INTRODUCTION

The U.S. Census Bureau conducts the Census of Governments and the Annual Surveys of State and Local Government Finances as authorized by law under Title 13, U.S. Code, Sections 161 and 182. The Census of Governments has been conducted every 5 years since 1957, while the annual survey has been conducted annually since 1977 in years when the Census of Governments is not conducted. The 2013 Annual Survey of School System Finances, similar to previous annual surveys and censuses of governments, covers the entire range of government finance activities—revenue, expenditure, debt, and assets (cash and security holdings).

This report contains financial statistics relating to public elementary-secondary prekindergarten through grade 12 education. It includes national and state financial aggregates and displays data for the 100 largest school systems by enrollment in the United States.

ORGANIZATION OF THIS REPORT

This introductory text describes the scope, general concepts, survey methodology, and limitations of the data. It also identifies other Census Bureau products that contain public education data.

The tabular section contains 20 tables. Summaries, as well as state-level detail, are presented in Tables 1 through 10. Table 1 contains data for all major financial categories for public school systems. Revenue summaries and supporting detail are shown in Tables 2 through 5, expenditure in Tables 6 through 9, and indebtedness in Table 10.

State rankings based on revenue and expenditure per pupil appear in Table 11. State rankings based on the relation of revenue and expenditure to state personal income (as reported in the Bureau of Economic Analysis' 2012 Survey of Current Business) are shown in Table 12. National summaries and enrollment size-group data for elementary-secondary education systems appear in Tables 13 and 14.

Finance data for the 100 largest school systems by enrollment in the United States are displayed in Tables 15 through 18. Data are presented in thousands of dollars in Tables 15 and 16 for revenue and expenditure items. Table 17 displays percentage distributions of federal, state, and local revenue for these same school systems. Per pupil expenditure data appear in Table 18. Supplementary data on state-level populations, enrollments, and personal income are shown in Table 19. Per pupil current spending amounts and percentage change for fiscal years 2008–2013 are shown in Table 20.

SCOPE

This 2013 report presents data on the financial activity of public elementary and secondary school systems. Related data on public school system employment are available in the Census Bureau's Annual Survey of Public Employment and Payroll—School Systems. Information for higher and other education systems can be found in separate annual and Census of Governments reports that focus on the finances of states, counties, cities and towns, and government finances in general. The universe consists of 15,144 public school systems (as counted for the 2012–2013 survey cycle in an August 2014 listing of school systems).

GENERAL CONCEPTS

Refer to Appendix A, Definitions of Selected Terms, for descriptions of the items appearing in this report and on the data collection instrument.

Public School Systems

The term “public school systems,” as used for this report, includes two types of government entities with responsibility for providing education services: (1) school districts that are administratively and fiscally independent of any other government and are counted as separate governments; and (2) public school systems that lack sufficient autonomy to be counted as separate governments and are classified as a dependent agency of some other government—a county, municipal, township, or state government.

Most public school systems included in this report operate to provide regular, special, and/or vocational programs for children in prekindergarten through grade 12. Some systems, known as “nonoperating” districts, only exist to collect tax revenue, which they then transfer to other school systems that actually provide the education services. This report also includes “educational service agencies.” These agencies typically provide regional special education services, vocational education programs, or financial services for member districts. They are classified as joint educational service agencies of the participating districts and are not counted as separate governments.

Charter Schools

In recent years, many states have passed legislation authorizing the formation of “charter” schools. While each state's charter school provisions are unique, there are some common characteristics. In general, a “charter” constitutes a contract between a governmental body (the governmental body would be considered the “chartering” or “sponsoring” entity) and an “operator” entity that is responsible for delivering the education services.

In Census Bureau government finance statistics, only charter schools whose charters are held by operators that are governmental bodies are considered to be in scope. For example, if a city or county obtains a charter to operate a school from a sponsoring local school district, the finances of the resulting charter school are included in Census Bureau education finance statistics (and thus are included in this report). The finances for these charter schools are often included within the finances of the sponsoring school district.

Charter schools whose charters are held by operators that are not governmental are considered to be out-of-scope for the purposes of Census Bureau government finance statistics. In these cases, school district payments to charter schools are included (within the expenditures of the paying school district), but the finances of the charter schools themselves are excluded from the statistics (and thus are excluded from this report).

Current Dollars

The statistics in this report are presented in current dollars. They have not been adjusted for price and wage changes occurring through the years.

Fiscal Years

With the exception of school systems in Alabama, the District of Columbia, Nebraska, Texas, and Washington, the 2013 fiscal year for school systems in all states began on July 1, 2012, and ended on June 30, 2013. The fiscal year for school systems in Alabama and the District of Columbia ran from October 1, 2012, through September 30, 2013. The fiscal year for school systems in Nebraska, Texas, and Washington ran from September 1, 2012, through August 31, 2013. Survey data are not adjusted to conform school systems to a uniform fiscal year.

Elementary-Secondary Education

This report covers financial activity for the operation and support of public school systems providing elementary and/or secondary programs. These activities include the instruction of prekindergarten through grade 12 children, as well as support activities, such as guidance counseling, administration, transportation, plant operation and maintenance, and food services.

Public school systems also offer nonelementary-secondary programs. Adult education and community services are two types of programs operated in many public school systems that are not related to the education of prekindergarten through grade 12 children. Expenditures for these types of programs are excluded from the per-pupil amounts for current spending in Tables 8, 11, 14, 18, and 20. Expenditures made by public school systems for these nonelementary-secondary programs continue to be included in the expenditure data presented in the other tables.

