PRINCIPAL STATE AND TERRITORIAL SCHOOL OFFICERS.....	3
EXECUTIVE OFFICERS OF STATE AND TERRITORIAL LIBRARY EXTENSION AGENCIES.....	79

INTRODUCTION

THIS DIRECTORY lists the principal school officers in State and territorial departments of education and the executive officers of State and territorial library extension agencies. It has two major purposes: (1) to identify the individuals in each agency with whom directory users may wish to communicate, and (2) to show the internal organization of the departments of education. This internal structure is shown by the indentation of official titles. The official titles of the chief school officer and all professional personnel under his immediate supervision form the basis for indentation. All professional personnel directly responsible to an official other than the chief school officer are listed under that official, and the relationship is shown by an appropriate indentation.

The Library Services Branch, Office of Education, supplies the information for the library extension agencies. The chief State and territorial school officers provide the listings of their departments and verify them at the start of the school year to assure the greatest possible accuracy.

CRITERIA FOR LISTING

Chief school officers were asked to use the following criteria in determining what officials from their departments to include:

For inclusion: All regularly employed professional personnel of the State department of education who report directly or through a superior to the chief State school officer and whose duties are statewide in scope.

For exclusion:

1. All field or regional personnel (supervisors, consultants, counselors, etc.) of the State department of education who are under the immediate supervision of an officer of the department other than the chief State school officer.

2. All personnel of State-operated schools, libraries, museums, radio stations, etc., which are administered through the State department of education. (List the directors or chief administrative officers of such State-operated programs when they are recognized as bureau or division heads in the department.)

Public School Systems

INTRODUCTION

THIS DIRECTORY lists public school superintendents and other administrators in each State and Territory for two types of school administrative units:

- (1) All intermediate administrative units (county intermediate or supervisory union or district), with the following information shown for each unit:

- Name of unit
- Name of superintendent
- City or town mailing address of superintendent
- Postal ZIP code

- (2) Local school systems enrolling 300 or more pupils, with the following information shown for each unit:

- Name of unit
- Name of superintendent or other administrator*
- Superintendent's location (city or town)
- Postal ZIP code
- County
- Enrollment to the nearest 100 pupils
- Lowest and highest grades taught in the system

In the fall of 1963, there were 12,200 local school systems in the United States with an enrollment of 300 or more pupils. Although these systems constituted only 44 percent of all operating districts, they enrolled about 96 percent of all the public school pupils in the United States.

The public school data in the previous edition of this directory were converted to punchcards and the resulting machine listings were sent to the State departments of education for updating and correction. The cooperation of these State agencies is gratefully acknowledged.

Also included in this directory are lists of superintendents or their counterparts in church-related schools of the five church organizations which maintain school systems in the United States on a State, regional, or national basis. The church-related school lists were supplied by the national offices of the five church organizations included.

*The titles of administrators other than superintendents are identified by a one-digit numeric code following the incumbent's name. (See p. 4 for explanation of codes.)

TYPES OF SCHOOL SYSTEMS INCLUDED

Intermediate Administrative Units

An intermediate administrative unit comprises the territory of two or more local school districts having a board or superintendent or both, responsible for performing stipulated services for the local school districts or for supervising their fiscal, administrative, or educational functions. It serves as an intermediary between the local school district and the State department of education. The specific functions and the degree of administrative control of intermediate units vary from State to State. All intermediate administrative units, in States where this type of school organization exists, are shown at the beginning of each State listing.

County Intermediate Units.—The most prevalent form of intermediate unit is the county. It generally exists in areas where there are numerous small local school districts—primarily in the Great Lakes, Midwest, West, and Southwest areas. The county intermediate unit should be carefully distinguished from the county-unit school system, which is a countywide local school district and is included elsewhere in the directory.

Supervisory Union or District.—The other type of intermediate administrative unit is the supervisory union or supervisory district prevalent in the New England States and in New York. Those New England town school systems which are too small, individually, to employ a superintendent are organized into supervisory unions of two or more towns. Such unions employ a superintendent to serve all the towns entering into the union. Similarly, New York State local school systems which are outside of city or other large districts have combined to form supervisory school districts employing a full-time superintendent.

