The Advantages of Microform

Despite the continually developing array of digital technologies—and sometimes because of it—information professionals at libraries and universities worldwide still rely on microform. They know it is an archival medium that will meet the needs of researchers for years to come. Microform provides many advantages including:

- New Viewer/Scanners - Images can now be easily sent to remote locations using microform viewer/scanners, which link to your computer workstations, letting you view and print articles or digitize and transmit them electronically (within Fair Use guidelines). This approach combines the unparalleled preservation and storage benefits of microform with the speed and ease of electronic access.
- Special Collections - Microform is the answer if you need hard-to-find or specialty resources. Many older newspapers and periodicals are available only in microform, and it gives your users access to complete page images from historical titles—often from the first issue forward.
- Space Savings - Microform lets you store an extensive collection of complete article images in a small amount of space. Microform takes up less than one-tenth the area of bound copies of newspapers and periodicals.
- Ownership - There is no upkeep or access fees. It uses stable, proven technology you already have, with no need for new workstations or continual software upgrades.
- Clarity and Accuracy - Microform is the answer if you need cover-to-cover clarity and accuracy. Full-image articles are essential to getting the full story.
- Complete Collection - Microform usually is the best solution if you need a complete collection fast. Maybe you're seeking accreditation or even rebuilding after a disaster. An extensive, customized collection of retrospective and current microform titles will meet the needs of your researchers quickly and efficiently.
- Support for Specialized Studies - A compact collection in microform will meet specialized research needs and still leave plenty of resources for the rest of your population. Many libraries also use microform as an added point of access for content that is most in demand.
- Durability - archived properly, it can last for generations, and there is no degradation of images.
- ProQuest Quality - ProQuest's microform images are taken directly from the original printed pages, so you always get the clarity of first-generation copies.

ProQuest Microform is the answer because we've been producing it since 1938. We not only exceed industry standards, we set them. Our microform products include thousands of newspapers and periodicals, and hundreds of research collections, many of which are not available from any other source.

Art Exhibition Catalogues on Microfiche

1673 - 1978

One of the most important art reference collections available to researchers. Art historians, art teachers, students and collectors have long recognized the importance of exhibition catalogues, those from major exhibitions often becoming standard reference works. Yet catalogs can be difficult to obtain, going out of print rapidly, rarely reprinted and expensive to buy second-hand. This microfiche edition brings together over 3,000 art exhibition catalogs from major museums and galleries throughout the world available individually, in major subject collections such as Renaissance and Baroque Art or subject collections such as Impressionism, Sculpture and Women Artists. The catalogues are also grouped according to the museum or gallery that originally published them. Among these sets are the complete collection of Arts Council of Great Britain catalogs (1942-1978), the French Salon catalogs (1673-1925) as well as several American collections including catalogs from the Sidney Janis Gallery, the most influential private gallery in New York for the dissemination of modern art in the post-war period.

Drama

French Drama

1400 - 2000

OmniSys World Literature Collections (OWL)

This collection spans six centuries of French Drama: It boasts single titles and complete works, as well as stage adaptations and translations. The collection also encompasses poems and prose pieces intended for dramatic presentation. Some of the notable titles in the French Drama collection include an early edition of L'habitant de la Guadeloupe (1796) —one of the six plays staged by Louis-Sebastien Mercier in the provinces or at Boulevard theatres because of the Comédie-Française's opposition. The collection contains canonical plays by Molière and Alexandre Dumas, père, such as Antony (1831) as well as rare plays, such as the L'ogresse ou un mois au Pérou (1843) and Le Calife de Bagdad (1829). A few of the contemporary authors featured are Jean-Paul Sartre, Marcel Aymé, Henry de Montherlant and Françoise Sagan. The publication of such a large body of French drama in microform offers a wealth of research opportunities.

Trois Théâtres de Paris: A Collection of 18th and 19th Century Drama

1700 - 1900

OmniSys World Literature Collections (OWL)

This collection of 736 plays is part of a repertory that amused all classes of Paris society during the 18th and early 19th centuries. Included are the most successful types of plays produced at the time, such as:

- Mélodrame (plays combining tragic, often historic, events with comic interludes, using song and dance)
- Comédie-vaudeville (plays drawing subjects from ordinary life and using familiar tunes with new words)
- Féerie (escapist fairy-tale plays which used all of the theater's resources and were considered "grand spectacles")

All of the plays in this collection were performed at the Porte-Saint-Martin, Gaité and Ambigu-Comique theaters. The theaters, which specialized in purely popular entertainment, were located within the Boulevard du Temple region of Paris. The plays are sorted by theater and alphabetically by author.

