ABSTRACT

The Texas Reading Club is designed to encourage youth to read for pleasure and to promote library usage. A statewide theme is selected each year that emphasizes ways in which reading expands young minds and encourages children to use their imaginations. The year 2000's theme, "Invent the future! READ!," emphasizes ways in which reading expands young minds and encourages children to use their imaginations to envision the future in which they will be creative and contributing adults. A handbook is created each year to aid in planning and programming, and the handbook, along with posters, reading logs, bookmarks, and certificates are offered by the Texas State Library to encourage participation and support of this important program. This document includes the Texas Reading Club Proclamation (May 30, 2000); words to this year's theme song and a link for listening to the song; biographical information on the illustrator and acceptable use of artwork policy; links to web sites about inventions; and descriptions of the following Texas Reading Club materials with contact information for ordering: program manual; posters; bookmarks; reading logs; and certificates. Also included are links to web sites for previous Texas Reading Clubs, and links to selected resources. (AEF)

2000 TEXAS READING CLUB MANUAL: INVENT THE FUTURE - READ!

Preface

Acknowledgments

We would like to thank Belinda Boon and Christine McNew of the Texas State Library and Archives Commission for tirelessly editing the Texas Reading Club manual and for their creative contributions. All of the authors of this manual were employed at the Farmer's Branch Library when this manual was written. To the staff of the Farmers Branch Library, we express our sincere gratitude for their continuous support, with special thanks to Mary Jane Stevenson, Director. We also extend our appreciation to the Farmers Branch City Council, City Manager's Office, and administrators for their support.

Overview

This manual is created for the 2000 Texas Reading Club, a program of the Texas State Library and Archives Commission. The theme, "Invent the Future-READ!" welcomes us to the new millennium.

Our vision for the 2000 TRC Manual was to use the "Invent the Future" theme to suggest ideas incorporating new technology, inventions, creativity, and what the future holds for the world, as well as the individual child. We began initially by having a brainstorming session about the theme and came up with related topics and ideas, such as the past, future, time, space, invention, things relating to computers and technology, and careers. Each person then researched an age level, such as toddlers, and found as many age-appropriate books as possible related to the theme or the associated topics. After that, we divided the books into categories that seemed to fit together well for potential programs. We then expanded our search to include media, fingerplays, activities, web sites, and CD-ROMs.

At that point, we could see what groups of materials would and would not work as a full program, and laid out the manual. Each of us worked on all parts of the manual.

About the Illustrator, Brian Floca

Biographical Information

Brian Floca was born and raised in Temple, Texas. He graduated from Brown University in 1991, and currently lives and works in New York City.

He is the author and illustrator of Five Trucks, a fall 1999 Main Selection of the Children's Book-of-the-Month Club, and The Frightful Story of Harry Walfish. He has illustrated many books, including Luck with Potatoes by Helen Ketteiman and Sports! Sports! Sports! edited by Lee Bennett Hopkins. Mr. Floca also illustrated several novels by Avi, including Poppy, a winner of the Boston Globe/Horn Book Award for fiction, Poppy and Rye, Ragweed, and City of Light, City of Dark, a Publishers Weekly Best Book of the Year.

Brian Floca is currently working on his third picture book as author and illustrator, and on Avi's fourth and final book of "Tales from Dimwood Forest." Both will be published in the spring of 2000.

Serving Children with Disabilities

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) states that reasonable accommodations must be made for persons with disabilities in library buildings, programs, and materials. When putting together programs and activities for the 2000 Texas Reading Club, keep in mind that whatever works for children with disabilities will work for all children. With a little planning, simple, inexpensive adaptations can be introduced to program sites and materials to enable more children to enjoy the Texas Reading Club activities.

The Talking Book Program (TBP), a division of the Texas State Library and Archives Commission (TSLAC), has a Disability Information and Referral Center (DIRC) that provides information to any interested persons about adaptive equipment, games and toys, support groups, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and other topics. Questions will be answered by staff or referred to other resources. The DIRC can be reached at 1-800-252-9605 (in Texas) or 512-463-5458 (in Austin).

The Talking Book Program

The Talking Book Program (TBP) is a joint state and federal program that provides unabridged books in alternate formats for Texans of all ages who are unable to read standard print material due to visual, physical, or reading disabilities. The service is free of charge and available to those who qualify because they are unable to read standard print material as a result of temporary or permanent, visual or physical limitations.

A properly certified application must be submitted for each prospective patron verifying that the applicant meets one or more of the federal eligibility criteria, namely: blindness; a visual disability of sufficient severity to prevent the reading of standard print without the use of an aid other than prescription glasses; a physical disability that prevents the individual from holding a book or turning the pages; or a reading disability that is physically based and of sufficient severity to prevent the reading of standard print material in a normal manner. Applications submitted for individuals with a reading disability must be certified by a medical doctor or doctor of osteopathy. Applications submitted for individuals with other disabilities can be certified by a number of professionals in various fields related to health care, education, or rehabilitation, or by a professional librarian or library director.

TBP provides books on cassette tape, in braille, on flexible disc (similar to records), and in large print. Special playback equipment is loaned free of charge for use with books in cassette and disc formats. All materials circulate to TBP patrons free of charge through the regular U.S. Mail.

Because TBP patrons are located throughout the state, and interaction is limited to the telephone and the mail,

TBP encourages younger patrons to participate in the Texas Reading Club activities sponsored by public libraries in their communities. TBP will continue to provide the books in alternative media needed to participate.

Please refer any individual qualified to use our service to TBP for an application, or call and request applications and brochures to keep in your library. Help young readers with disabilities in Texas make the most of the Texas Reading Club experience!

You may call or write TBP with you questions or requests for applications:

Introduction

INVENT THE FUTURE - READ!

INTRODUCTION TO THE READING CLUB MANUAL

Goals and Purpose

The goal of the Texas Reading Club is to encourage the children of Texas to become library users and lifelong readers. The purpose of this manual is to assist library staff who serve youth by creating successful programs that attract children to the library. This will enable children to learn about services the library offers and to understand that it is a friendly, encouraging place filled with fun and interesting information. The library reading club experience should be relaxing, pleasurable, stress-free and provide activities, and opportunities for children and their families to experience the joy of reading. To this end, the activities in this manual are designed to encourage reading. We hope you have as much fun exploring them as we did creating them.

Using this Manual

We have tried to make this manual simple, direct, and easy to use. Here are a few clarifications.

We have included when available and appropriate:

- ❖ Fiction and non-fiction books. Award winners that are generally well known such as the Bluebonnet or Caldecott are not listed unless they are especially appropriate to a theme. Some books are recommended to share, some to booktalk, and others to simply display.

- ❖ Poetry, jokes, and riddles, or citations for books in which they may be found.
- ❖ Crafts, games, activities, and sources for the ideas.
- ❖ Songs, songbooks, fingerplays, rhymes, musical recordings, and sources are cited.
- ❖ Films and videos.
- ❖ Web Sites.
- ❖ CD-ROMs.

Activities and materials are for toddlers through young teens, families, and large groups. Ideas center around the following themes, which may be used as weekly themes or program names:

- ❖ Creation Station - Thinking, creating, and inventing are vital to the world's future and are explored within this theme. For toddlers and preschoolers, programs focus on simple expressions of creativity that young children enjoy. Programs for elementary and teenage children invite them to learn about inventors and inventions, art and artists, ideas, and to think about what they themselves might create.

- ❖ Investigate the Past – This theme explores our history and our roots.
- ❖ Explore the Present – This theme explores where we are now.
- ❖ Invent the Future – Programs on this theme explore what the world will be like in life beyond the year 2000.
- ❖ Virtually Real - Computers, virtual reality, the Internet, and other technology advances are the topics included in this theme. You may wish to present some of the programs for older children using the recommended web sites, or distribute handouts of the web sites.
- ❖ Cool Careers – This theme explores careers the future might hold for today's teens.

Here are some other themes that could be used as starting points for technology-related programs:

- ❖ Computer Follies (funny stories)
- ❖ E-mail and Me
- ❖ Mousetracks
- ❖ Information Speedway

- ❖ Digital Deputies
- ❖ Geeks and Gadgets
- ❖ Tech Wars
- ❖ Virtual Voyage

There are many books and other materials relating to each topic. These chapters are not exhaustive lists - we were selective due to space restrictions. Everything we included had a claim on extending the theme. We hope you enjoy our selections and find materials that work for you!

Displays and Decorations

Some of the programs include ideas for decorations and displays. Here are some general ideas related to the theme, "Invent the Future – READ!"

- ❖ Use die cut shapes available from companies such as Ellison or Accucut to create bulletin boards reflecting the theme. Ellison has a bridge, a father time, and a baby that would make a "Bridge to the Future" design. Ellison also has a calendar, hourglass, and watch shapes available. Contact Ellison at <www.ellison.com> or 25862 Commercentre Drive, Lake Forest, CA 92630-8804, 800-253-2240.
- ❖ Accucut has eight sets available for summer reading displays. These sets have themes such as "Picture the World through Books" and "Unlock the Keys to Reading." Contact Accucut at <www.accucut.com> or PO Box 1053, Fremont, NE, 68026-1053, 800-288-1670.

- ❖ Demco has a thematic kit called "Catch the Millennium Fever" which includes bookmarks, posters, buttons, bookbags, and reading certificates. Visit the Demco web site at <www.demco.com> for a free catalog, or contact them at 800-356-1200.
- ❖ The Library of Congress has printed a bicentennial tool kit called "Celebrating Libraries, Creativity, Liberty" which includes library history, activity idea, a poster, and a guide to the LC collections. This would make an interesting display along with books related to the collections (African American History and Culture, Architecture, Baseball, Conflict, Documents from Early America, Entertainment, etc.) Obtain a kit from their web site at <www.loc.gov> or by writing to them at Reading Promotions Projects, The Center for the Book, Library of Congress, 101 Independence Avenue, SE, Washington, DC, 20540-4920.

Clip Art

The clip art included at the back of this manual may be used for crafts, programs, or to decorate your library. Make mobiles with the clip art using sturdy paper plates. Punch holes around the edge with a hole punch and use yarn or string to attach the clip art. Enlarge or reduce the art depending on your needs. Cut out the patterns and color them.

- ❖ Clip art can also be used for:
  - ❖ Bulletin Board Decorations
  - ❖ Tabletop Decorations
  - ❖ Program "Favors"
  - ❖ Take Home Coloring Sheets
  - ❖ Refrigerator Magnets (Copy, color and laminate. Buy a roll of magnetic tape from craft a supply store and glue to the back of the clip art.)
  - ❖ Ceiling, window, or door decorations.

Road Trip! Taking Reading Programs Out of the Library

Create or expand outreach programs and deposit collections by encouraging as many children as possible to use the resources of the local public library for educational and recreational purposes.

The following definition of outreach services to youth is from Information is Empowering: Developing Public Library Services for Youth at Risk by Stan Weisner (1992):

"A strategy for making library services more accessible using publicity, off-site service delivery, and the development of library linkages and coalitions with community based organizations."

Take the Texas Reading Club to as many children as possible in underserved groups such as those who are financially limited or without transportation. For instance, children in childcare centers might not have access through their providers. In order to reach them we must bring our resources and programs to them.

