

GTBM Hiring Experienced Client/Server Programmers

GTBM, a national leader in technology and software development for law enforcement and homeland security, is seeking to hire two seasoned software developers to join our staff. The successful candidates will have at least 5 years of experience writing code in structured programming and database languages, including 3+ years with Delphi Version 7, and additional experience in debugging and migrating Delphi code to other languages on Microsoft Windows platforms. Prior work should also include programming in any of C/C++/C# and also .NET for client/server applications.

Two positions are available immediately. One of these is a more senior-level position, which will require a self-starter who has demonstrated experience with product design and management.

Our company offers a competitive compensation package which includes health care and dental coverage as well as a 401(k) and other benefits. We are located conveniently in Lyndhurst, New Jersey approximately a quarter of a mile from the Meadowlands. You can find out more about our products and development at <www.gtbm.com>.

If you have interest in pursuing this opportunity, please send your resume to <mrubenstein@gtbm.com>.
