SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On May 5, 2000, we published a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) in the Federal Register (65 FR 26464) proposing to amend the regulations governing nondiscrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, handicap, and age to conform with the CRRA.

We are amending these civil rights regulations to conform to provisions of the CRRA regarding the scope of coverage under civil rights statutes administered by the Department of Education (Department or ED). These statutes include Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 2000d, et seq. (Title VI), Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, 20 U.S.C. 1681 et seq., (Title IX), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, 29 U.S.C. 794 (Section 504), and the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, 42 U.S.C. 6101, et seq. (Age Discrimination Act). Title VI prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, and national origin in all programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance; Title IX prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in education programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance; Section 504 prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in all programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance; and the Age Discrimination Act generally prohibits discrimination on the basis of age in all programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance.

The conforming change amends each of these regulations to add a definition of "program or activity" or "program" that adopts the statutory definition of "program or activity" or "program" enacted as part of the CRRA. We believe that adding this statutory definition to the regulatory language is the best way to avoid confusion on the part of recipients, students, parents, and other interested parties about the scope of civil rights coverage. These amendments also conform in this regard to the final Title IX regulations for 24 Federal agencies published on August 30, 2000 (65 FR 52858). That common rule incorporated the statutory definitions of "program or activity" or "program" enacted as part of the CRRA.

The Department's civil rights regulations, when originally issued and implemented, were interpreted by the Department to mean that acceptance of Federal assistance by a school resulted in broad institutional coverage. In Grove City College v. Bell 465 U.S. 555 (1984) (Grove City College), the Supreme Court held, in a Title IX case, that if the Department provided student financial assistance to a college, the Department had jurisdiction to ensure Title IX compliance in the specific program receiving or benefiting from the assistance, in this case, the student financial aid program, but that the Federal student financial assistance would not provide jurisdiction over the entire institution. Following the Supreme Court's decision in Grove City College, the Department did change its interpretation, but not the language, of these regulations to be consistent with the Court's restrictive, "program specific" definition of "program or activity" or "program." Since Title IX was patterned after Title VI, Grove City College significantly narrowed the scope of jurisdiction of Title VI and two other statutes based on it: the Age Discrimination Act and Section 504. See S. Rep. No. 100-64, 100th Cong., 1st Sess. 2-3, 11-16 (1987).

Then, in 1988, the CRRA was enacted to "restore the prior consistent and long-standing executive branch interpretation and broad, institution-wide application of those laws as previously administered" (20 U.S.C. 1687 note 1.) Congress enacted the CRRA in order to remedy what it perceived to be a serious narrowing by the Supreme Court of a longstanding administrative interpretation of the coverage of the regulations. At that time, the Department reinstated its broad interpretation to be consistent with the CRRA, again without changing the language of the regulations. It was and remains the Department's consistent interpretation that—with regard to the differences between the interpretation of the regulations given by the Supreme Court in Grove City College and the language of the CRRA—the CRRA, which took effect upon enactment, superseded the Grove City College decision and, therefore, the regulations must be read in conformity with the CRRA.

This interpretation reflects the understanding of Congress, as expressed in the legislative history of the CRRA, that the statutory definition of "program or activity" or "program" would take effect immediately, by its own force, without the need for Federal agencies to amend their existing regulations (S. Rep. No. 100-64 at 32). The legislative history also evidences congressional concern about the Department's immediate need to address complaints and findings of discrimination in federally assisted schools under the CRRA definition of "program or activity," citing examples to demonstrate why the CRRA was "urgently" needed (S. Rep. No. 100-64 at 11-16).

