EXECUTIVE OFFICERS OF STATE AND TERRITORIAL LIBRARY EXTENSION AGENCIES.....	77

INTRODUCTION

THIS DIRECTORY lists the professional personnel in State and Territorial departments of education and the executive officers of State and Territorial library extension agencies. It has two major purposes: (a) To identify the individuals in each agency with whom directory users may wish to communicate; and (b) to show the internal organization of the departments of education. This internal structure is shown by the indentation of official titles. The official titles of the chief school officer and all professional personnel under his immediate supervision form the basis for indentation. Titles of personnel who are directly responsible to an official other than the chief school officer are appropriately indented to show the relationship.

The Library Services Branch, Office of Education, supplies the information for the library extension agencies. The chief State and Territorial school officers provide the names of personnel to be included from their departments. Lists are verified at the start of the school year to assure the greatest possible accuracy.

CRITERIA FOR LISTING

Use was made of the following criteria in determining what officers of the departments of education should be included or excluded:

For inclusion: All regularly employed professional personnel of the State department of education who report directly or through a superior to the chief State school officer and whose duties are statewide in scope.

For exclusion:

1. All field or regional personnel (supervisors, consultants, counselors, etc.) of the State department of education who are under the immediate supervision of an officer of the department other than the chief State school officer and whose duties encompass only a certain geographical portion of the State.
2. All personnel of State-operated schools, libraries, museums, radio stations, etc., which are administered through the State department of education, except the heads of such State-operated programs who provide a specialized statewide service to schools and school personnel or who are recognized as bureau or division heads in the department.

Public School Systems

INTRODUCTION

THIS DIRECTORY lists for each State (1) all intermediate administrative units (county-intermediate or supervisory union or district), the names of the superintendents, and the city or town mailing address; and (2) each local school district with 300 or more pupils, the enrollment to the nearest 100 pupils, the name of the superintendent or other executive officer, and the city or town mailing address (if different from the name of the school district). In October 1961, there were 12,486 local school systems in the United States with an enrollment of 300 or more pupils; although these systems constituted only 40 percent of all operating districts, they enrolled almost 97 percent of all the pupils in the United States.

The information included in this publication was obtained from the latest available State education directories, a Bureau of the Census listing as of October 1961, and a recent list furnished by School Management magazine. To assure the greatest possible accuracy, the State lists were sent to the State departments of education for review and verification.

Included also in this directory are lists of superintendents or their counterparts in church-related schools of the five church organizations which maintain school systems in the United States on a State, regional, or national basis. The church-related school lists were supplied by the national offices of the five church organizations included.

TYPES OF SCHOOL SYSTEMS INCLUDED

Intermediate Administrative Units

An intermediate administrative unit comprises the territory of two or more local school districts having a board or superintendent or both, responsible for performing stipulated services for the local school districts or for supervising their fiscal, administrative, or educational functions. It serves as an intermediary between the local school district and the State department of education. The specific functions and the degree of administrative control of intermediate units vary from State to State. All intermediate administrative units, in States where this type of school organization exists, are shown at the beginning of each State listing.

County Intermediate Units.—The most prevalent form of intermediate unit is the county. It generally exists in areas where there are numerous small local school districts—primarily in the Great Lakes, Midwest, West, and Southwest areas. The county intermediate unit should be carefully distinguished from the county-unit school system, which is a countywide local school district.

In this directory, counties are listed alphabetically in States having county administrative units. The name of the county is followed by the name of the county superintendent and his mailing address (city or town).

The name of the county, given at the beginning of each entry, should be included in writing to a county superintendent of schools, as follows:

Mr. John Smith
Superintendent of Schools
Adams County
(City, State)

Supervisory Union or District.—The other type of intermediate administrative unit is the supervisory union or supervisory district prevalent in the New England States and in New York. Those New England town school systems which are too small, individually, to employ a superintendent are organized into supervisory unions of two or more towns. Such unions employ a superintendent to serve all the towns entering into the union. Similarly, New York State local school systems which are outside of city or other large districts have combined to form supervisory school districts employing a full-time superintendent.

For each supervisory union listed in this directory, the name or number of the supervisory union is followed by the names of the component towns in the union, the total enrollment to the nearest 100 pupils (in parentheses), the name of the union superintendent, and the mailing address (city or town) of the union superintendent.

Local School Systems or Districts

The actual operation of pupil schools is the responsibility of local school systems or local school districts. This directory lists all types of local school systems, including common, city, independent, consolidated, separate elementary or high school, union, community, town, township, jointure, and county-unit school districts. Only those local school systems having an enrollment of 300 pupils or more are listed. Enrollment figures are the latest available—either for the fall of 1962 or for the 1961-62 school year. They do not include junior colleges.

