ABSTRACT

Teaming incorporates an ever expanding curriculum, without an overlapping of subjects, by a collaboration of teachers and students learning from one discipline to another. Through the teaming approach to teaching, the child gains from the emotional, motivational, and enrichment of interrelationships of different subject teachers. Stimulation for teachers is provided by closer association among colleagues who use varied styles, strategies, and techniques aimed at shared goals and communication. This publication is a guide for team teaching from a program entitled "Nobody Else Outshines Neons" (NEON). The goal of the approach is to share and combine expertise and curriculum objectives to integrate a discipline into interesting and entertaining units, through a mutual set of procedures that are consistent throughout the day, regardless of individual personalities, styles, and disciplines. The publication includes exercises, curriculum suggestions, suggested teaching methods, poems, selections from literature, and other background material on successful team teaching. The "Neon Sam: Student-Parent Assignment Manual" is included. (ND)

Teammate

Teammate, you are special.
You are true dedication from the heart and soul.
You take risks of trying new ideas,
Letting go of the old--accomplishing our goal.

Not being afraid to be creative,
Self confident of your own strengths,
And feeling good about sharing them with you teammates
At any lengths.

You are conscious of your own operations,
Take action and get the job done.
You take and give criticism frequently, frankly and comfortably without evidence of Personal attack to anyone.

You recognize that different personalities are a plus,
And capitalize on the expertise of all.
you say "good idea" as well as "good job",
And on shortcomings, one apology accepted...
Is accepted for the fall.

Consistency is the utmost, even if it means
Adjusting personality and style.
Teammate, our students are the greatest,
And it is because of you they smile.

THE TEAM

Characteristics of an Effective Team

The atmosphere tends to be informal, comfortable, and relaxed.

There is a lot of discussion in which virtually everyone participates, but it remains pertinent to the task of the group.

The task or objective of the group is well understood and accepted by the members. There will have been free discussion of the objective at some point until it was formulated in such a way that the members of the group could commit themselves to it.

The members listen to each other. Every idea is given a hearing. People do not appear to be afraid or being foolish by putting forth a creative thought even if it seems fairly extreme.

There is disagreement. Disagreements are not suppressed or overridden by premature group action. The reasons are carefully examined, and the group seeks to resolve them rather than to dominate the dissenter.

Most decisions are reached by a kind of consensus in which it is clear that everyone is in general agreement and willing to go along. Formal voting is at a minimum; the group does not accept a simple majority as a proper basis for action.

Criticism is frequent, frank, and relatively comfortable. There is little evidence of personal attack, either openly or in a hidden fashion.

People are free in expressing their feelings as well as their ideas both on the problem and on the group's operations.

When action is taken, clear assignments are made and accepted.

The chairman of the group does not dominate it, nor on the contrary does the group unduly defer to his. In fact, leadership shifts from time to time depending upon the circumstances. There is little evidence of a struggle for power as the group operates. The issue is not who controls but how to get the job done.

The group is conscious of its own operations.

Student Connections

Young adolescents are the most vibrant, energetic, and fun students to challenge. As one teacher stated "I'm addicted to these kids. Where else can you get paid to experience stand-up comedians on a daily basis." Yes, these students are the best. That's why they need the BEST teachers. As you work with your students just remember they need:

- ◆ To express their opinions and feelings openly
- ◆ Opportunities to laugh
- ◆ Limits set
- ◆ Opportunities to be successful
- ◆ Positive role models
- ◆ Support from adults
- ◆ Accurate information about what is expected of them
- ◆ Discipline
- ◆ Permission to fail—Learning failure is not fatal
- ◆ Concrete experiences
- ◆ Adults that like early adolescents
- ◆ Variety
- ◆ Consistency
- ◆ To be respected
- ◆ Encouraged to be responsible
- ◆ To be trusted
- ◆ To be "Hugged" and Loved!

Remember to live every day to the fullest and enjoy your students!

Student Connections

Students know what makes them feel successful or good about themselves. Here's what they say:

- * Smile when you see me.
- * Call me by my name.
- * Listen to me when I talk.
- * Let me know that you missed me when I was absent.
- * Recognize my own special talents, even if they do show up on my report card.
- * Praise me when I do something right.
- * If you do not like something that I do, help me understand that you still like me as a person.
- * Show me that I have a lot of options for the future, and that I can set my own goals.
- * Encourage me to aim high.