These regulatory amendments eliminate an issue recently raised by the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in Cureton v. NCAA, 198 F. 3d 107 (1999) (Cureton). That court determined that, because the Department did not amend its Title VI regulations after the CRRA amended Title VI, application of the Department's Title VI regulations to disparate impact discrimination claims is "program specific" (i.e., limited to specific programs in an institution affected by the Federal funds), rather than institution-wide (i.e., applicable to all of the operations of the institution regardless of the use of the Federal funds). The Department disagrees with the Cureton decision for the reasons described in this preamble. That decision would thwart clearly expressed congressional intent. In any event, the regulatory changes address the concerns raised by the Third Circuit in that the regulations track the statutory language and apply to both disparate impact discrimination and different treatment discrimination. ("Different treatment," i.e., intentional discrimination, refers to policies or practices that treat individuals differently based on their race, color, national origin, sex, disability, or age, as applicable. That different treatment is generally barred by the civil rights statutes and regulations. "Disparate impact" refers to criteria or methods of administration that have a significant disparate effect on individuals based on race, color, national origin, sex, disability, or age, as applicable. Those criteria or practices may constitute impermissible discrimination based on legal standards that include consideration of their educational necessity.)

The statutory definition, which is now incorporated into the regulations, addresses four broad categories of recipients: (1) State or local governmental entities. (2) Colleges, universities, other postsecondary educational institutions, public systems of higher education, local educational agencies (LEAs), systems of vocational education, and other school systems. (3) Private entities, such as corporations, partnerships, and sole proprietorships, including those whose principal business is providing education. (4) Entities that are established by a combination of two or more of the first three types of entities.

Under the first part of the definition, if State and local governmental entities receive financial assistance from the Department, the "program or activity" or "program" in which discrimination is prohibited includes all of the operations of any State or local department or agency to which the Federal assistance is extended. For example, if the Department provides financial assistance to a State educational agency, all of the agency's operations are subject to the nondiscrimination requirements of the regulations. In addition, "program or activity" or "program" also includes all of the operations of the entity of a State or local government that distributes the Federal assistance to another State or local governmental agency or department and all of the operations of the State or local governmental entity to which the financial assistance is extended. For example, if the Department provides financial assistance under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act to a State educational agency and the State educational agency distributes the financial assistance to a local educational agency, then all of the operations of the State educational agency are subject to the nondiscrimination requirements of the regulations, and all of the operations of the local educational agency are covered.

Under the second part of the definition of "program or activity" or "program," if colleges, universities, other postsecondary institutions, public systems of higher education, local educational agencies, systems of vocational education, or other public or private schools or school systems receive financial assistance from the Department, all of their operations are subject to the nondiscrimination requirements of the regulations. For example, if a public school district receives funds from the Department under the Safe and Drug Free Schools and Communities Act, the entire school district is covered, not just the district's Safe and Drug Free Schools and Communities component. Additionally, for example, if a college or university receives student financial assistance from the Department, all of the operations of the college or university are covered, not solely the operations of the student financial assistance office. In addition, the legislative history of the CRRA made it clear that "all of the operations" was not limited to traditional educational operations, but was intended to include other benefits and services of the educational institution, such as faculty and student housing, campus shuttle bus services, and commercial activities, such as cafeterias and bookstores.

Under the third part of the definition, in the case of private entities not already listed under the second part of the definition, if the federally assisted entity or organization is principally engaged in the business of education (or health care, housing, social services, or parks and recreation), then the entire corporation, partnership, or other private organization or sole proprietorship is the covered "program or activity" or "program." For example, if an individual elementary or secondary school that is neither part of an LEA nor part of an assisted private "school system" receives financial assistance from the Department, the school will be covered on an institution-wide basis under this portion of the definition of "program or activity" or "program" because it is an entity principally engaged in the business of providing education. For example, if a proprietary trade school receives student financial assistance from the Department, all of its operations are covered by the nondiscrimination requirements of the regulations.

Also under the third part of the definition, if a private entity is not principally engaged in the business of education (or health care, housing, social services, or parks and recreation) and the Department extends financial assistance to the private entity "as a whole," all of the private entity's operations at all of its locations would be covered. If the Department were to extend general assistance, that is, assistance that is not designated for a particular purpose, to this type of corporation or other private entity, that would be considered financial assistance to the private entity "as a whole." In other instances in which the geographically separate facility receives assistance under the third part of this definition, the coverage would be limited to the geographically separate facility that receives the assistance.

