ABSTRACT

Sophie and Cody in "The Wanderer" (Sharon Creech) share the duties of recording their journey to an ancestor's birth land. The strong bond of family and accomplishments through the voyage home personified the embodiment of an adventurer. For Sophie and Cody, close family bonds were forged and washed clean by the sea. Odysseus, the protagonist in Homer's "The Odyssey," is also on a voyage home. Throughout his heroic adventures, even though at times self seeking and conceited, Odysseus establishes his determination to get home and become reunited with his family through numerous struggles. This young adult novel and this classic epic can be taught in combination because all the characters are caught in a journey teeming with strife. The concept of "getting home" and the storytelling motif are compelling in both genres. This thematic curriculum unit is designed for middle school students in 10 lessons based on 45-minute class periods. The unit is divided into the following parts: I. Voyages Home; II. "The Wanderer" and "The Odyssey"; III. Motivations; IV. Student Activities; V. Discussion Questions; VI. Vocabulary; VII. Assessment; VIII. Follow-Up Activities; and IX. Research Activities. The curriculum contains pages from "Elements of Literature Sixth Course Literature of Britain with World Classics" (Harcourt Brace & Co., 2000) including "Before You Read" exercises for and accompanied by "Crossing the Bar" (Alfred, Lord Tennyson) and "Ulysess" (Alfred, Lord Tennyson). Also included are downloaded activities such as "'The Odyssey' Crossword Puzzle" (<http://www.entrenet.com/~groedmed>) and "'The Odyssey' Quiz" (<http://www.sparknotes.com>). The Book of Jonah from the Authorized King James Version of "The Holy Bible" (Bible House, 1976) is also included. (NKA)

Classic Epic

The Odyssey

by Homer

YAL novel and Classic Epic revolve around a voyage home and a story telling motif for Sophie and Odysseus.

III. Motivations

- A. Show a brief clip of "The Perfect Storm" to introduce the reading of The Wanderer and The Odyssey.
- B. Read a "sea poem" from The Wanderer: Tennyson "Ulysses;" Carl Sandburg "Fog;" Coleridge "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner;" to motivate the interest to read The Wanderer and The Odyssey.
- C. Ask students opinion whether the trip home is ever very easy.

IV. Student Activities

- A. Theme: the urge to go "home" is so strong in both these books. Make a chart to compare the reasons both are willing to risk death to get there.
- B. Design character profiles for The Wanderer and The Odyssey.
- C. Tell the stories of The Wanderer and The Odyssey from another perspective (Point of View) such as Dock's, Bompie, Penelope, etc.
- D. Write a poem about a voyage that they have taken before.

V. Discussion Questions

- A. How does the theme of voyage home manifest itself in The Wanderer and The Odyssey?
- B. Why is the "story telling" motif so important to both books? Is it noteworthy that both main characters Sophie and Odysseus are good storytellers in these books?
- C. What is the significance of the name of Sophie's sailboat (The Wanderer) and Odysseus being referred to as "The Wanderer"?

VI. Vocabulary

- A. Vocabulary terms are very important in both The Wanderer and The Odyssey.
- B. Student will chart the terms into three categories: sailing, geography, Vocab.
The Odyssey
- C. Student will chart the terms into three categories: Odyssey, geography, names.
- D. The Instructor will split the categories and the students into teams: Using teamwork skills will make a glossary to share with the rest of the class to divide and conquer the vocabulary terms.

VII. Assessments

- A. Grades will be given for:
 - 1. completion of group and individual projects. (100 points)
 - 2. #14 questions (Bloom's Taxonomy) at the end of The Wanderer and teacher generated Tests on The Odyssey. (100 points)
- B. A Pre-Test and Post-Test Philosophy (since most school districts teach a Greek Mythology Unit) will be used with an Internet Test and there should be marked improvement on the Post-Test. (100 points)
- C. Write an Epilogue for The Wanderer and The Odyssey. (50 points)
- D. Write or Keep a Journal for two weeks on the progress through The Wanderer and The Odyssey. (50 points)

VIII. Follow-up Activities

- A. Draw a map of the Voyages that Sophie and Odysseus traveled. (100 points)
- B. Construct a Family Tree Chart for Sophie (new family) and Odysseus.

