THE UNIVERSITY

The University of North Carolina is a multicampus university composed of the 16 public senior institutions of higher education in North Carolina. The campuses, located across the state (see enclosed map), are characterized by diversity. Each is unique in program offerings, admission requirements, student body make-up, campus life, and historical background. This brochure presents general institutional information and a comprehensive inventory of educational opportunities at the 16 institutions. It is intended to help prospective students choose the institution with the educational program best suited to their needs and interests.

EQUALITY OF OPPORTUNITY

The University of North Carolina and all of its constituent institutions are committed to equality of opportunity. There shall be no discrimination within the University against applicants, students, or employees on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, age, disability, or national origin, consistent with provisions of applicable state and federal law.

PROMOTING RACIAL INTEGRATION

The University of North Carolina actively seeks to promote racial integration at each of its constituent institutions.

Dear Counselor:

Enclosed is the 2004-2005 edition of the Institutional Profiles, University of North Carolina. As you know, this report was first recommended by an ad hoc committee of high school counselors convened in the summer of 1992. It is a single source of much of the information used by counselors and students in their consideration of UNC institutions and has grown through the years in its content and value.

This year we wish to remind you of the information about the University's new Minimum Course Requirements for admission. Detailed information is available at http://www.northcarolina.edu/content.php/assessment/reports/student_info/mcr.htm and also through the College Foundation of North Carolina at www.CFNC.org.

Statewide distribution of the Institutional Profiles, as in previous years, includes:

- five (5) copies per high school—for the counseling office and the library or other school offices; and
- three (3) copies for transfer counselors at each college and university in the state.

A limited number of extra copies of the Institutional Profiles may be obtained by contacting Ms. Judy Munson at (919) 962-1000.

Institutional Profiles is available on the web at:

<http://www.northcarolina.edu/content.php/assessment/reports/profiles/current.htm>, and additional information for prospective undergraduate students can be found at:
http://www.northcarolina.edu/content.php/assessment/reports/student_info.htm.

Administrators, counselors, and prospective students should find the information at these sites very helpful.

Gratified by the positive responses to Profiles, I will continue to welcome your comments and suggestions for improvements. Many thanks to you and your colleagues for the important work you do to help students achieve their full academic potential.

Sincerely,

Molly Corbett Broad

Introduction

The profiles, tables, and narrative materials in this document were prepared in response to suggestions from school counselors and university staff. Their purpose is to consolidate essential information about the constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina into one publication for use by school counselors, students, and their parents.

The information contained in this document is not exhaustive. The task of providing complete information about academic programs, college costs, and campus life properly remains with each individual campus and we invite you to write or visit campus admissions offices as your interests dictate. The information in this document is provided to introduce students and their parents to each campus and to facilitate comparisons among campuses on measures of special importance to prospective college students.

The University of North Carolina institutions participate in the College Foundation of North Carolina (CFNC) website, the single best source to plan for college, apply to college, and pay for college (www.CFNC.org) in North Carolina. Using CFNC, students can explore their career interests, search the educational programs offered across the campuses, and learn how to pay for college. In addition, online applications for all 16 campuses are available through CFNC.

Also, the CFNC Resource Center's TOLL-FREE telephone line at 866-866-CFNC is provided to assist with any questions about going to college in North Carolina. Resource specialists are available Monday through Friday to assist students, parents, and educators with their questions.

Institutional Profiles is produced once annually in the fall and distributed to high school counselors and transfer counselors in North Carolina. Suggestions for improvement or changes in distribution should be forwarded to:

UNC-GA ProgAssess/InstProf.JC002B.K/7-15-04

Note: The data in these profiles are as current as our data collection schedules permit; no estimates or projections are provided for future years. This is because campus policies are always subject to change due to changes in state and federal laws, regulations, and funding levels, and of course, to the campus governance process itself. These changes are seldom large, however, and rarely affect essential differences among the campuses.

Minimum Course Requirements for Undergraduate Admission to UNC Institutions

Individual constituent institutions may require other courses in addition to the minimum requirements. For some transfer students and students who graduated from high school prior to 2004, special considerations have been made.

Effective in Fall 2004 and Fall 2005

Six course units¹ in language, including

- four units in English emphasizing grammar, composition, and literature, and
- two units of a language other than English.

Three course units of mathematics, in any of the following combinations:

- algebra I and II, and geometry,
- algebra I and II, and one unit beyond algebra II, or
- integrated math I, II, and III.

It is recommended that prospective students take a mathematics course unit in the twelfth grade.

Three course units in science, including

- at least one unit in a life or biological science (for example, biology),
- at least one unit in physical science (for example, physical science, chemistry, physics), and
- at least one laboratory course.

Two course units in social studies, including one unit in U.S. history, but an applicant who does not have the unit in U.S. history may be admitted on the condition that at least three semester hours in that subject will be passed by the end of the sophomore year.

