EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Annual Partnership Report catalogs partnerships that Wyoming community colleges established and maintained for each fiscal year. This partnership report fulfills statutory reporting requirement W.S. 21-18-202(e)(iv) which mandates the development of annual reports to the legislature on the outcomes of partnerships between colleges and the University of Wyoming and other entities. Each community college partner maintains numerous partnerships for the development and provision of academic, occupational-technical, workforce development, and enrichment educational programs. These partnerships are essential for colleges to meet higher educational needs of Wyoming's citizens and communities.

Seven public Wyoming community colleges provided information for ten of their major partnerships during academic year 2016. These partnerships were divided into three partnering categories as follows:

Educational

- P-12 Education
- University of Wyoming
- Other Higher Education

Community Participation

- Community Organizations
- Cultural
- Human Services
- Non-Profit Organizations
- Professional Organizations

Regional Development

- Business and Industry
- Economic Development
- Workforce Training
- Government – Local, State, Federal

Table 1 represents the total number of partnerships in each of the three partnering categories for each public Wyoming community college and the total for all seven public Wyoming Community Colleges.

Post-Associate Degree Programs in Casper (UW at Casper)	1976	Educational

Nature of collaborative activities/efforts and outcomes

Casper College and the University of Wyoming enjoy a unique partnership that meets the needs of students unable to move to Laramie. Using both institutions’ resources, students earn a variety of Bachelor's and Master's degrees. Approximately 220 students in Casper enroll in courses through UW-Casper each semester. More than 3,400 students have received their UW degrees from UW-C since it was founded.

Nature of collaborative activities/efforts and outcomes

Casper College partnerships that support Career Programs are too numerous to describe in this concise format; just the list itself is quite long. For instance, some partnerships provide necessary electrical training classes to students with the content, methodology, contact hours and subjects required by the State of Wyoming to receive a journeyman electrician license using established Joint Apprenticeship and Training Committee policies. Other partnerships are with local auto dealerships for training for services technicians.

University Partnerships	Varies with University	Educational

Nature of collaborative activities/efforts and outcomes

University Partnerships provide access to post-associate degree programs for students in Wyoming. Many of these degree programs are delivered via distance education. The distance delivery is an important component, since many of our students are place-bound. In some cases, the partner institutions choose to use adjunct faculty and offer their programs on our campus in a traditional classroom setting.

Nature of collaborative activities/efforts and outcomes

The Help Yourself Academy (HYA) is designed to increase the probability underserved students will attend college. This program involved an after-school academy for elementary students conducted on the Casper College campus. HYA provides on campus learning experiences for at-risk elementary school students from Natrona County School District in grades Three, Four, and Five. The vast majority of elementary students in HYA have not had family members attend college. This after-school program pairs elementary students with college student mentors to complete math and science enrichment programming and to provide them an experience at the college to increase their knowledge of the college.

Concurrent Enrollment	1990's	Educational

Nature of collaborative activities/efforts and outcomes

The purpose of concurrent/dual enrollment agreements with area high schools is to create a learning environment that establishes opportunities for the success and continued education of secondary students. Through these partnerships, eligible high school students may enroll in a variety of courses offered at their high school or at LCCC and receive credit at both secondary and post-secondary levels.

In 2015, LCCC received accreditation from the National Center for Concurrent Enrollment Partnerships (NACEP) for its concurrent enrollment program. This accreditation demonstrates the highest quality educational opportunities for students.

In addition in 2015/2016, LCCC Albany County Campus partnered with Laramie High School to begin offering college career and technical programs in the new high school. This provides an opportunity for high school students to complete their career pathway and college credit certificate in auto technology concurrently while completing their high school diploma.

Nature of collaborative activities/efforts and outcomes

Campbell County Health supports the educational programming of the Gillette College nursing program by funding 1.5 individuals who serve as nursing faculty/administration. Campbell County Health and Gillette College partnered with the City of Gillette and Campbell County Commissioners in 2008 to build a health sciences education facility on the Gillette campus. Campbell County Health provided additional funding at that time to enlarge the building to house educational services for their organization. NWCCD maintains responsibility for operations of the facility. By working together, the city, the commissioners, the college and the hospital were able to provide additional educational capacity and meet the needs of the community. Similarly in 2016, Campbell County Health assisted with funding for equipment in the new simulation center which will be used collaboratively with the college health science programs.

NWCCD, the City of Sheridan and the WYO Theater, Inc. (a non-profit) embarked on a joint project in 2010 to expand the single stage theater to multiple stages and expand opportunities in theater. NWCCD committed to locate its theater program at the expanded WYO Theater, the City as owner of the WYO Theater building agreed to accept ownership of a second building (Perkins building), and the WYO Theater agreed to give NWCCD preferential tenant status and highest priority for the additional stage, a black box theater in the Perkins Building. NWCCD coordinated grant writing efforts with support from the City and WYO. The WYO non-profit and NWCCD’s foundation conducted a joint fundraising campaign and the City of Sheridan managed the construction funding and construction process. The second facility came on line in early summer 2014. The college’s theater program has continued to increase the number of performances. This partnership has also assisted in the acquisition of a third building (Hallmark building). This space houses office areas for the WYO staff and the Center for Vital Community. Plans to renovate the all three floors for usable practice space for theatre and dance are currently in progress.

Sheridan Economic and Educational Development Authority (SEEDA)	2008	Regional Development

Nature of collaborative activities/efforts and outcomes

NWCCD, the City of Sheridan and Sheridan County School District #2 formed a joint powers board to collaboratively address educational and infrastructure issues related to economic development. Using staff resources from the college and the City, the joint powers board has used state grant funds to build an early education center which SEEDA leases to an early education provider, build an industrial park designed for business recruitment and expansion of high-tech and manufacturing companies, accepted ownership of the infrastructure and empty lots in an existing commercial park and upgraded the infrastructure so the lots can be used for business expansion. NWCCD and the City of Sheridan continued the joint powers board working with Sheridan County School District #2; however, SCSD#2 has elected to not be a formal member of the board. SEEDA has commissioned two planning projects. The first was to identify educational assets within the county, update the targeted industries and recommend steps to align K-12 and college educational programs to targeted industries' occupational needs. The second project is to initiate a Creative Economy Council for Sheridan and Johnson Counties and complete three to five plans for projects that will increase the creative economy sector.