Identify	Relation	Relationship (100 points)
----------	----------	------------------------------
- C. Write an original myth on a God/Goddess that you make up: include; traits, gadgets, areas of control, etc. Remember to use what makes a good story. (100 points)
- D. Make a brochure of one of the Geography Terms in either The Wanderer or The Odyssey. (100 points)
- E. Write a scene for a play. Include a Plan of who from Hollywood you would cast for the roles in The Wanderer or The Odyssey. (100 points)
- F. Use a Venn Diagram to Compare/Contrast: Sophie/Odysseus; Brian/Cody/Telemachus; Mo/Stew/Dock; Bompie/Penelope; etc. (50 points)
- G. Create a Comic Book or a Pop Up Book from either The Wanderer or The Odyssey. (100 points)

IX. Research Activities

- A. Develop a Greek Word Origin Chart to see how these words are used even today.

Example:	Then Mt. Olympus	Now Olympics
			(100 points)

- B. Teach/Present to the class Report in Costume a five Minute Mini Lesson on:

God/Goddess, Monster, Sea Nymph from the Odyssey or a Character from The Wanderer
(100 points)

Note: Costume, Visual Aid, gadget, traits, area of control, worksheet, overhead activity, and Short Quiz made up afterward (to make sure the class was paying attention!)

YAL Novel		Classic Epic Poem
The Wanderer	Grade Level	The Odyssey
by Sharon Creech	Middle School	by Homer

Rationale:

Sophie and Cody in The Wanderer by Sharon Creech share the duties of recording their journey to the ancestor's birth land. The strong bond of family and accomplishments through the voyage home personifies the embodiment of an adventurer. Sophie comes face-to-face with the harsh reality and the fears of her past. Her cousins and she ultimately emerge on the homeland far along the path to adulthood. Close family bonds were forged and washed clean by the sea.

The protagonist, Odysseus, in Homer's The Odyssey, is also on a voyage home. Throughout his heroic adventures, even though at times self-seeking and conceited, Odysseus established his determination to get home and become reunited with his family through numerous struggles.

This young adult novel and this Classic Epic can be taught in combination because all characters are caught in a journey teeming with strife to get home. The concept of "getting home" and the story-telling motif is compelling in both genres. Both forms of action-packed, adventure literature represent the fierce determination to succeed in their endeavors to reach home.

This Thematic Unit will be taught to middle school level students in ten (10) lessons based on 45-minute class periods. Although, project and Portfolio Preparation will take more time out side of class to complete.

Day 1 Lesson Plan

Introduction to Novel & Characters Mini Lesson: Teamwork

Anticipatory Set: Show 10-minute clip of “The Perfect Storm.”

Objectives: The student will be able:

1. To get motivated to read the novel The Wanderer and to appreciate the danger of sailing the North Atlantic Ocean.
2. To use communication and teamwork skills to divide vocabulary from both genres.
3. To use word recognition skills and resources such as phonics, context clues, picture clues, word origins, and word order clues; reference guides; roots, prefixes, and suffixes of words for comprehension.
4. To use information from the reading to increase vocabulary and enhance language usage.
5. To practice specific journal skills in writing.
6. To employ correct grammar, usage, and mechanics in journal entries.

Procedures:

1. Divide class into six groups for Vocabulary Assignment.
2. Compile a Glossary of Terms to be shared with the class.
3. Brainstorm a skill that may be taught for the betterment of the class.
4. Vocabulary Team Builder: Divide Vocabulary between six groups (Teams)
The class will be divided into 6 teams and create a glossary for the class with the concept being “many hands make the work go easier.”

The Wanderer:

- a. Sailing terms
- b. Geography terms
- c. Vocabulary terms

The Odyssey:

- a. Voyage terms
- b. Mediterranean terms
- c. Gods/Characters

Study Guide Questions:

1. Where will Sophie and the crew of The Wanderer go on their journey, and how long will it take?
2. Who are the crewmembers on the Wanderer? How are they related?
3. Who is Bompie? Predict why everyone on The Wanderer doesn't think her Bompie Stories are true.
4. What is “the terrible dream” Sophie dreams at night?

