ABSTRACT

This manual for volunteer teachers from Canada traveling to the West Indies to assist host governments with improving their teachers' skills describes the organization sponsoring the teachers, the nature of the volunteers' duties, and practical aspects of the stay abroad. Two opening sections describe the Organization for Cooperation in Overseas Development (OCOD) and its history, its overall structure, funding sources, and program objectives. A section details the application and selection process for teachers, called tutors in the program, who wish to serve. A job description indicates: tutors must attend orientation and planning sessions; tutors must develop, with host country tutors, detailed lesson plans for workshops, and team-teach these workshops with their West Indian counterparts; tutors must keep a log of daily activities, aid in planning a 2-3 year program, turn in various forms after the workshop ends, and attend a debriefing session. There are also sections on teacher contracts, arrangements for dependents, procedures for expressing concerns, orientation activities, the authority of the team leaders, expenses, accommodations, travel arrangements, suggestions for what to bring, and warnings about illegal drugs, the "Black Market," and advice on entry through customs. Appended are a map of locations in the West Indies that the program serves, a chart of 1992 workshops conducted, a list of team leaders with telephone numbers, and additional information on OCOD personnel and offices. WHAT IS OCOD?

OCOD is a voluntary, non-profit organization which recruits and sends teachers overseas to assist host governments with the up-grading of their teachers' skills. Selected host country and Canadian teachers staff workshops for teachers enrolled by their Ministries of Education.

HISTORY

OCOD grew out of the Manitoba Association for World Development (MAWD), which inaugurated Miles for Millions. For three summers, MAWD sent groups of Winnipeg students to work with St. Lucian students in a variety of community projects. The Canadians returned with the feeling that, while they enjoyed the learning experience, their achievements were not commensurate with the cost of the exercise and that, in fact, there was little benefit to the host country, which was obliged to spend money and time entertaining them.

In 1972, MAWD sent a small group of experienced teachers to staff workshops for St. Lucian t achers. So successful was this experiment that when MAWD disbanded in 1973, OCOD was formed to continue this work. In its first year, also, OCOD assisted with the establishment of a trade-training school in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. With the cooperation and financial support of the Rotary Clubs of Manitoba, CIDA and the Brazilian government, this school was built and functioning by the end of 1974.

In 1974, OCOD expanded its work to include Dominica and Montserrat. In 1976, the Bahamas, St. Kitts, Nevis, Antigua and Guyana were added. As well, special regional workshops were conducted in Barbados and Trinidad for West Indians working with the mentally handicapped. In 1979, OCOD supported Trent University in mounting a special program in English for the University of Malawi, East Africa.

St. Vincent and Grenada joined the program in 1981 and 1985, respectively. Belize received a special program in 1985. Between 1985 and 1988, three Canadian Tutors on long-term assignment served at the Teacher Training College in Dominica. In 1987, OCOD opened a Regional Office in St. Lucia. Currently, a Comprehensive Teacher Training Project involving distance education techniques is being developed.

WORKSHOPS

Working hours vary among the countries served. In most, workshops run from approximately 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 or 1:30 p.m. In a few, workshops are held in the afternoons as well, lasting to about 3:30 p.m.

OCOD's obligation is to provide 50 hours of instruction each summer. Every effort is made to achieve this objective. However, special conditions (e.g., availability of transport for Trainees, lunch arrangements, etc.) may force some Ministries to operate on schedules which Tutors might not prefer. The Team Leader, in consultation with the Program Coordinator, tries to provide the best possible working conditions. The length of the teaching day and of the workshop are decided by the local Ministry of Education.

Most works: lops last for 2 weeks and occur between mid-July and early August. To complete a course, Trainees attend 2-3 workshops in consecutive summers.

OCOD STRUCTURE

Under a small Board of Directors (which is answerable to the Department of Corporate and Consumer Affairs and to CIDA) a Planning Committee manages OCOD's program. This Committee is composed of the Team Leaders' Coordinator, the Chairmen of the Recruitment/Selection and Tutor Preparation Committees, the Chairman of the Planning Committee and the Executive Director. Other persons may be invited to join the Committee for special purposes. Team Leaders meet regularly with the Planning Committee.

OCOD's Head Office is staffed by an Office Manager, a Secretary, three part-time Office Assistants and the Executive Director. The Regional Office is staffed by the Executive Director and office personnel. Volunteers assist with the many professional and administrative services required. Team Leaders are the links between the Planning Committee and the countries served, and are, with Program Coordinators, in charge of teaching teams overseas. Program Coordinators, are senior officials in the host Ministries of Education. They are responsible for the workshop sites, and are the official links with host governments.