Effective in Fall 2006

Six course units in language, including

- four units in English emphasizing grammar, composition, and literature, and
- two units of a language other than English.

Four course units of mathematics, in any of the following combinations:

- algebra I and II, geometry, and one unit beyond algebra II,
- algebra I and II, and two units beyond algebra II, or
- integrated math I, II, and III, and one unit beyond integrated math III.

(The fourth unit of math affects applicants to all institutions except the North Carolina School of the Arts.) It is recommended that prospective students take a mathematics course unit in the twelfth grade.

Three course units in science, including

- at least one unit in a life or biological science (for example, biology),
- at least one unit in physical science (for example, physical science, chemistry, physics), and
- at least one laboratory course.

Two course units in social studies, including one unit in U.S. history, but an applicant who does not have the unit in U.S. history may be admitted on the condition that at least three semester hours in that subject will be passed by the end of the sophomore year.

¹ “Course units” as defined in these requirements may include those high school-level courses taken and passed by an applicant after graduating from high school, as well as those taken while enrolled as a high school student. For some transfer students and students who graduated from high school prior to 2004, special considerations have been made.

Notes and Explanations

Please be aware of the following as you study and use the institutional profiles of the University of North Carolina.

- The abbreviations of the 16 campuses of the University of North Carolina used in this publication are as follows:

ASU	Appalachian State University	UNC-A	University of N.C. at Asheville
ECU	East Carolina University	UNC-CH	University of N.C. at Chapel Hill
ECSU	Elizabeth City State University	UNC-C	University of N.C. at Charlotte
FSU	Fayetteville State University	UNC-G	University of N.C. at Greensboro
NCA&T	N.C. Agricultural and Technical State University	UNC-P	University of N.C. at Pembroke
NCCU	N.C. Central University	UNC-W	University of N.C. at Wilmington
NCSA	N.C. School of the Arts	WCU	Western Carolina University
NCSU	N.C. State University	WSSU	Winston-Salem State University

- Data in the institutional profiles reflect what was current when taken to press, and may be subject to change over the course of the year.
- Admissions criteria include factors other than high school rank and SAT scores, and may vary from institution to institution.
- High school class rank and SAT score profiles are based on enrolled first-time freshmen who had both sets of data at the time of their admission. Some non-traditional students may not be represented in these profiles.
- The retention rate is based on the first-time full-time freshmen entering each institution in the fall of 2002 and returning to the same institution for their sophomore year in the fall of 2003. Graduation and persistence rates are based on fall 1997 first-time full-time freshmen. Graduation rates show the percentage of these freshmen who have graduated from their original institution after 4, 5, and 6 years; persistence rates show the percentage who have either graduated or are still enrolled at their original institution after 4, 5, and 6 years.
- The estimated annual student cost includes estimates for a regular nine-month college year. Estimates for summer attendance are not included.
- Advanced Placement (AP) and International Baccalaureate (IB) credit information is shown in abbreviated form. Institutional policies represent final authority.
- The 1990 version of the Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) taxonomy developed by the National Center for Educational Statistics is the source for program titles used in the Bachelor's Degree Programs Offered (specific majors) section and also in Appendix G, Active Academic Degree Programs. The CIP program titles may be slightly different than the titles for majors used by the individual institutions in their publications.
- The titles for persons shown as directors of student financial aid and directors of admissions are generic. Exact titles may vary from one institution to another. Correspondence addressed as shown will reach the proper person.

Brief Description

A doctorate granting university offering degree programs at the baccalaureate, master's, intermediate, first professional (medicine) and doctoral levels. Its instructional programs are organized in 11 colleges and professional schools (arts and sciences, business, education, fine arts and communication, health and human performance, human ecology, technology and computer science, medicine, allied health sciences, nursing, and graduate school). East Carolina University is dedicated to educational excellence, responsible stewardship of the public trust, and academic freedom. The University values the contributions of a diverse community and guarantees equality of opportunity.

History

Established in 1907 as East Carolina Teachers Training School. Name changed to East Carolina Teachers College in 1921 and to East Carolina College in 1951. Designated East Carolina University in 1967. Merged into the University of North Carolina in 1972.