The French Theatre

1789 - 1813

OmniSys World Literature Collections (OWL)

Between 1789 and 1815 more than 3,000 plays were produced in Paris. This collection contains 132 of the most important scripts from this period. These powerful plays celebrate the redressing of individual and class wrongs – the triumph of the exploited and oppressed over their vicious oppressors, or their martyrdom by them. The collection is accompanied by a descriptive catalog which provides a synopsis of each play as well as the title and subtitle, genre, date and theater of first presentation, author and, in the case of musicals, composer. Both Republican and Gregorian dates are provided.

Language & Literature

French Books before 1601

1470 - 1600

OmniSys World Literature Collections (OWL)

This series is largely based upon titles in the Short-Title Catalog of Books Printed in France and of French Books Printed in Other Countries from 1470-1600, Now in the British Museum. It includes 15th and 16th century books printed in such outstanding printing centers as Lyon and Paris, as well as unique works from little-known presses. Highlights of the collection include De historia Titi Livii epitome, an example of early printing at the Sorbonne by Gering, Friburger and Crantz, as well as Horae, or the Livre d'Heures that Philippe Pigouchet printed in 1498 in Paris, a magnificent example of French calligraphy and miniature painting.

French Books after 1601

1601 - 1700

OmniSys World Literature Collections (OWL)

The 17th century was a period of magnificent literary achievement – the time of Molière, Corneille and Racine. The finest editions of books were institutional publications, largely published by the State and this collection contains many of these books printed by the Imprimerie Royale (also known as the Typographia Regia, established in 1639-40 for Louis XIII.) Other significant works in the collection include Racine's Athalie, printed in 1691 by Denys Thierry, many works by well-known writers and a wealth of fascinating lesser-known publications. This continuing series is based on V.F. Goldsmith's A Short-Title Catalog of French Books 1601-1700, supplemented by other 17th century French books. The geographical boundaries are those of France today.

Linguistique

Includes 57 titles of rare and essential works which are not widely available. The study of the human language by far precedes the emergence of linguistics as an original discipline. Recent studies, such as those of Noam CHOMSKY on "Cartesian linguistics", while remaining as currents of avant-garde, demonstrate the outstanding interest in the 17th and 18th century attempts at a general grammar. Works in this collection range from the visionary Tractatus Philologicus of the 12th century SNORRE STURLESON to the works of Gyarmathy on the affinity between Hungarian and Finnish (1799), which anticipate the German comparatism of the 19th century. Each book included furthers the understanding of the origins of linguistics. Also included are the collections of GESSNER or MEGISTER (16th century), the works of BIBLIANDER, SCALINGER, and Guillaume POSTEL on the Latin or Hebraic origins of language, as well as Port - Royal's Grammaire générale et raisonnée.

Russian Academy of Sciences Library, St. Petersburg (BAN): Catalogue of Foreign Language Books and Periodicals to 1930

1714 - 1930

The Academy of Sciences Library (BAN) in St. Petersburg is the oldest state scientific library in Russia. Following its foundation in 1714 it incorporated the library of Peter the Great. The library was opened to readers in 1714 and in this regard has the distinction of preceding both the Bibliotheque National (1735) and the library of the British Museum (1753). BAN bought foreign books from the very beginning—a policy initiated by Peter the Great, with his interest in life abroad and vigorously followed since. This gives the catalogue of non-Russian holdings a special significance because it provides a complete record of foreign works present in Russia in the 18th and 19th centuries and immediately before and after the Revolution. There are, for instance, a surprisingly large number of US imprints from the beginning of this century including many US government documents. It is a truly international catalog, consisting of 241,000 cards recording titles of which the prevalent languages are English, French, German, Italian and Spanish. There is a supplementary catalogue of 8,400 cards relating to works damaged in the fire of 1988.

Women's Studies

Les Femmes

1600 - 2000

This collection of titles published from the 17th - 20th centuries includes admonitory tracts on being a good wife, rules governing the conduct and education of young girls, discussions of the proper choice of intellectual pursuits for women, a description of the ideal woman and a number of works covering the legal position of women in France. The collection also includes studies of the role of women under socialism. The many novels in the collection are in some ways more revealing than the factual studies in detailing women's experiences - their childhoods, marriages, hopes and fears. A fascinating collection for those doing research on the history of French women.

The Saint-Simoniens

1825 - 1834

Aside from the great historical impact of Saint-Simonism as a political force, influencing a wide spectrum of ideological systems from the positivism of Comte to the socialism of Fourier and its pioneering role in the women's movement in France, the Saint-Simonist "religion" is a truly fascinating chapter in the great book of marvels of the 19th century. Pure mysticism at one moment, with its myth of a woman Messiah come from the East, pure comedy the next, with its aptly-named Father Enfantin at the helm, pure surrealism at others, in its impossible effort to canonize aspects of the Industrial Revolution, it makes spell-binding reading for scholars of all persuasions.