Student Activities:

1. Students will use Teamwork to divide vocabulary task to a manageable amount.
2. Complete Vocabulary Assignment for your Team
3. Reader Response on Literary Reaction Attachment Page.
4. Captain Log Entry (below).
5. Portfolio Project Due at the end of Unit. Collect all work associated with this Unit.

Homework:

1. Read: The Wanderer Parts I & II, (pp. 1-62).
2. Finish vocabulary assignment for your team.
4. Captain Log Entry: "A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step."

Day 2 Lesson Plan

Mini Lesson: Character Traits

Anticipatory Set: As students enter into the classroom, a Juggler will be juggling. In The Wanderer, everyone on the boat was to teach a skill to all the other members of the crew. Why do you think this would be important? What skill do you have that could be taught to others?

Objectives: The student will be able:

1. To determine what skill they could teach someone else to do.
2. To demonstrate a skill they can do.
3. To apply critical listening and speaking skills in the classroom.
4. To participate in a variety of speaking and listening experiences.

Procedures:

1. The students will list the characters of The Wanderer.
2. The teacher will explain the difference between main and secondary characters.
3. Introduce Literature Circles Roles.
4. The students will design character profiles.

Study Guide Questions:

1. Why do you think such an activity would be significant to the crew of the Wanderer? What does the skill tell you about the personality of the character?
2. How is Teamwork valued in the nautical setting?
3. What was Sophie's skill? Was it of value on the boat?
4. Does Sophie pull her weight at sea?
5. Reader Response. Explain why Sophie says, "The sea, the sea, the sea. It rolls and rolls and calls to me. Come in, it says, come in," and then later awakens from a dream, thinking, I hate the sea, and the sea hates me."

Student Activities:

1. Literature Circle Role: Character Captain will design Character Profiles; think about and create at least 2 questions about the characters in The Wanderer. The questions may be about character traits, actions, feelings, ambitions, relationships, roles, author choices, and so on.
2. Answer the Study Guide Questions while reading.
3. Develop plan for teaching a skill to the class.

Homework:

1. Read Parts III & IV (pp. 63-177) of The Wanderer.
2. Finish character profiles.
3. Captain's Log Entry: Consider this passage:
"Everyone must row with the oars he has."(English Proverb)
With whom do you identify with on this voyage and why?

Day 3 Lesson Plan

Mini Lesson: Point of View

Str. 2

Vs.

GO 11

Anticipatory Set:

Read Aloud: Chapter 5 (pp 23-27) "Afloat" journal entry by Sophie, and Chapter 6 (pp 28-29) "Slugs and Bananas" Dog Log entry by Cody.

Objectives: Students will be able:

1. To demonstrate an understanding that point of view is determined by the author.
2. To demonstrate an understanding that different points of view exist.
3. To demonstrate an understanding that people have different points of view about a topic.

Procedure:

1. Examine point of view and explain First Person and Third Person.
2. Brainstorm other points of view that could have been in The Wanderer.

Study Guide Questions:

1. How are their written perspectives or Point of Views about the same events different?
2. Why would the author Sharon Creech write this novel in this manner?
3. Describe some of the challenges on board the ship, such as cooking, eating, sleeping, and keeping watch. How does the sea and weather affect these simple tasks?

Student Activities:

2. Role Model reading the poem Ulysses (Odysseus in Greek) by Lord Alfred Tennyson.
3. Explain that this Ulysses is an old king at home but is restless and wants to leave home for a final journey. What do you think he seeks? (see following page for explanation).

Study Guide Questions:

1. How did the dead prophet Teiresias help Odysseus? Did his prophecy come true?
2. When Odysseus reached Ithaca at last, why did he stay with the swineherd, Eumaeus instead of going directly home?
3. Do you think that all people want or desire to take a final trek?

Student Activities:

1. Answer the Study Guide Questions on last night's HW Reading Assignment.
2. Review: The Odyssey Crossword Puzzle to aid study for Final.

Homework:

1. Read: Books 13-18 pp.286-370 of The Odyssey by Homer.
2. Captain's Log: How does this passage show Odysseus is happy to be going home?
"Lord Alcinous, my most worshipful prince, make your drink-offerings now and see me safely off. And farewell to you all! For now my dearest wishes have been fulfilled: I have your escort home and I have your welcome gifts. May the gods in heaven bless them, and may I find my wife and loved ones safe and sound on my return home."