Community outreach involves taking library materials, programs, and services out of their traditional setting and placing them directly in the community. This idea is not new, but it is becoming increasingly important as public library visits dwindle. With the advent of the Internet, librarians must become acquainted with creative, nontraditional methods of reaching underserved children. It makes good sense to collaborate and partner with existing children's and family services at locations in your community. Public libraries have designed many different types of outreach programs. Outreach programs used across the US include:

- ❖ The "America Reads Challenge" Program
- ❖ Bookmobiles
- ❖ Books by Mail
- ❖ Dial-a-Story Programs
- ❖ Fairs, Festivals, and Other Cultural Activities
- ❖ Readathons, Guest Readers, and Storytellers
- ❖ Informational Kits for Loan
- ❖ Library Home Pages on the Web

- ❖ Puppet Shows, Storytimes, Crafts, and Booktalks
- ❖ Radio, Cable, or Television Shows
- ❖ Satellite Reading Clubs
- ❖ Storytime Kits for Loan
- ❖ Deposit or Rotating Book Collections.

The graphic materials included with the Texas Reading Club manual lend themselves well to enhancing publicity for outreach programming. Children enjoy taking these materials home, and whether they receive them at the library or the grocery store, the emphasis is on the importance of libraries and reading.

Sites for conducting library outreach programs include:

- ❖ Apartment Complexes and Low Income Housing
- ❖ Bookstores
- ❖ Camps
- ❖ Churches, Schools, and Child Care Centers
- ❖ Children's Institutions
- ❖ Residential Agencies and Homeless Shelters
- ❖ Community/National Youth Organizations (Scouts, 4-H, etc.)
- ❖ Crisis Centers
- ❖ Cultural Events
- ❖ Health Centers, Hospitals, and Doctors Offices

- ❖ Museums, Parks, and Nature Centers
- ❖ Recreation Centers and Youth Centers
- ❖ Restaurants, Grocery Stores, and Other Businesses

Outreach programs take time and effort. Patience and a long-term point of view are essential. Accept even the smallest success and don't give up! You may find that your circulation and reading club participation increase dramatically!

Professional Resources for Storytelling

Storytelling is an ideal outreach program that encourages children to read while opening the door to literature. Storytelling can also be a very rewarding activity for the presenter. Many styles of storytelling may be shared, including:

- ❖ Traditional Oral Storytelling
- ❖ Cut and Tell Stories
- ❖ Origami Stories
- ❖ Tell and Draw Stories
- ❖ Felt/Flannel/Velcro stories
- ❖ Participation Stories
- ❖ Storytelling Games and Round Robin Storytelling
- ❖ String Stories and Stories with Props or Puppets
- ❖ Handkerchief Stories

- ❖ Jokes, Riddles, and Tongue Twisters
- ❖ Poetry, Songs, Chants and Rhymes.

You will find many excellent stories in the following resources.

Drawing Stories:

Harold and the Purple Crayon by Crockett Johnson.
Tell and Draw Stories by Margaret Oldfield. (Also, More Tell and Draw Stories and Lots More Tell and Draw Stories.)

The Storyvine by Anne Pellowski.

Chalk in Hand: The Draw and Tell Book by Phillis Noe Pflomm.

Draw and Tell by Richard Thompson.

Frog's Riddle and Other Draw and Tell Stories by Richard Thompson.

Paper Folding or Cutting Stories:

Folding Stories: Storytelling and Origami Together as One by Christine Kallevig.

Mystery-Fold: Stories to Tell, Draw, and Fold by Valerie Marsh.

Scissor-Tales for Any Day by Jan Philpot.

Cut and Tell: Scissor Stories for Fall by Jean Warren.

Cut and Tell: Scissor Stories for Spring by Jean Warren.

Cut and Tell: Scissor Stories for Winter by Jean Warren.

Other Storytelling Resources:

Storytelling Games by Doug Lipman.

Beyond Words: Great Stories for Hand and Voice by Valerie Marsh.

Joining In: An Anthology of Audience Participation Stories and How to Tell Them by Teresa Miller.

Twenty Tellable Tales: Audience Participation Folktales for the Beginning Storyteller by Margaret Read MacDonald.

Suggestions for Conducting Craft Programs

Craft programs are usually very successful in attracting children to your library. They can be difficult to prepare and present, especially if a large or undetermined number of children will attend. Acquiring materials and supplies may be a challenge, and there may be uncertainty about whether or not there will be enough room. If you have the space and the resources, however, you will find them very rewarding. The following suggestions have helped our craft programs work smoothly.

- ❖ Toddlers and preschoolers are rarely proficient with scissors. Precut all pieces, or stick to activities that require only coloring and gluing.

- ❖ It is often helpful to let the children do crafts on tables covered with butcher paper or newspaper. This makes clean up easy. Just roll up the paper with all discarded materials inside.
- ❖ Lay out required materials for each craft in advance. Set the right number of pieces, glue, tape, etc., at each place a child will sit or stand.
- ❖ If you have a short program, let the children stand at tables and do not provide chairs. Most library tables are the right height for standing children, and an absence of chairs encourages them to complete the craft in the allotted amount of time.
- ❖ Make photocopies of any written direction or diagrams. Post these at each place, or tape them to bookends and put them in the center of the table facing each side.

Always do the craft in advance to make sure it works and to provide an example. Place one finished craft on each table or post one in a prominent area of the room.

MARKETING, COOPERATION,

& PF

Marketing, Cooperation, and PR

Marketing your programs is almost as important as the planning process. Children won't attend even the most wonderful programs unless they are aware of them. Develop a media kit for your reading club programs and related activities that provides information about the events and includes:

- ❖ Press releases
- ❖ A schedule of events
- ❖ A feature story about the reading club
- ❖ PSA tags (Public Service Announcements)
- ❖ Letters for newspapers, schools, city officials about the events.

Tips on Writing Publicity Releases

- ❖ Double-space all releases.
- ❖ Limit it to one page.
- ❖ Write short, concise paragraphs that include all essential information: who, what, where, when, why, and how.
- ❖ Do not assume the reader knows anything about the library. Include library hours, phone number, and location.

- ❖ Attach a Texas Reading Club flyer to your news release.

For more information about publicity, please read Marketing the Texas Reading Club, which is available from the Texas State Library.

More Suggestions for Advertising the Reading Club

Here are some additional suggestions for advertising the Texas Reading Club.

- ✓ Ask local restaurants to use paper place mats with the reading club theme imprinted on them.
- ✓ Ask local grocery stores to use sacks with advertising on them. A local printer might donate the printing of these or other reading club materials.
- ✓ Billboards, bus billboard advertising, and free bus rides for children presenting library cards.
- ✓ Use posters, bookmarks, and flyers to publicize your program. Distribute them in day care centers, schools, banks, YMCA's, churches, restaurants, grocery stores, and other places children and their parents might see them. Adapt these to fit your needs.

Cooperation with Schools

An important way to publicize the reading club is through school visits. Schools and teachers are natural allies in encouraging children to read during the summer. Cooperate with them in any way possible.

School Visits

Call or write your school district's administrative office in February or March and ask permission to promote your library's summer reading programs. Then call principals, teachers, or school librarians in March or April and schedule the visits for late April or early May. Schools are happy to have librarians visit in the last weeks of school after TAAS tests are complete.

Make your visits entertaining. Dress up like a camper and carry a backpack full of riddles, jokes, and stories related to the theme. Dress up like an astronaut and carry your materials in a "space sack." Tell the students about the Texas Reading Club, entertain them with stories, songs, puppet plays, or music, according to your talents. Promote your library's programs and leave a poster with the date on which your reading club begins written on it as a reminder. Ask the school librarian to display it in a prominent spot.

Take bookmarks, posters, and program flyers with you. If possible, print enough bookmarks with your summer program dates and library hours so that one may be given to each child. Some schools will even include reading club flyers in end of the year report cards.

Sample Letter to Schools

Dear Teachers and Administrators,

The _____ Library, in cooperation with the Texas State Library and Archives Commission, is pleased to announce the 2000 Texas Reading Club. The theme is Invent the Future - READ!

The purpose of the Texas Reading Club is to promote reading, to stimulate curiosity, and to attract children to the library. The emphasis is on having fun with books, and helping children retain valuable reading skills during their summer vacations. The Texas Reading Club is a self-paced reading program in which children keep track of the books they read. Children may register at the Library beginning on_____.

(Date)

Many activities are also planned at the library to highlight this year's theme. May we have your help in encouraging students to visit the public library this summer and sign up for the Texas Reading Club? A staff member from our library would be happy to visit the elementary and middle schools in your district in May to tell the children about the reading club and about the other children's programs at the library this summer. I look forward to hearing from you!

Sincerely,

Sample Letter to Preschool/Daycare Center

Dear Preschool/Daycare Center Staff,

The _____ Library is pleased to announce "Invent the Future – READ!" This is the theme of the 2000 Texas Reading Club. Preschool children can participate and receive awards by joining the Read to Me Club and listening to books. Children who read can join the Texas Reading Club and receive prizes for the number of the books read or the amount of time spent reading. The _____ Library also provides special programs just for daycare centers. Please call the library at _____ to register for the Texas Reading Club, for information on our special daycare programs, and for a complete schedule of daycare events at the library.

In addition, please contact the library for information about a library card for your school or daycare, audiovisual materials for checkout, and activities, games, and arts and crafts that build reading skills and the enjoyment of reading.

We look forward to making your school's participation in the Texas Reading Club an entertaining and educational experience and hope to see you at the library soon!

CREATE SOUNDS AND MOVEMENT

Books to Share:

I Can Roar by Frank Asch.

Let's Make a Noise by Amy McDonald.

My Hands Can by Jean Holzentahler.

Rhinos Who Surf by Julie Mammano.

Soft and Noisy by Judy Hindley.

Window Music by Anastasia Suen.

Rhyme:

HELLO/HOLA

Hello, hello,

Hello and how are you.

I'm fine, I'm fine,

And I hope that you are too.

Hola, hola,

Hola y como estas,

Estoy bien, estoy bien.

Espera que tu tambien.

Songs:

WE ALL CLAP HANDS

(Sung to the tune of "The Bear Went Over the Mountain")

We all clap hands together,

We all clap hands together,

We all clap hands together,

As children like to do.

Additional verses:

Replace "clap hands" with "stand up," "snap fingers," and "stamp feet."

DANCE, THUMBKIN, DANCE

(Traditional song and finger play)

Dance, Thumbkin, dance!

Thumbkin can not dance alone,

So dance, merry men, ev'ry one.

And dance, Thumbkin, dance!

Additional verses:

Replace "Thumbkin" with "Foreman," "Middleman," "Ringman," and "Littleman."

Body Do-RE-ME

(Sing Do-Re-Me, substituting body parts for the regular sounds. Point to each body part as you sing.)

Do-toe	So-elbow
Re-leg	La-jaw
Me-knee	Te-teeth

HOKEY POKEY

On Dancin' Magic by Joanie Bartels. (Use with Hokey Pokey by Sheila Hamanaka.)

Activities:

Percussion Instrument Guessing Game

Place percussion instruments in a box. Play each one without letting the children see it. Ask them to guess what it might be and then show it to them. Play it again and let them repeat the name of the instrument.

