The Ohio Association of Private College Admission Counselors believes in the dignity, worth, and potential of all human beings and works to eliminate any type of bias from the college admission and financial aid processes.

We believe in the importance of ethical practices in the admission and financial aid processes by all postsecondary institutions. We endorse the basic philosophy of the National Association of College Admission Counselors (NACAC), their Code of Ethics, and their Statement of Principles of Good Practice.

Be it resolved, therefore, that all Ohio colleges and universities not require candidates for admission and financial aid to indicate the order of their college or university preferences, except under early decision plans.

Be it resolved, therefore, that candidates for admission and financial aid be permitted to choose without financial penalty among offers of admission and financial aid until they have heard from all colleges and universities to which they have applied, or until May 1, whichever is earlier.

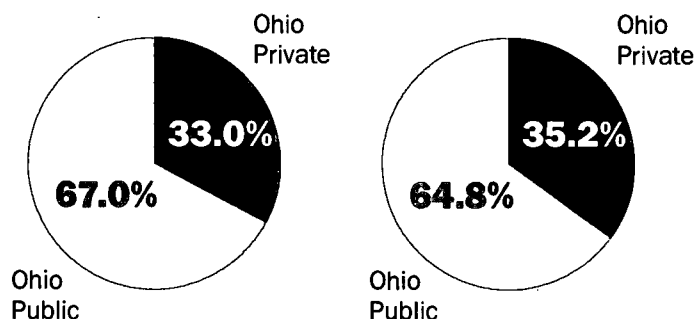

Be it resolved, therefore, that all Ohio colleges and universities state clearly in their letter of acceptance to full-time candidates for admission that they subscribe to the NACAC Statement of Students' Rights and Responsibilities, and to the NACAC Statement of Principles of Good Practice.

Approved by the Ohio Association of Private College Admission Counselors (OAPCAC).

Financial Aid

Why is there a different in price between public and private institutions?

The cost of providing a higher education is generally the same at independent colleges and universities as at public universities. For example, both types of institutions incur costs associated with building and maintaining classrooms, residence halls, computer facilities and libraries; paying faculty salaries; and providing career and counseling services. However, private institutions charge a higher price, or tuition, because they do not receive an educational subsidy from the state.

Apply to colleges that best fit personal needs, regardless of price.

The ability to pay for a college education is likely to be an important factor in selecting a college or university. However, the price of a particular institution should not prevent a student from applying to the schools of his or her choice. A student should apply to colleges that best suit his or her academic, social and personal needs, regardless of the price, because financial aid can make it affordable to attend.

A variety of financial aid is available.

College financial aid programs help families meet the costs of education that exist beyond their demonstrated ability to pay. Institutional need-based and non-need-based financial aid (scholarship, merit, athletic, leadership awards, etc.), combined with any state and federal scholarships, grants, loans and work-study programs, comprise a financial aid package and help defray the costs of attending college. The college will try to make every effort to compile a suitable financial aid package for the student and family so that the price of a college education does not become an overriding factor in choosing an institution.

Complete the FAFSA.

Ohio's private colleges and universities require prospective students to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). To qualify for some state and federal grant and loan programs, students should complete the FAFSA as soon after January 1 as possible. Families can get copies of the form by contacting a college financial aid office, or complete it online at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>. Some colleges and universities also require a supplemental or institutional financial aid form. Students should contact the college financial aid office to learn which financial aid forms are required and the deadlines for submission.

Sample Financial Aid Packages

The following are examples of financial aid packages that might be offered to a student, based on the family, financial and college costs information presented. The actual aid package may be more or less, depending on the student's credentials and the institution's awarding policies and resources. In addition, students and their families may qualify for state and federal tax credits for certain higher education expenses.

Ohio Financial Aid

Ohio Student Choice Grant

The Ohio Student Choice Grant provides financial assistance to full-time students from Ohio enrolled in baccalaureate programs at Ohio private nonprofit colleges and universities. Eligibility for the Student Choice Grant is not based on need or academic merit. The amount of the Student Choice Grant for the 2003-04 academic year is approximately $1,002. No application is required. Students should contact the private college financial aid office for more information.