(Book 13 lines 38-43)

Day 9 Lesson Plan
Mini Lesson: Story Plot

Anticipatory Set: Perform the Read-Aloud Story Script “Odysseus Returns Home.”

Objectives:

1. Recognize literary elements in the plot: introduction, rising action, conflicts/complications, climax, falling action, conclusion, and denouement in a written piece of literature.
2. Using a different genre, the students will experience the written word dramatically and have a better understanding of the plot literary elements..
3. Apply Teamwork skills to complete assignments.

Procedures:

1. Divide Class into two groups assign Group 1 The Wanderer by Sharon Creech. and assign Group 2 The Odyssey by Homer.
2. Have each group using a good teamwork ethic complete the Story Plot Flow Map (see attachment file).

Study Guide Questions:

1. Although there were only hints in the story, can you tell why it was a custom to honor and help all travelers and beggars?
2. How did Penelope prove to herself who Odysseus really was?

Student Activities:

1. Fill in Story Plot Map.
2. Take Final Test on The Odyssey.
3. Work on Portfolio or Contract Assignment.

Homework:

1. Read: Books 19-24 pp.193-285 of The Odyssey by Homer.
2. Captain’s Log: Read this passage, why did Odysseus want peace?
“Odysseus favorite of Zeus, resourceful son of Laertes, hold your hand! Stop fighting your countrymen, in case you incur the wrath of Zeus the Thunderer. Odysseus obeyed her, and his heart rejoiced. Then Pallas (Mistress) Athena, Daughter of Zeus, still using Mentor’s form and voice for her disguise, established peace between the two sides.”

(Book 24 lines 541-548)

Day 10 Lesson Plan

Mini Lesson:

Theme Comparison The Wanderer by Sharon Creech and The Odyssey by Homer

Anticipatory Set: Read the opening paragraph of The Odyssey page three (3) During the flashback on Skheria when Odysseus relates the story of his wanderings, a number of other settings are described as Odysseus moves from Troy, through the Mediterranean, to Ogygia. And other examples comparing and contrasting the two genres, etc. Compare that passage with quotes from page 13 and 33 of The Wanderer. (or see Literary Circle Illuminator).

Objectives:

1. Apply critical thinking to compare/contrast heroic character traits to works and poetry in the unit.
2. Comprehend, interpret, and analyze a novel and classic epic poem.

Procedures:

1. After setting the stage, have students brainstorm comparing The Wanderer by Sharon Creech and The Odyssey by Homer.
2. Then have students list the comparison on a poster and add to the bulletin board for the Thematic Unit "Voyages Home."
3. The students may spend the balance of class time preparing their Portfolios.

Student Activities & Study Guide Questions:

1. Reader Response Although the novel The Wanderer has a positive, uplifting ending, Rosalie leaves for Spain, and Uncle Dock continues to pine for her. Why do you think the author Sharon Creech separates these two characters? Would you have ended Dock's story this way? Did everything turn out the way Uncle Dock and Odysseus expected it to? Why or why not?
2. Do you think The Wanderer is a good name for Odysseus? Why or why not?
3. Explain how the reading of The Wanderer helped to prepare you for the Classic Epic Poem The Odyssey.

Homework:

1. Finish compiling Voyage Home Portfolio.
2. Captain's Log: Final Entry: Compare the wanderings of The Wanderer and The Odyssey to one of your journeys home.

The Wanderer by Sharon Creech

Discussion Director

1. What were you thinking about as you read The Wanderer?
2. What did the text make you think about? Have you ever been sailing or boating or flying that made you feel as Sophie described?
3. Do you know any foster kids that might have felt as Sophie did or have other children resent her as Brian did?
4. Ask Sharon Creech why she told the story from two different Points of View (Sophie's and Cody's)?
5. What are the most important themes in The Wanderer?
6. What do you think might happen next after The Wanderer? And Why?
7. What was the change that took place in each of the characters of The Wanderer?

