ABSTRACT

This poster provides a parent checklist for helping children with homework. There are three components to the checklist: (1) "Make Sure Your Child Has" includes items regarding basic necessities such as a regular time each day for homework and organization aids; (2) "Questions to Ask Your Child" contains nine questions, including whether the assignment is clear, requires special resources or supplies, or needs a schedule for successful completion; (3) "Other Ways to Help" lists general hints for parents, such as meeting with teachers early in the year to find out about homework policy, contacting the teacher if there is a problem, and reviewing teacher comments on homework and discussing them with the child. ## Make Sure Your Child Has

- A quiet place to work with good light.
- A regular time each day for doing homework.
- Basic supplies, such as paper, pencils, pens, markers, and ruler.
- Aids to good organization, such as an assignment calendar, book bag, and folders.

Questions To Ask Your Child

- What's your assignment today?
- Is the assignment clear? (If not, suggest calling the school's homework hotline or a classmate.)
- When is it due?
- Do you need special resources (e.g., a trip to the library or access to a computer)?
- Do you need special supplies (e.g., graph paper or posterboard)?
- Have you started today's assignment? Finished it?
- Is it a longterm assignment (e.g., a term paper or science project)?
- For a major project, would it help to write out the steps or make a schedule?
- Would a practice test be useful?

Other Ways To Help

- Look over your child's homework, but don't do the work!
- Meet the teachers early in the year and find out about homework policy.
- Review teacher comments on homework that has been returned and discuss with your child.
- Contact the teacher if there's a homework problem or need you can't resolve.
- Congratulate your child on a job well done.
