ABSTRACT

This document outlines the proficiencies in the visual and performing arts that students should demonstrate for admission to the Oregon University System (OUS) of institutions beginning in the Fall of 2004. The Proficiency-based Admission Standards System (PASS) has identified six proficiency areas and the performance criteria for determining proficiency. The first four proficiencies focus on the ability to understand, interpret, and appreciate the arts. The fifth represents ability to exhibit skill in one of the four disciplines of the arts: drama, visual arts, music, and dance. The last describes ability to analyze artistic works. Students from Oregon public high schools may demonstrate proficiency by: (1) meeting designated scores on local tests and (2) producing work that is compiled into collections of evidence. Teachers evaluate this body of work by comparing it with the standards. Only one level of performance is described since assessors make a single judgment that the student's work does or does or does not meet the standards for admission. The standards also may be used by teachers to plan instruction and assessment for high school art students.

Visual & Performing Arts

What PASS expects of students

The Proficiency-based Admission Standards System (PASS) has identified six proficiencies in the Visual and Performing Arts that students will have the option of demonstrating for admission to Oregon University System (OUS) institutions beginning in the fall of 2004. These proficiencies will become requirements for all applicants from Oregon public high schools beginning in the fall of 2005. The following pages outline the new standards, which are aligned with the Oregon Content Standards and with the benchmarks for the Certificates for Initial and Advanced Mastery (CIM and CAM) so that students can progress smoothly through the Oregon public education system.

How students demonstrate proficiency

To demonstrate proficiency, students will (1) meet designated scores on local tests and (2) produce work that will be compiled into collections of evidence. Teachers will evaluate the collections by comparing students' work to the standards and judging whether the collection shows sufficient evidence of proficiency. These teacher verifications of proficiency, much like final grades, are summary judgments, but they are focused on specific student capabilities, referenced to the standards, and validated by other assessors.

What you will find here

The following pages present the current PASS Proficiency Standards in the Visual and Performing Arts and answer the question "What should students know and be able to do?" The PASS standards are aligned with and complement the standards, scoring guides, and test specifications for the CIM and CAM. Because PASS standards are used for making verification judgments as well as for guiding curriculum, instruction, and assessment, they are organized around criteria for making judgments about proficiency. Each proficiency has a set of criteria for making assessment judgments. The criteria contain descriptions of proficient performance and address the question "How well should students perform?"

Visual & Performing Arts

The six Visual and Performing Arts proficiency statements presented below have been developed and field tested through collaborative work involving Oregon high school teachers and university faculty. The proficiencies are derived from and referenced to national standards.

| Proficiency Area | PASS Proficiency Statement | Aligned with Oregon Content Standards in These Areas * |
|---|--|---|
| A: Understand Elements, Principles, and Processes in the Arts | Understand the ways in which artists use elements, materials, technologies, artistic processes, and organizational principles in similar and distinctive ways in various art forms and disciplines. | Aesthetics and Art Criticism |
| B: Understand the Role of the Arts in Society | Understand the role the arts play in society and the ways in which the arts empower people to create images, artifacts, performances, and structures that manifest their beliefs, knowledge, social relationships, values, and skills. | Historical and Cultural Perspectives |
| C: Interpret Art from Various Cultures and Historical Periods | Interpret works of art from various historical periods, cultures, and peoples, analyzing the context in which they were created, the characteristics of the works, and the range of possible interpretations. | Historical and Cultural Perspectives |
| D: Appreciate the Arts | Understand the significance and potential contribution of the arts to the quality of one's life. | Aesthetics and Art Criticism |
| E: Exhibit Skill in One Discipline of the Arts: Drama, Visual Arts, Music, Dance | Exhibit skill and understanding in at least one form of the arts, defining and responding to artistic problems with insight, technical ability, and quality. | Create, Present and Perform |
| F: Analyze and Critique Artistic Works | Analyze and evaluate works of art and performances from functional, structural/formal, historical, and cultural perspectives, using defensible criteria and communicating effectively through writing, speaking, and expressive media. | Aesthetics and Art Criticism |

The following chart summarizes what students should know and be able to do in the Visual and Performing Arts for admission to OUS institutions. Listed are the six proficiency areas to be assessed and the performance criteria for determining proficiency. The charts can be used as an introductory framework or as a planning tool, particularly for integrated assessment.