Summarizer The Wanderer

Sophie is an orphan girl that is adopted into a family (three years ago). She is going on a sailing adventure with three uncles and two (boy) cousins, Brian and Cody. They are sailing on a 45-foot sailboat The Wanderer from Connecticut to England. Sophie and her cousin Cody tell the story of the adventure in alternating journal entries. They are all on their way to see grandfather, Bompie. Uncle Dock (Jonah) is her favorite but Uncles Stew (Brian's dad) and Mo (Cody's dad) had reservations about having Sophie along. After proving herself, over and over, her value is realized. Mother Nature had another "surprise" in store for the wanderers.

Love of the Sea

Preface “The Seafarer’s Quote”

“This tale is true, and mine. It tells how the sea took me, swept me back and forth...”

Page 13 (Sophie seeing The Wanderer in dry dock)

“But it has a terrific name: The Wanderer. I can picture myself on this sailboat, wandering out across the sea, wandering, wandering.”

Page 23

“the smell of the sea, the feel of the wind on your face and your arms, the flapping of the sails—oh, it was magic!”

Page 32 (Sophie in the bosun’s chair)

“You feel the air on your face and in your hair, you smell the sea, you feel so free.”

Page 33

“I want to be moving, to be sailing, where it doesn’t matter if its day or night, where time is all connected. I’d like to catch a fish, to feed myself directly from the ocean. I hope to be a voyager, a wanderer, sailing on to Bompie!”

Page 53 (Carl Sandburg’s fog – little cat feet)

Fear of the Sea

Page 68

“And I had this strange felling, thinking about how a lobster is saved by being tossed in the ocean, but if I were tossed in the ocean that would be the end of me.”

Page 74

“You could forget things, forget so many details of your life, and then if someone ever wanted to know what you’d thought or what you felt, you might not remember, or maybe you’d be sick or gone or something and you couldn’t tell them and they’d never know. It would be as if those tiny nibbling sea fleas had eaten up the substance of your life.”

“All his (Bompie’s) stories --- It’s like a picture in his head”

Fear of the Water

Page 81 (Cody Thinks)

“I am starting to think something else, too. I think Sophie’s afraid of the water. It’s just a feeling I have.”

Page 85 (Sophie telling a Bompie Story)

“and he let go and down, down, down he fell into the swirling water.”

Rhetorical Questions

Page 116

“Why wouldn’t a person do what he was good at and what he wanted to do?”

Page 163

“What’s it all about, Sophie?.... You know. Life.”

Page 164 (Life Insurance)

“And so I Started thinking about life insurance and how nice it would be if you could get insurance that your life would be happy,”

Page 153 (Uncle Mo’s Dolphin Quote)

“They remind you of being a child, with all that curiosity and energy. They remind you that this is what you could be, not what you should grow out of.”

Sea is Calling

Page 118

"But all the worries are countered by this huge, surging, pushing feeling, as if the sea is calling and the wind is pushing and whoosh off we are going, whoosh!"

Page 126

"The sea, the sea, the sea. It rolls and rolls and calls to me!"

Sophie compares the ocean to Herself

Page 3

"My father calls me Three-sided Sophie: one side is dreamy and romantic; one is logical and down-to-earth; and the third side is hardheaded and impulsive."

Page 133

"Out here, I feel as if the ocean is alive, as if it is living breathing, and moody, oh so moody! Sometimes it is calm and smooth, as if it were asleep; and sometimes it is playful, splashing and rolling; sometimes it is angry and knocks us about. It's as if the ocean has many sides, like me."

Alive

"You feel as if every inch of you is alive and you are working hard to stay alive and the boat is helping you and you are helping it and everyone is in there together, and whoosh, away you go!"

Page 183 (sailing a nonsexist sport)

"because I feel as if I'm really helping and right now it doesn't matter if it's a girl or a boy doing it, as long as somebody gets it done."

Page 223

"We are all quieter than usual, thinking about being alive, and how fragile a line there is between being alive and not being alive"

Imagery

“Now the waves are more fierce, cresting and toppling over, like leering drooling monsters spewing heavy streaks of foam through the air.”

Page 205 (Tennyson poetry “Ulysses” quote)

“Smite the sounding furrows!”

“I was going overboard; I was sure of it. Underwater forever, twisting and turning, scrunched in a little ball. Was this the ocean? Was I over the side and in the sea? Was I four years old? In my head, a child’s voice was screaming, “Mommy! Daddy!”