Educational Revenue from Federal, State, and Local Sources

In this report, the tables containing revenue data refer to revenue from federal, state, and local government sources. “Revenue from federal sources” includes monies passed through state governments, as well as federal outlays directly received. “Revenue from state sources” consists only of amounts originating from state governments. “Revenue from local sources” is comprised of revenue raised locally—including taxes, charges, and miscellaneous revenues. These terms and corresponding methodology are different from the Census of Governments taxonomy for “intergovernmental revenue.”

For the Census of Governments and the corresponding annual surveys, intergovernmental revenue comprises monies from other governments, including grants, shared taxes, and contingent loans and advances for support of particular functions. It also comprises monies for general financial support, such as any significant and identifiable amounts received as reimbursement for performance of governmental services for other governments and any other form of revenue representing the sharing by other governments in the financing of activities administered by the receiving government. All intergovernmental revenue is reported in the general government sector, even if it is used to support activities in other sectors (such as utilities).

Intergovernmental revenue excludes amounts received from the sale of property, commodities, and utility services to other governments (which are reported in different revenue categories). It also excludes amounts received from other governments as the employer share or for support of public-employee retirement or other insurance trust funds of the recipient government, which are treated as insurance trust revenue.

Intergovernmental revenue is classified by function and by the level of government where it originated (i.e., federal, state, or local). The transfer of federal aid that is “passed-through” the state government to local governments is reported as state intergovernmental revenue at the local level, rather than direct federal intergovernmental revenue.

Revenue from city and county governments is included in both the individual and state totals tables that reference revenue from local sources. Revenue from other school systems, however, is only included in the individual unit tables. These amounts are excluded in the state totals data to avoid double-counting.

Tax Revenue of Dependent School Systems

Dependent school systems receive most of their local revenue from appropriations by their parent government. Although most of these monies come from property tax collections, the exact amounts derived from taxes or other revenue sources available to parent governments for their school systems frequently cannot be determined from state education agency accounting records. Therefore, these revenue amounts are shown as “parent government contributions” instead of “property taxes” or “other taxes” in the tabulations.

Current Operation and Current Spending

Current operation, a standard Census Bureau expenditure category, consists of payments for salaries, employee benefits (including local school system employer contributions to state government retirement funds), purchased services, and supplies.

The Census Bureau introduced the concept of “current spending” in the 1987 Census of Governments. This concept, which is used only in the public school system finance reports, allows for the inclusion of all public elementary-secondary outlays, regardless of the specific unit of government that actually makes the expenditure. “Current spending” is not presented in other Census Bureau tabular presentations because its inclusion with expenditures made at other levels of government would lead to double-counting. As such, “current spending” as presented here should not be confused with “current operations” used in the Census of Governments or its related annual surveys of state and local governments. In the latter case, “current operations” refers to direct expenditure for compensation of own officers and employees and for supplies, materials, and contractual services, except any amounts for capital outlay (i.e., for personal services or other objects used in contract construction or government-employee construction of permanent structures and for acquisition of property and equipment).

In these data, payments to other public school systems are a component of “current spending” and are reported at the individual unit level only. These expenditures are excluded from the state totals tables to avoid double-counting. Payments to other governments (e.g., cities, counties, and states) are included in both individual and state totals displays. This is distinct from the Census of Governments classification methodology and terminology in that payments to other school systems are considered “intergovernmental expenditures,” and thus distinct from “current operations.” For further information on Census of Governments, specific classification, and definitions, see

Instruction Expenditure

This item relates to the instruction function (Function 1000) defined in the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) publication, “Financial Accounting for Local and State School Systems: 2009 Edition.” Instruction expenditure covers expenditures for regular, special, and vocational programs offered in both the regular school year and summer school. It excludes instructional support, student support, and other support activities, as well as adult education, community services, and student enterprise activities.

Since not all states prescribe the use of the above financial accounting handbook and its definition of instruction for their school systems, some interstate disparities exist. For example, some state accounting systems do not include fixed charges for employee benefits, group insurance, worker’s compensation, retirement, or unemployment compensation in “instruction.” Refer to Appendix B, Notes Relating to Education Finance Data, for descriptions of how the Census Bureau has dealt with these differences.

Capital Outlay

This category refers to the direct expenditure by public school systems for construction of buildings and roads; purchases of equipment, land, and existing structures; and for payments on capital leases. Amounts for additions, replacements, and major alterations to fixed works and structures are included. However, expenditure for maintenance and minor repairs to buildings and equipment is classified as current spending.

Indebtedness

Indebtedness data in this report pertain to debt issued in the name of an independent school district or by the parent government for a dependent school system. However, debt issued by some school building authorities and municipalities for the construction of education facilities is excluded. Also excluded is general obligation debt not issued distinctly for the support of schools, such as in the District of Columbia (DC) and Hawaii, as these debts cannot be separated from the assets of their parent government.

Cash and Security Holdings

Cash and security holdings of dependent school systems are excluded from this report, as these holdings cannot be separated from the assets of their parent governments.

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA)

ARRA funds are included in revenue from federal sources, current spending, and capital outlay expenditures in this report. ARRA funds are not shown separately as exhibit items in this report and therefore cannot be subtracted from the revenue and expenditure totals.

Data Collection Methodology

The Census Bureau has made arrangements with state government departments of education to use data from existing finance information collection systems where the data are compatible with this survey's categories. Every state department of education obtains information annually on a wide variety of financial data from elementary-secondary school systems by requiring reports or conducting surveys. The Census Bureau is able to gain access to this information through cooperative agreements with each state as summarized below:

- Data compiled or reformatted by Census Bureau staff from state education agency electronic data files (21 states).
- Data reformatted by state education agency staff into survey categories before electronically transmitting data to the Census Bureau (29 states and DC).