| Proficiency Area | Criteria: | Students demonstrate the ability to... |
|--|--|--|
| A: Understand Elements, Principles, and Processes in the Arts | A1: Understanding of Creative Processes | → Understand and use creative processes within various disciplines and forms of the arts. |
| | A2: Understanding of Design Elements and Principles | → Recognize, understand, and use concepts, elements, and principles that are common across various disciplines and forms of the arts. |
| | A3: Artistic Literacy | → Communicate about various art forms or disciplines of the arts. |
| B: Understand the Role of the Arts in Society | B1: Examination of the Arts in Society | → Understand the roles of the arts in empowering people and enriching their lives. |
| | B2: Examination of Influences of Society on the Arts | → Understand how assumptions, values, organizations, and conditions of societies influence artistic creations. |
| C: Interpret Art from Various Cultures and Historical Periods | C1: Understanding of Artistic Context | → Understand the historical, cultural, creative, and/or personal context in which a work of art was created. |
| | C2: Recognition of Multiple Social/Cultural Perspectives | → Recognize multiple social/cultural perspectives in the arts, within an artistic work, or in varied responses to an artistic work. |
| | C3: Knowledge of Artists, Works, and Movements | → Recognize exemplary works, artists, movements, and historical developments in the arts. |
| D: Appreciate the Arts | D1: Recognition of Personal Meaning | → Recognize the significance of experiences with the arts and of personal connections to an artistic work. |
| | D2: Representation of Personal Aesthetics | → Communicate conceptions of what is artistically valid or valued. |
| E: Exhibit Skill in One Discipline of the Arts • Drama • Visual Arts • Music • Dance | | Criteria are identified separately for each discipline of the arts (see next page). |

| | | |
|---|--|--|
| • Dramatic Arts and Media | E1: Development of a Vision | → Develop and present an image or idea that serves as the basis for artistic choices. |
| | E2: Communication of Purpose | → Communicate a central purpose throughout a dramatic performance or product. |
| | E3: Interpretation | → Make and develop stylistic choices consistent with historical, cultural, social, and artistic factors. |
| | E4: Implementation | → Use effective process to develop and present a dramatic performance or product. |
| | E5: Presentation | → Communicate interactively with an audience through a dramatic performance or product. |
| • Visual Arts and Design | E1: Artistic Content | → Create work which achieves expressive meaning in response to artistic problems. |
| | E2: Design and Composition | → Make informed design decisions and achieve effective composition. |
| | E3: Technical Resolution | → Demonstrate technical skill and craftsmanship. |
| | E4: Artistic Process | → Use effective processes to understand, respond to, and reflect upon artistic problems. |
| | E5: Exhibition | → Develop and present artistic work for a public audience. |
| • Music | E1: Quality of Sound | → Use appropriate sound production; blend and balance (in ensembles); and accurate intonation. |
| | E2: Technique | → Use correct rhythms and pitches; execution (control) of dynamics; and articulation. |
| | E3: Musicality | → Use an expression and style of interpretation that is appropriate to the composer's intent, including: tempo, phrasing and dynamics. |
| | E4: Performance | → Perform music for a public audience. |
| • Dance | E1: Choreography | → Choreograph and present an original work for a public performance. |
| | E2: Presentation | → Reconstruct a dance work for presentation. |
| | E3: Technical Competence | → Demonstrate technical competence in one or more dance styles. |
| | E4: Performance | → Rehearse and publicly perform dance works in a group or as a soloist. |
| | E5: Reflection | → Reflect on the creation or performance of dance. |
| F: Analyze and Critique Artistic Works | F1: Examination of Audience Responses | → Examine how an artistic work affects an audience; relate audience responses to the artist's/performer's creative choices. |
| | F2: Critical Interpretation | → Analyze and interpret works of art, using varied critical approaches and perspectives. |
| | F3: Critical Evaluation | → Critique and evaluate works of art. |
| | F4: Communication of Responses to the Arts | → Communicate artistic responses, interpretations, and evaluations. |

How the guides are organized

The following pages contain guides for making summary judgments about students' proficiency. The guides are organized by the proficiency statements and criteria, which are presented at the top of each guide. Within the guide are descriptions of proficient performance developed by PASS high school and university partners and field tested during classroom instruction, assessment, and verification processes. Currently, only one level of performance (proficient) is described, since assessors make a single judgment that student collections of evidence either meet or do not meet the standards for admission. Eventually, advanced performance levels will also be identified for use in determining readiness for advanced standing in OUS institutions.

