ABSTRACT

Few events in history have had as far-reaching an effect on people's lives as the Holocaust. To stop the devastating cycle of hatred and prejudice, prevention needs to start in the classroom. Through education, teachers can bring light upon the horrible practices that took place in the past. In this curriculum unit intended for use in grades 6 through 8, students will read from a variety of primary and secondary sources that will broaden their view. The unit pairs the classic work, "Anne Frank: Diary of a Young Girl" with two young adult novels: "Night" and "I Have Lived a Thousand Years: Growing Up in the Holocaust." The three books offer different perspectives of lives lived during the Holocaust. The curriculum unit is divided into the following parts: I. Rationale; II. Objectives; III. Motivations (true/false quiz; examine food; KWL mobiles; quick writes; challenging questions; guided imagery; Holocaust pictures); IV. Pre-reading Activities (read survivor stories; anticipation guides; "The Colors of Us," Karen Katz; prejudice and discrimination; primary vs. secondary sources; jigsaw; activity centers; propaganda); V. During Reading (journal questions for "Anne Frank"; character graphic organizer; literature circles ("Night" and "I Have Lived a Thousand Years")); VI. After Reading (literature circle activities; "Anne Frank"); VII. Study Guide Questions; VIII. Discussion Questions; IX. Vocabulary; X. Assessment (quizzes; unit test); XI. Books and Materials; and XII. Adaptations. (NKA)

Rationale

Few events in history have the far-reaching affect that the Holocaust does on our lives today. In order to stop the devastating cycle of hatred and prejudice, prevention needs to start in the classroom. Through education, teachers can bring light onto the horrible practices that took place not only in the past, but today as well.

One book cannot possibly allow a reader to see the entire impact of the Holocaust. Through this unit, students will read from a variety of primary and secondary sources that will widen their view. I paired the classic, Anne Frank: The Diary of a Young Girl, with two other young adult novels: Night and I Have Lived a Thousand Years: Growing up in the Holocaust. These novels are similar to Anne Frank because they are about adolescences who lived during the Holocaust. Anne Frank, however, offers a unique view since it was written as a diary during her time in hiding. The other novels were written by survivors in memory of their experience.

These three novels offer different perspectives of lives during the Holocaust. Anne Frank tells the story of a young girl and her family living in hiding. Until the end they were protected from the torture outside. Night and Lived a Thousand Years are a contrast because the characters experience life in Jewish ghettos, concentration, and labor camps.

Objectives

The student will be able to:

Define Holocaust.

Locate Germany, Denmark, Great Britain, Poland on a map of Europe.

Explain the difference between primary and secondary sources.

Explain how the anti-Jewish laws affect the Franks.

Use graphic organizers for characterization.

Trace character routes on map.

Examine novels through Historical, Biographical, and Sociological Perspectives.

Compare types of propaganda.

Describe conditions in labor and concentration camps.

Compare and contrast past and present discrimination issues.

Compare and contrast protagonist in YA novels to Anne Frank through Venn Diagrams.

Create character descriptions in form of a poem.

Collect passages of importance.

Propose individual project.

Discuss the changes that took place in Anne Frank throughout her diary.

Evaluate value of point of view on novels.

Evaluate own personal biases.

Assess own learning.

Motivations

I. True/ False Survey on Holocaust- discuss reactions

- T F The only people killed during the Holocaust were Jewish.
- T F The Holocaust could never happen again.
- T F The Holocaust took place during the American Revolution.
- T F Anne Frank published her diary and made lots of money.
- T F Two out of every 3 Jewish people in Europe were killed during the Holocaust.

II. Examine food eaten by those in labor and concentration camps

As students enter the room, have sample food that could have been eaten.
For example: rotten lettuce, spoiled soup, stale bread with mold, water with hair and worms as soup

III. KWL Mobiles

Have students create individual mobiles

- One shape for what the student Knows about the Holocaust.
- One shape for what the student Wants to learn about the Holocaust.
- One shape for what the student Learns about the Holocaust.

Student will have time during class to add to KWL Mobile.

IV. Quick write:

If you were to go into hiding, and could only take what you could put into your book bag, what would you take?

If you could pick 5 people to share one room with for 2 years, 24 hours a day, who would you choose and why?

If you were in Anne's place, going in hiding for several years, would you continue to do school work? Why or why not? If you wouldn't what would you do with your time?