Strange and Terrible Loves of a Devil: Rare Works on Witchcraft in France

1569 - 1738

This collection contains rare and previously inaccessible texts for the years 1569 to 1738. ## Religion

The Archives of the French Protestant Church***

1560 - 1889

The archives comprise over 300 manuscripts and more than 100 miscellaneous papers. Most of the manuscripts relate to the 18th century but the earliest is a volume of 'Actes' for 1560-65 (Ms 1). Other 16th century material includes three volumes of Actes (1571-1599); the Dernier des Pauvres (1572-3); the Police et Discipline (1578); the Livre de Coetus (1575-98); the Livres de Colloques (1581-1654). There are also a number relating to the 17th century including an important series concerned with the great influx of immigrants before and after the revocation of the Edict of Nantes. Although there are many gaps in the records where material has been lost, the historian must be grateful that so much has survived the turbulence of church history.

Franco-Jewish Pamphlets

1850 - 1920

The Alliance Israelite Universelle, located in Paris, France, was founded in 1860. Today it is one of the most significant international organizations for research and teaching of Jewish culture. The Alliance's objective is to create greater awareness of Jewish culture, remaining true to tradition and tolerant and open to the modern world. The Alliance boasts one of the most important collections of Judaica, housed in the library, which includes a great number of treasures, such as an extraordinary collection of Hebrew manuscripts and a donation from the Rabbi Zadoc Kahn of hundreds of Hebrew and Latin brochures. From the riches of this library comes the Franco-Jewish pamphlet collection - never before available on microfilm.

This collection of 1,290 Franco-Jewish pamphlets contains a great number of sermons given by notable rabbis, many unpublished anywhere else; treatises on Jewish customs and traditions; information on anti-Semitism; Zadoc Kahn's speeches from the 1890's and much more. Covering from the mid-1800's up to the 1920's, these pamphlets portray the cultural, spiritual and religious life of Jews in Paris as well as in the French colonies of North Africa. For the most part in French, there are a small number of pamphlets in English, Italian and Latin. ProQuest is pleased to make this content available in microfilm for the first time to scholars and researchers world-wide.

Gaidoz, Henri. The Henri Gaidoz Folklore Collection

1670 - 1932

The Henri Gaidoz Folklore Collection offers a rare opportunity to view the activity of Folklore Studies in 19th and early 20th centuries. The material was collected by M. Henri Gaidoz (1842-1932), a philologist and scholar of Celtic studies, and an expert in archaeology, religion, and mythology. From the holdings of the Folklore Collection at the Indiana University Library (Bloomington), these materials are now available to researchers around the world in ProQuest microfiche format. The collection encompasses more than 6,700 items, primarily from the mid-19th to early 20th centuries (span 1670-1932). M. Gaidoz, a noted author, professor, and researcher of his day, contributed greatly to the scholarly importance of Folklore Studies. His collection includes journal extracts, monographs and monograph excerpts, personal correspondence, and research notes. Of particular value are his handwritten notes that provide special insight into his research. While the emphasis of the collection is French folklore studies and comparative folklore studies, the set has great interdisciplinary value, especially for researchers in Folklore Studies, Religion, Literature, French, Anthropology, European History, Celtic Studies, Mythology, and Philosophy. The Gaidoz Collection includes over 100 subjects, such as, animals, history, fables, medicine, proverbs, saints, and werewolves. Though most titles are in French, some English, German, Italian, and Latin items were included.

The Gaidoz Collection is available as a complete set, or in five subject-based units.

Most of the collection is written in French - but the titles in English, or in other non-French languages, are available as separate units.

Customers may also select custom sets organized by subject.

The World of Port-Royal: The Jansenist Movement in the Catholic Church*

1601 - 1800

This acclaimed collection documents the Jansenist movement in France. Started by Cornelis Jansen, a Dutch theologian, the Jansenist movement spread to France in the 17th and 18th centuries, centering around the convent of Port Royal in Paris. After the movement was condemned by the Jesuits, Louis XIV and the Pope, the convent was closed and razed. However, a wealth of materials from Port Royal was transported to Holland, where many Jansenists took refuge. This remarkable collection of materials is now held by the State Archives in Utrecht.

Bibliothèque Nationale: Catalogues de la Troisième République

1870 - 1940

The Catalogue de la Troisième République has been created by bringing together records from different sections of the Bibliothèque Nationale's massive Catalogue de l'Histoire de France. In all, 30,000 records have been collected and organized in a single inclusive reference work. Scholars can now research more thoroughly than ever before not only the political history of the period but all aspects of French national life between 4th September 1870 and 10th July 1940. There are records for a wide range of printed sources from the period itself, mostly in the form of documentary series. These include collections of posters; electoral tracts distributed at legislative elections between 1876 and 1914; parliamentary papers produced by the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate; and collections of documents from the main trade unions and political parties. There are also a considerable number of articles and brochures of a polemical nature, covering a wide range of issues, from local and personal disputes to the great national and international controversies of the day. Entries for retrospective works - from scholarly monographs to partisan writing - which have a bearing on the period as a whole or on a particular episode, make up the other major element in the Catalogue.