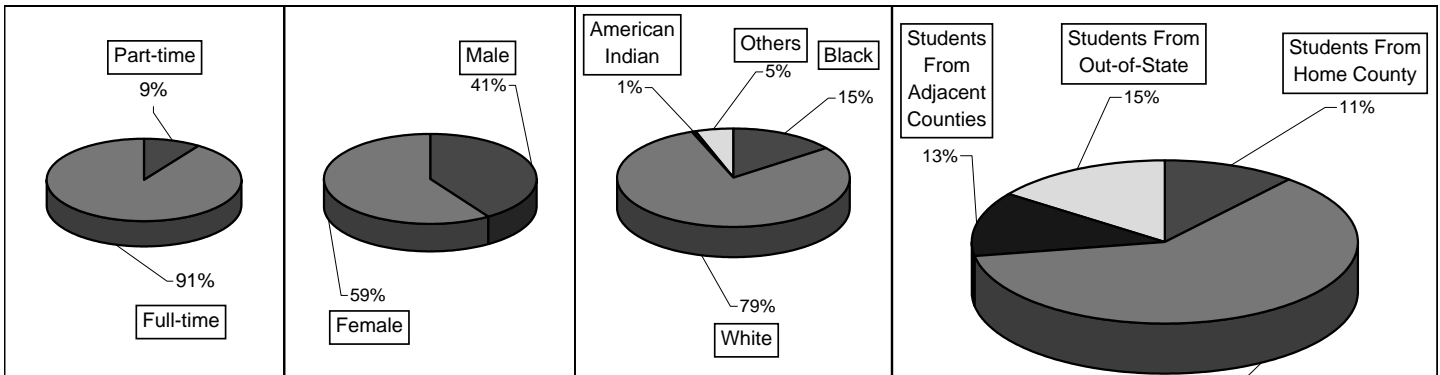

Location

East Carolina University's east campus is adjacent to downtown Greenville, the business, medical, and educational hub of eastern North Carolina. The medical campus is adjacent to Pitt County Memorial Hospital in west Greenville. Greenville (population: 63,444) is located ninety miles east of Raleigh. The small city is within easy driving distance of coastal and beach resorts and the Outer Banks, as well as Richmond, Virginia, and Washington, D.C.

NORTH CAROLINA CENTRAL UNIVERSITY

<http://www.nccu.edu/>

Brief Description

This comprehensive university offers undergraduate and graduate programs leading to the baccalaureate and master's degrees in its College of Arts and Sciences, the Schools of Business, Education, and Library and Information Sciences, as well as the first professional degree in the School of Law. The Graduate School coordinates graduate admissions and enrollment, and the University College coordinates Summer School, Extension, Distance Education, and Degree and Non-degree Credit programs and courses. Continuing its commitment to equal opportunity, North Carolina Central University (NCCU) vigorously recruits, and strives to enroll a larger number of white and other minority students.

History

Founded by Dr. James E. Shepard in 1909 and chartered as the National Religious Training School and Chautauqua to train community leaders. It operated as a private, non-sectarian institution from 1910 until 1923 when it became the state-supported Durham Normal School. In 1925, it became the nation's first state-supported liberal arts college for black people and was accredited as an "A" class institution in 1937. Renamed North Carolina Central University in 1969 and became a constituent institution of the University of North Carolina System in 1972.

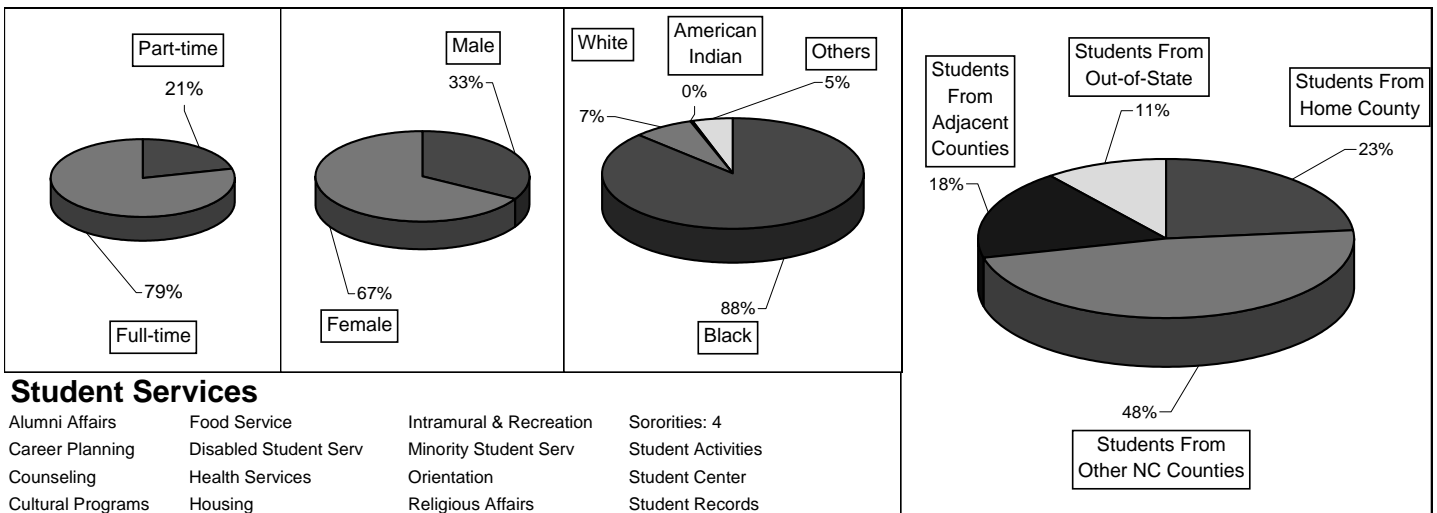

Location

Durham is one of the three cities anchoring the internationally renowned Research Triangle Park. More than 198,400 residents live in the city, which has a highly diversified economy. Highlights of Durham economy include medical innovation and high technology.