A single office or database in the state departments of education did not always have all of the information needed for this survey. In these instances, other sources—most often different state offices—supplied information to supplement the basic data. The most common types of data needing supplementation were school lunch finances, indebtedness, cash and security holdings, and capital fund transactions.

Enrollment, Population, and Personal Income Data

Unless otherwise noted in Appendix B, the enrollments used to calculate the per pupil amounts in Tables 8, 11, 14, 18, and 20 represent fall 2012 memberships collected by the NCES in its nonfiscal Common Core of Data (CCD) Local Education Agency (School District) Universe Survey: School Year 2012–13, Provisional File 1a. Enrollments for state educational facilities, federal school systems, and charter schools whose charters are held by a nongovernmental entity have been excluded. Enrollments from the CCD agency universe file were subject to adjustment by Census Bureau survey staff if the enrollments were inconsistent with the finances reported.

The population data contained in Table 19 were obtained from the Census Bureau's Population Estimates Program. The personal income data in Table 19, which were used to calculate the data for Table 12, were taken from the Bureau of Economic Analysis' 2012 Survey of Current Business.

SURVEY METHODOLOGY

The data collected in this survey encompass all public elementary and secondary school systems in the United States and are centrally collected from each state. The survey cycle begins in January when states begin submitting data for the previous fiscal year. The data collection process is typically completed by April of the following year. The information included is intended to provide a complete picture of a government's financial activity. All revenue (by source), expenditure (by function and object), indebtedness, and cash and security holdings are requested. The inclusion of all financial transactions, except for interfund transfers and some fiduciary activities, allows for effective review and editing. It enables respondents and Census Bureau staff to take a global view of government finance and to perform basic cash flow logic checks.

The Census Bureau attempts to identify all central sources for public elementary-secondary finance data. Most of these sources exist at the state government level. Many state agencies, especially state education agencies, collect financial data from the local agencies within their domains.

The collection arrangements have a number of distinct advantages. First, because the Census Bureau is able to use data from state government data systems, the respondent burden on local school system administrators is lessened. Second, the close relationship between local school systems and state departments of education minimizes nonresponse.

The extensive use of central collection of elementary-secondary finance data requires the maintenance of state-specific crosswalks that define the state data items which comprise each of the items reported by the Census Bureau. In an effort to eliminate keying and response errors, several edit checks are made. These checks identify cash and debt flow problems, significant current year/prior year differences, illogical salary and current spending relationships, out-of-scope per pupil expenditure, and other peculiarities. Census Bureau staff resolve edit checks and other problems by rechecking data sources for entry errors, reviewing state and other reports that contain the same type of information, and making follow-up calls and e-mails to state and local officials.

Financial data for school systems are summed to create state aggregates. Census Bureau staff review the state aggregates for consistency with prior year information. The state aggregates are also compared with the financial data collected in the National Public Education Financial Survey (NPEFS) by NCES. During the review of state aggregates, Census Bureau technical staff request assistance from state officials and NCES to resolve differences. Most of these differences result from the inclusion of state payments on behalf of local education agencies in state education agency and NCES totals. The state education agencies and NCES furnish information about these payments that enable the Census Bureau to provide state source revenue and current spending categories shown in Tables 1 through 8, 11 through 18, and 20.

Data Quality

Although the data in this publication are not subject to sampling error (because the Census Bureau attempts to collect data for every school system), the data are subject to various nonsampling errors, such as coverage error, nonresponse error, keying error, and classification error.

An incomplete listing of all school systems in the United States would result in coverage error. The Census Bureau tries to mitigate coverage error by performing checks against various other sources of school system data: the NPEFS state totals, NCES listing, and the Census Bureau's Governments Integrated Directory. The Census Bureau also requests information from the departments of education in each state.

Nonresponse error results from incomplete responses to items on the survey forms. In order to produce complete data files, the Census Bureau attempts to contact nonrespondents, uses alternative data sources, and imputes missing data by pulling forward data from the prior year.

Various other nonsampling errors include response error which results from inaccurate reporting of the data, keying error which results from mistakes when entering the data, and from classification error which results from placing the data in the wrong categories. All of these errors are mitigated by editing of the individual unit data. Both the central collector and Census Bureau perform data quality checks.

LIMITATIONS OF DATA

Finance amounts presented in this report are statistical in nature and do not represent an accounting statement. Therefore, a difference between a school system's revenue and expenditure does not indicate a "budget" surplus or deficit. Large capital outlay expenditure, debt issuance or retirement, and changes in cash and security holdings are all factors that have important influences on the balance between revenue and expenditure.

In spite of efforts to identify and resolve errors, some mistakes and inconsistencies in official reporting and processing have undoubtedly escaped detection. Other inconsistencies have been detected and are published with the caveats shown in Appendix B. They arise from the fact that each state education agency collects at a different level of detail. Although states generally collect in much greater detail than what the Census Bureau collects, there are instances when certain states cannot provide some of the items requested. The use of different financial accounting handbooks by the state education agencies also contributes to inconsistencies in the data.

Beginning in FY 1992, survey respondents have reported state revenue within the following program categories: general formula assistance, compensatory and basic skills, special education, staff improvement, vocational, capital outlay/debt service, bilingual education, transportation, and school lunch. Users should be able to make valid comparisons of this detail when examining school systems within a given state. However, because the content of state aid programs greatly varies among the states, this information may not be comparable when making comparisons between school systems in different states. For example, state monies for special education and compensatory education may be in specific categorical aid programs in one state but be part of general formula assistance in another state.

Note on Derived Statistics

This report includes derived statistics such as per pupil expenditure, amounts per $1,000 of personal income, and totals aggregated from survey categories (e.g., total current spending and total revenue). State rankings of selected derived statistics and major expenditure categories are shown in Tables 11 and 12.