Les Inventaires des Archives Nationales de Paris

Almost 800 previously unpublished finding aids on microfiche provide access to the contents of the most important collections of the Archives Nationales de Paris. The finding aids are backed by a specially-created printed catalogue and index including a bibliography of research guides and an introduction to the history and use of the Archives Nationales. Finding aids are the key both to the contents of an archive or manuscript collection and to locating documents within it. Most are in the form of unpublished typescripts or card indexes prepared by archivists. The finding aids to the Archives Nationales reproduced in this edition are almost all unpublished and have been carefully chosen for their value to researchers. All have been checked and where necessary amended or updated before being filmed. The printed user's guide consisting of a single catalogue and index has been designed to give researchers quick and easy access to the finding aids. The index lists each one by name of collection, names of persons appearing there, subject and institutional origin thereby directing users to all collections with material in their field of interest.

Western European Census Reports: 1960 Census Period

1959 - 1969

The census reports of the Western European nations contain a vast quantity of different types of demographic information. In the past, access to these reports has been hindered both by the difficulty of obtaining them and the necessity of knowing the language of publication. The problem of access has been overcome by bringing these reports together in a microfiche program based on Blake and Donovan's Western European Censuses, 1960, An English Language Guide on 1 fiche. The microfiche program includes all the titles listed in the guide - 74 titles for 22 countries. The guide provides a compendium in English of the contents of the censuses and serves as an index to the program. The following country(s) relate to French & Francophone Studies:

The Libraries of Patru and Boileau

Oliver Patru (1604-1681) and Nicholas Boileau-Despreaux (1636-1711) were friends who shared a love of language and literature, evident in their large collection of books that have been cataloged and recorded in this microfiche collection. Patru, who over the years had developed a loyal friendship with Boileau, was a barrister of the 17th century and was respected for his elegant speaking style. However, his reputation, though esteemed, failed to pay the bills. Thus, in 1671 Boileau responded to Patru's request for financial help, purchasing the barrister's books and furniture from creditors, then loaning them back to him until Patru's death in 1681.

The Patru Library

Wanting this gentlemanly exchange to be in order, Patru drew up a legal document and made lists in 1671 of the books in his personal library (455 titles in 547 volumes). The inventory was meticulously written in his own hand, demonstrating Patru's attention to detail and accuracy that were the hallmark of his linguistic and literary activities. Patru's library concentrated on several subjects. A small percentage focused on theology and books under his headings of Science and Belles-Lettres. A larger percentage concerned jurisprudence. Nevertheless, reflecting his love for literary pursuits, he possessed more books on language and literature than on legal matters. His interest in historical and geographical books was expansive, but typical for that time and contributed to up to over 30 percent of his collection.

The Boileau Library

When Patru died, Boileau reclaimed the books that he had loaned to Patru. Boileau's holdings of 1,911 volumes were rare for a bourgeois de Paris, even without Patru's volumes. Upon his death in 1711, Boileau's family compiled an inventory of the library, assisted by four of Boileau's servants and two officials. It is these records that have been microfilmed.

That Patru and the family of Boileau would make such detailed accounts reveals their respect for the historical significance of the collections. For scholars of 18th century literature, this catalog provides valuable insights and understanding into the literary tastes and extent of knowledge of the time.

French Voyagers in the Mediterranean, 16th to 18th Centuries

1500 - 1800

This collection contains 37 rare works written by French voyagers who traveled to all corners of the Mediterranean and sometimes beyond. The accounts range from catalogues of curiosities to detailed topographical data, from botanical and archaeological research to detailed analyses of economic and social structures. The anthropological interest of these documents is self-evident. But more than documentation, these are often literary texts, rich in their own right and in the changing focus of imaginative interest, in both writer and reader. As much as any novel, these accounts were widely read, forming an important part of the cultural consciousness of the times, sometimes revealing as much about the explorer as the explored. The great philosophical debates of the 18th century, often in the form of fictional voyages to real or imagined lands, drew heavily, for inspiration and ammunition, on the accounts of voyagers, the truth of cross-cultural confrontation.