FUNDING

OCOD is funded by the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA). CIDA covers the cost of recruitment and preparation of Tutors, planning (which involves bringing West Indian Tutors to Canada at Easter), airfares and accommodation for Canadian Tutors on assignment, workshop materials, program evaluation, and regular consultation with host Ministries of Education. These funds are provided as a grant to match the value of all Tutors' volunteer services.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

OCOD's objective is to assist the countries served to achieve self-sufficiency in the teaching profession. All courses are designed by the host country and developed jointly by Host Nationals and Canadian Tutors in a special Planning Session.

The Canadians are carefully selected on the basis of expertise, experience, sensitivity to cultural differences, and ability to adapt to different working conditions.

A recent innovation was the Advanced Regional Program (ARP) in which special training in workshop skills was provided for potential West Indian teacher-trainers who will be available to staff workshops in their own countries on a year-round basis. ARP Participants spent two weeks in Winnipeg in each of two succeeding years and underwent clinical supervision during two summers, when they taught on OCOD teams in their own or other countries.

Specific Objectives of the OCOD Program

- a. Basic teacher-training & methodology for untrained teachers.
- b. Upgrading/refresher courses for trained teachers.
- c. Continuing education for school leavers, with emphasis on preparation for the job market.
- d. Training of specialists for Ministries of Education which are unable to provide this training themselves.
- e. Preparation of potential teacher-trainers for use by their Ministries in on-going in-service programs.

APPLICATIONS/SELECTION OF TUTORS

Any Canadian citizen or landed immigrant who is qualified to teach is eligible to serve as a Tutor. Most Tutors are practising teachers, but occasionally qualified people with special expertise are recruited.

The Recruitment Committee studies applications and makes a shortlist based on applicants' academic qualifications, experience and supporting references. Applicants on the shortlist are invited to interviews conducted by subject area specialists and Team Leaders.

Applications, which are available by mid-October, may be obtained from the OCOD office.

The selection process takes about two months. All applicants receive written replies by the end of February.

TUTOR'S JOB DESCRIPTION

Selected Tutors are required to:

- 1. Attend Orientation and Planning Sessions;
- Develop with Host Country Tutors detailed lesson plans for workshops;
- 3. Team-teach with their West Indian counterparts;
- 4. Keep a log of daily activities as a record of what actually was achieved for the information of subsequent Tutors;
- Aid in planning/modifying (where necessary) a 2-3 year program;
- 6. Return to OCOD, as soon as possible after the workshop, completed:
 - Trainee Registration Forms
 - Evaluation Questionnaires
 - Planning Guides as revised on site
 - Airline passenger coupons;
- 7. Attend a Debriefing Session.

CONTRACTS

Tutors are required to sign contracts (distributed by Team Leaders). (See Appendix V)

At any time prior to a Tutor's departure on assignment, a program may be cancelled if conditions or a program change wararant such action. OCOD cannot guarantee alternative placement of Tutors in the event of cancellation of a program.

Tutor and Team Leader appointments are made for one (1) year.

RE-APPLICATION IS NECESSARY IN EACH SUCCESSIVE YEAR.

TUTORS' DEPENDENTS

- 1. The OCOD Board has the right to determine whether dependents may accompany a Tutor on assignment or not.
- 2. The Team Leader is not expected to make any arrangements for persons other than Tutors.
- 3. Accommodation costs for dependents sharing a Tutor's accommodation will reflect actual per person costs, not necessarily the preferred rates given to OCOD.

TUTORS' CONCERNS

Procedure for Tutors who wish to express concerns:

The concern should be expressed in writing to the Team Leader who will forward it to the Executive Director for placement on the agenda of the next Board meeting. In exceptional circumstances, the concern may be sent directly to the Chairman of the Board. The Board will reply to the person expressing the concern.

If the concern can be resolved beforehand, to the satisfaction of both parties, the matter need not be referred to the Board.

ORIENTATION

Orientation is the preparation of Tutors for their overseas assignments. Selected Tutors should begin this preparation by gathering as much information as possible from Learner Centres, Libraries, foreign students, CUSO, CIDA and OCOD personnel who have served overseas.

Tutors are required to attend the Canadian Tutors' Orientation Session to prepare them for their summer assignments and for the Planning Session with their West Indian counterparts.

Workshop Planning takes place during a weekend shortly after the Canadian Teachers' Spring Break. The West Indian Tutors visit Winnipeg for about five days, during which they provide the Canadians with detailed information on their countries and explain their Ministries' expectations of the workshops. With the Canadian Tutors, they plan the summer workshops in detail.

Attendance at Orientation Sessions, Planning Sessions and special meetings scheduled by Team Leaders is required of all Tutors.