Ohio Instructional Grant (OIG)

The OIG is need-based aid for full-time undergraduate students who meet family income eligibility requirements. Recipients must be Ohio residents. Award amounts are based on family income, number of dependents in the family, and the type of Ohio college or university attending. The maximum award for the 2003-04 academic year is $5,466. To receive an OIG, a student must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Part-time Student Instructional Grant

This program offers need-based aid for Ohio residents who are enrolled part time in undergraduate programs at eligible Ohio public and private colleges and universities. Institutions select the recipients and determine the amount of each award within guidelines established by the Ohio Board of Regents. Students should contact the college financial aid office for more information.

Ohio Academic Scholarship

The Ohio Academic Scholarship is a competitive, merit-based scholarship for outstanding high school students who enroll as full-time undergraduates in Ohio colleges. Each year, an Ohio Academic Scholarship is awarded to at least one student from each chartered high school in Ohio. Eligibility is determined by a selection formula which considers high school grade-point averages and ACT scores. The scholarship amount for the 2002-03 academic year is $2,205. The scholarship is renewable for a total of four academic years. The application is available through the high school guidance office. Application deadline is February 23.

Ohio Safety Officers College Memorial Fund

This program provides tuition assistance to the children and spouses of Ohio peace officers, firefighters and other safety officers who are killed in the line of duty. Recipients may enroll for full- or part-time study at any participating Ohio postsecondary institution. Awards at independent colleges range up to $3,270 per academic year. Students should contact the college financial aid office or the Ohio Board of Regents State Grants and Scholarships Department.

Ohio War Orphans Scholarship

The Ohio War Orphans Scholarship is tuition assistance for children of deceased or severely disabled Ohio veterans who served in the armed forces during a period of declared war or conflict. A student must be enrolled for full-time undergraduate study at an eligible Ohio college or university and be an Ohio resident under the age of 21. Annual awards at independent colleges range up to $4,206. Applications are available from the Ohio Board of Regents State Grants and Scholarships Department, high school guidance offices, veterans services offices and college financial aid offices. The application deadline is July 1.

Nurse Education Assistance Loan Program

The NEALP provides need-based aid to Ohio students enrolled at least half time in an approved Ohio nurse education program. The maximum award is $3,000 per year for up to four years of study. A recipient who conducts clinical practice in Ohio upon graduation may be eligible for loan cancellation at a rate of 20% per year. The NEALP application deadline is June 1. Applications are available from the Ohio Board of Regents State Grants and Scholarships Department, high school guidance counselors or colleges.

Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship

This program awards scholarships to students who demonstrate outstanding academic achievement in high school. Recipients are selected on the basis of class rank, high school grades, test scores and participation in leadership activities. At least one scholarship is awarded in each of Ohio's congressional districts. Scholarships are renewable for up to four years. Applications are available from high school guidance counselors and must be completed during the senior year of high school, prior to the second Friday in March.

Ohio Outstanding Scholarship

This program will offer a limited number of awards to the state's most academically talented high school graduates who agree to attend college full time in Ohio. The scholarship will cover the total cost of attendance for four years at a public or independent Ohio college. Each high school will nominate candidates for these scholarships, which will be awarded by a statewide advisory committee and the Ohio Board of Regents.

Ohio's undergraduate financial aid programs are administered by the Ohio Board of Regents State Grants and Scholarships Department. Call toll free at 1-888-833-1133 for more information about these programs, or visit the State Grants and Scholarships website :

Ohio Financial Aid

Ohio Income Tax Deduction for College Tuition

Ohio families can now claim an Ohio income tax deduction for qualified postsecondary tuition and fees paid after January 1, 2002. The state deduction is limited to $2,500 per year ($5,000 maximum for the first two years) for an Ohio resident attending an Ohio institution of higher education. This tax benefit is limited to joint filers with a combined federal adjusted gross income not exceeding $100,000 and to single filers with a federal adjusted gross income not exceeding $50,000.