Try to reach each student with at least one of these esteem builders every day. They build stronger people and stronger communities.

Are You A W.H.O.L.E. Teacher?

To educate the whole child, as Dewey recommends, YOU must be a W.H.O.L.E. (Wanting Healthy, Optimistic Living Everyday) teacher. You must focus on the "W.H.O.L.E." YOU daily. A W.H.O.L.E. teacher concentrates on every area of life; physical, intellectual, emotional, and social.

In researching OUTSTANDING TEACHERS for the past 5 years, I discovered common characteristics among them. Through surveys, observations, and interviews, I have found reasons why these teachers enjoy their job and life. Compiling my findings, I have structured the common traits into a self-examination to obtain an overall "WHOLENESS" SCORE. How do you rate?

Read each statement carefully. Answer true or false to each item. If you have any doubts or you're thinking "sometimes," you are to mark the item false. BE HONEST.

For a variation, have team members or colleagues complete the exam about YOU then compare your own results with their conclusions. Also, encourage colleagues to see how W.H.O.L.E. they are. Let us know about your results, opinions, or any additions you would make.

Physical Wholeness

- 1. I have a COMPLETE physical examination every 1-3 years.
- 2. I DO NOT drink coffee, soda, or any caffeinated products.
- 3. I DO NOT SMOKE.
- 4. I am 5 pounds within my ideal weight.
- 5. I exercise 5-7 days every week.
- 6. I maintain a healthy eating plan of fruits and vegetables, avoiding overindulgence of fats, junk foods, and sweets.
- 7. I have regular sleeping habits and sleep between 5-8 hours daily.
- 8. I have my cholesterol level and blood pressure checked regularly and under control.
- 9. I have 7 or fewer alcoholic drinks per week.
- 10. I practice good safety habits and ALWAYS wear a seat belt.

Intellectual Wholeness

- 11. I read current articles, periodicals, and professional material weekly.
- 12. I have a love for learning and look forward to learning new information.
- 13. I take 5-30 minutes to reflect, meditate, and/or pray every day.
- 14. I can admit that "I DO NOT KNOW" the answer.
- 15. I see CHANGE as an adventure and a positive challenge.
- 16. I am always willing to try something new and learn from mistakes.
- 17. I maintain a journal to record weekly feelings, ideas, and information learned.
- 18. I am a positive role model for my students and colleagues.
- 19. I believe all kids CAN learn and I enjoy working with students.
- 20. I enjoy conducting presentations and sharing successful strategies with my colleagues.

Emotional Wholeness

- 21. I LOVE MY JOB and look forward to going to work everyday.
- 22. I have a personal plan to avoid and/or reduce stress.
- 23. I have a healthy sense of humor and LOVE to LAUGH DAILY.
- 24. I can laugh at my own mistakes and blunders.
- 25. I know how to PLAY and can release the child within me.
- 26. I am truly thankful for every day of life and live every day with an "attitude of gratitude."
- 27. I respect ALL races, cultures, and backgrounds, and have compassion for ALL human beings.

- ___ 28. I know that I am responsible for and control my own world, decisions, and choices
- ___ 29. I LOVE being me and respect myself.
- ___ 30. I live with integrity

Social Wholeness

- ___ 31. I am a team player at work and in life.
- ___ 32. I have a positive home and family life.
- ___ 33. I have a sound social support system and true friends.
- ___ 34. My colleagues enjoy being around and working with me.
- ___ 35. I have high expectations for myself.
- ___ 36. I have dreams that I have written into goals and work toward daily.
- ___ 37. I have a "DO IT NOW" philosophy and avoid procrastination.
- ___ 38. I am organized and take time to plan every day and every week.
- ___ 39. I will go the "extra mile" to help a student or colleague succeed.
- ___ 40. I have a POSITIVE MENTAL ATTITUDE (PMA) toward my personal and professional life.
- ___ 41. I "seek first to understand" others before I try to be understood.
- ___ 42. I am known for my energy and enthusiasm at work and in life.
- ___ 43. I take 10 deep breaths, 3 times per day to oxygenate my cells.
- ___ 44. I would like to be a student in my class, a faculty member in my school, or an employee in my office.
- ___ 45. I NEVER forget what it was like to be a STUDENT.

- ___ 48. I am a FORGIVING person and DO NOT hold grudges.
- ___ 49. I am NOT ARGUMENTATIVE, I listen, negotiate, and/or compromise.
- ___ 50. I am PROUD TO BE A TEACHER AND EDUCATOR.

