ABSTRACT

This handbook was assembled to aid Michigan communities in the establishment of district libraries, or libraries formed by united efforts and resources of two or more municipalities. Two major areas are covered, establishment and funding. The "Establishment" section outlines steps involved in the process, sample resolutions of municipalities and public library boards, a sample district library agreement, Library of Michigan filing requirements, and other considerations. The "Funding" section describes options for income sources, including districtwide millages, local millages, appropriations, bonding, or combinations thereof. A section on district library boundaries covers adding new participating municipalities and withdrawing from the district. Appendices contain the text of Michigan legislation which governs the process of establishing and financing a district library. (BEW)

I. INTRODUCTION

Michigan's District Library Establishment Act, effective 22 May 1989, allows two or more municipalities to join together to form a district library. District libraries are controlled by district library boards which are taxing authorities pursuant to the Michigan Constitution, Article IX, section 6. As a taxing authority, the district library board has the power to place a districtwide library millage question on the ballot for voter approval.

The purpose of this publication is to aid communities in establishing district libraries. This applies to communities which currently have legally-established public libraries, as well as those which do not. Current public libraries may wish to consider re-establishment as district libraries because of the independence of the district library board and because of the potential for a separate and stable districtwide millage.

This publication should not, however, be a community's sole source of information for establishing a district library. Municipalities which are in the process of establishing a district library should work with an attorney to complete and file the necessary documentation. The local public library cooperative director, the Library Establishment Specialist at the Library of Michigan, and local election officers should be consulted.

This publication covers two major areas of district libraries: (1) establishment (including the selection of participating municipalities, board structure, the district library agreement, proper filing with the Library of Michigan, and other miscellaneous considerations) and (2) funding (including various options such as districtwide millages, local millages, local appropriations, and bonding issues). For further assistance, please contact the Library Establishment Specialist at the Library of Michigan.

II. ESTABLISHMENT

To establish a district library, at least two municipalities must agree to join to provide library service. The statute defines a "municipality" as a city, village, school district, township, or county. The municipalities which join to establish a district library are referred to as "participating municipalities" in the statute.

A. Steps to Establish a District Library

If two or more municipalities decide to establish a district library, the following steps are suggested:

1. Preliminary meetings: Representatives from the governing boards of the municipalities and the current public library, as well as other interested citizens, meet to discuss the various options of establishing a district library. These preliminary discussions focus on (a) the advisability of establishing a district library in the particular community and (b) which municipalities would be "participating."
2. Resolutions: The governing boards of the participating municipalities may adopt resolutions to work with the other participating municipalities to plan toward establishing a district library. The resolutions appoint representatives to a District Library Planning Committee and indicate that a District Library Agreement will be entered into by all participating municipalities.
3. District Library Planning Committee: Representatives from the participating municipalities, from the current public library, and other interested citizens are selected by the participating municipalities and library to form a District Library Planning Committee. The charge of this group is to decide (a) the "participating municipalities," (b) board structure (appointed or elected and number of board members), and (c) other agreement provisions required by 1989 PA 24.
4. District Library Agreement: An attorney for the participating municipalities draws up a District Library Agreement based on decisions made by the District Library Planning Committee and agreed to by all of the participating municipalities. This agreement is signed by the participating municipalities and approved by all current public library boards within the district. All participating municipalities adopt resolutions to establish the district library.

5. Filing With the Library of Michigan: The resolutions and signed District Library Agreement are filed with the State Librarian at the Library of Michigan. The State Librarian has 30 days in which to approve or disapprove the establishment of the district library.
6. Districtwide Library Millage: If the District Library Agreement states that the district library establishment will not be permanent until a districtwide library millage is approved by the voters, then the district library board places a millage question on the ballot within the specified time period. If a districtwide millage is required for establishment, and if a district library millage is approved by the voters, then the election results are filed with the Library of Michigan in order to "finalize" approval of the district library status. If no successful districtwide millage is obtained within the time specified in the agreement, then the Library of Michigan will declare that the district library is terminated.

B. Resolutions of Participating Municipalities

Pursuant to section 3(1)(b), 1989 PA 24, the legislative body of each participating municipality must adopt a resolution providing for the establishment of a district library and approving a District Library Agreement. The legislative bodies may also adopt a resolution regarding the District Library Planning Committee.

- The first resolution is a statement by the legislative body indicating that it wishes to establish a district library with other municipalities. This resolution approves the formation of a District Library Planning Committee made up of representatives from all interested municipalities and the library. The purpose of the Committee is to develop a District Library Agreement. This resolution is recommended, but it is not required by statute.

