Talk: Be prepared to give a brief introduction to what you do (“Elevator Speech”). This is your opportunity to discuss your company, or your consulting expertise.

◦ December EMB-018 “Wisconsin NITRO Lab”

- Speaker: Dr. Justin Williams, Chair Biomedical Engineering Department
- Topic: The Neural Interface Technology Research and Optimization (NITRO) Laboratory
- Date/Time: In December — TBD (Check the Evnet Page)
- Professional Meeting Joint IEEE-Madison Section and Madison EMB18 Engineers in Biology and Medicine Chapter
- Fee: TBD (Check Event Page)
- Location: TBD at: UW-Madison College of Engineering
- RSVP: Please Register at the IEEE Madison Section event page.

Non-member guests are always welcome.

About: The Neural Interface Technology Research and Optimization (NITRO) Laboratory is part of the Department of Biomedical Engineering at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. The goals of our lab are to 1) develop new devices for recording from and stimulating neural tissue, 2) design these devices to be both durable for long-term implantation and safe for use in humans and animals, and 3) use these technologies in a variety of situations, from use in a basic physiology lab recording from single neurons, to clinical settings where people with motor disabilities might benefit from a brain-computer interface or other neural prosthetic communication device.

◦ Section News

▪ Review of October ECN Meeting

Barry Orton gave a short history of the telecommunications industry and what has transpired as cable operators and broadband networks were acquired and spun off. He then outlined the goals and objectives of the City of Madison proposed FTTP network building in part, on the existing fiber backbone that the city installed with money from the Economic Recovery Act. Barry summarized the CTC study for the group and outlined the next steps that he expects to be completed soon. He has also prepared an Executive Summary of the CTC report that is available here.

▪ Upcoming/Canceled Meetings

November LMAG Meeting: A tentative tour of the Wisconsin Energy Institute was cancelled due to scheduling conflicts. The November Section Meeting was to be joint with LMAG. It will be rescheduled in 2017.

▪ Vote: Madison Section Elections

Madison Section Officer Nominations and Elections are nearly at hand. You will be receiving an e-mail ballot in December for Section Officer Elections. If you are interested in more information or in running for office, please contact the Vice Chair, Matt Bartlett (email: matthew.m.bartlett (at) ieee.org).

▪ Volunteers Needed

Micro Volunteers: Do you have some time to spare to help IEEE-Madison Section? Perhaps you have a meeting topic that you would like to see us host and could find a speaker. Maybe you have time to call a few members who might have forgotten to renew their membership.
