ABSTRACT

In April 1996, the Virginia Community College System (VCCS) conducted a study to compare salaries for VCCS presidents to those for presidents of similar institutions across the nation. Data were obtained from a 1995-96 Administrative Compensation Survey conducted by the College and University Personnel Association (CUPA), a separate questionnaire sent to five state systems determined to be similar to the VCCS, and the 1996 salary scale and salaries of VCCS presidents. An analysis of the data found that for colleges enrolling 2,499 or less or from 5,000 to 9,999 students, VCCS presidential median salaries were lower than the national median salaries found in the CUPA survey, while for institutions enrolling 2,500 to 4,999 or 10,000 or more, VCCS salaries were higher. Similar results were achieved in the survey of similar state systems. With respect to salary schedules, both the CUPA and the state surveys revealed that the VCCS salary scale was lower than the interquintile ranges (i.e., the middle 60% of the reported salaries) in all enrollment categories. The study concluded that VCCS salaries have not kept pace with salaries nationally or in states with systems similar to the VCCS and may not be competitive in attracting or maintaining quality administrators. Appendixes provide extensive data tables from the CUPA and state system studies. (TGI)

INTRODUCTION

A continuing challenge for educational decision-makers is staying within budgetary limits while offering salaries which will attract and hold quality administrators. Since competition for good administrators is intense, constant review of salaries offered by institutions comparable to those in Virginia is necessary. Therefore, the present study is a continuation of the established practice of providing comparative data concerning salaries for Virginia Community College System presidents and salaries for presidents of similar institutions throughout the nation.

METHODOLOGY

Data for the study were obtained from three sources. First, to provide a national perspective, comparative data were taken from the 1995-96 Administrative Compensation Survey published annually by the College and University Personnel Association (CUPA). The data from the publication were reanalyzed through five (5) special runs of the base data collected by CUPA to accommodate the enrollment categories used in this study. This is the latest available national data on presidential salaries. Copies of the supplemental printouts are provided as Attachment A.

The data collected from the CUPA respondents were reported in accordance with the following specifications:

1. Salaries were those in effect during the Fall of 1995.
2. Salaries were reported at an annualized, full-time rate and reflect only actual cash earnings. Fringe benefits and services contributed without charge were excluded.
3. Enrollment data were for the year 1995-96 and were reported in terms of full-time equivalent students.

The second set of data was obtained from a questionnaire sent to those state systems identified by the Office of the Secretary of Education as being similar to the Virginia Community College System. Source of funds was the principal criterion used to determine similarity to the Virginia Community College System. The following states participated in this study:

Alabama

Florida

North Carolina

South Carolina

Tennessee

The completed questionnaires and explanatory correspondence and information submitted by the states participating in the survey are provided as Attachment B.

The third source of data was the current salary scale and salaries of VCCS presidents.

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

TABLE 1 provides a summary of VCCS community colleges by enrollment category. All of the data in this study are analyzed in accordance with these enrollment categories and presidential salaries.

TABLE 2 provides a summary of data from the CUPA 1995-96 Administrative Compensation Survey. The following are explanatory comments concerning the data presented in

1. The median is the middle salary of all salaries reported. Half of the salaries are lower than the median and half are higher.

2. The first quintile (Q1 on the chart) indicates the dividing point between the lowest 20% of salaries and the next highest 20%. Similarly, the fourth quintile (Q4) indicates the dividing point between the highest 20% of salaries and the next lowest 20%. The interquintile range represents the middle 60% of all salaries. Exceptional salaries (either low or high) fall outside of the interquintile range.

3. The position classification in the CUPA Survey that was used in the study was selected based upon comparability to colleges and positions in the VCCS.

This analysis reflects cash earnings only. No fringe benefits are included.

A summary of the data from the state survey is shown in TABLE 3. With the exception of North Carolina, presidential salaries for the states included in the survey are provided by the state. In the case of North Carolina, total presidential salary is calculated by adding a base state salary plus a local salary supplement.

