ABSTRACT

As part of a review of its Information Center, Facilities Rental and Reservation Center, and Computerized Area List and Labels System (CALLS), William Rainey Harper College (WRHC), in Illinois, conducted a survey of staff and students to determine their perceptions of the quality of these services. Surveys were distributed to a sample of 300 students enrolled in spring 1996 regarding the Information Center, 18 staff members who were thought to use the Rental and Reservation Center, and 12 staff members who were thought to use CALLS. Completed questionnaires were received from 99 students and all of the staff members. Study findings included the following: (1) 60 percent of the students surveyed had used the Information Center; (2) while all aspects of the Information Center's performance were rated very positively, the lowest rating was given to the promptness of service; (3) 16 of the 18 staff members surveyed used the Facilities and Reservation Center; (4) while all of the services received were rated highly, the lowest rating was given to the Reservation Center's ability to offer alternatives when desired space was not available, receiving 3.69 out of 4 points; (5) room quality was ranked rather low; (6) 10 of the 12 staff members surveyed had used CALLS an average of 11 times during the year; and (7) all aspects of CALLS service were rated better than good, though lower than the Reservation Center. The survey instruments are appended. (TGI)

ABSTRACT

The purpose of the three surveys was to evaluate the campus Information

Center, the Facilities Rental and Reservations Center, and the CALLS System.

A sample of 300 students of the spring semester were surveyed to evaluate the Information Center and after two mailings one-third responded.

The Rental and Reservation Center evaluation survey was distributed to 18 members of staff who were thought to use the services. Likewise, the CALLS evaluation survey was distributed to 12 members of staff who were thought to use these services.

Results of the student survey showed that over half of the students use the Information Center and they rate very positively all the aspects of the service received. The services of the Rental and Reservation Center were also rated very highly, but the facilities were rated rather low with comments indicating the rooms needed better lighting and refurbishing. The services of the CALLS system were rated well but comments indicated the lists needed updating.

Purpose

The purpose of the three surveys was to partially evaluate the campus Information Center, the Facilities Rental and Reservation Center and the CALLS system. These evaluations were part of the Program Review process and were requested by the Campus Information and Facilities Assistant.

Methodology and Population Surveyed

The three survey instruments were developed jointly by the Campus Information and Facilities Assistant and the Office of Planning and Research. The evaluation of Facilities Rental and Reservations instrument was distributed personally by the Center to 18 members of staff they felt were users of their services. All 18 completed the survey.

The evaluation of the CALLS system instrument was given personally by the Center to 12 members of staff they thought used the service and all 12 completed the survey. The evaluation of the Campus Information Center instrument was handled by the Office of Planning and Research. That office mailed the instrument to a random sample of 300 credit students enrolled during the spring 1996 semester. After two mailings, 99 students returned completed surveys for a 33 percent response rate.

Major Conclusions

Results of the student survey showed that over half of the students use the Information Center and they rated very positively all the aspects of the service received. The services of the Rental and Reservation Center were also rated very highly, but the facilities were rated rather low with comments indicating the rooms needed better lighting and refurbishing. The services of the CALLS system were rated well but comments indicated the lists needed updating.

Discussion of Results

Results showed that 59 of the 99 respondents, or 60 percent of the students surveyed, had used the services of the campus Information Center. All aspects of the service the center rendered were rated very positively. The lowest rating was the promptness of the service. There were several comments by students who said they sometimes had to wait for service because of the busyness of the Center. However, in spite of this, promptness was still rated fairly positively.

In examining the Facilities Rental and Reservation Center all the aspects of service were rated high. The lowest rating was on offering alternatives when desired space was not available, but even this was rated fairly high. The quality of the rooms available for reservation, however, were another matter. The Board Room was rated by far the highest (around good) as far as attractiveness, usefulness and comfort. None of the other rooms were rated very well as far as attractiveness. The Cafeteria Bays were rated worst as far as usefulness and comfort. All the rooms were rated fairly equal as far as availability, somewhere between fair and good. The comments all concerned the quality of the facilities and focused on the need for better lighting and refurbishing.

The evaluation of the CALLS system indicated all the aspects of service were rated better than good while the comments focused on the fact that the lists needed updating and that the Information Center Receptionist was outstanding.

Comments on Evaluation of Facilities Rental and Reservation Center

- Add additional lighting in A-238. Mood lighting is only appropriate for its use for dining. We also use the room for meetings where additional lighting is necessary - especially in the evening.
- More comfortable chairs in room 2nd floor of A. Permanent equipment.
- The rooms are all functional, but not "excellent" by any stretch of the imagination. They meet our basic needs. Access to rooms is always limited - we could always use more space.
- The dining room seems particularly dark and dingy. It could use a facelift.
- Take the drapes down in the Bays, please! Lighten and brighten the other meeting rooms.
- Better lighting.
- Regarding A-137 cafeteria/bays. Remove filthy drapes I don't think they have ever been cleaned. Replace with vertical blinds. Clean furniture on a regular basis.
- Some TLC -- paint, clean better furniture.
- They all need remodeling they do not make a nice appearance to the general public. Need new furniture, carpeting, etc. Would make for a nice atmosphere instead of being so dreary. The bathrooms in "A" also need a major overhaul.
- Sometimes cold.