TEAM LEADER'S AUTHORITY

- The Team Leader is OCOD's official representative to the Ministry of Education in the st country.
- 2. The Team Leader has sole authority to speak on behalf of the Board in the territory.
- 3. The Team Leader has sole authority to spend the on-site budget provided for each workshop.
- 4. The Team Leader has complete disciplinary authority over Tutors on assignment. Tutors will be held responsible by the Team Leader for their dependents' conduct which must not in any way affect the smooth running of the workshops or create undesirable situations.
- 5. After selection of Tutors has been completed, the OCOD Board will appoint an assistant Team Leader. Assistant Team Leaders will act for Team Leaders after the latter leave for their assignments, and en route with teams. They will also share the Team Leader's duties as mutually agreed.

EXPENSES

As a volunteer organization, no remuneration of any kind is paid to Tutors in the Caribbean Summer Workshops for their services.

OCOD PAYS:

- 1. Tutor's economy class air ticket.
- 2. Hotel Bill (overseas) for the time during which the course is in operation.
- 3. Three Meals per day for Tutors.
- 4. A Fixed Allowance to cover miscellaneous personal expenses connected with the course, e.g., laundry, airport taxes, etc.
- 5. Land Transportation: (overseas)
 - between airport and hotel on arrival and departure;
 - between course site and hotel daily.
- 6. Land Transportation/Hotel Accommodation: (In Canada) Rural team members will be reimbursed for gasoline charges and meal costs incurred while travelling for scheduled meetings. If required, hotel accommodations will be booked and paid for by OCOD (usually two Tutors per room) at Place Louis Riel, 190 Smith Street. OCOD will cover room and tax only.

If you stay elsewhere, OCOD will refund your accommodation expenses to a maximum of $30.00 per day plus GST and PST, which is the cost to us for shared accommodation at Place Louis Riel.

ALL TRAVEL CLAIMS MUST BE SIGNED BY THE TEAM LEADER, WITH RECEIPTS ATTACHED.

- 7. Insurance: A special sickness and accident policy on Tutors overseas covering medical expenses over and above those covered by Medicare.
- 8. Cost of Inoculations, if required, for specific territories served by OCOD.

OCOD DOES NOT PAY:

- Travel Costs exceeding the cost of ticket.
- 2. Additional Charges accruing from extra days taken before or after the assignment.
- 3. Private Bills, e.g., liquor, telephone, room service, dependents' health insurance, Tutor's health insurance for extended trips, costs of obtaining passports and inoculations for personal travel.
- 4. Land Transportation for Private Purposes: OCOD is not liable for accidents, traffic violations or misadventure experienced or incurred by Tutors.
- 5. Land Transportation: (Local) Costs not previously authorized by the Team Leader.
- 6. Excess Airline Baggage except where specially authorized by the Team Leader for materials essential to the running of the workshop.
- 7. Any costs incurred by action not specifically authorized by an OCOD Director or Team Leader.

ACCOMMODATION OVERSEAS

Tutors stay in hotels - usually single accommodation. In certain circumstances, where the hotel accommodation is considered adequate, Tutors may be asked to share accommodation.

TRAVEL

- 1. Tickets, belonging as they do to OCOD, can be re-routed by the Travel Agent only on our authorization. Consequently, the Travel Agent cannot respond to requests from individual Tutors. A Tutor wishing to change his/her routing must discuss the matter with the Team Leader who will communicate his/her decision to the Travel Agent through the OCOD office. The Travel Agent will accept orders for tickets to be billed to us from the OCOD office only.
- 2. Tutors will be provided with the most economical airline ticket available within our guidelines and timelines. Recently imposed restrictions dictate that, in certain cases, to secure the most economical rate, only a limited number of specified airlines may be used. We are not able to use seat sale specials because of the number of conditions imposed by the airlines.

- 3. All Tutors in a territory are expected to arrive at their assignments at the same time, except in special cases as approved by their Team Leader.
- 4. Tutors are free to make their own arrangements to travel elsewhere or remain in the territory after assignment. However, the following should be noted:
 - a. Responsibility for increasing OCOD's ticket to full fare rests with the Tutor who must make his/her own arrangements with the Travel Agent for payment;
 - b. Arrangements to remain in a hotel beyond the date prescribed by the Team Leader must be made with the hotel management. Hotels are advised of the dates on which OCOD will be responsible for payment of Tutors' bills;
 - c. Should the Team Leader decide that conditions in the country pose a threat to the safety of Tutors, he/she will instruct all Canadian Tutors when to leave the country. OCOD accepts no responsiblity for Tutors who disobey this instruction.
- 5. Passports are required for identification purposes in all the countries in which OCOD is now conducting programs. Applications submitted in person to the Winnipeg Passport Office will take approximately one week to process. If they are mailed to the Ottawa Passport Office, it will take three months. All applications must be accompanied by two passport photographs.