SAMPLE: The first resolution of the legislative body

The _____ township board hereby resolves:

1. That it is interested in joining with the city of _____ to establish a district library pursuant to 1989 PA 24;
2. That it will appoint two representatives from the township to the District Library Planning Committee, which is charged with preparing a District Library Agreement; and
3. That if the District Library Agreement is acceptable to the township board, it will adopt a resolution to establish a district library and to sign the Agreement.

- The second resolution of the legislative body is adopted after the District Library Planning Committee has drafted an acceptable District Library Agreement. This resolution states that the municipality resolves (i) to establish a district library with the other municipalities and (ii) to approve the District Library Agreement. This resolution is required by statute.

SAMPLE: The second resolution of the legislative body

Whereas, the _____ township board finds that the District Library Agreement presented by the District Library Planning Committee is acceptable, the township board hereby resolves:

1. That it establishes a district library with the city of _____ pursuant to 1989 PA 24;
2. That it approves the District Library Agreement and that it directs the board chair to sign the District Library Agreement on behalf of the _____ township board.

C. Resolution of Public Library Board

If the proposed district contains a legally-established public library, the governing library board must adopt a resolution approving the establishment of a district library and approving the District Library Agreement. The public library board may adopt resolutions to transfer certain assets of the public library to the new district library board.

SAMPLE: The public library board resolution

Whereas, the _____ township board and the _____ city council have adopted resolutions to establish a district library, and

Whereas, the _____ public library is a legally established public library within the proposed district, and

Whereas, section 3(1)(a), 1989 PA 24, requires approval of the governing board of such a public library,

The _____ public library board hereby resolves:

1. That it approves the establishment of a district library made up of the _____ township and _____ city; and
2. That it approves the District Library Agreement and directs the library board chair to sign that agreement on behalf of the _____ public library board.
3. That it agrees to transfer its ownership in the property of the public library to the new district library board.

D. District Library Agreement

The District Library Establishment Act, 1989 PA 24 provides that the legislative bodies of the participating municipalities must enter into a District Library Agreement. If the proposed district contains a public library, the governing board of the public library must also approve the District Library Agreement. NOTE: This applies only to governing boards of public libraries which are recognized by the Legislative Council as lawfully established for purposes of the distribution of state aid and penal fines. It does not apply to advisory boards, to boards of branch libraries, or to boards of libraries not recognized by the Legislative Council.

Section 4(1), 1989 PA 24, provides that the District Library Agreement must include the following provisions:

- (a) Participating Municipalities: The District Library Agreement must identify the participating municipalities establishing the district library. If a participating municipality includes less than its entirety (for example, a county which contains public libraries whose service area is excluded from the proposed district), then the District Library Agreement must specify which parts of the municipality are included in the proposed district.
- (b) District Library Board: The District Library Agreement must indicate whether the district library board will be appointed or elected. If the board is to be appointed, the District Library Agreement must state the term of office, the total number of board members (no less than five and no more than eight), and the number of board members to be appointed by each participating municipality. If the board members are to be elected, the District Library Agreement must indicate the number of provisional board members to be appointed by the legislative body of each participating municipality. Note that, if the board is elected, there must be seven board members.
- (c) Appropriation: The District Library Agreement must state the percentage of the money in the annual budget (section 13) to be supplied by each participating municipality. If the establishment of the district library is contingent upon the approval of a districtwide millage, this provision should indicate the number of years for which the participating municipalities will be responsible for providing this appropriation.
- (d) Amending the Agreement: The District Library Agreement must indicate the procedure for amending the District Library Agreement. This provision must require the consent of the legislative bodies of not less than two-thirds of the participating municipalities. This provision could also include approval by the district library board.
- (e) Withdrawal: The District Library Agreement must state the period of time after the effective date of the agreement (not less than one year) during which the participating municipalities may not withdraw from the district library (see section 24).
- (f) Distribution of Assets: The District Library Agreement must include a provision for any distribution of district library assets to take place upon the withdrawal of a participating municipality.
- (g) Other Provisions: The District Library Agreement may contain any necessary provisions regarding the district library.

Section 4(2) 1989 PA 24, provides that the District Library Agreement may state that the district library board is abolished and the district library terminates unless the district electors approve a district library millage at a specified minimum rate on or before a specified date. If the District Library Agreement contains such a provision, the District Library Agreement shall specify the manner in which the net assets of the district library shall be distributed upon termination and shall contain a plan for continuing public library service to all residents of the district after termination. Example: "If the millage is unsuccessful, the former city library is reinstated and all assets of the district library are transferred to the city library board, which will continue public library service to all residents of the district."

The District Library Planning Committee should consider carefully all necessary provisions of the District Library Agreement. It is advisable to consult an attorney to draft the District Library Agreement and for advice on the inclusion of various provisions. Note that separate documents may be necessary for transfers of real or personal property, lease agreements, or transfer of contractual obligations.