Under the fourth part of the definition, if an entity of a type not already covered by one of the first three parts of the definition is established by two or more of the entities listed under the first three parts of the definition, then all of the operations of that new entity are covered. Under the illustrative example in the legislative history, a public school district (an entity listed under the second part of the definition) and a private corporation (an entity listed under the third part of the definition) may establish a new company, which is a public-private partnership designed to provide remediation, training, and employment to high school students who are at risk of dropping out of school. If the new company applied for and received financial assistance from the Department, then, as an entity listed under the fourth part of the definition, all of its operations would be covered, even if the assistance from the Department were only to one division or component of the new company.

The regulatory changes also modify or delete some sections of the Department regulations that have become superfluous following the CRRA enactment, to conform with the CRRA definitions of "program or activity" or "program." These regulatory changes do not change the requirements of the existing regulations. This is consistent with the approach in the Title IX common rule. As explained in the preamble to the NPRM for the Title IX common rule, that regulatory language in ED's Title IX regulations made superfluous by the enactment of the CRRA was omitted in that rule (64 FR 58571).

The Department's Title IX regulations, promulgated in 1975 by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in 49 FR 24128 and adopted by the Department of Education upon its establishment in 1980, 45 FR 30955, defined "recipient" as an entity "to whom Federal financial assistance is extended directly or through another recipient and that operates an education program or activity that receives or benefits from such assistance." At that time, the words "or benefits from" were necessary to clarify that all of the operations of a university or other educational institution that receives Federal funds—not just the particular programs receiving financial assistance—are covered by Title IX's nondiscrimination requirements. As previously discussed, this interpretation was rejected by the Supreme Court in 1984 in Grove City College, which held that Federal student financial aid established Title IX jurisdiction only over the financial aid program, not the entire institution. However, Congress' 1988 enactment of the CRRA counteracted this decision by defining "program or activity" and "program" to provide expressly that Title IX covers all educational programs of a recipient institution. Because of this statutory change, the words "or benefits from" are no longer necessary as a regulatory matter, and we deleted them. For the same reason, we deleted the words "or benefits from" from the Section 504 regulations. These deletions do not affect the reach of Title IX or Section 504.

The Department of Education's Title VI regulations, promulgated in 1964 by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in 29 FR 16298 and 29 FR 16988 and in 1965 in 30 FR 16988, and adopted by the Department of Education upon its establishment in 1980, (45 FR 30918), previously included an assurance requirement for institutions in § 100.4(d)(2) that created confusion with regard to the scope of "program or activity" and "program" under Title VI. One example is the previously referenced decision in Cureton. The regulatory provision previously stated, in part, "The assurance * * * shall be applicable to the entire institution unless the applicant establishes, to the satisfaction of the responsible Department official, that the institution's practices in designated parts or programs of the institution will in no way affect its practices in the program of the institution for which Federal financial assistance is sought * -

*-." We have deleted that portion of the assurance that begins with the word "unless" to avoid any further confusion. As previously stated, it was appropriate to apply the CRRA statutory definition of "program or activity" to the regulations. For the same reasons, we have deleted portions of the illustrations in § 100.5(b) and (d), since they could create similar confusion. Specifically, in § 100.5(b), we deleted the language that states that, with regard to university graduate research, training, demonstration, or other grants, the prohibition extends to the entire university "unless it satisfies the responsible Department official that practices with respect to other parts or programs of the university will not interfere, directly or indirectly, with fulfillment of the assurance required with respect to the graduate school." Similarly, in § 100.5(d), we deleted the language that states that "In construction grants the assurances required will be adapted to the nature of the activities to be conducted in the facilities for construction of which the grants have been authorized by Congress." These deletions do not affect the reach of Title VI.