Holbach and His Friends

1760 - 1789

This collection, assembled to mark the 250th anniversary of the birth of Paul Thiry, Baron d' Holbach, includes important materialist and anti-clerical works written in France between 1760 and 1789. Holbach was a major contributor to Diderot's Encyclopédie, both of signed scientific articles and of much bolder anonymous articles which presaged the atheistic and materialistic writings to come. These latter works had to be published anonymously; they were generally printed in Amsterdam- often under a false imprint- and smuggled back into France where they were secretly circulated. They are very rare today and modern editions are virtually nonexistent.

Nicolas de Bonneville and the Cercle Social

1787 - 1800

Nicholas de Bonneville embodies perfectly the generation of intellectuals at the end of the 18th century for whom the Revolution was an opportunity and a faith, a profession and a belief. For this versatile writer, the events of 1789 provided an extraordinary field of political activity. He was an Elector of Paris; a member of the new municipal power structure; an editor of the Tribun du Peuple; and founder, with Abbé Fauchet (October 1790), of the Cercle Social. Nicolas de Bonneville was an incomparable publicist of ideas and the Cercle Social was the extraordinary crossroads of those ideas; this collection contains the major works of both these sources.

The Search for Utopia in the Age of Enlightenment

1677 - 1800

The rare utopian works in Volume I of this collection (edited by Albert Soboul) range in date from 1677 to the later days of the Napoleonic era, with the large majority falling in the 18th century. They are concerned with a wide range of subjects, including politics, economics, social questions, religion, the Church, education, marriage and roles of the sexes. Writers of diverse viewpoints and social backgrounds are represented and the format of the works varies from concrete proposals to fantastic voyages. In the writings it is possible to discern an ideological progression from enlightened despotism to limited monarchy to virtual anarchy. Some clear precursors of later socialist and communist ideas are also present.

A little-known but historically important collection of more than 2,500 Napoleonic documents held in the archives of the State Historical Museum of Moscow is now being offered on microfilm. Until recently, many of these documents were scattered throughout the Museum's various collections; most of them had never been published. Now available are some 30 letters and documents in Napoléon's own hand or containing his signature, approximately 100 documents written or signed by Napoléon's own family members and more than 2,400 documents from his military and political entourage. The documents now on microfilm come from collections originally assembled both by private collectors and institutions which acquired individual items from many sources. The two largest groups of documents come from the private collections of Count Grigorii Vladimirovich Orlov and the well-known art collector Petr Ivanovich Shchukin. The collection provides a more complete understanding of Napoléon, his time and his circle and is an important contribution to Napoleonic research.

1640 - 1683

A literary treatise on love, showing it as the destroyer and creator of evil things. Love is the basic passion controlling all others but is often the cause of much misery and disaster.

The Echols Collection: Selections on the Vietnam War

1900 - 1995

Each year following monsoon season in Vietnam, a harvest of unexploded ordinance appears in the countryside: M79 grenade rounds, flechette bombs and other lethal remnants of the war years. Even casual exploration can be fatal. Yet year after year, Vietnamese peasants continue to farm their fields in hopes of bringing new life to a war-ravaged land. The historical record of U.S. involvement in the Vietnam War can be compared to the ground on which it was fought. In spite of years of study, the topic is still considered explosive. Policies and motives of participants on all sides of the war have been obscured by "revisionist histories" of every political and ideological hue. Facts are contested and subject to change when new information appears. With the introduction of The Echols Collection: Selections on the Vietnam War, ProQuest brings together multiple historical and national perspectives with an eye toward providing better understanding of the Vietnam conflict.

With more than 5,000 volumes of books, monographs, speeches, pamphlets, manuscripts, serials and historical documents, Selections on the Vietnam War provides unique insight to students of 20th century American and Southeast Asian history, international and U.S. law, economics, political science, government, diplomacy, foreign policy and journalism. Selected from the vast holdings of the John M. Echols Collection at Cornell University (the premier North American source of material on Southeast Asia), the contents of this collection provide an incisive look at pre-war and wartime history as well as the long-term effects of the conflict in Southeast Asia and around the world. The collection contains a variety of political and social commentary, including views expressed by anti-war groups, pro-war factions, religious groups and governmental organizations worldwide. Rare U.S. and Vietnamese government reports, publications and research documents are also included. Readily accessible materials have been omitted. Selection criteria for the collection are based on the Vietnam War Bibliography by Christopher L. Sugnet and John T. Hickey. Included are 3,253 items in English and French (the latter focusing on the French colonial period) - propaganda, pamphlets, government documents, literary works, etc., from the 17th century Catholic missionaries to the fall of Saigon in 1975. Contents of the units are roughly as follows:

- Unit 7: Colonial era, French-language materials
- Units 10-13: Colonial and post-colonial eras, treaties; French-language materials

Histoire des Sciences, XVIIe-XIXe Siècles

1600 - 1900

This is a series of historically important texts in the domain of the exact and natural sciences, as well as in the history of science itself, with most works coming from France and dating from the second third of the 17th century to the end of the 19th century. The works are original texts, most of them quite rare. In many cases they are preceded by a short introduction designed to place them in their context and facilitate their use.