E. Library of Michigan Filing Requirements

1. District Library Agreement and Resolutions

The District Library Establishment Act provides in section 5, 1989 PA 24, that the participating municipalities shall submit the District Library Agreement to the State Librarian within ten days following the date on which the agreement is adopted. The State Librarian then has 30 days in which to approve or disapprove the District Library Agreement.

If the District Library Agreement is approved, then the district library is recognized as legally established pursuant to 1989 PA 24, and the district library board will have the powers enumerated in the District Library Establishment Act. The district library will also be eligible for state aid and penal fines, subject to compliance with any regulations relating to those sources of funding.

If the State Librarian disapproves the agreement, the State Librarian shall explain in the written statement the reasons for the disapproval, and the district library shall not be recognized as lawfully established for purposes of distribution of state aid and penal fines. The participating municipalities may revise the District Library Agreement (if possible) to comply with the statutory requirements.

Note that the State Librarian may only disapprove a District Library Agreement if it fails to conform with the provisions of 1989 PA 24. Some examples of reasons that the State Librarian may disapprove a District Library Agreement are:

- (1) The proposed district contains a public library, and the governing board of that public library has not approved the District Library Agreement. NOTE: This would apply if any part of a public library's legal service area is included in the proposed district.
- (2) The agreement is signed by only one participating municipality.
- (3) The District Library Agreement is signed without authorization (resolution) of the legislative bodies of the participating municipalities.
- (4) The District Library Agreement does not include all of the required provisions set forth in section 4(1), 1989 PA 24.
- (5) The District Library Agreement provides for a district library board structure which is not permitted by 1989 PA 24. NOTE: If the library board is appointed, it must have five, six, seven, or eight board members. If the board is elected, it must have seven board members elected districtwide, and the agreement must provide for a provisional board in the interim before the next election.
- (6) Two of the municipalities are school districts which hold their regularly scheduled elections on different dates.

2. Millage Election Results

If the District Library Agreement states that the establishment of the district library is contingent upon voter approval of a districtwide millage, then the district library board must file a copy of the certified election results showing approval of the districtwide library millage with the Library of Michigan. Upon receipt of the election results, the State Librarian shall give final approval to the establishment of the district library. If the districtwide millage is not approved within the time specified in the District Library Agreement, then the State Librarian shall declare the district library to be terminated. See section 4(2), 1989 PA 24.

F. Miscellaneous Considerations

In addition to the District Library Agreement and resolutions required by statute, there are other legal documents which may be necessary for effecting transfer of the provision of library services to the new district library. If there is currently a public library within the district which plans to transfer its functions to the new district library, then there should be written documentation of these transfers. Areas to consider include real property, personal property, intangible property, and employee benefits.

Real Property. If the current public library board owns the library building, that board should deed the property over to the new district library board. Any deeds transferring real property should be prepared by an attorney and should be properly recorded. If the library board does not own the property, and if the current owner does not wish to deed the property to the new district library board, then the new district library board should obtain a lease prepared by an attorney.

Personal Property. The current library board should also transfer to the district library board ownership of all library personal property, including books and other materials, furniture, equipment, and other tangible items.

Intangible Property. Intangible property, including contracts, should be transferred from the current library board to the new district library board. These should be reviewed by an attorney, as some contracts and other documents may not be transferrable.

Employee Benefits. The new district library board has the option of creating new benefit plans for employees. It may be possible to contract for benefits and other services with one of the participating municipalities. Examples include retirement plans, writing payroll checks, health insurance, etc. For certain benefits, however, the new district library may not be permitted to participate in the former library plan and may need to obtain a new plan. NOTE: School district public libraries which re-establish as district libraries may continue certain school retirement benefits pursuant to 1989 PA 194.

III. FUNDING

The District Library Establishment Act provides several methods for funding district libraries:

- (1) districtwide millage,
- (2) local millages in individual municipalities,
- (3) appropriations from participating municipalities,
- (4) districtwide bond issues, or
- (5) a combination of any of the above.

Other methods of funding district libraries (penal fines, state aid, and grants of federal funds) are not covered in this publication.

A. Districtwide Millages

Section 7 of the District Library Establishment Act provides that the library "constitutes an authority under section 6 of article IX of the state constitution of 1963." This authority enables the district library board to put a millage question on the ballot without first seeking approval from the participating municipalities. It also means that the district library millage is outside of the fifty-mill cap.

A districtwide millage may be any amount up to 4 mills (see section 13).

Section 14 of the District Library Establishment Act provides that Michigan election law, 1954 PA 116, applies to an election for a districtwide library millage, except to the extent that those provisions are inconsistent with the provisions of the district library act. The District Library Establishment Act sets out specific details regarding districtwide millage elections. If none of the participating municipalities is a school district, then sections 15-18 and section 23 will apply for the districtwide millage election. If one of the participating municipalities is a school district, then the election for a districtwide library millage is governed by section 15 and sections 19-23.