Now add up your "true" responses. Determine your WHOLENESS according to the following scale:

- 42-50 *OUTSTANDING! You definitely are a W.H.O.L.E. teacher. You need to share your successes with your colleagues and with the readers of "Positive Connections."
- 33-41 *GOOD! You are moving in the right direction. You have areas needing improvement. Go back through the questions and focus on your "false" answers. Take time to plan ways to improve. You are almost W.H.O.L.E.—don't give up. You are worth the effort.
- 24-32 *FAIR! Be concerned! Your students and colleagues need you at your best and obviously you are not. You have areas needing improvement. It is time to develop a "self-improvement" plan and take action. You only have one life—why not live it to the fullest as a growing, nurturing person. Look deep within yourself and think about the important profession you represent. Today is the day to change for the positive.
- 0-23 *VERY POOR! You must be an unhappy person. If your life is lacking in this many areas, you are definitely not enjoying your job or life. You need to determine the areas causing the most pain in your life and prioritize a list of improvements. Again, develop a "self-improvement" plan and begin working in one area at a time. I would also recommend that you get some major support through friends or a professional counseling service. You are important and worth taking the time to improve. Most importantly, feel free to send us a copy of your exam and any questions/concerns you may have so we can help you with your plan and offer suggestions.

On Teaching

It is customary for adults to forget how hard and dull and long school is. The learning by memory all the basic things one must know is the most incredible and unending effort. Learning to read is probably the most difficult and revolutionary thing that happens to the human brain, and if you don't believe that, watch an illiterate adult try to do it. School is not easy, and it is not for the most part very much fun, but then, if you are very lucky, you may find a teacher. Three real teachers in a lifetime is the very best of luck. I have come to believe that a great teacher is a great artist and that there are as few as there are any other great artists. Teaching might even be the greatest of the arts since the medium is the human mind and spirit.

My three had these things in common—they all loved what they were doing. They did not tell—they catalyzed a burning desire to know. Under their influence, the horizons sprung wide and fear went away and the unknown became knowable. But most important of all, the truth, that dangerous stuff, became beautiful and very precious.

John Steinbeck

Partners in Learning

I dreamed I stood in a studio, and watched two sculptors there. The clay they used was a young child's mind, and they fashioned it with care.

One was a teacher, the tools she used were books and music and art. One was a parent with a guiding hand and a gentle loving heart.

Day after day the teacher toiled, with a touch that was deft and sure, while the parent labored by her side and polished and smoothed it over.

And when at last their task was done, they were proud of what they had wrought. For the things they had molded into the child would neither be sold, nor bought.

And each agreed he would have failed, if he had worked alone. For behind the parent stood the school; and behind the teacher the home.

S Y N T H E S I S

E V A L U A T I O N

Determine three strengths and three weaknesses of Cooperative Learning . Combine the two lists and rank order the listing according to their importance to group success. Give reasons for your ranking of the first and last on your list.

PITFALLS TO AVOID WHEN MOVING INTO COOPERATIVE LEARNING

1. Moving too fast. Take time to know each other, to be aware of differences within the group, and to establish mutual trust and acceptance.
2. Insufficient teacher planning, with lack of attention to detailed step-by-step lesson plans and to goal expectancies.
3. Lack of clarification of goals and student expectancies.
4. Unrealistic goals requiring student behaviors and achievements beyond the student's normal performance level.
5. Poor understanding of role definitions, with undefined specifications of the expected functions of individual group members.
6. Limited or no access to materials needed for task completion.
7. Underestimating the significance of individual differences within groups and neglecting to plan for the effect of these differences. Blending the serious student, the class clown, the disruptive student, the self appointed group leader, and the shy and aggressive personalities in to a homogeneous group in which cooperative learning can flourish is no easy task.
8. Lack of flexibility in plans to allow for the setbacks or teachable moments that appear at the most unexpected times or in the most unexpected ways when people of any age work together with common goals.
9. Lack of commitment to try, try again when at first cooperative learning groups are not as smooth or productive as hoped. All new approaches to classroom management and student interaction require some getting used to and some trial-and error attempts.

Planning and Implementing Cooperative Learning Lessons

-  Identify a lesson appropriate for cooperative learning
-  Make organizational decisions
-  Establish objectives and tasks
-  Plan for monitoring and processing
-  Plan for evaluating the effectiveness of the lesson

Decision Making Information For Cooperative Learning

Group Size

.....