How the guides are used to judge collections of evidence

To be judged proficient, students need to demonstrate through collections of evidence that they can do what the proficiency expects. Assessors may:

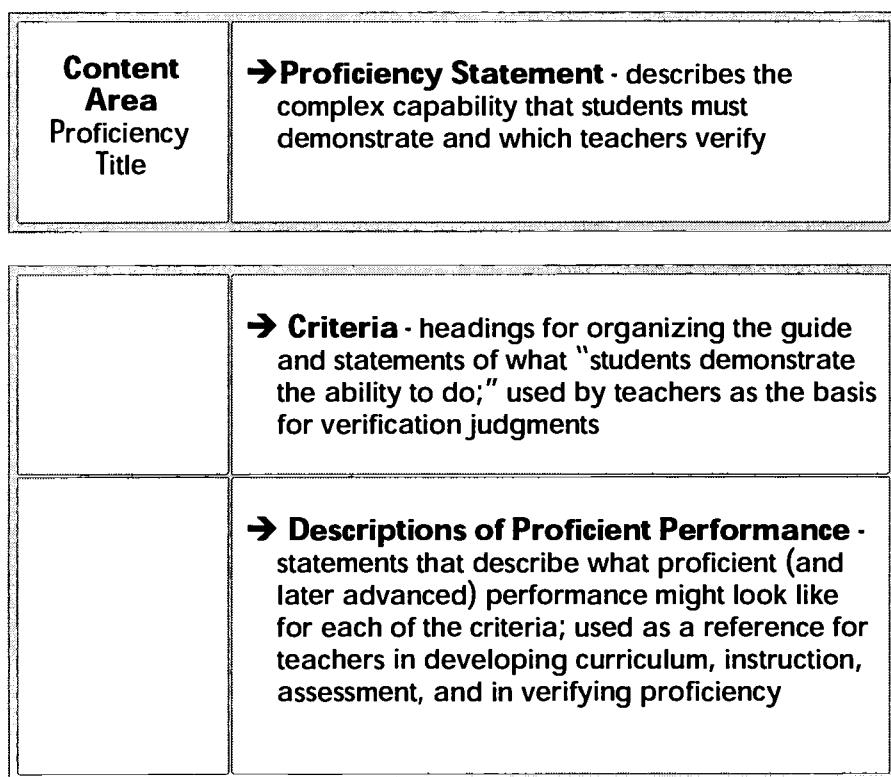

- ➔ focus on the proficiency statement at the top of the guide for making a holistic judgment about proficiency;
- ➔ focus on the criteria statements of what "students demonstrate the ability to do" to guide more analytical judgments; or
- ➔ use the descriptions of proficient performance for more detailed analysis of student collections. While students do not need to demonstrate every descriptive statement in the guide, they should present evidence that they can perform at the level suggested by the descriptions.

How the guides can be used in the classroom

Teachers may also use the guides as the basis for developing classroom and task-specific scoring guides. To do so, they select appropriate criteria from one or more proficiencies, "cut and paste" descriptions which apply, translate descriptions to fit the assessment context, and in some cases develop multiple levels of performance. Final verification judgments, however, should be based on the summary guides as they appear in the PASS Standards.

How the guides are formatted

The diagram below highlights the information found in the guides and their general format.

ARTS Proficiency A:

| Advanced Performance | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identifies and discusses the creative processes used by artists in various art forms and disciplines • explains the expressive and communicative relationships between artists/performers and audiences in various art forms or disciplines • uses and explains creative processes in a variety of art forms or disciplines creates and explains original work which connects and uses two or more forms or disciplines of the arts | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identifies design elements which are common across various art forms or disciplines (e.g. line, form, space, shape, texture, rhythm, value, etc.) and discusses/uses them in example works • identifies design principles which are common across various art forms or disciplines (e.g. unity, variety, repetition, contrast, etc.) and discusses/uses them in example works • compares and contrasts works from a variety of art forms or disciplines in terms of their design elements and principles | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • informatively discusses example works in more than one art form or discipline, considering the vocabularies, tools, techniques and thinking of the various forms or disciplines • expresses self and creates/performs finished work in more than one art form or discipline • recognizes and discusses manifestations and influences of various art forms or disciplines in his/her world • discusses and defends selected works (from several forms or disciplines) as „art,” using understanding of creative processes, design elements and principles, and concepts which commonly define the arts |

* Note: Proficiency A stresses comparative literacy in the arts, which might be developed and demonstrated within a particular art discipline (dance, drama, music, visual arts, etc.) by studying and comparing various art forms (e.g., in visual arts: drawing, painting, sculpture, photography, etc.) or within a cross-disciplinary humanities approach, by studying and comparing various art disciplines. Thus, in the criteria and descriptors, there are options to involve either art forms or disciplines in comparative or creative work.