NORTH CAROLINA SCHOOL OF THE ARTS

<http://www.ncarts.edu/>

Brief Description

The North Carolina School of the Arts trains talented students from high school to graduate school for professional careers in the performing, visual, and film and television arts. Students are admitted by audition or interview to the Schools of Dance, Design & Production, Drama, Filmmaking, and Music. Students study with resident master teachers who have had successful careers in the arts and who remain active in their professions. The association of gifted students and artist-teachers creates a diverse and challenging environment for study and performance. The arts and academic curricula culminate in a high school diploma with arts concentration in dance, drama, music, and visual arts; the arts diploma at the college level in dance, design & production, drama, filmmaking, and music; baccalaureate degrees in dance, design & production, drama, filmmaking, and music; master's degrees in design & production and music; and the Professional Artists Certificate in music. The North Carolina School of the Arts is committed to equality of educational opportunity.

History

Established by the 1963 General Assembly as a residential public institution for training in the performing arts. Merged into the University of North Carolina in 1972.

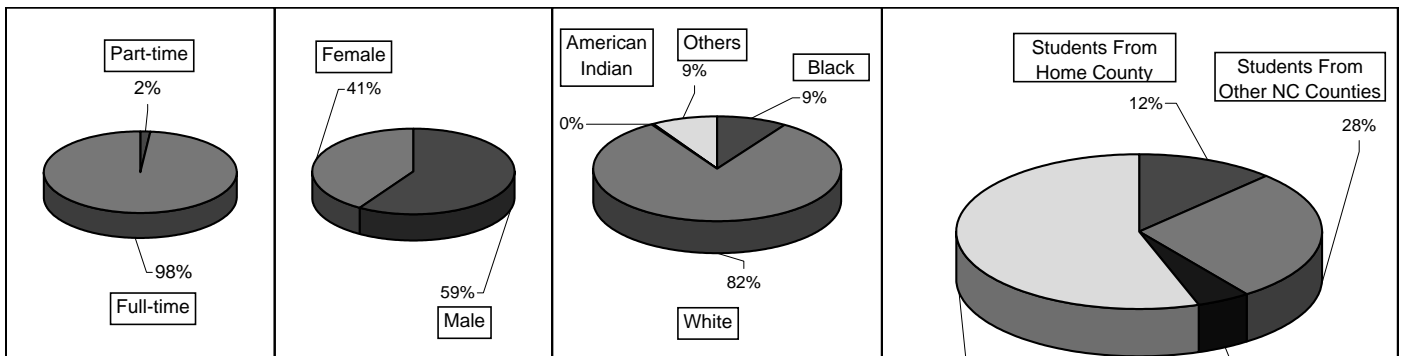

Location

Sixty-seven acres in southeastern Winston-Salem (population: 191,000), a city with a growing technology sector, nationally recognized for its support of the arts.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY

<http://www.ncsu.edu/>

Brief Description

North Carolina State University, in its second century of service, is a national center for research, teaching, extension and engagement in the sciences and technologies, in the humanities and social sciences, and in a wide range of professional programs. This major research land-grant university offers degrees at the baccalaureate, master's, intermediate, first professional and doctoral levels in 125 fields of study. Academic programs are organized into the Graduate school and 10 colleges (Agriculture & Life Sciences, Design, Education, Engineering, Humanities & Social Sciences, Management, Natural Resources, Physical & Mathematical Sciences, Textiles and Veterinary Medicine). Freshmen may also enroll in First Year College. North Carolina State University is committed to equality of opportunity and actively recruits students, faculty, and staff of color.

History

Founded in 1887 as a land-grant college. Originally designated North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. Name changed to North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering in 1917. Merged with the University of North Carolina in 1931. Renamed North Carolina State University at Raleigh in 1965.

