptoms of depression and the causes of high risk behaviors (vandalism, alcohol abuse, suicide, etc.) along with the ability to seek appropriate help for oneself or others.
- g. define abstinence and how it relates to behavior during the teen years.
- h. examine how choices can lead to high-risk health behaviors.

3. THE STUDENT POSSESSES AN ABILITY TO EVALUATE APPROPRIATE BEHAVIORS WHICH MAINTAIN MENTAL, EMOTIONAL, SOCIAL AND PHYSICAL WELL-BEING.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

- a. analyze the components of wellness and how they relate to a balanced lifestyle.
- b. evaluate appropriate and inappropriate behaviors as they relate to health and well-being.

4. THE STUDENT DEFINES THE STRUCTURE AND FUNCTION OF THE HUMAN BODY AND PATTERNS OF HEALTHY GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. discuss the basic structure of the human body and its systems.
- b. practice basic hygiene habits.

By the end of grade 8

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. identify the structure and explain the functions of the body systems.
- b. describe male and female physical changes during puberty.
- c. analyze emotional changes associated with puberty.
- d. recognize how family and friends influence social changes during adolescence.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

- a. summarize the structure and functions of the body and its influences on growth and development.
- b. identify the parameters of the life stages and the characteristics of each stage.

5. THE STUDENT ANALYZES PRINCIPLES OF SAFER LIVING AND DISEASE PREVENTION TO AVOID HEALTH PROBLEMS.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. identify contagious and noncontagious diseases.
- b. explain disease prevention and how the body defends itself.
- c. explain how heredity and environment can influence personal health.
- d. implement basic rules and procedures recommended for safe living.
- e. discuss appropriate first aid procedures.

By the end of grade 8

- a. list precautions to ensure personal safety (home, recreation, vehicles, weather hazards, etc.).
- b. implement basic first aid procedures.
- c. describe the reasons for use, misuse and abuse of chemicals.
- d. analyze the risks associated with harmful chemicals and illegal drugs.
- e. explain sources, symptoms and treatment of significant contagious diseases (SCD's) and sexually transmitted diseases (STD's).
- f. analyze the relationship of high risk behaviors to the occurrence of SCD's and STD's.

5. THE STUDENT ANALYZES PRINCIPLES OF SAFER LIVING AND DISEASE PREVENTION TO AVOID HEALTH PROBLEMS.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. generate plans for safe living.
- b. show the relationship between safe living and a healthier lifestyle.
- c. assess behaviors and their relationships to disease prevention.

82

6. THE STUDENT VALUES AND USES THE SKILLS AND ATTITUDES RELATED TO SUPPORTIVE FAMILY LIFE AND THE LIFE CYCLE.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. realize that each person's family is unique and special.
- b. recognize changes and adjustments in family structures.
- c. develop an awareness of life's many cycles.

By the end of grade 8

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. define family and discuss how responsibilities change during adolescence.
- b. define forms of abuse and identify resources for assistance.
- c. identify the emotional stages experienced preceding and following death.
- d. identify main causes of death for various age groups.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

- a. discriminate between the various stages of life, the current issues that may affect each stage, and how they relate to the growth and development of an individual as well as a family.
- b. analyze supportive family life as it relates to a healthy family structure.

7. THE STUDENT DEMONSTRATES A KNOWLEDGE OF NUTRITION AND HOW IT RELATES TO HEALTH.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. identify the food groups in the Food Guide Pyramid which constitute a well-balanced diet.
- b. realize that the Daily Food Guide provides the nutrients that are necessary for total well-being.
- c. select a nutritionally balanced diet.
- d. exhibit a positive attitude about food.

By the end of grade 8

- a. describe functions and sources of major nutrients.
- b. evaluate nutritional information for choosing a healthy diet.
- c. recognize the various influences or food choices.
- d. investigate the relationship between nutrition and weight control.