When making decisions about group size, the teacher should consider five variables:

- ❖ students' academic and social skills
- ❖ amount of time students have to work
- ❖ nature of the task
- ❖ opportunity for each student to talk and exchange ideas
- ❖ quantity of material to be covered

Group Assignment

When deciding how to assign students to groups, the teacher should consider these points:

- ❖ Each student has different strengths and weaknesses.
- ❖ Heterogeneous groups are most powerful.
- ❖ Groups can be heterogeneous on several different variables: ability, sex, ethnic background, perspective, and language.
- ❖ The teacher is responsible for making group assignments and so must consider all these points. Left to form their own groups, students choose to work with friends, and the resulting homogeneous groups limit student' learning experience.

Decision Making Information For Cooperative Learning

Room Arrangement

When arranging the class room, provide an environment that supports and encourages cooperation:

- Students in groups need to be close to one another to share materials and exchange ideas quietly.
- To decrease intergroup distractions, allow space between groups; you can then easily circulate among them.

Materials

The distribution of materials can reinforce the message of positive interdependence:

- With one set of materials per group, students must share and interact frequently.
- Provide each student with a different part of the materials or information (jigsawing) requires students to learn specific portions of the lesson content and to reinforce what they have learned with their peers.
- One set of materials per student allows each to have a copy to review and study.

Roles

Roles assignments reinforce the message of positive interdependence because success depends on each group member performing his or her role. Also, role assignments can further emphasize the need to use the social skills included in the lesson.

- The roles must be taught and clearly understood by the students.
- To give each student a chance to perform different functions, rotate the role assignments.
- Examples of roles that support social skills are encourager, checker, and observer. Examples of roles that work skills include recorder, reader, and runner.

SET UP A SOCIAL SKILLS CENTER

The social skills center consists of a place to record and post the name of the Skill of the week, the name of the role of the week, and gambits associated with the skill. The charts should be in a common area and also in each team members room.

1. As a Team choose a Skill of the Week.
2. Each team member introduces the Skill of the Week.
3. Assign roles in your classroom and develop gambits.
4. Model and reinforce the skill in each class.
5. Reflect as a team on the value of the skill.

SKILL OF THE WEEK:

COOPERATIVE LEARNING

Social Skills Center

ROLE OF THE WEEK:

EQUAL PARTICIPATION

DO (LOOKS LIKE)

SAY (SOUNDS LIKE)

LOOK AT THE PERSON

MOTION FOR OTHERS TO WAIT

TURN TO PERSON AND HOLD UP PALM

"DO YOU AGREE, SUSAN?"

"PETE, WHAT DO YOU THINK?"

"I WOULD LIKE TO HEAR YOUR IDEA, JOHN."

Neon Social Skills

Skill : Inner Voice

Role : Quiet Captain

A quiet captain makes sure the team does not talk loudly enough to be overheard by other teams. A 12" inch voice is the only voice acceptable for the group to use. It is the job of a quiet captain to keep voices in the 12" range. Say gambits like, "Were getting to loud, let's use 12" voices."

Neon Math Social Skills

Skill : Encouraging othes

Role : Encourager

An Encourager brings out the reluctant student, and attempts to motivate the team if it gets bogged down.

An encourager goes to work before a student has spoken, with gambits like, "Let's listen to Pete."

Neon Social Skills

Skill : Equalizing Participation

Role : Gatekeeper

A Gatekeeper equalizes participation. If one student is talking too much and another very little, a gatekeeper literally shuts the gate for one and opens it for another using gambits like, "That is very interesting, Joe. Sally, what is your opinion?" "Bill, do you agree with the point that Pat just made?"

Neon Social Skills

Skill : Staying on task

Role : Taskmaster

A taskmaster keeps the group on task. It is important to distinguish positive and negative gambits for a taskmaster; they are to say gamits like, " We have not done problem three yet", but not things like, "Stop fooling around." Always be positive !

NEON MASTERY STRUCTURE

4S BRAINSTORMING

BRAINSTORMING IS ONE OF THE MOST EFFECTIVE WAYS TO GET A GROUP TO OPEN THE DOORS OF CREATIVITY.

AN EFFECTIVE FORMAT FOR BRAINSTORMING IS FOR STUDENTS TO TAKE ON AN ASSIGNED ROLE.