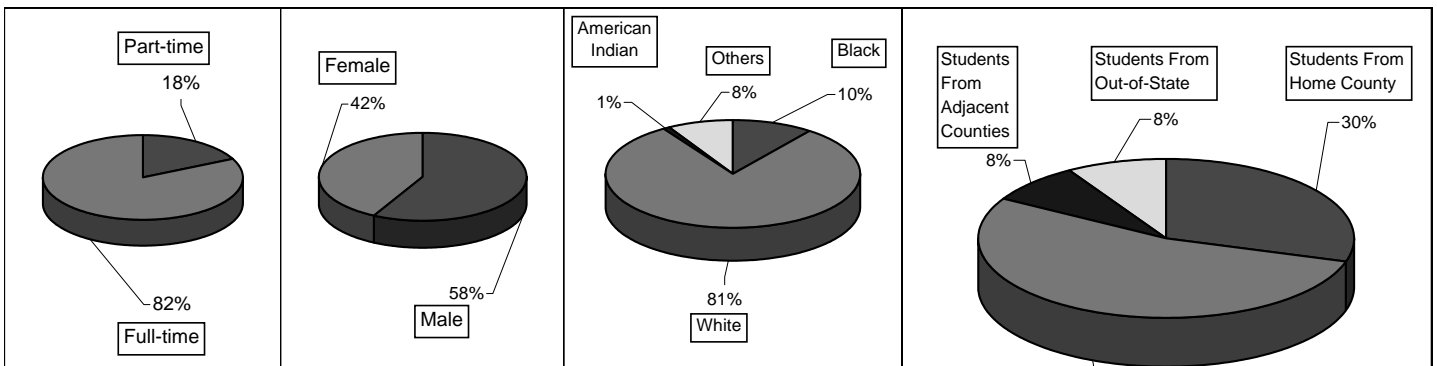

Location

West of downtown Raleigh, the capital of North Carolina. With a population approaching 300,000, the city of Raleigh is the largest in a million-plus metropolitan area which includes the Research Triangle Park.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT ASHEVILLE

<http://www.unca.edu/>

Brief Description

The designated undergraduate liberal arts university in the UNC system; offers 30 majors in the Arts, Humanities, Natural and Social Sciences, Professional and Preprofessional areas, leading to the baccalaureate degree, as well as a master of liberal arts program. Nationally recognized for its required Humanities sequence and the Undergraduate Research Program, which promotes close faculty-student interaction and unique research experiences in all disciplines. The Asheville Experience emphasizes an integrative approach to learning and development. The University of North Carolina at Asheville is committed to equality of educational opportunity, and seeks to recruit and enroll a diverse student body.

History

Founded in 1927 as Buncombe County Junior College; became Asheville-Biltmore College in 1936; joined the state community college system in 1957. Became a state-supported senior college in 1963 and granted its first baccalaureate degrees in 1966. Joined the UNC system as UNC at Asheville in 1969. Granted first master of liberal arts degrees in 1991. Designated a Liberal Arts College I by UNC Board of Governors in 1992.

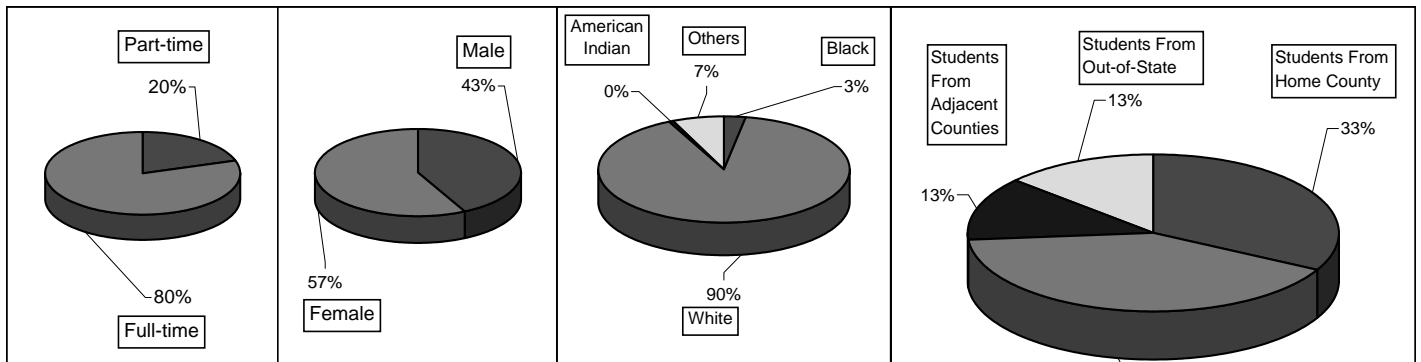

Location

The scenic 265-acre mountain campus is located one mile north of downtown Asheville, the population, cultural and business center of the Western North Carolina region. Situated in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, UNCA is surrounded by more than a million acres of national parks and forests, including Pisgah National Forest, the Blue Ridge Parkway and the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. Recently named an All-America city, Asheville (metropolitan population 286,000) combines mountain culture and vibrant modern life.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL

<http://www.unc.edu/>

Brief Description

A major research university offering programs at the baccalaureate, master's, intermediate, first professional, and doctoral levels. With the exception of engineering and agriculture, it is the state's principal center of graduate education and research at the doctoral levels. Its instructional programs are offered through two divisions. The division of academic affairs consists of eight colleges and schools. The division of health affairs includes five schools. There are 80 centers, institutes, and multidisciplinary programs. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is committed to equality of opportunity. To further diversity, the University actively seeks to recruit and enroll a greater number of students of color.