An analysis based on derived statistics can be misleading and misinterpreted because of differences between school systems in accounting methodology, governmental organization, and economic structure. For example, current spending or per pupil current spending as a measure of a school system's current expenses can be misleading because different school systems have different criteria on what they classify as current expenses.

Most school systems in the United States have a capitalization threshold of $5,000 for supplies (meaning supplies with a unit cost of less than $5,000 are classified as a current expense, while supplies costing at least $5,000 are accounted for as capital outlay). Larger school systems, however, often have a capitalization threshold larger than $5,000 (thus will have more types of supplies classified as a current expense than smaller school districts). School systems in New Jersey, on the other hand, have a capitalization threshold of only $2,000 (thus will have fewer types of supplies classified as a current expense than most school districts). Any analysis involving current spending or per pupil current spending should note that school system and state disparities exist based on what is classified as a current expense.

Revenue comparisons can also be misleading since programs funded by a local government in one state may be funded by the state or federal government in another. For example, transportation programs are primarily funded by the state government in some states, but are primarily funded by local governments in others. State differences in school system funding between various levels of government can often be attributed to the fiscal and structural relationships between local, state, and federal government in the state; thus, states that provide less transportation funding to school systems than other states are not necessarily less fiscally committed to school system transportation. A strict ranking or per pupil analysis that does not take into account varying fiscal and structural relationships between the local, state, and federal government in each state can lead to an invalid analysis and incorrect conclusions. Finance amounts in this report also do not take into account demographic, socioeconomic, or geographic differences between state and local governments.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The generous cooperation of state education agency personnel is gratefully acknowledged. The time and effort extended by these individuals makes it possible to produce this report while imposing a minimum burden on local school officials. The Census Bureau also appreciates the dedication of local school officials in providing accurate fiscal data to their state education agencies.

Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Note: This information represents financial data for public independent and dependent school systems. It includes state payments made on behalf of public school systems and excludes financial transactions of public nonschool entities. See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Cash and security holdings of dependent school systems are excluded as these holdings cannot be separated from the assets of their parent governments. Expenditures for adult education, community services, and other nonelementary-secondary programs are included under "Current spending" but are excluded from the per pupil data displayed in Tables 8, 11, 14, 18, and 20. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

N Not available. Amounts are combined in "Other and nonspecified" federal aid distributed through the state.

Note: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. State and national totals in this table are lower than the actual totals for these federal programs. This information includes only the revenue received by public school systems and excludes monies received by nonpublic school system organizations, such as state agencies and private entities. The value of school lunch commodities is also excluded. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Note: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Revenue from other school systems are excluded to avoid double counting. Some data appear under local sources for Hawaii's state-operated school system for consistency with data presented for all other school systems. Refer to the introductory text for an explanation concerning tax revenue for dependent school systems. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Note: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Payments to other school systems are excluded from this table. Expenditures for adult education, community services, and other nonelementary-secondary programs are also excluded. Enrollments used to calculate per pupil amounts represent fall 2012 memberships collected by the National Center for Education Statistics on the Common Core of Data (CCD) agency universe file—"Local Education Agency (School District) Universe Survey: School Year 2012-13, Provisional Version 1a." Enrollments for state educational facilities, federal school systems, and charter schools whose charters are held by a nongovernmental entity have been excluded. Enrollments from the CCD agency universe file were subject to adjustment if the enrollments were inconsistent with the finances reported. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

<sup>1</sup> Minor amounts of short-term indebtedness incurred by independent school systems are included in the long-term indebtedness figures and are not separately identifiable. Short-term indebtedness of dependent school systems in many cases cannot be distinguished from the total indebtedness of their parent government.

Note: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Note: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Revenue from and payments to other school systems are excluded to avoid double counting. Expenditures for adult education, community services, and other nonelementary-secondary programs are also excluded. Some data appear under local sources for Hawaii's state-operated school system for consistency with data presented for all other school systems. Enrollments used to calculate per pupil amounts represent fall 2012 member-schools collected by the National Center for Education Statistics on the Common Core of Data (CCD) agency universe file—"Local Education Agency (School District) Universe Survey: 2012-13, Provisional Version 1a." Enrollments for state educational facilities, federal school systems, and charter schools whose charters are held by a nongovernmental entity have been excluded. Enrollments from the CCD agency universe file were subject to adjustment if the enrollments were inconsistent with the finances reported. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Note: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Revenue from and payments to other school systems are excluded to avoid double counting. Expenditures for adult education, community services, and other nonelementary-secondary programs are also excluded. Some data appear under local sources for Hawaii's state-operated school system for consistency with data presented for all other school systems. Data used to calculate rankings is from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Economic Analysis; Internet release date (for revised state personal income estimates): March 25, 2015 (2012 data). Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Note: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. This information represents financial data for public independent and dependent school systems. It includes state payments made on behalf of public school systems and excludes financial transactions of public nonschool entities. Expenditures for adult education, community services, and other nonelementary-secondary programs are included under "Current spending" and "Other current spending," but are excluded from these categories in the per pupil data displayed in Table 14. Enrollments represent fall 2012 memberships collected by the National Center for Education Statistics on the Common Core of Data (CCD) agency universe file—"Local Education Agency (School District) Universe Survey: 2012-13, Provisional Version 1a." Enrollments for state educational facilities, federal school systems, and charter schools whose charters are held by a nongovernmental entity have been excluded. Enrollments from the CCD agency file were subject to adjustment if the enrollments were inconsistent with the finances reported. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Note: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. This information represents financial data for public independent and dependent school systems. It includes state payments made on behalf of public school systems and excludes financial transactions of public nonschool entities. Expenditures for adult education, community services, and other nonelementary-secondary programs are excluded from the current spending categories in this table. Enrollments represent fall 2012 memberships collected by the National Center for Education Statistics on the Common Core of Data (CCD) agency universe file—"Local Education Agency (School District) Universe Survey: 2012-13, Provisional Version 1a." Enrollments for state educational facilities, federal school systems, and charter schools whose charters are held by a nongovernmental entity have been excluded. Enrollments from the CCD agency universe file were subject to adjustment if the enrollments were inconsistent with the finances reported. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