Streamer Dance

Prepare colorful streamers from tissue paper and give some to each child. Put on your favorite music and let them march and dance while waving the streamers.

CREATE A CLATTER AND A MESS

Tom and Pippo Make a Mess by Helen Oxenbury.

Mud by May Lyn Ray.

Fingerplay:

THUNDER

(Use a rain stick and a cloud made from black construction paper covered with cotton balls and backed with aluminum foil.)

I looked in the sky and saw a big, black cloud, (Hold up cloud)

Then I heard a rumble that was loud, loud, loud. (Shake the cloud)

My mommy says, "Don't worry about the roar, roar, roar,

It only means the rain will soon pour, pour, pour." (Shake the rain stick)

Mud, Mud, Mud is Fun

(Sung to the tune of "Row, Row, Row Your Boat")

Mud, mud, mud is fun,
 Watch us stir it up.
 Round and round and round and round.
 Mud is fun to muck.
 Mud, mud, mud is fun,
 Listen to it squish.
 Through our fingers, round our toes.
 Get as muddy as you wish!

IF YOU'RE MUDDY AND YOU KNOW IT

If you're muddy and you know it clap your hands,
 If you're muddy and you know it clap your hands.
 If you're muddy and you know it then your face will surely show it.
 If you're muddy and you know it clap your hands.

Additional verses:

If you're muddy and you know it stomp in a puddle...
 If you're muddy and you know it wipe it off...
 If you're muddy and you know it do all three...

Activities: 🎨

Pot and Pan Band

Bring a selection of pots, pans, plastic utensils, etc., and improvise a play session or rhythm band.

Crafts: ✂️

Mud Puddle Game

Cut "mud puddles" out of brown construction paper and place them around the room. Let the children jump over them while singing the following song:

PUDDLE SKIPPING

(Sung to "A Tisket, A Tasket")

A puddle, a puddle,
 We're hopping over puddles.
 Here we go, here we go,
 Come and jump with me.

Fingerpaint with Chocolate Pudding

Clean up for this very, very fun activity is just soap and water and lots of paper towels. Be sure to cover the kids, parents, and paint area with newspaper or butcher paper before beginning!

MATERIALS:

- ◆ 1 Package of chocolate pudding for each child
- ◆ Mixing bowls
- ◆ Water

DIRECTIONS:

Follow the package directions to mix the pudding. Let the children splatter the "paint" onto construction paper. Introduce creative learning concepts as the children play. For instance, the pudding can be mud under a pink paper pig or soil under flowers.

 Dinosaur, Dinosaur, turn out the lights,
 Dinosaur, Dinosaur, say good night.

Counting Rhyme:

DINOSAUR COUNT

Five fat funny dinosaurs letting out a roar,
 One went away, and then there were four.
 Four fat funny dinosaurs munching on a tree,
 One went away, and then there were three.
 Three fat funny dinosaurs didn't know what to do,
 One went away, and then there were two.
 Two fat funny dinosaurs having lots of fun,
 One went away, and then there was one.
 One fat funny dinosaur afraid to be a hero,
 He went away, and then there were zero.

Craft Ideas:

Dinosaur Crowns

Cut sponges into shapes of Tyrannosaurus dinosaur footprints. Fold paper towels in half and place them into shallow containers. Pour a small amount of brown tempera paint on top of each towel. Give the children crowns cut out of construction paper. Let the children cover their crowns with dinosaur footprints by pressing the sponge stamps first into the paint and then onto their papers. When the paint is dry, write "Tyrannosaurus (child's name)" on the front of each crown.

CRAYON TALK

Books to Share:

The Crayon Box that Talked by Shane Derolf.

My Crayons Talk by Patricia Hubbard.

Harold and the Purple Crayon by Johnson Crockett.

How Is a Crayon Made? by Charles Oz.

COLORING FUN

(Flannel board patterns will be found at the back of this chapter. Sung to the tune of "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star.")

I know that crayons are for coloring fun,
Green for a turtle and yellow for the sun.
Orange for a pumpkin and white for snow,
A red, red apple and a bright blue bow.
A little pink pig and purple grapes,
And a yummy chocolate birthday cake!

OH CRAYONS

(To the tune of "Oh Playmate." Try this as a simple clapping game.)

Oh crayons, I want to color with you,
I'll need some red and blue

And green and yellow, too.
Bring me some purple,
And then some orange and brown.
And I'll have lots of fun
Just playing around, round, round!

Craft:

Rainbow Plates

MATERIALS FOR EACH RAINBOW:

- ◆ Paper plates
- ◆ Colored tissue paper or cellophane
- ◆ Glue
- ◆ Tape

DIRECTIONS:

Prepare rainbows made of colored tissue paper or cellophane ahead of time. Cut a large circle out of the middle of the paper plates. Let the children glue the tissue paper or cellophane over the holes on the inside of the plates. Children then can use the plates to look through and see the world as different colors.

Activity:

Color Game

(Hold up objects, puppets, or stuffed animals representing each of the colors as you sing this song to the tune of "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star.")

We can play a color game.

Here are the colors we can name.

Red and yellow and green and blue.

Orange and brown and purple too.

We can play a color game.

with neighbor and dance around)
Picnic is over! Here come the ants! (run away)

THE ANTS GO MARCHING

(Sung to the tune of "When John Comes Marching Home.")

This song can be found on Wee Sing Silly Songs by Pamela Conn Beall et al.

Make five copies of the stick puppet ant pattern in the back of this chapter for a flannel board for this counting song.

The ants go marching one by one

Hurrah! Hurrah!

The ants go marching one by one

Hurrah! Hurrah!

The ants go marching one by one

Watching ants is lots of fun,

So let's all go marching

One by one by one.

Additional verses:

The ants go marching two by two... Worker ants have lots to do;

The ants go marching three by three... The ants all live in a colony

The ants go marching four by four... They are marching through the door

The ants go marching five by five... Hey, it's time to say goodbye.

Songs: ♪

BUILDING ANTS

(Sung to the tune of "London Bridge is Falling Down.")

Ants are building a big hill
A big hill
A big hill
Ants are building a big hill
And they call it home.

ANTS ARE BUSY

(Sung to the tune of "Where is Thumbkin?")

The ants are busy
The ants are busy
Yes they are
Yes they are
Busy finding food
Busy building homes
Work away
Work away.

Crafts: ✂

Ladybug

Copy the ladybug pattern and glue it to red construction paper. Cut out the parts and attach the wings with a brass fastener. Let the children color it.

Fingerprint Ants

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Non toxic ink pad (black)
- ◆ Paper
- ◆ Black pen or crayon

DIRECTIONS:

Show the children how to make fingerprints on a piece of paper. Have them draw six legs, a head, and antennae onto their prints to create ants.

Ant Stick Puppet

Use the pattern at the back of this chapter to make stick puppet ants.

Draw an Ant

Copy the large ant pattern at the back of this chapter and let the children color it and draw the legs and antennae.

Cooking: 🍪

Ants in My Muffins

Add raisins to your favorite muffin mix and bake according to the instructions.

Ants on a Log

Celery spread with peanut butter makes the log; ants can be raisins or chocolate chips.

BERRY TALES

Books to Share:

It's the Bear! by Jez Alborough.
Teddy Bear's Picnic by Jimmy Kennedy.
 Use your favorite bear books.

Fingerplay:

FIVE LITTLE BEARS: COUNTING UP

One little bear wondering what to do
 Along came another, then there were two!
 Two little bears climbing up a tree
 Along came another, then there were three!
 Three little bears ate an apple core
 Along came another, then there were four!
 Four little honey bears found honey in a hive,
 Along came another, then there were five.

HUG YOUR TEDDY BEAR

 Hug, hug, hug your bear
 Squeeze him very tight
 Hold him high
 Help him fly
 Then hug with all your might.

YOU ARE MY TEDDY BEAR

(Sung to the tune of "You Are My Sunshine.")

You are my teddy bear
 My only teddy bear
 You make me smile dear
 You are my friend
 You'll never know dear
 How much I like you
 I'm so glad you are my Teddy Bear

Creative Movement:

TEDDY BEARS

(Do the actions with a teddy bear.)

Pick your teddy bear up from the ground,
 Then go dancing all around.
 Hold him high and hold him low,
 As round and round and round you go!

Substitute other words/actions for the poem, such as:

Hold him left and hold him right,
 Hold him tight with all your might!
 Hold him close and hold him far,
 Pretend that he can drive a car!
 Hold him in front and hold him in back,
 Sit down with him on your lap!

Make up more verses with help from the children.

Craft. ✂

Circle Teddy Bear

Copy the circle teddy bear pattern at the end of this chapter and cut out the pieces.

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Crayons
- ◆ Paper
- ◆ Scissors
- ◆ Glue

DIRECTIONS:

There are six sizes of circles. Let the children sort the circles into largest, large, medium, small, smaller, smallest. Younger children may require adult assistance with this task.

The largest circle is the bear's head. Glue the large circle (the muzzle) onto the head. Glue the smallest circle (the nose) onto the muzzle. Glue the eyes onto the head. Glue the medium circles (ears) onto the head and the small circles (ear middles) onto the ears. There's the bear!

 Three little stars with nothing to do.
 One shot off, then there were two!
 Two little stars afraid of the sun.
 One shot off, then there was one!
 One little star alone is no fun.
 It shot off, then there was none!

CLIMB ABOARD THE SPACESHIP

(Sung to the tune of "The Itsy Bitsy Spider.")

(Children bend down as they climb on board the space ship and jump into the air when they blast off!)

Climb aboard the spaceship,
 We're going to the moon.

Hurry and get ready,

We're going to blast off soon.

Put on your helmets

And buckle up real tight.

Here comes the countdown,

Let's count with all our might. 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1---BLAST OFF!!

Starlight, Starbright

Cut out a large star and decorate it with glitter. Hang it from the ceiling or tape it to the wall before the storytime program. Tell the children that the first star they see each night is a wishing star and that they can make a wish, and then tell them that you are going to turn out the lights. Shine a flashlight at the star and ask the children to think about something that makes them very happy. Then recite the poem "Starlight, Starbright," and let the children and parents repeat each line after you. After the poem sing "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star" while the flashlight continues to illuminate your star.

STARLIGHT, STARBRIGHT

Starlight, star bright

First star I see tonight.

I wish I may, I wish I might

Have the wish I wish tonight.

Crafts: ✂

Rocket Ship

Activities:

Instrument Parade

Play percussion instruments and let the children identify them. At the end of storytime, distribute the instruments and let the children march in a parade to a lively tune such as "Day-O" on Baby Beluga by Raffi, or, let the children play the percussion shakers in the following craft.

Percussion Shaker

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Toilet Paper Tubes (other sized tubes can also be used)
- ◆ 1/8 Cup of Small and Large Dried Beans (or Elbow Macaroni)
- ◆ Paper
- ◆ Masking Tape or Colored Mending Tape

DIRECTIONS:

Cut two circles out of paper a little larger than the end of your tube. Cover one end of the tube with one paper circle and bend the edges of the paper down. Securely tape the paper to the tube. (Any gaps will result in lost beans.) Insert the beans and seal the other end in the same manner. Shakers can be decorated with stickers and tape.