History

Chartered in 1789. First state university in North America to admit students (1795). Together with North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro, now the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, and North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering at Raleigh, now North Carolina State University, became part of a multi-campus institution designated the University of North Carolina in 1931.

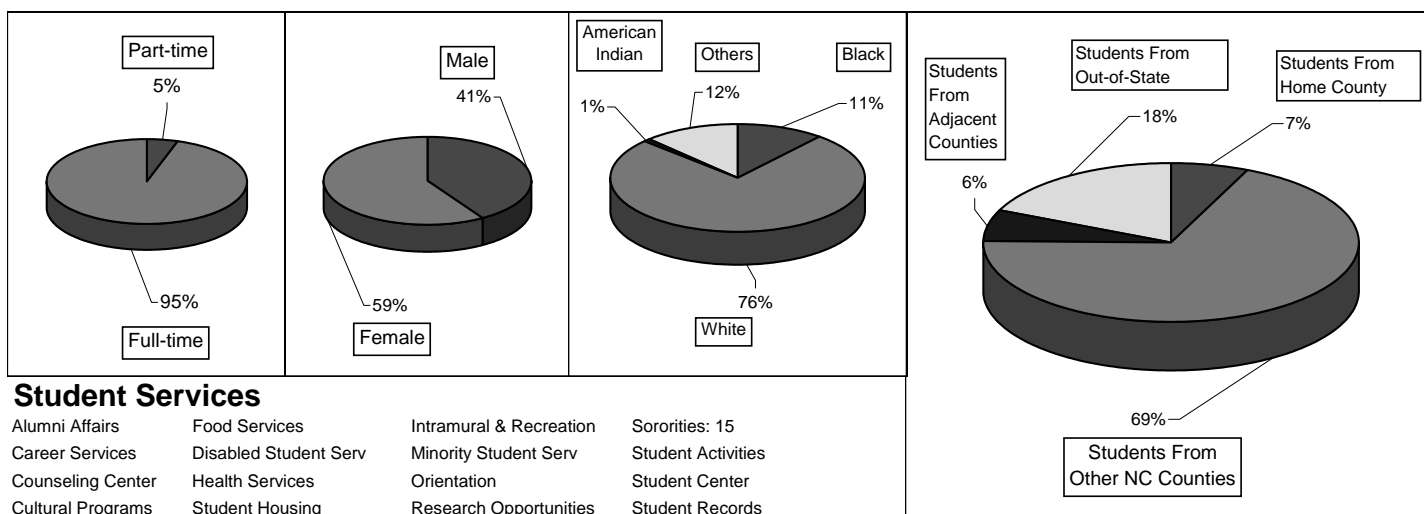

Location

Chapel Hill, (population: 51,000) a beautiful college town in the center of North Carolina near the Research Triangle Park. A three-hour drive to either the North Carolina coast or the mountains in the western part of the state.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT PEMBROKE

<http://www.uncp.edu/>

Brief Description

A comprehensive university offering degree programs at the baccalaureate and master's levels. Its instructional programs are organized into a College of Arts and Sciences, a School of Business, a School of Education, and a School of Graduate Studies. The University offers Master's Degree programs in several Education areas, and in Business Administration, Public Administration, School Counseling, and Service Agency Counseling. UNC Pembroke is committed to equality of opportunity. To further racial integration, the University actively seeks to recruit and enroll a greater number of Native American and African-American students.

History

Founded in 1887 by and for the Indians of Robeson County, UNC Pembroke was originally known as the Croatan Normal School. The first college degrees were awarded in 1940, and the name was changed to Pembroke State College for Indians. That name was shortened to Pembroke State College a few years later. In 1969, the institution was granted University status; and in 1972, it became one of the 16 constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina. Pembroke State University became the University of North Carolina at Pembroke in 1996.