ROLES:

1. SPEED CAPTAIN... PUTS ON THE TIME PRESSURE. SAYS THINGS LIKE, "LET'S HURRY".

2. SUPPER SUPPORTER... MAKES SURE ALL IDEAS ARE ENCOURAGED AND NO IDEAS ARE CRITICIZED. SAYS THINGS LIKE. "ALL IDEAS ARE GREAT".

3. CHIEF OF SILLY... ENCOURAGES CREATIVE IDEAS, HELPS CREATIVITY AND THE RANGE OF IDEAS. SAYS THINGS LIKE, " LET'S HAVE A CRAZY IDEA".

4. SYNERGY GURU... ENCOURAGES TEAM MEMBERS TO BUILD ON OTHERS IDEAS, YOU MAY GET YOUR BEST IDEA SPARKED BY SOMETHING SOMEONE ELSE SAYS. SAYS THINGS LIKE, " LET'S COMBINE THESE TWO IDEAS".

RECORDING: RECORD EACH IDEA ON A SEPARATE SLIP OF PAPER, SPELLING DOES NOT COUNT. WE ARE IN A RACE FOR TIME. JUST JOT DOWN THE KEY IDEAS THROWN OUT TO THE GROUP. THIS IS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE RECORDER. USE THE SLIPS OF PAPER TO ORGANIZE SIMILAR IDEAS, IDEAS THAT CAN BE COMBINED, AND TO CATEGORIZE IDEAS.

NEON MASTERY STRUCTURE

THINK-PAIR-SHARE

- 1. PROBLEM POSED BY TEACHER... EVERYONE LISTENS CAREFULLY.
- 2. THINK TIME... SILENT THINKING TO FORM A SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM. NO TALKING WITH OTHERS DURING THIS STAGE.
- 3. PAIR WORK... WORK WITH ONE TEAM MEMBER SHARE IDEAS AND SOLUTIONS. AGREE UPON A SOLUTION. ( IF ONLY 3 TEAM MEMBERS OR IN YOUR GROUP, ALL THREE WILL WORK TOGETHER DURING THIS STAGE.
- 4. SHARE WITH CLASS... AFTER YOU HAVE ARRIVED AT A SOLUTION, YOU WILL SHARE YOU ANSWER AND THE WAY YOU SOLVED IT WITH THE CLASS. ALL MEMBERS MUST PARTICIPATE IN SHARING FOR THE TEAM TO RECEIVE CREDIT FOR THE SOLUTION.

NEON MASTERY STRUCTURE

ROUNDTABLE

- 1. A PROBLEM IS POSED... IT WILL BE A PROBLEM WITH MORE THAN ONE SOLUTION.
- 2. STUDENTS CONTRIBUTE... STUDENTS MAKE A LIST ON ONE PIECE OF PAPER, EACH WRITING ONE ANSWER AND THEN PASSING THE PAPER TO THE PERSON ON HIS OR HER LEFT. THE PAPER LITERALLY GOES ROUND THE TABLE, THUS THE NAME ___ROUNDTABLE.
- 3. TIME PRESSURE... MAY OR MAY NOT BE APPLIED. BE SURE TO LISTEN CAREFULLY TO INSTRUCTIONS.
- 4. RECOGNITION WILL BE GIVEN TO TEAMS WITH THE MOST SOLUTIONS.

NEON MASTERY STRUCTURE

NUMBERED HEADS TOGETHER

- 1. STUDENTS NUMBER OFF... EACH STUDENT ON THE TEAM HAS A DIFFERENT NUMBER. NUMBER 1-4. WHEN THERE ARE ONLY 3 MEMBERS TO A TEAM NUMBER 3 ANSWERS TO 3 AND 4.
- 2. TEACHER ASKS A QUESTION... EVERYONE THINKS ALONE ABOUT THE QUESTION UNTIL TIME IS CALLED. NO GROUP DISCUSSION AT THIS POINT.
- 3. HEADS TOGETHER... STUDENTS PUT THEIR HEADS TOGETHER AND MAKE SURE EVERYONE KNOWS THE ANSWER. THERE WILL BE A TIME LIMIT, SO USE TIME WISELY.
- 4. TEACHER CALLS A NUMBER... THE TEACHER WILL CALL A RANDOM NUMBER, AND THE STUDENTS WHO HAVE THAT NUMBER WILL RAISE THEIR HANDS. YOUR GROUP WILL BE EVALUATED BY WHAT THE CALLED ON NUMBER KNOWS, BECAUSE YOUR JOB WAS TO MAKE SURE EVERYONE IN THE GROUP HAD THE ANSWER.