<sup>1</sup> Enrollments reflect fall 2012 memberships reported to the National Center for Education Statistics on the Common Core of Data (CCD) agency universe file—"Local Education Agency (School District) Universe Survey: School Year 2012–13, Provisional Version 1a." Enrollments for state educational facilities, federal school systems, and charter schools whose charters are held by a nongovernmental entity have been excluded. Enrollments from the CCD agency universe file were subject to adjustment if the enrollments were inconsistent with the finances reported.

Notes: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Revenues from other school systems are included in this table. Refer to the introductory text for an explanation concerning tax revenue for dependent school systems. Data for specific state revenue programs are generally comparable for school systems in the same state, but are not for school systems in other states. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Source: U.S. Census Bureau, 2013 Annual Survey of School System Finances. Data are not subject to sampling error, but for information on nonsampling error and definitions, see introductory text. Data users who create their own estimates from these tables should cite the U.S. Census Bureau as the source of the original data only.

Notes: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Payments to other school systems are included in this table. Expenditures for adult education, community services, and other nonelementary-secondary programs are included under total elementary-secondary expenditure, total current spending, and other current spending, but are excluded in the per pupil data displayed in Table 18. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Z Represents zero or rounds to zero.

Notes: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Where state accounting practices permit, revenue from other school systems are included under "Other local governments." Some data appear under local sources for Hawaii's state-operated school system for consistency with data presented for all other school systems. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Data users who create their own estimates from these tables should cite the U.S. Census Bureau as the source of the original data only.

Notes: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Payments to other school systems are excluded in this table. Expenditures for adult education, community services, and other nonelementary-secondary programs are also excluded. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Note: See Appendix B for a description of state-specific reporting anomalies. Payments to other school systems are excluded from this table. Expenditures for adult education, community services, and other nonelementary-secondary programs are also excluded. Enrollments used to calculate per pupil amounts represent fall memberships collected by the National Center for Education Statistics on the Common Core Data (CCD) agency universe file—"Local Education Agency (School District) Universe Survey." Enrollments for state educational facilities, federal school systems, and charter schools whose charters are held by a nongovernmental entity have been excluded. Enrollments from the CCD agency universe file were subject to adjustment if the enrollments were inconsistent with the finances reported. Annual Survey of School System Finances statistics include the finances of charter schools whose charters are held directly by a government or a government agency. Charter schools whose charters are held by nongovernmental entities are deemed to be out of scope for the Annual Survey of School System Finances.

Definitions of Selected Terms

Major categories for the U.S. Census Bureau's classification of government finances, as applicable to school systems, are defined below.

Capital Outlay. Direct expenditure for construction of buildings, roads, and other improvements undertaken either on a contractual basis by private contractors or through a government's own staff (i.e., force account); for purchases of equipment, land, and existing structures; and for payments on capital leases. Includes amounts for additions, replacements, and major alterations to fixed works and structures. However, expenditure for maintenance and repairs to such works and structures is classified as current spending.

Cash and Deposits. Cash on hand and on deposit, including any savings and other time deposits, as well as demand deposits.

Cash and Security Holdings. Cash, deposits, and government and private securities (bonds, notes, stocks, mortgages, etc.), except holdings of agency and private trust funds. Does not include interfund loans, receivables, and the value of real property and other fixed assets.

Construction. Production of fixed works and structures and additions, replacements, and major alterations thereto, including planning and design of specific projects, site improvements, and provision of equipment and facilities that are integral parts of a structure. Includes both construction undertaken either on a contractual basis by private contractors or through a government's own staff (i.e., force account).

Contributions From Parent Government. Tax receipts and other amounts appropriated by a parent government and transferred to its dependent school system. Excludes intergovernmental revenue, current charges, and miscellaneous general revenue.

Current Charges. Amounts received from the public for performance of specific services benefitting the person charged and from sales of commodities and services. Includes school lunch sales (gross), tuition paid by individuals, revenue from the sale and rental of textbooks, transportation fees, and receipts from centrally-administered student activity funds. Excludes amounts received from other governments and interfund transfers.

Current Operation. Direct expenditure for salaries, employee benefits, purchased professional and technical services, purchased property and other services, and supplies. It includes gross school system expenditure for instruction, support services, and noninstructional functions. It excludes expenditure for debt service, capital outlay, and reimbursement to other governments (including other school systems). Also excluded are payments made on behalf of the school system by other governments including employee retirement payments made by state governments to state retirement funds and to social security. Employer contributions made by those few school systems that have their own retirement systems (such as the Chicago Board of Education and the Denver Public School System) into their own retirement funds are excluded. Current operation expenditure is a standard classification item used in all Census Bureau government finance reports.

Current Spending. Comprises current operation expenditure (as defined above), payments made by the state government on behalf of school systems, and transfers made by school systems into their own retirement funds. This classification is used only in Census Bureau education reports in an effort to provide statistics for users who wish to make interstate comparisons. It is not used in other government finance reports to avoid double counting expenditure between levels of government and funds. While expenditure made by the state government on behalf of the school systems is available on a state aggregate basis, it is frequently not available for each school system in given states. Therefore, these payments are included under current spending in the tables which display state totals and are often estimated for the local school systems to be included in the tables which display individual school units. Appendix B identifies this anomaly on a state-by-state basis.