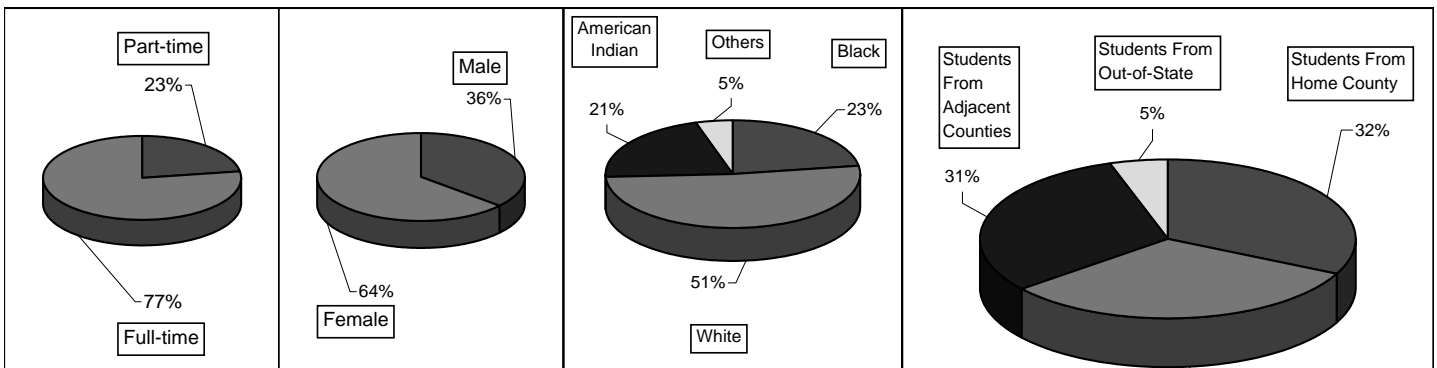

Location

Pembroke (population: 2,700), in the southeastern region of North Carolina, 1 1/2 hours from the coast and 1 hour from Pinehurst. Pembroke is 30 minutes south of Fayetteville, a city of more than 120,000. The University is also near Interstate 95 and U.S. 74, major north-south and east-west arteries.

WESTERN CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

<http://www.wcu.edu/>

Brief Description

A regional comprehensive university, Western offers programs at the baccalaureate, master's, intermediate, and doctoral (in education) levels. As a focused growth institution, Western is committed to increasing access to its programs for 40% more students during the current decade while enhancing its efforts to meet the state's need for teachers, engineers and nurses and expanding its support for the region's economic development efforts. Western offers career-focused degree programs in the arts, sciences, technologies, humanities and professions. Courses are available on the main campus in Cullowhee, off-campus in Asheville and Cherokee, and on-line. As it grows, Western is committed to maintaining small class sizes and personal attention for all students.

History

Founded in 1889 and chartered in 1891, Western became Cullowhee State Normal and Industrial School in 1905 and was designated Western Carolina Teachers College in 1929. It was renamed Western Carolina College in 1953, designated a regional university in 1967, became part of The University of North Carolina system in 1972, and was the first in the system to require all students to own computers.

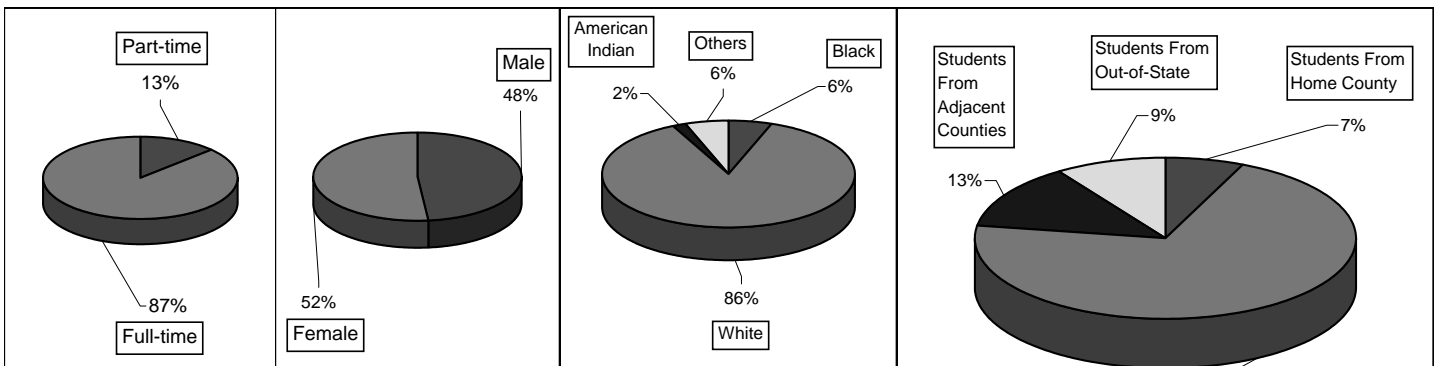

Location

Located in a beautiful valley near the Blue Ridge and Great Smoky Mountains, Cullowhee is 52 miles southwest of Asheville and six miles south of Sylva. The campus is well situated for outdoor research and recreation in the nearby mountains, national parks, forests and waterways.

WINSTON-SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY

<http://www.wssu.edu/>

Brief Description

Winston-Salem State University is a comprehensive institution offering degree programs at the baccalaureate and master's levels. Its instructional programs are in five academic college/schools and continuing education. The University offers master's programs in physical therapy, education, nursing, business administration, computer science, and rehabilitation counseling. A graduate center provides master's level study in a cooperative, interinstitutional arrangement. Commitment to equality of opportunity and racial integration is exhibited through the active recruitment and enrollment of a greater number of students from differing racial backgrounds.

History

Founded in 1892, chartered by the state in 1897 as the Slater Industrial and State Normal School. Renamed Winston-Salem Teachers College in 1925 and became first black institution in the United States to grant degrees in elementary teacher education. Name changed to Winston-Salem State University in 1969. Merged into the University of North Carolina in 1972.