In addition, we deleted references to "program" or "program or activity" in the regulations that do not refer to the CRRA broad definition of that phrase, in order to eliminate potential confusion in the use of these terms and to continue the longstanding Department interpretation of the statutes and regulations. For example, in some instances, we deleted "program" or "program or activity" and substituted "Federal financial assistance" or "aid, benefits, or services." In others, we changed "programs and activities" to "programs or activities" or "program or activity" to conform the regulations to the phrase used in the CRRA—when it is used in the broad manner defined in the CRRA. We did not modify the term "activity" when it appears separately from the phrase "program or activity" and is used in a manner unrelated to the CRRA phrase "program or activity."

These final regulations use the plural terms "programs" and "programs or activities" to refer generally to multiple programs or activities operated by multiple recipients. The singular terms "program" or "program or activity" are used in all other instances. We have chosen to use the singular in all of those cases because, under the CRRA and these regulations, virtually all of our recipients, such as institutions of higher education, will have only one "program" or "program or activity" encompassing all of the recipient's operations. In addition, since the use of the singular may be interpreted to encompass the plural, these regulations typically use the singular even though in certain cases we may fund a recipient that operates more than one program or activity that receives Federal financial assistance (such as when an individual recipient corporation has multiple plants, each of which is a separate program or activity). Similar regulations of other Federal agencies may use the plural form of these terms more frequently as they may tend to fund a greater number of recipients that operate more than one program or activity. Use of the singular or plural forms of these terms should not be interpreted to imply any legal difference in the intended scope of coverage.

It is important to note that these changes do not in any way alter the requirement of the CRRA that a proposed or effectuated fund termination be limited to the particular program or programs "or part thereof" that discriminates or, as appropriate, to all of the programs that are infected by the discriminatory practices. See S. Rep. No. 100-64, at 20, ("The [CRRA] defines 'program' in the same manner as 'program or activity,' and leaves intact the 'or part thereof' pinpointing language.").

We replaced the current definition of "program" in 34 CFR 100.13 with the definition of "program or activity" and "program." We added the definition of "program or activity" and "program" to 34 CFR 106.2. We added the definition of "program or activity" to 34 CFR 104.3 and to 34 CFR 110.3. Conforming changes to the nonregulatory guidance in Appendix B of Part 100, Appendix A of Part 104, and Appendix A of Part 106 will be published in the Federal Register in a separate notice. Nothing in these changes affects coverage under the Federal employment nondiscrimination statutes, including Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title I of the Americans with Disabilities Act, and the Age Discrimination in Employment Act.

Except for minor editorial and technical revisions, there are no differences between the NPRM and these final regulations.

Analysis of Comments and Changes

In the NPRM, we invited comments on the proposed regulations. We did not receive any comments. However, we have reviewed the regulations, in consultation with the Department of Justice, since publication of the NPRM and have made minor editorial and technical changes.

Executive Order 12866

We have reviewed these final regulations in accordance with Executive Order 12866. Under the terms of the order we have assessed the potential costs and benefits of this regulatory action.

The potential costs associated with the final regulations are those resulting from statutory requirements and those we have determined to be necessary for administering these programs effectively and efficiently.

In assessing the potential costs and benefits—both quantitative and qualitative—of these final regulations, we have determined that there probably will be no cost impacts because these final regulations merely clarify longstanding Department policy and do not change the Department's practices in addressing issues of discrimination.

We also have determined that this regulatory action would not unduly interfere with State, local, and tribal governments in the exercise of their governmental functions.

We summarized the potential costs and benefits of these final regulations in the preamble to the NPRM (65 FR 26467).

Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

These regulations do not contain any information collection requirements.

Assessment of Educational Impact

In the NPRM we requested comments on whether the proposed regulations would require transmission of information that any other agency or authority of the United States gathers or makes available.

Based on the response to the NPRM and on our review, we have determined that these final regulations do not require transmission of information that any other agency or authority of the United States gathers or makes available.