Prior to placing a millage question on the ballot, the district library board should have an attorney review the ballot language and the procedure. The ballot proposal must state the amount of millage and must be filed within the guidelines set by the District Library Establishment Act.

The election for a districtwide millage may be either a special election or may be held with the general election (if none of the participating municipalities is a school district, see section 15(2)). If one of the participating municipalities is a school district, the districtwide millage election may be held with the school election (section 15(3)).

To pass a districtwide millage, approval by a majority of the electors voting districtwide is required. It is not possible for a districtwide millage to be passed and levied in only one of the participating municipalities.

B. Local Millages

In addition to, or instead of, a districtwide library millage, a district library may be funded with local millages levied in the individual participating municipalities. These local millages are governed by sections 13(4), (5), and (6).

If the participating municipality wishes to fund the district library through a local millage, the governing board of that municipality must place the question on the ballot for approval by the voters. If approved, the millage will be levied only in the municipality which approved the millage (not in the entire district).

Unlike the districtwide millage (which is outside of the fifty- mill cap), local millages to support the district library do fall within the fifty-mill cap. For that reason, a districtwide library millage is usually preferable to a local millage. A local millage will probably only be sought if the local municipality wishes to enhance services (for example, a branch library) in its municipality beyond the bounds of the districtwide millage fund.

C. Appropriations

In addition to, or instead of, library millages, the participating municipalities may appropriate funds to support the district library. These appropriations are made from a municipality's general fund and do not need separate voter approval.

If a district library is funded by districtwide and/or local millages, there may be no need for additional appropriations from the participating municipalities. Appropriations may be necessary, however, in the interim period after the district library has been established but before a districtwide millage has been approved and collected. The district library agreement should make provision for appropriations by the participating municipalities prior to the passage and collection of a districtwide millage.

Appropriations from participating municipalities might also be necessary if a districtwide millage expires and is not renewed immediately. The participating municipalities may or may not be required to make such appropriations depending on the requirements of the district library agreement.

D. Bonding

District library bond issues are covered by the District Library Financing Act, 1988 PA 265, as amended by 1989 PA 25 (see Appendix). District library boards should not attempt a bond issue without consulting an attorney.

IV. DISTRICT LIBRARY BOUNDARIES

Pursuant to the District Library Establishment Act, the boundaries of a district library district may be changed either by adding a new municipality or by the withdrawal of a participating municipality.

A. Adding New Municipalities

Section 25 of the District Library Establishment Act provides a procedure for adding new municipalities to an existing district library. In order to add a new participating municipality, each of the following requirements must be satisfied:

- the governing body of the new municipality, by majority vote, resolves to join the district.
- the district library board adopts a resolution to accept the municipality and to amend the district library agreement to reflect the addition of the municipality and changes in board representation, etc., as necessary.
- if there is a districtwide library millage, the voters in the new participating municipality must approve a library millage of that amount.
- the new municipality complies with any other provisions required by the district library agreement.

B. Withdrawing from the District

Section 24 of the District Library Establishment Act provides procedures for a participating municipality to withdraw from a district library district. NOTE: If all but one of the participating municipalities withdraw from the district, the district library is terminated.

In order to withdraw from a district with a voted millage, each of the following requirements must be satisfied:

- not less than 2 months before the next regularly scheduled election of the municipality, the governing board of the municipality must adopt a resolution to withdraw from the district library on a date specified in the resolution (not less than 6 months after the next regularly scheduled election).
- the resolution to withdraw must be approved by a majority of the electors of the municipality voting at the regularly scheduled election.
- a copy of the official canvass statement and a certified copy of the resolution as approved by the voters must be filed with the Library of Michigan and must be distributed to the remaining participating municipalities.

- payment must be made to the district library or its creditors for all obligations of the municipality seeking to withdraw.
  - the withdrawing municipality must furnish the Library of Michigan a plan for continuing library service after withdrawing.

If there is no districtwide library millage for the district library, a participating municipality may withdraw if the following requirements are satisfied:

- the governing body of the municipality adopts a resolution to withdraw on a date specified in the resolution (not less than 1 year from the date of the resolution). NOTE: If a districtwide millage is approved after the adoption of the resolution, but prior to the withdrawal date, the resolution to withdraw will be null and void. If the municipality still wishes to withdraw, it must follow the steps listed above.
- the resolution is filed with the Library of Michigan and with the governing bodies of the remaining participating municipalities.
- payment must be made to the district library or its creditors for all obligations of the municipality seeking to withdraw.
- the withdrawing municipality must furnish the Library of Michigan a plan for continuing library service after withdrawing.