Passports can be obtained through the Winnipeg Office:

Revenue Canada Building 308-391 York Avenue Winnipeg, MB R3C 0P4 Telephone: 983-2184

- N.B. Persons visiting Trinidad & Tobago must possess a passport valid for at least 6 months beyord their stay.
- 6. To determine whether you need any inoculations for the places to which you are travelling (apart from the country to which we assign you), check with:

*Health & Welfare Canada 500 - 303 Main Street Winnipeg, MB R3C 0H4 Telephone: 983-4194

Dependents' Travel

- 1. OCOD's Travel Agent is required to ensure the arrival of all Tutors at their assignment on time. In cases where available space on a flight is limited, Tutors will be booked first. This means that a Tutor could be obliged to leave his/her dependents behind en route.
- 2. Tutors who wish to use the cheaper airfares available for their dependents should consider the possibility of having dependents travel on their own.

WHAT TO CARRY?

- Tropical clothing lightweight, cotton shirts, pants, dresses (which are cooler than slacks). A suit or shirtjack for formal occasions.
 - N.B. Beachwear, flamboyant shirts/dresses, shorts are not considered appropriate attire for teachers. In some countries this attire is not appropriate except in restricted tourist areas.
- Your own cures for such things as headaches, diarrhea, etc., and any other medication you occasionally require.
- 3. A small amount of U.S. currency say $50.00 which is universally accepted by taxi drivers, porters, etc. Eastern Caribbean currency can be obtained at most Canadian banks or at the Toronto airport.

WARNINGS!

1. Drugs:

Customs authorities are empowered to have arrested anyone carrying drugs other than clearly marked prescriptions or patent medicines. Most countries' courts punish foreigners convicted of illicit trafficking in or using drugs even more harshly than they do their host nationals.

2. "Black Market":

- a. Currency: Profiteering (i.e., selling foreign currency to individuals at an exorbitant rate) is illegal. In some countries, it is illegal to convert currency in unauthorized places.
- b. Smuggling Gold in any form in or out of countries is a criminal offence.

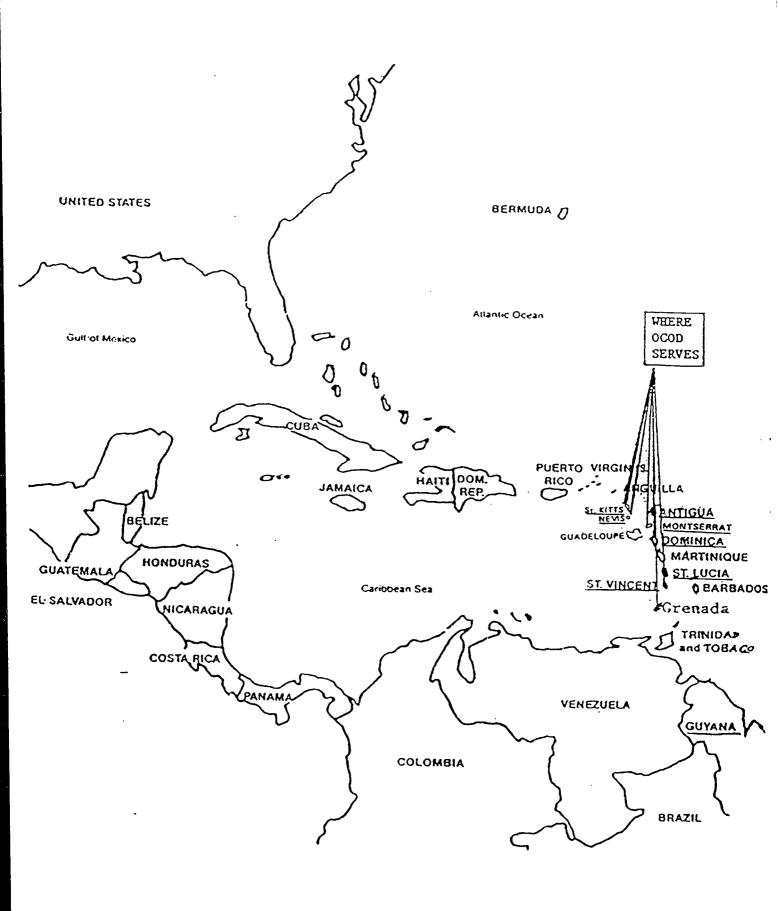

c. The crates shipped from here in advance must contain educational materials only. In special cases, with the permission of the Team Leader, other required materials which are not dutiable or contraband in the receiving country may be included.

3. Entry Through Custome:

Customs Officers everywhere have the right to search individuals and their luggage. In most instances, where OCOD Tutors are met by senior government officials, this right of search is waived. However, should a Tutor be discovered attempting to smuggle dutiable or contraband goods into a country, the host government, the Canadian government (our sponsors) and ourselves would be seriously embarrassed and powerless to assist the offender.