How Inclusive Is Your Middle School?

By Jerome J. Schultz, Ph.D.

Inclusive schools share qualities that make them welcome places for students with a range of abilities and needs. What about your school? Find out with this self-evaluation. Below are ten areas of importance related to inclusion. Read each description of what research says inclusive schools are like; then, on a scale of 1-3, circle the score you'd give your school in each area. Use the following ranking for determining points:

- 3 VERY TRUE OF YOUR SCHOOL
- 2 SOMEWHAT TRUE OF YOUR SCHOOL
- 1 NOT AT ALL TRUE OF YOUR SCHOOL

STAFF ATTITUDES 3 2 1

Teachers and administrators firmly believe that inclusion improves teaching and learning for all students. Teachers are comfortable working with students who have a variety of learning and behavioral needs.

STUDENT ATTITUDES 3 2 1

Friendships among "special-education" and "regular" students are the norm. Instructional approaches such as cooperative grouping and peer tutoring are widely used to help all students learn from and get to know each other.

SUPPORT FOR STUDENTS 3 2 1

Your school had the staff and programs to serve a variety of students. You have special-education teachers and behavioral specialists to assess each student's strengths and areas of need. In the area of technology, for example, you have voice synthesizers, touch-sensitive keyboards, and other peripherals that enable physically challenged students to access computers which assist them in their learning.

SUPPORT FOR TEACHERS 3 2 1

Teaming is in place in your school, and teams have a daily planning time for discussing students' needs. Teachers are trained in different models of behavior management and in instructional approaches, such as cooperative learning, that help them teach students with a range of abilities.

SUPPORT FROM ADMINISTRATORS 3 2 1

The principal and other administrators are vocal supporters of inclusion. They lead the way in setting goals for integrating disabled students into classes and school activities. They acknowledge staff concerns about inclusion and work with teachers to solve problems related to disabled students' academic work or behavior.

CURRICULUM 3 2 1

Regular and special-education teachers work together to modify curriculum, as necessary, to accommodate individual student's needs; however, each exceptional student is challenged to the best of his or her ability. Teachers feel able to deliver individualized instruction without compromising the quality or rigor of the curriculum as a whole.

STUDENT ASSESSMENT 3 2 1

You use "authentic" reporting systems, such as portfolio assessment, to give a full picture of each student's progress.

PROGRAM AND STAFF EVALUATION 3 2 1

You have a system in place—such as an outside expert who observes on site—for evaluating the school's success in providing for disabled students' social, emotional, and cognitive development. As part of yearly evaluations, teachers are rated on their success in teaching to a range of ability levels.

PARENT INVOLVEMENT 3 2 1

Parents of both disabled and nonhandicapped students know what inclusion is and how it can benefit all students in the school. Parent representatives help draft grading and other kinds of policies. Parent volunteers work with students in the resource room and in classrooms.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH 3 2 1

You use school publications and events, as well as local media—such as newspapers and cable television—to overcome stereotyped images of the disabled and help local citizens see that exceptional students are full members of your school community.

ASSESSING YOUR SCHOOL

Tally up the points to get a picture of your school's inclusiveness.

30-35: Congratulations! Your school is on its way to becoming a model of inclusionary practices. Work with your fellow colleagues and your principal to target any areas of need.

24-16: You've made a start, but your school needs to embrace inclusion more completely. Suggest forming a committee of special educators, subject-area teachers, and parents to tackle each area of need.

15-10: You've got some work to do in your school to create a welcoming environment for inclusion. Start with the most pivotal areas, such as building a positive staff attitude. Your interest in taking this survey and your willingness to answer honestly make you a natural champion of inclusion in your school.

MAINSTREAMING SUCCESS TIPS

- ✓ Take a team approach to supporting middle school students with special needs. Placing a special-education teacher on the team helps the other members find ways to work more successfully with disabled students in their classes.

- ✓ Make accommodations for disabled students on an individual basis--such as creating learning contracts or sending students to the resource room to work on inappropriate behavior. Use daily team meetings to discuss students' problems and arrange accommodations for them.