7. THE STUDENT DEMONSTRATES A KNOWLEDGE OF BASIC NUTRITION AND HOW IT RELATES TO HEALTH.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

- a. implement current dietary guidelines into daily food choices.
- b. illustrate and analyze how nutrition can positively or negatively affect health throughout life.
- c. analyze nutrition information on food labels.
- d. investigate the relationship between nutrition and physical fitness.
- e. utilize safe food handling practices.

8. THE STUDENT APPLIES HEALTH PRINCIPLES IN MAINTAINING OR RESTORING HEALTHY ENVIRONMENTS.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. recognize positive health behaviors which contribute to a healthy environment.
- b. recognize individual and community responsibility for the prevention and control of present and future environmental problems.

By the end of grade 8

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. recognize the effects of various types of pollution and how they affect the quality of life.
- b. discuss ways in which individual and group efforts can contribute towards a healthful environment.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

- a. document the components of a healthy environment.
- b. use the steps of problem solving to formulate a plan to maintain and/or restore various environments.

MISSION STATEMENT FOR PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The physical education program is an integral part of the total school curriculum which uniquely focuses on the physical development of all students, while also addressing the emotional, intellectual and social needs of all students. Physical education, properly conceived and conducted, is that facet of education concerned with the total growth, development, and fitness of all students.

Physical education is the means for developing skill/ulness and personal fitness necessary to maximize the quality of life. The acquisition of knowledge and attitudes about physical activity and health related fitness contributes to the attainment of an optimum lifestyle. Physical education provides guidance on how to fulfill recognized physical, mental, emotional and social needs in a constructive way. Physical education shares the goal of promoting the development of effective, responsible citizens who play a positive and contributing role in society.

CONTENT OUTCOMES

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

- 1. The physically educated student HAS skills necessary to perform a variety of physical activities.
- 2. The physically educated student IS physically fit.
- 3. The physically educated student DOES participate regularly in physical activity.
- 4. The physically educated student KNOWS the implications of and the benefits from involvement in physical activities.
- 5. The physically educated student VALUES physical activity and its contributions to a healthy lifestyle.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Outcome Statement:

1. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT HAS SKILLS NECESSARY TO PERFORM A VARIETY OF PHYSICAL ACTIVITIES.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. develop patterns and combinations of movements into repeatable sequences.
- b. travel in a variety of directions and change direction quickly and safely, without falling.
- c. combine various traveling patterns while changing speeds and directions in time to music.
- d. skip, hop, gallop, leap, and slide using mature motor patterns.
- e. jump and land for height and jump and land for distance using a mature motor pattern.
- f. while traveling, catch, dodge or avoid an individual or object.
- g. consistently strike a softly thrown ball with a bat or paddle demonstrating an appropriate grip, side of body to the target, and swing plane.
- h. strike a softly thrown, lightweight ball back to a partner using a variety of body parts, and combinations of body parts (e.g., the forearm volley as in volleyball, the thigh as in soccer).
- i. throw, catch, and kick using mature motor patterns.
- j. hand dribble and foot dribble a ball and maintain control while traveling within a group.

1. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT HAS SKILLS NECESSARY TO PERFORM A VARIETY OF PHYSICAL ACTIVITIES.

By the end of grade 4 (continued)

- k. travel into and out of a rope turned by others.
- l. roll in forward direction without hesitating or stopping.
- m. roll in backward direction without hesitating or stopping.
- n. transfer weight, from feet to hands, at fast and slow speeds using large extensions (e.g., mulekick, handstand, cartwheel).
- o. balance, with control, on a variety of moving objects (e.g., balance boards, skates, scooters).
- p. balance, demonstrating momentary stillness, in symmetrical and asymmetrical shapes on a variety of body parts.

By the end of grade 8

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. explore introductory outdoor pursuit skills (e.g., backpacking, rock climbing, hiking, canoeing, cycling, rope courses).
- b. combine skills competently to participate in modified versions of team and individual sports.
- c. perform a variety of dances (e.g., simple folk, country, line, creative dances).
- d. use basic offensive and defensive strategies while playing a modified version of a sport.
- e. practice in ways that are appropriate for learning new skills or sports on one's own.

1. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT HAS SKILLS NECESSARY TO PERFORM A VARIETY OF PHYSICAL ACTIVITIES.

By the end of grade 8 (continued)

- f. throw, strike, dribble, and catch a variety of objects demonstrating accuracy, distance, direction, and control.
- g. design and perform activities in a cooperative/collaborative manner.
- h. participate in vigorous activity for cardiovascular endurance, muscular strength and endurance.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

The student demonstrates the ability to:

a. perform intermediate or advanced competence in at least one activity from four of the seven following categories:

aquatics:

dance (e.g., modern, folk, country, ballet); outdoor pursuits (e.g., hiking, biking, canoeing); individual activities/sports (e.g., golf, cycling); dual activities/sports (e.g., tennis, racquetball); team activities/sports (e.g., soccer, softball); personal health related fitness (e.g., aerobics, weight training, flexibility).

- b. design and implement a personal fitness program that relates to a healthy lifestyle.
- c. assess personal fitness status related to cardiovascular endurance, muscular strength and endurance, flexibility, and body composition.

2. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT IS PHYSICALLY FIT.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. maintain continuous aerobic activity for a specified time.
- b. maintain appropriate body alignment during activity (e.g., lift, carry, push, pull).
- c. support, lift, and control body weight in a variety of activities (e.g., lift, carry, push, pull).
- d. move each joint through a full range of motion.

By the end of grade 8

- a. perform activities designed to improve and maintain muscular strength and endurance, flexibility, and cardiovascular functioning.
- b. correctly perform various weight training techniques.
- c. sustain an aerobic activity maintaining a target heart rate to achieve cardiovascular benefits.
- d. recover from vigorous physical activity in an appropriate length of time.
- e. improve and/or maintain healthy body composition.
- f. participate in an individualized fitness program.

2. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT IS PHYSICALLY FIT.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. use the results of fitness assessments to guide changes in one's personal program of physical activity.
- b. maintain appropriate levels of cardiovascular and respiratory efficiency, muscular strength and endurance, flexibility, and body composition necessary for a healthy lifestyle.

3. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT DOES PARTICIPATE REGULARLY IN PHYSICAL ACTIVITY.

By the end of grade 4:

The student demonstrates the ability to:

a. regularly participate in physical activity for the purpose of improving skillful performance and physical fitness.

By the end of grade 8

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. participate in games, sports, dance, outdoor pursuits and leafth related fitness activities, both in and outside of school, based on individual interests and capabilities.
- b. follow rules and safety procedures while engaged in physical activities.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

- a. monitor exercise and other behaviors that relate to a healthy lifestyle and that contribute to enjoyment and self-expression.
- willingly participate in culturally diverse games, sports, dance, and outdoor pursuits.

4. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT KNOWS THE IMPLICATIONS OF AND THE BENEFITS FROM INVOLVEMENT IN PHYSICAL ACTIVITIES.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. identify changes in the body during physical activity.
- b. analyze healthful benefits and potential risks that are associated with regular participation in physical activities.
- c. recognize fundamental components, strategies, and rules used in simple games and activities.
- d. identify ways movement concepts can be used to refine movement skills through a variety of patterns.
- e. state reasons for safe and controlled movements.
- f. recognize the benefits that accompany cooperation and sharing.

By the end of grade 8

- a. recognize the effects of substance abuse on personal health and performance in physical activity.
- b. list long-term physiological, psychological, and cultural benefits that may result from regular participation in physical activity.
- c. describe principles of training and conditioning for specific physical activities.
- d. describe personal and group conduct, including ethical and unethical behavior, appropriate for engaging in physical activity.
- e. analyze and categorize activities and exercise according to potential fitness benefits.

4. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT KNOWS THE IMPLICATIONS OF AND THE BENEFITS FROM INVOLVEMENT IN PHYSICAL ACTIVITIES.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 8 (continued)

- f. identify basic strategies in games and sports.
- g. evaluate the roles of exercise and other factors in weight control.
- h. detect, analyze, and correct errors in personal movement patterns.
- i. describe ways to use the body and movement activities to communicate ideas and feelings.
- j. identify proper warm-up, conditioning, and cool-down techniques and the reason for using them.

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. identify career opportunities in physical education and related fields.
- b. identify the effects of age, gender, race, ethnicity, socioeconomic standing, and culture upon physical activity preferences and participation.
- c. discuss the historical roles of games, sports, and dance in the cultural life of a population.
- d. analyze time, cost, and accessibility factors related to regular participation in physical activities.
- e. categorize, according to their benefits and participation requirements, activities that can be pursued in the local community.
- f. analyze and compare health and fitness benefits derived from various physical activities.

4. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT KNOWS THE IMPLICATIONS OF AND THE BENEFITS FROM INVOLVEMENT IN PHYSICAL ACTIVITIES.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit (continued)

- g. analyze offensive and defensive strategies in games and sports.
- h. evaluate risks and safety factors that may affect physical activity preferences throughout the life cycle.
- i. evaluate claims and advertisements made about commercial products and programs.

5. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT VALUES PHYSICAL ACTIVITY AND ITS CONTRIBUTIONS TO A HEALTHY LIFESTYLE.

By the end of grade 4

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. enjoy feelings resulting from involvement in physical activity.
- b. respect persons from different backgrounds and the cultural significance they attribute to various games, dances, and physical activities.
- c. appreciate differences and similarities in others' physical activities by celebrating personal successes and achievements and those of others.

By the end of grade 8

The student demonstrates the ability to:

- a. feel satisfaction when engaging in physical activity.
- b. enjoy satisfaction in the aesthetic and creative aspects of performance.
- c. accept and respect the decisions made by game officials.
- d. show respect for persons of like and different skill levels.
- e. desire to improve physical ability and performance.

5. THE PHYSICALLY EDUCATED STUDENT VALUES PHYSICAL ACTIVITY AND ITS CONTRIBUTIONS TO A HEALTHY LIFESTYLE.

Benchmarks/Performance Standards:

By the end of grade 12 or at exit

- a. accept the ways in which personal characteristics, performance styles, and activity preferences will change throughout life.
- b. appreciate and respect the natural environment while participating in physical activity.
- c. enjoy the satisfaction of meeting and cooperating with others during physical activity.
- d. appreciate the enjoyment, satisfaction, and benefits of regular physical activity.
- e. feel empowered to maintain and improve health related fitness, motor skills, and knowledge about physical activity.
- f. make a commitment to physical activity as an important part of one's lifestyle.

GLOSSARY

- Graduation Outcome: A statement of what a student should know and be able to do as a result of K-12 curriculum and instruction. An outcomes statement incorporates content and performance standards.
- Content Outcome: A statement that describes the knowledge and skills that learners should acquire in a particular subject area.
- Student Performance Standards: Statements that describe tasks or demonstrations which could be assessed and the knowledge and skills identified as important to a subject area. (Note: some prefer to use this term more broadly to describe the entire set of demonstrations that a student would perform to satisfy the standards of a particular subject area.)
- Benchmarks: Those performance standards a student should be able to successfully demonstrate at designated grade levels.
- Exemplary Standards: Performance standards that demand exceptional effort on the part of students who merit special recognition.
- Alternative Assessments: A means of supplementing traditional forms of assessment such as multiple choice and true/false tests. Alternative assessments provide ways of measuring a learner's success at meeting performance standards.
- Authentic Task: A form of alternative assessment that can also be used as part of the curriculum. An authentic task is usually an open-ended task that closely mimics the complexity of real world problems. Such tasks help students find out how well they apply essential knowledge and skills.
- Portfolio: A collection of student work that provides a means of assessment which involves the individual student in the process.