For each supervisory union listed in this directory, the name or number of the supervisory union is followed by the names of the component towns in the union, the names of the union superintendents, the city or town mailing address of the superintendent, the postal ZIP code, the total enrollment of the union to the nearest 100 pupils, and the lowest and highest grades taught in the union.

Local School Systems or Districts

The actual operation of public schools is the responsibility of local school systems or local school districts. This directory lists all types of local school systems, including common, city, independent, consolidated, separate elementary or high school, union, community, town, township, jointure, and county-unit school districts. Only those local school systems having an enrollment of 300 pupils or more are listed. In the New England States the 300-pupil limit for the size of school districts applies to the multitown supervisory unions, school administrative districts, or union high school districts rather than to the individual towns comprising the combined units since separate data (enrollment, grade span, etc.) are not available for the individual towns.

The enrollment figures are the latest available—mostly for the fall of 1963, but in some cases for an earlier period. They do not include separate junior colleges.

The following form of address is suggested for writing to the head of a local school system :

Mr. John Doe, Superintendent (or other title)
Pikesville Public Schools (or School District)
Pikesville, (State, postal Zip code)

Church-Related Schools

The superintendents of church-related schools are responsible to the central or area officers of the respective church groups. Names and addresses supplied by denominational groups are listed as follows:

Jewish Schools (area directors listed)—by city area agency
Lutheran Parochial Schools—by supervisory district
Protestant Episcopal Schools—by diocese
Roman Catholic Schools—by State, archdiocese, and diocese
Seventh-day Adventist Schools—by union or local conference

Special Notice

IN THE UNITED STATES no reputable institution of higher education confers degrees solely on the basis of correspondence study. The lax chartering laws in some States permit the existence of correspondence schools whose practices amount virtually to the sale of degrees. Such organizations are commonly referred to as degree mills. The Office of Education defines a degree mill as "an organization that awards degrees without requiring courses of instruction that all reputable educational institutions require before conferring degrees." Most of these degree mills operate solely by mail. In many cases staffs and plants do not even exist.

Degree mills are a serious threat to American educational standards in several ways. First they damage, by misleading the public, the legitimate and reputable correspondence schools which are filling an important and necessary role by providing correspondence study in the areas of vocational and adult education. Correspondence courses are also offered by some colleges and universities. But legitimate correspondence schools do not award degrees, and colleges and universities do not award degrees on the basis of correspondence courses alone. Second, degree mills defraud those who honestly believe that they have received recognition from a legitimate institution of higher education. Third, they lower American prestige abroad by deceiving foreign students. They cause legitimate American educational degrees to be undervalued because of the confusion overseas between bona fide institutions of higher education in the United States and the degree mills.

In view of the inadequacy and utter worthlessness of degree mills and their disservice to American higher education, the U.S. Office of Education strongly urges the public to be on guard against organizations advertising degrees based solely on correspondence study. Caution should also be exercised in evaluating degrees and other credentials, to ascertain whether or not they have been obtained from degree mills.

INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER EDUCATION—INTRODUCTION

CRITERIA FOR LISTING IN THIS DIRECTORY

This Directory lists the institutions of higher education in the United States offering at least a 2-year program of college-level studies in residence, submitting the information required for listing, and meeting the criteria stated below. Institutions which were not in actual operation prior to the fall of 1963 are not included.

The criteria for listing in the directory are as follows:

1. Institutions accredited or approved¹ by a nationally recognized accrediting agency, by a State department of education, by a State university, or institutions operating under public control, are eligible for inclusion.

2. Institutions not meeting requirements of criterion 1 are eligible for inclusion if their credits have been and are accepted as if coming from an accredited institution by not fewer than three accredited institutions.

The listing includes all institutions in the United States which meet the specified criteria.

CLASSIFICATION OF INSTITUTIONS

Institutions are classified by highest level of offering and by type of program.