- ✓ Schedule special-education teachers' time so they teach some classes in the resource room, but also go into classrooms to help regular and special-education students. This practice demystifies resource-room teachers and what they represent.

- ✓ Recognize that every member of the team must acknowledge the benefits of inclusion and support it. Mainstreaming takes time, effort, and genuine commitment from every middle school teacher.

1994 November/December Middle Years

INCLUSIONARY RESOURCE IS NOT:

elimination of all pull-out programs

placing all students in regular education classes without support

only a change in service delivery models

a set of activities or "a program"

reducing number of special ed staff

INCLUSIONARY RESOURCE IS:

a philosophy: all students belong together...all students can learn a fundamental belief upon which all other decisions are made a paradigm shift: from deficit model to growth model

part of the total shift toward effective instruction

a shift towards use of critical thinking skills vs. finite body of info

WHY INCLUSION?

LEGAL-CIVIL RIGHTS ISSUES

- *1954 Brown vs. Board of Education : separate is inherently unequal.*
- *1975 PL 94-142 : Least Restrictive Environment.*
- *1990 IDEA: Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (new name for PL 94-142)*
- *1993 Oberti vs. Clementon : upheld the right of students with disabilities to be educated in regular classrooms and placed burden of proof on school districts to prove separate placement to be better.*
- *1995 Reauthorization of IDEA is expected to specifically address inclusion.*

RESEARCH-BASED ISSUES

- *Less than 5% exit the special education system and return to the regular education system.*
- *Among those classified as mildly or moderately disabled: only 57% ever graduate with a diploma or certificate of graduation; only 49% are employed between 1 to 2 years after graduation; 13.4% are living independently 2 years after leaving high school.*
- *Federal regulation list 13 types of disabilities: the most subjective and widely interpreted is "Learning disability". According to most state definitions of L.D. - 80% of school populations could theoretically be identified as such.*
- 'Despite evidence that most special education students benefit from regular classrooms, only 5% of all Special Education students in Texas are taught in regular classrooms. This is the lowest rate in the nation.*
- *Meta-analysis of 15 years of research on effects of inclusive vs. segregated Special Education programs yields the following statement: "Segregation of special students in separate classrooms is actually deleterious to their academic performance and social adjustment , and that special students generally perform better on average in regular classrooms."*
- *Standardized test results - non disabled students in inclusive classes out performed peers in 'regular' classes.*

"OATMEAL" ISSUE

**The purposes of inclusion are relevant to the needs of all children. The development of all children (ESPECIALLY MIDDLE SCHOOL) is enhanced by a sense of belonging, caring and community in their school.*

**A review of the research on inclusionary programs produces 5 positive themes: 1)reduced fear of human differences, 2)growth in social cognition, 3)improved self-concept, 4)development of personal principles and 5)warm and caring friendships.*

**Why create a subsystem? Make the whole system better for all students.*

NEON DISCIPLINE MODEL

1. If a teacher places a YIELD sign on your desk, your behavior is interfering with the learning of others.

2. Ask yourself "How is my behavior disrupting the learning of other students?" Don not ask the teacher during class.

3. Stop the behavior which is disrupting the learning of other students.

4. Leave the YIELD sign alone. Do not disturb any signs. The signs are a reminder and a warning to stop disruptive behavior.

5. Remain after class and record the sign in SAM.

1. If a teacher places a STOP sign on your desk, this means stop all disruptive behaviors immediately. The teacher must protect the rights of students to learn !

2. Leave the stop sign alone. Do not disturb it. The sign is a reminder and a warning to stop disruptive behavior.

3. Remember: STOP sign = 30 minutes of NEON DETENTION.

4. Failure to stop disruptive behaviors will result in your removal from the classroom. Time out procedures will be followed.

5. Remain after class and record the sign and action in SAM.

1. If a teacher puts a RID sign on your desk, this means you have lost control.

2. Leave the room immediately and quietly for time outside the room and think about how you plan to get your behavior under control.

3. Remember: RID sign = 1 hour of NEON DETENTION.

4. Failure to regain control on your own will result in AEP or your parents sitting next to you in class.

5. Remain after class and record the sign in SAM. Action to be taken will be discussed after class only !

If you receive any sign during class you must remain after class to return the sign and then have the teacher sign your SAM. Failure to remain after class will result in additional Detention Time !

N

necessary to be in seat on time!

E

*essential to have all materials :
SAM, book, pencil/pen !*

O

only use language appropriate for the classroom !

N
