 the 1992 General Assembly, South

 Chapter 58, Title 59. This law provides of study under the authority of the Commission on Higher Education

 (CHE).
- CHE Regulations 1 through 28 of Chapter 63, approved by the 1993 General Assembly, include specific provisions to implement the Nonpublic Postsecondary Institution License Act.

TO BECOME A LICENSED MASSAGE THERAPIST

For LLR to license a person as a massage/bodywork therapist, he or she must:

(1) Be at least 18 years old and have received a high school diploma or GED, (2) Have completed a 500-hour course of supervised study at an approved school (one which meets the minimum qualifications as set forth by the CHE), and (3) Have received a passing grade on an approved examination (the National Certification Examination for Therapeutic Massage (NCETM) or for Therapeutic Massage & Bodywork (NCETMB) administered by the National Certification Board for Therapeutic Massage and Bodywork).

Note: Students who complete any portion of their massage therapy training via distance learning are not eligible for SC licensure.

The Massage/Bodywork Practice Act also includes circumstances of misconduct under which LLR denies initial licensure, for example, a person who has been convicted of or has pled guilty to or nolo contendere to a felony or crime that directly relates to the practice or ability to practice massage/body. See Section 40-30-230 of the Act for other actions that are "misconduct."

EVALUATING A SCHOOL Definitions:

 Licensed. Licensure is typically a mandatory (imposed by law) governmental process. A school licensed to operate in SC means that it has met the minimal standards (curriculum content, instructor requirements, facilities, equipment, record keeping, surety bond, financial resources,

- insurance) and provides accurate and useful information to students.
- Accredited. Accreditation is a nongovernmental, voluntary, peer evaluation process. To become accredited by an appropriately recognized accrediting agency, institutions and programs must show that they meet certain standards established by the accrediting agency. Accrediting agencies should not be confused with membership associations. Accreditation does not provide automatic transfer of credit earned at another institution, nor does it give assurance of acceptance by employers. CHE does not accredit institutions: it licenses institutions that meet the standards prescribed by statute and regulation.

"Institutional" accrediting agencies establish standards for the entire institution.

"Program" or "specialized" accrediting agencies establish standards that apply to programs, departments, or schools for specific fields of study.

- Recognized. The US Department of Education (USEd) reviews and recognizes accrediting agencies. Accreditation by a USEd recognized accrediting agency is one criterion for institutional eligibility for Federal Title IV (student financial aid) funds. Accredited schools may or may not be eligible to participate in student financial aid programs. - Certified. Certification usually refers to a voluntary process and is granted by professional organizations that administer tests developed in consultation with authorities in the field. The terms "certified/ certification" and "certificate" are not interchangeable. Schools issue certificates to show successful completion of a course of study.

- Get a copy of the catalog from each school you are considering and read them carefully so that you know about each school's curriculum, policies, fees, and procedures.
- ✓ All massage therapy programs CHE licenses in SC must teach a curriculum designed to prepare graduates to take a National Certification Exam. The curriculum at each school determines whether it prepares students for the National Certification Examination for Therapeutic Massage (NCETM) or for Therapeutic Massage & Bodywork (NCETMB). Scope of practices prescribed by various jurisdictions may not allow some modalities. Each school is unique, so choose the one that best fits your needs.
- ✓ Only primary health care professionals perform diagnosis and prescribe treatment. Longer programs teach the massage professional to work effectively with a physician, physical therapist, or other health care professional.
- ✓ Visit all schools you are considering; talk to administrative personnel, students, and instructors. Look at equipment and facilities to see if they are similar to what you expect to use on the job.
- ✓ Visit a class or two. See if the atmosphere is one in which you will be comfortable. Before you visit a class, check with the instructor or school.
- Contact health care providers or licensed massage therapists about employment or self-employment prospects.
- ✓ Inquire about drop-out-rates and graduation rates. Ask for the pass rates on the National Certification exam for the graduates of the school.

WHILE YOU'RE ENROLLED

Students who perform massage as a part of their curriculum (whether on or off the school premises) must wear a nametag identifying themselves as students and naming the school that enrolls them. Students may not receive compensation (including tips) and may not advertise (including business cards) until they are licensed.

AFTER YOU GRADUATE

Massage therapy school graduates cannot practice massage therapy for remuneration until they have received their licenses from LLR.

The process for licensure is:

- Meet all requirements for graduation
- Send application for exam to NCBTMB with required documentation
- □ Receive 'eligibility' letter from NCBTMB
- Register to take exam with local test center (eligibility to test expires 90 days after notification)
- □ Take and pass exam. For four years you may use the designation "NCTMB" (Nationally Certified In Therapeutic Massage and Bodywork) after your name to show you are certified
- Send application to LLR with required documentation
- □ Receive License from LLR. You may use the letters "LMT" after your name
- Begin practice for remuneration

CONTINUING EDUCATION

LLR accepts continuing education hours from:

- Schools operating in the State
- NCBTMB approved providers
- AMTA approved providers
- Approved individuals (contact LLR)

As a LMT...

http://www.scstatehouse.net/coderegs/c077.htm. Clarification of the Act can be found at http://www.llr.state.sc.us/POL/MassageTher apy/interpretations_of_the_massage_p.htm

- 1) Your first license is issued for one year or a portion of a year (depending on when you apply) and will expire in June. Subsequent licenses will be issued for two years. You will not be required to submit proof of continuing education to renew if vour license was issued for a portion of a year. Check with LLR for your particular situation. The State requires that you obtain 12 hours of continuing education during each two-year licensing period in order to be eligible to renew your license for the next two years. To keep your National Certification status, you will be required to earn hours in continuing education according the guidelines of the NCBTMB.
- 2) Any advertising that you do (telephone book, business cards, newspapers, etc.) must reference your SC License number.
- 3) Professional organizations offer various benefits to members. Some offer group rate liability insurance (rates vary), national and state conventions, networking opportunities, advertising specials, and/or reduced costs for continuing education. Compare rates and benefits and choose according to your needs.
- 4) Stay informed about any changes or decisions that will affect your profession.