The entry for each local school system includes the name of the system, the enrollment to the nearest 100 pupils (in parentheses), the name of the superintendent, his title if it is not superintendent, and his mailing address (city or town) if the city or town in which he lives is different from the name of the school system. The following form of address is suggested for writing to the head of a local school system:

Mr. John Doe, Superintendent (or other title)
Pikesville Schools (or School District)
Pikesville, (State)

Church-Related Schools

The superintendents of church-related schools are responsible to the central or area officers of the respective church groups. Names and addresses supplied by denominational groups are listed as follows:

Catholic Parochial Schools—by State, archdiocese, and diocese
Jewish Schools (area directors listed)—by city area agency
Lutheran Parochial Schools—by supervisory district
Protestant Episcopal Schools—by diocese
Seventh-day Adventist Schools—by union or local conference

CONNECTICUT

There are 177 local school systems in the State: 59 towns combined into 13 supervisory unions, 8 regional high school districts, and 110 individual town or city systems. The 13 supervisory unions include three or more towns which jointly employ a superintendent who administers all of the schools within their boundaries. These supervisory unions do not have a name or number designation; therefore, all component towns are listed alphabetically before the superintendent's name. The eight regional high school districts are designated by number and are listed in numerical sequence.

Enrollment data are as of October 1962.

MAINE

There are 443 local school systems in the State. The 398 operating school systems consist of 355 towns combined into 85 supervisory unions, 23 school administrative districts, and 20 individual town or city systems. The supervisory union or administrative district generally includes two or more towns which jointly employ a superintendent who administers all the schools within their boundaries. The supervisory unions and administrative districts (followed by the component towns) are designated by an official number and are listed in numerical sequence.

Enrollment data are as of fall 1962.

MASSACHUSETTS

There are 390 local school systems in the State: 168 towns combined into 55 supervisory unions, 44 regional school districts (of which 33 have enrollments of 300 or more), and 178 individual town or city systems (of which 176 have enrollments of 300 or more). The supervisory union generally includes two or more towns which jointly employ a superintendent who administers all the schools within its boundaries. The supervisory unions are designated by an official number and are listed in numerical sequence, followed by the component towns. The regional school districts are listed alphabetically, followed by the component towns.

Enrollment data are as of October 1962.

VERMONT

There are 268 local school systems in the State: 248 school districts combined into 45 supervisory unions, 11 union high school districts, and 10 individual town or city systems. The supervisory unions generally include two or more towns which jointly employ a superintendent who administers all the schools within their boundaries. Each supervisory union is listed alphabetically, followed by the component towns. The union high school districts are designated by number and are listed in numerical sequence, followed by the component towns.

Enrollment data are as of September 1962.

VIRGINIA

There are 129 operating local school systems (administered by 117 division superintendents). There are 76 single-county units, 18 counties which have combined into 9 two-county administrative units, 6 systems where a county and a city have combined into 3 county-city administrative units, and 29 independent city systems. Each county-unit system, combined system, and independent city system is administered by a division superintendent. There are three nonoperating school systems—Fairfax City, Franklin City, and Prince Edward County.

Enrollment data are as of September 1962.

Special Notice

IN THE UNITED STATES no reputable institution of higher education confers degrees solely on the basis of correspondence study. The lax chartering laws in some States permit the existence of correspondence schools whose practices amount virtually to the sale of degrees. Such organizations are commonly referred to as degree mills. The Office of Education defines a degree mill as "an organization that awards degrees without requiring courses of instruction that all reputable educational institutions require before conferring degrees." Most of these degree mills operate solely by mail. In many cases staffs and plants do not even exist.

Degree mills are a serious threat to American educational standards in several ways. First they damage, by misleading the public, the legitimate and reputable correspondence schools which are filling an important and necessary role by providing correspondence study in the areas of vocational and adult education. Correspondence courses are also offered by some colleges and universities. But legitimate correspondence schools do not award degrees, and colleges and universities do not award degrees on the basis of correspondence courses alone. Second, degree mills defraud those who honestly believe that they have received recognition from a legitimate institution of higher education. Third, they lower American prestige abroad by deceiving foreign students. They cause legitimate American educational degrees to be undervalued because of the confusion overseas between bona fide institutions of higher education in the United States and the degree mills.

In view of the inadequacy and utter worthlessness of degree mills and their disservice to American higher education, the U.S. Office of Education strongly urges the public to be on guard against organizations advertising degrees based solely on correspondence study. Caution should also be exercised in evaluating degrees and other credentials, to ascertain whether or not they have been obtained from degree mills.

INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER EDUCATION—INTRODUCTION

CRITERIA FOR LISTING IN THIS DIRECTORY

This Directory lists the institutions of higher education in the United States offering at least a 2-year program of college-level studies in residence, submitting the information required for listing, and meeting the criteria stated below. Institutions which were not in actual operation prior to the fall of 1962 are not included.

The criteria for listing in the directory are as follows:

1. Institutions accredited or approved<sup>1</sup> by a nationally recognized accrediting agency, by a State department of education, by a State university, or institutions operating under public control, are eligible for inclusion.
2. Institutions not meeting requirements of criterion 1 are eligible for inclusion if their credits have been and are accepted as if coming from an accredited institution by not fewer than three accredited institutions.

The listing includes all institutions in the United States which meet the specified criteria.

CLASSIFICATION OF INSTITUTIONS

Institutions are classified by highest level of offering and by type of program.

The following categories have been established to designate institutions by highest level of training:

- I. 2 but less than 4 years of work beyond the 12th grade—includes junior colleges, technical institutes, and normal schools offering at least a 2-year program of college-level studies;
- II. Only the bachelor's and/or first professional degree—includes those institutions offering courses of studies leading to the customary bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree, and all those degrees which entitle the possessor to enter the profession indicated; e.g., doctor of medicine, bachelor of pharmacy, or bachelor of science in engineering;
- III. Master's and/or second professional degree—includes those institutions offering the customary first graduate degree, and any degree earned in the same field after the first professional degree, or after a bachelor's degree in that field; e.g., the degree of electrical engineer, earned after the bachelor of engineering, or the degree of doctor of science of law earned after the bachelor of laws degree;
- IV. Doctor of philosophy and equivalent degrees; and
- V. Other (explained by footnote).

<sup>1</sup> For definition of accreditation or approval, see page 7.

The designations of institutions by type of program are as follows:

- a. Terminal-occupational (below bachelor's degree)*—to represent a program not extending beyond the 14th or 15th grade, designed to prepare directly for an occupation, and not intended to prepare for advanced study;
- b. Liberal arts and general*—including those institutions offering a 4-year program leading to the bachelor's degree;
- c. Liberal arts and general, and terminal-occupational*—for institutions offering programs described by a and b above;
- d. Primarily teacher preparatory*;
- e. Liberal arts and general, and teacher preparatory*;
- f. Liberal arts and general, teacher preparatory, and terminal-occupational*;
- g. Professional only (not including teacher preparatory)*;
- h. Professional and teacher preparatory*;
- i. Professional and terminal-occupational*;
- j. Liberal arts and general with 1 or 2 professional schools*; and
- k. Liberal arts and general with 3 or more professional schools*—including institutions organized as universities.

ARRANGEMENT OF DATA

An institution is listed in this directory under the State in which its post office is located. A branch institution is listed as a unit of the parent institution, with a cross reference to facilitate finding of the data. Arrangement of the data shown is uniform as follows:

For institutions organized as universities:

Name of institution, location (accreditation, control, student body, calendar system, code representing classification of institution by level of offering and type of program, enrollment).

Name of officers as follows:

Chief executive officer.

Chief academic officer.

Chief business officer.

Registrar and admission officer.

Librarian.

Chief personnel officer and dean of men and dean of women.

Dean of graduate school.

Dean or director of each professional school or college.

Director of summer session.

Branch campuses.

For other institutions of higher education having an enrollment of more than 200:

All data as above, except those relating to professional schools.

For institutions with enrollments of 200 or fewer:

Chief executive officer.

Chief academic officer.

Chief business officer.

Registrar or equivalent officer.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS

In parentheses immediately following the name and location of an institution, the abbreviations and symbols separated by semicolons indicate six facts:

ACCREDITATION

In the United States no single agency, public or private, assumes responsibility for the control or supervision of educational institutions. The States exercise varying degrees of control, but permit institutions of higher education to operate with considerable autonomy. As a consequence, the institutions vary widely in the character and quality of their programs. A device known as accreditation has developed through which State, regional, and nationwide agencies have established criteria and evaluate institutions with a view to determining whether programs of educational quality are being maintained.

The accrediting procedure consists of four steps: establishment of criteria, evaluation of institutions by competent authorities to determine whether they meet established criteria, publication of a list of institutions that meet the criteria, and periodic reviews to ascertain whether accredited institutions continue to meet the criteria. Institutions which are accepted by an accrediting agency or association as meeting its criteria are said to be accredited or approved. The best available method of ascertaining the general standing or quality of an institution of higher education in the United States is to examine its accredited status.