In your cap, in your cap.
Put a feather in your cap:
Macaroni!

Clapping Game:

OH, PLAYMATE

(Let the children clap their hands and pat their own knees while you and the moms sing this old favorite.)

Oh, playmate, come out and play with me.
And bring your dollies three,
Climb up my apple tree.
Slide down my rain barrel,
Onto my cellar door.
And we'll be jolly friends, forever more.

Stories:

Tell classic folktales such as "Little Red Riding Hood," "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," or "The Gunny Wolf" and "Sody Salleratus" from Twenty Tellable Tales: Audience Participation Folktales for the Beginning Storyteller by Margaret Read MacDonald.

More Games:

Play games that children played before television and radio became popular entertainment, such as "Ring around the Rosy," "A Tisket, A Tasket."

Crafts: ✂

Alphabet-Soup Name Bracelet

It's fun to make name bracelets out of alphabet egg noodles. Help the children spell their names with uncooked noodles. Then cut out a small narrow strip of thin cardboard, just big enough to their names on. Let them paste the letters of their name on this strip. When the paste is dry, they can paint the whole bracelet with poster paint. Carefully poke a hole at each end of the bracelet and pass a small string through both ends. They can slip the name bracelet on their wrists and tie the two ends together.

Song:

MY GRANDFATHER'S CLOCK

My Grandfather's clock was too large for the shelf,
 So it stood ninety years on the floor;
 It was taller by half than the old man himself,
 Though it weighed not a pennyweight more.

It was bought on the morn of the day that he was born,
 And was always his treasure and pride---
 But it stopped short never to go again
 When the old man died.
 Ninety years without slumbering tick tock, tick tock;
 His life's seconds numbering tick tock, tick tock;
 It stopped short never to go again,
 When the old man died.

Bertie and Gertie: Space Detectives by Antje VonStemm.

Song:

SPACE ACTION

(Sung to the tune of "London Bridge is Falling Down")

The planets spin around the sun, around the sun, around the sun.

The planets spin around the sun, we live on earth!

The sun is found in the middle, in the middle, in the middle.

The sun is found in the middle, it keeps us warm!

The stars are twinkling far away, far away, far away.

The stars are twinkling far away, now make a wish.

Fingerplay:

FIVE BRAVE ASTRONAUTS

Five brave astronauts floated into space,

The first one disappeared without a trace.

The second one somersaulted past the moon.

The third one went home too soon.

The fourth one took off counting back to zero,

The fifth one landed home and was a hero.

Crafts:

Spaceman

Copy the astronaut pattern with separate arms and legs onto card stock, or glue it to construction paper.

Cut out each of the pieces and attach the arms and legs with brass fasteners. Let the children color their spaceman.

More Craft Ideas:

Young children are fascinated with computers. Copy the computer screen pattern at the end of this chapter, cut it out, and glue it to a sheet of construction paper. Let the children draw a picture on the screen or glue the clip art at the back of this chapter onto it.

Our Mother Earth

Play "Big, Beautiful Planet" on Rise and Shine by Raffi and talk about the earth and how it's up to each of us to take care of it by keeping it clean and recycling.

Photocopy the mother earth puppet pattern at the end of this chapter. Let the children color all of the pieces. They can then glue the facial features, hair, arms, and legs onto the mother earth, and glue the bow to the hair. They may glue the flower and shell to either the hair or the hands.

I had a bird and the bird pleased me,
 I fed my bird by yonder tree. Bird goes fiddle-i-fee.
 I had a hen and then hen pleased me,
 I fed my hen by yonder tree.
 Hen goes chimney-chuck, chimney-chuck, bird goes fiddle-i-fee.
 I had a duck pleased me,
 I fed my duck by yonder tree.
 Duck goes quack quack, quack quack, hen goes chimney chuck, chimney chuck, bird goes fiddle-i-fee.

Add one animal and its sound to each verse:

I had a goose...swishy, swashy...

I had a sheep...baa, baa...
 I had a pig...oink, oink...
 I had a cow...moo, moo...
 I had a horse...neigh, neigh...

Creative Drama:

Animal Dancing

Gather puppets or stuffed animals for each one named in "The Barnyard Song" and put them into a box. Play the song and act out the motions representing each animal as you listen to Tom Glazer's recording. Then show the children each of the animals and ask them to move like that animal and make the animal's sound.

Seasonal Nature Dance

- Lead the children in making up dances about nature!
- ✿ Tell the children to think about how leaves fall from trees in the autumn and do a falling leaf dance.
- ✿ Ask them to imagine snowflakes falling in the winter and do a snowflake dance.
- ☀ Talk to them about how plants grow in the spring and ask them to do a growing dance.
- ☁ Ask them to remember summer storms and do a thunderstorm dance.

And brought with her some gum to chew.

My Aunt came back from Kalamazoo,
And brought with her some nuts like YOU!

Crafts:

Two-Faced Masks

Make two-faced masks inspired by the Roman god Janus for whom January is named. Janus has two faces so he can look to the past and the future.

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Paper plates
- ◆ Paper plates
- ◆ Crayons
- ◆ Scissors
- ◆ Stapler
- ◆ Felt strips, 1" wide
- ◆ Stick on velco dots

DIRECTIONS:

On the paper plates, have each child draw two mask faces that are related. (Younger kids can draw animals or a pair of opposites, like the sun and the moon.) Let them color and decorate their masks, cutting holes for the eyes, nose, and mouth. Cut four lengths of the felt strip and staple one to each side of the two plates. Stick Velcro to the felt so the two pairs of strips meet to form a headband.

Wacky Characters

Create your own wild and wacky characters for a play, TV show, or movie.

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Mask Patterns
- ◆ Markers
- ◆ Crayons
- ◆ Colored Pencils
- ◆ Scissors
- ◆ String or yarn

DIRECTIONS:

Photocopy and enlarge the mask patterns at the end of this chapter onto white paper. Let each child cut out a mask and color or decorate it. Punch holes and tie string or yarn to the edges so that the children may wear their masks.

Chant:

TEAMWORK

(Do this as a chant and give each child a different part)

- Architect, architect, what do you do?
I draw plans; then the builder works.
- Builder, builder, what do you do?
I build the frame; then the mason works too.
- Mason, mason, what do you do?
I lay the bricks; then the plumber works too.
- Plumber, plumber, what do you do?
I fix pipes; then the electrician works too.
- Electrician, electrician what do you do?
I wire the house; then the carpenter works too.

- Carpenter, carpenter, what do you do?
I build the walls; then the painter works too.
- Painter, painter, what do you do?
I paint the house; then the decorator works too.
- Decorator, decorator, what do you do?
I make it pretty; then the landscaper works too.
- Landscaper, landscaper, what do you do?
I plant the grass; then the movers work too.
- Movers, movers what do you do?
We get the house ready for you.

Crafts: ✂

Popsicle Stick Architecture

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Popsicle sticks
- ◆ Nontoxic glue

DIRECTIONS:

Let the children build houses, train stations, boats, submarines, or anything else they wish with popsicle sticks. Offer some initial hints on what makes good solid construction, then let their imaginations take over. For complex structures, it might be best to let "subassemblies" dry thoroughly before adding to the rest of the structure.

Drink Lid Stained Glass Window

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Plastic lids from paper cups
- ◆ Clear plastic mosaic pieces
- ◆ 10" lengths of string
- ◆ Clear adhesive glue (try Eclectic E6000 Clear Adhesive Glue)
- ◆ Scissors

DIRECTIONS:

Use the scissors to make a small hole at the edge of a plastic lid. Thread the string through the hole and knot the ends. Arrange the plastic mosaic pieces in the lid. Use a small dab of glue to keep each piece in place. Allow the lid to dry overnight. (Note: This activity can also be done with younger children by substituting markers for the glue and mosaic pieces.)

City Book

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Butcher paper
- ◆ Glue
- ◆ Cardboard
- ◆ Scissors
- ◆ Crayons
- ◆ Pencil

DIRECTIONS:

Following the pattern at the end of this chapter, fold the butcher paper evenly accordion style to form about twelve pages as shown in the pattern at the end of the chapter. Cut two pieces of cardboard the same size as the top of the accordion stack of paper.

On one of the pieces of cardboard, draw a cityscape. Cut out both pieces of cardboard along the rooftops of the cityscape. Trace the cardboard rooftops onto the stack of paper and cut the pages to fit the cardboard covers. Glue the first page to the front cardboard and the last page to the back cardboard. Fill your book with drawings, stories or a tour of your pretend city.

Crafts:

(Illustrations for all crafts can be found at the end of this chapter.)

Thaumatrope

The thaumatrope consists of a small disk attached to two pieces of string. There is a different image on each side of the disk (e.g., a face on one side and a mustache on the other), one of which is inverted. When one twirls the disk by twisting the string, the viewer sees a face with a mustache. This phenomenon is called "persistence of vision," the fundamental principle for making anything appear to move.

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Cover weight paper stock
- ◆ Thaumatrope drawing of bird and cage (found at the end of this chapter)
- ◆ Two 10-inch Strings
- ◆ Glue Sticks
- ◆ Scissors

DIRECTIONS:

Photocopy the thaumatrope drawing of the bird and nest on cover weight paper stock. Cut out the outline making sure not to separate the circles. Fold over and glue the circles together. Poke holes in the spots indicated and tie a string on each side. Spin the circles by holding the strings and twirling them. As the thaumatrope rapidly spins, the bird will appear to sit in the nest.

Pinhole Cameras

By using common household materials, you can make a camera that will produce pictures. Making and using a pinhole camera will acquaint you with the basic elements of photography while providing an inexpensive and interesting way to take pictures.

A pinhole camera is a small, light-tight can or box with a black interior and a tiny hole in the center of one end. You can design it to accept roll or sheet film. The two ends of the camera are parallel. The end opposite the pinhole is flat so that the film is held in a flat plane. The pinhole has a cover to prevent light from entering the camera when you aren't taking a picture.

To make a can or box pinhole camera, use a 2-pound coffee can or any can that has a tight fitting top such as a clean paint can, a vegetable shortening can, a peanut can, or even a cylindrical oatmeal box. If the can you use has a plastic lid, you can paint the lid black. Be sure to paint it inside and out; then before using it, check to make sure no paint has chipped off. Chipped or peeling paint on the lid will allow light to enter the camera and ruin your pictures. Paint the inside of the camera body with dull black paint or line it with black paper to prevent light reflections.

Use the instructions from the book Adventures with a Paper Cup by Harry Milgrom to make a pinhole camera.

Animated Face

Cut eyes and a rectangular mouth out of a paper plate, and cut slits at the edge of the plate, as shown in the pattern. Let the children draw a nose and eyebrows on the plate. They can draw a series of eyes with different expressions on a strip of paper, and on another strip of paper they can draw smiles and frowns. Then they thread the two strips through the cut-outs in the paper plate and pull on them to animate the face.

Activities:

Personal Timeline:

Guide the children to create a timeline of their own lives, including milestones such as birthdays, moves to new homes, births of younger family members, addition of pets, happy and sad events, and educational milestones. They can talk with parents or estimate when events happened in their lives that they do not personally remember, such as learning to walk, talk, or ride a bicycle. They can draw pictures or bring photographs from home to illustrate their timelines. Let them look for books in the library that have characters who match the milestones of their personal timelines such as babies and toddlers, etc.