The Slave Trade and Abolitionism in France

1700 - 1900

It was only “for the good of their souls” that Louis XIII authorized the French trade in African slaves in 1642. By 1656 there were 3000 slaves in Guadeloupe; during the last quarter of the 17th century, 124,000 slaves were brought to the West Indies; and in the decade preceding the Revolution, the French captured and exported an average of 27,000 African slaves per year. The French slave trade— suspended by the Revolution, reinstated by Napoleon and permanently abolished in 1848— aroused fierce opposition and equally heated partisan defense. This collection includes rare 18th century descriptive works on the regulation of the trade and polemical works on both sides of the controversy, along with 19th century statistical surveys, accounts of the economics of the trade, descriptions of slave voyages and proceedings of official commissions.

Statistical Sources under the Empire

1795 - 1815

Most historians and statisticians are aware of the immense amount of regional description and recording undertaken in France between 1795 and 1815 by the governments of the Directoire, the Consulat and the Empire. This massive body of primary source documents is indispensable to students of statistics and of great value to historians, sociologists, economists and demographers. The collection consists of four sections including methodological works (government questionnaires to prefects, essays on statistics), fundamental periodicals of a statistical nature, general works on a national scale and the mémoires or replies by prefects to questionnaires from the national government.

Strategy and Art of the Great War: From the End of the Feudal Wars to the Dawn of World War I

1300 - 1900

Most of the works in this collection of treatises on the art of war (the majority of which are in French) have never been reprinted since their initial publication. However, all are considered classics of the genre and are often quoted by historians, military writers and political scientists. Of great bibliographic and historic interest.

Condition of the French Working Class in the 19th Century

1800 - 1899

Paris, France; In French

1,695 fiche

- Volume I, 1800-1899

Volume I of this collection, edited by Michelle Perrot, contains a vast amount of documentation on the economic and social conditions of working-class life in 19th century France. A special effort has been made to include varying viewpoints. While there are a number of ideological works in the collection, priority has been given to statistical and factual studies. These include official government reports and the private works of physicians, economists, statesmen and men of letters. A book by Michelle Perrot, Enquêtes sur la Condition Ouvrière du XIX<sup>ème</sup> Siècle, accompanies the microfiche and includes full indexes to the collection, with descriptive text.

Includes printed guide

Volume II (edited by Gloria Kirchheimer), also emphasizes the 19th century, but expands the period to include the 16th through 20th centuries. Some of the subjects covered in this collection include a 16th century strike, leisure time, unemployment insurance, the duties of servants, the right to work and occupational diseases. Women's issues, such as abortion and the law and women and socialism, are also covered, as are child labor and apprenticeships.

The French Industrial Revolution

1810 - 1870

Although modern historians prefer different appellations, what has been dubbed "The French Industrial Revolution" took place between 1810 and 1870. Technological innovations were introduced slowly and took hold gradually, but eventually resulted in dramatic changes in the means of production. In addition to the development of France's rail network and waterways, this period saw the flourishing of industrial exhibitions whose purpose was to acquaint the French public with the progress of the country and, more significantly, to serve notice to Britain that France was equal to any economic challenge. More than 50,000 pages of rare source materials make up this collection, divided into five sections:

- "Statistics": Descriptive Accounts of the French Industrial Economy
- Towards a Rational Organization of Industry
- French Industrial Exhibitions
- Major Industrial Surveys
- Railways and Waterways

French Socialist Congresses

1876 - 1914

Historians of the workers' movement and of socialism, regardless of their ideological and methodological orientation, are in complete agreement on one point: the accounts of the congresses of the socialist parties represent a major and indispensable mine of information. The debates and deliberations of leaders at the congresses provide an excellent overview of the convoluted developments of the movement and permit an in-depth analysis of the collective mentality of the history of the socialist movement and of the social and political history of the period. This collection contains the documents of all of the socialist congresses from the first workers' congress in Paris in 1876 to the second session of the Eleventh National Congress of the SFIO just two weeks before the outbreak of World War I.

Polytechnisches Journal

1820 - 1931

The Polytechnisches Journal documented the important stages of the industrial development in Europe from the early 19th century until the first decades of the 20th century. The scope of its reports extends from the early innovations in agriculture, manufacture and mining, the new developments in machinery, transportation vehicles, telecommunication and chemistry to the reception of Einstein's theory of relativity in the last editions of the journal. The journal also covers the technical progress in other countries, in particular Great Britain and France during the 19th century and Italy, Russia and America in the 20th century. The Polytechnisches Journal was the only journal in Europe which published a complete register of all English patents. Besides the technical aspects, the journal also addressed the social problems which were connected with the technical progress: the emergence of factory workers, the formation of trade unions and the first disputes as to environmental pollution. For today's research into the history of technics and industry and their social aspects, the Polytechnisches Journal is a first rate and indispensable source.