Debt. Short-and long-term credit obligations of a school system or that portion of a parent government's credit obligations devoted to a dependent system. Excludes noninterest-bearing short-term obligations, interfund obligations, amounts owed in a trust or agency capacity, leases, advances, and contingent loans from other governments, and rights of individuals to benefits from school system employee-retirement funds.

Debt Outstanding at the End of Fiscal Year. All debt obligations remaining unpaid at the end of the fiscal year.

Elementary-Secondary Education. Prekindergarten through twelfth grade regular, special, and vocational education, as well as cocurricular, community service, and adult education programs provided by a public school system. The financial activities of these systems for all instruction, support service, and noninstructional activities are included in this category.

Employee Benefit Expenditure. Amounts paid by the school system for fringe benefits. These amounts are not included in salaries and wages paid directly to employees. Includes contributions on behalf of employees for retirement coverage, social security, group health and life insurance, tuition reimbursement, worker's compensation, and unemployment compensation.

Enrollment. Count of pupils on pupil rolls in the fall of the school system's fiscal year for which data are shown.

Equipment. Apparatus, furnishings, motor vehicles, office machines, and the like having an expected life of more than five years. Equipment expenditure consists only of amounts for purchase of equipment, including both additional equipment and replacements. Expenditure for facilities that are integral parts of structures is classified as expenditure for construction or for purchase of land and existing structures.

Expenditure. All amounts of money paid out by a school system—net of recoveries and other correcting transactions—other than for retirement of debt, purchase of securities, extension of loans, and agency transactions. Note that expenditure includes only external transactions of a school system and excludes noncash transactions, such as the provision of perquisites or other payments in-kind.

Federal Aid—Direct. Aid from project grants for programs such as Impact Aid, Indian Education, Head Start, Follow Through, Magnet Schools, Dropout Demonstration Assistance, and Gifted and Talented.

Impact Aid. Revenue authorized to assist in the construction (P.L. 81-815) and operation (P.L. 81-874) of schools in areas affected by federal activities.

Federal Aid Distributed by State Governments. Aid from formula grants distributed through state government agencies. Includes revenue from such programs as:

Child Nutrition Programs. Payments by the Department of Agriculture for the National School Lunch, Special Milk, School Breakfast, and a la carte programs. Excludes the value of donated commodities.

Compensatory (Title I) Programs. Revenue authorized by Title I of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act (PL 102-382). Includes basic, concentration, and migratory education grants.

Special Education Programs. Revenue awarded under the Individuals with Disabilities Act (PL 105-17). Includes formula grants authorized in Part B of this legislation, but excludes project grants authorized in Part D. Revenue from this excluded project grant is included in Federal Aid—Direct.

Vocational Programs. Revenue from the Carl D. Perkins Vocational Career and Technical Education Act. Includes revenue from Title II (Basic Grants) and Title III-E (Tech-Prep Education).

Other Federal Aid Distributed by the State. Includes revenue from other formula grant programs distributed through state governments, such as the Workforce Investment Act, Title V, the Safe and Drug-Free Schools and Community Act authorized by Title IV-A of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act, and Mathematics, Science, and Teacher Quality grants (Title II-A and Title II-B of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act).

Nonspecified Federal Aid Distributed by the State. Federal revenue amounts that pertain to more than one of the above categories, but which reporting units could not provide distinct amounts into these categories. This revenue is included in "nonspecified" instead of "other."

Fiscal Year. The 12-month period at the end of which the school district determines its financial condition and the results of its operations and closes its books.

Fixed Charges. Charges of a generally recurrent nature which are not readily allocable to another function. Such charges include employee benefits, retirement and insurance programs, and worker's compensation.

Instruction Expenditure. Relates to the instruction function (Function 1000) defined in "Financial Accounting for Local and State School Systems," National Center for Education Statistics, 2009. Instruction presented under the current operation or current spending headings includes payments from all funds for salaries, employee benefits (paid by school system only if under "current operation" or paid by both school and state if under "current spending"), supplies, materials, and contractual services. It excludes capital outlay, debt service, and interfund transfers. Instruction covers regular, special, and vocational programs offered in both the regular school year and summer school. It excludes instructional, student, and other support activities, as well as adult education, community services, and student enterprise activities.

Instructional Equipment. Expenditure for all equipment recorded by school systems in general or operating funds under the "instruction" function.

Interest Earnings. Interest earned on deposits and securities including amounts for accrued interest on investment securities sold. However, receipts for accrued interest on bonds issued are classified as offsets to interest expenditure. Note that interest earnings shown under elementary-secondary revenue do not include earnings on assets of employee-retirement systems.

Interest Expenditure. Amounts paid for use of borrowed money.

Long-Term Debt. Debt payable more than one year after date of issue.

Long-Term Debt Issued. The par value of long-term debt obligations incurred during the fiscal period concerned, including funding and refunding obligations. Debt obligations authorized, but not actually incurred, during the fiscal period are not included.

Long-Term Debt Retired. The par value of long-term debt obligations liquidated by repayment or exchange, including debt retired by refunding operations.

Nonelementary-Secondary Programs. Comprises expenditure by a school district for the operation of community services (e.g., swimming pools, public libraries, programs for the elderly, and child care centers); adult education classes; and other activities not related to elementary-secondary education, such as community college programs.

Other Current Spending. Current spending for other than elementary-secondary education instruction and support services activities. Included in this category are food services, enterprise operations, community services, and adult education expenditure.

Payments to Other Governments. Payments made to states, counties, cities, and special district school housing authorities including repayment of loans and debt service payments to entities that incur debt instead of the school system. "Payments to Other School Systems" is included in this category in the tables that display individual school systems but excluded (to avoid double counting) in the state aggregate tables.