The following categories have been established to designate institutions by highest level of training:

- I. 2 but less than 4 years of work beyond the 12th grade—includes junior colleges, technical institutes, and normal schools offering at least a 2-year program of college-level studies;
- II. Only the bachelor's and/or first professional degree—includes those institutions offering courses of studies leading to the customary bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree, and all those degrees which entitle the possessor to enter the profession indicated; e.g., doctor of medicine, bachelor of pharmacy, or bachelor of science in engineering;
- III. Master's and/or second professional degree—includes those institutions offering the customary first graduate degree, and any degree earned in the same field after the first professional degree, or after a bachelor's degree in that field; e.g., the degree of electrical engineer, earned after the bachelor of engineering, or the degree of doctor of science of law earned after the bachelor of laws degree;
- IV. Doctor of philosophy and equivalent degrees; and
- V. Other (explained by footnote).

The designations of institutions by type of program are as follows:

a. Terminal-occupational (below bachelor's degree)—to represent a program not extending beyond the 14th or 15th grade, designed to prepare directly for an occupation, and not intended to prepare for advanced study;

b. Liberal arts and general—including those institutions offering a 4-year program leading to the bachelor's degree;

c. Liberal arts and general, and terminal-occupational—for institutions offering programs described by a and b above;

d. Primarily teacher preparatory;

e. Liberal arts and general, and teacher preparatory;

f. Liberal arts and general, teacher preparatory, and terminal-occupational;

g. Professional only (not including teacher preparatory);

h. Professional and teacher preparatory;

i. Professional and terminal-occupational;

j. Liberal arts and general with 1 or 2 professional schools; and

k. Liberal arts and general with 3 or more professional schools—including institutions organized as universities.

ARRANGEMENT OF DATA

ACCREDITATION

In the United States no single agency, public or private, assumes responsibility for the control or supervision of educational institutions. The States exercise varying degrees of control, but permit institutions of higher education to operate with considerable autonomy. As a consequence, the institutions vary widely in the character and quality of their programs. A device known as accreditation has developed through which State, regional, and nationwide agencies have established criteria and evaluate institutions with a view to determining whether programs of educational quality are being maintained.

The accrediting procedure consists of four steps: establishment of criteria, evaluation of institutions by competent authorities to determine whether they meet established criteria, publication of a list of institutions that meet the criteria, and periodic reviews to ascertain whether accredited institutions continue to meet the criteria. Institutions which are accepted by an accrediting agency or association as meeting its criteria are said to be accredited or approved. The best available method of ascertaining the general standing or quality of an institution of higher education in the United States is to examine its accredited status.

Institutions with liberal arts and general programs and, in some cases, those with special programs are accredited by six regional accrediting associations. Regional accreditation applies to the institution as a whole. These associations are indicated throughout this directory by the following abbreviations:

- E., New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
- M., Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
- N., North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
- NW., Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools.
- S., Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.
- W., Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

‡Preceding any of the letters listed above or the abbreviations given below indicates that the institution is provisionally accredited, or accredited with some reservation, or is admitted on probation.

—Not accredited by any nationwide or regional accrediting association.

Professional schools are accredited by the following associations. The abbreviations are those used throughout the directory to represent accreditation by the appropriate organization.

- Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges: Bible (Bi).

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The first item in a listing is the organization's name, followed by the address of headquarters, if any; the second, name and address of the head (president, chairman, director, etc.); the third, name and address of the secretary; the fourth, title(s) of the official periodic publication(s) and frequency of issue. If no address appears for the head or the secretary, it is the same as that for the organization.

The frequency of publication is shown by abbreviations: an. (annual); bien. (biennial); bm. (bimonthly); bw. (biweekly); ir. (irregular); m. (monthly); nos. (number issued each year); q. (quarterly); sa. (semiannual); sm. (semimonthly); trien. (triennial); w. (weekly).

THIS DIRECTORY contains information based upon replies to a questionnaire sent by the Office of Education to education associations and organizations. The fact that an association or organization is listed in the Directory does not necessarily imply that the Office of Education recommends it.

NATIONAL AND REGIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATIONS
