Once in a Lifetime!

100th Anniversary of the IEEE Section
The Henry Ford Museum
Dearborn, Michigan
Tuesday, October 11, 2011
6:00pm - 11:00pm
Historical Program, Dinner, Museum

The 100th anniversary of our Section is this year in 2011! This is a "Once in a Lifetime" celebration event.

The Section was founded as the Michigan section of AEE (American Institute of Electrical Engineers) in 1911. Several other Sections in our Region have celebrated their 100th anniversary recently, including the Chicago Section, Fort Wayne Section, and Toledo Section. Those celebration events included a major keynote speaker and a dinner. We plan to hold a similarly large extravaganza.

We will be inviting leaders such as the IEEE President and Past Presidents, the IEEE-USA President and Past Presidents, numerous IEEE Society Presidents and Past Presidents, current and past Society Board Members, and leaders from industry, government,

2. Go to the registration web site at http://meetings.vtools.ieee.org/meeting_view/list_meeting/7733. (You will be using a secure "https" connection to pay using PayPal.)

Topic: From Starters to Startups: 100 Years of IEEE & Southeastern Michigan

For over 125 years, IEEE has been fostering innovation. For almost that long, southeastern Michigan has been a hotbed of discovery and invention, beginning with its role as the birthplace of the global automobile industry. It is therefore not surprising that 100 years ago, the engineers in the area formed one of the early Sections of the AIEE, the predecessor organization to the IEEE. This presentation will trace the history of IEEE and of the innovations of the 20th century and look