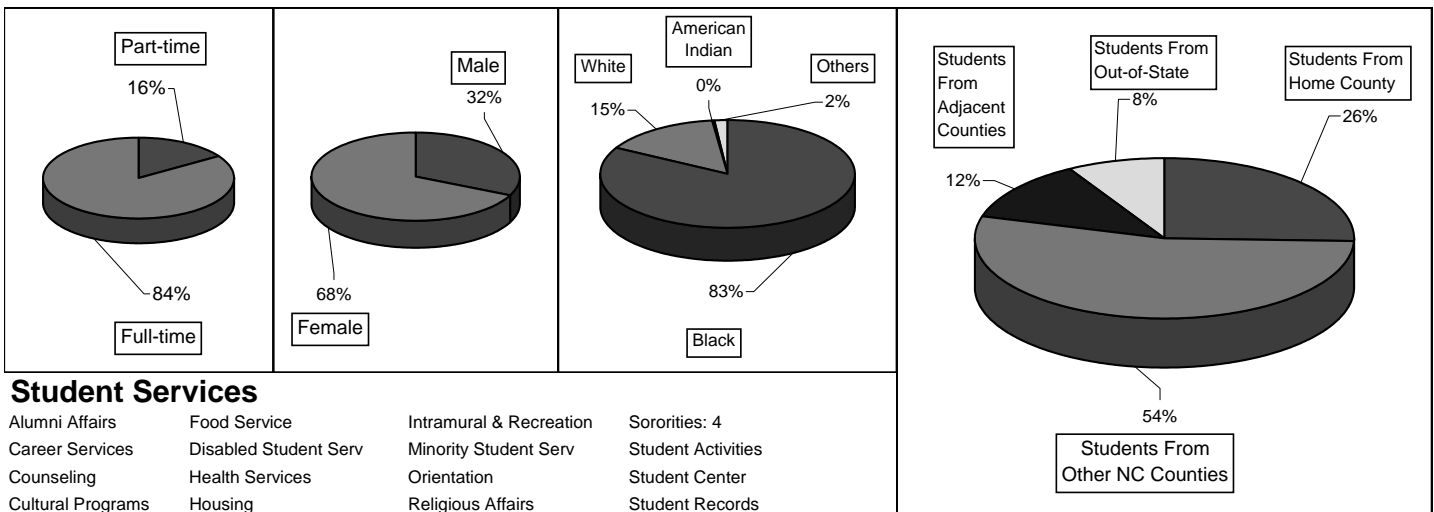

Location

Winston-Salem (population: 191,000), a medical and financial services city, recognized nationally as a cultural center.

Appendix F. What Students Need to Know about UNC Minimum Course Requirements

At its April 2000 meeting, the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina acted to phase in two increases in its minimum course requirements for undergraduate admission. The first increase becomes effective fall 2004: 2 course units of a second language. Then, in fall 2006, the second increase goes into effect: a 4th unit of mathematics. (These requirements are detailed on p. ii.) Individual UNC institutions may require additional courses, as indicated in each institution's profile in this publication and at the College Foundation of North Carolina web site: www.CFNC.org.

The requirements that each class will have to meet are shown below:

Student's Grade in 2004-05	Anticipated Year of High School Graduation	Requirements for Undergraduate Admission to a UNC Institution
12	2004-05	Addition of 2 units of a second language
11	2005-06	2 units of a second language and addition of a 4 th unit of mathematics
10	2006-07	2 units of a second language and addition of a 4 th unit of mathematics

Thus, students currently in grade 12 in the 2004-05 school year (and entering a UNC institution before fall 2006) will need to have completed two or more units of a second language. And students currently in grades 10 and 11 (and entering a UNC institution during fall 2006 or later) will need to have completed two or more units of a second language and a fourth unit of mathematics.

The Board took this action to ensure that freshmen have a strong chance of completing a baccalaureate degree. A study of 1997-98 North Carolina public high school seniors who enrolled at a UNC institution in the fall of 1998 found significant differences in performance among those students who met only the original minimum course requirements, those who met only the additional second language requirement, and those who met both the additional second language requirement and the additional fourth unit of mathematics requirement. Here is a summary of the study's findings:

Courses Taken	Freshman-to-Sophomore Retention Rate	First-Year Grade Point Average	Placement in Remedial English or Mathematics
Only those originally required	66.7%	1.71	42.7%
Those originally required plus 2 units of a second language	75.5%	1.96	31.6%
Those originally required plus 2 units of a second language and a 4 th unit of mathematics	81.8%	2.28	17.0%

Students who took more than two units of a second language or more than four units of mathematics performed even better. The study also revealed that 95 percent of the freshmen at UNC institutions had already completed two or more units of a second language, and 81 percent had already completed four or more units of mathematics.