V. Challenging Questions

Display a quote or difficult open-ended question on the overhead as the students enter the classroom. Ask the students to reflect on the quote or question. Ask them to respond with their reaction. Give 5 minutes.

Example:

Discuss poem by Martin Niemoller:

'First they came for the Jews and I did not speak out because I was not a Jew. Then they came for the communists and I did not speak out because I was not a communist. Then they came for the trade unionists and I did not speak out because I was not a trade unionist. Then they came for me and there was not one left to speak out for me.'

VI. Guided Imagery

Open class with a descriptive image. Have students close eyes and picture the scene and feelings related to the image.

- describe scene in camp
- describe feeling of isolation while hiding in a barn
- describe the morning a family has to leave home to go to a ghetto

VII. Holocaust Pictures

As students enter the room, have pictures from the holocaust on desk or taped on the wall. Have Anne Frank web pages displayed on in class computers

Allow students to look at the pictures and brose the pages online

Holocaust Pictures Exhibition: <http://www.fmv.ulg.ac.be/schmitz/holocaust.html>

Prereading

I. Read Survivor Stories

See following page

Propaganda

- Propaganda is any organized widespread attempt to influence people's thinking or behavior.
- Can be used for good as well as bad purposes
- Used to sell cereal, promote political candidates, create scapegoats
- Most effective propaganda appeals to the emotions of its audience instead of logic or reason

Types of Propaganda

Name-calling- attaching derogatory labels

Glittering Generalities- using vague words or ideas to make something acceptable

Transfer – associating a person or idea with something everyone thinks is good

Testimonial – getting a well-known person to endorse another person's product or idea

Plain folks, common man –candidates going out of their way to appear to be 'just like us'

Card-stacking – showing only the good side of anything

Bandwagon – convincing people that everyone else is doing the same thing

Half-truths – using a germ of easily perceived truths makes the validity of the entire package more acceptable

Loaded words – using words whose connotation is generally accepted by the audiences as positive (or negative) in order to create a subconscious association

Picture-perfect – creating a photograph or drawing which either literally or inferentially presents the desired image.

Self-appeal – selling an idea based on human desires for such things as safety, comfort, acceptability, pleasure, security, religion or philosophical ideals, health, personal appearance or beauty, sex appeal, or social status

Questions about the Holocaust: Study guide (15 pts)

What was the Holocaust?

- State-sponsored, systematic persecution and annihilation of European Jewry by the Nazi Germany and its collaborators
- between 1933 and 1945
- In 1933 9 million Jews lived in Europe
- By 1945 6 million murdered
- Also targeted: Gypsies, handicapped, Poles, Soviet prisoners of war, homosexuals, Jehovah's Witnesses

Who were the Nazis?

- Short for National Socialist German Workers Party
- Formed in 1919 by unemployed German veterans of WWI
- 1921 Adolf Hitler became head of party
- Positions: anti-Communist, anti-Semitic (against Jews), nationalistic, imperialistic, and militaristic
- 1933 Hitler became Chancellor, end of democracy
- Reign of terror- atmosphere of fear, distrust, and suspicion

Why did the Nazis want to kill large numbers of innocent people?

- Nazis believed that Germans were "racially superior"
- Believed "inferior races" were a biological threat to the purity of the "German (Aryan) Race" therefore needed to "exterminate"
- Nazis blamed Jews for Germany's defeat in WWI and economic problems

How did the Nazis carry out their policy of genocide?

- In late 1930 the Nazis killed thousands of handicapped Germans by lethal injection and poisonous gas
- Often would shoot Jews and Gypsies in open fields and ravines on the outskirts of conquered cities
- Built six extermination centers where large scale murder by gas and body disposal through cremation were conducted
- Forced in to concentrated ghettos before taking to extermination centers
- Millions died in the ghettos and concentration camps as a result of forced labor, starvation, exposure, brutality, disease, and execution

How did the world respond to the Holocaust?

- The United States, Great Britain, and other countries received news of persecution of Jews in the 1930's
- Neither country modified refugee policy to help
- 1942 intent to defeat Germany militarily took precedence over rescue efforts
- 1944 U.S. began limited efforts to rescue
- In Europe, anti-Semitism had citizens of German occupied countries cooperate with the Nazis genocidal policies.