L'Illustration: Journal Universel

1843 - 1944

Paris, France

L'Illustration was a weekly photographic news magazine published in Paris from 1843-1944 and one of the early precursors of pictorial journals such as LIFE in the United States. Through its photographs, engravings, sketches and caricatures, L'Illustration detailed a variety of political, cultural, scientific and economic issues. A lighter side of the magazine was its coverage of fashion and social events. This microfilm edition offers a century-long retrospective in pictures, reflecting a changing world, for all those interested in international history and popular culture.

Journal officiel de l'Union européenne

The Official Journal of the European Communities: Special Edition in French

1952 - Present

From legislative decisions to committee resolutions, The Official Journal of the European Union (OJ) lets users study the history and expansion of the EU, as well as access the full record of the EU's dialogue with other world bodies. This daily publication allows you to:

- Access the official record of EU legislation
- Obtain complete coverage of EU development
- Find detailed information on individual EU member countries and their role within the EU
- Investigate the EU's dialogue with other world bodies

As the authoritative source of EU law, the OJ is the full record of ancillary and regular reports of the EU, with a backfile to 1952 in other languages. The ProQuest microfiche edition is the only source for the complete OJ Legislative (L) Series and Court of Justice (C) Series.

Although the OJ is published in print by the EU, as well as in electronic form in 11 languages, the print editions are limited runs and, particularly for the earlier years, can be difficult or impossible to acquire. Additionally, the electronic runs are available for only a limited time. Subscribers to the OJ microfiche edition automatically receive monthly updates, so users get the exclusive complete archive of EU policy and development. The ProQuest edition, available on compact and long-lasting silver halide microfiche, is published one month after the release of the original documents. The OJ on microfiche contains:

- Legislation (the 'L' series) - regulations, directives, decisions, recommendations and opinions
- Court of Justice (the 'C' series) - summaries of judgments from the Court of Justice and the Court of First Instance;
- Statements of the Committee of the Regions and the Economic and Social Committee, competition notices and much more.
- Debates of the European Parliament - a verbatim report of the Parliament's proceedings, issued in monthly installments

In addition, OJ subscribers get the annual Directory of Community Legislation in Force, as well as monthly and annual chronological indexes. The monthly and annual indexes consist of two volumes: Volume I- Alphabetical Index and Volume II - Methodological Tables. Indexed items in the Alphabetical Index refer to the titles of the documents in the Methodological Tables.

STARS AND STRIPES

'On November 9, 1861, soldiers of the Illinois 11th, 18th and 29th Regiments, after forcing the Confederates south, set up camp in Bloomfield, Missouri. Upon finding the newspaper office empty, they decided to print a newspaper for their expedition, relating the troop's activities. They called it The Stars and Stripes. This was the beginning of the "Soldier's Newspaper" 140 years ago.'

~ Stars and Stripes Museum/Library Museum/Library Association, Inc.

The Stars and Stripes is unique among the world's publishing institutions. The U.S. Defense Department's official newspaper for its troops stationed abroad, it is considered indispensable for the sense of community that it instills in soldiers, particularly during long deployments. A 1996 Wall Street Journal article about the newspaper quoted servicemen stationed overseas who said, "The only thing more popular is mail from home. . . .If we stopped getting Stripes, there'd be a riot." Offering news and features on a variety of military topics, as well as an overview of politics, business and sports, the paper is particularly popular for its stories on local conditions and local troops. A recent study concluded that the availability of the paper remains, as it has always been, a "major quality-of-life issue" for soldiers and their families overseas.

Through the years, particularly during wartime, The Stars and Stripes has been published in a variety of editions. We are pleased to make available microfilm collections of a number of these editions, dating from World War I to the present. Researchers on American history, military history and genealogy will find these collections to be invaluable reference tools.

UMI Dissertation Publishing

Soon after its founding in 1938, UMI became the publisher of record for U.S. doctoral dissertations. To this day, ProQuest fills that role for graduate students whose dissertations and masters theses have been accepted by accredited institutions throughout North America.

How UMI's Dissertation Program Works

Dissertations and theses available from ProQuest /UMI are used by researchers in all fields of study. The ProQuest /UMI dissertation product line – which consists of bibliographic data, indexing, access tools and the published documents themselves – is recognized worldwide because of its comprehensive coverage, high-quality information and rigorous editorial control.