Y2K Diary

Copy the pages at the back of this chapter called "This is Me in the Year 2010" and "A Day in the Year 2000" and let the children write a letter to themselves and describe who they are now and who they will be in the future.

Y2K Gazette

Here's a chance for children to create a paper filled with news they love to read. Copy the pages at the back of this chapter entitled: "The 2000 Times" and let the children write their own stories and share them with the group.

Make a Time Capsule

- Danny Dunn and the Smallifying Machine by Jay Williams and Raymond Abrashkin.

Invention Timeline

Let each child select one invention or discovery and write the name of the invention or discovery and the date it was invented or discovered at the top of a piece of paper. They can draw a picture to illustrate the invention.

Arrange the pages in chronological order along the wall. The children can look for books, both fiction and nonfiction, that have something to do with these discoveries and list those titles on the appropriate segment of the invention line, and can add titles to any segment. Discuss whether some topics have more titles than others and why that might be.

Invention 2000

Copy the page at the back of this chapter called "Invention 2000" and let the children work individually or in groups to design an invention to solve a problem. Let them share their inventions with the entire group and display them in the library.

Invention Word Puzzle

Reproduce the Invention Word Puzzle at the end of this chapter and let the children find the words and complete the sentences.

Craft:

Build a Blimp

MATERIALS:

- ◆ One pint milk carton (cut in half lengthwise)
- ◆ One drinking straw
- ◆ Three helium filled balloons
- ◆ Thread
- ◆ Tape

DIRECTIONS:

Tie two pieces of thread around the edges of the straw as shown in the pattern. Tape or tie the thread to the corners of the milk carton. Tape or tie one long thread to the milk carton. Tie or tape the helium balloons to the straw. After the blimp is assembled, try to float it, holding on to the long string.

SPACE RACE

Books to Share:

Space Rock by Jon Buller.

The Magic School Bus Lost In The Solar System by Joanna Cole.

The Fantastic Cutaway Book of Spacecraft by Nigel Hawkes.

Here Come the Aliens by Colin McNaughton.

Bugs in Space by David Carter.

Craft:

81

Space Bugs

Using the materials listed below, encourage the children to create their own alien or earth bugs.

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Modeling clay
- ◆ Pipe cleaners
- ◆ Feathers
- ◆ Wiggle eyes
- ◆ Wooden beads
- ◆ Crayons
- ◆ Markers

- ◆ Glitter
- ◆ Construction paper
- ◆ Flexible plastic straws
- ◆ Different sizes and colors of pom poms
- ◆ Scissors
- ◆ Glue

DIRECTIONS:

Give each child a small amount of the modeling clay and provide a central location for the other items. Feathers and straws can be easily stuck into the modeling clay.

Rocketships

MATERIALS

- ◆ Toilet tissue tubes
- ◆ Aluminum foil
- ◆ Paper half circle, taped or stapled into cone shape
- ◆ Glue
- ◆ Crepe paper strips (red)
- ◆ Tape

DIRECTIONS:

Cut half circles out of paper in advance. Give each child a toilet tissue roll and a sheet of aluminum foil to wrap around the roll. Let them staple the half circle to make a cone shape and glue the cone onto the roll. They can then tape crepe paper "flames" onto the bottom of their rocket ship.

Space Capsule Craft

MATERIALS:

- ◆ A paper or styrofoam cup
- ◆ A plastic bag (bread bag or grocery bag)
- ◆ Some string or wool (3 or 4 pieces)
- ◆ Tinfoil
- ◆ Optional: Stickers, scissors, and glue

DIRECTIONS:

Wrap the cup in tinfoil and attach it with tape or glue. Decorate the cup with stickers as desired. Poke a hole in the top of the cup and thread 4 pieces of string through. Tie a knot inside the cup so the string will not fall out. Cut a square "parachute" out of the plastic bag to make a square piece of plastic and attach one of the strings to each corner. Let the children toss it in the air and play with it, or hang it from the ceiling.

The children can draw a face of an astronaut on a piece of paper and glue it to the side of the upside-down paper cup. They can draw a little window around the face if desired.

Creative Drama:

Listen to "An Adventure In Outer Space" by Greg and Steve from their On The Move CD, or take the children on an imaginary trip through outer space. Explain lack of gravity and its relationship to movement. Challenge the children to walk, run, skip, hop, gallop, leap, and crawl through space. Go for a long nature walk on the moon and see what kinds of imaginary items children discover.

Space Trip

Ask the children to pretend to pack all necessary items for a space voyage, put on their uniforms, and get into a spaceship. After they return from their visit to outer space, have them close their eyes and try to remember what the life forms looked like. When they open their eyes, they can describe them, write a story or poem about them, or draw them. Hang the creatures on a bulletin board.

Postcards from the Outer Limits

In the Magic Schoolbus book, the class travels through space and has a wild adventure. Ask your children to imagine a trip into outer space and to create a postcard showing and telling what they saw. This is a great opportunity to display a number of non-fiction books about space in your library.

Flipping Dmitri Puppet

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Metal coat hangers
- ◆ Drinking straws
- ◆ Manila file folders
- ◆ Dmitri pattern
- ◆ Crayons
- ◆ Masking tape

DIRECTIONS:

Copy the pattern of Dmitri onto manila folders and cut them out. Let the children color them. Cut the straws in half. Unfasten the coat hangers and straighten one side so you can slide the straw over it. After putting the straw on, bend the hanger into a rectangular shape as shown. Be sure the wire is closed safely with no sharp edges exposed. Cover any sharp edges with masking tape. Tape Dmitri's hands to the straw. Swing the hanger and Dmitri should flip over the bar. Color and cut the bag and Lulu, then add them to the hanger also.

Crafts:

Create a Wacky Desk-top Computer

MATERIALS:

- ◆ 1 Square box (which will serve as a computer monitor)
- ◆ 1 Rectangular box (which will serve as the CPU)
- ◆ 1 Roll of white contact paper
- ◆ 1 Roll of black contact paper
- ◆ Scissors
- ◆ Glue
- ◆ 2 Large squiggly eyes
- ◆ 1 Red 1" pompom
- ◆ 1 Strip of red yarn 6" long

DIRECTIONS:

Cover five sides of the square box with white contact paper. Cover the remaining side with black contact paper (the black side will be the face of the computer screen). Cover all sides of the rectangular box with white contact paper. Use the large squiggly eyes, red pompom, and strip of yarn to create a wacky face on the black side of the square box. Place the square box on top of the rectangular box as you would find a monitor on the hard drive of a desktop computer.

Web Detective Stories

Hold a storytelling program during which children make up their own detective stories while creating an actual web. To begin, have children sit in a circle on the floor with a ball of yarn or string. Begin the story yourself. After a while, stop, and holding the end of the yarn, roll the ball to one of the children sitting across from you. S/he must continue the story for a while. At a critical point of that child's tale, stop and ask that child to roll the ball of yarn to another person in the circle. Continue the story until everyone has added a part. Be sure to make an audiotape of the story so the children can listen to it later.

Young Adult Programs

BACK TO THE FUTURE POETRY SLAM

In a Poetry Slam a group of poets compete with three-minute performances of their work. Judges score Olympic-style on a scale from 1 to 10, with decimals encouraged. The competition pits poem against poem, poet against poet. It is equal parts poetry, performance, delivery and verve, and, occasionally, theater, stand-up comedy, or monologue pieces that might only be loosely classified as 'poetry.'

A panel of judges may be arranged ahead of time or picked from the audience. Detailed guidelines for presenters, audience, judges, and masters of ceremony may be found at the Austin Poetry Slam web site at <<http://victorian.fortunecity.com/parkwood/437/>>.

Publicity:

Create flyers and posters inviting teens to write poetry about "life in the future" for a Poetry Slam at the Library. The poems should take no more than three minutes to read. Post them at the circulation desk, in the young adult or teen department, and on bulletin boards throughout your library. Display them at local bookstores and favorite teen places in your community.

Decorations:

Arrange the room café-style with small tables surrounding a stage. Set up a sound system.

Refreshments:

Serve sodas, coffee, cocoa, punch, and cookies.

Ready, Set, Poetry!

After the teens mingle for a short time, the MC invites them to come to the stage one by one to read their original poetry. Expect the audience to respond vociferously! Take photos, or videotape their performances.

Incentives:

If you want to make the poetry slam a contest, offer an incentive. Gift certificates, poetry books, and blank books to write poetry in are a few ideas. A local bookstore or department store might be willing to donate items to use as prizes. Judges could be teachers, local writers, or librarians. If you do not want to have a contest, you can have a drawing at the end of the readings. Add the names of the teens who participate in the poetry slam to the drawing.

After the Readings: 🕒

Play the videotape while teens socialize and await the decision of the judges.

Additional Activity: 🎨

Set up a magnetic poetry board for attendees to use before and after the poetry readings. Magnetic poetry kits can be purchased at any large bookstore.

Follow-up: 📄

Display the photos and copies of the poems on the bulletin board in the young adult department of your library.

OSCAR PARTY

Books to Share: 📖

70 Years of the Oscars: The Official History of the Academy Awards by Robert Osborne.

The Envelope, Please: The Ultimate Academy Awards Trivia Book by Arnold Wayne Jones.

Refreshments: 🍰

Serve cookies and soda in plastic champagne glasses.

Decorations: ✨

Hang movie posters, white holiday lights, and stars cut out of cardboard and covered with foil. Put black paper tablecloths sprinkled with confetti in the shape of gold stars on the tables. Write each teen's name on a star-shaped name-tag.

Oscar Costumes

Invite teens to come dressed up as their favorite actors and actresses, for instance Leonardo di Caprio and Kate Winslet, for this star-studded affair. Give a mini Oscar award to the best-dressed teen. Play the soundtracks from Oscar winners such as Titanic: Music from the Motion Picture.

Guess the Star

As each teen comes in the door, place a nametag on his or her back featuring the name of a movie or popular television star. Each teen must discover the name written on the nametag by asking questions. The other teens can answer any question, but must not reveal the name of the star. The first to figure out whose name s/he is wearing wins a prize.

Trivia Sheet

Use the book The Envelope, Please: the Ultimate Academy Awards Trivia Book to create a trivia sheet.

Acceptance Speech

Ask each teen to write an acceptance speech thanking the people who helped them achieve their dream.

Video Time

Videotape the teens as they read their acceptance speeches, sing, or lip sync, act out small skits, or just clown around. Let them view the tape afterward.

POP ART

Pop Art is a form of art in which the images come from popular culture or everyday life. In the 1960's, Roy Lichtenstein used enlarged portions of comics and advertisements in his paintings and Andy Warhol painted large Campbell soup cans and celebrities on his canvases. The public found this art to be strange and shocking.

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Art books
- ◆ Old magazines
- ◆ Colored pencils
- ◆ Large drawing paper
- ◆ Markers
- ◆ Scissors
- ◆ Glue

DIRECTIONS:

Select from your library collection a number of books with illustrations of artwork from the Pop Art Movement. Also, bring in a selection of everyday objects and magazines to inspire the teens in creating their own Pop Art. Arrange the objects on a table and let the teens decide which items they would like to draw. Display the artwork in the library.