ANALYSIS OF DATA

TABLES 4 and 5 provide comparative percentage analyses with the national and state median salary data and the current VCCS presidential median salaries. Concerning the national survey, the VCCS presidential median salaries are below the national presidential median salaries in three enrollment categories and above the national presidential median salaries in two enrollment categories. The same is true for presidential median salaries in the state survey.

The interquintile ranges represent the middle 60% of the reported salaries. The interquintile ranges, therefore, will eliminate exceptional salaries (either low or high) which would tend to skew the data. A basic assumption in this study is that equitable presidential salary ranges for the Virginia Community College System should be comparable to those found in both the national and the state surveys. For comparative purposes, therefore, the minimum salary in each enrollment category of the VCCS presidential salary scale should be approximately equal to the first quintile and the maximum salary in each enrollment category of the scale should be approximately equal to the fourth quintile of the interquintile ranges found in the national and state surveys.

TABLES 6 and 7 provide comparative percentage analyses with the national and state interquintile range data and the current (1995-96) VCCS presidential salary scale. Concerning the national survey, the current VCCS presidential salary scale is below the interquintile ranges for all enrollment categories. Concerning the state survey, the current VCCS Presidential Salary Scale is also below the interquintile ranges for all enrollment categories.

CONCLUSIONS

The Presidential Salary Study for the Virginia Community College System has been undertaken annually since 1981. From the first year the study was undertaken to the current study, the VCCS Presidential Salary Scale has not kept pace with salaries nationally or with salaries in those states with systems similar to the VCCS (Alabama, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee). In the current study, the differences are significant. For example, in the state survey, the lower end of the VCCS salary scale is as much as 16.3% below the lower end of the interquintile range. Similarly, the upper end of the VCCS salary scale is as much as 8.1% below the upper end of the interquintile range. This, in turn, has resulted in median salaries being generally lower than those found in both the national and state surveys. While increases in both presidential salaries and the VCCS salary scale have occurred since 1981, presidential salaries in the VCCS are still not competitive either nationally or regionally.

MEMO

To: Dr. Richard Ernst, President
Northern Virginia C. C.

From: Earl McHewitt EM

Subj: Salary Data

Date: March 15, 1996

The summary of the state survey is attached. Generally, across the board increases have continued. For most measures, increases are not as dramatic as last year's except for the '5000-9999' category, but they are substantial.

It is interesting to look at the salary distributions for the different size categories using the $100,000 level as a benchmark:

For all FTE categories, the maximum salary now exceeds $100,000.

The upper quartile, the top 25%, earn more than $100,000 in four of the FTE categories, all but the 'Less than 1,500' colleges.

All salaries above the lower quintile, the bottom 20%, at colleges with 5,000 or more FTE are over $100,000.

For the largest colleges, the absolute minimum is $115,198.

If you need anything else from the survey, let me know.

C: Dr. McCartan

IVCC PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

Dear Dr. Ernst:

Enclosed are the two reports for the Florida Community College System requested in your letter of February 6, 1996. The "Salaries of Selected Positions" report is for the payroll period nearest October 1, 1995. If a college reported more than one person for a type of position, the average salary is shown. Some positions were vacant for the reporting period.

The "Average Salary by Semesters Employed - Full Time Instructional Personnel" is for the same payroll period. This report details the average salary by college for full-time instructional employees by the number of semesters employed. The section of the report (far right three columns) entitled "2.0 Semester Equivalent" is the information we report to the federal government, the Southern Regional Education Board, and our state legislature. It uses the standard federal conversion factors to provide equivalent information for comparative studies.

If you have any questions, please call me at 904-488-8597.

Sincerely,

Howard V. Campbell, Bureau Chief
Research and Information Systems

* 2.0 Semester Equivalents have been determined by the application of conversion factors to the 2.5 and 3.0 Semester Salaries. These contract periods have been adjusted in order to develop a salary composite for 2.0 Semesters. This period is the nationally recognized basis for comparison. Factors of 0.909 and 0.818 have been respectively applied to 2.5 and 3.0 Semester Salaries.

NOTE: The number of days per term included in a contract may vary among the colleges