The online ProQuest Dissertation & Theses Database (PQDT) catalogs over 2 million doctoral dissertations and master's theses, dating from the first U.S. dissertation in 1861. Thousands more are added yearly. Over one million dissertations and theses are available in full page image in microform and paper, both bound and unbound. Many are also available in digital format, for downloading over the Web. Dissertations can be located and ordered on a standing order basis or via:

- ProQuest Dissertations & Theses, which provides searching capabilities and online access to citations and abstracts for every title in the database. Titles published since 1997 are available in .PDF digital format and have citation and abstract, plus 24 page previews available. Dissertations can be purchased in print, microfiche or .pdf format.
- ProQuest Dissertation Express for both individuals and libraries. If you have a specific title in mind, Dissertation Express will let you look it up by title, author or publication number. Once you find it, you can place your order immediately via our online ordering system. Use this service when you know exactly which dissertation you need to order. Dissertations can be purchased in print, microfiche or .pdf format.
- DATRIX Direct – custom computerized search service (please see the DATRIX form enclosed in this document). This is an individualized search we perform for you based on your specific research topic.
- UMI Digital Archiving and Access Program - Ask your UMI representative about this new access and preservation service for institutions.

DATRIX DIRECT

Direct to you Successful research depends on your sources. That's why if you're preparing to start a research project, it makes sense to first find out what's been written in your area of interest. You'll not only avoid duplicating someone else's work, you'll benefit from their research. | You could search the titles of over 1.6 million dissertations and master's theses yourself—if you have the time and patience. Or you can have DATRIX Direct conduct a dissertation search for you that's exhaustive, not exhausting.

Discover sources unique to your topic DATRIX Direct is an individualized search that gives a one-of-a-kind listing of only those dissertation citations directly relevant to your specific research topic. The result is a computer printout of exactly the bibliographic citations you need. No more and no less. It could be as many as five hundred or as few as none (informing you that your research topic is totally unexplored).

Because it's a computerized search, DATRIX Direct is comprehensive—through UMI's vast computer database of over 1.6 million dissertations and master's theses dating back to 1861. And with thousands of citations being added to the database every month, DATRIX Direct is more up-to-date than any printed source. ■ Each citation includes a title, author, degree, date, institution, subject category, and order number, as well as where the abstract can be found in UMI's monthly publication Dissertation Abstracts International or the bi monthly Masters Abstracts International.

How to order your search To organize your search, complete both sides of the DATRIX Direct Search Request form and send it to UMI at the address shown. ■

The results of your DATRIX Direct search will be sent first-class mail and should arrive within two weeks of receipt of your order. For faster service, call us toll free at 800-521-3042; outside the U.S. and Canada, call 734-761-4700, ext. 7044.

DATRIX DIRECT SEARCH REQUEST The success of your search depends on how accurately and specifically you describe your research needs. The information you provide below will help us create a search strategy. Please type or clearly print in ink.

RESEARCH TOPIC Write the proposed title of your study or a summary of your research topic _____

DATABASE MATERIAL TO BE SEARCHED (Please check one.)  Dissertations & master's theses  Dissertations only  Master's theses only

KEYWORDS UMI's dissertation database is accessed by a search for keywords in the dissertation title. The number of relevant citations retrieved depends largely on your keyword strategy. For best results, follow the procedure below:

1 Write 1 to 3 keywords from your research topic that might appear together in the dissertation titles in our database (e.g., "Nursing Burnout"). A keyword can also be numeric ("1980") or alphanumeric ("B12"). Only dissertation titles containing all the words you list on a single line can be retrieved.

2 To avoid having to list all possible word endings for a keyword, simply write the root word and an asterisk. One or more complete words must follow the root word on the same line (e.g., "Nurs*, Burnout*" would search for words such as "nurse, nurses, and nursing" which appear in the same titles as "burnout").

3 Use the other lines for synonyms and alternate words and spellings (e.g., "RN; LPN; BSN").

4 Modify words likely to appear in hundreds of titles with more specific words.

5 If appropriate, use the right-hand column to list keywords that exclude data you don't want. (e.g., "Nurs*, Home*" and "Nurs*, Homes*" would exclude titles relating to nursing homes or home nursing. Note that the computer recognizes no word order.)

SUBJECT CATEGORIES (optional) Each citation title is listed in UMI's dissertation database in a subject category chosen by the author. On the opposite page is a complete listing of subject categories and codes. List the categories (and codes) most relevant to your research topic.

DEGREE DATES (optional) You may narrow the database search to certain years or time periods (e.g., "1980 through 1983"). This is especially recommended for broad categories such as "Education, Administrative", for which nearly 1,200 titles are added each year.

INSTITUTIONS AWARDING DEGREES (optional) You may restrict the search to dissertations and master's theses prepared for specific institutions (e.g., "New York University and UCLA").
