ABSTRACT

Scope and sequence refers to organization of curriculum content, structuring what is taught against when it is taught. This scope and sequence for the different disciplines that comprise arts education in North Carolina public schools cites various goals to be attained in each grade for each of the following disciplines: dance, music, theater arts, and visual arts. This publication displays the goal in easy-to-read type at the top of the page, and what the student should be able to do or how he/she should be able to perform is listed underneath covering kindergarten through grade 12.