ORAL HISTORY PROGRAM

Activity:

Create a simple oral history interview script. Invite elders in your community to attend the program and send them copies of the interview script in advance. You may wish to include representatives of significant ethnic groups. Let the teens interview them and create a newsletter to share with library patrons. Add the newsletter to your web site.

Follow-up Activity:

Give the teens additional interview scripts to take home with them and encourage them to interview their parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents. Display these on your library bulletin board or add them to your web site. Encourage the teens to make audiotapes or videotapes of these interviews.

Ask them to imagine what the world will be like one thousand years in the future and let them write and illustrate their ideas. Display them on a bulletin board or post them onto your web site. Let them publish a newspaper or newsletter.

Time Capsule

Let teens make a list of the most significant events that have occurred during their lives and create a Year 2000 time capsule. Keep a copy in your library to be opened in the year 2020. Place copies of the list in sealed envelopes for each of them to open 20 years in the future. For ideas, look at the web site CBC4Kids Time Capsule at

Dessert: Millennium Mud Pie or Warp Speed Waffles

Milky Way Shake

INGREDIENTS:

3 Bananas

3 Cups of milk

12 Ice cubes

Directions:

Put all ingredients in a blender. Blend on high until smooth and foamy. Pour into 6 glasses and serve.

Space Station Special

INGREDIENTS:

- 3 Pocket pitas cut in half
- 3 Tablespoons of mayonnaise
- 1 Teaspoon of mustard
- 2 Cups of shredded lettuce
- 1 Cup of chopped cucumber
- 1 Cup of chopped tomato
- 1 Cup of your favorite cheese chopped or shredded.

DIRECTIONS:

Mix the mayonnaise and the mustard together in a small bowl. Mix the lettuce, cucumber, tomatoes, and cheese together in a large bowl. Spread some of the mayonnaise mixture inside each pita pocket. Fill each pita with some of the lettuce and cheese mixture.

Time Warp Wrap

INGREDIENTS:

- 6 Large sized soft flour tortillas
- 3 Tablespoons of mayonnaise
- 1 Tablespoon of ketchup
- 1 Teaspoon of mustard
- 2 Cups shredded lettuce
- 6 Slices of your favorite cheese
- 6 Slices of your favorite cold cut (ham, turkey, bologna)

Bread and butter pickle slices (optional)

DIRECTIONS:

Mix the mayonnaise, ketchup, and mustard in a small bowl. Spread each wrap with some of the mayonnaise mixture. Sprinkle with shredded lettuce. Arrange cheese and cold cuts in a single layer. Add pickle slices if you want. Roll up tightly.

Millennium Mud Pie

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 Ready to eat chocolate cookie crumb pie crust
- 6 Ready to eat individual chocolate pudding cups
- 1/4 Cup chocolate chips or chocolate sprinkles
- 6 Gummie worms

DIRECTIONS:

Fill the pie crust with the pudding. Sprinkle with chocolate chips or sprinkles. Decorate with gummie worms. Put in refrigerator until ready to eat.

Warp Speed Waffles

INGREDIENTS:

- 6 Toaster waffles
- 6 Tablespoons of your favorite jam
- 6 Scoops of your favorite ice cream

CAREER DAY

Have a career day and invite adult members of the community to talk to teens about their work and the education, knowledge, abilities, and experience required for their professions. Let the presenters sit at tables and speak to the teens individually about their areas of interest.

Advertise your career day in the local newspaper and place flyers in the community. Display books related to careers and higher education. Use the following books and others available at your library, along with the web sites below, to make a handout of career related materials for teens. #### Program Ideas:

Vintage Car Show Contest

Host a vintage car show in the library parking lot with the help of local car dealers. Allow teens to vote on their favorite vintage automobiles. Ask an auto mechanic to explain about car maintenance and why it is needed.

Model Airplane Craft Workshop

Host a model airplane craft workshop with the help of a local craft or hobby store. Instruct teens to bring their models with them to the workshop for one-on-one assistance.

CYBER-DANCING!

Books to Share:

Harvest Moon by Mel Odom.

Isadora Duncan: Revolutionary Dancer by Larry Sandomir.

Martha Graham: A Dancer's Life by Russell Freedman.

Dance Class and Contest

Hold a dance contest. Teens sign up individually, as couples, or as dancing groups. Invite local dance studio instructors to come and offer dance instruction in swing, country and western, or other dances prior to the contest, and to be judges for this event. Include free or discounted dance lesson coupons to the winners of the contest.

Line Dance Party

Invite a dance teacher to instruct the teens in popular line dances.

Invent Techno Music

Techno music is extremely popular with teens today. It is computer generated music with 120-160 beats per minute. Go to <www.mp3.com> to listen to some techno. Contact a radio station at a local college and invite a disc jockey to explain and demonstrate how computers are used to create techno music.

Dance Performances

Invite local cultural dance groups such as Ballet Folklorico to perform at your library and let the teens make crafts related to that culture.

CREATE A WEB PAGE

Offer a workshop on creating web pages. Encourage each teen to list their hobbies, favorite books, and book reviews. Tell them not to include their phone number, address, or other personal information. Review each teen's finished page and then add a page to your Library's Youth site with links to each participant's web page. Invite the teens to volunteer at the library to assist younger children with the computers and show them how to create web pages. The following web sites may be useful in designing your program.

Programs for Families, Large Groups, and Small Groups

JUMANJI PROGRAM

Books to Share:

Jumanji by Chris Van Allsburg.

The Jungle Book by Rudyard Kipling.

Just So Stories by Rudyard Kipling.

Decorations:

Cut the seams from large garbage bags to open them up double length. Hang them with tape and cover all of the walls. Make leaves from light and dark green construction paper, cut green and brown streamers for vines, and tape to the garbage bags to give the room the look of a jungle. Place stuffed animals and plants around the room. If refreshments will be served, use green cups, plates, and table cloth. Play Deep in the Jungle; Jumpin' Jungle Rhythms for Kids by Joe Scruggs..

Games and Activities:

Read Jumanji and play the board game.

Goodie Bag Treasure Hunt

Prepare goodie bags with party favors such as rubber bugs, small magnifying glasses, jungle stickers, rubber lizards, pencils with a jungle theme, and little toy jungle animals. Put the goodie bags in a large box decorated like a treasure chest. Make a treasure map to the goodie bags, then cut the map into four pieces and hide each of them separately. Make little rhyming clues to find each piece of the map such as "this is the largest ring around, you use it to shoot and rebound." When the map pieces are found, the children put them together and follow the map to the goodie bags in the treasure chest.

Go on a Safari Hunt

Hide stuffed or plastic animals and let the children "hunt" for them and keep what they find.

Stampede!

Use an overhead projector to enlarge elephants, rhinos, and zebras onto a roll of white butcher paper. Let the children paint or color them and hang the "stamped" on the wall.

Storytelling: 🗣️

Invite a storyteller to tell tales about jungle animals, such as Rudyard Kipling's Just So Stories.

Music: 🎵

Deep in the Jungle; Jumpin' Jungle Rhythms for Kids by Joe Scruggs.

Video: 📺

Jumanji. (104 min.)

ARTS AND CRAFTS PROGRAM

Books to Share: 📖

Ella's Trip to the Museum by Elaine Clayton.

How to Take Your Grandmother to the Museum by Lois Wyse.

Class Trip to the Spooky Museum: A Hair Raising

Lift-the-Flap Tour by Buster Yablonsky.

It's Funny Where Ben's Train Takes Him by Robert Burleigh.

The Lion and the Little Red Bird by Elisa Kelven. Tell this story using a lion puppet, red bird and different colors of yarn to switch on the tail.

Night City by Monica Wellington.

Books to Display: 📖

Draw Fifty Airplanes, Aircraft, and Spacecraft by Lee J. Ames.

Draw Fifty Famous Cartoons by Lee J. Ames.

Stories in Stone: Rock Art Pictures by Early Americans by Caroline Arnold.

American Eye by Jan Greenberg.

Maria de Sautuola: The Bulls in the Cave by Dennis B. Fradin.

Models by Keith Newed.

From Sea to Shining Sea by Amy L. Cohn.

Crafts and Activities: ✂️

Quick-Draw Station

Most children love to draw but don't know how to begin. Tips from how-to-draw books can help them get started. Gather how-to-draw books and drawing materials, such as paper, pencils, paints, and crayons. Some books to try are Draw Fifty Famous Cartoons, and Draw Fifty Airplanes, Aircraft, and Spacecraft, both by Lee J. Ames. Since good drawings are built from basic geometric shapes, such as circles and rectangles, help the children build their visual vocabulary by finding the shapes in objects in the library.

Modeling Clay

Modeling clay can be used over and over again if it is properly cared for. Store clay in tightly sealed containers such as margarine tubs. Use inexpensive air-dry clays for permanent sculptures. Ask children to plan a sculpture on paper and then create a scale model in clay.

Homemade Clay

MATERIALS:

- ◆ 1 Cup salt
- ◆ 2 Cups of flour
- ◆ 2 Tablespoons vegetable oil
- ◆ 1 Cup water
- ◆ Food coloring

DIRECTIONS:

Mix the flour and the salt in a bowl. Add water, oil, and food coloring. Try to make red, yellow and blue clay so the children can mix the colors by mixing the clay. If it is too sticky, add more flour. If it is too dry, add more water. Store in a plastic container or bag in a cool place (fridge is good). This fun dough will last quite a while and is a joy for kids to play with and explore.

Fun with Homemade Clay

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Homemade clay (recipe above)
- ◆ Covered work area
- ◆ Craft sticks
- ◆ Plastic spoons

- ◆ Cookie cutters

- ◆ Plastic PVC pipe or wooden rolling pins

DIRECTIONS:

Let the children help to make the homemade clay. Then tell them that they can make whatever they want. They can use plastic spoons, popsicle sticks or cookie cutters to make shapes and creatures. Hand out a few rolling pins or pieces of PVC pipe for the children to roll the clay. PVC pipe is available from plumbing stores and if asked, they sometimes provide it without charge.

Make Decorations

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Construction paper
- ◆ Beads and sequins
- ◆ Glitter and jewels
- ◆ Feathers
- ◆ Stickers
- ◆ Pasta and beans
- ◆ Tissue paper
- ◆ Bows, ribbon and wrapping paper
- ◆ Felt
- ◆ Paint
- ◆ Foam
- ◆ Flowers
- ◆ Cotton balls
- ◆ Pipe cleaners

DIRECTIONS:

Use these supplies and let the children decorate goodie boxes, masks (Mardi Gras style or other) plastic visors, flower pots, or t-shirts, or anything else that comes to mind.

They can also make tissue paper hats. Let them choose two pieces of tissue paper of coordinating colors. Place a piece of newspaper between them and use masking tape to hold them together. Place this on top of the child's head and wrap masking tape around the crown of the head over the paper. Then turn the tissue paper up all the way around the hat to form a brim using tape as you go. Decorate with flowers, stickers, etc.

Stamp Fun

There are many rubber stamp kits available. Encourage the children to bring their own and share with the group. Provide potatoes and plastic knives so the children can carve their own stamps. Use tempera paint as ink.