Institutions with liberal arts and general programs and, in some cases, those with special programs are accredited by six regional accrediting associations. These associations are indicated throughout this directory by the following abbreviations:

- E., New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
- M., Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
- N., North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
- NW., Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools.
- S., Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.
- W., Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

‡Preceding any of the letters listed above or the abbreviations given below indicates that the institution is provisionally accredited, or accredited with some reservation, or is admitted on probation.

—Not accredited by any nationwide or regional accrediting association.

Professional schools are accredited by the following associations. The abbreviations are those used throughout the directory to represent accreditation by the appropriate organization.

- Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges : Bible (bi).
- Accrediting Commission for Business Schools : Business (jcb) (scb).
- American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business : Business (bus).
- American Association of Schools of Religious Education : Religious education (rel).
- American Association of Theological Schools : Theology (theol).
- American Bar Association, Section of Legal Education and Admission to the Bar : Law (law).
- American Chemical Society, Committee on Professional Training : Chemistry (chem).
- American Council on Education for Journalism : Journalism (jour).
- American Council on Pharmaceutical Education : Pharmacy (phar).
- American Dental Association, Council on Dental Education : Dental hygiene (dh), dentistry (dent).
- American Library Association, Committee on Accreditation : Librarianship (lib).
- American Optometric Association, Council on Optometric Education : Optometry (opt).
- American Osteopathic Association : Osteopathy (osteo).
- American Podiatry Association : Podiatry (pod).
- American Public Health Association : Public health (ph).
- American Veterinary Medical Association, Council on Education : Veterinary medicine (vet).
- Commission on Accreditation of the Council on Social Work Education : Social work (sw).
- Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association : Medical record librarians (mrl), medical technology (mt), occupational therapy (ot), physical therapy (pt), X-ray technology (xt).
- Engineers' Council for Professional Development : Engineering (eng), engineering technology (tech).
- Liaison Committee on Medical Education : Medicine and basic medical sciences (med).
- National Architectural Accrediting Board : Architecture (arch).
- National Association of Schools of Music : Music (mus).
- National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education : Teacher education (ted).
- National League for Nursing : Nursing (nur).
- Society of American Foresters : Forestry (for).

The accreditation or approval of institutions of higher education by State departments of education or State universities is not shown in this directory, but may be found in Office of Education Bulletin 1960, No. 24, entitled Accredited Higher Institutions.

NOTE.—The Office of Education does not accredit or approve any educational institutions.

CONTROL

The legal control of institutions (not support or affiliation), as reported by each institution, is shown with the following abbreviations:

- C.—City or municipal government—public control.
- Church—Refer to abbreviations—denominational control.
- Co.—County government—public control.
- Dist.—District government—public control.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The first item in a listing is the organization's name, followed by the address of headquarters, if any; the second, name and address of the head (president, chairman, director, etc.); the third, name and address of the secretary; the fourth, title(s) of the official periodic publication(s) and frequency of issue. If no address appears for the head or the secretary, it is the same as that for the organization.

The frequency of publication is shown by abbreviations: an. (annual); bien. (biennial); bm. (bimonthly); bw. (biweekly); ir. (irregular); m. (monthly); nos. (number issued each year); q. (quarterly); sa. (semiannual); sm. (semimonthly); trien. (triennial); w. (weekly).

THIS DIRECTORY contains information based upon replies to a questionnaire sent by the Office of Education to education associations and organizations. The fact that an association or organization is listed in the Directory does not necessarily imply that the Office of Education recommends it.

NATIONAL AND REGIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATIONS

THE FIRST SECTION covers, in a single alphabet, the following types of associations: (1) associations of educators and other persons directly concerned with schools and colleges; (2) community health, service, or social welfare groups that relate certain of their activities to school and college programs; (3) historical, learned, professional, research and scientific organizations growing out of or related to school and college activities; (4) library and museum associations; (5) organizations sponsoring youth group activities in schools and colleges or supplementing school or college programs.

Foreword

This first issue of Part 5 of the EDUCATION DIRECTORY lists key education personnel in the various U.S. Government departments and independent agencies, assembled in an organizational format. It is intended to serve both as a directory and as a reference work, showing the scope and variety of Government educational programs.

Government departments and independent agencies were asked to supply names of full-time, regularly employed professional personnel who spend the major portion of their time in educational activities. It was inevitable that the lists submitted were not always comparable in numbers, types, or levels of personnel. The request was given different interpretations, for one thing, and both the organizations of the departments and their educational and education-related activities are diverse. The lists will probably show more comparability in succeeding editions.

Some lists in this first edition are not as up to date as would be desirable. We trust that they will be useful, nevertheless. The Office of Education expects to publish Part 5 of the EDUCATION DIRECTORY yearly. The Office will notify the agencies when to submit revised listing for the 1963-64 edition.

The Office of Education is grateful to those who supplied the information for this new directory.