Ohio National Guard Scholarship

Ohio residents who enlist with the Ohio Army or Air National Guard and meet eligibility requirements may qualify for this program. The scholarship will help pay up to 100% of tuition at an Ohio college or university and is in addition to GI Bill benefits. Contact the Ohio Army National Guard at 1-888-644-8273, or the Ohio Air National Guard at 1-800-708-4068.

ROTC Scholarship

These are competitive scholarships offered by the U.S. armed forces. The scholarship amount varies, but can cover full college tuition plus a monthly allowance. Students should apply as soon as possible before December 1 of their senior year. Contact the headquarters of the armed forces for more information: 1-800-423-USA, 1-800-USA-ROTC, or 1-800-USA-NAVY.

Alternative Loans

Private alternative education loans are available to credit-worthy borrowers who need additional funding to help with college costs. Some programs offer low interest rates, in-school deferments, and flexible funding to help with college costs. For additional information about alternative loans, contact any of the financial lending institutions listed in this handbook.

OTTA College Savings Program

The Ohio Tuition Trust Authority (OTTA) is a state agency created by the Ohio General Assembly in 1989 to promote savings for higher education. Through their CollegeAdvantage 529 Savings Plan, OTTA offers several college savings options. The market-based funds are managed by Putnam Investments. Families can choose to participate in all funds. Investments may be applied at any accredited college or university in Ohio or the country. Call 1-800-AFFORD-IT for more information, or visit OTTA's web site at www.collegeadvantage.com.

Additionally, Ohio residents may deduct on their Ohio income tax returns contributions up to $2,000 per year per child made to any of the savings programs. Contributions above $2,000 may be carried forward to future years until fully deducted. Qualified withdrawals made after December 31, 2002 are exempt from federal income tax.

Federal Financial Aid

Federal Pell Grant

The amount of this need-based award depends on an undergraduate student's Expected Family Contribution (EFC), cost of attendance, and whether the student is attending full or part time. The maximum Pell Grant for the 2002-03 academic year is $4,000.

Federal Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant

The FSEOG is for undergraduates with exceptional financial need who also receive the Pell Grant. The grant may be up to $4,000 depending on when the student applies and the level of financial need.

Federal Work Study Program

This program provides jobs for undergraduate and graduate students with financial need. It encourages community service work and work related to a student's course of study. The salary is at least the current federal minimum wage.

Federal Perkins Loan

The Perkins Loan is a low-interest (5 percent) loan for undergraduate and graduate students with exceptional financial need. The loan is made with government and institutional funds. The college or university is the lender, and the loan is repaid to the institution. An undergraduate may borrow up to $4,000 per year.

Federal Unsubsidized/Subsidized Stafford Loan

To receive a Federal Subsidized Stafford Loan, the student must have financial need. Under this program, the federal government pays the interest on the loan during the time the student is attending school and during the six-month grace period following graduation. Under the Unsubsidized Stafford Loan program, the student is responsible for paying the interest accrued on the loan. The student may pay the interest as it comes due, or defer payment of the interest, which will be capitalized, until graduation. Under the Federal Stafford Loan program, a dependent student may withdraw up to $2,625 for his/her first year of study. Both loans have a variable interest rate not to exceed 8.25 percent. Complete a loan application through a participating lending institution. You may contact any of the lending institutions found throughout this guide. Additionally, many of these institutions offer interest rate reductions for making on-time monthly payments and establishing an automatic checking withdrawal. If the college or university participates in the Federal Direct Lending program, a bank loan application is not necessary.

Federal Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)

The PLUS loan is a financial aid resource available to all families regardless of their income. The loan is made directly to the parents and permits them to borrow up to the cost of attendance minus any financial aid received. The interest rate is not to exceed 9 percent. Repayment usually begins within 60 days after receipt of the funds. Applications are available at lending institutions.