Display a book such as Stamping Fun by Petra Boase along with code books and let the children create stamps with codes for others to decipher. Display books that show symbols from various cultures such as African, Native American, Celtic, or Egyptian, and encourage kids to design their own personal symbols on their stamps.

Ocean 3-D Mural

On a large sheet of blue bulletin board paper, have the teens create an ocean mural. After studying pictures of different sea animals and inhabitants of the ocean floor, let them draw outlines of these animals on folded extra-large pieces of construction paper using a black marker. Once they have cut around each outline, staple the two matching outlines together leaving one side open. Stuff each sea animal with crumpled newspaper and staple the opening closed. Glue these animals to the mural. Then add a few seashells and twisted green and teal colored crepe paper streamers for kelp.

Watercolor Collage

Paint ocean waves on butcher paper with watercolors. Bring pictures of different kinds of fish. Teens can draw these or use their imaginations to draw others. Each fish should be about 3 inches to 5 inches long. Give basic instruction in how to use watercolors and let them paint their fish. Ask them to cut out the fish, put their name on it, and arrange them onto the ocean background into a collage. Hang the collage in the library.

INVESTIGATE THE PAST

ARCHAEOLOGY DIG PROGRAM

Books to Display:

- Archeology* by Jane McIntosh.
- Mummies and their Mysteries* by Charlotte Wilcox.
- Bodies from the Bog* by James M. Deem.
- Discovering the Inca Ice Maiden: My Adventures on Ampato* by Johan Reinhard.
- People of the Corn: A Mayan Story* by Mary Joan Gerson.
- The Mystery of the Hieroglyphs: The Story of the Rosetta Stone and the Race to Decipher Egyptian Hieroglyphs* by Carol Donoughue.
- Painters of the Caves* by Patricia Lauber.
- Pyramids* by Anne Millard.

Decorations:

Use a neutral color theme such as sand, black, brown, and deep greens. Decorate with picks, shovels, and burlap bags filled with crushed newspaper or straw. Create a sandbox for the dig and stake it off with rope.

Goodie Bags:

Small pails filled with geodes, arrowheads, magnifying glasses, cool rocks, and fossils.

Games and Activities:

Archaeological Dig

Bury fossils, pieces of pottery, Indian arrowheads, other items from different cultures or eras, as well as modern things in a sandbox. Let the children carefully dig them up with hand trowels and sand screens and sort them into the culture to which they belong. Instead of using "real" items, you can make mini-replicas from Fimo or Sculpy clays.

Rock Search

Hide a bag of rocks for each child and give them maps to follow to the site of the hidden rocks.

Fossil Find

Bake fossils or tiny items into playdough. Hide them around or in the sand and let the kids find them. Have them crack them open to see what is inside.

Craft: ✂

Cave Painting

Some of the world's earliest artists were cave painters who drew charging buffalo, leaping deer, wild horses and other animals on cave walls, most likely to bring themselves good luck in hunting. Using burnt wood, soil, and leaves, they created strong, black outlines and muted colors still expressive and elegant 13,000 years later.

MATERIALS

- ◆ Brown paper grocery bag or brown paper
- ◆ Pencil
- ◆ Wide black marker or charcoal
- ◆ Paintbrushes
- ◆ Tempera paint in black and earth tones (red, orange, brown, gold)

DIRECTIONS:

Help the children prepare the surface of the paper bag so that it has a worn and rough appearance like that of a cave wall. Crinkle the paper, spray it with water in the sink but do not soak, and then let it dry completely. A hair dryer will speed the drying time, or you may do this part in advance and demonstrate it to the children.

The children can make a few preliminary sketches of the animals using a pencil and a piece of plain paper. They may follow in the steps of the cave artists and draw prehistoric animals, or they may prefer to depict familiar animals, such as cats, dogs, or birds flying in flocks. Whichever subject they choose, remind them that they need not include every detail but can make creatures from simple shapes such as circles, triangles and rectangles. Tell them not worry if the animals do not look exactly like those in photographs. After all, neither do the original cave paintings!

When they are happy with their sketches, they are ready to draw on the brown paper. Tell them to first make a rough pencil sketch on the bag and then go over the pencil marks with black paint, marker or charcoal, making sure the lines are thick and strong. They can then add details, such as eyes, ears, horns, tails, or antlers. When the black lines have dried, they can paint the figure and background with the earth-tone paints.

To frame the finished drawing, mount it on a piece of black construction paper using glue or rubber cement. If the children really take to this project, they may want to try creating an even more authentic cave painting, using a large flat stone (available at garden centers) for canvas and, with help, natural materials such as soil, leaves, dandelions, or a charred stick for drawing.

EXPLORE THE PRESENT

CAMPING PROGRAM

Books to Share:

Overnight at Mary Bloom's by Aliki.

Berenstain Bears Go To Camp by Stan and Jan Berenstain.

Sleep Out by Carol Carrick.

Nature Walk by Florian Douglas.

North Country Night by Daniel San Souci.

Treasure and Scavenger Hunts: How to Plan, Create, and Give Them by Gordon Burgett.

Decorations:

Set the stage for a midsummer night's fun right inside your library! Gather a few items that will help you set the mood. Encourage youngsters to relax and gaze at the stars and firefly lights while you read a favorite story by lantern light.

- ◆ Hang small, white, blinking Christmas lights to serve as flashing fireflies.
- ◆ Affix some glow-in-the-dark stars to your library ceiling. These may be purchased at nature stores such as Natural Wonders.
- ◆ Set one or two child-safe fans on a low setting to provide a simulated summer breeze.

- ◆ Play a recording of nature sounds to fill the air with the chirps of crickets and the peeps of frogs.
- ◆ Push tables and chairs out of the way, and spread picnic blankets on the floor.
- ◆ Turn off overhead lights, close the blinds, and switch on one or two battery-operated lights or lanterns.

Snacks:

Make no-bake s'mores out of graham crackers, marshmallow crème, and chocolate bars, or put mini-marshmallows, chocolate chips, and graham cereal in baggies.

Activities and Games:

Campfire Stories

Suspend sheets or blankets from the ceiling to create a "tent" in your children's area. Have a "family campfire stories" night.

Camping Trip

You need at least two people who already know how to play the game.

Play begins with one person saying,

"I'm going on a camping trip and I'm going to bring..."

The first player chooses anything s/he would like to bring on the trip. Using a sleeping bag as an example, they say:

"A sleeping bag."

The next player says,

"I'm going on a camping trip and I'm going to bring..."

The second player picks anything s/he would like to bring on the trip, but it must begin with the letter "G", since the last letter of "sleeping bag" is a "G." The second person might choose to bring a grasshopper. The other players all say together,

"Okay, you can bring a grasshopper on our camping trip."

The next player must then take a turn and name an item that begins with the last letter in "grasshopper." If someone says they will bring something that does not begin with the last letter of the item the previous player named, all players say together,

"No, you can't bring that!"

The next player takes a turn and play continues until everyone catches onto the game.

Backpack Memory Game

This activity is packed with visual-memory skills. In advance, bring in a backpack and a variety of items you might take on a camping trip, such as sunglasses, a book, a flashlight, etc. Invite a child to name each item, then pack them in the backpack while the children watch carefully. Ask one child to take the backpack into another room or behind a bookshelf and remove one item. Then open the backpack and let the children name the missing item. Continue the game by having other children take turns packing and removing items. Increase the number of items in the backpack as the children's visual memory improves.

Jokes and Riddles: ?

How do bees get to school?

Why shouldn't we pollute the ocean?

Because it'll get seasick.

What do frogs wear to keep their feet cool?

Open-toad shoes.

Mother: Why'd you put a spider in your brother's bed?

Sister: Because I couldn't find a toad

What can you do if you're surrounded by lions, tigers, leopards, and bears?

Jump off the merry-go-round.

Why don't anteaters ever get sick?

Because they're full of ant-i-bodies.

What do Smokey the Bear, Winnie the Pooh, and Tony the Tiger all have in common?

They all have the same middle name.

MIB (MEN IN BLACK) PROGRAM

Decorations: ✿

Decorate with green, silver and black balloons and streamers. Make flying space ships using two aluminum pie plates, one inverted on top of the other. Before sealing them together with glue or tape, pass a thread or fishing line through the bottom of one. Suspend them from the ceiling at different heights. For planets, tape blown, blue, or green balloons to the ceiling. For comets, tape red and orange balloons with ribbon hanging down. Tape the paper planets and comets at different heights.

Goodie Bags: ❏

Fill with goodies, alien items, astronaut ice cream, MIB items, and space pops. Have an identification badge with an agent letter on the front for each child and let them put their fingerprint on the inside along with stats such as "home planet, sector, and special skills." Fill bags with tinsel for effect.

Crafts: ✂

Make Aliens

Let the kids use their own creativity to create alien beings using the following supplies.

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Toilet paper tubes
- ◆ Pipe cleaners
- ◆ Wiggle Eyes
- ◆ Tape
- ◆ Glue
- ◆ Yarn
- ◆ Tissue paper

Space Ships

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Colored paper plates
- ◆ Colored paper bowls
- ◆ Glitter
- ◆ Pipe Cleaners
- ◆ Glue
- ◆ Crayons
- ◆ Pens

DIRECTIONS:

Glue an overturned paper bowl to a paper plate. Let the kids decorate with glue, construction paper, glitter, pipe cleaners, crayons and pens. Give prizes for the most alien and imaginative. Let the kids fly their new craft in a space race and give a prize to the one that flies the farthest.

Space Suits

Give each child a paper bag, slit up the back with holes cut for the head and arms. Let them decorate their "space suits."

Games and Activities:

Robot Arm

Children form two teams. A child on one team is the "operator" and a child on the other is the "robot."

Use a bandana or scarf to cover the robot's eyes.

Set one or more objects throughout the room in different areas at waist level. Let the robot look around the room, then cover the robot's eyes. Make sure s/he cannot see.

At "Go," the operator must give the robot commands such as forward, left, right, arm out, down, pick-up, etc. These commands should direct the robot to the item(s). The operator must then give commands to have the robot return.

When the task is accomplished, a robot and an operator are chosen from the opposite teams. Use a stopwatch or timer to time each team. The winning team is the one whose operator directs the robot to the items in the least amount of time.

For younger players, have the robot sit and use only an arm. Cover his/her eyes and place the objects around them. The operator then gives the commands for the robot's arm.

MIB Relay

Have a relay race to see which team can dress in MIB clothes the fastest. Use black suits, old shoes, white shirts, and ties from thrift stores. Form two teams and have the first person in each line race to the pile of clothes, put them on over their own, put on sunglasses, and have their picture taken for an ID badge. Then s/he races to the next person in line and helps them dress. The first team to have pictures taken for ID badges for all members wins.

Musical Meteors

Make meteor shapes out of poster board and place them in a circle on the floor. Tape them to the rug or floor so they do not slide. Use one less shape than the number of children in the game. Play music and let the children walk in a circle. When the music stops, each child must be on a meteor shape! The child who is not standing on a meteor is out of the game. Remove one meteor shape and continue until only one player is left!

Living in Space

Obtain the booklet "The Mars Millennium Project" from the National Arts, Sciences, and Technology Education Initiative. ## Invent the Future Celebrations

Here are some ideas for a kickoff or end-of-summer program for your reading club. The activities reflect on the past and look to the future.

