

Introduction

Since 2005, the AISD Department of Research and Evaluation has conducted a work environment survey for central office employees. For the last two years AISD has worked with the nationally recognized New Teacher Center (NTC) to create a more comprehensive survey to help the district better understand how staff feel about issues such as facilities and resources, professional development, leadership, and other aspects of the work environment. The following report presents Central Office Climate survey results for the 2011-2012 school year disaggregated by job category.