Payments to Other School Systems. Payments to in-state and out-of-state public school systems for tuition, transportation, data processing, or other purchased services. These amounts are excluded from state aggregate tables but included in "Payments to Other Governments" in the individual unit tables.

Property Taxes. Taxes conditioned on ownership of property and measured by its value. Includes general property taxes relating to property as a whole, taxed at a single rate or at classified rates according to the class of property. Property refers to real property (e.g., land and structures), as well as personal property. Personal property can be either tangible (e.g., automobiles and boats) or intangible (e.g., bank accounts and stocks and bonds).

Public School Systems. Includes independent school district governments and dependent school systems. Independent school district governments are organized local entities providing public elementary, secondary, special, and vocational-technical education which, under the law, have sufficient administrative and fiscal autonomy to qualify as governments. Dependent school systems lack sufficient autonomy to be counted as separate governments and are classified as dependent agencies of some other government—a county, municipality, township, or state government.

Purchase of Land and Existing Structures. Expenditure for the acquisition of land and existing buildings including purchases of rights-of-way, payments on capital leases, title searches, and similar activities associated with real property purchase transactions.

Revenue. All amounts of money received by a school system from external sources—net of refunds and other correcting transactions—other than from issuance of debt, liquidation of investments, or as agency and private trust transactions. Note that revenue excludes noncash transactions, such as receipt of services, commodities, or other "receipts in-kind."

Salaries and Wages. Amounts paid for compensation of school system officers and employees. Consists of gross compensation before deductions for withheld taxes, retirement contributions, or other purposes.

School Lunch Charges. Gross collections from cafeteria sales to children and adults.

Short-Term Debt. Interest-bearing debt payable within 1 year from date of issue, such as bond anticipation notes, bank loans, and tax anticipation notes and warrants. Includes obligations having no fixed maturity date if payable from a tax levied for collection in the year of their issuance.

State Aid. State revenue paid to the school system for any purpose, restricted or unrestricted, including the following:

Capital Outlay/Debt Service. Revenue paid for school construction and building aid including amounts to help the school systems pay for servicing debt.

Compensatory Programs. Revenue for "at risk" or other economically disadvantaged students including migratory children. Also includes monies from state programs directed toward the attainment of basic skills and categorical education excellence and quality education programs that provide more than staff enhancements—such as materials, resource centers, and equipment.

General Formula Assistance. Revenue from general noncategorical state assistance programs such as foundation, minimum or basic formula support, apportionment, equalization, flat or block grants, and state public school fund distributions. This category also includes revenue dedicated from major state taxes, such as income and sales taxes.

Payments on Behalf of Local Education Agency (LEA). State payments that benefit school systems but are not paid directly to school systems. Includes amounts transferred into state teacher or public-employee retirement funds, as well as into funds for other kinds of employee benefits, such as group health, life, and unemployment compensation. This category also includes state payments for textbooks, school buses, and telecommunications that are provided to public school systems.

Special Education Programs. Revenue for the education of physically- and mentally-handicapped students.

Staff Improvement Programs. Revenue for programs designed to improve the quantity and quality of school system staff. Examples include programs for additional teacher units, teacher benefits such as retirement and social security contributions paid directly to the school system, mentor teachers, teacher induction, staff development contracts and stipends, career ladder contracts, in-service training, health insurance, principal leadership, teacher quality contracts, and salaries for specific types of instructional and support staff.

Transportation Programs. Payments for various state transportation aid programs, such as those that compensate the school system for part of its transportation expense and those that provide reimbursement for transportation salaries or school bus purchase.

Vocational Programs. Revenue for state vocational education assistance programs including career education programs.

Other State Aid. All other state revenue that is paid directly to the school systems including funds for bilingual education, gifted and talented programs, food services, debt services, instructional materials, textbooks, computer equipment, library resources, guidance and psychological services, driver education, energy conservation, enrollment increases and losses, health, alcohol and drug abuse, AIDS, child abuse, summer school, prekindergarten and early childhood, adult education (excluding vocational), desegregation, private schools, safety and law enforcement, and community services. In cases where these programs are covered under a state government's general formula assistance program, revenue will be shown under "general formula assistance" instead of under this category.

Nonspecified State Aid. State revenue amounts that pertain to more than one of the above categories, but which reporting units could not provide distinct amounts into these categories. This revenue is included in "nonspecified" instead of "other."

Support Services Expenditure. Relates to support services functions (Function 2000) defined in "Financial Accounting for Local and State School Systems," National Center for Education Statistics, 2009. Support services presented under the current operation or current spending headings include payments from all funds for salaries, employee benefits (paid by school system only if under "current operation" or paid by both school and state if under "current spending"), supplies, materials, and contractual services. It excludes capital outlay, debt service, and interfund transfers. It includes expenditure for the following functions:

General Administration. (Function 2300) Expenditure for board of education and executive administration (office of the superintendent) services.

Instructional Staff Support. (Function 2200) Expenditure for supervision of instruction service improvements, curriculum development, instructional staff training, and media, library, audiovisual, television, and computer-assisted instruction services.

Operation and Maintenance of Plant. (Function 2600) Expenditure for building services (heating, electricity, air conditioning, property insurance), care and upkeep of grounds and equipment, nonstudent transportation vehicle operation and maintenance, and security services.

Pupil Support Services. (Function 2100) Expenditure for attendance record-keeping, social work, student accounting, counseling, student appraisal, record maintenance, and placement services. This category also includes medical, dental, nursing, psychological, and speech services.

Pupil Transportation Services. (Function 2700) Expenditure for the transportation of public school students including vehicle operation, monitoring riders, and vehicle servicing and maintenance.

School Administration. (Function 2400) Expenditure for the office of principal services.

Other Support Services. Expenditure for central/business support (Function 2500) and other support (Function 2900) services. Business support services include payments for fiscal services (budgeting, receiving and disbursing funds, payroll, internal auditing, and accounting), purchasing, warehousing, supply distribution, printing, publishing, and duplicating services. Central support services include planning, research, development, and evaluation services. They also include information services, staff services (recruitment, staff accounting, noninstructional in-service training, staff health services), and data processing services.

Nonspecified Support Services. Expenditure that pertains to more than one of the above categories. In some cases, reporting units could not provide distinct expenditure amounts for each support services category. This expenditure is included in "nonspecified" instead of "other support services."

Taxes. Compulsory contributions exacted by a school system for public purposes, except employee and employer assessments for retirement and social insurance purposes, which are classified as insurance trust revenue. All tax revenue is classified as general revenue and comprises amounts received (including interest and penalties but excluding protested amounts and refunds) from all taxes imposed by a government. Note that school system tax revenue excludes any amounts from shares of state-imposed-and-collected taxes, which are classified as intergovernmental revenue.

Notes Relating to Education Finance Data

The characteristics of elementary-secondary school finance data are influenced by accounting requirements mandated by each state education agency. The level of financial detail that school systems must maintain varies from state to state. Different state financing methods, such as making payments on behalf of school systems to fund teacher retirement, and the use of different accounting handbooks also cause variation. This variation creates differences in the content of information presented in this report. This appendix describes, on a state-by-state basis, these differences and adjustments made to improve data comparability.

ALASKA

“Payments to other school systems” cannot be isolated in the Alaska school finance reporting system. These amounts are usually minor. They will slightly inflate the current spending and per pupil current spending amounts presented for both state aggregates and individual school systems.

Payments made by the state government into the state retirement system on behalf of Alaska school systems are included in the tables that display state totals of elementary-secondary education finances.

ARKANSAS

Changes to state and local revenue, effective in FY 1999, reflect consistency with the classification of the 25-mill uniform rate of ad valorem property tax (Amendment 74 of the Arkansas Constitution) as state revenue in the state and local government finance survey.

Payments made by the state government into the state retirement system on behalf of Arkansas school systems, as well as payments for various state-supported programs are included in the tables that display state totals of elementary-secondary education finances. These payments have been estimated for local school systems and appear in the tabular detail for state revenue and expenditure of individual school systems.

CALIFORNIA

Payments made by the state government into the state retirement system on behalf of California school systems are included in the tables that display state totals of elementary-secondary education finances. These payments have been estimated for local school systems and appear in the tabular detail for state revenue and expenditure of individual school systems.

CONNECTICUT

The state financial reporting system does not isolate capital outlay payments for the purchase of land and existing structures. These amounts are included with amounts shown for “construction.”

Payments made by the state government into the state retirement system on behalf of Connecticut school systems are included in the tables that display state totals of elementary-secondary education finances. ### DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The District of Columbia’s financial reporting system does not isolate capital outlay payments for the purchase of land and existing structures. These payments are included in “construction.”

FLORIDA

“Payments to other school systems” cannot be isolated in the Florida school finance reporting system. These amounts are usually minor. They will slightly inflate the current spending and per pupil current spending amounts presented for both state aggregates and individual school systems.

GEORGIA

As of fiscal year 2013, Georgia is able to report state grants separately as requested for this finance collection. State revenue amounts included in the “Other and nonspecified” categories in previous years are now being reported separately within the more specific state revenue categories (as shown in Tables 3 and 15 of this report).

Payments made by the state government into the state retirement system on behalf of Georgia school systems are included in the tables that display state totals of elementary-secondary education finances. These payments are included in both the state aggregate tables that display elementary-secondary school finance data and the tabular detail for state revenue and expenditure of individual school systems.

IDAHO

The state financial reporting system does not isolate capital outlay payments for the purchase of land and existing structures. These amounts are included with amounts shown for “construction.”

“Payments to other school systems” cannot be isolated in the Idaho school finance reporting system. These amounts are usually minor. They will slightly inflate the current spending and per pupil current spending amounts presented for both state aggregates and individual school systems.

As of FY 2009, the data for Michigan exclude data for public school academies (PSAs) that are chartered by state universities and community colleges. ### Part I – REVENUE

Section A – FROM LOCAL SOURCES

Lines 1–5. Independent school districts should report their tax receipts here. Line 1 (property taxes) will be applicable to most independent school districts. Lines 2 through 5 will be applicable to only a relatively small number of districts. Taxes reported here should be those which the district has the power to levy. State taxes and state property tax relief payments should be excluded here and reported instead in section B. Include current and delinquent tax revenues and penalties.

Line 6. Dependent school systems should report their tax receipts and any other amounts appropriated by their parent government on line 6 (Census code T02).

Line 7. Report taxes for education levied by separate county and city governments and transferred to the school system. Include monies received from debt issued in the name of a local (nonschool system) government and transferred to the school system. Regional school systems should report assessments received from cities and towns here. Assessments received from independent school districts should be reported on line 8.

Line 8. Report payments received from other school systems, both within and outside the state, for tuition, transportation, and other services (such as purchasing and data processing). Regional school systems should report assessments received from independent school districts here. Assessments received from cities and towns should be reported on line 7.

Lines 9–14. Report all student fees on these lines. Gross receipts from sale of school breakfasts, lunches, and milk (from students, teachers, adults, but not from state or federal funds) should be entered on line 12. Gross district activity receipts for those funds under control of the custodian of district funds should be included on line 13.