MILLENNIUM READING CLUB KICKOFF PARTY

Feature a family celebration with crafts, music, and face painting. Hang festive lights and register children for the Reading Club at the event.

Making noise is a traditional way to celebrate new beginnings. Kick off your Reading Club by gathering alarm clocks and timers and setting them for a particular time. When the alarms sound, begin a Reading Club Parade. Make it extra fun by including some of the crafts and ideas below.

Crafts:

Noise Makers

Let the children make noise-makers and shake them when the alarm clocks sound and during the parade around the library.

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Clear plastic cocktail glasses
- ◆ Beans, rice, buttons, and brightly colored beads
- ◆ Colored tape

DIRECTIONS:

Pour a handful of beans, rice, buttons, and beads into a glass. Place another glass on top, matching rim to rim. Tape the two together with the colored tape. Lead a parade around the library and allow the children to shake their noisemakers.

Flag It

Let the children design colorful flags or banners to represent the reading club and march in the kickoff parade waving their flags or carrying their banners. Decorate the children's department with them after the parade.

Millennium Fashions

Provide cardboard cut outs to be decorated as future style clothes. Let the children decorate them with cloth, colored paper, glitter, etc., and wear their designs during the parade.

Millennium Mascot

Have a contest to create a reading club mascot, or select one yourself and use it to decorate your library. Some ideas might be a millipede (which means "thousand feet"), "K2 the Koala," or "Techno 2000," the future guy super hero.

Wishing Tree

Collect a variety of small trinkets that suggest an activity or accomplishment, such as a coin for wealth, kazoo for learning music, an owl for knowledge. Write short fortunes on scraps of paper. Wrap a trinket and a fortune in a scrap of wrapping or tissue paper. Tie each at the top with a length of ribbon and hang them on a branch of a real or artificial tree you have set up on display. At a designated time, participants take a fortune from the tree and read it.

Activities:

Multi-cultural Costumes

Invite children to dress to represent elements from their own cultural traditions at the kick-off party for an even more colorful parade.

Mini Olympics

The summer games of the XXVIIth Olympiad will take place in Sydney, Australia in 2000. The Olympics should attract more than 10,000 athletes from 171 nations. Look at books about the Olympics. Think of ways the year 2000 Olympics could be made different. Then host a mini Olympics at the library!

INVENT THE FUTURE FOLLIES

Host a celebration with a space-age theme and decorate accordingly. Play sound tracks from science fiction movies such as Star Wars and E.T.

Books to Display:

Aliens for Breakfast by Jonathan Etra.

Aliens Ate My Homework by Bruce Coville.

Close Encounters: Exploring the Universe with the Hubble Space Telescope by Elaine Scott.

The History News: in Space by Michael Johnstone.
Magic School Bus: Lost in the Solar System by Joanna Cole.

Earth Hounds as Explained by Professor Xargle by Jeanne Willis.

Activities:

Rocket Piñata

Let the children smash a rocket piñata. You may wish to make one with instructions in a craft book. You can also order one from a local company or Piñata Design at <www.pinata.design.com/>.

Alien Bingo

Write "Alien" across the top of the card instead of "Bingo." You may wish to use a dry erase board to write down the numbers as they are called. This can be a challenge for the bingo caller and the kids! Prizes can be items related to outer space and space travel.

Song: ♪

A-L-I-E-N

(Sing to the tune of "B-I-N-G-O." Repeat the verse seven times. After the first verse, drop one letter each repetition, beginning with "A", and replace each with a handclap. On the last verse, children clap five times without speaking.)

There was a creature from outer space and Alien was his name-oh.

And Alien was his name-oh.

Crafts: ✂

Invent the Future Mobile

Copy the mobile pattern at the back of this chapter onto heavy cardstock. Let the children color the star, sun, moon, and rainbow and cut out the pieces.

Let them connect the pieces of the mobile by attaching the sun, moon, and star to the rainbow with string. The rainbow is at the top and the star is in the middle. The sun and moon attach to the ends of the rainbow.

Invent the Future Pencil Holder

Copy the pattern for the pencil holder at the end of this chapter onto heavy cardstock. Let the children paint or color it and follow the directions for assembly.

Robots

Let the children build robots from various sized boxes and tubes and then paint them with gold or silver paint or cover them with tin foil.

Games: 🎮

Phone Home

Divide the children in teams of two or more and give them a mission to build a radio tower using blocks or other materials that can be stacked.

On "Go," let the teams begin building for a specified period of time. The winning team builds the highest tower that does not tumble down. The towers must be free-standing.

Alien World

Fill a room with blown up balloons and let the kids play in it. This activity is not for toddlers!

Alien Planet Exploration

Hide different objects or space rocks (rocks wrapped in foil.) Other hidden objects might include plastic Easter eggs with trinkets and stickers inside, unusual plastic animals or alien figures, and candies. If you set up the "Alien World" balloon room...hide them in that.

Pin the Planet on the Solar System

Blindfold the children and let them pin space ships on a poster of the solar system. The child who lands closest to earth wins!

Milky Way Mash

The children are each assigned one of three planet names and then sit in chairs in a circle. One child stands in the center of the ring and calls out one of the planet names and all the kids with that planet then have to scramble to another seat. The person in the middle tries to get one of the vacated chairs. Whoever is left standing is then in the middle. If the child in the middle wants to really make things fun, s/he shouts "Milky Way" and everyone scrambles to a new chair.

Red Paper Good Luck Wishes

During the Lunar New Year, many Chinese families hang red scrolls around their homes to wish their family members good luck. On the scrolls they write poems and wishes with black or gold ink on red paper. Red symbolizes happiness and good fortune. Here is a way for you and your family to wish each other a good year!

MATERIALS:

- ◆ Red paper (cut 4 x 11 inches)
- ◆ Black or gold ink pens
- ◆ Scissors
- ◆ Two drinking straws or two wooden chopsticks
- ◆ Red string or yarn
- ◆ Clear adhesive tape

DIRECTIONS:

Cut the red paper into long vertical strips. On the paper write a wish to a family member. Place a straw or wooden chopstick at each end of the paper and fold or roll the edges of the paper around them. Tape down the edges to hold them in place. Tie the red string or yarn onto the ends of the top straw or chopstick and it is ready to hang.

Activity:

Chinese Zodiac

The year 2011 is the Year of the Rabbit. Let the children use books such as Animals of the Chinese Zodiac by Susan Whitfield to determine their own birth sign animal and associated characteristics. You may wish to make bookmarks or coloring pages for each animal and give them to the children.

head cannot run too fast or twist or turn in such a way that the body might break apart. If the dragon's body breaks up it dies.

Once the head tags the tail the game stops. The head now becomes the tail and the person who was second in line becomes the new dragon's head. The game is over when everyone has had a chance to play or when the children are too tired to play anymore.

Games:

The web site Gamekids at <www.gamekids.com/> suggests many crafts, games, and activities from Asian cultures that are traditionally played at the time of the Lunar New Year. Some of these are included below. Children will enjoy these active games at any time. Try including some of them in your Reading Club Celebrations.

Catch the Dragon's Tail

This game requires a minimum of 10 players. Have everyone stand in a straight line and face forward. Each child then takes both of their hands and places them on the child's shoulders standing in front of them. The child in the front is the dragon's head. The last person in line is the dragon's tail. The object of the game is for the head to catch the tail. When it is time to start, the tail shouts "Go!" The head then turns around and begins to run to catch the tail. The

Eagle and Chickens

(Best suited for children 8 years and older.)

This game is similar to the one above. You will need at least 10 people. One child is the "eagle." Everyone else stands in a straight line and puts their hands on the shoulders of the child in front of them. The first child in line is the "mother hen" and the last child is the baby "chick." Everyone in between is a chick. The eagle stands about five feet away and faces the mother hen. When the last chick says, "Go!" the eagle begins to try to catch the last chick. The mother hen and the rest of the chicks try to protect the last chick. The line of chicks must always hang onto the person in front of them as they twist and turn to protect the last chick. The last chick is out of the game when tagged by the eagle, and the eagle becomes the last chick. The game continues until all the chicks are tagged.

Clap, Clap-Listen!

(For children ages 5 – 8. Younger children may be frightened by blindfolds, so allow them to choose whether or not they wish to play.)

This game is from Vietnam. A minimum of five children are needed to play. One player is blindfolded. Everyone else spreads out around the play area. The adult leader leads the blindfolded person by the hand to the area where everyone is standing. The leader then takes the blindfolded person back to the starting position. Everyone then begins to clap and the blindfolded person listens to the clapping and finds and tags each child. The children who are clapping must not move from the spot in which they are standing. Each child stops clapping one they are tagged. The game ends when everyone has been tagged and all clapping has stopped.

Find the Leader-Zhao Lingxiu

(For children ages 5 and above.)

This is a fun game in which listening and observation skills are important. The children sit or stand in a circle. One child goes out of the room. The rest of the players choose a leader. The leader makes up actions and sounds with his or her hands, such as clapping, snapping, patting a head or a shoulder, etc. All other players imitate whatever the leader does. The person who went out of the room is then called back in and must guess who the leader is. The game continues and s/he guesses right. Then the leader leaves the room and the group then selects someone else to be the next leader.

Stone, Scissors, Paper

(Suitable for children of all ages. Let the children get into groups of three to play.)

This game is known as CHING, CHANG, POK in China or JAN, KEN, PO in Japan. You can play this game with only two people or with teams. The object is to beat your opponent.

The opponents face each other and close their right hand into fists. Both opponents then say the words together in rhythm and move their fists up and down with each word. When the third word is spoken, the opponents open their hands into one of three signs:

Paper - hold out all five fingers

Scissors - hold out the second and third fingers, close the thumb over the last two fingers (like the victory sign)

Stone - keep hand in a fist.

When chanting in Chinese the children say, "ching, chang, polk, - ching, chang, polk, - ching, chang, polk."

When chanting in Japanese, the children say, "jan, ken, po - jan, ken, po - jan, ken, po."

The winner is determined as follows:

Paper wins over Stone because it can wrap around stone.

Stone wins over scissors because it can break scissors.

Scissors wins over paper because it can cut paper.

If both players make the same sign, it is a tie and they start over.

Clip Art

BOOKMARKS, BORDERS, BUTTONS, CERTIFICATES, READING LOGS, AND MORE!

- ❖ Art may be used by Texas libraries for any library-related purpose, including, but not limited to, Texas Reading Club Promotional materials. Art may not be used on the World Wide Web.
- ❖ Items such as t-shirts, which include the clip art and that are produced by or for Texas libraries, may be sold as long as the profits go to the library or the friends of the library, and sales are limited to Texas. Direct questions to the Texas State Library and Archives Commission, 512-463-6624.
- ❖ Art work may not be changed or modified in any way. The name of the library may be added, but the art is owned by the illustrator and should not be touched up, edited, or modified without permission.

To Use Clip Art:

1. Start with your text idea;
2. Choose the clip art that best matches your text;
3. Scan or copy the clip art (reduce or enlarge it if needed);
4. Place the scanned clip art in your computer document, or cut it out and paste the clip art to your hardcopy original;
5. Add finishing touches, and print or copy your masterpiece!