Federal Financial Aid

To determine your eligibility for federal student aid programs, you must:

- ◆ complete the FAFSA
- ◆ be a U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen
- ◆ have a valid Social Security Number
- ◆ have financial need (except for some loan programs)
- ◆ have a high school diploma or GED
- ◆ be at least a half-time student
- ◆ demonstrate satisfactory academic progress
- ◆ register with the selective service, if required
- ◆ sign a statement of educational purpose and a certification statement on overpayment and default (both found on the FAFSA)

Tuition and fees paid with tax-free grants, scholarships and employer education assistance are not eligible for either of the following two tax credits; expenses paid with loans are eligible. The credits are reduced for joint filers with an adjusted gross income (AGI) above $80,000 and for single filers who have an AGI of more than $40,000. The credits are completely phased out when incomes reach $100,000 for married couples and $50,000 for individuals.

Hope Scholarship Tax Credit

Parents of dependent students, or independent students, may claim a tax credit equal to 100% of the first $1,000 of tuition and fees (less grants, scholarships, and tax-free tuition benefits) paid and 50% of the second $1,000 paid in tuition and fees. The maximum credit of $1,500 will increase for inflation after 2001. The credit is available only for the first two years of college, and the student must be enrolled at least half time. A taxpayer may claim this credit for each student meeting the qualifications.

Lifetime Learning Tax Credit

This credit applies to tuition and fees paid for undergraduate, graduate and continuing education classes. A family may claim a tax credit of 20% for the first $5,000 in tuition and fees (less grants, scholarships and tax-free tuition benefits). By 2003, the amount of eligible educational expenses will increase to $10,000, resulting in a maximum tax credit of $2,000. This credit is available on a tax return basis, regardless of the number of students enrolled in postsecondary course work. The tax filer may not claim both the Hope Scholarship Tax Credit and the Lifetime Learning Tax Credit during the same academic year for the same student.

Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs)

Education Savings Account - Taxpayers may invest, after taxes, up to $2,000 per year per child under the age of 18. Earnings accumulate tax free, and no taxes will be due upon withdrawal if the money is used for education expenses - elementary, secondary or higher education.

Roth IRA - An after-tax savings option, a single taxpayer may contribute to a maximum of $2,000 per year, and joint filers may contribute up to $4,000 per year to a Roth IRA. (These maximum contributions are reduced by amounts contributed to a deductible IRA). Earnings accumulate tax free, and contributions can continue beyond age 70. Withdrawals for educational expenses are tax free if the distributions are made at least five years after the Roth IRA was established and the taxpayer is age 59 or older.

Penalty-Free IRA Withdrawals - Taxpayers may withdraw funds from an IRA, without penalty, for their own higher education expenses or those of a spouse, child or grandchild. Withdrawals can be used to pay for tuition, fees, books, room and board if the student is enrolled at least half time.

Student Loan Interest Deduction

A student or parent may take a tax deduction for interest paid on student loans. The deduction is available even if the taxpayer does not itemize other deductions. The maximum deduction is $2,500. It is phased out for joint filers with an adjusted gross income between $100,000 and $130,000, and single filers with an adjusted gross income between $50,000 and $65,000.

Contact the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), at 1-800-TAX-FORM to receive a copy of Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Higher Education, which explains the following benefits and rules in details.

Announcements: Recently, Walsh University welcomed the largest incoming freshman class in the school's history (the fourth in five years). In preparation for another record-breaking enrollment year, and a more-responsive learning environment, the University is again on the move. A new $8 million campus center houses an open architecture dining center, student organization offices, convenience store, game room, health facilities and bookstore. The University also unveiled a prayer garden, providing students, faculty, staff and others a quiet place for prayer and reflection. More change for the campus is on the way. This year also saw Walsh University begin renovation of its former campus center into academic space and making physical changes to the Development Offices in Farrell Hall. Under construction are a new natural sciences building (featuring a state-of-the-art bioformatives lab - one of only several in the country), and to provide housing for our growing population, a new residence hall (fourth in six years).
